RUSSIANS BLOCK ALLIES FROM BERLIN

Gunman Grabs $11,000 But Loses It After Gun Battle, Chase

Just Entering Car When Bandit Snatches Brief Case With Money; Constable Captures Fleeing Man, Gets Money

HAMILTON, April 1—(CP).—An attempted robbery of an $11,000 payroll in downtown Hamilton today was frustrated in a running gun fight between a police constable and a lone bandit during which a bullet was driven through the hat of the paymaster carrying the money. The paymaster was Claude Vivian, vice-president and secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Porcelain Company, and the policeman was Constable Allan Gleave.

A man whom police captured, after recovering a revolver and all the money, gave the name of A. Guagliano of Hamilton. He was charged with armed robbery.

Police said the man had painted a false moustache on his face.

Two men who allegedly awaited the bandit in a stolen car, escaped when the shooting began.

Met By Gunman

It was shortly before 11 o'clock when Mr. Vivian stepped out of the Imperial Bank on James Street South, near Main Street, walking south toward his car, which was parked near the northeast corner of Jackson and James Streets.

As he began to enter his car, he was accosted by the gunman who pointed a revolver at him and said: "This is it."

The man grabbed a brief case containing $10,817.50 and ran towards his own waiting car on the other side of James Street.

Mr. Vivian took after the man, who turned suddenly, took deliberate aim and fired the bullet which passed through his fedora. He fired a second shot, but it went wild.

As Constable Gleace happened on the scene in his motorcycle, the waiting automobile raced away, and the bandit fled on foot. Later Constable Gleace saw a young man in a woollen windbreaker walking casually in a northerly direction and arrested him.

A bundle believed carried by the gunman and believed to contain the stolen cash was recovered by detectives.

Arab Mortars Give Jerusalem Ghetto Heavy Pounding

British Troops Move In To Quiet Both Sides As Casualties Not Yet Reported, Ship Food

JERUSALEM, April 1 (AP).—Arabs battered the beleaguered Montefiore Ghetto of Jerusalem with mortars before dawn today.

Jews retaliated with prolonged sniper attacks on Silwan village on the slopes of the Mount of Olives.

At sunrise, British troops moved in and quieted both sides. The extent of casualties is not known.

Jews said two Hagana men were killed in yesterday's food convoy battle west of Latrun and that many Arabs were slain in the fight.

That convoy now is at Rehovot, poised for another effort to run the tight Arab gauntlet to food-short Jerusalem.

Yesterday's attack on a train near Haifa, which a Jewish source said could be attributed to the Stern Gang, was interpreted as Jewish retaliation for the recent heavy attacks on convoys. A government announcement here said 40 were killed and 60 injured in the mine-blasted train. Haifa police said the toll was 24 Arabs killed and 64 injured.

British troop units investigating the convoy battle found five Arabs dead and four Jewish vehicles ablaze.

An Arab bus driver was killed by gunfire in the Jerusalem vicinity. Another Arab was slain in the Jaffa-Tel Aviv borderland.

By unofficial count, 2,282 persons have been killed in Palestine since the United Nations assembly voted last Nov. 29 to partition the country between Jews and Arabs.

The Arab press reported today an arms ship "believed to be Russian" was off the Palestine coast near Gaza. British authorities said they are investigating but did not believe the report.

Jews repeated their refusal of a British request that they clear out of some 30 Jewish quarters of Jerusalem. These quarters include the Jewish section of the old walled city, under almost constant Arab attack since the partition vote.

A Jewish agency spokesman said the Palestine government has been pressuring the Jews for months to evacuate the old city or disarm its defenders. He called the government's policy "dangerous nonsense."

The spokesman said the government also has been putting pressure on the agency to evacuate four settlements in the Kefar Etzion group near Hebron, two near Ramallah, the Montefiore and Mekor Haim suburbs of Jerusalem and some 20 places in the Negeb, the southern desert.

U.S. Stops Train Service Resorts To Planes, As Troops Halt Travel

British Ask Soviet Authorities For Talks As Russ Forces Suddenly Increased; French Trains Allowed To Pass Barrier

BERLIN, April 1—(AP).—The United States military government stopped its train service between Berlin and the American zone of Germany today because of suddenly imposed Russian traffic restrictions, and protested strongly to the Russians. The Americans resorted to expanded air travel. Britain and France joined in protesting the Russian order, effective last midnight, that all motor and rail passengers and freight entering the Soviet zone undergo Russian inspection at border control points. Four British and American trains were halted by the Russians this morning.

Allied authorities said the Russian action, in effect, was a demand that the three Western powers surrender sovereignty on their trains and submit to a squeeze on their position in Berlin.

Gen Lucius D. Clay, the United States military governor, said for the time being all United States military train travel to and from Berlin is cancelled. He said special flights from Frankfurt, American zone headquarters, to the U.S.-controlled Templehof airport in Berlin will serve as a temporary stop-gap.

Need To Use Force

Clay said the Russian stoppage of train traffic could not be broken immediately without force. Berlin is an island of four-power control deep in the Soviet zone. It is more than 100 miles by rail or road from the nearest border point of the British zone, and farther from the American and French zones.

British authorites asked the Russians for immediate discussions. If the issue leads to a meeting of the four military governors, it will be the first session since the breakdown of four-power administration caused by the Russians' walkout on the March 20 meeting of the Control Council.

The Russian order seemed directed principally at freight Royal Air Force headquarters in Hamburg said no plans were being made there to supply the British population of Berlin by air.

A British official in Hamburg noted that there has been a mark-

Benes Welcomes Alliance With Russia

PRAGUE, April 1— (Reuters) — President Eduard Benes of Czechoslovakia today made his first public utterance since the Communist "bloodless revolution" in his country.

Receiving the new Soviet ambassador, Michail Silin, at his country home, Benes described the Soviet-Czechoslovak alliance as "the natural concrete expression of the deep friendship uniting our brethren nations.

"Our nations are both filled by a deep and sincere and firm will to preserve and if possible to strengthen permanent peace to guarantee the security of Europe. . . .

"It is well to be reminded on this fact in the light of international events today."

Silin, referring to the Soviet-Czechoslovak treaty of December, 1943, said:

"Our nations shall never forget the danger of German aggression.

"The Soviet Union and the Czechoslovak republic are filled with the deep, sincere endeavor to strengthen permanent and over-all peace and to secure safety in Europe."

Picked Men To Lead Navy's Training Plan

OTTAWA, April 1 — (CP). — A group of picked officers, commanders of eight of the 12 fighting ships Canada has in commission, will spend the summer on the Royal Canadian Navy's most extensive peacetime exercises, supervising the sea training of active and reserve seamen.

More than a third of the 6,800 men in the R.C.N.'s active ranks will spend the summer at sea. Seven-five per cent of the 3,500 reservists will be at sea for shorter periods, to supplement the part-time training they receive during the year.

Asks For New Post

WASHINGTON, April 1—(AP). — John Bankhead, United States Consul at Windsor, who has survived three reported attempts on his life, has asked the State Department to be transferred to another post. Government officials said Bankhead will return temporarily to Windsor when his consultations here are over.

Housing Bill Introduced In Legislature

TORONTO, April 1.—(CP). — The question of what Ontario intends to do about housing will find its answer in the Legislature today.

Promised in the Throne speech at the outset of the current session and dating back to 1943 as a plank in the Progressive Conservative election program—housing legislation will be introduced.

Premier Drew forecast its introduction yesterday in the wind-up to an attack on Federal Trade Minister Howe regarding Dominion cancellation of proposed housing for Ontario.

Housing will precede by one day the all-important introduction of the 1948 budget.

Premier Drew said Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation has instructed its branches to withdraw call for tenders and stop work on housing projects in Ontario in line with the announcement of Trade Minister Howe that the Dominion is ceasing its housing program in this province.

The Premier said he wanted to make the situation known to the municipalities. He charged that Mr. Howe had cancelled proposed Dominion housing in Ontario without valid reason.

London Names Purge Members

LONDON, April 1 (Reuters. — The government today named the three members of the "purge" committee of former high civil servants who are to advise ministers about the removal of communists, fascists and "fellow travellers" working in government security departments.

The men are Sir Thomas Gardiner, 65, former director-general of the post office who will be chairman; Sir Maurice Holmes, 63, former permanent secretary of the ministry of education; and Sir Frederick Leggett, 64, former deputy secretary at the ministry of labor, well-known for his successes as a "peace-maker" in industrial disputes.

Fresh Treaty Advice Sent From Finland

HELSINKI, April 1 —(AP)— President Juho K. Paasikivi, in close touch with Moscow treaty negotiations, had fresh treaty advice today from five of the six parties in parliament.

He was expected to use it in drawing up new telegraphic instructions to the Finnish negotiators conferring with Russian representatives. He sent written instructions by plane after a cabinet meeting yesterday.

The president asked written views of the parliamentary groups by last midnight. Only the Communist-led popular front did not respond. The Social Democrat Agrarian, Conservative, Liberal and Swedish parties gave him statements.

Informed sources said the statements showed the parties differing with the government over treaty details.

Ask Immediate US Draft Bill

WASHINGTON, April 1—(AP).—Calls in Congress for immediate passage of the draft and building the world's greatest air force today followed Russian seizure of traffic control in Berlin. Representative Hale Boggs (Dem.—La.) told the House of Representatives the Russian action is "a challenge to pass selective service immediately and bring our military force to its full authorized strength."

"I cannot imagine a greater threat to peace," he said.

Representative John Rankin (Dem.—Miss.) followed with demands that the United States "build the greatest air force in the world."

Diplomatic authorities suggested the clash between Russia and the western powers over Berlin traffic control may test the extent to which the Russians are willing to "get tough" with the western Allies now.

State and defence department officials are watching developments closely. The issues involved are viewed as much broader than the question of whether the Russian military can inspect American, British and French trains operating between Berlin and the west.

Bluey Unable To Welcome His Bride-Elect Penicillin Shots For Sinus Lay Him Low

TORONTO, April 1.—(CP).—Bluey, probably the world's most publicized kangaroo, took his penicillin shots for sinus without complaint today unaware he might prove victim of an international April fool's joke. Bluey is too ill to meet Amana, his prospective bride from Australia.

But three elephants, two bears, two ponies and Toronto's mayor will help welcome Amana at Malton airport this afternoon after her (his?) flight across the Pacific and Canada. Whether the nine-months-old visitor is male or female, remained in doubt. In Vancouver yesterday, a reporter couldn't locate Amana's pouch—later today, zoo officials will know.

The young kangaroo will be guest of honor at the Byline Ball, annual celebration of Toronto newspaper men and newspaper women here April 10. Bluey, also gift of the Sydney Journalists Club, was star guest of the 1947 ball.

Police Brutality Probe Shows Confused Evidence

TORONTO, April 1—(CP). — Decision in an inquiry into charges of Toronto police brutality has been postponed until the Police Commission reviews testimony of four independent witnesses and seven police officers. Jean Poitras, 26-year-old Ottawa area construction worker, declared at the four-hour hearing yesterday that "Toronto's finest" beat and kicked him following his arrest on a charge of drunkenness.

Constable Raymond M. Johns, identified by Poitras as his chief assailant, said he hit Poitras. The police witnesses denied everything else claimed by Poitras and the independent witnesses.

The four indeependent witnesses John MacLeod, post-graduate student at the University of Toronto, and his companions, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hyndman and Theresa Long, stood by their original complaint that they saw police kicking Poitras in the police garage.

"We don't want any police official to think he has a right to kick any citizen on the ground," commented Mayor Hiram E. McCallum at the end of the hearing.

Poitras said he drank six pints of beer with a friend at his boarding house the night of the affair, March 13, and had one more pint of beer with his companion, Ernie Stewart, at an hotel just before midnight.

430,000 Idle In Steel Strike

PITTSBURGH, April 1 — (AP). — The steel industry of the United States counted 38 blast furnaces banked today as the 18-day-old soft coal walkout bit deeper into national production Another five will be closed within the next few days if the shutdown continues.

The 400,000 members of the United Mine Workers, idle to back up their demand for $100 monthly pensions, today celebrated John L. Lewis Day — also known in some areas as Mitchell Day, in honor of the sponsor of the eight-hour working day.

Meanwhile, throughout the country more than 30,000 other workers were idle. Coal-carrying railroads were hard hit. One had laid off 13,400 employees and another an estimated 6,000.

Acquit NHL Officials

BOSTON, April 1—(AP)— Two National Hockey League officials—Frank (King) Clancy and George Hayes—today were acquitted in Municipal Court of assault charges brought by a spectator, Edward P. Shallow filed a complaint against them on charges he was beaten in the officials' dressing room after a playoff game between Boston Bruins and Toronto Maple Leafs.

BULLETIN

TORONTO, April 1—(CP)—Premier Drew announced today that the Ontario Government is withdrawing the Crown Lands Bill which last week prompted Federal Trade Minister Howe to call off all Dominion housing construction in the province.

Chinese Reds Free 4 Marines

PEARL HARBOR, April 1—(AP)—The Navy announced that Chinese Communists had released four United States Marines who were captured in North China while on a Christmas Day hunting trip.

The announcements said they were returned to United States Navy representatives at Haiyang, a village northeast of the Western Pacific Fleet headquarters at Tsingtao, China.

A fifth Marine, Pte. Charles J. Brayton, died from wounds received in the incident.

The Communists, in broadcasts from their secret radio in North China, asserted that the five were engaged in a skirmish with Red troops.

Four of the Marines were on leave for the hunting trip, and the fifth was absent without leave Marine headquarters in Washington said. They were last seen in the vicinity of Wangtang Yuen on Christmas Day and went into Communist territory at 9:30 a.m. over the protest of Chinese National Guards at Lingchan.

Report Strong Gales Lashing British Coast

LONDON, April 1. (Reuters)—Gales and mountainous seas lashed the coasts of Britain early today, doing damage on land and sea and delaying ships land air traffic.

Lifeboats rushed to the assistance of several small vessels adrift in the English Channel. Crews aboard lightships reported that they were being tossed about like corks.

The storm, which brought with it heavy rain and hail in parts of the country, rose to its height in the channel and in the Merseyside area of Liverpool. Wind reached 80 miles an hour, uprooted trees and blew slates off rooftops.

Passengers for the Liner Accra, due to leave Liverpool for West Africa, and the Ascania, bound for Canada with 700 emigrants, embarked but the ships did not get away. It was hoped they would sail tonight if the wind dropped.

2,700 Men In RCMP To Get Raise In Pay

OTTAWA, April 1. (CP)—The RCMP—2,700 strong—are getting a raise in pay, Justice Minister Ilsley announced today.

All ranks will get a 75-cents-a-day increase retroactice to Oct. 1, 1947. Non-commissioned officers and constables also will get a 15-cents-a-day increase in allowances.

The boost establishes a basic rate of $3.50 a day for recruits with annual raises to a maximum of $4.25 for constables. Under the new rates a married constable with six years service will get $6.65 a day. Other rates for married men with similar service are $7.15 for corporals, $7.90 for sergeants and $8.15 for staff sergeants.

U.N. Prepared To Order Czech Probe

LAKE SUCCESS, April 1 (CP). —Despite vehement Russian opposition, the United Nations Security Council today appeared ready to order an investigation of Moscow's role in the Communist coup in Czechoslovakia.

A formal vote is due next week. Russia and the Soviet Ukraine have fought bitterly against an inquiry. Canada, the United States, Britain, France, China and Syria have for[illegible] backed the idea.

Argent[illegible]gium and Colombia have in[illegible]ed support. Seven votes are needed.

At the close of yesterday's blistering debate there two possibilities emerged:

1. The council may name a subcommittee of perhaps three to hear witnesses and make a thorough investigation. Chile, the government which filed the case, says six government leaders who escaped from Czechoslovakia are ready to testify to Russia's part in last month's Communist coup.

2. The council might send a UN commission, similar to those now in Greece and Korea, to Czechoslovakia. This plan has two potential stumbling blocks—Russia probably would veto it and even if she didn't, Czechoslovakia might refuse to admit the UN commission. Soviet - instigated border blocks already have stopped the Balkan and Korean commissions.

China came forward in the council yesterday with one of the strongest speeches ever made here by a Nanking delegate. Dr. T. F. Tsiang said the council—and the world—might as well face the crisis now rather than two, three or five years from now.

Canada Opens U.S. Consulate

DETROIT, April 1—(CP)—The first Canadian consulate in the United States was opened in Detroit today.

James Joseph Hurley heads the office as the first Canadian consul in this country. He is assisted by George Power, vice-consul.

Canada maintains an embassy in Washington, consulates-general in New York and Chicago and a vice-consulate in Portland, Me. Before today British consulates throughout the U.S. handled Canadian consular affairs.

Congress Strikes Spain Off Marshall Aid List

WASHINGTON, April 1. (AP) Senators and members of the House of Representatives working on a compromise foreign aid bill agreed today to strike Spain from the list of countries eligible to share in the aid.

They acted within less than an hour after the White House announced that President Truman is "utterly opposed" to this provision.

The State Department said it already is having a bad effect in Europe, and furthermore runs contrary to current policy on two major points.

1. The aid program was designed to let the 16 co-operating European countries determine themselves whether any other nations should be invited to participate.

Department officials insist the United States should not put itself in a position of seeming to dictate to the 16 that they should invite Spain.

2. As for the Franco regime, present policy is to soft pedal denunciations of his government but, on the other hand, not to rush into closer and more friendly relations with it.

For example the United States, like most of the other United Nations, has not had an ambassador in Madrid for many months. Yet last fall this country successfully opposed a new blast at Franco by the UN General Assembly.

In Madrid, Myron Taylor, special United States Envoy to the Vatican, arrived by plane from Lisbon today. He is to confer with Franco tonight.)

It is on the non-Communist parties that the United States is relying to make the European recovery program a success.

Pin Their Hopes

Moreover, in Italy particularly it is on the so-called non-Communist Left that American leaders are pinning their hopes for the political strength to defeat the Communist bid for power in the April 18 election.

At the same time the United States is moving speedily to shore up air and sea defences of the Dardanelles now guarded by 700,000 Turkish troops.

Carrying a cargo of former United States air force planes, the escort carrier Rendova was due to sail today from San Francisco for Istanbul, first of three shipments of planes which will be delivered under the Greek-Turkish military aid program.

April Fool's Day But Find Gags Very Stale Toronto Zoo And Morgue Flooded With Calls

TORONTO April 1 —(CP)— It's April Fool's Day again and officials at the zoo, morgue and city dog pound report the jokesters are singularly lacking in ingenuity—the same old gags.

"Our telephone has rung incessantly since 8:00 o'clock this morning," said the man at the zoo. "We had requests for Messrs. Lion, Fox, Wolf etc. Now I refuse to answer the phone anymore until noon—and it's now 10:15."

At the morgue a disgusted voice said: "What do you think?" when asked if he had had any foolish calls. "Plenty—too many," he said. "And not even a new one in the lot."

The telephone operator at the dog pound reported she had received her annual quota of calls for Mr. Ken and one call for Mr. Setter. ("Other than that," she said, "there's nothing new."

Firemen and city hall officials said they had been free of April's Fool's calls. As a matter of fact, the mayor's secretary didn't know what day it was.

Only One Buffalo Player In Fight, President Says

NEW HAVEN, April 1—(AP)—Accusations that five members of the Buffalo Bisons of the American Hockey League had attacked and severely injured a man in a restaurant brawl were termed "absolutely without foundation" today by Maurice Podoloff, league president.

The fight, which occurred here early Wednesday, resulted in the arrest on a charge of breach of the peace of five Buffalo players and sent Wallace Holland, 23, restaurant counterman, to the hospital with a severe eye injury.

Arrested and released in bonds of $2,500 for hearing April 21 were [illegible] Bell, 24, of Portage La [illegible] Man., Tommy Cooper [illegible] Winnipeg; Mike McMahon [illegible] of Br[illegible]ceville, Ont.; Les Dou[illegible] 29, of Perth, Ont.; and Leslie Hickey, 27, of Winnipeg.

Podoloff posted the bonds.

Only One Involved

In announcing the arrests, New Haven police said witnesses had reported that Holland was injured when a group of Bison players had ganged up on him. Witnesses, police said, reported that Holland was knocked to the floor and kicked at least twice.

Podoloff said that his investigation disclosed o[illegible]

Leave Management Of Daily Behavior To Pupils Themselves Teachers Are Told

TORONTO, April 1.—A schoolroom should encourage independence, not obstruct it. Teachers should leave management of daily behavior to the pupils themselves and interfere only when the situation gets out of control. This method contributes to good classroom environment in the opinion of Luella Cole, psychologist and author from California, who spoke to the college and secondary school department of the OEA at Convocation Hall yesterday.

"As long as the high school teacher is the source of control in the room, as long as he 'spoon-feeds' the class, and so long as he encourages the pupils to depend on him for constant help, his room is a poor environment for youth," she declared.

She advised teachers to keep their problems to themselves, and nt pass them on to the next generation; She cautioned that secondary school pupils are at the hero worship stage and that they fasten upon the teacher as an available adult for personification of all they would like to be.

"No one expects the teacher to be without faults, but minor blemishes are not important in the eyes of the young, provided the main traits are worthy of admiration," said Miss Cole. "The schoolroom in which the teacher is admired is a healthier place than the one in which he is not."

ed increase in the strength of Russian control forces facing the British zone in the last 48 hours.

A Vienne dispatch said Russian troops are reported tightening their restrictions on Americans entering the Russian zone en route to Vienna, which, like Berlin, is under four-power control.

Clay conferred with Lt.-Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, British zone commander, on the Russian move, which was sprung on the western powers with less than 24 hours notice.

Reject Restrictions

In notes delivered to the Russians last night, all three western powers rejected the Russian restrictions as intolerable and in violation of allied agreements. The Russians were called upon for discussion of their measures.

The Russians demanded yesterday that, starting at midnight, all passengers and freight entering their zone be subjected to inspection at border control points. British and American authorities ordered their train commanders not to yield to this demand.

The result was that overnight passenger trains were stopped and turned back at Marienborn, Soviet control point some five miles east of the border with the British zone.

Causes Pile-Up

This caused a pile-up at Helmstedt, just across the line in British-occupied territory. Within five hours after midnight, four American and British trains had been turned back, three to Helmstedt, one to Berlin.

A French train, after stopping in Helmstedt, proceeded toward Berlin. The commander said he would let the Russians make an inspection, since he had no orders not to and they had been making such inspections since Friday.

Berlin and environs, under four-power control, make up an island in the Soviet zone, more than 100 miles by rail or road from the nearest border point in the British zone.

The western powers have some 25,000 troops and civilians in the city.

But travellers arriving here over the Hannover autobahn said the Russians have set up a new road block a mile west of Berlin manned by 20 officers and men. They said their papers were examined carefully but they had no particular difficulties.

Later word came from the other end of the highway that the Russians had begun imposing restrictions there on allied personnel.

The United States provost marshal at the Helmstedt check point said they were keeping out war department civilian employees and other Americans in civilian clothing and letting through only American personnel in military uniform.

Mr. Howe's action is utterly unexplainable on any reasonable grounds," he declared.

Mr. Howe has given his reason for cancelling housing as the bill now before the Ontario Legislature respecting Crown lands. The legislation will give the province power to cut off all public services to any Crown-held area where the municipality fails to reach a suitable agreement with the Dominion for money in lieu of taxation.

The agreement is necessary to provide a municipality with money to make up for taxes lost due to the fact that Crown-held land is not taxable.

Premier Drew said this bill could not apply to housing built since the war because such projects could not be started before the Dominion and municipality reached agreement.

Tragedy Hits Mother Twice In 24 Hours

TORONTO, April 1. — Twice within 24 hours, tragedy has visited a mother in her modest home at 117 Galt Ave.

On Tuesday morning, her 39-year-old son, Goldwyn Randells was critically burned when a cigaret ignited his clothes at a Queen St. E. cleaning plant. He is battling for his life in the Toronto East General Hospital.

Death was the next visitor to Mrs. Elizabeth Randells. On Tuesday night her older son, Daniel Randells, 43, was found dead in a police cell at Dundas St. W. station by Sgt. Jesse Weller during a routine examination. A post mortem examination revealed that the man had died of non-corrosive poisoning.

Dr. E. C. Fielden, who performed the autopsy, reported that samples of the man's stomach contents had been forwarded to the provincial analyst for further study. He had not been injured in any way, the examination showed.

Police say Randells was found at the rear of a Jarvis St. hotel by Cons. Smith and Boyd. They say he was intoxicated and was arrested. He was taken to the station and placed in the cells.

Constable Johns, on the force since July, 1943, except for nine months in the army, said he went to investigate a report of an assault and found a crowd of about 25 persons gathered around Poitras and two other men. He said all three smelled of liquor. He arrested them on an intoxication charge.

He claimed Poitras scuffled with him until he fastened the handcuff and then kicked him in the back as the officer got out of the patrol wagon. He said that at the station Poitras still was belligerent, swore at him and had to be restrained while being searched.

Johns denied kicking Poitras.

When Poitras and Stewart reached the threshold of their rooming house a policeman whom Poitras identified as Jones ran up and told Poitras he was under arrest and dragged him into a patrol wagon.

Poitras said his wrist was chained. He said officers in the patrol wagon kicked him every time he moved. Then an officer

Prices Turn Easier On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, April 1—(CP). — After two days of strong advances prices turned easier in quiet trading. Industrials moved narrowly with prices for key issues mildly off while mining stocks traded on a highly selective basis and western oils were about unchanged.

The Exchange's noon index showed industrials down .48 at 162.98, golds .21 at 93.67, base metas .23 at 86.38, western oils .03 at 32.79. Volume for the first three hours was 380,000 shares, about 52,000 less than yesterday's similar period.

Steels held fairly well among the industrials on gains for Dominion Foundries, Eastern Steel, National Steel Car, Steel of Canada, Pressed Metals and Dominion Bridge, but other groups were easier. Pivotals down included Abitibi, Algoma Steel, Canada Wire B, CPR, Fanny Farmer, Ford, Imperial Bank, International Petroleum, Winnipeg Electric and International Paper.

Eureka turned weak again on a loss of 38 at $1.50, while Smelters and Noranda were off fractions among the base metals. Golds were quiet, with senior issues inactive while easier juniors were Chesterville, East Malartic, Giant, MacLeod, Wright-Hargreaves, Upper Canada and McKenzie.

Will Protect Labrador Interest-Quebec

QUEBEC, April 1—(CP)—The Quebec Government will take all possible precautions to protect the interests of the province in the Labrador region, Premier Duplessis told the Legislative Assembly today.

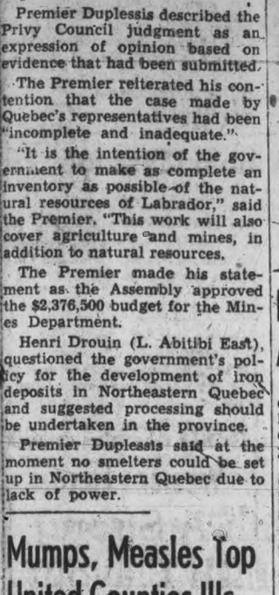
The Premier said the government intends to take an inventory of resources in the northeastern area and to establish the frontier line between Quebec territory awarded to Newfoundland by a Privy Council judgment in 1928.

Premier Duplessis described the Privy Council judgment as an expression of opinion based on evidence that had been submitted.

The Premier reiterated his contention that the case made by Quebec's representatives had been "incomplete and inadequate."

"It is the intention of the government to make as complete an inventory as possible of the natural resources of Labrador," said the Premier. "This work will also cover agriculture and mines, in addition to natural resources.

The Premier made his statement as the Assembly approved the $2,376,500 budget for the Mines Department.



Henri Drouin (L. Abitibi East), questioned the government's policy for the development of iron deposits in Northeastern Quebec and suggested processing should be undertaken in the province.

Premier Duplessis said at the moment no smelters could be set up in Northeastern Quebec due to lack of power.

"WINNIE" ADMIRES HIS GRANDCHILD — Winston Churchill (right), leader of the British Conservative party in England and former prime minister, beams with delight as he admires his fifth grandchild, the month-old son of Mrs. Christopher Soames, during the child's christening at Westerham parish church, England. The boy was named Arthur Nicholas Winston. The mother is Churchill's youngest daughter, Mary.

Kindly Act At Time Of Coronation In 1937 Acknowledged More Than 10 Years After

A kindly act by a Peterborough couple, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Phillips, Water street, was acknowledged with thanks more than 10 years afterwards.

They were returning from the Coronation in 1937 on the Empress of Britain and noticed among the passengers a Hungarian woman with her seven-year-old boy, Frank Miklos.

The family, like thousands of immigrants before and since, had decided to leave the Old World and become Canadian citizens. To make a home for the family, the father preceded them to Alberta, and when he had saved sufficient money, he sent for his wife and young son.

When Mr. and Mrs. Phillips met Mrs. Miklos and her son on the big liner, neither she nor Frank could speak a word of English. In strange surroundings and hearing a foreign tongue spoken by the rest of the passengers, they seemed lonely and confused.

In a manner known to friendly people the world over, even when language is a bar to knowing one another, an acquaintanceship was struck up. Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Miklos liked each other's company and Mr. Phillips took a shine to Frank.

The voyage passed pleasantly for everyone. Frank forgot his shyness and looked on Mr. Phillips as a sort of foster-father and companion during the ocean crossing.

Soon the Phillips had almost forgotten the incident. But others had not.

A few days ago the Peterborough couple received a letter from a 17-year-old Canadian written in faultless high-school English. It was from Frank Miklos, assuring them he had not forgotten the incident, and extending a belated thank-you.

Pilgrimage Made To Site Of Modern Spiritualism

HYDESVILLE, N.Y., April 1.—(CP)—The 100th anniversary of modern spiritualism was marked yesterday in this tiny upstate hamlet.

Scores of members of the sect made the pilgrimage to the site of the Fox cottage, where 100 years ago two of the daughters of John Fox, a blacksmith, first claimed to have interpreted mysterious rappings that had been heard in the building.

Highlight of the anniversary celebration was the dedication of the cottage site as a memorial to the Fox sisters. Rev. J. Bertram Getting of Rochester turned over the deed to Miriam Buckner Post, founder and honorary president of the Fox Memorial Society.

Papers of incorporation of the society and the deed to the memorial site were filed in the Wayne County court house at Lyons, and a wreath was placed on the Mercy Cadwallader marker.

Primary purpose of the society, formed in 1946, is to establish and maintain a memorial shrine as a permanent place of worship for Spiritualists of the world. The society also plans to acquire and preserve Fox family relics for a memorial exhibit and to erect a memorial to "the Spiritualist workers of the world." The group also will maintain the original Fox cottage now at the Lily Dale Spiritualist camp in Lily Dale.

The society at its annual meeting in Rochester yesterday made plans for landscaping and reforesting the three-acre memorial plot here.

The Fox family first came to Hydesville on Dec. 11, 1847, emigrating from Bath, Ont., and sojourning briefly in Charlotte, near Rochester, and Newark.

The rappings in the cottage had been reported by prior tenants. Michael Weekman, tenant for 1½ years, was quoted as saying he frequently heard loud rappings on the outer door, but never found any one.

The Foxes claimed to have heard knockings in the bedroom and cellar. Finally, 14-year-old Katie, one of four Fox children, is recorded as saying: "Here, Mr. Splitfoot, do as I do." She snapped her fingers several times and was reportedly answered by the same number of raps.

Margaretta, 16, was the other sister present when Katie first "talked" with the invisible, chroniclers say.

Meter Salesman Meets Match At Council

COBOURG, April 1 (ENS). — Councillor Bell proved a bit disconcerting to the salesman of a meter company who demonstrated his product to the town council.

"You can take this meter all apart in three minutes and put it together in the same time. It takes three hours to take an automatic one apart," said the salesman as he took the meter to pieces in a little over two minutes.

"You haven't taken the clock apart yet," Councillor Bell observed with a grin.

"That's a job for the clock maker," he replied.

Another humorous moment was when the meter was handed around for inspection. Reeve John Westington is noted for his opposition to the meters. When the meter was passed to him, he handled it like a hot potato and quickly passed it over to councillor Roy Dodge.

Stelco Decides To Accept New Contract

TORONTO, April 1 — (CP) — Membership of the United Steelworkers of America (CIO-CCL), Local 1005, voted today in favor of acceptance of a 1948 wage and contract offered by the Steel Company of Canada. Terms of the contract, bringing increases of 11½ cents an hour, come into effect today on expiry of the old agreement.

Eamon Park, union publicity director, said 80 per cent of the membership took part in the ballot, and 70 per ecnt of those voting favored accepting the terms.

The contract also provides for pay for three additional statutory holidays, plus pay for Good Friday in the 1947 period. Improved union security is also included.

Negotiations are in progress by USWA locals at Algoma Steel in Sault Ste. Marie and at Dominion Steel and Coal Corp. at Sydney, N.S.

It is likely that the Stelco contract will serve as a pattern for the other two.

The next drive by the union will be in the frabricating field with an effort made to bring minimum wages up to the $45.52 level won in the primary industry.

Youth Shot In Wrist At Target Practice

PICTON, April 1 — Gerald Miller, 18, of Waupoos, was accidentally shot in the wrist with a .22 rifle yesterday. An operation was performed to remove the bullet.

Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Miller, with several compaaions, was engaged in target practice at Sandy Point, Waupoos, eight miles southeast of Picton. Miller's dog started toward gun range, and when the youth reached out to grab the dog, the rifle discharged and the bullet entered his wrist.

B.C. Prepared To Fight Freight Rate

VICTORIA, April 1 —(CP)— Premier Byron Johnson said today the British Columbia Government is prepared to "fight to the finish" for removal of th mountain freight rate differential.

"It is one of the greatest injustices that has ever been imposed on the economy of Canada," he declared

Mr. Johnson said he proposes to confer with the Premiers of the prairie provinces to present a united front for the removal of the differential.

"Too long have British Columbia industries and agricultural enterprises suffered from the differential, which seryed only to foster eastern industry to the detriment of western development," he said.

The mountain differential — or Pacific scale—provides that 1¼ prairies miles shall equal one mile in Pacific territory for rate purposes.

The majority report of the commissioners allowed the general 21 per cent increase to be added to the differential.

Meter Co. Owes $1000 Balance To Cobourg?

COBOURG, April 1—(ENS)— Whether Cobourg will receive about $1,000—the balance of the amount said to have been guaranteed as a yearly take by the company who ...alled the Cobourg parking meters—was brought up at this week's council meeting by Councillor Fred Bell. The town clerk, Jack Ewart, said that the meters were supposed to net the town about $30 income each, which would mean a total income of about $3,000 for the year.

"Well, we only made about $2,000, so at that rate we have about $1,000 coming to us," commented Councillor Bell.

Smelt Season Near

COBOURG, April 1—(ENS)— Local residents who like a feed of smelts are all ready for their favorite dish. Hardware stores have been selling large quantities of fine mesh wire and the smelt fishermen have been busy making nets for the annual run. Only a few smelt have been reported in the district but last night's warm rain is expeted to start the tiny fish running within a day or two.

An Indecent Proposal

Spain under its present government is the harlot of Europe. Nations with self-respect and democratic forms of government associate with it only under duress. It is an unadulterated dictatorship no less venal than the former Nazi and Fascist regimes and only dangerous abroad because its might is small and its economy less essential to Europe. Its dictator, Franco, differs from Hitler and Mussolini only in being alive and in being successful. In this graceless year he and all his kind are as much a menace to freedom and humanity as Hitler and Mussolini in the year of Munich, a decade ago.

* * *

The American Congress seems to be perpetrating another Munich. It wants to appease Franco. On Tuesday it made what seems to us a disgraceful, dastardly and distressing overture to Franco's Spain. By a vote of 149 to 52 Spain was designated as eligible to participate in the European Recovery Program. Political commentators point out that before Spain's participation becomes a fact, the sixteen European nations who have co-operated for E.R.P. will have to approve the application of Spain to enter their ranks. Only two weeks ago Portugal proposed to the Paris conference that Spain be included in due time. The proposal was not even discussed. Now the United States which is providing the money is pandering. It is preparing the bed and designating the bedfellows, in spite of the other nations' repugnance for Spain whose virtue is questionable and body politic revolting.

* * *

All may be fair in love and war, but a harlot is not a creature to love, and the world is not at war. If the U.S. were on the brink of war or at war, its courting of Spanish support might be condoned, though we doubt the value of Spain's militia to western nations. The "cold war" against Communism is not, we think, the kind of war which needs Spanish support at such immoral cost.

A Murrain On The Railways!

Taking into consideration its size, its industrial and agricultural importance, the quality of its people, the decorum of its municipal government, and the respect and dignity the citizens and city should be accorded by the rest of the Province—by the rest of the Dominion—Peterborough has the worst railway service in seven counties and seven provinces, despite its being graced by the presence of both C.N.R. and C.P.R.

We have long become inured to spending 1½ hours on a train to get to Port Hope 28 miles away. We are reconciled to the eight-hour trip to Montreal on a train that makes 42 scheduled stops en route (most of us are, though to tell the truth, a few impatient people will drive the 28 extra miles to Port Hope to pick up the main line train which takes only six hours). We are used to crawling through coaches in the early morning Toronto train to find a seat unoccupied by stockinged feet and gaping, snoring mouths. We understand that Peterborough cannot expect to have modern equipment serving this district, not until the equipment has had twenty years of testing on other routes.

We are an understanding, charitable citizenry, but really the C.N. and C.P. tax our Christian tempers at times. At times we have felt like writing a letter about it—well, not to the President of the railway, but to the Editor. Such times come frequently on Fridays and Sundays. For instance, one recent Friday evening, and it was not a holiday week-end, the C.P. train to Toronto arrived at the station (on time!) The usual crowds surged in. The railway had providently attached at Havelock another coach to accommodate them. When the door of this coach was opened stale sour air a week old hit them in the face. The Hanna, Toronto staggered to seats—[illegible] Turner, Brantford was [illegible]ents, F. D. Walgrimey, A. B. C. Throop, W. J. Houston, Toronto motors, George Marshall, Fort Erie and W. L. Rundle, Port [illegible] once [illegible] plush thoroughly as into the plush. By the time the train arrived at Toronto the passengers looked as if they were endmen in a minstrel show and their clothes had the air of a professional beggar's.

Equally [illegible] troubles, upset [illegible] ments of babyhood

Quick in their action crushed to a powdery stuff—no chilling [illegible] G [illegible] mess so often [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

We can understand the reluctance of the railways to let people find out about this fair city—they seem determined not to carry people here, except churlishly. We can understand that the railways might be so convinced of the virtues and benefits of living in Peterborough that they are unwilling to provide adequate and decent means for them to get away from it. But we cannot condone the dirt. Are there no vacuum cleaners in Havelock, no dustmops? Does fresh, clean air bring infection?

In closing our tribute to the railways, may we suggest that if a train is going to be a half-hour, an hour or two hours late, that the station people have the goodness to say so over the phone when the information is requested?

The Reproach Of Illegitimacy

We are glad to know that the Province of Ontario will not, in future, issue birth cetrificates which include the information that the possessor is illegitimate. This information will be preserved at Queen's Park for statistical purposes, but it will not be given any other circulation. This is an humane provision, and we think that most Ontario people will approve of it.

A child that is born out of wedlock cannot be distinguished from a legitimate child; the disgrace, if there is any, attaching to its birth is the concern of its parents. Nevertheless, children have sometimes been made to suffer humiliation and handicap because of a circumstance which was not of their choosing; there are cruel people, and thoughtless people, who are not above making a child suffer for its illegitimacy. This sort of humiliation is a circumstance of childhood only; we have never heard of an adult whose illegitimacy was a handicap or a source of humiliation. Nobody is interested in whether a grown man or woman was born in wedlock or out of it. Such information is regarded, quite rightly, as private and we do not see why anyone who wishes to keep the circumstances of his birth a secret should not be allowed to do so. The new Ontario regulation will permit such secrecy.

Anyone who has looked through parish records of a century or more ago must have been struck with the number of times that some such note as "base child", "natural child" or "bastard" has been entered against a record of baptism. There are many illegitimate people in the world, and it is not their fault that they are so. If a list of the great men and women of history who have been base-born were to be drawn up, its length would be a source of astonishment. That people should bring children into the world under a handicap is a regrettable thing, but there is no sense in perpetuating and elaborating that handicap, and we are glad that Ontario has taken a common-sense step to reduce the handicap to a minimum.

The C.N.R. Deficit

It seems like old times to be hearing from Ottawa that the C.N.R. had an operating deficit last year of $15,885,000. That is one aspect of earlier years which makes us hesitate to use the phrase good old times.

The deficit has been caused partly because post-war operating costs have gone up and Railway Board had not authorized any increase in freight rates. That is not what is primarily wrong with the C.N.R., nor is government ownership to be blamed. The C.N.R. has always had deficits except in the boom war years for railways (1941-45). The reason the C.N.R. does not ordinarily pay its way is that the system originally cost the Government (the Canadian people) too much money. Between 1917 and 1922 the Government took over two virtually bankrupt private lines, so that their service would not be discontinued. All the liabilities of the companies were assumed by the Dominion. The Rowell-Sirois report on Dominion-Provincial relations tells why the C.N.R. is in the red:

> The entire cost of these misguided private ventures was, therefore, loaded on the shoulders of the taxpayer with very little loss to the private investor. Thus a heavy overhead on the economy undertaken at private risk was converted into fixed charges of government.

The deal was financially bad. Despite this, as the Ottawa Citizen points out, between 1941 and 1945 the C.N.R. paid the Dominion Government a total of $112,502,061 in surplus earnings, and net payments by the Government on account of the system's deficits over the ten years 1937 to 1946 amounted to only $50,180,139. We can expect to see continuing deficits until the Government acknowledges the mistakes of a generation ago by revaluing the system.

Perplexed America

By GUNTHER STEIN
in The London Spectator

THESE are exciting times in the United States. Never, it seems to the conscientious American who tries to keep up with events, have so many important and baffling things been happening all at once. "You'd have to forget all about your work and family and hobbies and put in pretty close to twenty-four hours a day on public issues," sighed one of them, "to do your duty as an active citizen of our democracy. And if you don't, you feel even more overwhelmed by all the uncertainties ahead."

THERE was no hour in history when world affairs were in as critical a condition as now, Secretary of State George Marshall has just said in his quietly convincing matter-of-fact voice, and the world had never been as close to America's doorstep. The facts that substantiate his almost casual remark in infinite detail stare at Americans from their daily papers and hourly enter their homes through sixty million loudspeakers, whether or not they care to read or listen. They feel entitled to tax-reductions; yet there are those debates on billions of dollars for foreign-aid programmes that militate against maximum tax-relief at home. They don't want to interfere with the affairs of foreign countries, afraid that this may draw them into war; yet there is the pitiless logic, pointed out to them every day, of the need for containing Russia and Communism, of supporting weak countries all over the world, of supervising the use of American help for the best possible effect, and therefore that drift of the United States into virtual partnership with unpopular foreign Governments such as those of Greece and China, and into ever-growing responsibilities for the conduct of others. Americans want peace more than anything else; yet there is that daily talk of war, of armaments, of weapons worse than the atom bomb. It foreshadows higher and higher expense that may soon divert the course of the American economy from the constitutionally sacred pursuit of happiness to the all-embracing and all-overshadowing pursuit of preparedness for another holocaust.

THERE was no time since the Civil War when the North and South of the United States were as deeply torn as they are today on the century-old issue of civil liberties. Emerging from the history books, the problem of negro emancipation is again threatening a "secession of the South" and a "war between the States"; this time not on a national scale, but within the badly jolted Democratic Party that has for sixteen years given the United States its government. President Truman, anxious to retrieve his waning political support among the progressive city masses of the North with a full civil liberties programme, has gone on record in favour of legislating strict federal controls over the Southern States' quasi-autonomy on racial policies which still permits them to maintain lynching, poll-tax and segregation laws and thus to rob the negroes of the fruits of the Civil War. The Southern powers of white supremacy are once more in open revolt. Their anti-Truman agitation ties in with Henry Wallace's unexpectedly deep inroads into the Democrati bastions in the big Northern cities. On the other side, confusion persists in the Republican camp, where the possibly not quite definite withdrawal of General Eisenhower has done little to simplify the violent contest between half a dozen presidential contenders. All this, and much else that is happening these days, has made a crazy quilt of the political picture this election year, and confuses the men and women who will go to the polls in November more than they can remember being confused in the past.

NOR has the economic life of the country, lush and smooth as it still is, especially in comparison with that of the outside world, ever been more baffling as to its prospects or even as to the interpretation of its present trends. "Is this it?" Americans have been asking themselves these last few weeks as they watched the spectacular break in the commodity exchanges, the most drastic in the hundred years' history of the country's leading food markets. Those breaks greatly impressed the people in all walks of life. The running accounts of what was happening at the commodity exchanged eclipsed, not only all the political news for a while, but even Winthrop Rockefeller's romantic Florida wedding to a poor coal-miner's daughter, attended by the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, and the detailed disclosure of all the secrets of sexual behaviour in the American male by Professor Albert Kinsey, whose heavy scientific tome became a popular best-seller overnight.

TO the men and women in the factories and offices, "it" means another of those cycles that start with a break in the speculative markets, bring machines to a halt in factories, throw people out of their jobs and led, in the 1930s, nobody quite knew why, to years of misery in the midst of potential plenty. To small businessmen and professionals, "it" means the cut-throat competition and the waste of investments, experience and talent that would again go with such a crisis. To the farmers, "it" means another rash of injunctions from above to kill part of their livestock, to leave some of their fields unploughed and to claim partial compensation for reduced production by way of Government subsidies. To big business, however, "it" means that great challenge to the strong of riding another cyclical tempest in a free-enterprise economy — either toward the promised land where pressure of unemployment will keep wages low and labour unions weak, where ruthless competition will drive feeble rivals to the wall and crown the victor with power close to actual monopoly in his own sphere, or, if the fight is not won politically too, toward another defeat at the hands of a Government that sides with the people and enforces State control measures on big business, as Roosevelt's crisis regime did with the hated New Deal.

NO, this was not "it," people began to feel confidently—not yet. In fact, they hoped, the market break might actually help to prevent another serious economic crisis in the foreseeable future by nipping off in time the edge of the dangerously rising inflation. But they had scarcely started to overcome their anxiety when the mighty steel trusts suddenly raised prices five per cent. Their treasuries swollen with unprecedented war- and peace-time profits, and their order books full of the suppliant requests of their steel-starved customers for whatever steel they might care to deliver to them, the giants thought themselves unassailable in their attempt once more to drive up the inflationary spiral. A storm of protests arose, spreading far into other branches of big business. The Government sent its police investigators into the steel offices to find out about collusion that infringed the anti-trust law. The steel leaders were cited before Congressional Committees. But nothing is expected to result from popular and Government protests. Dearer steel is already forcing up the prices of other goods, and bewildered Americans are now faced with the riddles of a complicated economy in which deflation has started to work among the farmers and other producers of daily necessities, while inflation continues unabated in the sectors that work for capital equipment, for armaments and for a good part of America's export trade. While even the economists in Government and colleges, in labour unions, banks and industries are at a loss for answers to the endless questions that arise on all sides, the plain American citizen must be satisfied to wait and see. No matter how uneasy he feels, he must resign himself to the fact that he, who will soon have to vote on the future course of economic policies, is really as helpless in the matters that concern him most in his daily life as he is in influencing intelligently the intricacies of his country's foreign policy.

THIS, in fact, is what worries many politically conscious American citizens more than Communism and the atomic bomb, even more than the talk of war and the recent reminder of the dread possibility of a depression—their realization that American democracy is faced with an ever vaster array of even broader and ever more complicated issues, international and domestic, political and economic, that the good old system of checks and balances designed for the administration of a country with a simple social structure in an eighteenth-century world has not really been adapted to its modern problems; and that the individual voter, therefore, finds himself more and more in the position of a small-town juryman who suddenly has to sit on the bench of the Supreme Court, yet who simply cannot afford to be wrong in his vital decisions.

Norway Votes New Defence Grant

An extraordinary appropriation of 100,000,000 Kr. ($20,000,000) for the strengthening of civilian and military defences was passed by the Norwegian Parliament on Tuesday, March 16th. At that time, Defence Minister Jens Hauge, recently returned from Germany and England, explained how international developments were necessitating a more rapid rebuilding of the armed forces than originally planned. Prime Minister Einar Gerhardsen, speaking in favour of the bill, stressed the seriousness of the situation, and in a short review of Norway's present fighting strength noted that the Navy, though small, has considerably more fighting power than before the war. The Air Force has been modernized and is manned by war-trained personnel, while newly organized Home Guard units will shortly constitute strong support for Norwegian land forces.

Though the proposal passed the Joint Committee without a single dissenting vote, the Communists went on record with a reservation—calling for more time to consider before they took a final stand. Later, during Parliamentary debate, all 11 Communist members of the 150-man Parliament voted against the bill. They were joined by a single Labour member who opposed the proposal for "pacificistic reasons". — Norway Digest.

A Bible Message

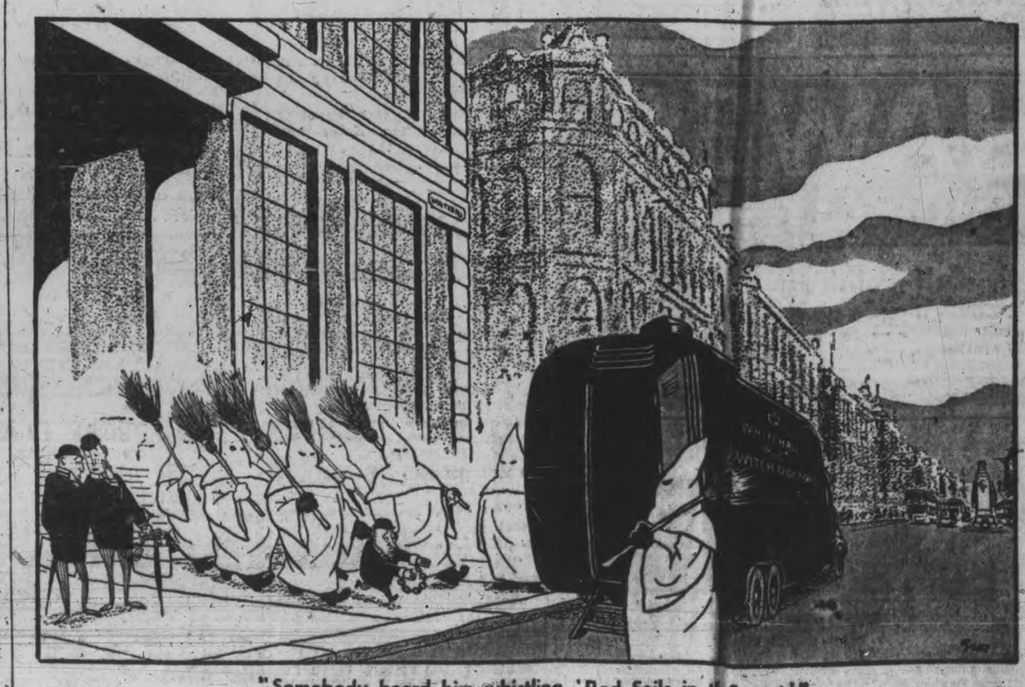
(From the Authorized Version)

Then came to Jesus scribes and Pharisees, which were of Jerusalem, saying, Why do thy disciples transgress the traditions of the elders? for they wash not their hands when they eat bread.

But he answered and said unto them, Why do you also transgress the commandment of God by your tradition? . . . Ye hypocrites, well did Esaias prophesy of you, saying, This people draweth nigh unto me with their mouth, and honoureth me with their lips; but their heart is far from me.

But in vain they do worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men. (Matt. 15: 1-3, 7-9.)

With A Strong Scottish Flavour



CANADA'S three smallest provinces, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, and Prince Edward Island, border on the Atlantic Ocean. Geographically they represent a continuation northward of the Appalachian Mountains. However, although hilly over considerable areas, the land cannot be described as mountainous . . . Both Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island retain a strong Scottish flavor . . .

On the South Shore of Nova Scotia or in Cape Breton, high cliffs echo the thunder of surf upon a rocky shore. Along the Cabot Trail, visited each year by the more venturesome, are rugged hills with correspondingly deep ravines, blanketed in evergreens; high rocky cliffs dropping sheer to the sea, and a winding road that leads around breathtaking curves through out-of-the-way Acadian camp and Cap Rouge where the traditions of the early French settlers live on in their descendants — and thence to Baddeck . . .

Along the Northumberland Strait or the Bay of Fundy the countryside is sheltered by a range of hills which extends lengthwise through Nova Scotia. Rolling, fertile, river valleys are dotted with small towns and well-kept farms. The St. John River wind through its four-hundred-mile course from the Maine-New Brunswick boundary to th Bay of Fundy. This river valley, the longest in the Maritimes, is famed for its distinctive charm and beauty. Near its mouth the river rushes through a narrow, rocky gorge where twice a day the "reversig falls" turn and fall backward as the mighty Fundy tides push their waters upstream . . .

Spring comes earlier to the Annapolis Valley, and with it come the apple blossom. Apple Blossom Sunday in the Land of Evangeline opens the tourist season, and highways are thronged with people who driv for miles along roads seemingly cut through a fragrant, pink sea of blossoms. Then, in their midst, at Grand Pre, the visitor pauses to pay tribute to the little French maid whom Longfellow immortalized — From "The Land and People of Canada," by Frances Aileen Ross. A BRITISH OPINION

"Somebody heard him whistling 'Red Sails in the Sunset.'"

BRITISH OFFICERS' HOTEL BOMBED — A British officer patrols the street in front of the bomb-wrecked "Hubners Park Hotel" in Vienna, Austria, which was heavily damaged by a bomb explosion allegedly laid by members of the Jewish underground organization "Irgun Zvai Leumi," in response to the recent non-partition movement of the U.S. The explosion rocked the building while a dance was in progress. An Argentinian girl was killed, while 20 British soldiers and Austrian civilians were severely injured.

Raps Teaching of English At OEA Annual Convention

TORONTO, April 1 — (CP)— The 88th annual convention of the Ontario Educational Association neared an end to-day after nearly 6,000 delegates heard addresses and speakers on panel discussions range over a wide survey of the educational field. Delegates heard speakers urge improvement in teacher training, comment on popular literature, discuss the Home and School movement and go into children's emotional problems.

Dr. W. W. Charters of Stephens College, Columbia, Miss., asked why Canadians should not "streamline the professional training of teachers as their contribution to the nations of the world...."

The comment on literature came from Dr. H. S. Speakman, director of the Ontario Research Foundation, who said modern novelists depict man as swayed by outside influences, his every action governed by his environment, and therefore blameless for his actions. He contrasted this with Milton's Sampson, who blamed nobody but himself.

Needs More Life

English literature is no longer taught as an emotional subject, delegates were told by G. E. Reaman, of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph. He said everything is disserted in High Schools so that no life is left in English prose and poetry.

Dr. W. P. Percival of Montreal director of Protestant education in Quebec, said the Home and School movement is developing a personality and becoming a fact-finding and co-operating institution.

Edna McCallum of London, Ont., urged a system of visiting teachers and psychiatrists to advise teachers on the handling of children whose emotional problems give rise to unusual behavior. She told the health section that emotional maladjustments required the services of specialists.

Chiang Will Defend Only Important Areas

NANKING, April 1 — (AP) — China's military command announced today a policy of defending only areas of great importance and necessity to conserve strength and mobility.

Foreign observers, judging from the past, called the program a propaganda method of justifying the loss of cities from which government forces are ousted by Chinese Communists. First application of the new strategy, said spokesman Lt.-Gen. Teng Wen-Yi, will be the withdrawal of garrisons from Lungkow, Penglai and Weihaiwei. Capture of these three north Shantung seaport towns from the Reds only a few months ago was called a major victory by the government.

The garrisons, including the new Eighth Army, would be transferred to the areas of greater need. There were not designated.

Breslau Ties Series Edges Haliburton 5-4

OSHAWA, April 1. — Breslau evened up their best two-out-of-three Ontario Rural Intermediate hockey playdown Wednesday night at one each, as they garnered a 5-4 decision over Haliburton on two over-time goals by Ken Garner. Garner proved the key man in the Breslau team as he sent the game into overtime with a third period tally at the 17-minute mark and then added two more to sew it up. Harry Baker went well for Haliburton as he notched a tally and assisted in another.

PCVS Hoopsters Win And Lose In Tournament

KINGSTON, April 1 — (CP) — Ottawa teams dominated the first day of the Queen's University basketball tournament here yesterday.

Ottawa Commerce, sparked by the brilliant play of Charlie Ventura, swamped Napanee by 24 to 15. Later, the Commerce squad won its second straight game by handing Almonte a 38 to 33 lacing.

In the second senior game of the day Ottawa Tech turned on their vaunted power to defeat Cornwall by 42 to 24 in a fast and exciting game.

In the final game Ottawa Lisgar Collegiate edged the Peterborough team 31 to 26 with Stewart notching 17 points for the winners.

PCVS WON

Local teams met defeat in the first round. KCVI. fell before Peterborough, 30 to 18 while Regiopolis was humbled by a smooth passing Belleville quintet 35 to 14.

One of the highlights of the games was the aggressive play of the small but strong Cobourg squad which battled in to two overtime games, coming from behind in each case. They won their first game, defeating Nepean of Ottawa by 25 to 23, but lost to Brockville 37 to 36. Bill Bevan for Cobourg scored 26 points in the two games.

Other scored were as follows: Trenton 25, Prescott 16; Gananoque 20, Picton 19; Albert College 34, Kemptville 13; Napanee 46, Prescott 17; Trenton 31, Morrisburg 9.

Curling News

By Herb Martin

We have two rinks skipped by J. Dutton and G. Clark, playing in a bonspiel up at Orillia on Saturday.

The local Kiwanis club was represented by one rink at the Midland bonspiel on Wednesday.

Now we have two meetings coming up and the "so long" folks. And in closing this Tee-to-Hack column for another season, we want to thank all the curlers who were generous with their news of curling; to many who, though not members of the club, took a great interest in the sport, and to The Examiner for its daily support. Thank you all.

Recompense

A woman was sitting home alone,
The hour was growing late,
Dozing, she dreamed she'd passed away
And reached the pearly gate.

Saint Peter said, "the custom is Before one enters here,
To tell about their life on earth—
Of what they did down there."

"Oh, I'm the greatest sinner that
Has ever been here before
For each commandment of the law
I've broken o'er and o'er.

But—" here the woman with a nod
Approached Saint Peter's ear
And murmured something that alone
The stooping guard could hear.

And then, before the startled throng
Saint Peter grabbed her hand
And motioning to the shining host
Each side the gate to stand,

He led her to the golden stair
And pointing straight ahead,
In clarion, far-reaching voice
To the little woman said:

"Climb up, oh weary one, climb up,
Climb high, climb higher yet!
Until you reach the plush-lined seats
That only martyrs get.

Then sit you down and rest yourself
For years of blissful life."
Then, to the angels he remarked:
"She's been a curler's wife!"

Announcement this morning that the site committee of the Memorial Centre had finally settled on a spot came as welcome news. Unexpected news, too, inasmuch as the place picked—the large parking area on Armour Hill opposite the Westclox—had not been mentioned previously as far as the public knew. However, it was pointed out that this would make an ideal place, overlooking the Ashburnham Memorial Park on the slope of the big hill, and the completed Centre auditorium would be a crowning beauty touch. As the chairman humorously remarked: "Many people thought we had long since taken to the hills and, in a sense, they were right." But it was emphasized that the project could not be completed for at least two years. At this late date—what date is it, by the way? Oh, yes, April 1, and a merry April Fool's Day to you all!

An item in the gazette the other day quoted Eddie Shore, former Bruins' ace, as saying he saw no reason why a player shouldn't last in the NHL until he was close to 40 years of age. And he placed much emphasis on ability to skate well. That last we can readily understand, but can't see Shore's angle on NHL-ers still up there at 40 or close to it. Dit Clapper was the rare exception which proves the rule and then he—ending up as a defenceman and always real clean living—wasn't playing regular in his 40th year. The pace demanded in today's hockey, even in amateur, is too hot for most players to maintain into their late 30s. Regardless of what Eddie thinks.

Good Of The Leafs

A nice touch by the Leafs yesterday sending a box of assorted Leafian player equipment to the rink committee here to be auctioned off. Good equipment used last season by the Stanley Cup champions, stuff worn by Syl Apps, Turk Broda, Nick Metz, Howie Meeker, Teeder Kennedy, Bill Eziniki, Garth Boesch, Max Bentley, Vic Lynn, Gus Mortson and Jimmy Thompson. Skates, clothing, pads, sticks and such like, some of the articles autographed by all the team. Realizing the need of a rink in Peterborough, the big pro hockey brethren of Toronto have come through nicely — and they hope to help open the arena early next winter. Boston Bruins, through Dit, recently sent two sticks autographed completely by the whole club.

Local Harriers Club is planning for the outdoor season. These track and field gees started off slowly but gained momentum and numbers through the winter, enjoying a successful indoor season. Now they are training outdoors, Tuesday and Thursday nights at seven on the Collegiate campus, with distance runners going further afield. A recent Scottish arrival should prove an outstanding miler on times he turned in over Edinburgh way. A three-mile road race is billed for April 17 for the Peter Dominik Trophy and entry forms may be had at the "Y"—and we have several at this office. Glad to see a revival here in track and field.

Lasses' Cage Play

Girls' basketball playoffs resume tomorrow (Friday) e'en in the YWCA gym. It'll be Nurses vs. Neill's in the senior final at 8.15 and another victory for Nurses would give 'em the title. St. Paul's play CGE at 9.15 in the first of their best-of-three junior finals. Normals won the intermediate championship recently. The same setup will take place on April 9, if Neill's should even up the senior series on the morrow. If not, then the juniors will have their second saw-off, with possibly an exhibition tilt to round out the evening. These final frays rate goodly galleries.

This is how Scribe Carver of Belleville looks at it: "If the proposed Central Ontario Baseball League does not materialize, and we hope it does for it means a renewal of that sometimes bitter rivalry between the ancient diamond enemies of Peterborough, Kingston, Oshawa and Belleville, we are definitely in favor of entering the St. Lawrence League. Fans hereabouts would go for a senior loop, and with a fine floodlight system available, there is no reason why the turnstiles should not click a merry financial tune." Teams in the St. Lawrence League are Kingston, Perth, Smiths Falls and Brockville. The OBA is willing to assist in any way in getting the COBL going again.

Davis Has "Had" It

You mat fans may think—after that windup at the Brock last eve—that the Whip and Davis will be back again. That it was just another build-up! Not so. Watson said afterward that he had beaten Wee Willie here twice and had no intention of giving him another match. Willie thought he had won at first, due to a mixup, but the Whipper was too smart for him throughout—even though Davis is a powerful hombre. It was a dandy scrap, however, before the biggest grapple crowd yet to jam the arena. The fans are certainly going for these bouts and getting a lot of action from the headliners. The Cardiff Giant won the semi-final easily and this huge 328-pounder rates tougher opponents on Peterborough cards. Nanjo Singh, villainous Hindu, hadn't too much trouble, either, with Red Sims in the prelim, but it was a lively tussle.

Marion Timm rolled high in the YM lasses' trundling circuit . . . Bobcaygeon puck interests are toying with the thought of a new rink in the village . . . And Lindsay hopes to have artificial ice for next winter . . . RCAF Olympics' tour of Europe has cost about $36,000 to date . . . Whipper Pins Wee Willie Davis As Cardiff Giant Beats Moore

In one of the strangest windups yet seen in a pro mat bout here, Whipper Bill Watson defeated Wee Willie Davis in the deciding fall of the main go at the Brock Arena last night before a record crowd. The biggest turnout ever to see a grapple card here saw the Whip take the first and third falls over Davis, though the latter thought he had won the deciding one.

It lasted but five minutes, after each had won a fall, and half the crowd was on its feet thinking the "do" was over. But it turned out that Davis, applying his crushing back-breaker, was using the ropes at the turnbuckle for leverage to keep the Whip from straightening his legs. The referee patted his back to break up the hold and then Davis stepped up and hoisted his own hand. The timer, like the crowd, thought Referee Bert Maxwell had hoisted his hand and rang the gong. Davis and the crowd started to leave, but the referee checked around and ordered it resumed.

His Robe On

Things happened fast and furiously then. Davis was outside the ropes with his dressing gown on. He jumped back in and tore after the champ without removing his gown. The Whip met him with a drop kick and then slammed him to the mat and pinned him for the count. Davis jumped up and argued furiously, lifting his hand—which the Whipper promptly grabbed, throwing him again with the "whip" hold. Finally, Davis marched hotly through a hostile crowd — cheering for Watson — with fists waving and police on hand to keep order as there had been a couple of fights previously in the crowd.

Wee Willie, scaling 270, had taken the second fall over Bill, at 232, in 12 minutes with that back-breaker — sometimes called the Boston crab—in a torrid tilt. The Whip had him with battering rams into the rope turnbuckle but on the third try the two huskies hit the referee, Bert Maxwell, as he got in their path. Down went Davis, and down went the Whip on top of him. But down went the ref, too, and the Whip couldn't get him alive in time to make the count, though Watson did everything but pat his own back as Maxwell lay "hors de combat." Then they mixed again and Davis got in some rough stuff to set Bill up for the back-breaker and that was that.

Too Smart

Whipper took the first fall in 15 minutes with his whip hold after a series of flying tackles and drop kicks had put Davis in place for the grip. The first few minutes were spent by Whipper hypnotizing Davis with his speed and agility and Willie couldn't put a hand on him. Then the powerful Hollywood villain got in some work to bother the champion plenty, but Whipper came back strong, knowing all the angles and when to bluff and when to move fast. It was a good scrap all through even though some sap threw a lighted fire-cracker into the ring once to endanger eyesight. The referee had to warn both grapplers during the bout.

Nothing To It

The Cardiff Giant won the semi-final with ridiculous ease before the huge crowd had a really good look at him again. At 328 pounds he had far too much weight and power for 240-pound Jack Moore and it took him but six minutes to apply a terrific bear-hug and put Moore out of his misery. Jack is a handy guy in a ring and uses plenty of rough tactics, but his efforts—game as they were—didn't pay off worth a dime last night. He could bounce off the ropes onto the bewhiskered Welshman but he would then bounce off the b-W still harder and land on the southend of his spine, but hard. The fans liked the short fray and the decisive finish.

Nanjo Wins

Nanjo Singh, 230-pound Hindu, also seemed undermatched in the prelim as he hadn't too much trouble with Jimmy (Red) Sims at 212. He took him with his unconscious "cobra hold" — somewhat like the commando grip—in 21 minutes. At that, Red gave the rough Hindu a real argument till he ran into hair-pulling and leg strangles, despite repeated referee's warnings. Singh also used his fists but Sims bounced back to pound him around with fists, too, as the crowd roared at the hot action for a prelim scrap.

Nanjo had a bit more experience, plus that cobra hold, and he took the fall finally but the fans saw a lot of action for 20 minutes or so and they seemed to like it. The referee was worn out at the finish.

Tigers Wallop Renfrew In 11-3 Triumph

TORONTO, April 1 — (CP).— Hockey fans again can start wondering who is going to stop the evergreen Hamilton Tigers in their race to the Allan Cup finals.

Last night the Tigers, cup finalists in 1946 and Eastern Canada finalists in 1947, continued down the road to the Eastern finals by walloping the Renfrew Lions 11-3 in the first game of their best-of-three semi-final series. The second tilt will be played at Ottawa Friday.

The Tigers, a blend of canny veterans and up-and-coming youngsters, outplayed and outclassed the Renfrew team, Ottawa district champions, and looked like sure bets to take the series in straight games.

Only in the first period did the Lions hold them to any reasonable score as Renfrew goalie Greg Haggerty put on a neat display of acrobatics to allow only one marker.

Hit Their Stride

Tigers moved their 1-0 first-period lead up to 4-1 at the end of the second period, and added seven more goals in the third, while Lions managed only two.

Haggerty, after his first-period performance, relaxed as his defence collapsed and allowed rushers to move right in on the nets. Art Childs at the other end of the ice had a much easier night.

Speedy Swat Mason was the big gun for Hamilton, firing three goals while Johnny Conick, Clare Shillington, and Tom Smelle came next with two apiece. Frankie Liscombe and Ab Conick rapped in singles.

Timer Steel was the pick of the Renfrew squad as he connected for two goals, while winger Jack Timmins scored the other Lions marker.

Wildcats Replace Tigers In Big Four Football

TORONTO, April 1— (CP): — A football era ended for one team yesterday and a new one began for another as Hamilton Wildcats were accepted into the Interprovincial Rugby Football Union to replace Hamilton Tigers.

The Big Four club announced their withdrawal after a financial dispute with the other three league teams. The yellow-and-black of the Tigers will be missed from the Big Four for the first time since its formation in 1907. The Tabbies won the Dominion title seven times altogether.

Now the younger Wildcats, a powerful Ontario Rugby Football Union club, have entered as a full-fledged member, President E. K. (Eddie) Emerson of the Big Four announced yesterday after a closed session of the executive.

Wildcats, who were knocked out of the ORFU playoffs after finishing on top of the league for two straight years, will get their chance to show their stuff against such crews as Dominion-champion Toronto Argonauts, Montreal Alouettes, and Ottawa Rough Riders.

No Tiger representatives were present at the meeting, so it was still unknown if the Tigers would field a team in another loop next season.

Want O'Connor To Handle Carmichael Role

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, April 1 (AP) —Donald O'Connor, the wispy young hoofer, is being sought to play the life of tunesmith Hoagy Carmichael.

Hoagy, himself a budding actor, won't play in his screen biography (maybe he's the wrong type). Producer Buddy Rogers says he hopes to snag O'Connor, "because he is also an off-beat character."

Tresses Trimmed

Veronica Lake says she will take a year off from pictures after "Isn't It Romantic." What's more, she is going to trim her famed tresses to three-inch length. She has already picked names for her baby—Christopher Robert Martin for a boy, Barbara Veronica for a girl....

Barry Fitzgerald was doused with water after being almost burned by flaming curtains for a "Tatlock Millions" scene. Afterwards, motorcycle hobbyist Barry sighed: "I go through fire and water on the job. But the studio won't let me ride my motorcycle to work"....

Out of the Drawing-Room

Macdonald Carey gets out of drawing-rooms for a change in "The Streets of Laredo." He has been taking riding lessons and practising with a pair of revolvers last used by Jane Russell in "Paleface"...."A Miracle Can Happen" has been sent back for a new ad campaign to emphasize its comedy. Too many customers thought it was a religious film. Its title will remain the same, however....

Not content with his gunless role in "The Great Gatsby," Alan Ladd wants to do a light comedy next.

10-Second Review

"Mr. Blandings Builds His Dream House" (Selznick) presents a heavyweight cast (Cary Grant, Myrna Loy, Melvyn Douglas) in a flyweight story. There are some laughs, but even the expert stars can't hide the film's triviality.

PROVINCIAL SENIOR FINAL

Victoriaville 2, Sherbrooke 1. Victoriaville wins best-of-seven series 4-2.

Ranger Gains Startle Fans

NEW YORK, April 1.—(AP).—Twenty years ago (less a week) Lester Patrick, grey-haired, non-playing coach of New York Rangers, replaced his injured goalie in the nets during a Stanley Cup playoff game and led the club to a thoroughly unexpected victory....It was an historic occasion in hockey, not only because of Patricks unprecedented feat but because up to that time United States teams just didn't win the Stanley Cup....Today a battered, bruised collection of Rangers — mingled veterans and rookies—is threatening to do something almost as startling....After finishing out of the play-offs five years in a row, they staggered home fourth this season....The second-place Detroit Red Wings took the first two games while Rangers took nothing but more bruises....Then the situation was suddenly reversed and they're all square going into the fifth game tonight.

2 NHL Officials Charged With Assault

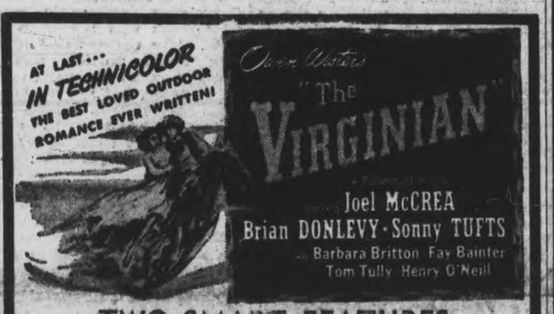
BOSTON, April 1.—(AP). — Before Boston Bruins and Toronto Maple Leafs tangle in the fourth game of their National Hockey League play-off series tonight, two officials scheduled to handle the game are due to answer assault charges in municipal court. And there will be additional police on duty at Boston Gardens to prevent rowdyism which followed Tuesday's game.

Referee Frank (King) Clancy and linesman George Hayes are expected to file innocent pleas to charges of assault and battery on Edward P. Shallow, 46, of Boston, who alleges the pair mistreated him Tuesday night.

Murray Henderson, Boston defence player, suffered such a badly broken nose in a fight with Leafs' Harry Watson, that he is not expected to play tonight.

Also ailing are Henderson's rear-guard mate, Johnny Crawford, who still is suffering after effects of a 'flu' attack, and centre Milt Schmidt, whose left knee is bothering him.

The Leafs, winners of three straight in this best-of-seven series, are selected by most observers to wind up this semi-final series tonight and then oppose the winner of the Detroit Red Wings-New York Rangers series for the Stanley Cup.



The Leafs, except for Sid Smith, who was sent home last night to have an injured knee treated, are in good condition.

Elevated Tank At Civic Hospital Solution To Low Water Pressure

An elevated water tank, costing around $25,000, may be added to the sky-line of Peterborough Civic Hospital, its shadowy outline appeared in the Utilities Commission discussion of a report by its engineer, Ross L. Dobbin, Tuesday.

The water tower would provide pressure not only for the hospital but also for domestic uses in the new west Weller St. area.

In his report on supplying water service to the hospital, Mr. Dobbin said: "We have agreed to lay an 8-inch water main along Weller St., from Monaghan Rd. to the site of the hospital. This size is sufficient to deliver the amount of water required for the hospital and for the houses now being built in the neighborhood. However, the elevation of the ground at the hospital is about 1 feet, and at Albertus and Weller Sts. 728 feet. Also the ground elevation at the Manor Hill sub-division is 780 ft.

Pressure Problem

For many years we have had complaints of low water pressure in the neighborhood of Gordon and Hopkins avenues, at the time of the summer lawn watering peaks. We have records taken at Queen Mary school of pressure as low as 20 lbs. per square inch, between 7 and 8 o'clock of a hot summer evening.

This pressure will be quite inefficient to supply the new services in the area being considered.

When the new 24-inch main is completed (Bethune St. to pumping station) pressure will be considerably increased all over the city, and particularly in this area. But, the increase will not be sufficient to give 20 lbs. pressure on the top folor of the hospital, although there might be sufficient for the dwellings on the hill.

Two alternatives to correct this situation have been investigated.

Alternative Pump

The first is to install a pump of sufficient size in the basement of the hospital which would supply all the pressure required in the building. This pump would have to run all the time. There would be only one source of supply, the 8-inch main.

The other alternative would be to instal a booster pump at Albertus and Weller Sts., and an elevated tank at the hospital site. A suitable size of pump would be 500 gallons a minute, electrically driven, and controlled automatically by the height of water in the elevated tank.

This would give the required pressure on the sixth floor of the hospital, and give adequate pressure at all times for the present and future dwellings in the area.

We estimated that a 30,000-gallon tank, 100 feet high, would be suitable for both domestic and fire protection. This tank would be erected at the rear of the new buildings on high ground.

The Canadian Fire Underwriters Association has been consulted, and have raised no objection to this scheme. The consulting engineer for the hospital, Harry Angus, also approves it.

Costs Compared

As far as the cost of these schemes is concerned the first would be limited to the purchase and operation of the pump. We would estimate the cost of installation to be $1,000, and the cost of operation about $1,000 a year.

It would also be necessary in order to give a supply of water in case main on Weller St. were shut off, to construct a duplicate main from the nearest point in the present distribution system, or to provide some reservoir of water at the site.

We estimated the cost of a duplicate 8-inch main to be $12,000, and a suitable underground reservoir at $2,500.

As for the second alternative, we estimate that the elevated tank would cost $18,000 erected, and the booster pump $1,000. To this amount should be added $6,000 to cover the cost of controls and housing for the pump and foundation for the tank. The total estimated cost of this scheme would be $25,000.

Would Correct Pressure

It would have the advantage of an adequate reservoir of water at the site of the hospital, and would supply any houses in the vicinity up to the number of 150, and obviate the low pressures which now prevail every summer.

If the city boundaries should be extended further to the west, and many more houses be erected in the vicinity, the booster pump could be replaced by one of larger capacity and the elevated tank would still be of sufficient size for a long time.

We are informed that delivery of the tank will be 22 months, and for the pump, 12 weeks.

We would also recommend that the booster pump and elevated tank be installed and that they be ordered at once. The pump could be operated for a time without the elevated tank, and it would increase the service to be given to houses in the vicinity."

The commission, Gordon S. Matthews, chairman, G. A. Macdonald and Fred Hill directed that copies of this report be submitted to the board of governors of the hospital and also their architects.

What's What In Baseball

NEW YORK, April 1 (AP). — Manager Bucky Harris of New York Yankees is looking for another starting pitcher now that Bill Bevens is on the shelf indefinitely. Vic Raschi, who joined the Bombers in mid-season from Portland last year, is one of the leading candidates. Bevens' arm went sour against St. Louis Cardinals on Tuesday, and the big right-hander is not expected to be ready for at least a month.

Manager Connie Mack will make his formal cut in the Philadelphia Athletic squad to-morrow by optioning three pitchers and an outfielder.

Ed. Heusser, veteran right-hander recently purchased from the Brooklyn Dodgers, reported and worked out with Philadelphia Phillies at Clearwater, Fla., yesterday. He flew in from the Dodgers' Ciudad Trujillo Camp. Dutch Leonard also took a short workout following an operation to remove a skin growth on his eye.

Pittsburg Pirate Manager Bill Meyer and his coaching staff met yesterday to discuss players and decide which ones they will keep. The decisions may not be announced for some time.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Windsor's bid for membership in the Intercounty Baseball League's Senior Division was rejected for the second straight year at a league meetnng at Guelph yesterday.

The Pennsylvania Athletic Commission proposes to insure all fighters who appear in the State. The contemplated insurance would provide, free of charge, hospital treatment, medical attention, and surgery in the event of ring death. A death benefit expected to amount to about $700 would be included for any fatality which might occur.

Windsor Patterson Collegiate, paced by centre Harry Wade with 14 points, defeated Ottawa Glebe Collegiate 53-46 at Toronto last night to win the Ontario High School basketball championship for the second straight year.

Frank McAloran, world flyweight champion Rinty Monaghan's manager, said at Belfast, Ireland, yesterday that he was not interested in an offer from a Hawaiian promoter for Monaghan to defend his title against Dado Marino in Honolulu. "I will not let Rinty defend his title in America or any other part of the world," he said. "I'll make the aspirants come here."

A threatened strike of grooms and exercise boys scheduled today at Jamaica Race Track was postponed indefinitely yesterday.

Bernard Davis, counsel representing Local 814 of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters (AFL), said the union had decided on the action following a request by New York's Labor Relations Division that the union and the employers try to mediate the dispute.

The three-day American Badminton Association tournament at Waco, Tex., opens to-day with top flight birdmen from the United States and Canada. Men's singles and doubles champions will head a squad representing the United States against Canada, Europe, and the Pacific zone in competition for the Thomas Cup, symbol of world supremacy.

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanganyika — (CP). — Tanganyika is to set up a general land and agricultural bank similar to that in Kenya. Uganda is considering a similar move.

Pitching Still Cleveland's Big Problem

TUCSON, Ariz., April 1—(AP). —Pitching continues as the Cleveland Indians' biggest unsolved problem.

The Tribe came here a month ago needing added strength on the mound. It breaks camp next Wednesday apparently in the same condition.

Feller, highest paid player in the game, ran into spring training difficulties a year ago. He ended the season with a 20-11 record. This was the best in the American League but still far short of the predicted 30 to 35 victories.

Given an all-around pitching staff to compare with the rest of the team, Cleveland would probably challenge New York Yankees and Boston Red Sox to the wire.

To Cut Squad

Manager Lou Boudreau will start cutting down his talent-laden squad this week-end. It's going to be a tough job.

Defensively the Cleveland infield is one of the best in the game. The same starting quartet that set a new American League fielding mark of .982 is back intact: Ed Robinnson on first, Joe Gordon on second; Boudreau at shorstop and Ken Keltner at third.

There is a wild scramble for starting outfield jobs. Allie Clark, brilliant prospect from the Yanks, Walt Judnich, from St. Louis Browns, and Dale Mitchell may eventually get the call.

Feller is picked to win from 20 to 25 this summer.

Don Black, no-hitter from last year, and former Yank Al Gettel are being counted on heavily. It is hoped Steve Gromek will do well. He won 19 in 1945, only three last summer. Bob Muncried, acquired from St. Louis Browns during the winter, could also easily come through.

Former Yale Player To Coach At McGill

MONTREAL, April 1—(CP)—Coach Vic Obeck of McGill University's footballers announced yesterday that Alexander Ellis who played three years with Yale before joining the United States Army's 82nd airborne division, has been appointed to McGill's grid-coaching staff.

Ellis, now in business here, is a native of Boston and played school football before going to Yale. Obeck did not say to what department Ellis would be assigned, but it is expected he will handle the ends.

Alberta Vague About Election

By The Canadian Press.

The fifth session of Alberta's Legislature since the Social Credit Government of Premier E. C. Manning was re-elected ended yesterday without a hint of election plans.

The Opposition was left to ponder whether the government would call a provincial general election this summer.

It was expected the Nova Scotia budget would be brought down to-day at Halifax.

Budget debate at Fredericton was due to resume to-day. It was delayed yesterday while the House passed a bill for a $200,000 debenture issue to enable a new hotel to be built at Moncton.

Quebec's Legislative Assembly approved the $2,376,500 budget for the Mines Department as well as budget estimates of the Labor Department totalling $1,316,000.

RISING RIVER—With five feet of water in some parts of the town, Laprairie, near Montreal, took on a Venice like atmosphere recently—with the gondolas lacking. Farmhouses on the outskirts of the town were almost completely submerged as dykes and retaining walls gave way under the relentless pressure. So deep was the water in some streets that it was heaved up by waves, just as in the main body of the stream in the regular river channel.

Streetcar Wins Critics Prize

NEW YORK, April 1.—(AP).—"A Streetcar Named Desire," by Tennessee Williams, yesterday was the overwhelming choice of the New York Drama Critics Circle as the best play of the 1947-48 Broadway theatrical season.

The play is the second by the 34-year-old dramatist to win the Critics Circle prize: Williams' "The Glass Menageries" was named best play of the 1944-45 season.

With 21 of the 25 members of the Circle voting, "Streetcar" received 17 votes; "Mister Roberts," by Thomas Heggen and Joshua Logan, two; and "Command Decision," by William Wister Haines, and "Medea," a Euripides drama freely adapted by Robinson Jeffers, one apiece.

"The Winslow Boy," by Terence Rattigan, a Briton, was named "best foreign play," polling 10 votes. The runner-up was "The Respectful Prostitute," by Jean Paul Sarte of Paris.

"A Streetcar Names Desire" is a serious drama about the dissolution of a young southern aristocrat, told in alternately tough and dreamy terms, ending in the young lady's insanity.

British Government Tries Brightening Its Reports

BY STUART UNDERHILL

LONDON, April 1 (CP)—British government reports generally make gloomy reading, but one of the latest—a slick, illustrated publication entitled "Something Done"—gives the administration a modest pat on the back for its accomplishments.

"We came back from the battlefields of the world only to find new and different battles to fight," Says a foreward to the booklet, prepared by the central office of information.

"This book tells the story of some of the first victories. Here are reflected, as in a mirror, certain highlights of achievement—some things we have done as a people.

The sections, with their subheadings, relate the works for which the Labor government seeks praise. They include:

"Children first—more children are born, fewer die, and 4,000,000 benefit from family allowances."

"Power stations—the new construction program gets into its stride."

"Development areas— new industries are starting and thriving in the old centres of unemployment."

"Television— the only daily service in the world gets going again."

"Coal—more men, using more machinery, are pushing up the output figures."

"Another year at school—raising of the leaving age is another milestone in educational history."

"New towns — they will grow out of old ones and make urban life pleasant and clean."

"The land—there are now more machines to the acre in Britain than anywhere else in the world."

Written with deliberate understatement, the report dwells with particular pride on family allowances, nothing that in 1947 more than 4,000,000 children benefited from them, at a rate of 5s ($1) each weekly.

"However fanciful it may be to suppose that family allowances have already had an encouraging effect on the birthrate, it seems reasonable to assume that, in the long run, an awareness of these new benefits will help to remove the anxiety of those. . . who fear they may once more be compelled to watch their children living perpetually on the margin. . .

"In the last resort, everything depends on the mothers of Britain and whether enough of them are being born each year. Between 1922 and 1946 not enough female babies— potential mothers —arrived. In 1946 more than enough, i.e., 10 per cent above replacement level, arrived. If each generation of mothers continues to reproduce itself from now on, and if those mothers do not decide to reduce the present average size of their families, there will then be no danger of the British nation gradually dwindling away."

RCMP Denies CLSU Collusion

WINNIPEG, April 1.—(CP).—Superintendent C. W. Harvison of the RCMP, said last night there was "absolutely no foundation" to any statement that there had been collusion between the RCMP and the Canadian Lake Seamen's Union headed by J. A. (Pat) Sullivan.

Edward Hayes, a CLSU organizer at Fort William until a few weeks ago, maintained earlier this week he had quit the union because of a "plot" against the opposition Canadian Seamen's Union. Hayes said he had been told that the RCMP would assist Sullivan in "doing a job" on the CSU.

The RCMP official said Hayes had approached the Fort William detachment of the force some weeks ago, while still a member of the CLSU, and had asked for protection on grounds members of the CSU were bent on causing him bodily harm if he did not leave the Lakehead in three days.

Superintendent Harvison said the matter had been referred to municipal police since it did not come within RCMP jurisdiction.

"That's all we know about the entire matter," he added.

POLICE COMMISSION HEARS EVIDENCE—The Toronto Police Commission yesterday opened its hearing of the charge of Jean Poitras that he was severely beaten and manhandled in Dundas St. W. police station on the night of March 13. PC Walter Lettau, a witness, tries to duck the camera by holding his hand over his face as he leaves the hearing with PC Seymour Shaw, also a witness.

Inspector William Cool (left) of the Dundas St. W. station is seen with PC Ray Johns, who was named by Poitras as the officer who beat him and knocked out three of his teeth after he had been arrested.

MAIN WITNESS — John McLeod, University of Toronto student, was one of the main witnesses in the Toronto Police Commission probe of the alleged beating of Jean Poitras.

Vicar Drowns In Garden Well

BURTON DASSET, Warwickshire, England, April 1.—(CP).—Rev. Thomas Lumb, 65, vicar of this village, near Stratford-on-Avon, who last year married an 18-year-old choir girl, was found drowned yesterday in the vicarage well. Police said he had been missing since Monday.

Mr. Lumb's marriage was given wide publicity last year, but since then the couple had dropped from the public view. The vicar's first wife died in 1946 at the age of 91—the same year that Joan Hitchman was named Queen of the May at Tredington, a village 10 miles distance where Mr. Lumb was then vicar.

Joan, daughter of a local cowman, once sang in Mr. Lumb's Tredington choir. Last June they were married.

He said negotiations will be sought with Algoma Steel Corporation.

Mr. Barker declined to say what the union demand will be. But he did say it will be greater than the 13½-cents-an-hour increase accepted recently by union officials on behalf of steelworkers in Hamilton.

Basic minimum wage here now is 83½ cents.

Morrison, Woolton Match Wits In 1950 Election Preliminaries

By JAMES McCOOK

LONDON, April 1—(CP).—Lord President Morrison and Lord Woolton, former Food Minister, who worked as colleagues in the Churchill wartime coalition government, now match their brains in the 1950 general election preliminaries. Both count victories and disappointments, lay down strategy for their party organizations and give repeated warnings against complacency.

Conservatives still wince when they think of the November by-election in Gravesend where Morrison was credited with the ingenious idea of importing a former Liberal, Sir Richard Acland, who was able to keep the seat for Labor. He succeeded the former Toronto newspaper man, Garry Allighan, who was expelled for writing an article the Commons will address hunderds of meetings, associated with canvass for which workers have been enrolled. All of which Morrison, as Labor's hero in election strategy, watches with a wary eye and prepares to combat.

Lord Woolton had his revenge in the Glasgow constituency of Camalachie, previously held by Rev. Campbell Stephen, who was elected as in independent Labor party candidate but switched to straight Labor before his death last year.

Over The Top

When things go badly, the Conservatives are apt to complain that Labor is in a happy position because of the ceaseless flow of funds from the trade union movement. But Lord Woolton, as Conservative party chairman, has announced his "Fighting Funds" to finance the Conservative campaign now has passed £1,000,000 ($4,000,000) with subscriptions still coming in.

Their experience in 40 by-elections has driven home to Conservatives the necessity of keeping their educational and recruiting services in full operation long before the actual vote is held.

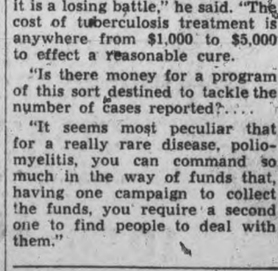
Doctor Urges More Money To Fight T.B.

MONTREAL, April 1—(CP(.—Dr. Frederick Smith, Professor of Bacteriology and Dean of the Medical Faculty at McGill University, said there is maldistribution of the profusion of funds available for comparatively rare diseases compared with funds needed to combat tuberculosis.



Speaking at the annual meeting of the Royal Edward Laurentian Hospital on Tuesday, Dr. Smith said tuberculosis spreads most dangerously in close contacts of the family. Resistance breaks down and persons so exposed in their own homes are roughly 10 times likely to fall ill of the disease as persons in the population at large.

This was where the public health man could swing into action by stressing great lack of need for hospitalization.

"If there are not enough beds it is a losing battle," he said. "The cost of tuberculosis treatment is anywhere from $1,000 to $5,000 to effect a reasonable cure.

"Is there money for a program of this sort destined to tackle the number of cases reported?....

"It seems most peculiar that for a really rare disease, poliomyelitis, you can command so much in the way of funds that, having one campaign to collect the funds, you require a second one to find people to deal with them."

Find Manitoba Fur Trade Varies Greatly Down Years

BY DOUGLAS GREEN

WINNIPEG, April 1—(CP)—Manitoba's 1,606 registered trappers— the figure exclude those who traps part time—know from experience that their trade, the province's oldest industry, is the most sensitive of any external influences.

Dame fashion's vagaries are only one factor. What is high fashion this year may be hopelessly dated in 1949. Demand varies, too. The finer furs, such as marten and fisher, normally find a ready market.

But at the moment they're in the category of fox and wolf pelts, none of which is finding an active market, provincial game officials said.

A statement showing average values of pelts taken from the "wild" in the 19-year period 1928-29 to 1946-47 indicates the sensitivity of the trade.

Appropriately enough, a silver fox pelt taken in the 1928-29 season averaged $113.50 in value. In 1946-47 it brought only $8.

Beaver were commanding $47, mink $40 and marten $55 in 1945-46. The average value of a beaver pelt next season was $30. Low point for a mink fur—perhaps reflecting the "bust" after the "boom"—was $4.96 in 1931-32. Marten brought $11.30 in the same season.

To the valuation of $2,582,007 placed on furs taken from the "wild" in the 1946-47 season, muskrat contribute an estimated $1,415,211 and beaver an estimated $236,340.

The 1946-47 valuation was nearly 50 per cent lower than the $5,145,707 estimated for the previous season.

Game officials have cleared up a couple of misconceptions. The term "trapline" is misleading; a trapline is a circle. Secondly, trappers may fly into their lines, but they knew of none in Manitoba who owned aircraft.

On one point they were emphatic. Trapping is a job for a single man.

WALLACE OUGHT TO GO TO RUSSIA—Speaking before members of AHEPA at Washington, D.C.—the American Hellenic Educational Progressive Association—President Harry S. Truman threw another blunt challenge at third-party presidential nominee, Henry A. Wallace, inferentially inviting him to go to Russia. Telling his listeners that the "Greeks had a Henry Wallace," he said he referred to a Greek "demagogue," Alciabiades, adding that—"he ought to go to the country he loves so well and help them against his own country, if that's the way he feels." Left to right here at the dinner are shown: Chris G. Garrison, post secretary, Kansas City chapter; Thomas Kapsemalias, commander Kansas City chapter; President Truman, receiving lifetime membership in AHEPA, and William H. Hellis, supreme president of AHEPA.

Bogota Parley Takes Firm Russian Stand

BOGOTA, Colombia, April 1 — (AP). — Anti-Communist feeling among the 21 Pan-American conference republics seemed today to be developing into a demand for a firm stand against Russia.

Chile's foreign minster, Juvenal Hernandez, called for just that yesterday.

Hernandez said Chile has aligned herself with countries which defend Democracy and liberty.

"That should be the attitude of all the nations of America," he told delegates, who burst into applause.

Hernandez, representing a country which recently severed its relations with Russia, spoke before the plenary session of the ninth Pan-American conference.

Sets Stage

State Secretary Marshall of the United States set the stage for the anti-Communist pressure at the conference opening Tuesday when he asked if the question of subversive activity could be put on the agenda.

He received unanimous assurance that it could.

Brazil, another South American country which has broken relations with Russia, approved Hernandez' stand.

Chief delegates of several other countries declined to comment directly.

Paraguay and Panama are known to favor a strong stand against Communism. Several countries are known to be concerned over the so-called "Slav Front", which is believed operating in various hemisphere republics.

Women Losing In Education

TORONTO, April 1 — (CP). — Dr. A. R. M. Lower of Queen's University at Kingston, said today that the young women of this generation seem to be going in two directions—"one route to becoming wives and mothers, the other to the feminine impression of liberty."

In an address to delegates attending the English and history section of the Ontario Educational Association Dr. Lower said: "The generation of women before the first world war won freedom for women or 'women's rights' but there is little evidence that their daughters set much value on this freedom."

A misguided search for liberty by modern women was "marked by a rising divorce rate and an increase of illegitimacy."

"Education," he said, "is becoming more and more diluted. The result is that today while we have more people in the upper ranges of education, we have fewer educated people."

Mental health of students was discussed at the school health section of the convention.

New Frozen Fruit Dessert Delight To Scientists

OTTAWA, April 1.— (CP) — When scientists start fooling around with ice cream it's something to wonder about.

Today, scientists of the horticultural division, Central Experimental Farm, served a frozen fruit dessert as creamy as ice cream and as flavorable as fresh fruit to representatives of the ice cream and frozen fruits industries, hotel, restaurant and railway dining car services. The scions of the palate liked it.

Designed to conserve food, the new frozen fruit dessert consists only of pulped fruit slightly diluted with water and with sugar and small amounts of gelatine and ascorbic acid added. It is frozen while being mixed and aerated by a paddle beater. Although entirely free of butterfat, it has the texture of ice cream.

The agricultural scientists say the new product is the result of several years research by the horticultural division. It can be frozen at 20 below Fahrenheit and stored at zero.

One of the scientists, W. R. Phillips, says among the chief benefactors of the new processed dessert would be rhubarb growers. First fresh fruit of the year, rhubarb enjoys too brief a marketing season. If processed into the frozen fruit dessert, it can be made available the year round.

Deny French Report On Princess Correct

LONDON, April 1.—(CP).— A responsible court took cognizance today of a French news report, attributed to a Col. Backhouse, that Princess Elizabeth is pregnant.

The report said the princess intended to call off her engagements in June. A palace informant said:

"That's certainly contrary to fact. Instead of cancelling her June engagements, the princess has taken on three or four additional ones, and there is every likelihood she'll be making public appearances in July. As for Colonel Backhouse, we simply don't know who he is."

A palace source also denied that Princess Elizabeth had given up horseback riding.

Suggest 50,000 Europeans Be Allowed In US Forces

WASHINGTON, April 1—(AP)—Senator Henry Lodge (Rep. Mass.) urged Congress today to let 50,000 young single European men join the United States Army and become citizens later.

Lodge, a tank corps officer in the Second Great War, said this would cut down manpower needs in the proposed temporary draft, for one thing. He asked the senate armed services committee to back him up.

Lodge would sprinkle the carefully chosen foreigners among regular citizenship after five years' services. He would limit their number to 15 per cent of the army's total. Young men all over the world want to join, he said.

Preparedness talk boiled up all around. There were these developments:

A Negro leader, A. Philip Randolph, told Congress that many Negroes would disobey any draft law and refuse to bear arms if "segregation and discrimination" are not halted in the armed services. Senators warned they might run into treason charges.

President Truman told Tennessee Valley Authority officials to draft plans for greatly increased power output for defense plants. Truman was described as "deeply concerned" that there be an adequate power program.

Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York said in Albany that a state militia, along with "a total civilian effort" must be organized to be ready if the National Guard is called to federal duty. He spoke of the "gravity of the world situation."

SCHOOL FOR SOLDIERS' CHILDREN —A reading lesson is conducted at Fort Henry School in Barriefield Camp, near Kingston. Pupils are children of soldiers serving at Barriefield or Vimy Barracks. The school was made by converting the old detention barracks. Teacher is Mrs. E. M. Clarke.

dried to flakes or a powder for commercial distribution. The demand still far exceeds the supply and new stretches of coast are being investigated with a view to encouraging other collectors to begin operations.

Another new industry which is drawing a rich harvest from the sea off the northern coasts of New Zealand is shark fishing. Until a few years ago sharks were the most unwelcome fish caught by fishermen. Now, many of them seek nothing else.

A local manufacturer has found overseas markets for shark liver oil, which is seven times richer in vitamin A than cod liver oil, in such quantities that he cannot meet the demand. Depots have been established in nearly every fishing centre in the country.

Rewards to the fishermen vary greatly according to the weather. At times in the far north a boat can earn over $150 a day. In the season and with favorable winds school sharks swarm into the warm harbor to breed and at times a line with 150 hooks can be hauled in hour after hour with a 6-foot shark on almost every hook. On a bad day there might be only half a dozen on the line.

School sharks are sought. Only the livers which weigh from four to eight pounds and the fins are saved. There is a ready market for the fins to local Chinese who use them for shark fin soup. So far there is no market for the skins which are considered the most valuable part of the fish in the United States.

Agar Collectors Prosper New Type of Beachcomber

By J. C. GRAHAM
Canadian Press Correspondent

HASTINGS, N.Z., Apr. 1—(CP). — A new type of South Seas beachcomber is springing up along the northern coasts of New Zealand. He is a far cry from the picturesque figure of romance and is equipped with a jeep and Bren gun carrier to assist in his activities.

These new beachcombers collect agar, a type of seaweed of great value in science and industry, which before the war was supplied mostly from Japan. New Zealand agar now is much in demand as a culture medium in preparing penicillin and as a base for many bacterial cultures. It is also used as a base for many cosmetics and from it is prepared the jelly used in canned meat products.

New Zealand's agar collectors receive $358 a ton for the dried seaweed. Some earn $65 a week —more than double the pay of skilled tradesmen in New Zealand.

The collectors have their own stretches of beach and limits are scrupulously observed by tacit agreement. Some of them have a 10-mile beat which they cover twice daily after the tide has receded.

There are two types of agar, both dark wine red. When spread out in the water they are feathery and fernlike. Agar grows off the coasts only on areas where there is a lime foundation. Best yields are after a storm when the banks of seaweed two feet thick are often found and a ton may be collected with a hundred yards.

The collectors wash the agar in fresh water and dry it on frames before taking it to the depots operated by the Internal Marketing Department. It is boiled, strained, and the resulting jelly purified by freezing. This is then

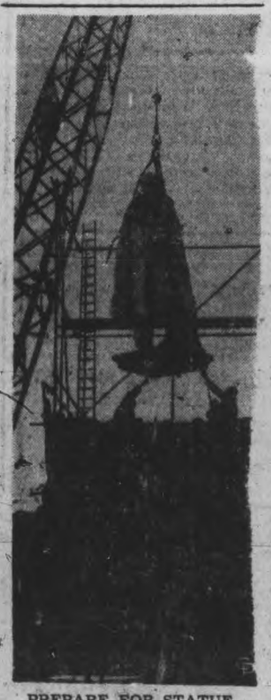
Face Strike Threat

DETROIT, April 1 — (CP) — The Hudson Motor Car Company faced a strike threat today by local 154 United Automobile Workers (CIO) resulting from the discharge last week of 12 welders on charges of loafing. The union said the State Labor Mediation Board would be requested today to take a strike vote.

Keene Congregation Warned Of Paganism



KEENE, April 1 — (ENS) — The Easter service at the United Church was very inspiring. The music by the Senior and Junior choirs was all that could be desired as to the selections and renditions under the organist, Mr. D W. Potter. The service opened with Eastern Hymn from Cavelleria Rusticana. Choir sang "O Lamb of God I Come," by F. Blain; "Ye Choirs of New Jerusalem," by R. Smith; "The Lord Is King," by Simper. The junior choir assisted and also sang "It Is The Joyful Easter Time." The attendance was one of the largest and the spirit of service was "Rejoice, and again I say Rejoice." The topic of sermon was "This Is Our Victory in Christ."

"Easter brought the dawn of a New Day after one of the darkest hours in history and in the religious world," Rev. George Murray said. "Many in the world are in need of food and clothing and the Christian nations, including the Christian Church are supplying most of this need, yet there is a greater need for Christ the Bread of Life who is our riser and exalted Lord.

While paganism is showing its head once more in our civilization, may it lead us to see the need of being good soldiers of Jesus Christ, wrestling with spiritual wickedness in high places."

Leaders Asked To Forget About Politics

A meeting of the Housing Committee of Local Council of Women was held Wednesday afternoon in the Green Room of the YWCA. The aim of this group is to insure satisfactory housing for every human being. It is felt that their general health and efficiency as citizens is bound up in the conditions under which they are forced to live, and that infinitely more consideration should be given the problem by authorities.

Local Council members realize it is a national situation and the task of betterment calls for united efforts of men and women. It is believed that many of the common shortages could be overcome if the government would see that materials in storage are released and piles of lumber made available.

Several plans of action were discussed and resolutions will be placed before the next regular meeting and sent to Municipal, Provincial and Dominion authorities. Letters were ordered sent to Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Reconstruction, and Hon. Col. George A. Drew, Premier of Ontario, calling attention to housing shortages, particularly in Peterborough, and ask that politics be shelved, and stress laid on the human element, which is foremost in this picture.

It is felt that the influx of more than a million immigrants this year will make conditions much worse, and that women as the homemakers, and the ones to feel the inconveniences most, have a right to demand something be done at once to alleviate the situation. They recommend that housing controls be eased immediately so that the population can become fluid. Much more room would be made available in this city if it were possible for incompatible tenants to move. Also, the level of some rents is being kept so low that owners find it a disadvantage to rent.

Skating Club Concludes Season With Exhibition

Peterborough Skating Club closed its first season with an exhibition of figure skating on Wednesday night at the Curling Club rink. It was remarkably successful considering the fact that it was the club's first season and the extremely small size of the rink. The exhibition was in two parts, the first for junior skaters and the second for intermediates and seniors. After the exhibition, there were numerous games, for which prizes were given.

Seven-year-old Sandra Hudson of the Ravina Club, Toronto, was the outstanding junior skater. Other outstanding juniors were nine-year-old Karen Jones, who also did a solo exhibition, and Joan Begley and Arlene Ferguson, both eleven years old, who did a pair skating number.

In the intermediate and senior section, Sherrill Lashmer and Marilyn McInroy both did solo numbers and John Bradburn and Ernie Ferguson, Jr., gave an exhibition of pair skating. The club professional, Kay Amys, who is also a professional at the Nniversity Club, Toronto, gave a very pleasant free skating exhibition herself.

Presentations were made to Kay Amys and Sandra Hudson. Other presentations were made to Miss Phyllis Denne, secretary of the club, Mr. and Mrs. E. Ferguson, vice-president and head of ice and telephone committee, Herbert Martin and J. Harkness of the Curling Club. Presentations and prizes were awarded by Norman Nesbitt, Bert Austin and G. K. Hughes.

Steel Temperer For 28 Years At CGE Works

Arthur D. MacLeish, for nearly 28 years a CGE employee in a highly skilled and specialist line of work, was retired recently. Well-known in the city, Mr. MacLeish is a steel temperer and hardener of unusual ability, a "know-how" of the work developed over his years of experience in the narrow field of steel tempering in Scotland and here.

These days, there are heat instruments called "recorders" which — theoretically, at least — gauge the heating and time factors which form the operation. Despite these, Mr. MacLeish relies on that acquired knowedge of his to judge when a piece of steel is "done" to the proper degree. His trained eye watches the redness of the steel being heated in the furnaces and the heat on his face translates itself into a "built-in" gauge which can be more unerring in its judgment than the new-fangled gadgets attached to the furnace.

Mr. MacLeish was born at Loch Lomondside, Scotland, where he received his early education.

In those early days, on the shores of the famed Loch, "Mac" became an expert oarsman, walking off with several major competitions. The principle victory in this regard was in 1994, when he won the sculling championship of Western Scotland.

His first job was as an apprentice in a blacksmith shop in the Scottish town. There, he gained some groundwork in tool work. Later he worked in steel plants in Dumbarton and the huge naval gun works of Scotstoun. He started at the big armament plant on blacksmith work, but his experience and aptitude for steel soon gained for him a transfer to that specialist class of temperers. He states that this period of employment gave him a keen interest in steel work, which he has retained.

In 1910, he became interested in moving to Canada, and while inquiring about the situation "over there," he was immediately snapped up for the job at the Peterborough work of the CGE. He came out by himself that year, and was joined by his family in 1913.

Inspector of Munitions

The first period of employment with the CGE was interrupted by the first world war, during which he served on inspection work in the United States, where he checked shipments of munitions to the British, later for the Russian forces. He returned to this city in 1919.

Hours in those days, he recalls, were much longer than at present. He states that in 1913, the normal working day was from 7 a.m. until 6 p.m., and then quite often in the evening from 7 to 10 p.m.

He has been at the CGE since that time. When he first came to the plant, there was only himself to do the work of hardening and tempering tools and dies. Now there are four men on that work alone, which he believes to be an approximate indication of the comparitive size of the plant then and now.

Tempering and hardening involves heating completed tools and dies in a furnace, which gives them the proper strength on their cutting edges for the work in the presses and other machines. It is essential that the cutting edges be of the same degree of hardness.

It is in this regard that the years of training and observation of "hot steel" comes into play. Instruments, to Mr. MacLeish, are merely auxiliary checks on the accuracy of his own judgment, but he finds they are not the final authority. Should the two—the mechanical markers and his year-old instinct—disagree on their findings, he does not hesitate to follow the dictates of his experience, against the directions of the instruments. And, it is found, the pieces are correct, as they have been for the 27½ continuous years of service in which Mac has been "calling the count" on the heated tools and dies.

In retirement, Mr. MacLeish has not yet decided what he will do to take up his time, although there have been a number of lines of leisure work which he has been considering. In the meantime, he says, he will "just sit back and relax for a bit."

He has three sons, all well known in the city. They are. Arthur, who is teaching at Hamilton; Robert, who is employed at a dairy equipment plant in Toronto; and Charles, manager of a crane and hoist manufacturing plant at Niagara Falls. His only daughter, Ruth, was employed for a time in the engineering department of the CGE. She is now Mrs. Richard Guy, and lives in Toronto.

He became a member of the Quarter Century Club two years ago. And with his departure from the plant, he leaves a long and respected memory in the minds of the hundreds who have worked with him during that period.

March births in Peterborough were 14 more than a year ago, and marriages and deaths were fewer, as registered at the city hall. The statistics for last month were: 135 births, 25 marriages and 38 deaths; and in March last year: 121 births, 36 marriages and 53 deaths.

REPORT TWO FIRE ALARMS

Firemen answered two alarms on Wednesday morning. Shortly before 9 a.m. there was a chimney fire at residence of J. Ireland, Downers Corners. A little more than half an hour later overheated pipes brought them to 134 Rubidge Street, residence of L. Livingstone.

TWO OF MADOC TRIPLETS DIE

Two of the three baby girls born to Mr. and Mrs. James Bronson, Madoc, earlier this week died in Belleville General Hospital on Tuesday. Officials reported that the births had been more than two months premature.

STORE WINDOWS UNLIT

Several of the larger stores in the downtown district have not yet taken advantage of the lifting of the ban on store window lighting. One merchant explained that a good deal of work is involved in disconnecting the one 100 watt bulb previously allowed, and hooking up the full circuit of lights. In some cases numerous bulbs which had been removed when the ban began will now have to be replaced.

BUILDS GARAGE

Parler Rayfuse has built a new garage on the River Road about six miles north of Peterborough. Just another example of how business is stretching along the highways between Peterborough and Lakefield.

STIRLING PRIEST TRANSFERRED

Rev. Simmons Lesage, Stirling, former chaplain of the Hotel Dieu Hospital, Kingston, has been appointed parish priest of St. Mary's Church, Chesterville. Born at Tweed, his transfer will take place in May. He has been pastor of St. James' Church, Stirling, for several years.

TESTS IN PETERBOROUGH

Examination centres of the University of Western Ontario will extend through 20 western and central Ontario communities this year, the first time such broad arrangements have been made. Most distant centre is Peterborough, where tests will be held for the first time. Normally Toronto was the most easterly place at which examinations were held but this year a group of Peterborough students asked for the tests to be held also in their city.

Boy Scouts Plan Paper Collection

Peterborough scouts will have a city-wide drive for waste paper on Saturday afternoon, regardless of whether it rains or shines. In the morning, cubs will call on housewives to ask them to bundle and put out waste paper collected since the last drive in November. Local firms are co-operating with the boy scouts and lending them trucks and drivers for the campaign.

Well over 70 tons of waste paper was collected last November, but on Saturday, the scouts hope to get closer to one hundred tons. Proceeds from the drive will be distributed among the scout groups for camping and handicraft equipment.

Airborne Ark

STOCKHOLM — (CP). — Eleven canaries and 100 orchids were included recently in the cargo of a Scandinavian Airlines System plane which left Prestwick, Scotland, for the United States. The canaries travelled in the crew's cabin. The orchids were the first of a large consignment.

Second Son of Irish Family One of First Settlers In Township of Anstruther

Information relating to succession to an old Irish baronetcy was obtained by the Examiner Wednesday afternoon within ten minutes after a "missing heir" enquiry from London, England, was received in a Canadian Press cable. Virtually a circular query through Canadian newspapers, the despatch sought an answer to the question whether Francis Lynch-Blosse, second son of the 10th Baronet, who died at a place "given as Anstruther, Canada West, July 26, 1864," married and had children, whose descendents today would have a prior claim to the title that has been vacant since 1942.

Grave Not Identified

That question remains unanswered, but it was definitely learned that Francis Lynch-Blosse was buried 84 years ago in Little Lake Cemetery. The cemetery records show that he died at a place called Burleigh in July, 1864, but lack identifying location of his grave.

The news item received from Canadian Press on the Examiner's teletype machine was:

"London, March 31.—Inquiries are being made in Canada and the United States for possible 'missing heir' to an old Irish baronetcy.

"Family records show that a Francis Lynch-Blosse, second son of the 10th baronet, died at a place given as 'Anstruther, Canada West, July 26, 1864.'

"Robert Cyril Lynch-Blosse of Worthing, Sussex, claimed the title in 1942 on the death of a distant cousin, Sir Robert Lynch-Blosse, the 12th Baronet. It was not accepted, however, because there was a doubt about the lineage.

"Francis Lynch-Blosse, it was thought, might have married and had children. If that were so, his descendants would have greater claim to the title.

"So far all efforts to find out what happened to Francis Lynch-Blosse in his later years have failed.

"The key to the problem is the whereabouts of Anstruther, Canada West. No one knows where it is—not even the Geographical Society.

"The town may have changed its name through the years or never have existed, and the entry in the record might be wrong.

"Meanwhile, there is no baronet, and search for 'Anstruther' goes on."

The Examiner had no knowledge of a town of Anstruther in Canada West, now the province of Ontario, or of any person named Lynch-Blosse. But, there was Anstruther township, between Burleigh township and the northern boundary of the county. Possibly, the Irish baronet's second son had been one of the early settlers of Anstruther.

But, Lynch-Blosse was dead 84 years. His generation had vanished with him. Present day residents of Anstruther are few, and even the longest memory would hardly hold any recollection of this forgotten man.

Poole's History

At that stage of the Examiner's thinking of possible clues into a doubtful Anstruther, attention was turned to a copy of Poole's history of the county of Peterborough, published in 1867.

It was opened at the section sketching the early surveys of the northern townships, including Anstruther, and this paragraph turned up with a reference to Francis Lynch-Blosse after a silence of more than three-quarters of a century.

"Some of the early settlers of Anstruther were: Thomas Stewart, Patrick Breen, William Wilson, Edward S. Hall, D. R. Castidy, C. J. Vizard Captain Lynch Bloss, Dr. Clegg, Caleb Lousley, John Steen, Philip Lousley, John Young and David Harris. Most of these located in the township in the year 1862."

That record afforded ample evidence that Captain Lynch Bloss was the Francis Lynch-Blosse of the titled Irish family. It identified him with a place called Anstruther and in the early sixties.

Winter-clad Troops Train In Canadian Northland

WAINWRIGHT, Alta April 1—(CP)—Winter training camps for both active and reserve soldiers in Western Army Command have become as familiar as their khaki uniforms.

At present, active force personnel are carrying out northern winter training in the Whitehorse (Yukon) area. The 200 troops involved in this exercise are specializing in military application of the ways of bushmen and trappers.

Another exercise was recently completed here. About 350 soldiers went on 14-day cold-weather weapon and infantry schemes. They came from throughout Alberta and many parts of British Columbia and despite biting north winds and hard-driving snow found their training both interesting and enjoyable.

The men were clad in special winter issue and became accustomed to travelling on skis and snowshoes. Professional skiers from Banff taught country and downhill ski technique and deep snow conditions in the 96,000 acre training area made most men become expert on snowshoes.

Believed to be the largest winter camp in Canada, the former prisoner-of-war buildings at Wainwright were used to house the troops. They were specially winterized and heated; and provided ample accommodation and dining facilities as well as canteens, lecture rooms and garage accommodation.

All types of weapons were fired on the outdoor ranges, including rifles, mortars, machine guns and anti-tank weapons and grenades. Tanks and artillery specialists handling the blizzard-cooled vehicles and guns carried out live schemes and put on shoots during the infantry-tank battles.

Regiments from Edmonton, Calgary, Lethbridge, Medicine Hat, Prince Rupert, Kelowna, Trail and Nelson took part.

Ask RCMP Expert To Probe Shooting

WINDSOR, April 1 — (CP) — Windsor police officials said today a RCMP ballistics expert has been asked to assist in further investigations of the attempted shooting of United States Consul John Bankhead last Sunday night.

Two shots were fired at Bankhead as he entered the driveway of his Riverside home. This was the fifth attmpt on his life, he said.

Skunks Routed

KINGSTON, Ont. — (CP). — Queen' University students and a spaniel named Blackie routed and destroyed two skunks found under a hut in emergency-housing quarters here. Blackie — who attacked first—was successfully de-odorized by a washing-in tomato juice.

This stimulating routine helps keep gums firmer, healthier . . . teeth brighter . . . smiles more sparkling. Ask your dentist about massage for your gums. Nationwide survey shows that 7 out of 10 dentists recommend gum massage. Start toward a "model" smile yourself with Ipana Tooth Paste.

Ask Legislature To Pass Law Barring Racial Discrimination

TORONTO, April 1.—(CP). — Cases of racial discrimination were cited in the Ontario Legislature yesterday by Opposition members who lined up against the Government to support a C.C.F. bill for the protection of civil rights.

A recorded vote saw the Progressive-Conservatives defeat the measure 38 to 15.

Although the bill was sponsored by W. J. Grummett, C.C.F. House Leader, J. B. Salsberg (LPP-Toronto St. Andrew) delivered a more lengthy speech in favor of the legislation.

He expressed regret that the Government did not see the need for establishing beyond doubt the law on matters of discrimination due to race or creed.

Mr. Grummett called for support of the bill which would have protected by law freedom of religion, speech and association and prohibited discrimination against any person by reason of race or nationality in regard to education, employment or right of access to any place serving the public.

Need Education

The C.C.F. leader admitted the need for further education of the people to stamp out discrimination. He expressed belief that there should also be legislation to support the drive against it.

He said there was an example for such legislation set by President Truman who advocated civil rights protection in the United States.

Mr. Grummett cited as an example of discrimination the case of a negro girl being refused admission to a nursing course at Owen Sound.

In reply, Attorney General Blackwell noted that the girl had later been admitted to a hospital at Guelph.

He expressed the fear that by passing the civil rights legislation it would cause resentment on the part of certain persons who would then take to breaking the law where they would not have done so before.

"It will create an issue," he said, 'and operate to the prejudice and injury of the people it wants to help."

Meinzinger Waits For Invitation

TORONTO, April 1.—(CP).—Joseph Meinzinger said yesterday he still wants to join the Progressive Conservative ranks in the Ontario Legislature but is awaiting the nod from the Government benches.

The member from North Waterloo broke with the Liberal group recently, saying he had "seen the light." He said he would support the Drew government because he believed it helped the working man.

Since then he had remained away from his seat in the Liberal section. Reporters yesterday asked him about his absence and he said he was puzzled as to his status since his switch in allegiance. He said he had receceived no overtures from the Government and added:

"I want to join the Tories, but I don't want to look foolish."

ROTORUA, N.Z. — (CP). — Three young poachers caught catching trout with nets, sticks and wire netting will think twice before trying it again. They were ordered by the magistrate to write an essay on fish conservation after a trip through government hatcheries. Russian Bogey Doesn't Scare Stolid Finns

By AKE MALMSTROEM

HELSINKI, April 1.—(AP). — Worn by two wars within a decade and with new Russian threats over their heads, Finns still are keeping a stiff upper lip.

Finns have seen hard times and are accustomed to occupations. They even had a civil war. Hardships do not frighten them and they do not give in. Under the new political pressure they are saying:

"We must not be driven into a panic. We must make the best of the situation and fight tenaciously, but calmly, for our western way of life and ideals. If we are closed in behind the iron curtain and lose our American credits and our business with the west our plight will be hard indeed.

Crisis or no crisis, life in Helsinki is going on as before. "Business as usual," is a deep-rooted slogan with the Finns. In fact, it is much more than a slogan, it is a way of life.

It is very dark in Helsinki at night, almost a half black-out because of the necessity to save power for industry. Most stores close at 5 o'clock and the restaurants at 11 p.m. There is hardly any night life and people go to bed early. The traffic is not heavy. It is hard to get a taxi and small cabs drawn by skinny horses are typical.

There are a few good theatres and movies, but the principal Finnish pleasure still is heavy drinking. Wine is practically non-existent, the beer is almost non-alcoholic, but the Finns drink amazing quantities of hard liquor, although it is heavily taxed.

Restaurants Expensive

Food is all right in the restaurants if you take the expensive a-la-carte courses. Meat is plentiful, but white bread, sugar, butter and milk are scarce and rationed. Real coffee can be had, but it costs 150 marks in the restaurants—almost as much as a good meat course.

Prices are generally high and the inflation means that salaried persons—civil servants and office workers — cannot afford to go places or give parties.

There is a widespread black market, especially in foreign currencies. Swedish crowns and dollars bring three times as much on the black market as in the regular banks. Much smuggling of money is going on.

The workmen have had many raises and skilled men and artisans now are getting ten times as much pay as before the war and better real wages. White collar workers and intellectuals have only three or four times as much as before the war and only half of their former real wages. That means they must have more than one job to get along. Many scientists have gone to foreign countries, and this is considered as a potential danger for Finnish cultural life. Many skilled workers work only three weeks a month because of the progressive taxes.

The housing shortage is severe. No one has the right to more than one room and in large flats the original occupants have had to admit other families who take over some of the rooms and share the kitchen and other facilities.

Mr. Drew Confused Votes With Opposition

TORONTO, April 1 — (CP) — A humorous note was injected into proceedings in the Ontario Legislature yesterday when a vote was called on a Labor-Progressive motion to shelve indefinitely the government bill to tax amusements.

In error, Premier Drew rose to vote in favor of the suggestion. He was greeted with cries of "No, no," until he realized what he was doing and sat down amid considerable laughter.

There was more laughter when A. A. MacLeod (LPP-Toronto Bellwoods) called across the House, asking how it was the premier enjoyed the privilege of voting twice on the same measure.

Car-Truck Production Shows Sharp Drop

OTTAWA, April 1 — (CP) — Automobile and truck production in Canadian factories in February was slightly below the preceding month and sharply below that of a year ago, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported yesterday.

In February Canadian factories shipped 16,382 vehicles compared to 16,175 in January and 20,331 in February 1947. Shipments during January and February this year totalled 33,097 compared to 39,031 in the same months a year ago.

Imports of vehicles from the United States were down to 41 in February from 2,801 in the same month of 1947.

May Increase Farm Teaching

TORONTO, April 1—(CP)—The Ontario Farm Forum's incoming executive will consider a suggestion that teaching of agriculture be increased in Ontario rural schools.

A motion at yesterday's annual meeting suggested that the best way to keep rural youth on the farm was to teach co-operation, economics and agriculture in primary schools and to win the interest of farm children. Most delegates agreed.

Ken Betzner of Waterloo, referring to a recommendation that rural school curricula be discussed on national radio forums, said he thought the topic unsuited to such discussion. Education was a provincial matter but the Forum was national.

D. E. Steuffer of Bright said he believed the executive should consider the rural education question. A vote supported his proposal.

General Strike Threatened At Election Time

ROME, April 1.—(AP).— Italy may be gripped by a general strike at the time of her April 18 election test between Communists and anti-Communists. The walkout is threatened by the Communist led Italian General Confederation of Labor (CGIL), some 6,000,000 strong.

CGIL President Giuseppe Di Vittorio, a Communist, said in Palermo, Sicily, last night that the executive committee will call the strike April 8 unless police have found a missing Sicilian labor leader by that time.

If there is a strike, it will last until the case is solved. Workers will quit for an hour the first day, two hours the second, three the third and so on. That would mean a 10-hour layoff the day before the Sunday election. The first day, public service employees unlike others, would go out only a quarter of an hour.

Charge Kidnapping

The missing man is Placido Rizzotto. He vanished from his Chamber of Labor office at Corleone, Sicily, some three weeks ago. Leftists say Right Wingers have slain or kidnapped him.

The CGIL put up a reward of 500,000 dire (about $900) yesterday for information or arrests leading to a solution. Di Vittorio said the parliament to be elected April 18 will be asked to investigate an increase in political crimes in Sicily.

With fresh political violence reported at many points and the Left shouting accusations that the Right is ploting an uprising for the eve of the elections, the Government announced plans to parade troops in Rome Sunday.

Films were shown on lubrication and salesmanship, and short talks were given by Gordon Day, Peterborough, Mr. Dessoy and C. A. Dixon, division retail manager.

Spring Fever Hits Exchanges

By The Canadian Press.

Those gloomy pessimists of the last year or so, the Stock Exchanges, have become possessed of a bit of spring fever. New York closed out the month yesterday with an upward spurt that made the over-all advance in March the widest of any month in two years; the Associated Press 60-stock composite climbed .8 to 65.2, its best since January 12.

Toronto's industrial index advanced 2.18 to 163.40, best since February 5, though volume decreased from Tuesday. Base Metals also made a substantial gain, while golds and Western oils were moderately up. In Montreal papers headed an industrial advance. It is too early to predict whether markets will continue this way or whether they are just making an adjustment from their lows.

Canadian Pacific, which gained $2.25 and $1.37 respectively in Montreal and Toronto Tuesday on news of the freight rate increase, added another 25 cents yesterday to close at $14.75. It advanced in New York and London also.

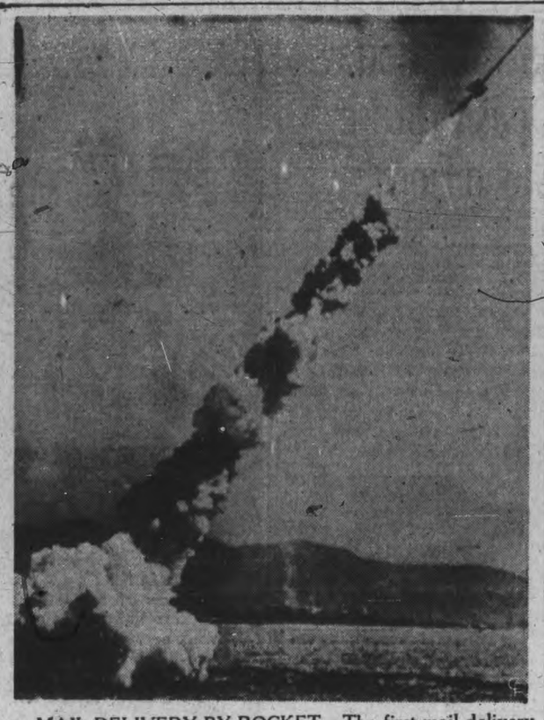
Grains were mostly lower in Chicago but upward in Winnipeg. New York cotton futures were 70 cents a bale lower to 45 cents higher.

"Swamp Plow"

CANBERRA — (CP). — An Australian farmer has invented a plow which is efficient in waterlogged and swampy land. The plow has a "drainer" attached to the back which can dig drains up to 22 inches deep. It can be converted to a conventional plow by bolting on a regular share.

ILP Decides To Quit Electoral Field

By JAMES McCOOK



LONDON, April 1.—(CP).—The Independent Labor Party which entered the political ring breathing fire and brimstone now has left the field—fighting still.

By one vote a week-end conference of this fiery training ground for a generation of Labor statesmen decided to terminate its electoral activities. ILP members in the House of Commons have tended to drop the party label and become straight supporters of the Attlee administration. By-election results indicated that United Kingdom voters tend to vote either Conservative or Labor and neglect in-between parties.

But ghosts of political insurgents hovered about the Southport conference that voted that the ILP should continue only as a propaganda organization and leave election fights to others. And even as the announcement of the vote result was made, a strong element within the party began to plan for a special conference when the decision would be examined again.

Miss Annie Maxton, sister of the late James Maxton, long ILP leader in the Commons, is the leader of the minority determined to keep the party in election battles.

Labor leaders like Ramsay MacDonald and his successors often became weary of ILP nagging as it was unwilling to accept compromises for reasons of strategy.

MAIL DELIVERY BY ROCKET—The first mail delivery in California by rocket ended in a headache for all concerned. Here eight rockets, loaded with 4,200 letters, zoom into the air at a 400-mile-an-hour clip, over Searles Dry Lake in the Mojave desert. The rocket-letter-carrier landed some miles away, at Trona, Calif. After rushing the letters to the Trona post-office collectors found that Postmaster John MacPherson refused to cancel the stamps, because the sticker of the society sponsoring the project, also appeared on the envelope. The postmaster said that the sticker resembled the U.S. stamp, and therefore it would be illegal to clear the mail.

Hof, Germany's Hot Corner As Allies Try Manoeuvring

HOF, Germany, April 1.—(AP).—This eastern border area is Germany's "hot corner" in the cold war.

Outwardly Hof is just an ordinary United States zone textile city of 68,000 population. But it has an air of tension.

It is six miles from the Russian zone border. It is roughly the same distance from the Czech frontier.

Refugees of varied nationalities pass through the city in all directions—some legally, some not.

They carry stories, often exaggerated, of near-by troop movements. They voice suspicions that spies are in their midst.

The rumors sweep the city like chill winds.

Hof was one of the few German cities to escape damage in the Second Great War. Its inhabitants doubt that they would fare so well in another conflict. The atmosphere is uneasy.

Hof broke into the news recently as the collecting place for hundreds of Czechs who fled their new Communist government.

But that is only one problem facing Hof.

Its biggest influx of refugees is from the Russian zone.

"We pick up about 150 to 175 of them a day," said a refugee worker. "This is probably only about 20 per cent. of those who actually come across."

But even this number represents a sharp upturn in recent weeks. No specific reason is apparent.

"Ask a thousand of them and you get a thousand answers," the refugee worker said. "Some don't like Communists. Some think they will get better food over here. Some want to see relatives over this way. Some are smugglers and black marketeers and so on.

Some rumors tell of 5,000 Russian troops "10 minutes away" on the Soviet zone border. Others expand on this with reports the Russians intend to snatch Czech refugees gathered here.

Find 2 Bodies Near Wreckage

KINGSTON, N.Y., April 1. — (AP). —Search crews, slogging through mud and dense woodlands, today converged on the wreckage of a twin-engine plane that crashed last night on snow-capped Moonhaw Mountain, killing at least two persons.

The plane, believed to be a United States Air Force medium bomber, smashed into the mountainside shortly after 8 p.m. EST.

Early today, the county sheriff's office reported that six civilian searchers who reached the isolated crash scene several hours after the accident had discovered two bodies. A third body was believed to be inside the still-smouldering wreckage.

Positive ownership of the plane was not established immediately, but Air Force officials at nearby Stewart Field last night reported a B-25 bomber many hours overdue on a routine training flight. It carried three men.

Uranium Ore Discovered At Flin Flon

THE PAS, Man., April 1—Uranium ore, major means of producing atomic energy, has been discovered within 30 miles of Flin Flon, Man., on about 18 claims held jointly by George Branscombe and John McLelland of Flin Flon, it was reported today.

The claims were staked two years ago by Mr. Branscombe, a veteran prospector now employed by Hudson Bay Mining and Smelting Company. The property lies just inside the Saskatchewan border on what is mapped as Judick Lake, south of Wildnest Lake.

Last summer, two representatives of the National Research Council, Ottawa, checked the discovery with a Geiger counter, a device for ascertaining the presence of radioactive materials.

OTTAWA, March 31—(CP)— An official of the Atomic Energy Control Board said today none of the recent reports of new uranium finds in Canada had added anything to locations the government already knew of and had reported upon.

He was commenting on a dispatch from The Pas, Man., saying uranium, basic ingredient of atomic energy, had been discovered near Flin Flon, Man.

The official said he had not heard of any such discovery.

"Let's hope there's something in it," he added.

Of the various reports that had come in since it became known three years ago that uranium was vital to atomic power none had added to the government's knowledge. All of them had already been covered in published reports.

$135 Millions Yearly Lost In Wages Through Sickness

TORONTO, April 1.—The cost of sickness in lost wages alone is $135 million yearly in Canada, and the cost to employers in loss of production is one and a half times this amount, Dr. Gordon Bates, general director of the Health League of Canada, told the Toronto Optimists yesterday.

"In Canada there are 50,000 people absent from their work in industry every day," Dr. Bates said. "Poverty is so often the result of sickness, and sickness could so often be prevented."

Dr. Bates stressed the invaluable work of service clubs in promoting health education, and said clubs in this field outside of Ontario should do all in their power to bring about legislation for compulsory pasteurization of milk.

"Ontario is the only province with compulsory pasteurization of milk," the health league director said. "Yet we know that tuberculosis of the spine is caused through bacteria in milk. Why do our provincial governments take no steps to prevent the filling of our hospitals and clinics with children? For one thing, the rural sections do not want pasteurization, and this develops into a political issue. It is the job of service clubs outside of Ontario to see that we have legislation on this matter, whether we like it or not."

Dr. Bates referred to the still serious problem of venereal disease, and commented on the need for youth education in this field.

"Since the advent of penicillin and other quick remedies, the venereal disease rate has gone up alarmingly," Dr. Bates told his audience. "One man who attended my clinic had gonorrhoea 10 times in one year.

"In 1916, 12.58 per cent of all patients in Torontot General Hospital had a positive Wassermann," the speaker continued. "Today the figure is 1.5 per cent. In Montreal General Hospital in 1916 the figure was 26 per cent. It is much less today, but still higher than in the General Hospital here."

Not sufficient attention is paid to nutrition in the health schedule, in the opinion of Dr. Bates. Milk should be consumed every day, and liver should be eaten at least once a week. Dr. Bates looked around the luncheon table and added: "And any brown bread is better than any white bread."

5,000 U.S. Troops In Trieste Will Parade

TRIESTE, April 1—(AP)—Maj.-Gen. Bryant E. Moore announced today all 5,000 United States troops in Trieste will parade here April 6 in full field equipment to celebrate Army Day.

"This might be considered as a show of force," Moore said at a press conference. "Actually the intent is to make the young soldier conscious of his position and of the traditions of the army—to let him show himself off in all his gear."

"It should make a fairly impressive parade and we think that it will have indirectly a salutory effect in allaying and minimizing any fears that might be evidencing themselves among the population," said Gen. Moore. "Also it should contribute to maintenance of law and order."

The gist of the situation in Trieste, he said, is that "we have strikes and dissensions here; Communists do attempt to balk our efforts; we are attacked and called names and have our best intentions purposely misinterpreted, but to my mind at the moment there is no question of external aggression."

Senator Worried Over Possible Negro Strike

WASHINGTON, April 1. — (AP).— Senator Wayne Morse (Rep.-Ore.) voiced deep concern today over a threat by two negro leaders to call millions of their race to a sit-down strike against universal military training and the draft.

Their purpose, the negroes said, is to force an end to segregation and racial discrimbination by the armed forces.

They testified yesterday before the Senate Armed Service committee. It is hearing those for and against President Truman's call for a limited draft revival and universal military training to back up the United States' stop-Russia policy.

Morse told Randolph such a 'civil disobedience" campaign would lead to charges of treason. But Randolph replied that he and other negroes "are willing to pay the price" in an effort to force the issue of civil rights.

Wants Progress

Morse said he feels that Congress should make some definite progress in passing civil rights legislation. It was an anti-race discrimination message from President Truman earlier this year that caused southern Democrats to denounce him.

While questioning Randolph, Morse asked whether he meant to say he will tell Negroes "do not shoulder arms in protection of your country."

"That is correct," said Randolph. "I would be doing my country a great service. If it does not develop the democratic processes at home, then it is not the type of country worth fighting for."

Principal's Body Found In River

PIERREVILLE, Que., April 1—(CP). — The three-month old mystery surrounding the sudden disappearance of Rev. Dr. A. H. McReer, principal and vice-chancellor of Bishop's University at Lennoxville, Que., was solved last night when his body was found floating down the St. Francis river here.

Dr. McGreer had been missing since Dec. 10 when he was last seen near the college, at Lennoxville, Que., more than 75 miles up stream from Pierreville, a community located near the confluence of the St. Francis and the St. Lawrence rivers.

Provincial police said that if the body had not been spotted at Pierreville it may have never been found as the St. Lawrence would probably have carried it down to the gulf or the Atlantic.

While it was not known whether a full coroner's inquest and an autopsy would be held, police said that the death of Dr. McGreer had apparently been caused by drowning as the body bore no visible marks of violence.

Dr. McGreer disappeared a few days after he suffered a serious head injury in a fall on the icy college campus.

HUMBLE BEGINNING

John D. Rockefeller, who made millions out of oil, started as an assistant book-keeper in a commission house.

AT NEW YORK'S "SOCK" EXCHANGE—The atmosphere of finance that pervades Wall Street in New York was tinged with the air of battle when pickets of the striking financial employees borrowed the Gandhi technique and tried passive resistance. Lying on the sidewalk across the entrance of the stock exchange, the pickets were dispersed only after police brought their nightsticks into play. Some pickets fought back and were arrested. Others were nursing lumps and bruises.

New Compulsory Hospital Plan Introduced In British Columbia

VICTORIA, April 1 —(CP)— A compulsory contributory hospital insurance plan will be established by the British Columbia

Premier Byron Johnson announced today that legislation for the plan will be introduced at the present session of the legislature.

Mr. Johnson, while he did not announce full details, said the provincial government will take over the amusement tax field when it is vacated by the Dominion. Receipts from this source will be earmarked for the hospital scheme.

The government will contract with hospitals to supply ward and diagnostic services and will continue to provide services for all recognized social indigents.

The plan calls for maximum family payments of $33 a year, and the only persons exempt will be those already covered by comparable hospital insurance. Payments for single persons are expected to be based on a $1.25-a-month fee.

Cost of the project will be covered by a $2,000,000 stabilization fund, plus provincial and municipal grants to hospitals of 70 cents a day for patients.

"The scheme to be instituted will bring hospital care within the financial reach of every one," said Mr. Johnson. "It is hoped as the plan is put into practical operation, other improvements may be made."

British Columbia will be the second province to have compulsory hospital care. Saskatchewan embarked on a similar plan last year. Legislation has also been approved in Alberta for a hospital and medical care plan, the latter including incorporation of a company to supply medical and surgical care.

British Columbia hospitals had deficits of $1,000,00 last year, and to aid the institutions the government contributed $500000.

The plan would aid the burden of financing hospitals, but bed supply may be aggravated.

"We won't be able to take care of an increased demand," said Dr. R. A. Seymour, medical head of General Hospital in Vancouver. At present, patients are accepted on an "emergency merit" system, the more serious patients getting first call.

Lack Of Cooperation Delays Fund Drive

OTTAWA, April 1 — (CP). — Lack of co-operation on the part of capital and management is hindering the Canadian Appeal for Children in its present campaign, C. E. Pickering, chairman of the campaign committee, said in an interview today.

Now at the half-way mark in its drive to raise $10,000,000 to provide relief for Europe's destitute children, the campaign has been stretched two months beyond the original closing date.

"In spirit, the school children have made the best showing, with farmers and co-operatives next in line," said Mr. Pickering. "Labor has displayed a great willingness to co-operate, but capital and management, with some few exceptions, have failed to grasp the true picture and the real needs—for that reason the campaign is being continued until the end of April."

School children have contributed more than $50,000 through the class-room charts, said Mr. Pickering. By the time all have been returned the school figure will be considerably higher.

Suspend Licenses

TORONTO, April 1 (CP). — The Ontario Department of Highways has suspended the ownership and operator's licenses of Edward Guiler, whose car they believed was involved in the attempted robbery Monday night of the Toronto Florists Co-operative, Ltd., in which one robber was shot and two others wounded.

Boy Who Lost Arm, Leg Leaving City

Central School will lose one of its most popular pupils on Sunday when Stanley Peryer, 10, Bethune Street, leaves with his younger brother and his mother to join his father Band Sergeant Stanley Peryer at Camp Shilo, Manitoba.

Five years ago Stanley fell under the wheels of a train and lost his right arm and right leg. For a young, active boy this was a crushing handicap. But through courage and the willingness to try he succeeded in playing with his chums on an equal footing, including those games requiring physical skill.

A talented pupil, he ranks at the top of his class in public school and in Sunday school. Among his friends he is known as a genial playmate, adept at the game of cowboys and Indians. He is also an active member of Trinity Boy Scouts.

Son of Band Sergeant Peryer, he is the grandson of W. H. Peryer, Bethune Street, veteran Peterborough bandmaster, and also of Sheldon Huffman, Hunter Street, West.

The family will live at Camp Shilo where Band Sergeant Peryer is stationed with the Royal School of Artillery.

Judge Denies Move To Change Milk Prices

TORONTO, April 1.—An effort by the Ontario Milk Powder Manufacturers' Association to set aside milk prices between producers and manufacturers, fixed by a board of arbitration, failed yesterday at Osgoode Hall. Price of butter was a factor in the motion to quash the award which was denied by Mr. Justtice R. W. Treleaven.

Joseph Sedgwick, counsel for the manufacturers, pointed out at the hearing that a sliding scale of milk prices was desirable since, if butter prices fell, manufacturers would lose under the fixed prices of $3.05 for 2.5 per cent cent milk. It was explained that butterfat milk and $3 for 3 per makers of powdered milk removed the butter fat for re-sale before processing.

Under Ontario Milk Board regulations, producers and manufacturers may enter into a collective bargaining agreement to set prices. This had failed, however, and a board of arbitration was set up composed of Judge A. B. Currey, chairman; Frederick Way, representing the producers, and F. H. Whitcombe, representing the evaporated and powdered milk manufacturers.

Upholding the board's ruling on prices, Mr. Justice Treleaven said: "If the present applicants are not satisfied with the award, their proper procedure is to take the steps provided for collective bargaining, and, if these fail, for a new arbitration."

Eric H. Silk, who represented the Provincial Government, explained last night that an attempt now must be made again to arrange for collective bargaining before a new board of arbitration could be asked for. Meantime milk prices set in January stand.

Lack Of Judgment Blamed For Accident

ISLINGTON, April 1—Lack of judgment in speed and distance on the part of Fred Winter, 42, of Streetsville, caused the death of his mother in a motor car accident, a coroner's jury decided last night.

The inquest concerned the death of Mrs. Florence Winter, 75, who was killed when the car in which she was riding rammed the rear of another auto on the Queen Elizabeth Way, March 25.

Winters pulled out to pass a car, and as he did so, a truck went by him. The motorist pulled back into line and crashed the rear of the car ahead.

Coroner Dr. W. W. Fenton presided.

GILDING THE COTTON—A cotton of "changeable" color . . . violet and wine threads interwoven . . . is chosen to make this summer evening frock. Those horizontal stripes are a third thread, metallic gilt lurex which will not tarnish nor crack. The effect is handsome without being completely formal, and well tuned to summertime doings. The bodice top is draped, and the capelet shown is actually an apron for the skirt, adaptable in the manner photographed.

Of Interest to Women

Suit From 51-year-old Coat Tops Montreal Hit Parade

MONTREAL, April 1 — (CP). —Nobody looked nattier in Montreal's Easter Parade than Jonny Macdonald of Winnipeg in her fetching tweed suit made from a topcoat that belonged to her husband's grandmother.

The coat was bought in Paris 51 years ago. Jonny, who "started on dolls' dresses" and now designs all her own clothes, came acros the coat two weeks before Easter.

It was "too well woven to wear out and too beautifully tailored to discard." She didn't need to touch the shoulders and lapels, and the lining provided a matching blouse.

The skirt is sheath-like with built-in pockets. It is topped by a clever little bolero with detail sleeves. The silk blouse has a round collar and is finished with a gold-coin choker.

Jonny, who married Jerry Macdonald in Montreal two years ago, has this to say of Montreal women:

"Women in this city are tremendously clothes-conscious and wear clothes well. They want individual detail and unusual hand touches, too."

Legislature Verbiage Irks Woman Writer in B.C. House

VICTORIA, BC, April 1 — (CP)—An advocate of clear, concise writing during her long newspaper career, Nancy Hodges (MLA-Victoria) believes much could be done to clarify the wording of legislative measures.

In her column in the Victoria Times, One Woman's Day, she says, in part:

"...We legislators will soon be floundering in another welter of words. I refer not to the speeches of my fellow-members, but to the legislation which will be presented for our consideration. And even after several sessions, I still find one thing puzzling.

"That is, why it should be necessary for the legal luminaries who draw up our statutes to clothe their intentions in such a mystifying mass of verbiage.

"...The people who compromise authority and who talk plain English in their everyday business, when it cmoes to legislation...have developed a language nearly as remote from their normal talk as Danish is from Dutch.

"Even in those cases where the subject matter is of the simplest character, the bill itself will be framed in such a spate of long unusual words, involved sentences and interdependent clauses that the meaning and intent are obscured.

"It isn't only in the local House that legislation finds members almost drowning in their efforts to dive below the surge of words and find some shred of meaning.

"It seems to be general. At Ottawa a few days ago, Finance Minister Abbott declared his intention of having the new income tax bill written in plain, simple language, rather than legal jargon.

"And it's about time, too!..."

Wray-Douglas Nuptials In Toronto Church

In St. Clair United Church, Toronto, Thursday, March 25, the wedding of John Clifford Wray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. Wray of Peterborough, to Charlottee Jean, daughter of Mrs. Douglas and the late Mr. G. A. Douglas of Toronto, was solemnized. A profusion of spring flowers decorated the altar at which Rev. Kewley performed the ceremony. Miss Christine Gay sang "The Lord's Prayer" before the bride entered, and "Through the Years" during the signing of the register. Simion Joyce was at the organ.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Dr. A. S. Dunn of Orillia. She wore a street-length dress of royal wedding blue silk with lace yoke and trim on the points of a deep overskirt. Her hat was a wide-brimmed pink straw with blue flowers and she carried an arm bouquet of pink roses with sweet peas and hyacinths. The bridesmaid was her sister, Miss Elizabeth Douglas who was frocked in orchid pink silk, ballerina style, and wore a small blue hat with matching flowers and carried a posy of forget-me-nots, pink roses and carnations.

The reception was held at the bride's home, 1 Inglewood, and the couple left later on a trip to Hamilton, Niagara Falls and Peterborough. For travelling the bride wore grey with plaid silk hat in grey and brown and brown accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Wray will live at 108 Gilmour St., Toronto.

DUSTY PINK TEAGOWN—Beautiful teagown with flowing lines, and utter simplicity of cut and detail, is this dusty pink model. The yoke, slightly off-shoulder, is embroidered with matching pink bugle beads; the full sleeves are gathered to it at the top, to cuffs at the wrist. The gown's fullness is controlled by a narrow self-sash.

Famous S. African Stones To Be Seen at British Fair

By JUNE PAINBRIDGE

LONDON, April 1— (AP). — The story of diamonds will be told in a $4,000,000 exhibition displayed at the De Beers diamonds stand at this year's British Industries Fair opening here in May.

Many examples of the finished product will be shown to the public for the first time, while the various stages through which it passes from unsorted output of one working shift at the Wesselton mine, Kimberley, South Africa, to the delicate processes of cutting and polishing will be demonstrated by working models.

Chief among the exhibits of the finished products will be some of Princess Elizabeth diamond jewelry. These will include the diamond necklace made from the stones presented to her by the Government of the Union of South Africa during the royal tour of South Africa last year. The necklace, mounted in a modern setting by the crown jewellers, consists of 21 graded brilliant diamonds interspersed by 44 brilliants and 22 baguettes.

The Southern Rhodesia flame lily brooch, presented to the Princess on her 21st birthday by subscriptions of the children of Southern Rhodesia and referred to by her as her "favorite brooch" will also be on show.

A pendant, fashioned from the brilliant diamond presented to the princess by De Beers Consolidated Mines will also be shown.

Another diamond never previously exhibited will be the 770-carat Woyie River stone, the third largest uncut diamond in the world. This stone is described as "unquestionably the largest ever recovered from an alluvial source" (it was found by the Sierre Leone selection trust in the gravel of the Woyie River, Sierre Leone, in January, 1945) and "of magnificent color and quality.

Other Famous Stones

The "Cullinan" of 3,106 carats, and the "Excelsior" of 995.2 carats are the only bigger stones ever found.

Another exhibit new to the public will be an unique collection of cut colored stones—pink, brown, orange, green, steel blue and deep yellow.

There will also be a collection of freak diamonds of strange shapes, which look as though they had been cut like that but in reality are in their natural condition, and the only diamond ever found in a gold nugget — a geological oddity which scientists have never been able to explain.

The total weight of diamonds produced on one shift at the Wesselton mines is about 1,400 carats, or rather less than 10 ounces, of which most are suitable for only industrial use — an indication of the very small percentage of gem stones normally produced.

The story of the diamond from earth to tiara will begin with the working model of a mine, originally built for Cecil Rhodes and kept in his cottage at Rondelbosch in the Cape. Another exhibit will be the working-model of a diamond-cutting factory which was specially built to demonstrate the processes to the King and Queen during last year's tour, and finally there will be large-scale models to show in detail how the cut diamond is evolved from the rough stone, a display of many everyday uses for industrial diamonds and two four-ton diamond safes.

MANY INSTRUMENTS

The ideal festival orchestra has been said to include 197 individual instruments, among them 60 violins and 20 violas.

BUYS AND WHYS BY Barbara Brent
A weekly shopping and information service for today's women

MONTREAL, April 1st—We Canadians ought to be the most energetic people on earth, because right here in Canada we grow one of the best energy-producing foods known—wheat. Your energy comes from the burning up of fuel in your body. Food supplies that fuel. Whole wheat is one of the finest and tastiest fuel foods. And Kellogg's All-Wheat is whole wheat in its most delicious form! It's flaked, toasted, ready-to-eat and enjoy! Kellogg's All-Wheat literally gives you energy to burn! One bowlful, with milk and sugar, gives you one-tenth of the nourishment you need in one day! Get Kellogg's All-Wheat at your grocer's and enjoy the wonderful feeling that comes with having energy to burn!

Here's A "Party Line" that never fails . . . good food your guests will rave about! It's a very important part of entertaining! So make a note of this supper-time attraction that's deliciously different: "Jelly Delights" made with E. D. Smith's pure grape jelly. Just slice bread thin, cut in fancy shapes, toast on one side, then edge the other with cream cheese and drop in a teaspoonful of grape jelly. But be sure it's E. D. Smith's, the pure grape jelly that's just loaded with the tempting flavorfulness of juicy ripe Niagara Concords. And remember that all E. D. Smith's pure jams and jellies are famous for fruit-full flavor. That's because there's 60% more fruit in every jar. And that means a bonus in value as well as in eating enjoyment!

Give Your Spring Spirits a lift with the lovely Vinylite Plastic shoes I see everywhere these days! Newsmaking newcomers to the field of fashion . . . they're yours in colours lovely as Spring flowers, these Vinylite Plastic shoes formed and molded in fashion-wise ways to fit! Choose yours in reptile-grained or smoothly sleek and shining "patent" Vinylite Plastics. Feather-light they are, yet made to stand much wear and tear! Clean them with a damp cloth . . . and when you're buying, be sure to look for the VINYLITE Plastics trademark that lets you know that the material in your shoes has been tested and approved by "The Better Fabrics Testing Bureau".

I Like to have "fun" with desserts . . . dream up new and wonderful concoctions with Crown Brand Corn Syrup! Just try it and see how your family gobbles up pastries and pies and puddings that have that Crown Brand good taste! Then, too, you can use Crown Brand as a sandwich spread . . . spread it generously for Junior — he'll always want more! And used as a milk-modifier in the bottle feeding of babies —it supplies quick food energy so very important to the sturdy growth of very young children. So why not make yours a "CROWN BRAND" family for good health this Spring?

A Special Treat For Baby is his bowlful of "Cream of Wheat" . . . and so good for him, too! Just five minutes of boiling makes 5 Minute "Cream of Wheat" completely digestible—ready for baby to eat. It's good, too, for all three "T's" . . . toddlers, tots and teen-agers—for it's brimful of food-energy and bloodbuilding Iron—and provides Calcium and Phosphorus for diets deficient in these elements. Your youngsters will love "Cream of Wheat" topped with a sprinkle of maple or brown sugar or a heaping tablespoon of pureed apricots. Take my tip and make a "family" habit of "CREAM OF WHEAT" . . . that extra-wonderful flavor will make it a favorite with everyone!

You'll Have a dream-come-true wardrobe for Spring when you sew it at home with nylon sewing thread by Corticelli! Your favourite fashions come to life when you "sew your own" . . . and they're yours for longer, more beautiful wearing when you "make sure" of the seams with this extra-strong thread! You see, Corticelli Nylon Thread is more elastic than other types of sewing thread . . . it gives a stronger, more durable seam that withstands the stretch and strain of wear. Choose yours in colours to match your fabrics . . . ask for CORTICELLI Nylon Sewing Thread!

Sewing Tip:—It's easy to thread a needle when you draw the end of the thread lightly over a little beeswax or cake soap.

Do You Find that some days are so busy the hands of your kitchen clock seem to whirl like a merry-go-round? On days like this it's a good idea to know a few time-saving tricks . . . and here's one you'll want to take particular note of: A "well-organized" homemaker I know saves herself time—trouble—extra work by keeping her drains fast-running with Gillett's Drain Cleaner. She says "lazy" drains slow her up . . . but just two tablespoons a week of Gillett's Drain Cleaner keep her drains clear and free from clogging sediment. When it's as simple as this—why let sluggish drains steal precious minutes? Ask your grocer to-morrow for GILLETT'S DRAIN CLEANER—then make a time-saving habit of it!

Almost Time to put your winter clothes away . . . high time to think about how to protect them from moths! I've discovered just the thing to settle the moth problem once and for all . . . it's Sapho! Mr. Moth doesn't like it at all . . . and neither do any of the other insect pests that sometimes make home-life miserable! Sapho was the first liquid spray to be used against flies, moths and bugs. To-day it's one of the most reliable forms of DDT for general home use. It leaves clothes and furniture unstained . . . the DDT crystals can be easily brushed away. Sapho is available across Canada in drugstores and department stores . . . ask for SAPHO 5% DDT with the hand sprayer or for SAPHO 10% DDT Pest Dust.

I Stole This straight from a young mother's baby album . . . a timely tip when Junior's feeding time comes round! When your doctor suggests adding a little finely strained food to Junior's menu — remember, Heinz Strained Foods are "made-to-order" for baby's health and happiness! You see, Heinz Strained Baby and Junior Foods are cooked scientifically to preserve vitamins and minerals in high degree—then they're vacuum-packed to seal in all their wholesome goodness. Ask your grocer tomorrow for HEINZ STRAINED FOODS . . . the best is none too good for baby!

Very Personally Yours is this new "spray way" to feminine daintiness! With Sno-Mist, of course . . . for this fine powder deodorant is the only deodorant with an atomizer top! So quick . . . so very, very neat—no wonder fastidious women everywhere have made Sno-Mist their personal buyword! Discover for yourself all the wonderful ways it can give that "extra" protection you sometimes need. It's harmless to clothing so you can spray it on after you've dressed . . . and it clings like a fine face powder—protecting you from perspiration-gremlins—under your arms—under your girdle . . . right to the tips of your toes! Ask for it at your favourite drug counter . . . SNO-MIST Powder Spray Deodorant.

How True It Is —and how wonderful for us!—that modern chemistry has done so much to bring new beauty into a woman's life! It's responsible for lovely, new fabrics such as celanese, nylon and all the acetate rayons. And modern chemistry is responsible, too, for All-fabric Tintex Tints and Dyes . . . the famous household dyes that are so effective with every fabric, whether natural or man-made! You'll find that All-fabric Tintex eliminates all worry and guess-work from home dyeing and it comes in an amazing variety of fashion-wise colors. Ask for All-fabric TINTEX tomorrow at your drug, department or variety store and follow the directions on the package for guaranteed good results!

Follow this "Golden Shopping Rule" for real shopping satisfaction . . . look for the identifying label—the brand name that means true quality. When I shop for chocolate or cocoa—the name for me is always Baker's. You see, Baker's Cocoa is pure cocoa with not a thing added to alter that deep-down, chocolate richness. Ask your grocer for a package tomorrow . . . then follow the instructions on the label for the best cup of cocoa you've tasted in many a moon! And you'll find that recipes calling for cocoa taste better when you use BAKER'S! There's a marvelous recipe for cocoa syrup on the Baker's Cocoa label . . . just try it!

The Terrified Screams of a little girl startled 15-year-old Alan Laking into jamming on the brakes of his bicycle to investigate. Seeing him, the girl screamed again . . . "Kenneth's fallen in the well . . . he's in the well!" Racing to the scene, Alan found that a small boy of four had indeed fallen down the 16 foot well and was lying, unconscious, in 8 feet of water at the bottom. Alan Laking acted quickly. Gripping the side walls, he let himself down into the water, dove for the little boy and brought his head above the surface. Then he tred water, holding the little boy, until help came and a ladder was lowered to them. Thanks to Alan's quick-thinking courage—the youngster recovered with artificial respiration. As a tribute to his youthful bravery . . . the DOW AWARD, including a $100 Canada Savings Bond, is being presented to Alan Laking of Kearney, Ontario. The DOW AWARD, presented from time to time to a Canadian hero or heroine for outstanding bravery, is sponsored by DOW BREWERY in Montreal.

Mark St. CGIT Entertains At Easter Tea and Bazaar

A delightful tea of the Easter season was held Wednesday afternoon in the parlors of Mark St. United Church, where arrangements were carried out by the CGIT group and proceeds will go toward their summer camp expenses. Unpleasant weather marred the occasion somewhat but guests were rewarded with the scent and color of lovely spring flowers that decorated the tea room. Greenery of ferns was background for which a large basket of pink and yellow snapdragon on which centred the floor and the decorative bow and streams were in the Easter colors, mauve and yellow, that were also used for doilies on the small serving tables under crystal bud vases that held pink tulips.

A gay cloth printed with traditional Easter symbols was on the tea table where Mrs. G. Eason, Mrs. Jean Partridge and Mrs. C. Akers presided during the afternoon. A silver basket in the centre held pink snapdragon and tulips, and yellow candles on either side were in silver holders.

Rings and Vows Exchanged In Berthelot-Healey Union

A lovely wedding was solemnized Wednesday morning at Immaculate Conception Church when Cecilia Elizabeth Healey became the bride of Paul Adlord Berthelot in a double ring ceremony performed by Rev. Father Killen. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Healey of Peterborough, and the groom's parents are Mayor Louis Berthelot and Mrs. Berthelot of Blind River. Easter lilies, snapdragon and carnations formed a beautiful spring-time setting for the event. Traditional wedding music was played by Mrs. C. O'Donnell and Mrs. D. Campanaro sang "Ave Maria" and "Panis Angelicus" during the signing of the register.

Eggshell satin fashioned the bridal gown and the yoke insert was of fine net. The full skirt fell in a graceful train beneath a gathered bustle, and her veil of embroidered net formed a full-length train, caught to her head by a halo of seed pearls with calla lilies and the seasonal flowers were combined with fern in her bouquet. Mr. Healey gave his daughter in marriage.

The bride's sister, Miss Lois Healey, was her only attendant. She was frocked in pink sheer with full skirt and peplum on a fitted bodice with high neckline. A shirred ruffle formed a yoke and cap sleeves, and she wore elbow-length mittens of the same material. Her halo headdress was of pnik delight roses. Mr. Alex Berthelot attended his brother. Ushers were Gerry Healey, brother of the bride and Armand LaPlante.

For the reception afterward, held at Crebar's Palace, Mrs. Healey had chosen a gown of turquoise crepe with draped front and wore black accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses and sweet peas. Mrs. Berthelot was attired in a draped model of grey crepe with flower-trimmed black straw hat and her shoulder bouquet was the same.

The bride's travelling ensemble was a beige ballerina suit with black accessories and her shortie topcoat was also black. When leaving on a wedding trip to Ottawa and Montreal she wore a corsage of hybrid roses.

Those present were Mesdames T. Wynn, F. Hynes, P. Hilliard, P. Harris, B. Pond, F. Gerrard, E. O'Rourke, J. Tobin, E. Hynes, J. Collins, Jim Tobin, U. Kubica, J. Phelan, A. Smethurst, R. Gordon, Misses Patsy Cupola, Bernie Meacher, Helen Kubica, Mary Kubica and Helen Wynn.

Mabel M. Brown Marries Stanley E. Tuff in Toronto

Kingsway-Lambton United Church, Toronto, was the setting of a pretty wedding on Wednesday for the marriage of Mabel Morison, only daughter of Mrs. Lilian and the late Andrew Brown of Peterborough, to Stanley Edward, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward Tuff of Ashford, Kent.

Given in marriage by her mother, the bride wore a gown of bride's blue imported Swiss mesh, fashioned with a short train. Her matching poke bonnet was filled in with lily of the valley and she carried a nosegay of pale pink roses and lily of the valley.

She was attended by Miss Winnifred Cadd of Peterborough, frocked in delphinium blue with matching accessories and carrying a nosegay of pink roses and forget-me-nots. The groomsman was Mr. Frank E. Burroughes of Toronto. Ushers were Mr. Grant Burroughes and Mr. John Hasler.

After the ceremony a reception was held at 23 Princeton Road, Toronto, where the bride's mother received in a gown of beige crepe with matching beige and pink accessories. Mrs. Frank E. Burroughes received for the groom in a costume of navy blue with navy and white accessories.

Following the wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Tuff will reside at 701 George St., Peterborough.

Teresa Hynes Weds Paul Kubica

On Easter Monday in St. Peter's Cathedral, Mary Teresa Hynes was united in marriage to Vincent Paul Kubica by Rev. J. G. Kay. The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Emma Hynes and late Patrick Hynes, and the groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Urban Kubica, all of Peterborough. Baskets of tulips and lilies graced the altar table and wedding music was by Mrs. Robert Aman. Mrs. D. Campanaro sang "Ave Maria" during the signing of the register.

Queen's blue imported bengaline fashioned the bride's gown made with sweetheart neckline and puff sleeves on the fitted bodice and full skirt with bustle back. The same material was used for the halo headdress trimmed with tiny forget-me-nots, which held her finger-tip veil of blue net, and she carried a ring bouquet of briarcliffe roses. Mr. Maurice Hynes gave his sister in marriage.

Miss Mary Kubica, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid, frocked in pink moire with net yoke insert, in the fitted bodice which topped a full skirt. She had a halo hat and mittens to match and carried a small cascade of Talisman roses. The groom was attended by Mr. Bert Hynes, brother of the bride, and the ushers were Edward and Frank Hynes.

A reception was held at Hooper's palm rooms where the bride's mother received, wearing black crepe dress and accessories to match, assisted by the groom's mother attired in flowered silk jersey with black accessories. Each wore a corsage of Briarcliffe roses.

When leaving on their wedding trip to Toronto, Niagara Falls and St. Catharines, the bride was wearing a grey ensemble with red accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Kubica will live in 482 Wellington St.

Men Also Have A Duty In Home Responsibilities

Dorothy Dix

REAMS OF ADVICE are given to women about how to make a happy home. The sole responsibility for keeping the sun shining on the hearthstone is laid upon the wife, and when anything goes wrong and the domestic machinery slips a cog and ceases to function without a hitch, she is the one who is blamed for it.

In season and out of season, wives are urged to be diligent in making their families comfortable; to keep themselves young and pretty; to be tactful in dealing with their husbands; to be gay and bright and chatty and entertaining in order to make their homes attractive to their husbands and children.

So solid is the entire feminine sex on the idea that the welfare of the family is in the wife's and mother's hands that millions of women work themselves to skin and bones trying to put in cally enough, in spite of all their strenuous efforts, their homes are never the bits of Heaven they long and strive for unless they are presided over by domestically minded men.

For confirmation of this, look about among your acquaintances and you will find that every unusually successful home has at the head of it a husband and father who is affectionate and kindly and understanding, and who feels that it is just as much up to him to help make his wife and children happy as it is to feed and clothe them. He is not one of the men who consider that their whole responsibility toward their homes consists in paying bills.

Man's Co-operation

He knows that no woman, no matter how much of a magician she is, can make a home pleasant and cheerful if there is a grouch around who never does anything but knock everything she does. He knows that if a man wants his wife to keep on her tiptoes and to think it worthwhile to work and worry making him a comfortable home and saving his money, he has to do something to make her glad she married him, and that if he wants to keep the children at home and off the streets, he has to offer some counter attraction to the night club and the roadhouse.

Therefore, he pals up with his wife and children. He enters into their hopes and plans. He talks things over with them and makes as much effort to entertain and amuse them as he would strangers whom he wished to please.

Whenever you find a woman who doesn't have to think twice before she tells her husband anything for fear of starting something; whenever you find children who think Dad is the supreme authority on every topic in the universe, and who consider it a treat to go out with him anywhere, there you will find a happy home.

And only there will you find a happy home, for no woman can make one when she has to work against the adverse influence of a man who considers that his exercise all the little tyrannies home is a place where he can and vent all the temper and irritability that he has to suppress in the outside world.

So it is well for men to realize that if they want happy homes they must quit passing the buck to their wives and lend a hand themselves. It is a job that no woman can pull off alone and unaided.

Second Son

The next question was what had become of him. His family apparently had been informed 84 years ago that he had died at Anstruther. In that early period of the settlement of the northern townships it was likely that cemeteries were few and far between. The fact that he was known in the Apsley district as Captain Bloss suggested that he might have been buried in the old cemetery at Lakefield or in Peterborough.

A telephone call to the office of the Little Lake Cemetery disclosed an old record of the burial in July, 1864, of a man whose name was similar to that of Lynch-Blosse. He was further identified as having been born in Ireland.

The cemetery record is briefly: "Francis Bloss Lynch; son of F. B. Lynch; 33; born in Ireland; died in Burleigh July, 1864."

Further identification of Francis Lynch-Blosse in his Peterborough background was obtained today from the Weekly Review of Friday, July 29, 1864. It was an obituary notice: "Capt. Blosse —We regret to learn that this gentleman, who has been settled in the township of Anstruther for a couple of years, died suddenly at Stewart's Hotel, in that township, Tuesday morning the 26th inst. He was the son of Sir Francis Lynch-Blosse, Balle Castle, County Mayo, Ireland. His remains were interred in the Little Lake cemetery yesterday afternoon (July 28). The funeral service was read in St. John's church by the rector."

Rev. C. A. G. Spence of Apsley, contributed the information today the municipal records showed that Capt. Lynch Blosse located on lot 37, concession 2, Anstruther, and began farming with a team of oxen. Rev. Mr. Spence learned from Mr. Duncan Brown of Apsley that Lynch-Blosse had been a hard drinker, but reformed and lived soberly while farming. Apparently he had little money when he came out to Canada, and was one of a group of men who settled upon the Apsley road in the early sixties.

Mr. Brown recalls the circumstances preceding the death of Lynch-Blosse. He lost an ox while crossing a lake in that district. On his way home he called at an hotel in Apsley, and asked the lady for ginger tea. He stayed there over night and died suddenly the next morning.

Nothing in the newspaper account and the community memory of the man suggest that he had married. The second son of the Irish baronet died at Apsley and was buried in Peterborough. The passage of time dimmed his family's records of him to the extent that they had no exact trace of his later years and also the place of his death and burial.

Apparently the claims of Robert Cecil Lynch-Blosse to the old title is clear and valid.

Happy, healthy faces at the table enjoying cooking and baking with the extra flavour

Baking with that special extra flavour that's tops with every member of the family is more than just a matter of chance. Quality ingredients must take first place in a wise homemaker's recipes for, aside from their health value, they do away with costly kitchen failures.

That is why Canadian housewives prefer Crown Brand Corn Syrup—famous for its quality and delicious flavour for nearly fifty years.

Crown Brand Syrup is a favourite in so many ways:—as a spread on bread or toast—on waffles or pancakes—in a glass of milk—as a topping for puddings and ice cream—as a sweetener that gives your baking that extra flavour to delight the tastes of the whole family.

"We appreciate your loyalty to Quality."

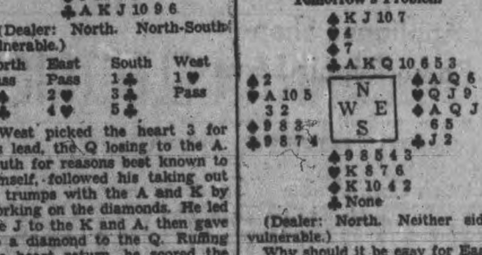
BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

DON'T MAKE IT EASY

WHEN a defender can't find any sure way to beat the contract, he at least should try to make the declarer's job as difficult as possible. To play in such a way as to eliminate any guess for his opponent is to act the part of a fool, whether the date be April 1 or some other time. Such a decision often confronts you when a lead is made toward a king-jack combination in the dummy. Playing your ace right away takes the guess out of it for the declarer, whereas a low card leaves him wondering what is best to do.

(Dealer: North. North-South vulnerable.)

North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	1♣	1♥
1♠	2♥	3♣	Pass
4♣	4♥	5♣



West picked the heart 3 for his lead, the Q losing to the A. South for reasons best known to himself, followed his taking out of trumps with the A and K by working on the diamonds. He led the J to the K and A, then gave up a diamond to the Q. Ruffing the heart return, he scored the diamond 10 and 9, then led the spade 4.

If West had played low, South would have had a bit of a problem to make his contract; he said later that he would have put in the J. If he had, that would have lost to the Q and the A would have set him. But West came right in with the A on the first spade and thereby eliminated all guess for the declarer.

South, by that playing plan, was just as foolish as West proved. After taking out trumps, he should have worked on the spades, not the diamonds, by leading low from his own hand and then coming up with the K if West played low. West was much more likely to have the Spade A than East, since he made the first overcall. In any event, guessing the spades right would have made it unnecessary to get any break in diamonds, as losers there could have been thrown on spades. Playing as South did, he took chances of bad luck in two suits, spades and diamonds, instead of in just one.

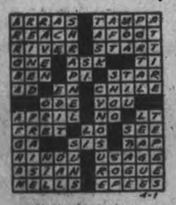
Tomorrow's Problem



(Dealer: North. Neither side vulnerable.)

Why should it be easy for East to find the correct defense against 4-Spades after West leads the diamond 8?

Conference Possibilities Remote For Provinces

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL

OTTAWA, April 1 — (CP). — Possibilities of a new Dominion-Provincial Conference in the near future are remote. A Cabinet source said yesterday the Government felt it would be useless to hold a conference as long as agreements are lacking with Ontario and Quebec. And, as far as he knew, Quebec and Ontario still were not prepared to sign agreements similar to those accepted by the seven other provinces.

He said the Cabinet has not considered the question of a new conference recently, although some of the provincial legislatures have urged that new efforts be made to reach an over-all agreement with the nine provinces.

The Federal Government's attitude, he said, could still be summed up in a statement which Prime Minister Mackenzie King made July 15, 1946, a few months after the last Dominion-Provincial conference ended in failure. In that statement, Mr. King said:

"As soon as there is sufficient acceptance of the proposed tax agreements, we shall be ready to explore in general conference or otherwise the possibility of working out mutually-satisfactory arrangements in regard to the whole or any part of our earlier public investment and social security programs."

The social security program included a national health insurance plan. It also included a federal offer to pay $30-a-month pensions to all 70 and over, regardless of means. The Dominion offered to share with the provinces the cost of pensions to the needy between the ages of 65 and 69. As well, the Dominion offered to pay grants-in-aid to help the provinces combat such things as tuberculosis, mental illness, and venereal disease.

In making its offers, the Dominion asked for exclusive use of the personal income, corporation and inheritance tax fields, which it formerly shared with the provinces.

For the tax concessions, the Dominion agreed to pay $12.75 per capita on 1942 population, plus 50 per cent of the provincial revenue from income and corporation taxes in the year ended Dec. 31, 1940, plus statutory subsidies.

When agreement with all provinces was found impossible, the Dominion withdrew its health and investment offers. The agreements signed with Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia, deal only with taxation matters.

Three Churches Hold Easter Services

YOUNG'S POINT, April 1 — (ENS).—Good Friday and Easter Day were observed by special services in the Anglican Churches of the Stony Lake Mission.

On Good Friday, the incumbent conducted a meditation at Haultain, on the attraction of the Cross. At Buckhorn and Young's Point the Rev. C. A. G. Spence of Apsley narrated once again some events of the Crucifixion. The solos, "He Was Despised" and "I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say" were sung by Mrs. G. Kilborn, Peterborough.

On Easter Day all three services of Holy Communion were very well attended.

In the evening, the rite of holy baptism was administered at Young's Point.

Game Wardens' Course

MONTREAL, April 1 — (CP) —It's the schoolroom again for Quebec's fish and game wardens and the curriculum includes such topics as identification of birds, fish and animals, and a smattering of astronomy as a guide to night travel. One two-week course was recently completed in Montreal, attended by the local staff and district inspectors from outside who will pass along their knowledge to their local men.

No Significance To King Meeting

WASHINGTON, April 1 — (AP)—The White House said today there is "no political significance whatsoever" to the forthcoming meeting of Prime Minister Mackenzie King and President Truman.

Along with Governor General Viscount Alexander, both will receive honorary degrees Friday at the College of William and Mary at Williamsburg, Va.

Charles G. Ross, presidential press secretary, was asked about speculation of official talk between Mr. King and Truman. Ross said there was no foundation for it.

"There is no significance of any sort," Ross said. "They both have been invited for the observance of Canadian-American day. That is all there is to it."

Was Rundown; Suffered Stomach Gas; Indigestion

Had Bloated Feeling and Sour Acidity After Meals, Backache, Very Nervous, Tells How Syntona Helped Her.

MRS. EDNA CAMPBELL

When the stomach is out of order and food fails to digest properly, causing gas, sour acidity and in many instances constipation, backache and rheumatic aches and pains; when you feel tired, nervous, rundown and cannot get sound, restful sleep at night, why not try a short treatment of Syntona Herbal Compound? This pure herbal medicine which has helped thousands of others may be just what you need to make you feel like yourself again.

"For several years I suffered with indigestion, stomach gas, and constipation," said Mrs. Edna Campbell, Komoka, Ontario, in a recent report. "After my meals I would have a heavy, bloated feeling in my stomach. I'd belch up hot, sour liquids and get bad attacks of heartburn. It seemed to affect my entire system, as I had a dull, aching pain across my back, my limbs hurt and I was in a very nervous, rundown condition.

"After reading how so many other people were being helped by Syntona I got some and I am surprised how quickly it has helped my stomach. I had hardly finished the first bottle when my food began to digest noticeably better. As I kept on taking it, the gas, sourness and heartburn cleared up and I am now able to enjoy every meal. The pain is gone out of my back and limbs, my nerves are relaxed allowing me to get sound, restful sleep at night and my whole system feels built up and improved."

If you, who read this, suffer as Mrs. Campbell did, why not try Syntona without delay? Come to Elliott's Drug Store, Peterborough, and find out how Syntona can help you, too.—(Advt.)

Finnish Talks Stalled Over Military Clauses; Return Home For Orders

Fear Russians May Become Impatient As Parliament Refuses To Have Country Fight If Soviet Attacked

HELSINKI, April 2—(AP).—Two Finnish delegates to Moscow flew back to Helsinki today to confer on a conflict between the President and Parliament over military clauses of the proposed treaty of co-operation with Russia. Urho Kekkonen, a confidant of President Juho K. Paasikivi, and J. O. Soederhjelm were told on their arrival to report immediately to the President. They said they expected to fly back to Moscow Saturday.

Finnish political quarters said the negotiations on Prime Minister Stalin's proposal for a treaty had reached a crucial stage. They expressed fear that the Russians might become impatient. Stalin made his proposal six weeks ago for a treaty similar to those which join eastern European satellites to the Soviet Union.

As nearly as the present situation can be pieced together through official secrecy, this is what has happened:

After consulting with his advisers and cabinet, President Paasikivi framed new instructions for the Finnish delegation on the basis of a Russian draft for a treaty. He proposed alerations on two main military clauses. These changes would bind Finland to defend her borders in the event of attack directed against Russia, but would leave Finland free to decide when such attack threatened and when collaboration with the Russians would start.

Paasikivi called parliamentary leaders and asked written statements of their views. They responded before his deadline, last Wednesday midnight, and the majority again opposed military clauses. Thus Paasikivi hesitated to send his new instructions.

Greatest Menace To Freedom Looms—Mr. King

WILLIAMSBURG, Va., April 2—(CP).—Prime Minister Mackenzie King warned today that the menace to freedom never has been "graver or more insiduous than it has become within the last three years."

In an address prepared for delivery at the convocation of the College of William and Mary, where he spoke in acknowledgement of an honorary degree, Mr. King said a way must be found "right speedily" to overcome the menace and "ensure that nations which are still free will not be suborned, defeated or destroyed one by one."

Unending Struggle

Mr. King said the struggle to win and to maintain freedom, which was one and indivisible, was unending. Twice in a generation the people of the British Commonwealth and the United States had found their freedom threatened through loss of freedom by nations in continental Europe.

"In some ways, the menace to freedom has never been graver or more insidious than it has become within the last three years," he said. "That menace arises no longer merely from armed aggression aimed at territorial expansion.

"While this is an ever-present danger, the menace to freedom comes as well from sinister plans to undermine the structure of free government within the borders of individual nations.

"In a word, freedom is threatened not only by military force but by an organized conspiracy to demolish a tyranny over the human mind, to thwart the wills and destroy the souls of nations as well as of men.

Jewish Convoy Fails To Break Arab Line

JERUSALEM, April 2 (AP)—A Jerusalem - bound Jewish food convoy was reported to have tried today to blast through fierce Arab gunfire in the Judean hills.

Early reports said it was driven back with loss of life on both sides.

The convoy, trying to get goods to the beleaguered Holy City, had been stalled by Arab guns for two days only 15 miles from Jerusalem's gates. Arabs have dug in on the Judean hills commanding approaches to the Tel Aviv-Jerusalem road.

Neglected Child Mother Guilty

HAMILTON, April 2 (CP). — Mrs. Electa Cartmell, 27-year-old widowed dress designer acquitted yesterday of manslaughter in the death of her four-month-old daughter, will be sentenced today for neglecting to provide the child with the necessities of life.

The pretty, dark-haired woman said yesterday that following the death last year of her husband, a Canadian navy veteran, she mortgaged her house to start a dress shop which she hoped would maintain her and daughters Holly, 4, and baby Meron.

She insisted she loved the baby who never seemed to thrive and who finally died after a New Year's week illness. She said she cared for the infant as well as she could, using the same nursing techniques that brought Holly through several spells of sickness.

During presentation of defence evidence, Holly Cartmell was called into the courtroom Mrs. Cartmell's lawyer said he had arranged for the jurors to see the older child to show the results of the care the accused woman had given her first born.

Call Special UN Session To Reconsider Palestine

LAKE SUCCESS, April 2—(CP).—The United Nations Security Council Thursday called a special session of the 57-member UN Assembly to reconsider the Palestine problem. The vote for the special meeting was 9 to 0. Russia and the Soviet Ukraine abstained.

BRINGS DOWN BUDGET—Provincial Treasurer Leslie Frost brought down the Ontario budget this afternoon, announcing a surplus of $25,039,000. No new taxation was announced.

The Assembly will convene April 16 in New York City.

The council, by one of its rare unanimous decisions, called also for a Jewish-Arab truce in Palestine.

Warren R. Austin, chief United States delegate, who sponsored both moves in the council on orders from the White House, declared the truce was needed to stop the "blood feud" raging there.

Suggests Meeting

Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, Canada's chief delegate, suggested that the council president should meet with representatives of the Jewish Agency and the Arab committee to discuss the substance of the resolutions and to bring forward some specific proposals regarding the proposed truce.

Gen. McNaughton said that on the question of what to bring before the special session of the General Assembly, the council should meet as soon as possible to hear the specific proposals of the United States regarding the trusteeship.

The UN secretariat immediately swung into high-speed action to prepare the ground work for the second special Assembly in UN history.

Sicilian Labor Leader Is Machine-Gunned

ROME, April 2 — (AP). — A Sicilian labor leader was machine-gunned to death today and two persons wounded as violence broke out again in the midst of Italy's election campaign.

Dispatches from Palermo, Sicily, said Calogero Cangialosi, 36, secretary of the Labor Federation at Camporeale in eastern Sicily, was shot and killed at midnight.

Two of his companions also were caught in the burst of machine-gun fire. The unknown assailants escaped.

Ottawa Rebukes Russians, For Orders To 'Canadians'

OTTAWA, April 2 — (CP). — Conduct of Soviet diplomats in this country has been challenged for the second time in five months by the Canadian government.

The latest rebuke arose from advertisements the Russian Embassy inserted in Slavic-language newspapers calling on Lithuanians to register at Soviet Consulates as citizens of the USSR unless they had become naturalized Canadians.

The External Affairs Department issued a statement last night saying that it "regretted" that the Embassy had not conferred with the Canadian government first and reminded the Soviet representatives that Canada does not recognize Lithuania as part of the USSR nor Lithuanians here as its citizens.

The statement added that the department had written the Embassy on March 22 asking it to insert a sentence in any similar advertisements in future making it clear that registration here would be voluntary.

The last reprimand the Russian Embassy received was in November of last year when the department warned it that offensive speeches by Soviet diplomats here would lead to demands for their "immediate recall."

Reaches City Without Any Trouble

Report Barge Traffic Halted By Soviets, In Latest "Squeeze"

BERLIN, April 2.—(AP). —A British freight train moved into Berlin today despite the advertised Russian blockade of land traffic but not submitting to Soviet inspection. A score of United States planes pierced the barrier, too, flying food and passengers to the city.

British officials reported they had no special trouble in getting their train to the city. The United States army issued orders for movement of a similar train tomorrow.

While the Russians had announced that all incoming passenger trains and outgoing passenger and freight trains had to be inspected, their regulations on incoming freight were more vague.

In the past, commanders of military freight trains operated by the western powers have presented waybills listing the trains' contents for border patrols.

British authorities said this procedure was followed on their train today, and the Americans prepared to try it to morrow.

Halt Barge Traffic

At a peak period this morning planes were landing at the American-controlled Templehof airport at the rate of one a minute. British and French authorities adopted similar measures.

Col. David M. Fowler, army public relations chief in Europe, said he had orders to "clear all information" through Brig.-Gen. Charles K. Galley, chief-of-staff to Gen. Lucius D. Clay, the military governor in Berlin.

All inland water traffic into or through the Russian zone from the British zone has been suspended, British control authorities announced officially tonight.

The suspension was caused by Soviet refusal to accept as valid documents carried by canal barge skippers, it was added.

Intend to Stay

LONDON, April 2—(CP)—Britain served notice today she intends to stay in Berlin regardless of what happens to the Allied Control Commission.

"We have just as much right to remain in Berlin as in our own zone," a foreign office spokesman told a press conference.

The spokesman said no representations on the present Berlin situation had been made by Britain to Moscow, nor are any under consideration at present.

However, "one might say everything is under consideration."

Asked whether Russia was technically within its rights in imposing traffic regulations in Berlin, the spokesman said:

"Any restriction which hampers the quadripartite administration in Berlin is contrary to the Potsdam declaration."

Paralyzed Vet Dies In Fire

NAPANEE, April 2. — An attempt to save his wife from death by fire cost Frank Dionne, 45-year-old war veteran, his life on Thursday when he was overcome in the flaming living room of their cottage at Erinsville, 20 miles north of here.

Mrs. Dionne, her clothes afire, managed to save herself and was removed to hospital in Kingston where her condition was reported as favorable.

Partially paralyzed, Dionne was seen to emerge from the house and then rush back inside to aid his wife. Horrified spectators rushing to give aid, saw Mrs. Dionne come out, her clothes in flames. The charred body of her husband was found in the living room.

Nine-year-old Ronnie Smith, who lives nearby, was the first to notice the flames. He ran to the Dionne cottage and poured a bucketful of water on the fire which was spreading through the room. Then he dashed outside.

Coroner Dr. D. R. Hall and Provincial Constable W. E. Smith were called. Cause of the fire was not known. It is unlikely that an inquest will be held.

Several Explosions Rock Kemptville

KEMPTVILLE, April 2 (CP).—Police and firemen stood guard today against a recurrence of sewage explosions that caused damage to buildings and forced evacuation of some homes in this village near Ottawa early this morning.

Police Chief Delbert Sayeau, expressing belief the blasts had been caused by gasoline seepage into the sewer system, declared there was "still danger" should the fumes be re-ignited.

Town authorities were preparing to flush out the sewer system with water and to drain the gasoline tanks of a service station near the area where the explosion apparently originated.

The blasts, touched off around midnight, blew a manhole high in the air and sent flames shooting about 12 feet out of the manhole and nearby catch- basins.

Frost Lists Record Surplus Of $25,039,000; Net Debt Cut By 25 Million

TORONTO, April 2—(CP).—Provincial Treasurer Frost today announced a record $25,039,000 surplus in Ontario Government accounts for the fiscal year ended March 31, two days ago. In his fifth budget address to the Provincial Legislature, he also reported a $25,003,183 reduction in the net debt—double the biggest previous reduction in any one year. The net debt had been lowered by $27,357,470 in the five years Premier Drew's Progressive Conservative government has been in office and "the people of Ontario do not owe one dollar for capital work carried out during this period...."

The surplus—based on net current revenue of $190,850,000 and expenditure of $165,811,000—compares with Mr. Frost's forecast in his budget address of a year ago of a surplus of $367,143, and an actual surplus of $54,000 in the previous fiscal year.

The 15,000-word address, described by government circles as an "investment and development budget," forecast a surplus of $262,979 in the new fiscal year which ends next March 31, with anticipated revenue of $177,776,900 and expenditure of $17,513,921.

The budget imposed no new taxes and said the province would not levy any personal income tax because "we propose to offer no impediment to drastic income tax reductions by the Dominion government; rather, we intend to co-operate and assist the Dominion authorities in bringing about much needed tax relief."

Revenue from corporation tax, succession duties, liquor and gasoline tax was the chief factor in making the surplus so much larger than the forecast. Corporation tax produced $50,000,000 compared with an estimate of $38,500,000; succession duties $17,500,000 compared with $11,750,000; liquor $34,000,000 compared with $26,400,000 and gasoline tax $46,800,000 compared with $44,000,000.

Cripps Spends Week Shut In Garage Office Working Out Britain's New Budget Secrets

LONDON, April 2—(CP)— Sir Stafford Cripps, born to riches but critical of wealth, returned to London today, bearing Britain's budget secrets with him.

For the last week, wearing a faded red sweater and flannel pants, he has been at work in a makeshift garage-office close to his country home at Far Oakridge, Gloucester.

There Sir Stafford prepared the budget speech which he is scheduled to deliver Tuesday in the Commons.

In this setting, apparently remote from high finance and budget complexities, the man with the card-index mind toiled with characteristic energy. He seldom left the garage-office except for meals.

The only important caller has been Sir Eric Plowden, head of the treasury's economic branch. Presumably the two conferred on the government's economic survey, the so-called "black paper" of last month which forecast a year of anxiety for Britain.

33,000 Gals. Water Drench Cleveland Show; Save Peterborough Booth

By PETE McGILLEN

CLEVELAND, O., April 2.—It wasn't Niagara Falls, but it might well have been when cascades of water—33,000 gallons of it—burst over the main floor of the Cleveland Public Auditorium Thursday night. The unscheduled flood came about six o'clock in the big building in the heart of downtown Cleveland where the monster Sportsman Show is being held. A huge rubber envelope, 65 by 25 feet, supported by a wooden frame, spilled its four feet of water when the frame gave way. Thursday night and Friday afternoon shows were cancelled while 150 men and women scrubbed up for tonight's show.

There were no serious injuries, although about 400 spectators got a thorough drenching from the water, which spread over the main floor from two to six inches in depth. Exhibits on the floor were badly damaged, with heavy loss to much tourist and sportsman literature and sportsmen's displays.

Peterborough Booth Unhurt

The display booth of the City of Peterborough, advertising the attractions of the Kawartha district tourist area, was directly below the rubber tank on the basement floor but no loss was suffered. Some water did get into the section, but Jack Sullivan and I, who were attending the booth at the time, were untouched by the water.

Ignore Truman Tax Cut Veto

WASHINGTON, April 2—(AP). — The House of Representatives today passed the $4,800,000,000 tax cut bill over President Truman's veto.

That put it up to the Senate whether taxpayers are to get the cut in spite of Truman's objection thta it would "undermine the soundness of our government finances at a time when world peace depends upon the strength of the United States."

Leaders said the Senate would vote to override the veto and make the cut law before the day is done.

Drew Withdraws New Bill Which Caused Howe To Halt Home Building

Ontario To Pay Cost Of Half Land, Services To Aid Municipalities, Taking Advantage Of Low Rental Schemes

TORONTO, April 2—(CP).—Legislation to launch a four-pronged attack on Ontario's housing problem without committing the Government to actual entry into the construction business was on its way through the Legislature today. A $30,000,000 four-point program designed to encourage construction of new homes and redevelopment of old housing was given first reading on the House yesterday after introduction by Planning Minister Dana Porter.

The legislation—promised in the Throne Speech at the opening of the current session—was complemented by a startling announcement from Premier Drew.

It advised that Ontario's newly-passed Crown Tenants Provincial-Municipal Lands Act would be withheld from operation. It was this Act that constituted the issue when Federal Trade Minister Howe last week called off all Dominion housing plans for Ontario.

Premier Drew's decision, therefore, was designed to remove the one reason the Dominion had for cancelling housing and thus enable continued construction in Ontario of federally-sponsored low-rental housing.

Reason for the provincial action is to clear the way for one of the points in the province's plan.

Pay Half Cost

This point declares that when a municipality wants to take advantage of the Federal low-rental housing scheme, the province will offer to pay one half of the cost of land and services to the limit of $300 per house. This part of Ontario's program is expected to cost some $3,000,000.

Other provisions of the bill:

1. In order to reduce down payments and encourage average wage earners to build homes the government offers to guarantee to lending agencies $1,000 a home. The required down payment could thus be reduced by this amount, making it easier for the purchaser. This would apply to no more than 10,000 houses.

2. Where a construction firm can show that it has a new or more efficient building method which would result in substantial cut in cost, the government may provide for financing the development.

3. In case where the government is satisfied of the soundness of rebuilding and renovating an old housing district in the centre of a municipality—such as a slum area—the government may participate with the municipality in financing it.

Will Spend 10 Million

Mr. Porter said Ontario is prepared to provide up to $10,000,000 for guarantees on down payments.

The clause is designed to reduce the amount a person must pay down to a mortgage or loan company without increasing the risk being taken by the company.

Mr. Porter said the redevelopment plan for old housing would aid in eliminating slums and thus contribute generally towards better health in cities.

It would also increase the value of property adjacent or close to the slum districts.

Under this provision the government will help the municipality to finance a redevelopment program if satisfied the idea is sound. "We are ready to do this to the total limit of $15,000,000," Mr. Porter said.

The government has allotted $2,000,000 for financial guarantee to back up any company with an effective plan for reducing costs of building.

Won't Stand In Way

The Ontario government, Premier Drew said, "Will not permit an unnecessary dispute regarding the interpretation of a bill of this nature to be used as a reason for stopping construction of urgently-needed houses.

"The Ontario Government has therefore decided that this bill (given royal assent in the legislature Thursday) will not become law."

Expect To Resume

OTTAWA, April 2 — (CP) — George McIlraith, parliamentary assistant to Trade Minister Howe, said yesterday there was no doubt that the Federal Government will resume housing construction in Ontario now that Premier Drew has withdrawn his Crown Lands Bill.

Mr. McIlraith was commenting on Mr. Drew's announcement that the bill was being withdrawn as a result of the Federal Government's decision to discontinue house building in Ontario because of the legislation.

Taylor Visits General Franco

MADRID, April 2 (AP)—Myron C. Taylor, President Truman's special envoy to the Vatican, spent an hour and a half with Generalissimo Francisco Franco last night. The topic of their conference remained a secret.

Taylor arrived at El Prado Palace for the meeting only a few minutes after Madrid newspapers reported that a United States Congressional conference committee yesterday rejected the House of Representatives' inclusion of Spain in the European recovery program.

Secrecy surrounded Taylor's visit to Spain and Portugal. He arrived yesterday by plane from Lisbon. The United States embassy said it had no knowledge that Taylor was here on any special mission. It was speculated, however, that his appearance was a prelude to a plan for co-operation between the United States and the Iberian peninsula.

It was reported that Franco barred Paul T. Culbertson, United States charge d'affaires in Spain, from his meeting with Taylor after previously arranging for Culbertson to take part. Some sources said this might have been Franco's method of reacting to the United States Congressional action.

Think Quebec Election Likely By Fall

By The Canadian Press

Prorogation of the Quebec Legislature loosed a flood of speculation about the date of a provincial general election.

Premier Duplessis said the end of the House's fourth session since his Union Nationale government came to power would permit the province "to pass its sentence." Observers predicted the election would be called between June and late October.

The Alberta Government's term of office also has expired but the 1948 session ended Wednesday without a hint of election plans. A spokesman said later the voting would be held close to a Federal election date.

The Nova Scotia Legislature sat 45 minutes, passed 18 bills and adjourned without any reference to the 1948 budget. Premies Angus L. Macdonald said Wednesday the budget would be brought down yesterday.

Premier John B. Nair of New Brunswick suggested that the governments of the Maritime provinces confer on the 21-percent freight rate increase granted Canadian railways.

Harold Winch, leader of the CCF Opposition, charged in the British Columbia Legislature that release to the press of the government's intention to start a hospital benefit plan in British Columbia before members were advised was a breach of the rights of the Legislature. Premier Byron Johnson took the responsibility for the press release.

Fewer Out Of Work Labor Dept. Reports

OTTAWA, April 2. (CP)—Fewer men and women are out of work and seeking jobs through the National Employment Service than a month ago, the Labor Department's manpower review showed today.

It added that a further decline in the number of workers seeking jobs can be expected in the next few weeks as construction and agriculture become active.

On March 18, the employment service offices had 199,000 men and women listed and records of 34,000 unfilled jobs. The winter's peak unemployment was on Feb. 26 when 201,000 people were looking for work.

road block the Russians had set up in the British sector of Berlin. The small Soviet detachment finally abandoned the barrier early today. The British authorities sent their men in after lodging a vain protest.

Americans, British and French in Berlin total about 25,000.

The Americans planned to bring in probably more than 30 plane shipments of freight and passengers from Frankfurt today, against two planes which hauled in 15,000 pounds of food yesterday.

Britain also put on extra plane flights and scheduled supplemental bus service on the international highway to their western zone, which remained open.

Even the air corridor to the west, while not subject to Russian regulations, was not entirely free.

Pilots at the American Tempelhof airport here said there had been repeated "buzzing" of their planes by Russian fighter craft within the last few weeks.

They emphasized this was "not dangerous — mostly apparently curious passes." The Russians had done a certain amount of this ever since the air corridor came into existence.

British official quarters said similar incidents had been reported by British pilots recently. A spokesman reported Russian fighters had "dived and circled" British planes and "when protests have been made to the Russians the incidents have been denied."

French officials later announced cancellation of French military trains to the French zone in Western Germany and said plans were being made to organize air services for French officials from Tempelhof.

Australian Railmen End Strike, No Raise

Historic Setting For Convocation

By CLYDE BLACKBURN

WILLIAMSBURG, Va April 2.—(CP).— Prime Minister Mackenzie King today stood in this cradle of American liberty and declared that if freedom is to be preserved for nations still free a way must be found speedily "to ensure that nations will not be suborned, defeated or destroyed one by one."

The Canadian prime minister spoke at a special convocation of William and Mary College in celebration of Canadian-American day.

President Truman, the Prime Minister, Viscount Alexander, Governor-General of Canada, and Governor William Tuck of Virginia, received honorary law degrees.

For United States visitors the situation offered a touch of drama in that Tuck is one of the foremost leaders of the Southern States revolting against the President's demand for legislation ensuring civil rights to American negroes.

The ceremonies were staged in setting drenched in colonial history. Williamsburg was the capital of the old British dominion and has been restored by the Rockefeller Foundation to its old-world quaintness.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, April 2 — (CP). — A small demand, attributed to commission houses and locals and to a minor extent to processors, has caused slight gains in oats and barley prices today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. Trading turned dull after the opening flurry.

July and October rye are each showing slight advances.

Yesterday's announcement that a limited allocation of oats and barley would be available for export but not to the United States has been a factor in cleaning out today's selling and discouraging aggressive buying interests.

Prices:

Oats—May ½ higher at 83½; July ¾-½ higher at 76¾; Oct. not open.

Barley—May unchanged at $1.16¾; July ⅝ higher at $1.09⅞; Oct. not open.

Shooting Accident, Too

The incident was the second such unscheduled mishap. On Wednesday night, a feature attraction was a husband-and-wife team, the Shooting Manvilles, in which such little items as the man shooting six electric light bulbs off his wife's head was included. At the conclusion of the act, the sharpshooting hubby placed his gun in a rack. A property attendant, moving the rack, jarred the gun and it discharged, hitting a spectator in the galleries in both hands.

The injury itself was not serious, but it has been announced that shooting acts will be banned for all time from the show in the Auditorium.

No Gov't Booths

A Canadian section—conspicuous by its absence—is one of displays by the Dominion and Provincial (Ontario) governments. Neither have placed any displays here for the information of visitors interested in coming north for their hunting trips—and there are hundreds at the show who are potential good visitors and good spenders.

A survey has not yet been made of the Canadian centres represented with dsplay booths here. The Peterborough booth is attracting hundreds of ipquiries. Blown-up photographs on original, eye-catching backgrounds are paying-off future dividends for the district.

The City of Hamilton display is also prominent among Canadian exhibits.

Prices Mildly Easier In Quiet Trading

TORONTO, April 2 — (CP) — Prices were mildly easier in quiet trading with base metals showing widest losses while industrials were about unchanged. Industrials were relatively active on a wide front but the other groups moved selectively, with western oils maintaining narrow gains.

The Exchange's noon index showed industrials up .01 at 163.15, golds down .12 at 93.46, base metals .66 at 86.94, western oils up .11 at 32.70. Volume for the first three hours was 384,000 shares, about 4,000 more than yesterday's similar period.

Foods and steels showed good form among the industrials but newsprints were weak. Better stocks were Bell, Brazilian, Canada Packers, Canadian Car, Consumers Gas, Dominion Steel, Famous Players, International Petroleum and Steel of Canada while on the losing side were Algoma Steel, Canadian Celanese, CPR, Fanny Farmer, Ford, Winnipeg Electric, International Paper, Brown and BC Pulp.

Golds were quiet on narrow changes but base metals showed losses for East Sullivan, Eureka 35 cents at $1.20, Nickel ⅛ at 33½, Labrador, Noranda ¼ at 46¾, Waite Amulet 40 at $5.30, Sherritt 9 at $1.78 and Quemont ⅛ at 13.

Caused Disturbance

For causing a disturbance on George St., William Brethour, Hailton, Quebec, was fined in police court today $7.50 and $2.50 costs when he pleaded guilty to the offence.

Traffic Fines

Only two minor offenders for traffic violations were received in court today by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC.

Gerald E. Bronson, 376½ Water St., was fined $5 and $2.50 costs for driving with inadequate lights.

Charles E. Jones, Buckhorn, paid $5 and $2.50 costs for driving through a stop sign.

WESTERN MP TO SPEAK

Percy Wright, CCF, MP. for Melfort, Sask., will address a meeting in Norwood Saturday night.

POWER STOPPAGE AT CGE

Employees of the CGE wire department had an unexpected holiday on Friday morning when there was a power failure in their department. The three-hour stoppage was said to be caused by a short circuit in one of the substations.

Financial Workers Seek More Strikers

NEW YORK, April 2 —(AP)— Striking Financial Workers today asked employees of two brokerage houses to join their walkout for wage increases and union security against the New York Stock and Curb Exchanges as pickets carried placards saying "This is it." Today is the fifth day of the strike.

Chanting "Line up and sign up" pickets paraded in front of the buildings housing Shields and Company, and E. F. Hutton Company.

It appeared to be the first step toward the United Financial Employees (AFL) threat of a general strike in the financial district.

The strikers gained support overnight from the Metropolitan Area's Central Trades and Labor Council, (AFL) which pledged "maximum" financial aid.

Jamieson and the Peltier girl were held on charges of illegal possession of narcotics.

Police did not comment on the possibility that McDonald was involved in the holdup.

He is one of three long-term criminals who escaped last Aug. 18 from Kingston Penitentiary. The others are Ulysse Lauzon of Windsor, and Nicholas Minille of Ottawa. All three are still at large.

McDonald and Lauzon were linked with a $40,000 bank robbery at Windsor last Aug. 22, four days after the prison break.

MONTREAL — Joseph Rodrique, who stole a woman's purse containing $90 in a church during the Lenten season, was sentenced to three years in penitentiary.

Present Food Pact Extended Till April 14

OTTAWA, April 2 —(CP)—The government announced last night that present arrangements for financing British purchases in Canada have been extended to April 14, thus providing Britain with funds until Marshal aid becomes available in about two weeks.

The brief, 43-word announcement gave no details, except to say that the extension developed from discussions between the Canadian government and the British High Commissioner, Sir Alexander Clutterbuck.

However, the proposal means that Britain will be permitted to continue to draw from her Canadian credit to pay for the foodstuffs and raw materials she is buying from Canada. These include beef, bacon, cheese, eggs, timber and certain non-ferrous metals.

The financing arrangement, under which Britain was enabled to draw $15,000,000 monthly from the credit, was to have expired March 31. However, this would have left Britain without funds until the American European recovery program begins operating about mid-month. The extension will cover the gap.

In the absence of any official statement, it is presumed Britain will continue to draw from the loan at the same rate, which would mean a withdrawal of about $7,000,000 by April 14. The unspent portion of the loan totals about $242,000,000.

However, Canada during the three-month period which the financing arrangement covered has over-shipped substantial quantities of bacon and beef and it is thought likely some agreement also was reached to enable Britain to pay for those over-purchases.

Prefers Reformatory To County Jail

Albert Quinlan, 307 Bethune St., was sentenced to four months definite, one month indefinite in Ontario Reformatory when he pleaded guilty in police court today to a charge of being drunk in public as a third offender. The accused was first sentenced to three months in jail here by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, but the longer sentence at Reformatory was substituted at his request.

Issue of Atomic Control Strikes Dead End At UN

By WALTER O'HEARN

LAKE SUCECSS, NY. — Look at Palestine and Atomic control as two sides of the same question — not as two sides of a coin but as the two largest and most exposed surfaces of that many-sided thing called world peace.

In the Palestine dispute, the UN still has a chance — some would say a last, fighting chance to bring order and sanity to a dispute which may enflame the world. In the question on Atomic energy —the same people would tell you —the UN has already abdicated. It has proclaimed its inability or its unfitness to do anything about world atomic control at this time.

That, at least, is one interpretation you could put on the events of the last two days. On Monday, eight members of the working committee of the Atomic Energy Commission — Canada, China, France, Belgium, the United States, Argentina and Colombia rejected the Soviet proposals on atomic control. It was a flat and definite rejection.

On Tuesday in the control committee of the same body five nations — the United States, United Kingdom, Canada, Belgium and France — indicated that there was no use even discussing an international control organization until there was agreement on principle.

An Open Admission

Canada's General A. G. L. McNaughton, who has been called "the outstanding member of the Commission," said — and he was very sad as he uttered the words —"It seems to me that we have reached a dead end." This was indeed an admission from the man who more than once kept East and West together; who has even found the Soviet contribution useful in the past, as when he likened Andrei Gromyko to "an anvil on which the West could hammer out their views."

The anvil was not even present yesterday. Instead, Dmitri Skobeltsyn, a grey and smiling Russian scientist, presided at the meeting and blamed the trouble on "distortion of Soviet point of view." Richard Miles of the United Kingdom, a forthright young man who looks like a light heavyweight boxer, had said: "Organization in this case is like the cream topping on a cake. We have not baked a cake," Skobeltsyn retorted. "The majority have indeed baked a cake, a very heavy cake. Or if I might borrow my analogies from architecture, they have built a cumbersome structure but they have neglected the foundation." The Russians love to play with metaphors.

Shortly after that the meeting rose without naming the date for any future gathering. It literally had no more to discuss. The control committee will not meet again.

Where does atomic energy control go from there? Some say the whole question is buried.

The Right of Veto

The Russians, fortunately for the American point of view, have taken a narrow, doctrinaire oppositionist position from the start —insisting on "national sovereignty" limiting the rights on inspection of Atomic plants, clinging to their right of veto.

From the narrowest view of American nationalism, this Soviet intransigence has taken them neatly off the hook. They offered a daring and idealistic plan and it was refused. Now they can retreat into nationalism.

But it is safe to say that some other nations who see no future in the discussion at this time and under present terms are not satisfied to let the whole matter drop. This is probably Canada's position.

These nations see new and dramatic developments in the near future which may reopen the whole question of Atomic control. General McNaughton told reporters yesterday "the whole question is a nettle and we must have courage to grasp it. It will be offered to us again. It may be offered suddenly and then time will be our most precious commodity."

A good deal turns of course on the old question—has Russia the Atom bomb?

On this question only a hint can be offered. Of all the Russians at UN Dimitri Skobeltsyn knows most about his country's Atomic development. He is a scientist and reputedly an Atomic expert. This large, bland man certainly behaves like a player well supplied with aces. Other Soviet delegates are stolid, but there is evidence of nervous tension behind their very stolidity. Skobeltsyn is characteristically relaxed.

Holy Land Issue

On the Palestine question, Warren R. Austin of the United States introduced two resolutions yesterday. One called for a "cease fire" in the Holy Land; the other, for a special session of the General Assembly. Neither resolution specified trusteeship, although Austin made it plain that a temporary trusteeship still seemed to him the best solution for Palestine and was still favored by the president, the secretary of state and the responsible makers of American policy.

Austin ran directly into the fire of Andrei Gromyko and once again the wearisome duel was on between the two irreconcilable collossi. Impartial observers conceded that the Russian, who is more nimble than Austin, had rather the best of it. He declared that the conduct of the U.S. "having as its aim to kill the decision adopted by the UN on Palestine, has provoked more than amazement in all the countries of the world."

If the Soviet stand on Palestine were a completely disinterested one it would be relative unassailable. The USSR has not changed its mind. However, there are many who fear that it is not so disinterested. In his speech yesterday Mr. Gromyko made votes for Mr. Henry Wallace, whom the USSR want to see poll a very large vote.

Moreover, he helped to prolong a situation which may yet provide the excuse for landing Soviet troops in the Holy Land. He complained that the U.S. delegate had produced no arguments to prove that more than peaceful measures were necessary for the implementation of partition in Palestine. He saw no reason for convoking a special session on Palestine which, he said, "would mean throwing the UN backwards, at least for a year." He attacked the trusteeship proposal as "an attempt to convert Palestine into a military strategic base of the U.S. and England under the pretext of maintaining order."

An Abrupt Ending

After the Russian's speech the meeting was adjourned abruptly. The Council will discuss Palestine again on Thursday, All Fools' Day. They will then vote on the American resolutions. Canada and other countries like her who are still dubious about the workability of trusteeship will vote for the Special Assembly. In all probability the Russian will veto. Then a majority of the 57 member nations will vote for the plan and the Special Assembly will be held in any case (allowing for 15 days notice under the charter). But by that time it will be the 19th or 20th of April. The British are definitely giving up the Palestine mandate on May 15th.

There are actually two defacto administrations set up in Palestine now. The UN's Palestine Commission has given the Jewish Agency permission to set up its government. Before a Special Assembly can be held, the United States Government in its attempt to offset attacks on its Palestine policy may lift the Palestine arms embargo.

If that happens the future of the Holy Land will be settled by Jewish and Arab guns and bayonets and the UN will have lost its chance of preserving peace.

Some will say, its last chance.

"DO SERVANTS OF TRUMAN WANT TRIESTE OR WAR?"—These sailors of the Italian navy occupied front seats at the rally staged by Communist leader Palmiro Togliatti in Rome recently in a bid to win votes at the forthcoming Italian general elections. The banner reads (translation): "Do the servants of Truman want Triests or do they want war?"

Canada Sends Food To Italy

ROME, April 2 —(CP)—The Canadian Government's program of economic aid to Italy, which will help some 300,000 needy Italians, gets under way today. The program is designed to fill the gap caused by the end of UNRRA assistance

In ceremonies at the Institute of St. Joseph of the Little Sisters of the Poor, J. P. Manion, Canadian trade counsellor and Charge d'Affaires, will make a symbolic presentation to representatives of the Italian Distributing Agency of the first shipment of food.

The first parcels will go to 2,730 aged persons from institutes in the Rome area, but help ultimately will be given to 235,000 persons in children's and maternity clinics as well as to 75,000 in government homes for old people.

Some of the food, it is announced, will be bought in Canada and shipped to Italy, while the rest will be purchased locally with the idea of helping Italian producers.

WI Hears Address On Newspaper Work

ROSENEATH, April 2 (ENS).—WI members, with Mrs. Harold George as hostess, met in the town hall on Thursday. Mrs. George Mouncey presided.

Mrs. B. Thackeray, secretary-treasurer, reported sale of a quilt and pillow cases for $6.90 and a bank balance of $38.13.

The president reported nine 10-pound boxes of food for Britain sent to Toronto, and one box sent by Miss Jessie Johnston.

It was announced a rally would be held in Grafton on April 16 and officers, committee conveners and members were invited to attend.

The president announced the society was sponsoring a minstrel show by the Cobourg Legion, to be presented in April.

Mrs. C. Grigg, Mrs. B. Thackeray and Mrs. A. Pringle were named a nominating committee, in preparation for the annual meeting in May.

Mrs. Lily Turner, Cobourg, a former member, was present and spoke briefly.

Mrs. A. Nill, publicity convener, had charge of the program. Mrs. C. Grigg, with a group, sang two numbers. Mrs. R. C. White gave a talk on the origin of words and sayings, and sang a selection.

Mrs. Nill gave a talk on the press. It included stories of requests such as "Please don't put that in the paper," made at times to reporters and editors; a humorous rhyme, "The Typographical Error," with an illustration; a story, "Editor writes his own wedding," and a story of the making of books, of paper, and papermaking machines, of the making of parchment, and of the earliest writing expressed in symbol on pottery and walls.

The program concluded with a solo by Mrs. White.

Lawyers To Meet Women Debaters

COBOURG, April 2 (ENS). — Two district lawyers, Harry Deyman of Cobourg and Stuart Ryan of Port Hope, will meet next Monday evening in a panel discussion with Miss Mary Cunningham and Miss Constance DeMille of the Cobourg Business and Professional Women's Club. Subject of the debate, or discussion, is "to what extent does the present system of punishment of offenders achieve he objects of deterrent and rehabilitation?"

It will be an interesting combination. Mr. Deyman is Crown Attorney and Mr. Ryan is a well-known defence attorney. Both will face insurmountable odds against the two capable feminine debaters, who, incidently, are school teachers. Judge M. A. Miller, county judge of Northumberland and Durham, will be chairman.

Mixed Cribbage Played

CAMPBELLFORD, April 2. — (ENS).—A mixed cribbage tournament, sponsored by the IOOF, was held last night in their club rooms. There were nine tables played. Prizes went to Mrs. Robert Poulton, Mrs. Harry Redden, Mrs. Charles Nicholas, Jack Ellis, Les Wilks and Bud Runions.

Must Have Salary Schedule If Qualified Teachers Wanted School Board Told

CAMPBELLFORD, April 2 — (ENS). — Acting on the inspector's report to the internal committee and to the Department of Education, in which he said W. C. Paul, Latin and history teacher here, should be replaced, at once, the School Board hired Miss Pearl MacPherson, Toronto, to complete the term, beginning April 5. At the special meeting of the board on Thursday, the chairman, Donald Meyers, urged the trustees to decide on a salary schedule for High School teachers. For the next term, three teachers are being sought to teach home economics, physical education for girls and Latin, and physical education for boys and history. The applications received are not entirely satisfactory, the chairman said, and added that the board wanted teachers with better qualifications, and they must decide on the salaries to be paid. However, the salaries now being paid compare favorably with those of other schools of similar size, it was stated. The secretary was instructed to get more information concerning three of the most suitable applicants and to have advertisements continued.

Housing Gets Green Light Bottleneck Nearing End

OTTAWA, April 2—(CP)—The supply situation has given construction picture generally the "green light," and few bottlenecks now stand in the way of housing, Maj.-Gen. H. A. Young, vice-president of the Crown-owned Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation said today.

"Lumber now is plentiful," Gen. Young said, and many of the bottlenecks which in late 1946 and 1947 were causing building delays have been overcome." These were mainly plumbing, hardwood flooring, some electrical equipment, and gypsum products, he added.

One major source of grief still remaining, however, is pipes — pipes of all kinds.

Soil and sewage pipes still are in short supply, and the shortage has been accentuated because most municipalities have used up the serviced land adjacent to their centres. Futher housing must move to new subdivision, and these new houses may go for some weeks before acquiring sewages and water facilities.

A shortage of scrap iron, resulting in a lack of cast iron products, is held responsible. Otherwise, the supply picture is described as "generally fairly good."

Smelt Are Running

COBOURG, April 2 (ENS). — As expected, Wednesday's warm rain brought the smelt into creeks along the lakefront from Cobourg to Colborne. Smelt fishermen, who had only been getting one or two smelt a night during the earlier part of the week got well-filled nets on Wednesday night. They were at it again last night and unless a cold spell sets in, the popular fish should be running in large numbers this season.

Three Drivers Fined, Old License Plates

CAMPBELLFORD, April 2. — (ENS).—Mrs. B. K. Booth, Port Credit, found guilty of a charge of operating a motor vehicle without an operator's license of the current year, and a second charge of not having license plates of this year, paid a total fine of $15 and $7 costs in police court Thursday.

For driving a motor vehicle with license plates and chauffeur's license not of the current year, Sidney Barraball, Bowmanville, was fined $20 and 2.50 costs.

William Judge, Warsaw, was fined $10 and $4.50 costs on a charge of driving a motor vehicle without license plates of the current year.

Belleville Driver Will Stand Trial

OTTAWA, April 2 — Richard Rogers, 37, of Belleville, was committed for trial by higher court by County Magistrate Austin O'Connor this morning on a charge of possessing safebreaking tools by night. He subsequently appeared before Judge A. G. McDougall and was granted renewal of bail at $1,000.

The charge against Rogers arose from an accident in which a car he was driving was struck by a train on a Metcalfe highway crossing just south of Billings Bridge on February 22. On investigating and collecting goods found in the car, Provincial Police laid the charge.

Philip Arthur Richardson, 32, of Belleville, who was involved in the same accident and injured, appeared on a charge of possessing housebreaking instruments before Magistrate O'Connor. He was remanded for one week for preliminary hearing. Hyman Soloway is acting for the two accused men.

Canada Enjoying Unprecedented Boom–Abbott

NEW YORK, April 2—(CP)—Canada is enjoying a boom of unprecedented proportions even if the people do not seem to be aware of it, Finance Minister Abbott said Thursday night.

Public unawareness of the boom was due largely to "the abnormal way in which the usual barometer, the stock market, has been acting."

"Our gross national production has increased from $11,600,000,000 in 1945 to over $13,000,000,000 last year," he said in describing the proportions of the boom. "In 1938 it was $5,100,000,000."

Activity of this degree of intensity naturally exerts a severe strain on our economy and on our cost and price structure," he continued in an address to the Academy of Political Science.

Discussing taxation and inflation, Mr. Abbott said that "I shall be reporting to parliament in a budget speech a few weeks hence another surplus of such a magnitude as to bring a glow to the heart of any Canadian minister of finance." He gave no hint whether he would seek a similar surplus through this year's budget.

He questioned whether higher interest rates would lead to a less inflationary situation.

"It used to be the orthodox view and it is a view still held in some quarters, that the solution to the type of situation which exists today is to allow interest rates to rise to increase the supply of savings and to choke off the demand for them," he said.

"From the point of view of the industrial borrower, demand is so intense that it would take a really substantial change in interest rates to dampen his enthusiasm and make him defer his capital projects.

"What we need is a slowing down, not a cessation, of capital development."

Housing Issue Looked Upon As Row Between Howe And Drew

COBOURG, April 2 (ENS). — Every municipality affected and every branch of the Legion should make it known in plain, everyday language that the cancellation of the government subsidized housing has created a very acute situation, Mayor Joe Smith declared yesterday in a statement to The Examiner.

"I have sent a telegram to the Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe requesting him to reconsider the decision to halt the government-subsidized housing. We have people in Cobourg who need houses badly and we had expected to go ahead with 20 houses. I don't see why we have to be the victims of what is apparently a row between Mr. Howe and Mr. Drew. What I am concerned with is getting more houses for Cobourg," declared the Mayor.

A war veteran carpenter called on Councillor Fred Bell yesterday to ask the councillor if he knew what would happen to the proposed housing project. The carpenter was looking for work and had planned getting a job on the housing project. The councillor hoped the project would be resumed.

"It is too bad if this is going to be permanent. I hope it is just a row between Howe and Drew and that the results will be temporary. With a new factory here and the population of the town increased, we need houses badly," commented Councillor Bell.

The town of Cobourg has options on enough land at the west end of the town to accommodate the 20 houses and work would have stated this spring.

By-Election In BC

OTTAWA, April 2.—(CP). — Date of the Federal by-election in Yale, B.C., has been set at May 31, it was learned today from Prime Minister King's office. The election has been called to fill the vacancy created last year by the resignation of Hon. Grote Stirling, Progressive Conservative, because of poor health.

Commons vacancies also exist in Vancouver Centre and the riding of Ontario, but no dates have been announced for these contests.

Vancouver Centre was vacated by the resignation of Veterans Minister Mackenzie to enter the Senate, while the Ontario seat was left empty through the death last fall of W. E. N. Sinclair, Liberal.

The Bomb Is Not Immunized

At Lake Success on Tuesday the U.N. committee attempting to set up a World Atomic Energy Control Agency acknowledged failure. The long search for agreement ended when one after another of the eleven members of the committee added his discouraged voice to the American delegate's who asserted that there was no point in continuing the discussions in view of the disagreement between Russia on one side and, on the other, the majority of the nations represented on the U.N. Atomic Energy Commission. Canada's delegate, General A. G. L. McNaughton, summed up by saying "It now seems that we are at a dead end". The committee adjourned indefinitely.

• • •

Lacking agreement on some method of international control over the production of atomic energy and the manufacture and use of A-bombs, the future is awesome. The failure of the committee must be laid directly to Russia and her satellite Poland. When the long discussions began the United States was the only country with all the knowledge, the methods and the means to manufacture the weapon. It offered to share the knowledge and methods of producing atomic energy with all nations provided that there was adequate protection against diverting atomic energy from peace-time to war-time use. It was prepared to destroy its stock of bombs if such an agreement were reached in good faith. The Russian delegate insisted that the atomic bomb be outlawed and existing stocks destroyed before any agreement for international supervision and inspection was discussed. He refused to say that his government was prepared to agree to international control even after the existing stocks were destroyed.

• • •

It would have been folly for the United States, Canada or any other nation to accept the Russian proposal. The implication cannot be avoided that Russia wanted America's lead in atomic energy production destroyed so that it could start production on the same footing as the States. The nations of the world seem committed now to a fearful and costly atomic armaments race which may have an explosive end.

The National Research Council

One of the true wonders of Ottawa, indeed of the whole Dominion, is the National Research Council. It is a young organization and grew out of war needs, for it was founded in 1916 by the Canadian Government at the suggestion of the British Government. It became important immediately and during the last war its activities and usefulness multiplied a hundredfold. Nevertheless, it has peace-time functions of great though seemingly mystifying value. Consider, for instance, a report from the Food Microbiology section of the Division of Applied Biology:

Interest has shifted from the hard cures and preservatives used on Canadian Wiltshire bacon during the war to the milder cure which was shown to be necessary in peacetime to meet foreign competition. Analyses made at the request of the Meat Board indicate that in spite of the use of standard cures, differences in salt concentration between plants is the major source of variability in the final product.

The members of the Council (originally fifteen and a President) are exceptionally learned scientists. Most of them are university professors of international repute. The Members are brought together under the Council, primarily in order that the ingenuity and skill of Canadian scientists in all branches can be brought to bear on the solution of many technical problems of war and peace confronting Canada and the world. Thus the food microbiologists study bacon.

An apparent increase in saltiness has been observed during the storage of bacon and as this increase is more than can be accounted for by moisture loss, work is being continued.

The Council co-ordinates research work, organizes co-operative investigations in universities, industries and in its own laboratories. It has five main divisions, apart from the Atomic Energy Project taken over from Defence Industries Limited after the war.

A modified chemical method of riboflavin assay (antimony-trichleride-ethanol precipitation of interfering substances) was developed and successfully applied to cured pork; correlation with microbiological assay was high (r=.98).

The Council has about 1,400 employees, many hundreds of them being the most highly trained, most scientifically-educated men and women on the continent; people who are serving Canada at lower salaries than they would receive from industries or foreign governments. The Research Biologist in the Food Microbiology section holds three degrees.

Studies on the types of organisms in curing pickles, dropped during the war period, were resumed in 1946. It was found that considerably higher counts are obtained if the organisms are not subjected to the usual plating procedure; this is presumably due to the absence of heat shock.

The Council expended in the year 1945-46 $266,209. The results of its work are out of all proportion to the costs. The Atomic Energy Division at Chalk River will of course add greatly to the budget of the Council, but the Government (and the people) are not disposed to be niggardly about this work.

One of the complaints about Canadian oiled eggs is the appearance of mould in the air-cell, and a number of mycostatic agents have been added to the egg-dipping oils in an attempt to prevent mould development, but with little success to date. The work is continuing.

The work of the National Research Council for war and peace is continuing.

Democracy Is Not Foolproof

When the Government decided to refuse admission to known Communists who wanted to enter this country its action was, in a broad sense, illiberal, and was criticized on that ground. The Winnipeg Free Press, for instance, said:

> Democracy has stood the test for generations. It has met successive dictatorships and overthrown them. It has seen the passing of one tyranny after another, while it has gone forward to greater glories. It is an act of unjustified doubt in the very strength of our system to believe that it can be overthrown or really threatened by the clumsy, insensate reaction of Russian Communism or any other form of Communism.

These are brave words, but we feel considerable sympathy with this opposed opinion, as expressed by the Montreal Star:

> This is the conventional defence of the position, nobly expressed (that democracy cannot permit the outlawry of ideas), but we doubt at the moment whether it would carry much conviction inside the frontiers of Czechoslovakia, which was until last month a freedom-loving democracy of the kind here described.
> Is it an act of unjustified doubt in the strength of our system to admit that something has happened there? Is it unreal to suppose that the Czech system of democracy has been in fact overthrown by the "clumsy, insensate reaction of Russian Communism, or any other form of Communism?" These are questions to be asked with the utmost seriousness by everybody except those deaf and blind persons who go on believing that "it can't happen here".

The fact which we must face is that a minority of Canadians are democrats in the sense that they understand and value democracy, understand democratic theory, and are prepared to make sacrifices in order to maintain a democratic system. A great many Canadians are incapable of offering even the most meagre definition of democracy; a great many more have vaguely democratic feelings, but can easily be seduced by appeals to their special interest or to their prejudices; only a few are capable of seeing the dangers inherent in a political scheme which is dressed up in patriotic furbelows and bedizened with pseudo-democratic platitudes, but which is essentially undemocratic—such a scheme, for instance, as Communism.

Canadians are very poorly educated in political matters. We think that the Government is wise not to trust too much to the democratic instincts of the people at present. Our hearts are in the right place, but our heads are not too well stocked. Our democracy needs a great deal of strengthening before it will be proof against the wiles of Communism.

NOTE AND COMMENT

A professor at Toronto University says that economic pressure now makes it desirable to live in sin. Well, it has always been fairly desirable, but we hear that the forthcoming Budget will extend the Income Tax to include even the wages of sin!

"Wholesome" Barbara Ann won the Canadian championship last Saturday in Calgary. Here is what the Toronto Globe and Mail reports:

> Pretty Barbara Ann Scott . . . received one of the wildest ovations ever accorded a visiting celebrity from more than 6,000 spectators who jammed their way into Victoria Arena to watch her reform.

Never, surely, was a reformation so public, never one so enthusiastically acclaimed. We do think, however, that there is something indecent about the spectacle of 6,000 people witnessing a young girl's reformation.

The Examiner's London Letter

By J. D. CAMBRIDGE

THE Easter holiday season has driven all other thoughts from the minds of Londoners. Economic crisis and international situations are forgotten, and the people have been flocking to the seaside, the country, and numerous sporting events everywhere, taking advantage of one of the finest springs in living memory.

For the past few weeks the weather has been extremely good,—many hours of sunshine every day, and virtually no rain in the London area at least. It is hard not to be optimistic about the world in general under these conditions. Good Friday was on this pattern, as is today; bright sunshine with just a suggestion of coolness in the air, rather like a typical 24th May in Peterborough. Canadians will not appreciate how unusual a dry and sunny spring is in England. The contrast is most marked compared with last year, when the Easter week was cold and rainy, with floods in many areas resulting from the long freeze-up of February and March.

THE gardeners have been taking especial advantage of the sunny weather, and the country is smothered under many varieties of spring flowers. Daffodils are so plentiful that they were selling on Thursday for 10 cents a dozen, and Kew Gardens, London's great botanical centre, is in the heights of its spring glory. Those Londoners who have private gardens or allotments have been busy over these past few week-ends with the more mundane task of planting their cabbages and Brussels sprouts, "digging for plenty", as the government posters tell us. Already these vegetables are showing an encouraging green, promising great things for later on. If you like Brussels sprouts.

This is traditionally a week of sports. Today, soccer games, horse races, greyhound racing, and many other sporting events, not the least of which was the Oxford-Cambridge University boat race, a four mile event held on the Thames in London,—were all well attended. The fine weather produced record crowds everywhere. At a semi-final soccer game in Scotland a crowd of 130,000 was reported, and there is no estimate of the number who watched the boat race. The results however were firstly a decisive win for Cambridge, and secondly, a new record for the 94-year-old event, and this in spite of near-disaster for Cambridge in the opening minute of the race. This was the 50th victory for Cambridge, as against 44 for Oxford. The side-play was nearly as exciting as the race itself. A BBC announcer who was supposed to report the race from a plane had to make a forced landing, and a motor launch containing the Gentlemen of the Press collided with a river steamer, and a naval rescue was necessary. All spectators voted it a great success, race and rescue, and there will be great celebrations in Cambridge tonight.

A BY-ELECTION result was announced on Thursday. This was for the riding of Briggs, a northeastern England constituency having a large heavy industry population about equally balanced by the rural group. The Labour Government had formerly held it by a comfortable majority, and did so once again, with the majority somewhat reduced, although the total Labour Party vote was higher than the General Election total for 1945. The Conservative candidate considerably increased his total, but not sufficiently. The results here show a remarkable similarity to those in the Croydon by-election of several weeks ago, although of course the party standings are reversed; Croydon being and remaining a Conservative stronghold. The similarity is the fact that in both by-elections the two major parties have both increased their total vote, although the Conservative more so than the Labourites. As Croydon is a good white-collar workers' riding, and Briggs a combined agricultural and heavy industry group, certain deductions may be made as to the political temper of the country. Firstly, the Conservatives have increased their supporters by the greatest all opposition groups to the Government, and number, tending to be the rallying point for consequently, at the expense of all other opposition parties. Secondly, in spite of the many strains and irritations of present day conditions, the Labour Party has succeeded remarkably well in holding its position as the major party, and barring some unexpected development, would probably be returned to power with a reduced majority if a general election was to take place within the month. And lastly, the somewhat indirect observation can be made that rationing, austerity living, and the inflationary tendency of the country generally have not caused a reaction against the government in power. The old British ability to grin and bear it has never shown more clearly, and the spirit that saw Britain through the darkest days of the war should carry her through this gloomy period of reconstruction.

WHILE the international news becomes more depressing, I repeat, the Londoner finds it hard to be gloomy in this weather. Spring and sunshine have a magic effect on human temperament, and in several small ways there has been news to cheer even the pessimistic. Tourist travel is again to be permitted to a number of European countries this summer. There are strong rumours that a gasoline ration will be restored for pleasure driving in the near future, and food rationing has not noticeably worsened in recent months, in spite of the great fears to the contrary. These are all small things perhaps, and the thoughtful can easily point out the many weaknesses of Britain's position; the exhaustion of dollar credits, the uncertainty of world affairs, the grim forebodings of the Economic Survey for 1948, and other warnings of dangers ahead. But man does not live by bread alone, nor coal, steel, and cotton exports, and it is a churlish fellow indeed who does not find pleasure in the loveliness of an English spring, and an exceptionally beautiful one at that. This is the Easter message from London.

BOOSTER

We'll Miss the Old R.M.C.

(KINGSTON WHIG-STANDARD)

WHILE it was gratifying to learn that the Royal Military College will re-open this year as a cadet training school, it was disappointing to learn that the R.M.C. Kingston knew for so many years before the war will probably never come back. The uniforms to be worn by the new classes of cadets will be patterned after the pre-war model, but will not include the once-familiar "pill-box" hat. They will be navy blue — but apparently there will be no more "redcoats". No more, apparently, will the cadets wear grey Persian lamb caps and gauntlets in winter. And the Royal Military College colours will no longer be red and white, but dark blue, red and light blue.

These alterations are perhaps understandable, for R.M.C. has now become one of the two Canadian Services Colleges, the other being Royal Roads College, at Victoria, B.C. The identities of the two colleges were necessarily submerged to some extent when they were joined together as the Canadian Services Colleges, and the new uniforms and new colours probably represent as acceptable a combination of those of the two individual colleges as could be devised. Yet we cannot help regretting that some of the bright colour that the R.M.C. brought to Kingston in the past will not be seen again.

The cadets will undoubtedly march through the streets of Kingston again with the precision and swing of a Guards regiment, as in other years. But the jaunty pill-box and the scarlet tunics that once lent a special quality to these parades will not be there. Nor will there be the sight of the same uniform topped by a glistening white sun helmet on the great days of early summer. It is a pity, we think, that these things which were so long associated so closely with the glorious record of the Royal Military College should now be discarded.

It will be strange, as well, to see hockey and football teams of the Royal Military College—if the new College enters these sports—take ice or field wearing a tricolour of two blues and red, instead of the red and white R.M.C. teams wore in the past. The old colours were respected wherever they had been worn, for R.M.C. teams were never outgamed, although occasionally outclassed; in their strong years, they won their share of championships. Teams of the new college will probably have the spirit of the old, but it will take a little time to get used to the new colours.

We are confident, however, that one thing worn by the old R.M.C. will also be worn by the new—the motto of "Truth, Duty, Valour". May the new cadets live up to it as bravely and as brilliantly as the graduates of the past.

It Can Be Done!

With varying degrees of success, Brantford and other Ontario cities have put on, from time to time, campaigns designed to persuade people to go to the polls on election days. That it should be necessary to so coax intelligent people into doing something in their own interests, something other people in too many parts of the world are not allowed to do, is cause for ironic reflection.

However, that is the state of affairs, and it is a condition that stands in need of correction. Some improvement is possible, as has been shown by the excellent efforts of the Young Men's Section of the Board of Trade and other organizations in the past. A much greater improvement is likewise possible.

Any doubt on this score is wiped out by word lately received by the Civic Affairs Committee of the Brantford Board of Trade from the President of the Board of Trade of Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island.

In that city, to the amazement of all who heard about the phenomenon and probably to the citizens themselves, the last municipal election, held on February 11, rolled up an unprecedentedly high tally of balloting. No fewer than 91 per cent of the people on the voters' lists went to the polls. When those who, through illness, infirmity or absence, were unable to vote are taken into account, that 91 per cent must mean that nearly 100 per cent of the available vote was brought out.

Much of the credit for this astonishing and gratifying performance is given to the Charlottetown Board of Trade, which put on the get-out-the-vote drive with such evident effectiveness. The methods employed were not fantastic. The full co-operation of press and other publicity agencies was obtained and various reminders were sent to all citizens. The technique was simple, but it was persistently and vigorously and efficiently followed. It is now being studied by the local Board's Civic Affairs Committee.

On the face of it, what was accomplished in Charlottetown, P.E.I., should be equally feasible in Brantford, Ontario. It would be gratifying indeed if the Charlottetown formula could be so well applied in this city that next election day would see more than 90 per cent of the voters going to the polls.—Brantford Expositor.

A Bible Message

And straightway he constrained his disciples to get into the ship, and to go to the other side before unto Bethsaida, while he sent away the people. . . And when even was come, the ship was in the midst of the sea, and he alone on the land. And he saw them toiling in rowing; for the wind was contrary unto them: and about the fourth watch of the night he cometh unto them, walking upon the sea, and would have passed by them.

But when they saw him walking upon the sea, they supposed it had been a spirit, and cried out: for they all saw him, and were troubled. And immediately he talked with them, and saith unto them, Be of good cheer: it is I; be not afraid. And he went up unto them into the ship; and the wind ceased; and they were sore amazed in themselves beyond measure, and wondered. . And when they had passed over, they came into the land of Gennesaret, and drew to the shore.

And when they were come out of the ship, straightway they knew him, and ran through that whole region round about, and began to carry about in beds those that were sick, where they heard he was.

And whithersoever he entered, into villages, or cities, or country, they laid the sick in the streets, and besought him that they might touch if it were but the border of his garment: and as many as touched him were made whole. (Mark 6: 45, 47-51, 53-56.)

A BRITISH OPINION

MORE DANGEROUS than Communists are the red fellow travellers who haven't the courage to stand up and say they are Communists, John Fisher, noted CBC commentator and one of the last Canadians to leave Czechoslovakia before the Russian coup, said. Mr. Fisher told the opening luncheon of the 30th annual meeting of the Woodlands Section, Canadian Pulp and Paper Association: "A Communist fellow traveller plays along and only comes out of his corner when he feels it is safe. In Czechoslovakia, when the Communists, with Moscow's advice launched their fear campaign, hundreds of so called 'liberal thinkers' came out into the open." He pointed out that the great lesson for Canada is not to go around denouncing Communists as such, but to acquaint Canadians with the Party Line.

Olympic Trip Cost $36,000

By The Canadian Press.

LONDON, April 2.—Transportation and hotel costs for the RCAF Olympic hockey team during its nearly three-month European tour totalled an estimated £9,000 ($36,000), John Ahearne, general-secretary of the International Ice Hockey Federation said today.

Ahearne, also European representative for the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, said the amount paid him for a party of 20—17 players, a coach, manager and trainer—totalled £6,-151. The remainder will be made up by the hockey federations of Europe where the club played.

Ahearne is leaving April 15 for a CAHA meeting in Toronto April 23 and he will submit a financial statement to the CAHA executive committee.

WINS SIGNAL HONOR—Doris Hedges, well known Montreal writer and poet, whose short story, "The Boxing Lessons," has been chosen by the Canadian Arts Council to represent the Dominion of Canada in English prose at the Olympic Games in London this summer.

Canada Packers' Operatic Society Of Toronto To Present Opera In City

The theatre-going public is in for a real musical treat on Saturday, April 3, when the Canada Packers Operatic Society of Toronto presests the brilliant comic opera "Merrie England" in the Collegiate Auditorium under the auspices of the Young Married Couples' Club and Men's Association of St. Paul's Church. Two performance will be given: matinee at 2.15 p.m. and evening at 8.30 p.m.

The Canada Packers Operatic Society is composed of around 90 persons and in addition to their lengthy run at Eaton Auditorium perform in many other cities in the province. Critics give loud praise for the brilliant acting and choral singing, and stage settings. A large orchestra also accompanies this splendid group of artists. Peterborough is indeed very fortunate in being booked for this outstanding musical treat.

For First Time In History Congress Sees War Danger

By CLYDE BLACKBURN

WASHINGTON, April 2—(CP).—For the first time in its comparatively short history, the United States is contemplating the possibility of world war in which this country would be an original belligerent. The administration and congressional leaders of both old parties frankly and publicly accept the conclusion that Communism's bloodless conquest in Europe may force the choice between totalitarian enslavement here or war on a global scale.

For the first time the administration and Congress are trying to plan a foreign policy that accepts the inevitability of this country becoming involved when world peace is threatened.

President Roosevelt and a few other leaders saw danger in 1939 when Hitler started his conquest but it needed the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor two year later to drag the United States into the shooting war.

Situation Clear

Now the situation is crystal clear to the best and sanest minds in the United States. If there is to be another great war in the near future it will be between the United States and Russia.

It is sickeningly clear to any that if Communism's ambitions create an incident involving open use of military force, there will be no countries strong enough to hold the line until this country makes up its mind.

The sudden transition of Russia from a friendly and trused ally against a common foe to a cold, aloof and suspicious neighbour, has left the leaders of this country in a state of desperation and frustration.

Unless the administration and congressional leaders overdo their efforts to sell the people on the potential dangers in the preparedness program and a population conditioned to whatever the play of world events thrusts upon them.

Car Crashes Into Trent Canal Wall

The car of J. O'Brien, RR 8, Peterborough, crashed into the wall of the Trent Canal off Armour Road near the railroad crossing east of the city Wednesday afternoon. O'Brien, who was driving the car, will have charges preferred against him, police state.

The lower part of the car's radiator was dipped in the water of the canal, with the front bumper snagged on the concrete wall, preventing the vehicle from sliding completely into the water. PC S. Keliele investigated.

Open For Industry After April 30—Howe

TORONTO, April 2 — (CP) — Trade Minister Howe said here last night that the southern section of the old Dominion Industries plant at nearby Ajax will be open for new industries after April 30. After that date Ajax Chamber of Commerce might negotiate with any firm desiring the new location.

Mr. Howe said the University of Toronto property at Ajax would not be available until May 31, 1949, unless the university decided to vacate before that date.

Endorse Housing Bill

TORONTO, April 2.—(CP). — Executive members of the National House Builders' Association last night endorsed the bill introduced in the Ontario Legislature by Planning Minister Porter planned to assist housing in the province. John A. Griffin, vice-president and Campbell C. Holmes, treasurer of the Association, both of Toronto, said in a press release, "this constructive program will provide a great impetus to residential construction.

Smash Ice Jam

MONTREAL, April 2—(CP)—A huge ice-jam smashed, flood waters on the south shore of the St. Lawrence River went down rapidly last night removing the threat of further damage to the Montreal suburb of St. Lambert. Thousands of dollars worth of property damage was caused earlier today by the flood when the river backed up to a depth of eight feet into St. Lambert basements.

BBC Affected

GENEVA, April 2 — (CP). — An American call for condemnation of all monopolies in distribution of information would mean the banning of the British Broadcasting Corporation, a British delegate told the United Nations Conference on Freedom of Information here yesterday. The delegate Ernest Davies, proposed deletion from the American resolution of a recommendation to avoid "all monopolies particularly those of a governmental nature."

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

General Manager Frank Selke of Montreal announced yesterday that on April 12, the feud between the now-defunct Montreal Maroons and Montreal Canadiens will be revived with proceeds going to two children's hospitals.

Butch Bouchard, will boss the Canadiens, including Albert (Battleship) Leduc, Newsy Lalonde, Joe Malone and others from the old club. Some Montreal Royals will fill out the squad. Kenny Reardon, rock-ribbed defenceman and Bouchard's partner, will take over the Maroon line-up with such rugged old timers as Nels (Old Poison) Stewart, Hooley Smith, Cy Wentworth, and Archie Wilcox, with further help from the Royals.

Joe Louis said at Brussels yesterday he wasn't impressed by boxing standards in Europe and "that there certainly are no good heavyweights in this part of the world."

Promotor Andy Niederreitred said at New York yesterday that Rocky Graziano, world middleweight boxing champion under suspension in New York, would defend his title against former champion Tony Zale in Newark, N.J., June 9.

Chatsworth-Durham Combines won the unofficial Geeorgian Bay district juvenile hockey championship yesterday by trouncing Collingwood Cubs 14-6.

Minneapolis Defeats Fort Worth By 5-2

By The Associated Press

The arch-rivals of the United States Hockey League Kansas City and Minneapolis, appeared today to have a good chance to settle the enmity they stirred up in the regular season.

Kansas City and Minneapolis finished the season with the same number of points in the standings, but Kansas was awarded first place because of a greater number of victories. Minneapolis accumulated more points on ties than did Kansas City.

Minneapolis defeated Fort Worth 5-2 last night at Minneapolis to win the semi-final series of the playoff.

The Pilamors scored twice in the second and third periods at Houston last night to take a 4-1 victory over the Huskies.

Discover Gold On Actor's Land Near Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, April 2 (AP).—Gold — the real thing — has been discovered in these here hills by James Gleason. But the find is not calculated to start any new gold rush to California.

Of all places, the discovery was made in the wealthy Mandeville Canyon district where Gleasons, Jean Arthur, Macdonald Carey, Gregory Peck and many other Hollywood personalities live. A bulldozer uncovered an outcrop of gold-bearing quartz on Jimmy's land near the head of the canyon, which is a few miles from the ocean.

Jimmy says the gold assays at only $12.75 a ton, so he's not going to mine the ore.

Swell Guy

My favorite actor will be one of the stars of "My Dream Is Yours." I am referring to that great performer, who never complains about his roles or his billing, and always give a great performance — Bugs Bunny. He'll appear in a musical number with Manitoba's Jack Carson and Doris Day. Good boy, Bugs!

Virginia Mayo shelved a few pounds during her recent illness and looks different. "I like the New Look," she says, "it gives my face more character."

"Sunburst," has a new title — "This Side of The Law." The reason is interesting: "Sunburst" was considered too good a title for a minor-budget picture . . the title tune of Paramount's "Isn't It Romantic?" has been removed from the picture. It was considered the least appealing of the film's seven songs!

10-Second Review

"For Apache" (R-K-O) has everything it takes for screen entertainment. It has laughs, romance, drama and plenty of Western action, all wrapped up by the master hand of John Ford Henry Fonda, Shirley Temple, John Wayne, and John Agara head the big and wonderful cast. It can't fail.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Basketballers of the feminine gender hold forth in a twin bill this e'en in the YWCA gym. Nurses and Neill's have a senior scrap at 8.15, second joust of their best-of-three finals with Nurses one up. St. Paul's and CGE open their two-in-three junior finals at 9.15 of the clock, and both games ought to be highly interesting affairs of playoff calibre. Normals won intermediate honors nearly two weeks ago. Nurses and Neill's (if the latter win tonight) go again on April 9, same date as the second junior final fray is listed. Meantime, a PCVS boys' cage crew is playing in the annual Kingston tourney and something should be in elsewhere this eve on their showing.

* * * * * *

It is said that a soft heart oft beats beneath a rough exterior—or some such. And we note where one Maurice (the Angel) Tillet, a French grappler currently doing his stuff in Toronto, helps maintain a boys' orphanage in France. Regularly sends money, clothing and food from wherever he happens to be. As the "Angel" has never appeared here, it is but hearsay to describe his appearance, but he is one homely hombre, unquestionably. Short and squat with a huge misshapen head and barrel body on short legs he is something of a freak, though a powerful one. Played soccer for France against England one time ere taking to wrestling, we hear. Anyway, more power to him if he is turning over part of his purses to help boys.

Like Old Man River

According to Bun Morganson, down looking over the Leafs in Florida, Connie Mack has seldom been seen in better spirits. The likeable manager of the Philly Athletics is 87 years of age and still going strong! He told Bunny: "From what I've seen of your ball club in games they played against the Athletics, it looks as if Toronto will have a pretty fast team this summer. I like Stan Lopata, your new catcher, very well. He handles himself expertly behind the plate and should prove to be a great aid in bolstering the effectiveness of the pitching staff." Showing the old gent is as keen as ever on his beloved baseball. And at 87 years of age, mind you!

* * * * * *

When we're that age, we'll do well to limp over the bridge and into the old grandstand at Riverside—though they may rebuild it ere then—and watch the younger generation cavorting on the diamond. As we quaveringly discuss, with other oldtimers, about the site for the Memorial Centre and such like. But we certainly won't be managing a club, even a minor amateur one, like Mr. Cornelius McGillicuddy—Connie Mack to you—at that advanced age. We've often seen the tall, lean gray-haired gent leaning out of the visitors' dugout at Navin Field and waving his famed scorecard in signals to the A's. A real diamond institution and may he last until he's 97, anyway.

Vinny Keeps Playing

Speaking of elderly characters in sports, we note where Vinny McQuaide has signed again with Kingston Ponies in that Class "C" pro ball loop. Vinny played a lot of ball for the amateur Ponies in the pre-war COBL against the Petes, but is still rated good enough for another whirl in professional company. He can't be any chicken now. Also signed by the Ponies is Arnie Jarrell, good southpaw flinger, who was seen in ice action for Kingston Saints 'gainst the Petes and Legionnaires last winter. Reports are that the Ponies, affiliated with Boston Braves, will be much stronger this summer. Ottawa won the Can.-Am. title last autumn.

* * * * * *

Gladys Mortimer, Bill Bennett and other local PWSU followers will be interested in this item by Fanny Rosenfeld: "It has happened. Jimmy Wilson, ubiquitous sports figure in the Hamilton district, has summonsed the executive of the Provincial Women's Softball Union to the courts and is suing them for defamation of character. The suit arises out of a PWSU sentence handed Wilson last August when he was suspended for 'unethical conduct in girls' softball'. This space has but one terse comment: Sport squabbles have no place in the law courts. They should be threshed out in sports committee rooms." True enough.

Bruins Not Out Yet

While Red Wings were taking the Rangers 3-1 to lead their half of the Stanley Cup semi-finals, three games to two, last p.m., the Bruins yanked out a 3-2 nod o'er Leafs on Boston ice. Earned the win in a good game, though Leafs were fluttering around them plenty in the final five minutes. Broda was lifted with more than a minute to go and six Toronto players parked on Brimsek's doorstep passing a hot biscuit around in furious fashion. Next chapter of the serial is in Toronto tomorrow night and it will probably wind up there. Bruins can't beat the Leafs in four straight.

Shockey's Tied For Second With Ramblers

Shockey's with a six-point win from Generals, went into a tie for second place with Ramblers as the Herron squad dropped all games to Kawarthas in a very closely-fought battle.

King George took six points from Empress Old Timers to move up into fourth place as Plazas dropped one game to Legion to slide back into sixth place. McGillis also blanked De Laval as Clapper's, Freeman's and Grant's each took two games from Fashion Craft, Spartons and Sunocos.

BASEBALL

NEW YORK, April 2 (AP). — Leo Durocher took a pencil and marked a large X opposite a name on the glossy roster of his Brooklyn Dodgers.

"There,' he said, 'is a fellow who could become the bell cow of our staff. Don't limit him to No. 5 or even No. 2. He might even become our best pitcher."

The fellow whose name he marked was Jack Banta, a tall thin right-hander who last year won 15 and lost 5 for Montreal.

Facing two weeks of Southern Association opposition at New Orleans, Detroit Tigers will do some more experimenting at first base and shortstop.

Washington Senators' squad was trimmed down to 31 players today with at least three pitchers, an outfielder and an infielder still due for tickets back to the minors.

Players Ignore Aching Muscles

NEW YORK, April 2 (AP). — It was about this stage of spring training that the fabulous fictional Busher pencilled on a postcard: "Dear Mom: I'll be home soon. They're starting to curve 'em now." . . . Countless youngsters are writing the 1948 version of the same thing, and among them are a few older men who probably hesitate to write at all . . . These are the fellows whose sore arms, creaking legs, and aching muscles are not responding to training as they should . . . They may come around in time, but if they don't it means the end of a career and the beginning of a search for a new way to make a living.

Clinical Report

To pick a few examples, the Yankees' Bill Bevens, who came within inches of pitching the first World Series no-hitter last fall, came up the other day with a sore arm so painful he insisted he was "through" . . . And ancient Bucky Walters keeps punishing himself by throwing with a wing that jumps like a toothache every time he cuts loose . . . And in the Boston Red Sox camp Boo Ferris hasn't regained his control and winning form of 1946 and they say he still is "aiming" his pitches. Micky Harris and Tex Hughson are also below form.

Expect Button To Take Title

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., April 2.—(AP).—Richard Button is well on his way toward annexing another senior men's national figure skating title, but Gretchen Merrill has a fight on her hands for the women's crown.

For Button, the national championship will complete a grand slam of the world's major men's skating titles. He won the Olympic, world and European titles in Europe during the winter while Ottawa's Barbara Ann Scott was capturing the corresponding women's crowns.

The 18-year-old Englewood, N.J. youth was far superior to his four opponents in the compulsory figures yesterday.

Yvonne Sherman of New York executed the required figures flawlessly to raie ahead of Miss Merrill in school figures.

The defending champion from Boston must overcome Miss Sherman's lead—school figures count 60 per cent toward the title—in the free skating today and tomorrow night.

Power Regulations Suspended in Southern Ontario System

As a result of the recent improvement in water conditions, there has been a substantial increase in the amount of electrical energy available to the Southern Ontario System. The Commission is, therefore, very glad to announce that:

"the Regulations made by the Commission under the Power Commission Act restricting the use of electricity for certain purposes which became effective November 10, 1947, are suspended in the Southern Ontario System as of March 31st, 1948, until further notice."

Although generating resources have been augmented, they are not unlimited, and should the suspension of these restrictions result in an abnormal increase in the use of electricity, or should generating resources be substantially reduced from any cause whatsoever, it may be necessary either to reimpose restrictions or allocate power on a quota basis.

Bruins Prolong Series Edge Toronto Leafs 3-2

BOSTON, April 2 — (CP) — Boston Bruins hockey fans, dropping the air of gloom and melancholy that has pervaded the sports atmosphere here for some time past, were confident today.

Their favorite Bruins, fighting with their backs to the wall to avoid elimination in their hunt for the Stanley Cup, returned to their form of yore last night to rack up a 3-2 decision over Toronto's Maple Leafs. The semi-final series now stands at three games to one in favor of the Leafs.

More than double the regular police protection was on hand for the game, fearing a renewal of Tuesday's rumpus that resulted in a battle royal and in charges of assault being laid against referees Frank (King) Clancy and George Hayes. Clancy and Hayes were acquitted yesterday.

Clancy kept last night's game completely under control, however, and only four minor penalties were handed out—two to each side.

Sparked Attack

Johnny Peirson sparked the Boston attack with a pair of goals with Eddie Sandford tallying the other. After Sandford had opened up the scoring, the Leafs pulled up on even terms in the second period on a counter by Bill Ezinicki. But before the period was over Peirson had again given the home team the edge.

Peirson's second goal increased the Bruins' lead before the Leafs came through for the final goal of the night on an effort by Syl Apps.

The hard-earned triumph revived the Bruins' drooping spirit.

"I felt confident we would not be knocked out in four straight games," said jubilant Dit Clapper, Boston coach, after the game. "We got all our bad hockey out of our system during the second and third games and now we're back in form."

Coach Hap Day of the Leafs agreed with Clapper.

"They had their backs to the wall and they came out fighting," Day said. "We didn't play our usual game and made too many mistakes."

Detroit Wings Whip Rangers In 3-1 Triumph

DETROIT, April 2—(CP)—The "home ice series"—as the Detroit Red Wings-New York Rangers semi-final National Hockey League playoffs could be referred to—continues true to form.

The Wings took their third straight game at home—last night's score was 3-1—while both Rangers victories came at Madison Square Gardens. Detroit leads the best-of-seven series three games to two.

Sparkplug of the Detroit attack was rookie defenceman Len Kelly who scored twice to give 13,442 fans something to remember. Pete Horeck got the other Detroit tally while Buddy O'Connor scored for the Rangers.

If the series runs true to form, Rangers will tie proceedings Sunday at New York and Detroit will take the series at home Tuesday.

Chuck Rayner turned back 29 Detroit shots while Harry Lumley made only 17 stops in the Detroit nets.

Kelly's first goal was a 60-foot shot that trickled past Rayner on the short hop for a goal. Detroit hoisted its lead in the second period to 2-0 on Pete Horeck's flashy goal off Howe's fine pass at the corner of the cage.

Kelly's second tally came on a Horeck pass in the third.

O'Connor's goal came in a third period flurry, 66 seconds before Kely's second counter.

Barons Trounce Providence 8-1

By The Canadian Press

Odd-makers today were giving Buffalo Bisons little chance of beating Cleveland Barons in the American Hockey League finals which get underway tomorrow in Cleveland.

Barons advanced to the Calder Cup final round last night when they swept aside Providence Reds 8-1 to take a best-of-seven series 4-1. Buffalo reached the finals by downing New Haven Ramblers and Hershey Bears twice each.

Johnny Holta, a centre who has scored more than 100 goals for Cleveland during the last two years, sparked the Barons' attack with a pair of goals.

The Barons and Buffalo are in the league finals for the third time in five years.

A moderate run of 4,200 cattle was added to some 350 head carried from the previous week. Trading showed little life and only the lightness of supply allowed a fairly good cleanup. The weighty steers were in small numbers but were sufficient for requirements.

Small lots of steers sold at $15-$16.75. Butcher steers were $13-$15.75 and a few choice up to $16.25. Butcher heifers brought $12-$15.75. Fed yearlings were $15-$17.75, and bulls were weak at $9-$11.50 cwt. The few stockers and feeders offered sold at $12-$15 cwt. according to quality. Pay Tribute To Nixon On Birthday

TORODNTO, April 2 (CP). — Dean of the Ontario Legislature and successful candidate of eight provincial elections, Harry C. Nixon, Liberal member for Brant, heard tributes from all parties on the occasion of his 57th birthday yesterday.

"The older he gets and the older I get, the more I like him," said Agriculture Minister T. L. Kennedy, who was acting Premier during the sitting. "I must truthfully say that I have a deep regard for the honorable member from Brant."

W. J. Grummett, CCF House Leader, A. A. MacLeod (LPP-Toronto Bellwoods), Aurelian Belanger, a fellow Liberal member for Prescott, and Thomas Dent (PC-Oxford) offered glowing tributes to Mr. Nixon, who has been in the Legislature for 29 years.

Mr. Nixon, wearing a rose in his lapel given him by his wife, commented on remarks by Mr. MacLeod, who suggested that the member for Brant would soon be elevated to the Senate.

Mr. Nixon said he would be happy to sit for some time to come as member for Brant.

Residing at St. George, near Brantford, Mr. Nixon can claim the honor of being the youngest Cabinet minister in Ontario history. He was sworn in as Provincial Treasurer in the Drury Government in 1919 at the age of 28.

PICTURES TELL STORY OF CANCER—Three out of 10 people can be saved if cancer symptoms are recognized and treated in the early stages, according to medical authorities. Only way to tell whether a growth is cancer or not is by examining part of it under microscope, left. The crusade against cancer today is focused on early treatment and education of the public to seek immediate medical treatment. Cancer of the lung will show up as a solid mass on TB lung X-rays, according to medical authorities. Surgery, X-rays and radium are the only recognized methods that can control cancer, according to information from the Canadian Cancer Society. In its crusade against cancer this month, the Society is campaigning for dollar memberships to help in the work of making cancer information available to all. The objective in Ontario is to enroll 150,000 new members with donations of one dollar or more.

Jobs Held For Vets At University

BY NORMAN CRIBBENS

LONDON, April 2 (CP)—Britain's veteran students—the estimated 28,600 who left their classes to join the war effort—are on the last lap of their University and College courses.

Most are in the late 20s; many have turned 30. Except for those on five-year courses, such as medicine and architecture, most of the veterans will qualify this summer and take up civilian careers.

Many of the 18,000-odd students at London University, which has 36 different colleges, had their places kept vacant for six of seven years while they were on war service.

Typical of these is J. H. Linford, 35-year-old Winnipeg chemist, who came to the University on an I. O. D. E. scholarship in 1939 to work for his doctorate of philosophy. War interrupted his studies. He served throughtout in the British Royal Naval Scientific Service returning to the University last year.

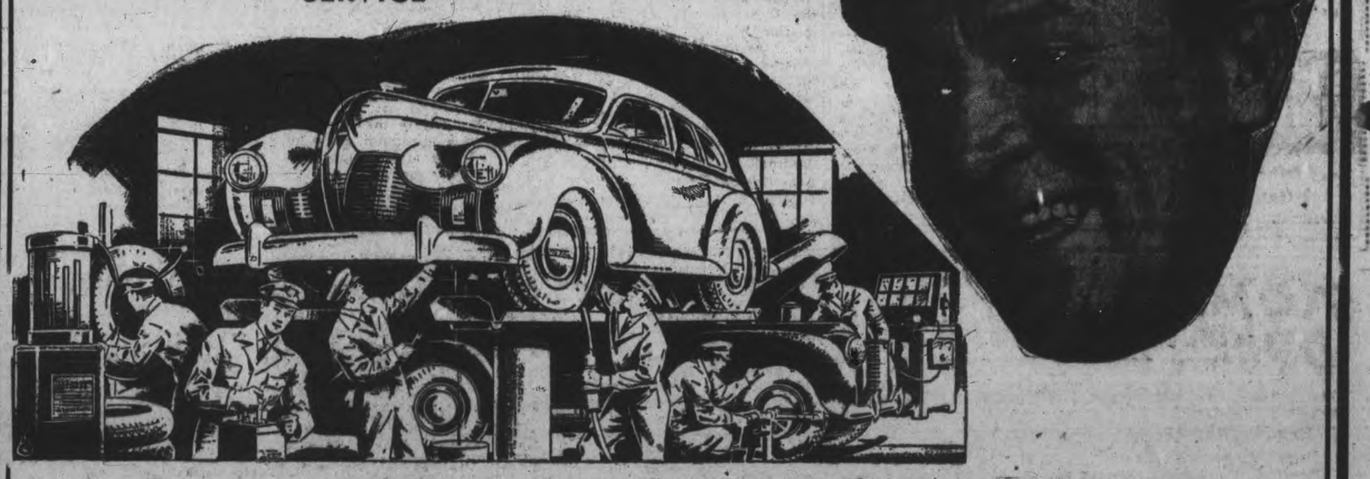
On Absence Leave

"I hope to get my degree by the end of the Summer," Linford said. "Then I expect to return to Pinnipeg. I am actually on leave of absence from the cancer research institute there."

Linford got his B. SC. at the University of Manitoba in 1935 and his M. SC. while engaged on cancer research in 1937.

There are several other Canadian students at the University including G. H. Loane, Moncton, N.B., studying for a master's degree in engineering on a Beaverbrook scholarship.

Cancer Fund Drive



TORONTO, April 2.—(CP).—A one-month membership campaign "to fight cancer with facts" was launched yesterday by the Ontario branch of the Canadian Cancer Society. It is part of a Dominion-wide drive. The Ontario branch's 20 units will canvas toward a goal of 150,000 dollar-or-more memberships.

Plan To Spend 21 Million On Rural Hydro

TORONTO, April 2 —(CP)—A $21,600,000 program for rural Hydro extension was forecast for this year by Provincial Treasurer Frost in the budget speech to the Ontario Legislature today.

The sum—almost three times the total spent from 1943 to 1947—will be devoted to construction of 3,400 miles of rural power line which will add some 30,000 customers to Hydro, Mr. Frost said.

"Since this government assumed office and up to Oct. 31, 1947, this administration has expended more than $7,500,000 in rural extensions. This coming year it is appropriating for rural extensions the huge sum of $10,800,000. This sum will be matched by the Hydro-Electric Power Commission, with the result that the total construction program this year will be $21,600,000."

Mr. Frost said that from 1944 until last October, 3,679 miles of lines had been constructed, adding 58,248 customers. The governments five-year expansion plan, started in 1944. It had been completed in four years.

Extra Expenditure

What is planned for this year is in addition to the five-year plan, Mr. Frost said. "This year we have more than 100,000 horsepower of new energy coming in and of this agriculture will get its proper share."

This will be provided by developments at Stewartville, Tunnel Site and Ear Falls, due to go into operation before the end of the year.

Four other developments would provide another 774,000 horsepower by 1951.

Mr. Frost called for abolition of Hydro waste as an aid to continuing the high standard of living in Ontario. Ontario used four times as much power per capita as Great Britain and twice as much as the United States. In the last eight years average domestic consumption had increased from 175 kilowatt hours monthly to 226 kilowatt hours a person.

In the next four years — the heaviest period of expenditure for Hydro development—$275,000,000 would be needed to finance Hydro developments including conversion of the Southern Ontario system from 25 to 60-cycle frequency.

Gross Capital Payments

TORONTO, April 2—(CP)—Gross capital payments by the Ontario government in the fiscal year ended March 31, 1948 (10 months actual, two months estimated) compared with estimates for the same year and estimates for the new fiscal year ending March 31, 1949:—

Believe Ontario Municipalities Can Soon Reduce Tax Rates

TORONTO, April 2 — (CP). — Ontario municipalities may soon be able to reduce their tax rate, provincial treasurer Frost said today in his budget address to the Ontario Legislature.

Discussing increased government grants to municipalities to relieve real estate of some of its taxation burden, the provincial treasurer said municipal costs rose after the war because of increased prices and a backlog of essential work. It was possible that a peak had been reached and expenditure would begin to drop. Government grants helped to keep municipal costs down.

"It can therefore be said that, in these days of tremendously mounting costs for service of all kinds, the upward trend of municipal costs is at a point of stabilization and from now on we may look to municipal tax reductions."

More For Education

In the coming fiscal year, provincial educational grants would amount to $33,200,000, an increase of $4,328,000 over the last year. In 1943, educational grants amounted to $8,351,824. Grants for municipay foads increased from $3,589,480 in 1943 to an estimated $15,990,000. Grants to public libraries and hospitals had increased. The one-mill subsidy to municipalities would be continued—at a cost in the next year of $3,325,000.

Mr. Frost said that increases in government assistance since 1943 ranged from 4.3 to 12.9 mills for five selected municipalities—Toronto, Brantford, Kingston, the town of Orillia and the township of Amabel in Bruce county.

He presented the following table to show the grants:—

MORE ABOUT—

Frost

The budget looks on the seven per cent corporation tax as the biggest revenue producer in the new fiscal year, an estimated $50,000,000. Liquor is expected to provide $26,000,000, gasoline taxes $45,500,000 and succession duties $15,000,000.

Several Projects

The treasurer also announced: Expenditure of $57,000,000 on highways in the next year compared with $61,900,000 in the last fiscal year; school grants totalling $33,000,000, an increase of $4,328,000; tax adjustments designed to stimulate production of natural gas, petroleum and minerals; $21,000,000 required for debt refunding and $360,000,000 for Hydro and other development projects in the next four years; continuation of the one-mill municipal subsidy, estimated at $3,325,000; dental care for children of beneficiaries under the Mother's Allowance Act; a $21,600,000 rural electrification program.

He repeated again the Ontario request that the Dominion Government reconvene the Dominion-Provincial Conference to seek agreement on social security programs and cited figures to support his contention that Ontario acted wisely in refusing to accept a Dominion grant in return for yielding provincial fields of taxation.

The proposed Dominion payment for tax field rental in the last year would have amounted to $74,438,000. The Ontario Government collected from these tax sources $72,063,000 without levying a personal income tax. It would have produced another $15,800,000 and made the total $87,863,000.

Better Off

The financial benefits accruing to this province as a result of the non-acceptace of the Dominion's tax proposals must now be understood and fully appreciated by every member of this assembly. In sharp contrast to our own comfortable situation due to our insistence upon retaining our constitutional taxing powers is the plight in which one of the agreeing provinces finds itself after one full year of functioning without the framework of the Dominion-Provincial tax agreement. The providence I have in mind is British Columbia."

The west coast province recently imposed a three per cent sales tax to obtain revenue of $12,000,000. Mr. Frost quoted the budget speech of Provincial Treasurer Anscomb who said the agreement with the Dominion prevented B.C. from entering other tax fields and "there is, therefore, no alternative but to consider the only source of revenue capable of yielding sufficient funds."

Mr. Frost continued: "Compare this with the position of the Province of Ontario with no sales tax and no personal income tax, free from any financial straight-jacket, but with its full financial freedom to raise, without restrictions, revenues from sources best able to pay."

Optimistic Speech

Mr. Frost spoke at length, and in optimistic vein, of Ontario, its natural resources, its position as the leading manufacturing province, its mines, its iron and steel industry, its agricultural wealth —and its possibilities for future growth.

The government's plan for future development included the use of its credit enhanced by its debt reduction program. In the next four years the province would be called on to guarantee capital investment of some $350,000,000—about $275,000,000 for the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario, the balance for the $30,000,000 housing scheme, purchase of equipment for the provincially-owned Ontario Northland Railway and other subsidiaries. In the same period another $210,000,000 would be required for provincial debt refunding.

Debt Under Control

Mr. Frost estimated the net debt at the end of the last fiscal year as $468,083,820. He said the government aimed at keeping thte debt strictly under control in spite of the need for raising new money to finance costs of future capital works.

This year, the government planned to continue its rural electrification program with the eventual aim of making electricity available in all forming areas in the province. Since 1944 it had built 3,679 miles of new line and added 58,248 new customers. The 1948 program called for 3,400 miles of line and 30,000 additional customers. The government appropriation of $10,800,000 for this program would be matched by the Hydro Commission, and bring total expenditure to $21,600,000.

The highway program in the last year, costing $61,900,000 was the largest in the province's history. This covered more than 1,000 miles of road—paved, concrete, asphalt annd mulch surfaces—and major work on mining roads. In the coming year expenditure would amount to $57,000,000—"which covers the maximum amount of work which the Department can do with available labor, machinery and material."

Welfare Services

Cost of welfare services continued to increase, despite high employment. The figure for the coming year was estimated at $17,000,000 compared with total expenditures of $9,600,000 five years ago. Health services to mothers receiving mothers' allowances were being expanded to include dental care for children.

Expenditures of $8,200,000 were planned for the Department of Lands and Forests. The Government had doubled the number of transport and semi-transport aircraft in the provincial air service. Nursery stock production had been bosted by 30,000,000 trees annually. Research had been expanded.

May Increase

In mining, it was possible that the dollar value of production in 1948 would exceed the high of $269,000,000 in 1943. Iron ore was playing an increasingly important part in the mining picture. He mentioned present and future developments in Steep Rock Lake, in the Lakehead district, and at Michipicoten and the Goulais River range in the Sault Ste. Marie district. The trend in gold output was toward improvement.

Increased assistance to municipalities helped to relieve real estate of its tax burden, transferring some of it to wider fields. Grants for the new year would be $37,248,896 more than before 1943. Grants to hospitals and libraries had also been increased,

"It can...be said that, in these days of tremendously mounting costs is at a point of stabilization and from now on we may look for municipal tax reductions."

Continue Subsidy

The government planned to continue its stabilizing subsidy to mining municipalities which do not collect real estate taxes from mining properties. Their revenue from government grants had been fixed at an amount practically double the statutory rate, with a minimum guarantee for five years at the high level. The estimates provided $180,000 for this subsidy in the new year.

The treasurer announced three tax changes: the rate of tax on insurance premiums would be reduced to two per cent to bring it in line with other provinces—present rate was 1.75 per cent with a 25 per cent surtax; companies drilling for natural gas or petroleum, or engaged in mining exploration, would be allowed a special deduction from taxable income equal to the amounts they spend in this work in Ontario; the Mining Tax Act would be amended to allow an exemption up to $250 payable as royalty on production of natural gas.

Expect To Spend 4 Million More On Health

TORONTO, April 2.—(CP). — Ontario expects to spend some $4,500,000 more on health and welfare in the new fiscal year, Provincial Treasurer Frost said today in the Legislature budget address.

Public welfare estimates are $16,934,519 compared with $14,000,000 in the year ended March 31, 1948, while health estimates of $21,901,600 compare with $20,222,000 last year.

Mr. Frost emphasized that the figure did not contain the amount to be raised under the amusement tax recently passed by the province to go into effect when the Dominion vacates the field. Revenue from the 20 per cent tax will go into a special health development fund and thus forms no part of the province's revenue, Mr. Frost said.

Pensions Increase

Expenditures for old age pensions were rapidly increasing as a result of the province entering into agreement with the Dominion to provide greater monthly pensions and because a person could qualify for pensions with larger outside income than hitherto.

In 1943 there were 57,692 old age pensioners in Ontario costing the province $3,500,000. Last year there were 70,850 pensioners and cost was more than $7,000,000.

New pension applications were being received at the rate of from 1,800 to 2,000 a month.

Mr. Frost recalled that during the last year a bonus of up to $10 a month, based on need, had been extended to old age pensioners.

He disclosed an increase from 1,502 blind pensioners in 1943 to 1,790 this year with expenditures increased from about $97,000 to more than $227,000.

Grants to sanitoria are heavily increased as well, he said. The sum of $3,450,000 was included for general hospital, capital and maintenance grants which would be placed in the hospitals' aid fund.

Steel Plants Braced For New Body Blows

PITTSBRG, April 2.—(AP).—The steel industry, maker of raw materials for most United States manufacturers, set itself to take body blows next week. Its only hope is that the soft coal walkout ends quickly.

Already 44 furnaces have been shut down and 13 others will be banked within a few days. Announced layoffs will push the number of idle steel workers to at least 50,000 within the next six days.

Hopes for stopping the 19-day-old coal strike centred on possible action by President Truman or Congress.

Thinks Ottawa Given Break In Tax Rejection

TORONTO, April 2.—(CP). — The Ontario government acted with "foresight and wisdom" in refusing the Dominion offer of a fixed grant for provincial taxation fields, Provincial Treasurer Frost said in his budget address to the Legisltaure today.

He declared that provincial tax fields for which the Federal government would have paid $74,438,000 were worth $87,863,000 in the fiscal year ended March 31.

Mr. Frost coupled his review of Dominion-Provincial relations with a reiterated request that the Federal government reconvene the Dominion Provincial conference.

Better Off

The treasurer said the actual revenue from Ontario taxation fields sought by the Dominion was $72,063,000. But, Ontario, if it had wished, could have imposed a personal income tax, five per cent of the Dominion income tax, from which it would have been deductible. This would have brought additional revenue of $15,800,000. The total of $87,863,000 was more than $13,000,000 in excess of what the Dominion had offered.

Mr. Frost went on to say that Dominion government surplus this year may exceed $800,000,000.

"Obviously, the course taken by Ontario has helped rather than hindered the Dominion, which has been relieved of the necessity of raising approximately $74,000,000 to hand over to Ontario by way of subvention.

"The Dominion does not have to face this heavy obligation and finds itself in a substantial surplus position. There is every reason why the Dominion should now reconvene the Dominion-Provincial conference when plans might be laid for it to implement its pledges relative to old age pensions for every one over 70 years of age without a means test, and for other social security measures which have been advanced by both the Dominion and the provinces.

"TINDER BOX OF EUROPE"

Blame Hoarding By Housewives For Serious Butter Shortage

By GEORGE KITCHEN.

OTAWA, April 2 — (CP) — Canada is suffering from too many pounds of butter tucked away in the ice-box. That is the way a Prices Board official sizes up the butter situation.

Odd though it may sound, he said, it is one of the basic reasons for the country's current butter shortage. It means, literally, that too many housewives, anticipating a decline in supplies, have been putting too many pounds away against the butterless days.

True, there was going to be a shortage anyway. It was bound to come, the way Canadians have been gobbling up butter since the ration was removed last June. Added to this is the fact this normally is a period of low butter production. But the hoarding by the situation, has only made it worse.

May Last Three Weeks

At the moment, it looks as though the butter famine may last another three weeks. After that, supplies should increase.

Estimates of the current supply position won't be available for another 10 days or so, but totals covering the situation as of March 25 show that in nine of the larger Canadian cities stocks were down 1,300,000 pounds from the preceding week. The stocks were 5,033,670 pounds at March 25 against 6,348,703 at March 19.

The shortage hits particularly hard at the larger cities, where distribution problems are multiplied. Thus, Montreal, with its 1,000,000 or more of population, is extremely short of butter. The smaller the city, the less the hardship.

One way to solve the situation might be to reimpose rationing, but Prices Board officials rule out this possibility. It would, they say, be an unnecessary expense and inconvenience to consumers to form a complex rationing organization and re-issue ration books throughout the country to meet a shortage which will last only three weeks or a month at the most.

Newman Heads Federation In Victoria

LINDSAY, April 2.—(ENS).—At the annual meeting of the Victoria County Federation of Agriculture here Thursday, the following officers were elected: Past president, C. D. Logan; president, William Newman of Lorneville; 1st vice-president, Hugh Davidson, Oakwood, and 2nd vice-president, Mrs. John Wallace, Lindsay, RR 1. The board of directors will comprise the president or someone appointed by the various agricultural organizations, along with the reeves of all the rural municipalities that contribute to the federation.

Guest speaker was R. E. Stewart of Almonte, president of the Ontario Federation, who spoke of the work of the provincial and Dominion associations, and pointed out what county organizations could do. He strongly advised the formation of township units and stressed the work of farm forums. Mrs. John Wallace, president of the West Victoria District Women's Institutes, spoke on women's work in the federation.

Ten members of the Victoria County Plowman's Association were in Kingston yesterday to get advice from the association there concerning the operation of the provincial plowing match here in October.

It Costs Lawyer $1,510 To Take Case

EDMONTON, April 2—(CP)—It's an expensive business for a visiting counsel to handle a case in Alberta courts.

Joseph Sedgwick, Toronto barrister, here to defend Jack Kent Cooke and Harold Dingman of New Liberty magazine, must pay $1,510 before he can take an active part in the defense. The money goes to the Law Society of Alberta.

Mr. Sedgwick is not a member of the Alberta bar and the sum represents the fee. The ceremony of being called to the bar of the province, formally enabling him to defend Mr. Cook and Mr. Dingman, takes place tomorrow.

The men are charged with conspiracy to publish a defamatory libel in connection with an article on Alberta's welfare administration which appeared in the magazine.

Improvements Said Paid For

TORONTO, April 2.—(CP). — Net debt of the Ontario Government was reduced $25,003,183 in the last year, double the previous high of $12,947,000 in 1944, Provincial Treasurer Frost announced in his budget address to the Ontario Legislature today.

He recalled that it had been the continual aim of the government to improve the province's credit standing. Net debt could be reduced only from taxation and interest and principal on capital account constituted a first charge on provincial revenues.

Since the government took office five years ago it had brought about a reduction of $27,357,470 in the net debt and in that period all new capital works had been financed out of current revenue.

"It is with deep satisfaction that I tell you that every foot of highway we have constructed, every building we have erected, every hospital grant we have given, every grant we have made for rural Hydro extension has been completely paid for. The people of Ontario do not owe one dollar for any capital work which we have performed."

Record Expenditure Of 61 Million Made On Highway Expansion

TORONTO, April 2—(CP). — Record expenditure of $61,900,000 for highway expansion and development in Ontario in 1947-48 was reported today in the budget address of Provincial Treasurer Frost. He estimated that $57,000,000 would be used for that department this year.

The sum to be expended in 1948-49, Mr. Frost declared, "covers the maximum amount of work which the Department can do with available labor, machinery and material."

Last year's record expenditures —previous high was $45,000,000 in 1945-46 — included more than 1,000 miles of paved, concrete, asphalt and much road surfaces. Resurfacing had been carried out on 250 miles of old roads and major work had been undertaken on mining roads to Red Lake, Matheson East and in the Matachewan area.

Part of this year's sum will be for new roads from Toronto to Barrie, south from Chapleau, relocation of many existing roads and construction of highways for the Hydro-Electric Power Commission developments at Des Joachims, Aguasabon, Cameron Falls, Pine Portage and Tunnel Rapids on the Mississagi river.

Big Revenues

Highways proved a major revenue producer in the last fiscal year, accounting for $59,948,000 in current revenue—$46,800,000 in gasoline taxation. Next year they are expected to produce $59,120,000.

The province contributed $15,990,000 in municipal road subsidies last year compared with $3,589,480 in 1943. Total municipal road expenditures totalled more than $30,000,000.

"Great as has been the achievement of this department in construction work, one of its most useful accomplishments has been the degree of co-operation established with municipal governments," Mr. Frost said.

Fine Co-operation

"This co-operation is shown by the fine snow-plowed roads from one end of the province to the other and in the condition and maintenance of municipal highways.

"Last year, 348 municipalities were added to those entitled to participate in provincial road grants, and more than $3,000,000 in subsidies were disbursed among urban municipalities.

"The municipalities have further been assisted by establishment of machinery pools with machinery approximating $300,000, which is available to the municipalities at nominal rental."

Headway Made At OEA Parley

TORONTO, April 2.—(CP). — Educationists and others who attended the almost week-long sessions of the Ontario Educational Association just concluded had good reason to believe that as a group they were the busiest people in Toronto since Monday.

The leaders and less prominent delegates were agreed headway was made.

Dr. W. W. Charters of Stephens College, Columbia, Mo., was one who in the final session found that the profession has not yet succeeded in eliminating a type, or an attitude, that dates back to the times of the Puritans

And while they were in critical mood, the teachers were told intelligence tests were fallible and even caused definite harm when administered by people knowing nothing about them. Dr. John A. Long, director of educational research at the University of Toronto, sternly warned about taking results of I.Q. tests "as the voice of God." And Dr. Reva Gerstein of the same universtiy mourned that "too much emphasis is placed on marks; it's a sad state of affairs."

Man Shoots Himself

TORONTO, April 2.—(CP).—A man police identified as Anthony Dolegowski, 50, of Depot Harbor, Ont., near Parry Sound, killed himself with a pistol late yesterday, police said. His body was found in a west-end High Park ravine.

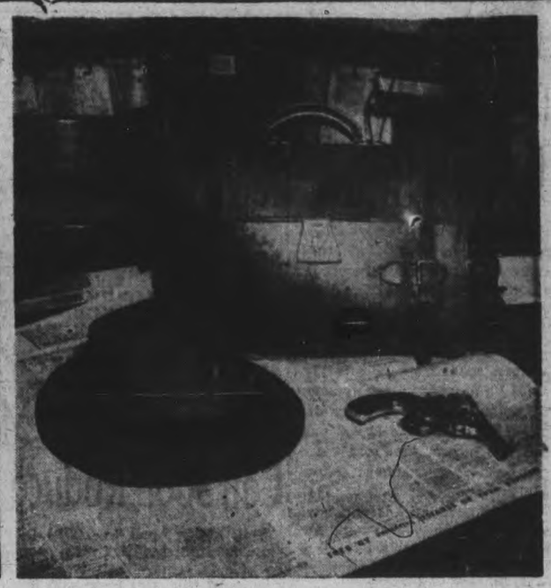
Grove School Launches Fund



TORONTO, April 2—H. I. McCulloch, chairman of the Board of Governors of the Lakefield Preparatory School at Lakefield, announced today that a Memorial Fund campaign was to be launched across Canada this spring.

The fund's objective is $100,000 and its aims are: (1) to educate sons of Old Boys killed in the war; (2) to initiate a rebuilding campaign; (3) to undertake a minimum renovation plan of existing plant and equipment.

First meeting of the Campaign committee was held here this week. Honorary chairman is Major General J. V. Young, CB. Other members of the committee are: H. L. McCulloch, chairman; H. M. Harman, vice-chairman; R. L. Crombie, treasurer; J. A. Wright, manager; J. M. Gray, chairman, old boys; R. J. C. Pringle, vice-chairman, old boys; W. R. Nesbitt, chairman, special names; A. M. Ramsay, parents, chairman; Mrs. D. Watlon, parents, vice-chairman.

This is the first public campaign for funds that Lakefield, or "The Grove" as it is often called, has ever conducted. The school was founded in 1885 and its site, on the shores of the Kawartha lakes, is one of the most attractive enjoyed by any school in Canada. Old boys are playing the leading part in conducting this campaign for funds, their conviction that Lakefield should "carry on" being based alike on sentimental ties and the conviction that there is a continuing need for such educational establishments in Canada.

Prairie Pair Won't Join Club Find It's Income Tax Form

OTTAWA, April 2.—Hard boiled income tax officials get some pretty funny stories during the course of a year, it was revealed today by a National Revenue department spokesman. Take the case of the Saskatchewan couple. Time and time again the Government sent this man the tax forms, and time after time, there was no response.

"Get hold of him and see what the trouble is," said the new district official.

Accordingly the tax forms were sent to this middle prairie state man, and he was told that he must fill in the forms, and send them back—or else.

Don't Want To Join

Back came a letter, something like this:

"Dear Sir:

"We received your application form and me and my wife talked it over. We feel that we must thank you and say no, for we already belong to too many organizations. We are sorry but we cannot join your club, so we are sending back your application forms."

Needless to say, the next move by National Revenue woke this gentleman up—but fast!

Then there was the dear old lady in Montreal who put in her doggie as a dependent. There were letters back and forth.

"After all," she argued, "my Fifi costs me as much as a child I need to have coats made for him for the cold weather, you know. He has to have his doctor, and his medicine. Then he won't eat just anything, and it costs a lot to buy him the food he wants. So you can see I must claim an exemption for him as a dependent."

The National Revenue department finally straightened out that kink, and the little doggie was taken off the dependent's list, pronto.

Boiled Shirts

One interesting but legitimate exemption was that of the orchestra and the boiled shirts. It was represented that laundry for stiff shirts was part of the ligitimate business costs. These orchestras had to dress in dinner jackets every night, and it meant a boiled shirt each evening. It was as much part of their living as maintenance of equipment. The claim was deemed just, and allowed.

The story goes round and round about the lady who claimed exemption for her canary, but no revenue official can be pinned down to admit that it actually happened.

Admit Statement Made By Jonathan

BRANTFORD, April 2 (CP)—Mr. Justice G. A. Urquhart yesterday ruled admissible a statement allegedly made by Maynard Jonathan, 17-year-old Tuscarora Indian, after his arrest for the murder last November of Isaac J. Hill, 77-year-old Indian trapper.

An RCMP officer quoted Jonathan as saying: "I guess they got me if they got the evidence."

The statement was said to have been made in reply to Jonathan's uncle, Benjamin Williams, who asked why the youth was in RCMP custody. In his testimony, Williams denied hearing the reply.

This and other testimony at the second day of Jonathan's Ontario Supreme Court trial, was given with the jury excluded.

Several RCMP officers told of the youth's arrest, subsequent conversations and statements made later by Jonathan. Williams and Jonathan corroborated almost all this evidence.

Recommend Cornwall Build New Fire Hall

CORNWALL, April 2—(CP)—Fire Marshal W. J. Scott of Ontario recommended last night that Cornwall build a new fire hall, buy new fire-fighting equipment and recruit more firemen. He made the recommendations to the Cornwall Fire Righter Association.

A fire inspector's report in a $1,000,000 fire in downtown Cornwall last Dec. 24 said the department was undermanned and inadequately equipped.

Communist Group In Italy Uses Skilful Vote Appeal

By JOHN P. McKNIGHT

ROME, April 2 (CP).—In one respect at least, the left has all the best of it in Italy's electoral campaign.

The communist-dominated "popular front" has skillfully captured and made its own almost all the "good words" whose emotional overtones warm men's hearts and presumably influence their voting.

Take, for instance, the name itself of the front. Newspaper writers use "Popular Front" for brevity. Actually, the full name is "Popular Democratic Front for Liberty, Peace and Work."

The wide appeal of that grouping of words is evident. And the left hammers insistently at the themes it contains.

In its posters, newspapers, election speeches—and doubtless in the minds of many voters—"democracy" has come to be synonymous with the system of government in vogue in the U.S.S.R. and its satellites.

Walked Softly

So well established was the left's possession of the peace theme that Roman Catholic Premier Alcide De Gasperi and other anti-communist leaders had to walk softly around the recent communist-sponsored "peace rally" of 30,000 women in Rome.

Out of the plight of ex-monsignor Eduardo Prettner Cippico, Vatican prelate unfrocked and jailed for financial specultion, it made the verb "cippicare," meaning "to steal," and used it widely in campaign posters.

To many, they know, "communism" is a "bad" word, fraught with unpleasant connotations; so nowhere in their publicity, nor in the names of the score or so of supplementary organizations which back up the front, does the word "communism" appear.

A steady campaign rising to crescendo has endeavored to convince voters that their choice lies between "atheistic communism" and "christian civilization," while the church's report to the left's intimidation of voters was, "in the voting booth, God sees you. Stalin does not."

Awarded Medal For Effort To Rescue Dog

The Silver Medal of the Ontario Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, the highest award of that body, was presented to Charlie Jones, veteran Buckhorn guide, at the annual meeting of the Peterborough Humane Society. The presentation, made by Gordon K. Fraser, MP, for Peterborough West, was in recognition of the bravery of the guide in attempting to rescue a deer hound early in the deer season in November last year.

The act which brought this token of appreciation for bravery took place on Green's Lake. The deer hound, which had been loaned for the hunt, had apparently run out on the thin ice following a scent, and had crashed through into the ice waters about 200 yards offshore.

Other members of the hunting party stood helpless on the bank while Jones went into action. Pushing the limb of a tree in front of him, he inched his body slowly along the treacherous ice surface in an effort to reach the struggling animal, which was trying to gain a hold on the edge of the ice. The guide began to cut at the ice, hoping to form a channel in which the dog could swim towards him. However, the exertions of the animal's struggle reached their peak before the rescue could be carried out, and the hound sank.

Veteran woodsmen who witnessed the attempt termed it one of the bravest deeds thy had ever seen and commended Jones for his cool action and steady nerve in following through the bold plan.

Tonsils Removed From 12 Children

Peterborough Lions Club was responsible for arrangements in having 12 children undergo tonsil operations Tuesday at St. Joseph's Hospital. The patients were carefully screened by Dr. Leonard Mylks, chairman of their health and welfare committee.

The operations were all successful and the children were all taken to their homes. This is not the first effort on the part of the club along these lines but is the first group for this year. Another group will be selected and attended to in June.

MUST RECEIVE PERMISSION

Acting Fire Chief George Smith has issued a reminder to householders that they must not set fire to grass or rubbish, even on their own property, without first receiving permission from the Fire Department. This can be accomplished easily enough by phoning 20408 on any day but Monday. Do not call 5711: that is the emergency line.

NO ALARMS APRIL 1ST

Firemen were not bothered with April-Fool pranksters this year. In former years a few irrepressible spirits thought it quite a gag to pull the alarm box or telephone in a false alarm. Apparently modern youngsters are better behaved than their elders were in this regard. No fires were reported on Thursday.

Wife-Beater Promises To Mend His Ways, Go To Church; Blames Drink For Trouble

LINDSAY, April 2—(ENS)—"Do more praying and less drinking," Magistrate E. A. Gee told war veteran Ivan A. Irwin, Lindsay, in police court here today.

Irwin, charged with assaulting his wife on March 31, pleaded guilty and was placed on his own bond of $100 to keep the peace and "go to church" for one year. His wife, an English war bride, withdrew a previous charge of non-support laid previously against Irwin. An intoxication charge was also withdrawn.

"My biggest fault is drink," Irwin confessed. The accused, who is unemployed, said his wife's "constant nagging" was another contributing factor to home troubles.

"If you were working there might not be any nagging," the magistrate said. Charges were to the effect that the accused had come home drunk and struck his wife, then dragged her across the floor.

Irwin said he quit his last job in an auto body repair shop here because he was receiving "only $35 a week." Rev. R. D. Harmer, minister of Cambridge St. Baptist Church, offered to help the accused and said Irwin had promised to mend his ways.

Men's Sketch Club Hangs 150 Exhibits At Showing

There are nearly 150 sketches and paintings on exhibit in the Peterborough Men's Sketch Club's twelfth annual show—a prodigality of paint, and to this reviewer who has never before seen the work of these dozen amateur painters, a surprising display of competence, quality and talent. Without being able to compare this with preceding exhibitions it is impossible to say whether as a group and individually there has been any development in technical skill and interpretation. It is perhaps asking too much to expect larger canvases, fewer landscapes and some figure drawing. There seems to be enough talent and skill to warrant the attempt by the most expert of these amateurs.

Charles H. Saunders is a really competent water-colorist; his art in this difficult medium is finely displayed in the flower groups (I liked particularly his peonies), and in the birches at Belmont Lake. Among J. E. R. Munro's uniformly good paintings, the largest oil, "Winter on the Trent," has a quiet effectiveness and a just indistinctness in the middle and far distances. Howard Steggles' fresh "Spring Time" and serene "Country Road" are pleasant.

J. Hamer has the most interesting compositions in both oil and water-color, and a deft freedom of brush. There is merit rather than meritriciousness in "June In Ashburnham," "Locks Bridge In March" (the feeling of the sloughing emptiness and the light of the season is there), and the water-color "Winter's End." His style is rather evocative of Toronto painters, and I have a feeling that he does not give enough importance to the discipline of drawing. J. Tattersall exhibits an excellent portrait which has the distinction of being good as a composition. C. S. Browne's "Winter Trails" is a remarkably skilful snow scene—the light of winter and the texture of the snow are treated with notable faithfulness.

A. B. Burrows shows care and a tutored technique in his handsome still life of platter and jug; his "Hollinger Mine" is a good little composition. Other exhibitors are Charles Shaw, S. Harris, A. Kelley, G. N. Howson, Dr. C. B. Waite (his winter scene occasioned favorable comment at the preview on Thursday evening), and W. C. English, whose "Indian River Above Warsaw" is attractive. A. J. Casson, RCA, OSA, has lent two works. His "Northern Farm" is outstanding.

The Oscar Wildish statement that all art is useless is given the lie by this exhibition, for obviously the gentlemen whose work is being shown have enjoyed their hobby and they have produced many unpretentious paintings which would be pleasing to have on one's walls. They are to be commended on their work and their willingness to exhibit in public. The exhibition (third floor at Hall's store) continues until Saturday evening. — T. J. Allen.

City Building Shows Decline

The 1948 building permits are steadily falling behind the monthly totals and aggregate of a year ago.

The figures for March were $101,287 for 52 permits as compared with $281,197 for 38 permits in the third month of last year. Total for the quarter was $172,712 and for the first three months of last year $395,897.

The biggest item last month was a group of 12 new houses valued at $63,300, plus 8 garages at $3,200. There are also 32 miscellaneous permits for $34,787. Total for the month, $101,287, and for three months $172,712.

Permits in March 1947 were: four garages $2,450; five houses $24,000; 29 miscellaneous $254,757. Total $281,197. And for the period $395,897.

Ice Carnival Held At Rink Of Curling Club

Four hundred skaters and spectators, many in fancy dress, attended the ice carnival on Thursday evening at the Curling Club rink, organized by George Street United Church. The carnival opened with an exhibition of dancing and free skating by members of the Peterborough Skating Club. Seven-year-old Sandra Hudson of the Ravina Club, Toronto, gave a delightful exhibition of free skating. The "Four Sisters" number of Lona Martin, Dorothy Martin, Mrs. Lillian Crocker and Mrs. Ruth Ferguson was followed by an exhibition of pair skating by Ernie Ferguson Jr. and Joan Bradburn. About 20 members of the club joined in the dancing. After the fancy skating came the races for boys and girls, fourteen years old and under. David Fanning won the mad scramble among the boys, and Carol Ferguson the girls' race.

The judges, Miss Georgia Hardill, Walter Head and Stanley Payne, had a difficult time warding the prizes for the best fancy dresses. Costumes varied from clowns to hill-billies. Prizes were awarded as follows: best fancy dress, girls—Barbara Jones; best fancy dress, boys—Ken Armstrong; best comic dress, girls—Diana Miller; best comic dress, boys—Paul Hetherington; best fancy dress, adult—Mrs. G. C. Armstrong; best comic dress, adult—Mrs. Leo Copp. The prize for the oldest skater went to Roy Powell, and for the youngest skater to four-year-old Diana Delahaye.

Other prizes went to Mr. and Mrs. Leo Copp as the most recently married couple, and to Mr. and Mrs. R. Miller as the longest married couple. Door prizes were won by Mrs. Jack Smith, Mr. Robins and Mrs. Patterson.

Business Men Protest To Hon. H. R. Scott

A proposed amendment to the Municipal Act now before the Ontario Legislature which would make it easier for hawkers and pedlars to operate has drawn the ire of the Peterborough Business Men's Association.

As the result of an emergency meeting called Thursday morning by the local Association, a telegram was dispatched to Hon. Harold R. Scott, MPP, protesting the amendment.

It is contended that the new legislation would permit anyone paying a business tax in a municipalty to operate without the payment of an additional licence fee as a hawker and pedlar. If this were permitted it is felt that transient businesses could rent a small premises in the city, hawk their goods without paying the present licence fee, and thus enter into "unfair competition" with established merchants.

Under existing law anyone engaged in hawking and peddling merchandise must pay the special licence fee to the municipality in which he does business.

In Peterborough this fee has been described as "stiff" reaching in some cases $250 a year. By this means it is claimed that the number of hawkers and pedlars in the city has been greatly reduced.

Local merchants said they could see the possibility of Ontario cities being invaded by vans bringing in goods of all sorts. Once a business tax was levied—in some cases as low as $5—the goods could be sold door-to-door to the detriment of resident merchants.

Civic Arena Fund $1,085

Total donations to the Civic Arena project now stand at $1,085.83, reported to date.

The committee in charge states that a number of money-raising projects are now in the formation stage by various groups in the city, who will turn over proceeds to the drive.

The canvass, by volunteer workers, is now underway on a house-to-house campaign.

Donations reported to date:

Previously reported, $435; John Hill $10, Cec Perdue $10; B. Seabrook 5; Dr. H. G. Carleton $50; Peterborough Fire Department, Mile of Pennies $205.83; John Baldwin $10, Shockey Cleaners $50, G. Quinlan $5, Gordon Lee $2, C. Thompson $2, Ludvic DeCarlonis $10, Peterobrough Hockey Club $100, Wilma Floyd $5, Mrs. B. Seabrook $5, Saturday Night Gang $1.55, O. R. Kidd $2, Nick Curtin $5, H. Rome $2, Jack Lorne $2, George Lockington $5, H. Frost $2, Frank Lundy $10, Dr. C. McKee $15, Geddes Harper $20, Anne Hughey $10, Bob Juby $5, Elroy Butler $1, Y's Men's Club $100. Total to date, $1,085.38.

Mayor Ovens Hopeful City Will Immediately Secure 200 Additional Homes

After a brief eclipse, Peterborough's housing prospects have acquired a new brightness from events of Thursday: (a) withdrawal in the Legislature of the proposed bill providing authority for the exclusion, in certain circumstances, of Federal housing areas from the municipalities in which they were situated; (b) intimations from Ottawa that housing programs would immediately resume their movement, interrupted for the last week; and (c) Ontario Government's plan to spend up to $30,000,000 in helping to finance construction and purchase of moderately-priced houses.

"All three are important," said Mayor Ovens this morning, "and they restore the feeling of satisfaction which the members of our council had up to a week ago that we were going to get 125 to 200 houses, most of them to rent at $37.50 a month.

Actually, our present position is that we have on a file a letter from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation that their undertaking in Peterborough was cancelled. That was to be expected following the news reports from Ottawa. By Saturday or Monday we should have another letter from the Housing Corporation nullifying the first one.

It means that our building program for this year should be under way again with a broader outlook for building by men who saw service in the war and also by other citizens."

The provincial legislation introduced by Hon. Dana Porter, Minister of Planning, provides among other aids that the government will guarantee to lending institutions sums up to $1,000 a home in order that down payments may be reduced by that amount.

Mayor Ovens said he felt confident that this accommodation was more important and necessary than was generally understood.

Losing Their Homes

He endorsed from his own experience, a statement made by Ald. Adam Sands in a conversation after the council meeting in committee Monday night that too many ex-service men and other citizens were losing their equity in houses which they set out to build without sufficient funds and credits.

"Some of the cases that I have come in contact with are just shocking," Ald. Sands said, meaning that there were certain persons disposed to take advantage of the financial straits of some ex-service men instead of helping them.

"That is where this government assistance on the down payment should be a real help," said Mayor Ovens today.

Ald. Sands said the other night that the man borrowing money to build a house for himself should apply for an amount sufficient for his needs, instead of deciding to scrimp and scrape in what often turned out to be false economy.

"The chap makes a down payment, and he gets the lot, and then he has to give a mortgage. You can readily understand that it is natural not to borrow any more than is actually required. But, costs are uncertain and when the credit is all gone what does he do then? The place is mortgaged for a large part of its value, and when this man looks around for help too often he is unable to secure it. But, he did encounter the kind of people who were willing to turn the ex-service man's necessity to their own gain.

The man in that experience has become disillusioned and disheartened, and is ready to drop the whole thing. That is when he sells out, and too often has suffered a loss."

Mayor Ovens mentioned to the Examiner today the same kind of experiences. In almost the exact words of Ald. Sands, His Worship said "it would open your eyes if you knew some of those facts. It has been a real shock to me."

Mayor Ovens said he was confident that the Porter measure in the Legislature would provide the extent of help needed by citizens, including ex-service men, in their plans to build homes for themselves. So interested was he in this phase of the new legislation that His Worship made no reference to another clause by which the province offers to pay one-half the cost of land and services to a maximum of $300 a lot in the conditional financing which municipalities have had to contribute in housing projects.

Peterborough has had to buy most of the lots for the 125 houses laid down for this year. The city also provides sewer accommodation, streets, sidewalks, fire protection and so on. But, in the preliminary expenditure for services and property the Ontario government agrees to pay one-half this amount up to $300. That is if the cost of a lot and services is $600 to the city, the province will pay half. From there on the federal housing scheme takes over.

It may be that Peterborough's property and services might average no more than $450 a lot. In that case the government would pay $225 a lot, thereby sharing with the municipality in the expenditure required in the arrangements and agreement with Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation.

K of C Prepares Pageant Against Communism

VAL D'OR, Que., April 2 (CP) —A monster demonstration of religious faith and a living-pageant rebuff to Communism are planned by the Knights of Columbus in this northern mining area — sometimes called the hotbed of Communism in Canada.

Thousands are expected for the occasion set for May 2—one day after the traditional May Day—and the K of C organization announced yesterday that 11 councils and 4,000 members will meet for street parades, speeches, pageants, and a pontifical mass. The mass will be celebrated by Msgr. J. A. Demarais, Bishop of Amos, who will lead the parade that will include various Roman Catholic church organizations of young and old people.

Meetings have been held in councils throughout North-western Quebec during the last week or two in preparation for the demonstration.

Speakers at these meetings have declared that as many as 3,000 Communist sympathizers live in Val d'Or and the Malartic area.

Present Pageants

Living pageants depicting the Communist massacres in Poland, Spain, Mexico, the Ukraine, and Czechoslovakia will be presented by the K of C in the streets and schools. The Knights of Columbus have asked special protection for their parade by Quebec Provincial Police and RCMP, although no trouble is anticipated. During the week preceding the demonstration, radio talks in several languages will be broadcast from Rouyn-Noranda and Amos. Chief speaker at the night gathering on May 2 will be the K or C state deputy for Quebec, Judge A. T. Fontaine.

Humane Society's Inspector Reviews Work of Past Year

The work and influence of the Peterborough branch of the Ontario Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals has increased greatly, it was shown in reports of the society at its 26th annual meeting Thursday night. Since its inception in 1922, the society here has handled hundreds of cases of cruelty, corrected incorrect working and living conditions, assisted homeless animals, returned lost ones to their owners, and educated many people in proper care of their animals.

The report of the society's inspector, Gerald Dunford, reviewing the work for 1947, pointed out that the district now served extends, in some cases, 65 miles from the city.

His report detailed a number of specific cases encountered during the year—involving horses, dogs, foxes, bears, cows, pigs—in which prompt action by the society had given the desired improvements.

The society treated about 150 dogs for sickness and accidents in 1947. More than 400 dogs and 700 cats were humanely destroyed in the year. Total number of cats and dogs handled by the society was more than 1,400.

A feature of some of the detailed cases was the spread of activity with which the organization had extended its work. Included were cases of horses being starved and poorly stabled; delivery-horses cut with improper harness; a bread-wagon horse which was cruelly raced uphill by its driver; various market animals shipped in undersized or unventilated crates; cows stuck in bogs.

Aims of Society

Mrs. Morley V. Powell, secretary, in her report, outlined the general aim of the society extended beyond fair treatment for "those unable to speak for themselves."

By cultivating such habits in the young people, she said, "there is built up that feeling of kindness towards the larger fellowship —that of humanity."

She cited one case in 1947 where a juvenile had been found guilty of strangling three kittens and a pup. She pointed out that such actions, unpunished, developed in children inhumane tendencies, which, in later life, would develop into anti-social vices.

The speaker mentioned that the Kawartha Kennel Club was giving service by providing instruction on proper care of dogs to any interested in the subject.

Hard To Get Witnesses

A handicap which constantly faces the society in successful prosecution of its cases, Mrs. Powell said, is the reluctance of many people to appear as witnesses in court cases. This, she felt, was a duty of the citizen which should not be sidestepped. She pointed out that there are Family Courts in which many such cases can be heard privately.

The secretary also expressed warm appreciation of the society for the co-operation of the city and Ontario Provincial Police forces in its work. The Examiner was also thanked for its part in the anti-cruelty campaign.

Charges Russia Holds Polish Wives Back

TORONTO, April 2 (CP).—J. S. Grocholski, president of the Canadian Polish Congress, last night charged the "Communist-dominated" government of Poland with consistently refusing to allow hundreds of wives of Polish emigrants to Canada the right to join their husbands here."

He was addressing a meeting of the newly-formed United Democratic Anti - Communist Slavs. L. Sotiroff, president of the group, said all non-Communist Slav groups in Canada have pledged allegiance to the organization which was formed two months ago.

Mr. Grocholski said Polish men who have emigrated to Canada since the war have received no action on their applications to the Polish Consulate here. Their wives have written them urgent letters asking why they have not been allowed to leave Poland.

TELL GROMYKO—Cowboys and cab drivers from New York are shown picketing the United Nations at Lake Success, carrying signs attacking Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet delegate. The demonstration was in response to a wrangle started last week when Gromyko accused the US of interfering with the internal affairs of France and Italy. Gromyko said then that even cowboys, taxi drivers and hotel doormen knew it. The picket line recently emphasized that they did know a thing or two about the activities of the USSR. Warren R. Austin, chief US delegate, answered Gromyko by saying that it was a tribute to the US system that cowboys, doormen and cab drivers knew about the affairs of their country.

DevaluingMoney Too Expedient

By The Canadian Press

The current monthly review of the Bank of Nova Scotia comments that the money of any country which is inclined to devalue its currency as a ready expedient for dealing with passing problems, is likely to be a money of continually diminishing value.

Dealing specifically with the Canadian dollar, the review makes these observations:

"Devaluation tends to raise internal prices . . . while the Canadian price level is on the average still relatively lower than that of the United States, a more balanced relationship is being approached and the pressure of external prices is beginning to lessen now that some of the commodity markets across the border are showing signs of hesitation and weakness. Devaluation would raise the pressure again and give renewed impetus to the upward course of prices and living costs.

"On balance, it is doubtful whether a moderate devaluation would result in any large expansion in exports." Also, "though devaluation could be counted upon to produce a pronounced reduction in the demand for imports from the United States, it might have more discouraging effects on imports from overseas."

Conservatives Strengthen Party Preparing For Next Election

BY D'ARCY O'DONNELL

OTTAWA, April, 2 (CP)—Efforts to strenghten party organization in preparation for the next general federal election—whenever it comes—are expected to be made at the forthcoming annual meeting of the Progressive Conserative Association of Canada.

The meeting will be held here April 19-21, inclusive in previous years the meeting lasted only two days, but it was decide to extend the sessions a day this year to meet the requests of association members.

The association's policy and resolutions committee will meet April 16 and 17 to screen the resolutions now arriving from various branches of the organizations. F. G. Gardiner, K. C., of Toronto is chairman of the committee.

While the life of the present parliament does not expire until August, 1950, some Progressive Conservative members are known to feel that the government may call an election toward the end of this year or early next year.

A Liberal convention will be held in August to choose a successor to Prime Minister Mackenzie King. Whoever is selected may want to seek an early mandate from the people.

Plans Not Announced

Just what will be done to strengthen the Tory organization is not yet known. However, Mr. Bracken may follow Mr. King's lead and stress the need for an efficient party machine during an election campaign. Mr. King bluntly told his supporters Jan. 20 that if an election was held now the Liberal Party would lose because of lack of organization.

One of the final tasks of the association will be the election of officers. J. M. Macdonnell, Progressive Conservative member of the commons for Muskoka- Ontario now is completing a two-year term as presiden.

There has been litle speculation as to Mr. Macdonnell's successor. Some party sources believe that Gordon Graydon, Progressive Conservative member of the Commons for the Ontario constituency of Peel, or Dick Bell, National Director of the party, may be given the nod.

PAINS IN BACK

Here's a way to relief!

Do you know that one of the common causes of backache lies in the kidneys? When they are healthy they help to filter impurities out of the system—their natural function. When they grow sluggish, these impurities accumulate and the resulting congestion may be one of the causes of backache. De Witt's Pills are specially prepared to help wake up sluggish kidneys. They act directly on these vital organs, helping to restore them to their natural activity. Relief from backache follows as a natural consequence. It is far better to tackle the cause of backache than to go on suffering in a way which is bound to affect your work and happiness. For over half a century De Witt's Pills have been bringing relief to sufferers from backache and we have received countless letters of gratitude. Go to your drug store and obtain a supply to-day.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE CITIZENS OF PETERBOROUGH AND DISTRICT

FINE'S FURNITURE STORE

DEAR FRIENDS:

To my many friends and customer in Peterborough and District, I wish to announce that I am retiring from business.

I want to take this opportunity of extending my sincere and grateful thanks to all those with whom I have had dealings with over my past successful 27 years of business here. I can only say that I will always be a proud resident of this, Peterborough, my home district.

Naturally, when I decided to dispose of my business, I gave considerable thought as to whom my successor should be, and, because the Yolles Furniture Company, Limited, over the last 50 years, have built a name in the retail furniture field throughout Ontario of which they can be justly proud, I approached them with an offer and they accepted.

The Yolles Furniture Company, Limited now operate 10 of the most modern furniture stores in Ontario - - six of which are in Toronto and the others in Timmins, Kirkland Lake, Sudbury and London, and now, for their eleventh store, here in Peterborough.

I am sure they will enjoy their dealings in this district, as I have, and know they will offer a real service and shopping centre to the Community.

Sincerely,

M. Fine

125 Girls Open Conference First Ontario-Quebec Meet Of Teen-Age YW Members

Peterborough's YWCA was invaded Thursday night by eager teen-age girls — 125 delegates to the first Ontario-Quebec conference of YWCA younger membership being held here. Most of these young girls, sitting in at the official opening, are attending their first conference and a thrilling and demanding two-day session of discussions follows, the theme being "Youth for the Purpose."

Girls from Montreal, Quebec City, and Sherbrooke, who are traditionally French-speaking, met last night, for the first time as YW club members, with teen-agers from Brantford, Cornwall, Guelph, Hamilton, Kingston, London, Oshawa, Ottawa, St. Catharines, Toronto, Windsor, Woodstock, Niagara Falls and Peterborough.

Miss Jean Campbell, younger membership secretary of National YWCA, arrived Wednesday to assist the hostesses with arrangements, and she gave the opening address of the conference Friday morning. Miss Helen Robertson, chairman of National Younger membership committee, is the resource leader in discussion groups assisted by Mrs. R. Foster, secretary.

Delegates attending from local clubs are: Friday Night Supper Club: Eleanor McGee, Joan Seymour, Ruth Ann Brown, Mary Jane Wales; Teen-Y Club, Evelyn Wallace, Doris Emberson; Feather Brain Club; Joan White, Nancy Rowell, Beth Corbett; Eager Beavers, Jeanne Russell, Edith Terrio, Ethel Parton, June Kitchen.

Hostessing Thursday, which included meeting trains and welcoming the girls was handled by members of the Friday Night Supper Club, Misses Kay Leslie, Joan Carley, Donna Howson, Mary Elizabeth Rowell, Ann Winterbottom, Joan Seymour, Mary Jane Wales, Edith Miller, Ruth Brown, Dorcas Edwards, Mary Joan Dorsett, Phyllis Whyte, Lois Paddock, Jane Abbott, Eleanor Gee, Mary Jane Wharry, with Mrs. T. J. Carley and Miss Lena Dewart assisting. Registration was in charge of Misses Eleanor McGee, Mary Jane Wharry, with Mrs. Muriel Hawkey as auditor.

Striking the keynote of the conference, Miss S. Arnold of London officially opened proceedings with a short and stirring address to the group after they had gained their ease in the new surroundings with singing favorite songs. She said, "You represent the youth of this time, and the purpose of this gathering is a search for truth by thinking minds. Every generation has looked to you with a challenge for new ideals. Perhaps today's challenge isn't any greater than before, but if not, perhaps the youth can be more effective. Certainly they should not become a liability or a risk."

She continued with notes for thought on how to be more effective and put ideals into action. Christian youths around the world, bound together by the blue triangle of the YWCA, are thinking and working out the problem. A definite over-all national teen-age purpose, arranged to the satisfaction of all delegates will be the outcome of this conference.

Prayer for success in the joint effort and for the responsibility of each girl at the meeting was offered by Miss Arnold.

A good-night snack was served by girls of Feather Brain Club, Misses Joan White, Pat Peel, June Bullied, Beth Corbett, Diane Ballantyne, Sheila Young, Beverley Brooks, Nancy Rowell, Gwen Mitchell and June Hutchinson.

Visiting girls were then introduced and conducted to homes throughout the city where they will be guests during the conference. Billeting was arranged by two girls from each local club, Misses Nancy Rowell, Diane Ballantyne, Marg. Gorman, Gloria Graham, Edith Terrio, Kitty Kitchen, Shirley Fisk, Helen Watson, assisted by Mrs. D.A. Loucks. Room arrangements were taken care of by one girl from each club, Misses June Bullied, Audrey Walker, June Kitchen, Joan Chowan, assisted by Mrs. Geo. Munro.

Publicity committee for the meetings includes one girl from each club, Misses Ruth Emberson, Evelyn Wallace and June Mahood, with Miss Phyllis White as conference press convener. Rovers representing the four teen-age clubs are Misses Pat Peel, Lois Bearne, Joyce Simpson and Lois Paddock.

A refreshment booth will be open in the Y throughout the conference with Miss Mary Jean Loucks in charge, assisted by Misses Donna Bristow, Margaret Gorman, Mary Jane Wharry, Louise Leslie, Mary Jean Baker and others.

Metcalfe with servers from Friday Night Supper Club: Misses Joan Carley, Donna Howson, Kay Leslie, Joan Seymour, Mary Morrison, Joyce Pitchford, Mary Elizabeth Rowell, Mary Jane Wharry, Mary Jane Wales and Ruth Ann Brown.

Need Courage To Win Peace

WILLIAMSBURG, April 2 (CP)—The world's post-war problems require as much courage, energy and determination as were needed to win the war, Viscount Alexander today told an audience at William and Mary College.

The Canadian Governor-General, who had just received an honorary degree from the university, said, however, that he was not pessimistic.

"I have never been, nor will I ever be, pessimistic about the future," Viscount Alexander said in a speech prepared for delivery. "That is the counsel of despair. Let us remember that in our long history we have lived under skies equally dark and that our fathers and forefathers did not lose heart because the going was hard."

PERENNIAL FAVORITE — The shirtwaist frock, that perennial favorite, is really a leader this Spring, since it appears in almost every category, be it sport or dress, casual or evening wear. Faille crepe, a nice sheer weave, is used for this good little bread-and-butter dress, nice for general daytime wear. This model retains its club collar, neat cuffs and casual air, but adds fullness to the skirt and a becoming yoke.

GAY NINETIES TOUCH — Although the charming parasol of dotted white organdie is definitely turn-of-the-century stuff, it's the blouse's gay ninety mood to which we direct your fashion thought. It is made of pedigreed white synthetic yarn fabric, and is a lovely topper with suit skirt or one of the dressy, swirling costume skirts. Being white rayon, it will remain white through repeated cleansings, keeping its pristine look if pressed carefully with a warm iron. The quaint yoke is made of lace ruffles, which are used also to detail the split cuffs on the push-up, full sleeves.

Take Destiny Boldly, Calmly Urges Thomas J. Allen Speaking on "Communism"

"Communism" was the subject of an address given Wednesday evening by Mr. Thomas J. Allen, assistant editor of The Peterborough Examiner, guest speaker at ths annual meeting of Municipal Chapter, IODE, held at the YWCA. Mr. Allen had put considerable time and thought on this timely and important matter and the facts outlined were his unbiased opinions, gained through deep study of Communism and the Russian situation, and personal contacts with Russian Communist officers as well as with Europeans who are strongly opposed to the idea.

"First I wish to point out there are two sides to every question," said Mr. Allen. "The Red of Communism is not entirely a dreadful black; American capitalism and Anglo-American imperialism are not entirely sancrosanct and holy." He explained that Communism offers one solution to the ills of the world which is a complete political philosophy, so good that many intellectuals in Britain and America have great faith in it. These Reds have their vision of Utopia and are prepared to accept any means to make it a reality.

"It is an accident of history that Russia became the first country to try to put communism into action," the Oxford scholar declared. "It should further be realized that crises come in the histories of nations and civilization when civil war and reigns of terror seem inevitable and the Russian revolution of 1917 and its horrors was not unique."

May Be Doomed

"It may be that western civilization in its present form is doomed in this century of ours, and that any efforts we can make against communism can but prelong the doom." He continued, "I think the conflict with communism is more basic than the conflict between German imperialism and Anglo-American capitalism which has, after two wars, been resolved."

Mr. Allen quoted Lenin's dictum that "It is inconceivable that the Soviet Republic should continue to exist for a long period side by side with imperialist states—ultimately one or the other must conquer." He believes this to be the basis of Russian foreign policy, explaining their recent expansions.

"I am not a communist because: was brought up a country where it is not the form of government; I feel that communist economic thinking is 'off the rails'; I believe it dangerous to regard one man as infallible whether he be Marx or Stalin; communism is in fact a dictatorship of a small minority—not democratic, despite the claims of Soviet Russia; communism restricts liberty more than any system except fascism; communism lowers rather than raises the status of the people as a whole; I feel that in policy, Russia is a war-monger; I am convinced the Christian teaching of love is more beneficial and more practical than the fear and hate in communist doctrines; I do not believe that I have to choose between communism and fascism, but I hope to follow the liberal democratic way which I think can be maintained, despite Hitlers and Stalins."

Must Be Strong

Final and most urgent issue of his talk—"Is armed conflict inevitable?"—Mr. Allen answered with a quotation from Mr. Anthony Eden, 'Reasonable relations with the Kremlin will only be established in the world as it exists today by negotiating on the basis of strength. If we are strong we shall deserve success and command it; if we are weak, we shall suffer failure, and deserve it.' Adding his own comments on this, the speaker said "The people on this continent and in western Europe are too fearful and too low in spirit. There is a kind of tiredness, an emptiness of spirit, a drifting into individual lives. The fervor that communism seems to inspire is lacking, as well as the exaltation and purpose that we had during war years."

Drop Dollar Fear

"We must get over our fear of death and dollars and believe again in the prime importance of the nobility of man and the dynamic of life. We must revive a respect for patriotism and honor, and have faith that moves mountains, hearts that give validity and strength to action. Let us not face this new Elizabethan age cravenly and fearfully, but confidently, courageously and largely. We are standing between two worlds, the one dead, the other powerless to be born—it is our destiny—let us accept it boldly and with calm dignity."

In thanking Mr. Allen for his talk, Mrs. J. Nornabell said "We will be better citizens and better Daughters of the Empire for having heard your address on this subject tonight." The speaker was introduced by Mrs. C. M. Scott.

THE STARS SAY . . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Saturday, April 3

A dynamic and soul-stirring day, in which the unprecedented and unpredictable may prove of revolutionary and farflung range on paths of destiny is seen for tomorrow. Fundamentally, a sudden event of great significance may so quicken the emotions, ideas, plans and desires as to over-stretch all bounds of logic, balance and reason, excitement and thrills, giving impetus to a hectic jump in the wrong direction. Much opposition, blocking attempts to grasp the Golden Moment, may precipitate a rash and erratic move "overleaping itself." Poise and sagacity could reap the golden fleece, with world voyages and "pay dirt" not far distant.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of adventure, sudden change, golden opportunity knocking at the door, with dramatic emphasis, rich promise and breathtaking precipitancy. It is an era in which to "expect the unexpected" in all relations and fields of endeavor, in which sudden events may heighten creative genius, or thrilling romance may be a token of unprecedented experience or rare accomplishment. The tempo is quickened by stern opposition and threat of utter defeat and frustration.

Losing the head as well as heart, would instill riotous emotions, reckless impulses, and engender most devastating and erratic behaviorisms. Calm feelings, cool calculation, right action, could beget denouement of thrilling rewards.

A child born on this day has wonderful talents and skills with rare opportunities to rise or fall, swim or perish in using them.

For Making of Good Pastry Have All Ingredients Cold

By KAY REX
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, April 2.—(CP). — The new cook should choose a good recipe and stick to the rules for pastry-making if she would turn out the kind of pie "that mother used to bake."

Home economists say that all ingredients should be cold except when making "hot water pastry."

The object of having everything cold is to keep the fat from melting and coating the particles of flour, and so preventing the water from being absorbed.

The fat should be cut into the flour until it is the size of small peas. Two knives used with a scissors-like motion, or a pastry blender, may be used.

If possible, chill the dough thoroughly before rolling it out. This tends to improve the flavor and texture of the finished product.

In making more than one crust or shell, divide the dough and roll out just one crust at a time. Roll from the centre toward the edges, and handle the rolling-pin lightly.

A hot oven the first 10 or 15 minutes is essential for proper cooking. This causes the sudden expansion of the cold air which has been enclosed in the pastry during rolling. The oven temperature then may be lowered to allow the filling to cook completely.

For a double-crust pie the upper crust should be rolled out before putting the filling in the pie. Otherwise the bottom crust may become soaked and soggy.

The upper crust should be a little larger than is needed, so that it will not have to be stretched in fitting on to the pie. Dough which is stretched after it is rolled tends to shrink again when heated.

The upper crust should be pricked with a fork in order that steam may escape during the cooking.

Pie Crust—Ingredients: three cups flour; one cup lard; one teaspoon salt; one-half teaspoon baking-powder; three-quarters cup cold water.

Hot Water Pie Crust—Ingredients: one cup lard; one-half cup boiling water; three cups flour; one-half teaspoon baking powder; one teaspoon salt.

Add boiling water slowly into the cold lard and work with a spoon into a soft creamy mass. Gradually add three cups flour which have been sifted with the baking powder and salt. This amount makes a two-crust pie and shell for another.

With early rhubarb coming on the market, rhubarb pie is destined to be the popular dessert. It should be made deep and if a tablespoon of quick tapioca or cornstarch is mixed with the sugar before adding it to the pie, the juice will be thickened slightly, and not so likely to run over.

Temporary Separation Helps Solve the Frayed Nerves

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a married man of 45, a college graduate, highly ambitious and sensitive, extremely nervous. My wife is a poorly educated woman, but she is the mother of unusually intelligent and beautiful children. She is of a strong moral character and a slave to the children. Has no social ambitions and has no conception of tidiness in the home, and her mismanagement of the children exasperates me beyond measure.

The result is that we constantly heap abuse upon each other. We resurrect all of the family skeletons and rave and rant until we are wrecks. My wife has come to assume a martyr attitude and I am in a state of hopelessness. What do you suggest?

MISERABLE.

ANSWER: First, a temporary separation. Evidently you and your wife have gotten on each other's nerves until the irritation has become unbearable, and the only remedy for that situation is to part before the breach between you becomes too wide to bridge.

Dorothy Dix

You have contemplated each other's faults so long, and at such close range, that you have lost all sight of the virtues that each of you possess. After you are separated for a little while you will see each other in a different light and begin to realize that you made mountains out of molehills, and that if there were faults on both sides, both also had many fine traits of character.

Send Wife Away

So my advice is to send your wife away for a little while, at any cost and sacrifice. That will give time for the wounds that you have dealt each other to heal, and for your taut nerves to straighten out. It will give you time to think over your situation dispassionately. Perhaps when your wife is away from home she will get a new angle on it and see that a home is worth taking care of and making comfortable. And perhaps you will realize that even a badly kept home is better than no home at all.

And when your wife returns, make up your mind that there will be no more disgraceful scenes between you. That is simply a matter of will power. You can, and must, control your temper. Your wife may bore you, but remember you picked her out yourself, and if she has failed you as a companion, she has given you splendid children. Fill your life with their love, and for their sake make the sacrifice of getting along peaceably with their mother.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a man of 60, married to a very fine woman, but this is our problem. Several years ago I was in an accident and lost one arm. Due to this and my age I have not been able to get a good job in the city. I have saved a little money and would like to buy a place in the country where we could raise our own food and chickens and things to sell. I was brought up on a farm and I know how to do things.

But my wife objects to my plan. She says living on a farm is like going back to Grandma's day. Please help me.

JOHN D.

ANSWER: I think your plan is fine and the most feasible to do under the circumstances. It is paying the landlord and the food bills that take most of our money, and when you can raise your own chickens and butter and vegetables and eggs it doesn't take much to live on.

Most of the farmhouses now have electricity in them, and telephones and radios. There is usually a car in the garage and the isolation and the drudgery of farm life is a thing of the past. Tell your wife that the farm has changed since Grandma's day.

DEAR MISS DIX: What do you think is the greatest thing in life?

ANSWER: Love. The love of man for woman. The love of husbands and wives. The love of parents and children. The love of friend for friend. Nothing else really matters if we have love.

Cantata Presented At Trinity Omemee

OMEMEE, April 2. (ENS). — Easter Sunday services at Trinity United Church featured a lavish adornment of rare spring blooms, among which was Lady Eaton's gift of cut flowers, a yearly donation to the church of her youth.

In the morning service, the minister, Rev. V. E. R. Zufelt, chose the theme of the reactions of John and Thomas to the discovery that Christ had risen.

The choir sang, "He Is Risen," with contralto solo by Miss Jean Rowan. Mrs. E. Corneil sang "Our Lord Has Risen."

The evening service was given by the choir in the presentation of the Easter cantata, "The Thorn-Crowned King."

The cantata included: a bass solo by H.. Brooks; quartet of D. Griffin, W. Weir, R. Weir, Mr. Zufelt; tenor solo by G. Pogue; soprano solo by Miss L. Graham; bass solo by A. Weir; trio selections by Misses J. Zufelt, M Graham and D. Smith; soprano solo by Miss D. Connell with the choir; tenor and bass duet by W Weir and R. Weir; bass solo by C. R. Vaughan with the choir; soprano and alto duet by Miss C Connell and Mrs. W. D. Weir with the choir; quartet of D. Griffin, Miss L. Graham, Miss J. Rowan and H. Brooks with the choir.

Scott Allowed More Funds For Forestry

TORONTO, April 2.—(CP).—There is a "good possibility" that the value of Ontario's mining production in 1948 will top the all-time high of $269,000,000 of 1941, Provincial Treasurer Frost said today in his budget address to the Legislature.

'Higher prices for base metals and industrial minerals are stimulating record outputs," he said. "Mine labor is steadily increasing in both quantity and efficiency."

Increased expenditures were announced for both mining and lands and forests. Where $717,000 had been expended for mining last year it would be $749,000 in 1948. Lands and forests expenditures were increased from $7,600,000 to $8,200,000.

Mill capacity was being increased in most producing mines and before the end of 1948 Ontario would have several new producers.

Expand Research

Mr. Frost listed 1947-48 forestry revenue at $10,424,000 and estimated revenue for the coming year at $10,887,000.

He reviewed work undertaken during the last year which included doubling of the number of transport and semi-transport type aircraft, expansion of air bases for field operations, increased nursery stock production of 30,000,000 annually, and establishment of a forestry ranger school.

"The division of research has been greatly expanded. Determined efforts have been made to bring to the attention of the people of the province the relationship between their forest resources and the general prosperity of the province."

KEY TO ANCIENTS

The finding in Egypt of the Rosetta Stone, a stone bearing hieroglyphics used as the key to hieroglyphic translations, was probably the most important factor in deciphering Egyptian writings.

Day Saved For Bluey Amana Girl Kangaroo

TORONTO, April 2. (CP) — Amana is a gal kangaroo. Reporters, radio announcers, photographers and movie cameramen last night felt the pouch of the little Australian Kangaroo, squelching Vancouver reports that Bluey's prospective bride was a male.

Awe-struck at the possibility that Bluey might prove the victim of an international April Fool's joke, newspapermen took no chances as they watched Herb Southam of Riverdale Zoo inspect the rabbit-sized hopper which arrived last night by air from Vancouver following a trans-Pacific flight.

Herb had more good news — Bluey is responding well to penicillin treatments for his sinus trouble, although chances are slight that he will appear as planned for a wedding ceremony with Amana at the Toronto Men's Press Club byline ball here, April 10.

Bluey, who came from Australia for the 1947 byline ball, was too ill to welcome his bride-to-be. Elephants, bears and ponies were scheduled to be on hand but Ontario Provincial Police turned back the tuskers and bruins because trucks bearing them were too heavy for roads leading to Malton airport.

Family Album Presented By Trinity WA

More than 200 people saw an unique tableau "Family Album" at Trinity United Church on Thursday night. An all-Trinity cast represented the various characters portrayed in the photographic album of an elderly feminine narrator.

The reminiscing old woman was played by Mrs. Charles Huffman who gave a convincing representation in her role. Various members of her family and the community were shown in the album, complete with comment by the narrator.

A quartet, the Lift Lock City Four, consisting of Ashton Fife, Adam Sands, William Collison, and James Ridyard were roundly applauded for four different types of harmony songs. Their rendition of "Someone's In The Kitchen with Dinah" received sustained applause.

Included in the cast were: Mrs. Charles Huffman, narrator; Mrs. J. Colling, mother; Walter Fish, father; Suzanne Huffman, young girl; Allan Parker, husband; Mildred McIntyre, bride; Jane Ovens, and Anne Gordon, twins; Elwood S. Doxsee, parson; Mrs. Edward Pridham, parson's wife; Trevor Mitchell, parson's boy; Mrs. W. R. Philp, sister Jane; William Fanjoy, the deacon; Louise Leslie, sister Jane's daughter; Ron Kent, village beauty; John Kenette, Grandpa Hobbs; Elizabeth Pridham, stage girl.

Contributing to the musical part of the program were Mrs. Lloyd Hale, Margaret Preston, James Ridyard and James Betts in a mixed quartet featuring harmony numbers and comic tunes. Mrs. Herbert Dobson accompanied at the piano.

Entertaining at the piano were "The Three M's"—Margaret Martyn, Mary McBride and Mildred Hayward.

Proceeds from the program will go toward the Sunday School Building Fund. Another capacity audience is expected on Friday night for this entertaining tableau.

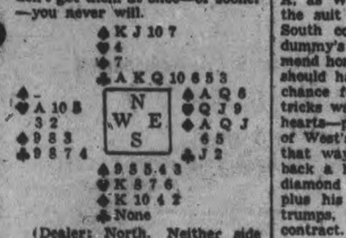
SALLY'S SALLIES



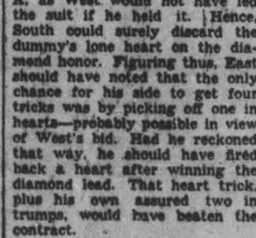
"You needn't wait any longer for the sandman, dear. Just go to sleep."

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

YOU'LL HAVE TO HURRY

SPYING in the dummy a terrific long solid suit, on which a host of losing cards can be thrown, is considered by any wise player just about the most dangerous thing his defender's eyes can behold. When such a suit is in view, you ought to realize that you'll have to hurry in order to gather in whatever tricks are available to your side. If you don't get them at once—or sooner—you never will.

(Dealer: North. Neither side vulnerable.)



North	East	South	West
1 ♣	Dbl	1 ♠	2 ♥
4 ♠	Dbl

West led the diamond 9 to the A and East noted the shortages in the dummy's red suits. Without more ado, he decided to limit any ruffing by the dummy, so led his spade 6, maintaining his tenace over the dummy's trump K. South took that with his 9, discarded the dummy's only heart on the diamond K, then led the spade 3 to the 10 and Q. East returned the diamond Q to be ruffed by the spade J, whereupon South began to lead clubs from the dummy. East ruffed the third with his spade A. Having only red cards left, he returned the diamond J, which the spade K trumped, and good clubs then disposed of the rest of South's losers to complete the contract.

East should have realised, upon seeing the big club suit, that South would not require any ruffs in the dummy, but could discard losers on clubs. He also should have noted that South was virtually sure to have the diamond K, as West would not have led the suit if he held it. Hence, South could surely discard the dummy's lone heart on the diamond honor. Figuring thus, East should have noted that the only chance for his side to get four tricks was by picking off one in hearts—probably possible in view of West's bid. Had he reckoned that way, he should have fired back a heart after winning the diamond lead. That heart trick, plus his own assured two in trumps, would have beaten the contract.

Tomorrow's Problem

If South gets into 6-Hearts on this deal, how must West defend to set him?

Use 330,000 Troops Keep Voting Quiet

Hoping To Prevent Intimidation In Italian Elections

ROME, April 3 — (AP). — The Italian government said today it has 330,000 armed men, including a shock force of 150,000, ready to strike swiftly against any attempt at election violence.

Mario Scelba, minister of the interior, disclosed the preparations in a radio address to the Italian people. He sought to assure them against possible intimidation.

He said he had 150,000 men equipped with the most modern armament and prepared to meet force with force. They were recruited from the ranks of the police, army, navy and air corps.

In addition, another 180,000 troops will guard Italy's hundreds of voting places on election day, April 18.

Watch Propaganda

At Taranto, United States ambassador James C. Dunn warned Italians against "propagandists who seek to turn the Italian people into the adventure of totalitarianism."

Speaking on the arrival of the 500th American ship carrying food and relief supplies to Italy, Dunn told 200 dock workers in the Communist-governed port city that "traditionally friendly relations between Italy and America will continue unimpaired."

Scelba told the voters in his radio address they must choose April 18 between "Communism and democracy."

A government commission announced completion of study for board reforms of Italy's security laws. Premier Alcide De Gasperi said the proposed social security aids were the hope of "a million old workers who, despite the improvements granted last year and this year, still count every mouthful of bread."

BARRIER AT U.S.-SOVIET LINE IN BERLIN—This street barrier was established by the Russians where their zone joins the U.S. zone in Berlin. The Russians abandoned, after two hours, road-blocks set up on the boundaries of the Russian zone of the German capital city. Russia, however, later cut off all rail traffic from Berlin to the American, British and French zones of Germany. Approximately 400 British troops scored their first impressive victory of the western allies over Soviets in the city when Soviet soldiers who had established a military post and road block at a cross roads near the British sector abandoned their control point and returned to the Soviet zone border.

Howe Considers House Building

PORT ARTHUR, April 3 (CP) —Trade Minister C. D. Howe said yesterday that on his return to Ottawa he will give serious consideration to resumption of the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation's home-building program.

Mr. Howe made his announcement at a press conference after learning that Premier Drew had withheld from operation the provincial crown lands bill under which the Ontario government would have power to cut provincial services to Central Mortgage Corporation homes in municipalities where satisfactory agreements concerning taxes and other matters had not been reached.

Mr. Howe had announced the corporation's program to erect 5,000 homes in Ontario had been cancelled due to provincial legislation.

Dynamite Explosion Rocks Quebec Village

STE. CLAIRE, Que., April 3.—(CP) — Windows were shattered and villagers rushed outdoors in night attire as a violent explosion rocked this tiny Dorchester county village 25 miles southwest of Quebec yesterday. There were no casualties.

Provincial police, who are pursuing their investigation, said they believed the blast resulted from the setting off a quantity of dynamite almost in the centre of the village whose population is nearly 2,000.

Police said the only clue to a possible motive was a note which read: "We want the eight-hour day or else . . ."

May Train US Troops

OTTAWA, April 3. (CP) —The possibility is seen here that if the United States Congress approves universal military training, thousands of young American trainees might be partially taught on Canadian soil.

Maritimes Plan To Appeal Freight Increase

HALIFAX, April 3. (CP) — The transportation commission of the Maritime Board of Trade today served notice on the Federal government that it intends to appeal the decision of the Board of Transport Commissioners increasing freight rates 21 per cent.

The appeal will be made under instruction from the three Maritime governments either to "His Excellency-in-Council", the judicial committee of the privy council or to the Supreme Court of Canada.

The transportation commission of the Maritime Board of Trade represents more than 70 Boards of Trade in the Maritimes and a large number of industries. It also acts for the three governments in transportation matters.

The Transportation Commission served its notice in a telegram, signed by Chairman D. R. Turnbull of Halifax and addressed to "His Excellency, the Governor-in-Council."

The telegram said the commission "is very much dissatisfied with the decision and order of the Board of Transport Commissioners."

The Transportation Commission claimed that the basis on which the Board of Transport Commissioners made its decision was erroneous and that it was in complete violation of the Maritime Freight Rates Act and that its effect would be to destroy the protection which was given to persons and industries in the Maritime provinces under the act.

Chinese Reds Attack Changchun Airfield

PEIPING, April 3. (AP) — Chinese Communists today were reported attacking an airfield on the outskirts of besieged Changchun, isolated capital of Manchuria.

In inner Mongolia, government pursuit planes were continuing their strong support of ground forces attempting to clear the Reds out of Southern Chahar province.

Report Russ Ship Watched Atomic Task Force Leave

HONOLULU, April 3—(AP).—The United States Navy remained silent today on a Honolulu newspaper's story that an atomic task force sailed March 8 for the super-secret Eniwetok testing ground in full view of a Russian ship. The story in the Honolulu Advertiser also speculated that initial phases of the tests had been under way for two weeks and that they may involve guided missiles with atomic warheads.

The story, published Wednesday, said the flagship Mt. McKinley, sailed from Pearl Harbor while the Russian motorship Dnestr was in "easy binocular distance" in Honolulu harbor.

Furthermore, said the Advertiser, four Russian sailing ships had departed only the day before. All five, it added, will travel in consort to Vladivostok on a course that normally would take them close to the 30,000 square miles around Eniwetok which the United States closed to all foreign shipping.

The navy had asked all newspapers and news agencies in Honolulu not to mention ship movements to Eniwetok on the sailing date. It said such news would furnish a clue to Eniwetok experiment time-tables.

Military reported Buck Buchwach said the stroy of the ship movement was published only after the United Press distributed a Washington story speculating that a new atomic bomb had been or soon would be exploded. He said that made it clear that security had broken down.

Barking Dog Saves Family

The barking of their dog aroused Mr. and Mrs. William Harrington of Ennismore, to awareness of fire that destroyed their farm home Thursday night.

The house, which they have occupied for more than half a century was a complete loss with all but a few small items of its contents.

Between 12 and 1 o'clock the fire was discovered at the rear of the premises. It was believed to have started in the summer kitchen, and was probably smouldering for some considerable time before it broke into flames.

The Harrington home was on the eastern side of the township, opposite Curve Lake reserve. One of the two wharves of a ferry service between the reserve and the township years ago was on the Harrington shore.

It was reported that the barking of the Harrington dog awakened at least one other family of the neighborhood. They immediately saw the flames, then at the rear of the house. A telephone call brought no response. This farmer set out at once for the Harrington place, fearing that possibly the family might be trapped in the flames. Other neighbors weere quickly aroused, but they arrived too late to save any part of the building or contents. The barns are all that remain of the farm home, which is partly insured.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrington celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding about three years ago.

Maynooth Man Held Posed As Collector

TORONTO, April 3—Daniel Scott of Maynooth will be sentenced on April 8 by Magistrate Martin. Scott pleaded guilty to three charges of posing as a playground fund collector. He was arrested March 29 by a York Township constable while accepting money from occupants of an apartment house of Walmer Rd. and Heath St. Scott was posing as a collector for the North Toronto Playground Fund, the court was told.

Armed Band Of Jews Drive On Arab Village

JERUSALEM, April 3. (AP) — Arab sources said today a detachment of armed Jews have captured the village of Castel, five miles west of Jerusalem and are driving on the neighboring village of Ain Karem. The Arabs said they were sending reinforcements into the area.

Castel is in the Judean Hills dominating positions from which Arabs have launched attacks on Jewish convoys bound for the Holy City.

Jewish sources did not confirm the report, but said it was possible.

Palestine police reported last night the bodies of 10 Arabs had been found in an orange grove near Hehovot on the coast plain. An Arab who fled told police Jews entered the grove and opened fire.

48,000 Railroaders Idle As Coal Strike Continues

PITTSBURGH, April 3. (AP) —More than 5,000 New York Central railroad workers were laid off today, pushing past 61,000 the number made jobless in allied industries by the 20-day-old soft coal walkout.

The Pennsylvania Railroad announced yesterday it had laid off temporarily about 10,000 workers. Hit even harder were the Chesapeake and Ohio with 13,400 idle and the Baltimore and Ohio with 12,263.

The Michigan Central reported 1,260 employees idle and the Reading 400.

Throughout the country more than 48,000 railroaders were made idle because coal production was cut to about one-sixth of the normal 12,000,000 tons a week, by the United Mine Workers dispute over a pension plan.

Seamen Affected

John Aldrich, a representative of the National Maritime Union, (CIL), said the mine shutdown was causing "serious unemployment among seamen" at Norfolk, Va. Many ships serving Norfolk carry coal.

In Washington, White House moves to end the walkout were expected with the return of President Truman from Williamsburg, Va., where he attended a convocation yesterday with Canada's prime minister, Mackenzie King, and Viscount Alexander, the Dominion's governor-general.

Turn Tables By Blocking Russ Sector

22 Russian Officers Kept Outside Rail Headquarters

BERLIN, April 3 — (AP). — United States authorities using troops, kept 22 Russians out of a Soviet building in the American sector of Berlin today and announced they were blocking off the sector from the Soviet zone.

They said a temporary road block would be set up at 11 a.m. on the main highway leading from the American sector to Potsdam in the Russian zone. It will be lifted at 3 p.m.

An American officer, six soldiers and two German policemen will man the road block to check all persons and vehicles through, the announcement said.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, United States military governor, declined to make any statement about the blockade. But it was interpreted generally as a counter-move to the control measures instituted by the Russians.

The road block will be in the Berlin suburb of Wannsee, in the American sector but close to the boundary of the city's Russian zone. Many Russians whose offices are in Berlin have their billets in Potsdam and use the road in question.

Surround Headquarters

Earlier, 50 United States military policemen surrounding Soviet railroad headquarters in the American sector prevented 22 Russian officers and employees from entering.

Two of the Russians refused entrance to the building were generals. The group was turned back when it tried to go in at 9 a.m. The military policemen encircled the headquarters last night.

The two moves were the latest in a series involving Russia and the three western allies, which share occupation of the pre-war capital of beaten Germany.

When the Russian officers showed up at the rail headquarters today, Lt.-Col. Eugene W Hilton, commanding the American troops, told them he was barring them on orders from Clay.

Told they could not enter, the two generals, a lieutenant-colonel and the rest of the group walked back to their conveyances and left.

Forced Back

Deny Braund Has Cure For Cancer

SYDNEY, Australia, April 3—(CP).—After two months' investigation of John Braund's method of treating cancer, a committee of inquiry set up by the New South Wales Government has completed its work and is sending its report to Premier James McGirr to-night.

The Sydney Morning Herald publishes a story saying that the committee agreed unanimously that Braund has not produced evidence of a cure for cancer.

Dr. E. S. Morris, chairman of the committee, said that nothing official has been announced. He refused to comment beyond saying that the committee's report should be tabled in the State Parliament during the week.

Braund, 78-year-old Sydney layman, received wide publicity after the Sydney Sun published a story about his cancer cure claims and suggested that they be investigated by the government.

The committee of inquiry was set up by Premier McGirr January 29, and consisted of four leading cancer specialists, nominated by the Premier, four doctors named by Braund, and four laymen. The laymen included two members of Parliament.

Railways Raise Freight Rate April 8

MONTREAL, April 3 — (CP). — Tariffs based on the transport commission's authorization of a freight rate increase will be filed by Canadian railways next week with an effective date of April 8, it was learned here today.

In filing the tariffs with the commission, the railways will take advantage of the commission's decision last Tuesday authorizing a 21 per cent general increase which is estimated to bring carrers $70,000,000 a year in new revenue.

The new rates will become effective automatically three days after the tariffs are filed.

Lewis Leaves Strike To Miners

WASHINGTON, April 3 — (AP). — John L. Lewis, leader of the United Mine Workers (Ind.), today told striking soft coal miners they can do as they please about returning to work.

Lewis' letter thus left the nearly 400,000 miners free to go back into the mines.

The unusual message came just before President Truman was reported about to ask a Federal Court for an injunction to end the three-week-old work stoppage.

On 2-Years Probation

HAMILTON, April 3 — (CP). — Mrs. Electa Cartmell, 27-year-old widowed dress designer, was placed on two years probation today following her conviction last night of neglecting to provide the necessities of life for her four-months-old daughter, Meron. Congress Passes Aid Bill 2 Weeks Before Deadline Move Against Communists

Eisenhower Tells Senate Draft, Training Vital To Safety Of US; British Officials Say Bill 'Life-Saver'

WASHINGTON, April 3—(CP).—The United States Government worked at top speed today to convert $6,098,000,000 into a dike against Communism in Europe and Asia. President Truman was expected to sign around noon the gigantic new foreign aid bill which Congress swiftly approved yesterday, almost two weeks before the April 15 deadline.

The tense international situation was also reflected in the armed services committees of both the Senate and House of Representatives yesterday. Defence Secretary Forrestal asked for registration of men up to the age of 45, with a limited draft of non-veterans between the ages of 19 and 26.

At the same time, Gen. Eisenhower appeared before the Senate group in person, wearing his beribboned army uniform, and took the stand that both a draft and universal military training are vital to the safety of the United States.

The vast foreign aid program, centre piece of the government's "stop-Russia" strategy, is designed to rush American goods and money to 16 western European countries, with extra funds, including military aid to Greece, Turkey and China.

Passed By Big Majority

Major provision of the bill — which the House passed yesterday. 318 to 75, and the Senate by a voice vote—authorizes a 4¼-year economic recovery program for western Europe at a cost of $5,300,000,000. This is for the first 12 months beginning last Thursday, April 1.

Also included in the measure are $275,000,000 for military supplies to Greece and Turkey, $463,000,000 for aid to China—of which $125,000 may be spent for military purposes—and $60,000,000 for the United Nations' International Children's Fund.

Life Saver

LONDON, April 3.— (AP). — British officials said last night passage of the $6,098,000,000 global foreign aid bill by the United States Congress is a life-saver.

They admitted last night Britain is as close to being bankrupt as she ever has been since becoming a major world power.

BLUEY'S BRIDE ENDS LONG JOURNEY—Within 56 hours of her leaving Australia, Amana Matilda flew the length of the Pacific to meet a Trans-Canada Air Line aircraft at Vancouver and across half the continent to Toronto airport. Presented by the Sydney Journalists' club to the Toronto Men's and Women's Press clubs, the distinguished traveller was met at the airport by Miss Dorothy McCallum, representing her father, Mayor H. E. McCallum of Toronto, and members of the board of control and representatives of the press clubs. The photograph shows TCA stewardess Jean Johnston introducing Amena Matilda to Miss McCallum. The bouquet of carrots presented to Amana Matilda interested her much more than the official welcome. Amana Matilda will be a mate for Bluey, the kangaroo who made the headlines last year when it was sent over from Australia for the Byline Ball. Amana will be officially introduced to club members at the Press Club's April 10th By-Line Ball.

Clear Policeman Of Beating Toronto Prisoner

TORONTO, April 3.—(CP). — The Toronto Police Commission has cleared Constable Raymond Johns of crarges of beating and kicking a prisoner, Jean Poitras, formerly of Ottawa.

The Commission saaid yesterday it considered "justified" the actions of the policeman after he took the 26-year-old Poitras into custody late March 3 on a charge of drunkenness.

Mayor Hiram E. McCallum told newspaper men after the decision was reached that he will recommend that senior officers of a station should be present when prisoners are removed from a station wagon.

Held In Check

"It will be up to them to hold their subordinates in check."

The commission said:

"Having regard to all the circumstances, conduct and temper of Poitras, who undoubtedly was in a 'fighting drunk' condition after consuming beer from 5 p.m. until shortly before his arrest about 11:30 p.m., the commission is of the opinion that the action of the police was justified.

"To that finding the mayor would like to add that he realizes that Judge (T. H.) Barton and Magistrate (R. J.) Browne have had greater experience in considering evidence than he himself has. While he agrees there is no conclusive evidence of kicking of the prisoner by police officers, he is of the opinion that Constable Johns may have under strong provocation, used extreme force in self-defence."

Expects U.N. Keep Partition

LAKE SUCCESS, April 3 (CP) —A key delegate expressed doubt today that the United Nations Assembly will reverse its decision to partition Palestine.

He declared it would be extremely difficult to marshal the two-thirds majority of the 57-member assembly to overthrow the Nov. 29 resolution on partition.

The delegate would not permit identification but he has been concerned with the Palestine issue since last fall. He did not discuss what might happen if the partition decision is upheld.

Despite the security council call for the special assembly, the five-member Palestine partition commission decided late yesterday to continue work until new orders come from the assembly.

New Problems Delay Finland's Answer

HELSINKI, April 3. (AP) — New problems delayed President Juho K. Paasikivi's attempts today to figure Finland's next step in negotiations with Russia toward a Soviet-proposed friendship and security pact.

Since two of the Finnish delegates flew back from Moscow yesterday to report on the talks, Passikivi has spent hours with them and his advisers.

Twice the president has summoned the cabinet since yesterday. Both meetings later were cancelled as he continued his talks with the delegates, Dr. Kekkonen and Dr. J. O. Soederhjelm.

Plan $50,000 Memorial To Late Primate

A campaign to raise $50,000 for a memorial to the late Most Reverend Derwyn T. Owen, formerly Archbishop of Toronto and Primate of All Canada will be launched on or about April 9th, which is the first anniversary of the Archbishop's death.

The memorial will be a dual one —the establishment of a lectureship to be known as the Archbishop Owen Memorial Lecture, which will be delivered every two or three years on the general subject of the church in relation to present day problems, by eminent speakers from the British Isles and elsewhere; and two scholarships, to be awarded each year to students in any of the Canadian Anglican theological colleges, with preference to those ready to serve, on ordination, in one of the church's missionary areas.

The decision to establish such a memorial was reached at a meeting of the executive council of the General Synod at Saskatoon last September, when a committee appointed by the new primate, The Most Rev. G. F. Kingston, brought in its recommendation. This report was accepted by the executive council and a memorial committee representing the various ecclesiastical provinces across Canada has now been set up to conduct the campaign.

This committee, under the chairmanship of Venerable F. J. Sawers, Archdeacon of York, who was a student in the Peterborough Collegiate Institute with Archbishop Owen and who was for many years domestic chaplain to the late Archbishop, consists of 36 prominent clerical and lay members of the Church of England in Canada, including the Primate, archbishops, bishops, leans, archdeacons, chancellors of various dioceses, judges, business and professional men and three women representing the Woman's Auxiliary. The honorary treasurer is F. W. Moody, general treasurerof the Missionary Society of the Church of England in Canada; and the secretary is Albert Callaway, president of the Diocesan Laymen's Council of the Diocese of Toronto.

Campaign headquarters has been set up at Church House, 604 Jarvis St., Toronto, and plans are well advanced for a Canada-wide appeal to achieve the objective quickly.

"It is felt" said Archdeacon Sawers, "that the objects aimed at by the memorial would have had the wholehearted approval of the late revered Primate. Archbishop Owen served the Anglican Church for 47 years as curate, rector, dean, bishop and primate. He was a moderate churchman of wide culture and broad theological views who gained for himself the confidenceof all schools of thought. He believed that the church had a mission of prime importance in this troubled age and it is the intent of the lectureship to promote thinking and discussion on this relationship in its many aspects. His lifelong interest in missions makes it appropriate that encouragement be given, through the scholarships, to young men willing to devote themselves to this important phases of the Church's work.

Aged Lady Alone When Home Lost

BONARLAW, April 3—(ENS) —Fire totally destroyed the home of Fred Mack, 11th Concession, Rawdon Township, two miles east of Springbrook, on Friday afternoon. Loss is estimated at approximately $2,000.

Mr. Mack, who lives with his 84-year-old mother in the house, had gone to Madoc on business leaving the elderly woman alone.

Mrs. Mack, who has failing vision, did not notice the flames until they were curling around the kitchen windows. Exactly what happened is not known as she was unable to remember the sequence of events.

Lindsay Cassidy, owner of the neighboring farm noticing the smoke and hurried to the Mack home. When he arrived the interior of the structure was a mass of flames making it almost impossible to enter.

Mrs. Mack had apparently made a vain attempt to re-enter the house and had her hair singed doing so.

Flames had so great a start, it was useless for the few persons present forming a bucket brigade. The only thing saved was a sideboard.

It is not believed the building was insured.

Used Shotgun Butt To Strike Isaac Hill

BRANTFORD, April 3.—(CP). —Maynard Jonthan, 18-year-old Tuscarora Indian, last night told an assize court jury he struck Isaac Hill, 77, with the butt of a shotgun last Nov. 8. He is being tried for murder in connection with Hill's death.

Jonathan said the assault was the outcome of an attempt by he and his cousin, Joseph Clause, to borrow money from Hill.

"Hill said, 'go away, you drunken fools,'" Jonthan said. "With that, I got mad and hit him."

Jonathan still was in the witness box when court was adjourned until today.

Business Trends Looking Bright

By The Canadian Press.

Business trends continued to look bright and market prices climbed for the second successive week, with New York pacing the upward move by a minor rally.

Canadian exchanges were closed Easter Monday, but the prices started rising Tuesday with CPR trading actively on a good advance following announcement of a 21 per cent increase in freight rates allowed by the Inquiry Board.

Securities representing potential rearmament industries continued popular and edged upward while base metals registered steady gains. Golds, however, remained uncertain.

Annual reports of Canadian corporations published this week emphasized the high earnings trends for 1947 and an increasing number of industries reported substantially improved assets and expanded reserves. Although profits in many instances showed increases ranging around 50 per cent above the previous year, only in a few cases were dividends increased.

Find Arms Cache For Division

ROME, April 3.—(AP).—Motorized Italian troops and police swept the approaches to Rome today, uncovering a vast network of hidden arms sufficient to equip a battalion. Between 30 and 40 Communists were arrested.

The arms seizure followed the machine-gun slaying Thursday midnight of a Sicilian labor leader and the wounding of two of his companions. The shooting in the midst of Italy's election campaign caused fresh forebodings of trouble.

were stationed on all roads to the building, not far from the Soviet sector. They covered all entrances.

The Russians have used the building since the occupation began. When the officers protested to Hilton that they had offices inside which were part of the Soviet military administration, he said they would have to take the matter up with Clay.

Hilton told them any Russian in the building might come out but no Russian would be allowed to enter without Clay's permission.

Sent in Guards

Col. Frank Howley head of the United States military government in Berlin, said the building had been put under American troop control because the Russians in recent nights had sent guards in "after dark." He added the United States guard would remain until the situation had been clarified. The Russian commandant in Berlin, has protested the American move.

One official said privately it violates established four-power procedure for one occupying power to move armed guards into another power's zone.

Shortly before the Soviet group appeared, a Russian officer drove up and asked permission to send food in to the Russian guards.

Hilton said the two Russian guards on the truck could not take the food inside and if the guards in the building came out for it they would not be allowed to re-enter.

The food finally was put on the curb, inspected and then carried in by a German policeman.

The Russians also hold the Berlin radio building in the British sector of the city. The building still was in Russian hands today.

As the tension continued yesterday, the Russians announced they were withdrawing from seven of the 19 committees in the four-power government of the city.

A 56-car train arrived today bearing military government supplies for U.S. forces and dependents in Berlin. It was the first such train to arrive in several days. British forces have received three trains in the last two days.

The supply train passed the Russian checkpoint at Marienborn without incident.

"Sit Tight"

WASHINGTON, April 3 — (AP). — Russia's opening move to squeeze the western powers out of Berlin collided today with a firm American decision to "sit tight."

The words were those of Gen. Lucius D. Clay, United States military commander in Germany. And, said army Secretary Royall here, they have "the full support of this department and the government."

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, April 3 — (CP) — Commission house selling and profit-taking influenced in part by Thursday's announcement that no oats and barley would be available for export to the United States, lent an easier tone to the Winnipeg Grain Exchange dealings yesterday. Processor and shipper support was very light. Light offerings attributed to shipping account were recorded in May rye, and shippers also were selling in October rye.

Price of class two wheat for export to countries other than the United Kingdom decreased one cent. About 35,000 bushels of wheat were allotted for export to the United Kingdom under the Anglo-Canadian wheat agreement.

In addition to extensive damage to the floor, furniture, walls and drapes were scorched and damaged by smoke. Sends Opposition Bible Message

TORONTO, April 3 — (CP).— A touch of humor preceded Provincial Treasurer Frost's delivery of the Ontario Legislature budget address yesterday.

Before he began to speak he sent a note of A. A. MacLeod, Labor-Progressive member for Toronto Bellwoods, which said:

"II Timothy, chapter 2, verse 7."

Mr. MacLeod dispatched a page for a Bible and looked up the reference. The verse read:

"Consider what I say: And the Lord give thee understanding in all things."

As soon as the Treasurer concluded, Mr. MacLeod crossed the House to congratulate him—both on his speech and the aptness of the Scripture.

Three Vacancies On Smith Council

With the resignation this week of Deputy-reeve Ross Harrison and Councillor Robert Tully, Smith township council is calling a public meeting of the ratepayers Saturday, April 10 to fill three vacancies in the council. The first was caused by the death of Reeve Gilbert McIlmoyle.

If an election is necessary, it will be held Saturday April 17.

In their discussion of what course to take in reforming the council's ranks, it was decided to submit a broad choice to the ratepayers. Nominations might have been restricted to the position of reeve, but factors considered were experience of present members and the wishes of the people. It was felt that if they to promote Mr. Harrison to the reeveship the decision will rest with them. At the same time they can determine whether they want Mr. Tully to step up to Deputy Reeve, and they can then nominate a councillor for the rest of the year.

Meinzinger Still Awaiting Conservatives

TORONTO, April 3.—(CP). — Joseph Meinzinger, the still independent member for North Waterloo, is awaiting the Tory blessing. He still wants to be recognized as a Progressive Conservative supporter and reiterated his stand in the Legislature yesterday.

An Independent Liberal until he forsook the Grits last week, Mr. Meinzinger, former mayor of Kitchener, had it written into the records yesterday.

First he quoted from a newspaper clipping which said he wasn't sure how to go about joining the Conservatives. The clipping quoted Mr. Meinzinger as saying "he didnt' want to look foolish."

Yesterday he declared: "No one has to look foolish to join the Conservative ranks in this House. I came here as an independent. I cast in my lot with the Liberals because they showed me a platform that I thought was a good one. But ever since I've been here I haven't seen anything to persuade me to stay in the Liberal ranks. On the other hand the Conservatives have brought in legislation which benefits the people and which I have advocated in the past. I am with the government in future."

He said he knows where he stands. 'I now feel I am a supporter of the government and it is entirely in the hands of the Prime Minister and the government if they give me the blessing or not."

What Is Automobile Public Liability Insurance?

Public Liability covers your legal liability for bodily injury or death to the public, excluding passengers in your car. The minimum limits obtainable are $5,000 one person injured or killed, and $10,000 one accident if two or more are injured or killed. These limits can be increased at a small additional cost and are exclusive of interest and costs.

What Is Property Damage Insurance As Applied To Automobile Policies?

Automobile Property Damage Liability Insurance covers against loss by reason of legal liability for damage to or destruction of any property except the insured's own. The minimum limit obtainable is $1,000. This limit can be increased by a small additional cost.

PUBLIC LIABILITY AND PROPERTY DAMAGE are now a combined coverage with an annual Tariff premium for private and pleasure purposes of $20.00 for Standard Limits of $5,000/10,000 and $1,000. If the limits were increased to $10,000/20,000 P.L. and $2,000 P.D., the premium would be $21.80. If the limits were increased to $25,000/50,000 P.L. and $5,000 P.D., the premium would be $23.00.

An Informal Report By CANADIAN GENERAL ELECTRIC
To Our Neighbours In PETERBOROUGH

This is the time of year when companies publish their financial reports for the information of shareholders. We have just published ours. But a financial report gives only the "figures" concerning a business and we think our neighbours in Peterborough might care to know something of the "human balance sheet" of the Company's operation in this city

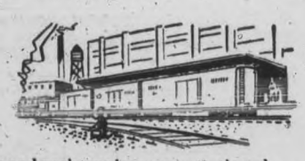
During the last fifty-six years, Canadian General Electric has become so much a part of Peterborough that today the conduct of the Company's business and the welfare of the city's residents are very closely related. Because of the part C.G.E. employees take in the community life of Peterborough, it is probable that many of the activities of the Company are of interest to a large proportion of Peterborough people, just as many of the city's activities are interesting to all of us.

For this reason, we think it only neighbourly to tell Peterborough folk what goes on at Canadian General Electric—what are the latest developments of the city's largest industry and what are our plans for the future.

L. F. McRae

Manager, Peterborough Works

PLANT EXPANSION AND IMPROVEMENT UNDER WAY



In June, 1945, we launched a great expansion program at the Peterborough Works. By the end of last year $4,806,000 had been spent on new and improved facilities. But that is by no means the end. Continuing this plan, a further $3,800,000 will be spent during the next two years. Practically every department is included in this expansion and improvement program. And, of course, new plants mean more jobs.

EMPLOYMENT TOPS WARTIME FIGURE

In 1947, employment was provided for 4,426 people in Peterborough—a record total that actually tops the wartime high. The clearest picture, however, of how more and more jobs are continually being made for men and women in this city, is obtained by comparing last year's employment with the 1939 figure of 1,728.

DEMAND STILL EXCEEDS SUPPLY

In spite of increased facilities and peak employment, mentioned above, we were still unable to meet last year's demand for electrical equipment produced at Peterborough Works, even though we manufactured more goods than we ever did before. Continuing customer demand for high quality goods should result in 1948 being as busy as last year.

C.G.E.'S PAYROLL SOARS TO A NEW HIGH

In 1947, our payroll in Peterborough reached the record figure of $9,604,000 compared with $1,828,000 in 1939. For the last quarter of 1947, the average weekly earnings at Peterborough Works was 3.16 above the average for the electrical industry and $4.69 above the average for all manufacturing industry.

*Latest period for which Dominion Bureau of Statistics figures are available.

JOB DIVIDENDS

Extra benefits for employees—job dividends would be a good name for them—in the form of paid vacations and paid statutory holidays, pensions, life insurance and a modern cafeteria are in effect at Canadia. General Electric. In addition, the Company makes substantial payments for workmen's compensation, unemployment insurance and accident prevention.

CASH ENCOURAGEMENT FOR NEW IDEAS

Ideas are welcomed at C.G.E. here's a continual opportunity for any employee to earn extra dollars with ideas to improve methods, lower costs and improve products. Highest single "suggestion award" made to a Peterborough employee in 1947 was $750. Total number of awards made during the year was 564.

APPRENTICE AND TECHNICAL COURSES FOR C-G-E STUDENTS

At the present time there are 106 apprentices and 75 student engineers enrolled in training courses in the Peterborough Works. These special courses, which have been conducted for many years, provide mechanical and technical education right on the job. Graduates of these courses are today holding important positions throughout Canadian industry.

RETIREMENT PENSIONS FOR EMPLOYEES

When eligible employees reach retirement age at C.G.E., they receive a pension for the rest of their lives. 123 Peterborough pensioners have enjoyed the benefit from this plan. At the moment the Company has 64 Peterborough pensioners receiving monthly cheques from this plan.

QUARTER CENTURY CLUB MEMBERSHIP

We're proud that the membership of our Quarter Century Club keeps growing. Our long-service employees are regarded highly by the Company. Men and women with 25 years or more service receive three weeks' vacation with pay each year.

PLAYING OUR PART IN COMMUNITY AFFAIRS

We have endeavoured always to do more than just meet our responsibilities to the community of Peterborough. An indication of Canadian General Electric's interest in the civic and community life of this city are the contributions we make each year to the Peterborough Red Cross and Community Fund.

KAWARTHA GOLF AND COUNTRY CLUB

Canadian General Electric has spent a considerable amount in purchasing and developing this club. For a small annual fee, membership is open to all Peterborough residents—whether employed with the Company or not. The golf course, an asset to the city, is rated one of the finest in Ontario.

C.G.E. ... THE CITY'S LARGEST TAXPAYER

One of the best indications of Canadian General Electric's contribution to Peterborough affairs is the amount of taxes the Company pays. For the past many years we have been the largest single taxpayer in the city. In addition, the Company's substantial Dominion income tax payments contribute in no small way to Canada's social security measures.

Hope For Housing

The Drew-Howe squabble aroused dismay not untinged with anger in Peterborough as well as in other Ontario municipalities. It seemed that housing was being sacrificed to personal rancour and displays of political power. The fracas has now subsided and the bout seems to have gone to Mr. Howe. Mr. Drew has withdrawn the Bill which offended Mr. Howe and which, despite the Ontario Premier's supporters, did give the Ontario Government power to abrogate agreements between the Federal Government and municipalities like Peterborough.

• • •

Mr. Howe's department has indicated that it will proceed with the forty million dollar plan for housing veterans' families in this province. Peterborough has contracted for 125 of these homes and asked for another 75. We are relieved that the program is not going to be abandoned by Ottawa.

• • •

The Ontario Government introduced on Thursday legislation which will benefit not only municipalities but also individuals faced with a housing shortage. As announced by the Honourable Dana Porter, Minister of Planning and Development, the Ontario Government will spend thirty million dollars (much of it repayable) to encourage the construction and purchase of new moderately-priced houses and the improvement of slums.

• • •

The Ontario Bill has three points of special interest locally. The program will not be restricted to veterans. The Government will guarantee a down-payment of $1,000 a house (with certain limitations) to lending companies so that down payments required from individuals buying or building a house will be reduced. This will find favour in Peterborough where there are numerous persons who have had to abandon or sell at a loss a house contracted for and already half-built, because down payments have taken all their capital and no further loans could be got against the house. The third point is that the Province will offer to pay the municipalities (under certain conditions) one-half the cost of buying lots and providing services for the Veterans' Housing Scheme. This may save Peterborough forty to fifty thousand dollars on 200 veterans' houses.

• • •

Though the Provincial Housing Bill has not yet had thorough legislative examination which may reveal some weaknesses, on the whole it seems a timely, reasonable and good attempt to deal with the housing shortage in Ontario.

Education For The Heart

The delegates to the Ontario Educational Association assembled this week in Toronto received and gave a wide range of advice. It is apparent that educational theory is in as great a muddle as politics, economics and science in these bewildering times. One speaker went as far as to charge that "there is not now nor has there ever been any real sign of philosophical understanding in the Department of Education or in the Ontario College of Education".

• • •

Ontario municipalities—indeed everywhere in Canada where the money could be found—have built and equipped "Vocational Schools" at great cost. This week several prominent educationists said that teachers should be more concerned with training pupils to think than with developing skills in them. An industrialist told one section of the O.E.A. that industry preferred a high school graduate with a good general education rather than technical knowledge. In the dispute between education for the hand and for the brain, the brain. They continue to disregard the importance of the heart.

It is understandable that they should, for it is hard to lay down pedagogical methods for dealing with unsubstantial things like the heart and the imagination. We hear the cries across the country for "drive", dynanism, faith, We deplore the lack of vision and the cynicism of our youth, their selfish materialism, their brittle scepticism. Nevertheless, most of our schools continue to attempt to cut down the jungles rather than to irrigate the deserts; "debunking" is still the foible of many teachers. The weakness of great men rather than their glory is emphasized, realism is set above idealism, logic is used to destroy the innate sense of wonder. If teaching is not for the hand, it is for the head; the heart is debunked or cut out. C. S. Lewis of Oxford in his lecture The Abolition of Man says bitterly:

In a sort of ghastly simplicity we remove the organ and demand the function. We make men without chests and expect of them virtue and enterprise. We laugh at honour and are shocked to find traitors in our midst. We castrate and bid geldings be fruitful.

• • •

We seem to be afraid of education for the senses, though as Mr. Lewis says, by starving the sensibility of our pupils we only make them easier preys to the propagandist when he comes. "For famished nature will be avenged and a hard heart is no infallible protection against a soft head". For every pupil who needs to be guarded from weak excess of emotion there are three who need to be awakened from the slumber of their senses.

• • •

In The Old Century Siegfried Sassoon, the English poet and novelist, tells of his own haphazard schooling. There was no gymnasium but he and his brothers were exposed to a little "callisthenics" between the French of jenetre, the German of fenster and the schoolroom window which gave access to the wonders of beetles and shrubs and Kentish clouds. There was no machine shop, but the brothers who liked using their hands did some supervised "manual training" and much unsupervised exploring of the mechanism of clocks and bicycles. One of them became a famous engineer. Siegfried became a poet. All three of them grew up with inquiring minds and retained the sense of childhood wonder which builds bridges, creates poems and is the stuff of statesmanship. Dr. Samuel Johnson wrote out of his great wisdom: "That man is little to be envied whose patriotism would not gain force upon the plain of Marathon, or whose piety would not grow warmer among the ruins of Iona". Education must hold before youth "the habitual vision of greatness". It must kindle the imagination and nurture the heart.

What We Have We Hold

The Russian government has been up to an old Russian trick in Canada; recently an announcement from the Soviet Embassy was published in the Canadian foreign-language press calling upon all Lithuanians resident in this country who were not naturalized citizens to register with the Soviet Embassy before the first of June. The Canadian Government has very wisely and rightly advised Lithuanians that they are under no obligation to do anything of the kind.

Russia has, at one time or another during the past ten years, had possession of Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia, and shrewdly conferred Russian citizenship upon the peoples of all these countries. The Russians have, from time to time, demanded that all people of these nationalities in European D.P. camps be transferred from the British and American zones to the Russian zone. Russia has successfully demanded of Finland and Sweden that people of the once-independent Baltic states resident in those countries be deported to Russia—because they were Russian citizens. It is a fact also that Displaced Persons from Lithuania, Estonia and Latvia arriving in Canada have been pestered by local Communists to return to Europe at the expense of the Russian government.

There might come a day when Russia would ask Canada to deport or give up all people in this country from the Baltic states who had registered at the Russian embassy. Our government is very wise in blocking any such impudent demand. People who have sought freedom in Canada must not live in fear that they may have to return to Russian domination. What we have, we hold.

Somebody has perfected a watch that does not tick. If we could combine this feature with our present watch, which does not tell time, we would have a valuable piece of equipment for a jour-

Diary Of A Broken Man

By SAMUEL MARCHBANKS

SUNDAY: Train travel today. In an advertisement for a mystery story read a testimonial from Miss Hedy Lamarr, in these strange words: "It made my blood curl".... On the train were four happy extroverts who drank copiously from flasks, and were bosom friends in less than an hour; in ringing voices they discussed their investments, private fortunes, the Palestine situation and the difficulty of getting any wearable underpants. When any woman under seventy passed down the car they whistled after her, to show that they were full of hormones. They rushed to and from the lavatory, shouting as they went. As train lavatories have direct access to the roadbed, I hoped that they might fall through, but none of them did so.

◇ ◇ ◇

MONDAY: I wonder why accompanists of singers who come to this country from the U.S.A. so rarely take the trouble to learn to play "God Save The King?" Nothing puts a recital off to a cold start so surely and inexorably as one of these axe-murders on the National Anthem. Heard a man this evening who must have had the words of God Save The King read to him just before he came on the stage, and who was composing his own tune to fit an imperfect recollection of them. ....I see a strange gadget advertised—a special pair of circular scissors to remove hair from the nose and ears. Personally I regard hair in the ears as a sign of wisdom; the Chinese greatly esteem an elongated earlobe, and it seems to me that when such a lobe is allied with a splendidly hirsute ear, perfection has been reached, and should not be tampered with. As for hair in the nose, it is picturesque, and with a little practice it can be made to quiver, like the antennae of one of the more intelligent and sensitive insects. Anything which gives interest to the gloomy, immobile pan of the average Canadian citizen should be cherished, and not extirpated with circular scissors.

◇ ◇ ◇

TUESDAY: Met a man today who exhibited such unusual social grace and savoir faire that I was immediately curious about him; learned that he was the chief Inspector of Income Tax for a large district. This explained everything. Such a man would be forced to develop a winning manner in order to overcome the social handicap imposed by his position. In the same way an habitual strangler of children, or a man who was known to have his pockets full of rattlesnakes, would have to develop remarkable ease and brilliance if he hoped to have any social life whatever. In his office, too, he would constantly have to meet trying situations, such as enraged taxpayers armed with fire-axes, hysterical taxpayers who wanted to tear off their clothes in the Doukhobor manner, or ice-cold taxpayers with soft voices and a mad light in the eyes, who obviously had revolvers in their overcoat pockets. To charm and soothe such visitors, while at the same time dipping deep into their jeans, would demand an unusually polished address.

◇ ◇ ◇

WEDNESDAY: Paid a hasty visit to Toronto to hear the annual performance of Bach's "St. Matthew Passion"—a work which has had me in its thrall for about twenty years, and which I particularly admire in the Toronto performance. But in the course of an evening of deep satisfaction I had a chance to observe the strings and gadgets which the C.B.C. had strewn about the place, and hoped devoutly that some day the wireless will really be wireless, and not an obstrusive nuisance, as it is now ...Observed also that the hats of the assembled female music lovers were of a penitential and self-mortifying nature, appropriate to a Passion performance. ....Noted also that even at their best, Toronto choirs are too refined to sing a flat "a"—even where one is needed—and thus turn "man" into "mawn" and "lamb" into "lawmb". This used to be called the Rosedale Accent, but is now more likely to be found in the newer and tonier suburbs. An Afflicted Old Party right in front of me coughed desperately for ten mintes, and my heart bled for her, for she was a true music-lover and was deeply ashamed of the racket she made. Two kind souls offered her cough drops, but her trouble was too deep for the analgesic gropings of the Smith Bros.

◇ ◇ ◇

THURSDAY: Found myself in a powerfully inventive mood at breakfast time and decided to market a new breakfast food which came into my head as I ate. Most breakfast foods are too dry; this will be a moist concoction resembling cold spaghetti. My advertising slogan will run thus: "Don't scrape the tender membranes of your throat with harsh, old-fashioned cereals; Eat Marchbanks Delicious 'SLIMIES'" ....Remembering a sign I saw frequently beside the highway yesterday I decided also to manufacture a perfume specially designed for long motor trips; the name, 'SOFT SHOULDERS'—delicious, tantalizing, and redolent of the open road. ..I was given a paper napkin at breakfast, and before I had finished it was a wreck, strongly reminiscent of a witch's step-ins. So on the spot I invented Marchbanks Plastic Napkin, which can be carried everywhere, and freshened from time to time by sponging with a damp cloth.... Then for a motor journey, and saw a dog lunching on the highway on the remains of another dog which had been run over. I never realized before the full significance of the phrase "dog eat dog" and its relationship to the habits of Man's Dumb Chum.

◇ ◇ ◇

FRIDAY: Good Friday today, and I achieved an appropriate condition of humility by making a tour of my garden, which is worse than I have ever seen it. The rapidity of the spring thaw has left a grey film of soot upon last summer's seeds, and the spongey earth gives off a sour, sick smell. I have been told many times that my lawn needs dressing with lime, but I am inclined to think that bicarbonate of soda, or even milk of magnesia, would be more to the point. Crept into the house, very low, and sought surcease in sleep, but started bolt upright, screaming, I had been dreaming of my garden, and it had seemed to leer at me

◇ ◇ ◇

SATURDAY: Depressed this morning by news from Europe that the Poles are treating the Germans just as badly as the Germans treated the Poles ten years ago; this sort of tit-for-tat beastliness has been going on for thousands of years, without any perceptible improvement. It makes me wonder if I should not dress myself in skins, take a staff in my hand, and parade the face of the earth, crying "Repent! Repent!" in a loud voice. The theologians are right; Pride is the greatest troublemaker of all the sins... Was reading this afternoon when what seemed like eighty or a hundred children invaded my house, ate everything in sight, deposited about a hundredweight of dirt on the floors, tore off a few strips of wallpaper, loosened the plaster with their childish laughter, and whizzed out again, leaving me in a state of profound wonder. I am not strong enough to cope with children; I get on best with those who, like myself, have been broken on the wheel of life.

Letters To The Editor

CREAM SHIPPER REJECTS MONOPOLY

Sir: You are to be congratulated on the stand you editorially take re the butter situation. It does seem strange why a Liberal government should enact various dictatorial laws and think they should prove popular.

Good cannot come out of creating a butter monopoly, banning its rival margarine. Witness the butter shortage. Poorer classes of people deprived of a substitute. Good cannot come out of eviction control. Witness good types of people unable to obtain accommodation. People afraid to rent their rooms. All such laws have no place in a democracy.

I do not know whether the dairies are making too high a profit or not. Let there be an investigation. Considering the cost of production farmers' returns are not high.

I cannot understand the mentality of any farmer who would want the government to create a monopoly for him to protect his interests. He would probably be one of the first to howl if the government created a monopoly for any group of implement manufacturers.

As a cream shipper, I naturally hope that butter will maintain its popularity over all substitutes. I feel it will too. I hate the word monopoly and do not want my interests protected that way.

Yours truly,
CREAM SHIPPER.

COMPLAINS OF LIBRARY HOLIDAYS

Sir: Is the aim of the Librarians to snatch at every excuse for a holiday—Easter Monday and Wednesday afternoons included? Which is perfectly ridiculous Why not have the reading room open Sunday afternoons if the primary idea of the library be to serve the reading public? Or would it strain the slaving librarians to rotate their free Sunday afternoons?

THROWS DOWN THE GAUNTLET

Sir: In reply to letter Good Reason For Pseudonyms, may I be allowed a few lines in your paper which I have read for over 45 years to answer. I am not an independent gentleman; I am as poor as a church mouse and let me tell that Rat that I worked for the Civil Service for 22 years and 2 months, and I criticized them very severely while I was in their service. That is right of any true Canadian: Freedom of Speech. What part of Europe did the rat come from? Come out from between the iron curtain; come out in the open; none of this underground stuff. It took Peter a long time to answer my letter. I guess he thought I had left this beautiful city. Then he thought he would take unfair advantage of me. I would give Children's Aid Society $50, cold cash, if lousy rat gives me his name and address before I leave the city on Monday morning at 8 a.m.

Yours sincerely,
ROBERT H. MUIR.

A UNIVERSITY IN PETERBOROUGH?

Sir: The pros and cons for Peterborough becoming a university city in your editorial of March 30 were right to the point. You have given us food for thought. However, until Peterborough can support a Little Theatre—facilities for a symphony orchestra and a more aggressive sports programme—farther fields will be greener!

Yours truly,
M. E. R.

ED. NOTE: An extension of the Provincial University in this city would give impetus to precisely these community movements which our correspondent mentions.

CANNOT UNDERSTAND SATISFACTION

Sir: May I reply to the "One Satisfied Farmer's Wife" letter of March 29, concerning margarine.

Why tramp on your own toes? It will be time enough to get them tramped when your butter prides are lowered and margarine steps in to take over the market. It only stands to reason that if margarine is made and sold at a lower price than butter people in towns and cities with large families and average wage will buy it. Then where does the butter come in? Well it will pile up and the price will be dropped until people get sick and tired of eating margarine as they did during the war of 1918. I can't understand why any "Satisfied Farmer's Wife" would write such a letter as that!

DISGUSTED.

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ. ....

God is faithful, by whom ye were called unto the fellowship of his son Jesus Christ our Lord.

Now I beseech you, brethren, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same thing, and that there be no divisions among you; but that ye be perfectly joined together in the same mind and in the same judgment. (I Cor. 1: 3, 9, 10.)

For ye are all the children of God by faith in Christ Jesus. (Gal. 3: 26.)

There is one body, and one spirit, even as ye are called in one hope of your calling; one Lord, one faith, one baptism, one God and Father of all, who is above all, and through all, and in you all. (Eph. 4: 4-6.)

CAN YOU PADDLE 500 miles—in easy stages, I mean. That's what a pair of paddlers would have to do if they entered the Paul Bunyan canoe race at Minneapolis. Here is an excerpt from a letter I received from Ed Shave, outdoor editor of the Minneapolis Tribune: "I had hoped there would be a canoe racing team from your area in our Paul Bunyan Aquatennial Race of last year. How is the outlook for this summer? I believe we will considerably increase the prize list, and so desire to get more Canadian teams. We have a beautiful 20-minute colored movie of the 1947 race. If you would like to have it for a showing up there, let me know and it will be sent to you."

HE EXPLAINS THE RACE as follows: "As you know we started these races in 1940, then discontinued them for three years because of the war. It is approximately 500 miles down the Mississippi river starting just below its source at Bemidji and terminating just below the falls of St. Anthony in Minneapolis. The races are run on a daily lap with the lap's time taken, and the winners of course, are the team that completes the entire distance with the lowest total time". That briefly, is the story. It would cost at least $500 to send a pair of paddlers there, but the plan could be commercialized locally and to the advantage of local manufacturers and the Kawartha district. I'd like to see two Kawartha Indian paddlers win that race in a Peterborough canoe, or two white youths from this district take the honors. It's an idea the Junior Chamber of Commerce might toy with.

GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES and others apparently want the deer season left as it is. Here is a letter that illustrates the argument. "In regard to the movement now afoot to advance the deer season I would like all deer hunters, who might be contemplating signing such a petition to know the inconvenience such a move would mean to those who are forced to arrange their holidays early in the year, and who select the deer hunting time for such holidays.... Any change in dates would mean many of us in government offices would miss half the hunt because once the holidays are set, there is no changing allowed". The letter is signed M.D.L. I feel sure this man and others who might fear a change can rest assured there will be no change, because the Hon. Harold R. Scott has said he intends to try the present dates for a three-year period.

IN THE SPRING a young man's fancy, lightly turns to thoughts of an outboard motor. That being so, there are two things every prospective purchaser should know. The first is order NOW—don't wait or you may be minus that motor when fishing time rolls round. The second is, select the motor according to the type of boat it is going to be used on. The three most common sizes are first, the light single which weighs 24 lbs. It is O.K. for canoes, and light skiffs, and easy to carry on a portage. One tank of gas will run you 2¾ hours at full power. Second—and most desirable is 2.5 horsepower. It weighs between 17 and 20 pounds, and is ideal for flat-bottomed, square stern skiffs, standard skiffs, and is perfect for trolling Speed 1¼ to 8 miles an hour. It will run 1½ hours at full power. The third is the 5 h.p., weighs from 40 to 43 pounds, and will run 1¼ hours at full power. Speed 1½ to 10 miles an hour. This motor is fine for all round duty, too heavy for a canoe, of course, but strong enough as an auxiliary for a sailboat. There are only three motors made in Canada at present, the Johnson, Evinrude and the Viking.

JACK MINER, great bird lover and protector of migratory waterfowl was born April 10, 1865. This year by Act of Parliament, Canadians are asked to observe Canadian Wild Life Week, April 10 to 16, inclusive. Such a move is belated tribute to a great man, who lived close to God and to Nature. Scientists are just verifying now statements he made 25 years ago, and his sanctuary at Kingsville maintained by public subscription and donations was brought into being by the hard work, money and earnest effort of the late Jack Miner. His great work of protecting birds is being carried on by members of his family. For years he urged successive governments to give him financial assistance, and despite their refusal, carried on. In later years some help was given, and now a Foundation has been established, but it is not sufficient to maintain the Kingsville sanctuary in itself.

REGULATE SKI TOWS. Ski-tow operators will come under strict regulation under a new act introduced in the Ontario Legislature by Travel and Publicity Minister Arthur Welsh. The government will be able to make regulations governing the operation of ski tows, and operators will be required to file proof of financial responsibility in case of accident. Operators guilty of an offence under these regulations will be liable to a fine of not less than $50 and not more than $500. This is something for the Peterborough Ski Club members to consider because there may be joint responsibility unless otherwise made clear.

NATURE IN ITS UNCHANGING CYCLE of birth, life and death, is cruel, more cruel than most people know. Truly in the realm of the wild, it is the survival of the fittest. Most recent incident to prove that statement is the story from Apsley, of bucks killing fawns, as both sought food. These fawns born late in the year have little chance against the mean-tempered males if the mother does not happen to be close by. Nature made some compensation as a protective measure by having the bucks shed their horns in February, but while this renders them less dangerous, it does not stop the bucks from using their razor-sharp hooves on unprotected fawns. A local merchant who is a veteran hunter reminded me that this is why nature dehorns the bucks. At such a time, the does are bosses, and no buck will stand against their fury as they protect their young.

Two Youths Take 8,500-mile 'Cycle Trip To Pacific Coast and S. States On $300

By DAVE WHITE

Go West, young man! Go West! Apparently this mid-19th-century appeal still finds a responsive note in modern youth. But the means of locomotion have certainly changed.

No longer is it a case of covered wagons or primitive trains. Nor are there uncharted lands to traverse or hostile Indians to brave. Yet the 20th century has its hazards to the traveller no less real than those of its predecessor. Try speeding along even the best paved roads for hundreds of miles on a motorcycle and see.

An 8,500-mile motorcycle jaunt to Vancouver and back was recently completed by Murray Manley, 20, of Bewdley, and Edward Lee, 18, of Bailieboro. It spanned a period of six months and included liberal scoops of fun, education and excitement.

The excessive mileage for the trip was caused by the long itinerary chosen — particularly the route home. Riding two to the cycle, the lads went via Sarnia and the northern states to Washington, and then across the border into British Columbia. Coming back they toured through Washington, Oregon, California (including Hollywood), the southern states, and up through the eastern states, crossing at Buffalo.

With $160 between them, they started off on September 15, riding on Mr. Lee's new motorcycle, which was in perfect running order. They carried saddle bags and a packsack for their necessary travelling equipment. For accommodation they put up overnight at lodging places and hotels.

Cost of gas and oil amounted to approximately $15, but the big expenditure came when they had a bad spill while speeding through North Dakota. The machine caught fire, and when the blaze was finally extinguished, damage of nearly $50 had been caused. This mishap delayed them for two days, while repairs were made. Neither of them was injured.

When they reached Washington Lady Luck frowned on them again, for a tire blew, 75 miles from the nearest town. Fortunately they had reduced their speed to a modest 10 m.p.h. a few minutes previously when it was discovered that the inner tube was bulging from a tire.

If they had been travelling at a greater speed a more serious accident probably would have occurred.

Finally they managed to thumb a ride into a small village near Summit, Washington. Motorcycle, packsacks, and the rest of their possessions were left by the roadside while they made the long journey in quest of a new tire.

They crossed the border at Blaine and arrived in Vancouver "flat broke," having completed their 3,500-mile trip in six days. Both of the youths took jobs in a restaurant to save enough money to make the return journey, and worked there for five months.

One of Mr. Lee's main reasons for making the cross-continent ride was to see his uncle, also named Edward Lee, who lived near Dunster, B.C., just inside the Alberta border.

It was in February when they decided to make the trip to the relative's farm; and just for a change they travelled by train. By doing so they caught the tail end of another adventure.

A snowslide in the Rockies had descended and swept away a section of the CNR track not far from Jasper. The next train, unaware of this, had been unable to stop when it approached the torn-away section, and the engine, together with several railway cars, plunged over the rocky ledge onto other tracks below. Through what seemed like an act of Providence, nobody was killed.

The damaged rail section held them up about 12 hours, and the route from Jasper to Dunstan (blocked by the fallen train) meant a further delay of eight hours.

Two enjoyable weeks were spent on the Alberta farm by the two chums, but by this time they had collected enough American funds to tide them over on their homeward leg, and so with $130 between them, they started back.

First stopover was in Oregon where Mr. Manley called on cousins he had not seen in 10 years. After a three-day visit, they headed south into California with Hollywood as the immediate goal. Within 40 miles of this fabled centre the cycle broke down when a piston burned out, and they had the humiliating experience of being towed through the swanky Beverley Hills district and into the city proper.

A two-day inspection of the capital of movieland gave them the opportunity of looking through several studios, and they saw the expensive homes of many of the stars. But not a glimpse of Lana Turner or Jane Russell. From that point of view at least the brief stay in Hollywood was considered a failure.

Continuing their scythe-shaped Cooke's tour of the United States, the two local youths pulled into Arizona. The most memorable sight there was the "Hoot Hill Graveyard," containing the epitaphs of late 18th and early 19th century inhabitants, who killed each other in family feuds, private gun fights and battles with the Indians. Appropriately enough, the name of the place which had this hair-raising bit of American frontier history, was Graveyard.

Then the cycling pair skimmed through New Mexico, through Fort Worth and Dallas. Commenting on that part of the South, they said "it was pretty gruesome going across 1,500 miles of desert, but the highways were very good."

That Southern hospitality is no myth, they claim, for they contend that they were treated royally all the time. Doubts struck them, however, when they were assured by easy-going natives of Tennessee that the peculiar-tasting beef they had eaten in Burbank, California, was, in fact, horsemeat.

Heading north they found the states of Ohio and Kentucky recovering from a major flood. Rowboats were seen in farmers' fields and even visible property damage was incalculable.

When they reached Cleveland, just to show they had not experienced their last adventure, they ran into a tornado. Branches and even trees were crashing down, and shorting hydro-electric wires were described as giving off sparks like a blacksmith's anvil. Travelling at about 75 m.p.h. they found that a tail wind was keeping pace with them as they putt-putted down the highway on the last leg of their homeward journey.

After the hot weather of the South (Memphis, Tennessee, registered 81 degrees in the shade), the two continental travellers shivered when they ran into the cold weather in the region of Buffalo.

On March 20, exactly a week after they had left Hollywood, they arrived home after crossing the border at Buffalo.

For little more than $300 they had completed an 8,500-mile tour of the continent, and had passed the heavy part of the winter in the warm Vancouver climate.

Tanned a brick red color from the hot Southern sun, they looked as fit as fiddles after their experiences. Neither Murray Manley nor Edward Lee has indicated the possibility of future tours. But once that travelling bug bites it's

Try Something Entirely New In Your Garden Each Year

By GORDON LINDSAY SMITH

It's a good plan, say those with experience, to try something entirely new each year. By adding a flower or vegetable each season one will make new and pleasing discoveries, widen the range of interest and also value.

It should be remembered that the job of the plant breeder has been continuous. Each year he discovers new types and varieties, turning out better or hardier plants that will do well in a wider range of climate in Canada.

In addition to brand new flowers and vegetables, new shades have been added to old standbys among the flowers, and earlier, more tender varieties to standard vegetables. Some of the old favorites of our father's and grandfathers' days would hardly be recognized today. Flowers have been greatly improved in size and color and vegetables are better too.

It is a good plan to go over the new seed catalogues carefully and note some of these improvements. Even for the colder parts of Canada it is now possible to get varieties of early corn, tomatoes, melons and such semi-tender things that will do well. The plant breeders have made this possible by selecting very early maturing types and breeding from these. Certainly this point should be considered in making up the list of purchases. And it is also well to add something that, so far as the reader is concerned, is entirely new, but that is recommended for his locality.

This may be broad beans, or a watermelon, or broccoli, table turnips, white radish, borecole, Brussels sprouts, swiss chard, chinese cabbage, hybrid corn, endive or some of the herbs. None of these things are tirely new, though certain varieties of them are, but too few of any of them are to be found in the average garden. The beginner is advised to give a few of them a trial each year. He may well find that the family really likes them and he has made a discovery that will add interest and variety to his vegetable plot.

If necessary all the tools needed in a small garden will be a rake, a hoe and a spade or digging fork. These are minimum requirements. With a little more equipment ging fork, cultivators, special weeders, dutch hoes, etc., will make the work easier and more interesting. They are designed for special jobs.

For larger gardens a small garden tractor that will cultivate, plow, cut the grass and do other jobs might well be considered. These are now coming on the market freely. They are not expensive and are very cheaply operated. A quart of gas will operate them for several hours. A wide selection is also available. It should also be remembered that a sharp tool will speed the work.

Often a corner of the vegetable garden or some place at the back of the lawn is set aside to grow flowers especially for indoor bouquets. Sometimes when a large supply of blooms are wanted for this purpose it leaves the regular borders a bit shy. Any of these flowers suitable for cutting purposes will thrive on the same sort of cultivation, etc., that the vegetables get. Certain flowers, indeed, like gladioli, sweep peas and others of which the foliage is not very attractive are best grown

Of 20,000 Kinds of Birds In The World 768 Are Found In Canada and Greenland

By GLEN HANCOCK

The ornithologers have started to give out information about birds again now that spring is here, and in Canada there appears to be a revival among the young people of the old hobby of collecting data about native and foreign birds. Like stamps, the feathered songsters are found everywhere.

Of the 20,000 kinds of birds in the world, some 768 are found in Canada and Greenland. This includes the members of the penguin family, but neither the 300-pound ostrich, which is the world's largest bird, nor the 2¼-inch Fairy humming bird, which is the smallest creature of its kind, is found north of the parallel. Canada is noted for her game birds, to which Cartier probably alluded after having sailed up the St. Lawrence River in 1534.

The wild passenger pigeon which was a native American bird, is now believed to be extinct. Yet in 1860 that attractive game bird congregated in such numbers in twilight roosting places that the branches of the trees gave way beneath them. Alexander Wilson, a naturalist of the last century, tells of a single flock that measured 240 miles in length and contained 2,230,272,000 birds. They were slaughtered so licentiously that the last survivor died in the Zoological Gardens of Cincinnati in 1914.

The do-do, the great auk, the trumpter swan, and the whooping crane have also passed from the North American scene. The same thing might have happened to the Canada goose if the late Jack Miner, of Kingsville, Ontario, had not bargained with the people of his community and received their co-operation in shooting only a limited number. The plump Christmas bird then made its national headquarters at Kingsville and is still on the increase there.

Electrical wires, sling-shots, stones, plant poisons, extreme temperatures, and lighthouses keep most of Canada's birds from reaching old age. The feather traffic has accounted for the disappearance of some of the prettiest birds. The once elegant quesal is hardly to be found at all, but milady feels little emotion over the brilliant plumage which crowns her bonnet. The lyrebird, peacocks and tanagers, although fatally injured through the loss of their feathers, still provide the color for many hats.

Among the greatest natural enemies of birds are red squirrels, minks, weasels, skunks, rats, sparrow hawks, ravens and crows. The last two clever tyrants are cousins, and both will feed on dead carrion or rob eggs from the nests of smaller birds.

Some nesting habits are unusual. The flicker seems to have no control over its prolific reproduction. One flicker was observed to lay 71 eggs in 73 days. The Bob White quail breeds even faster than the English sparrow; two or three broods a year. Ten to 18 eggs each.

There are some birds that will replace stolen eggs by laying others in much the same way as the domesticated hen. Robins' eggs are set for 13 or 14 days, and the hatched chicks fly in two weeks. Duck eggs hatch in 28 days. The Hudson Bay grebes take to the water as soon as they break out of the shell, and, much to the dismay or hunters, swim with only the tip of their bills out of the water. This peculiar bird is nomadic and paddles its own nest from place to place.

The cowbird takes the prize for irresponsibility. With much more finesse and deliberation than a woman with an unwanted child, the cowbird lays its eggs in the nests of wood-peckers, pewees, wrens and warblers, and leaves them for the foster parents to hatch. This parasitic bird is a native of the New World, and, free from the cares af parenthood, secures a living by pecking small insects from the backs of farm animals. The American yellow bird, however, got wise to the cowbird a long time ago, and quite often avoids being imposed upon by building a false bottom over the foundling eggs, and, ignoring the fate of the unhatched cowbird, lays her own brightly colored eggs on top.

Some birds are very careful above giving away the location of their nests. When the eggs are hatched they carry the broken shells some distance from their own domicile and drop them among the bushes. Flamingoes eat their own egg shells.

Many birds do not even build a nest. The night hawk drops her eggs on ledges and in chimneys; the tern lays hers among the pebbles, and the ostrich, although not known in America, lays its eggs in the sand. The ostrich, incidentally, is polygamous. He is always accompanied at nesting time by five or six hens. They all deposit their eggs in the same nest, and seem to get along very well. Although the habit of having more than one mate is sultanic, the ostrich differs in one respect. The mate is required to sit and guard the eggs, while the hens gabble over favoritism and race about at the speed of 60 miles an hour. Ostriches do not put their heads into the sand to avoid imminent danger. Their eccentricity is running in circles.

Eagles, contrary to belief, cannot lift weights heavier than themselves. They do, however, live for over a hundred years. It may have been the eagle's longevity that inspired early Americans to accept the baldheaded eagle as their emblem. Benjamin Franklin was ashamed to admit it because he thought that old baldy was much less virtuous than ally thieves of a sort, and the baldheaded eagle, whose head graces fifty-cent pieces and pilots' wings, is no exception. He watches the osprey as that champion of divers leaves the water with a trout. Then, with a flourish of his seven-foot wings, worries the osprey until the prize is dropped. The eagle then catches the fish before it strikes the water, and chalks up another victory.

A number of birds are particularly susceptible to kindness, and may be easily trained. The pigeon is trained as a carrier, the hawk as a hunter. Ravens, macaws, parrots, jackdaws and crows can be taught to speak. Of these the old black crowd is credited with the most humanlike intelligence.

The cormorant, an intelligent bird commonly seen in Eastern Canada, has been trained since Medieval times to fish. A rink was placed around their necks to prevent them from swallowing the fish.

Most of Canada's swimming birds are remarkable creatures. The loon swims faster under water than above it, and some diving birds have been caught in fishing nets 80 feet blow the surface. The tern, small and swallow-like, does an annual migration of 22,000 miles, from the North Pole to the Antarctic continent. The round trip is done in 20 weeks. They fly 150 miles a day, and, as they arrive in the Arctic at the beginning of the midnight sun, their existence is almost entirely in the light of day.

The golden plover, a shore bird, has the world's record for the longest continuous migratory flight, from Nova Scotia to South Africa in 48 hours, a distance of 2,400 miles. Ornithologists have arrived at these conclusions through the practice of banding.

Of interest to taxidermists is a collection of birds stuffed by one of Canada's first naturalists, Andrew Downs, over 100 years ago, which now belongs to the estate of the late Charles Patriquin, who was one of Eastern Canada's most outstanding bird enthusiasts. In the collection are plovers, pipes and avocets, and the flaming red ibis, now extinct.

How To Behave On Railroads Formed Book of Etiquette

By HELEN MARRYAT

With the advent of the first railroads, came instructions from the Emily Posts of the United States. An old book published in 1860, instructions were given as to how to behave when riding on a train.

As a general rule, if you believe the 'Guide to Deportment', travellers are selfish. "They pay little attention either to the comforts of others or the distresses of their fellows; and the commonest observances of politeness are often sadly neglected by them."

Life must have been hard on the poor author, for in the scramble for tickets, for seats, for state-rooms, or for places at a public table, the courtesies of life seemed to be trampled under foot. Even the ladies, of whom she may have been one, were sometimes rudely treated and worse than that, shamefully neglected, in the headlong rush for desirable seats in the railway cars.

Although this book was evidently intended for Canadian circulation, the author does not mince matters in dealing with the American people, who judged by their behavior on their travels, would be taken for anything but a refined nation. Indeed, wonders the author, "whether a majority of our travellers could really make a decent appearance in the sort of social society to which the writer would have you to know that she and her friends belonged."

Perhaps some of the inhabitants of Peterborough County had a good laugh when this little book appeared, for they were warned that the cars would not leave till every passenger was aboard and that there was no need to rush and scramble at the station. If you have ladies with you, went on the adviser, you can easily find seats for them and then go and purchase the tickets. It is far better to lose a good seat than to exhibit vulgar behaviour. Go to the cars half an hour before they start and you will avoid all trouble, the writer advised.

And now having got the readers well aboard their first railroad train, there was further peril to avoid. Those were the good old days when Knighthood was evidently in flower, for the pleasantest and most comfortable seats belong to the ladies, but it was not necessary for a gentleman to rise and give his seat to a lady if she were accompanied by another gentleman, for there might still be seats in the cars.

"If a stranger speaks to you, always answer him politely, but if his conversation proves distasteful to you, you have no alternative but to change your seat. And while there is no reason why making acquaintances on the cars should be avoided, as it is correct enough, these acquaintances need never be recognized again, unless you please."

There were sufficient number of discomforts in travelling, so the guide had found; "and as life is a journey and we are all fellow travellers, we should all aim to lessen the tedium of the journey. Fellow travellers should be sociable and obliging, and those who act otherwise may be set down as either selfish, foolish or conceited."

Boxing the compass, so to speak, the author had found that there were people who not only did not scrape acquaintance with their fellow travellers, but who assumed a forbidding air and this was utterly disgusting; such people were sure to be foolish or of no account.

"In the cars you had no right to keep the window open, if the current of air, thus produced, annoyed or endangered the health of another. And if you got off for a meal", the writer said, "there was no need to rush for the table, and make a glutton of yourself."

"If you are gentleman, and who isn't, your first mark of gentility is a sensitive regard for the feelings of others: and you must never smoke where it is likely to prove offensive by making your clothes smell. And after smoking, you should always wash your mouth and brush your teeth. For, what man of delicacy could presume to address a lady with his breath smelling of tobacco . . . it was as bad as if it were onions. Tobacco is as odious to some people," the Guide said.

"If you have reached your destination, and you are a perfect gentleman, you should remember that in the select home in which you are stopping, parlor chairs are usually made without braces across the legs, and you should never enter a gentleman's parlor and tip back a chair like this; you would run the risk of breaking it down."

Undoubtedly the perils of travel in good society were more to be feared than crossing Rice Lake on the old Cobourg and Peterborough Railroad.

J. L. Christie, OMHA secretary, announced yesterday that the all-Ontario Bantam an Midget Hockey finals will start next week with the Bantams teeing off April 6 at St. Catharines and the Midgets meeting at Barrie April 9-10. In the Bantam finals, the Sault Ste. Marie district champion Gatschells hook up with the OMHA titlists, St. Catharines Masons in a sudden-death tilt. The Midget series will be a two-game total-goals series, with Gatschell again the challengers against the OMHA champion Barrie Flyers.

The latest move toward eradication of the "color bar" in Britain came yesterday when the British Boxing Board of Control introduced a new rule whereby all boxers born in the United Kingdom, and normally resident and domiciled there, will be able to fight for a British title irrespective of whether their fathers are British subjects. Formerly colonials such as West Indians were eligible for empire titles but not British boxing crowns.

Joe Louis' scheduled exhibitions in Scandinavia have been cancelled by promotors who said they could not obtain suitable opponents for the heavyweight king, it was announced yesterday.

The American Hockey League announced yesterday the first two games of the best-of-seven finals between Cleveland Barons and Buffalo Bisons will be played at Cleveland next Saturday and Tuesday. The third and fourth games will be at Buffalo April 8 and 11. The fifth, if necessary, at Cleveland April 13, the sixth at Buffalo April 15 and the seventh at Cleveland April 17.

Montreal Converters ran wild at Montreal last night and trounced Dalhousie University 64-23 to take the two-game total-points Eastern Canada junior basketball semi-final series 118-44.

Bobby Locke, South African golfing star who finished second among 1947 United States money winners and rates runner-up to Lloyd Mangrum so far this year, may spend most of early 1949 at home Locke said yesterday That South Africa plans a series of 11 tournaments, each with $4,000 in prizes beginning in January. However, Locke's presence must be assured before the schedule is set up, he said.

Delay in the arrival of the liner Queen Mary has forced a 24-hour postponement in welcoming ceremonies at Ottawa for RCAF Flyers, Olympic hockey champions. The ship will arrive at New York Tuesday, instead of Monday. The Flyers will go direct to Ottawa by train and will be feted and welcomed Wednesday.

Trustees of Ducks Unlimited, Inc. yesterday appropriated $325,000 for improvement of wild duck breeding grounds in Western Canada this summer. Morton W. Smith, president of the sportsmen's organization, said at Washington it was the largest such appropriation in the club's 11-year history. The organization has completed about a third of its long-range program to improve 3,000,000 acres of Canadian nesting grounds, he said.

Hayes Allen Jenkins, 15-year-old Cleveland Skating Club representative, won the United States junior men's singles figure skating championship at Colorado Springs, Colo., last night.

Gretchen Merrill's Chances Brighter

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., April 3 — (AP).—Gretchen Merrill's chances of retaining her national figure skating championship looked brighter last night, after she had whirled through her free skating routine.

The Boston blonde trailed Yvonne Sherman of New York in the compulsory school figures, and must defeat her in free skating to-night to take her sixth senior ladies' crown.

The compulsory figures count 60 per cent toward the title. The scores were not announced, but it was reported unofficially that Miss Sherman won the required figures by less than a point.

Nurses Champs As St. Paul's Capture Opener

Nurses edged Neill"s 14-13 in the YWCA last night in a thrilling playoff cage contest to win the senior championship of the Girls' Basketball League. It was their second win in the best-of-three finals. St. Paul's won from CGE 26-18 in the first of their best-of-three junior finals in another fine fixture. They resume their series next Friday night.

In the first half of the senior struggle, Nurses built up a 9-5 edge but Neill's outplayed them 8-3 the second half and came within inches of pulling it out. While Nurses had more height, Neill's showed more speed, and it see-sawed right down to the finish while the crowd cheered. Shirley Curtis, Joan Plunkett and Elsie Crawford were outstanding for the champions, as Jean Vass, Dot Callan, B. Jaquith and Marg Freeman stood out for Neill's. The teams:

Neill's: E. McFadden 1, D. Callan 2, J. Vass 5, B. Jaquith 3, B. Reid, N. Crowder, M. Freeman 2, W. Floyd, G. Davey.

Nurses: S. Curtis 5, J. Plunkett 6, E. Crawford, J. Deyell, J. Metcalfe, G. Wiechorek, A. Bowler 3, M. Flowers.

Junior Tilt

In the junior playoff, the first half was tight with St. Paul's having a 13-11 scoring margin, but the second stanza was rather loose though exciting enough. The Saints rolled up a 13-7 edge the last half to earn the decision. Both sides missed a number of free throws, with Electrics missing good chances near the finish to whittle down the Saints' margin. Jane Abbott, Dot Allen, Barb Deyell and Bev Pringle went best for the victors, while Marg Kennedy, I. Stewart, Marj Perrin and B. Stewart turned in a good effort. The teams:

St. Paul's: M. Beggs, B. Pringle 2, D. Allen 10, J. Smedmor 1, J. Smith, B. Deyell 2, J. Abbott 18, J. Hall, C. Raper, B. Luther, L. Coones 1.

CGE: M. Perrin 3, Marj Perrin 2, I. Stewart 2, B. Stewart 5, M. Kennedy 6, J. Meadows, T. Stewart.

Referees, H. Smith, L. Grose; timer, S. Ecobichon.

City Carpetball

Only two games remain in the regular schedule with little chance of any great change in the final standings. Big Bens can, by taking one game from the Posties, gain second berth and the Bleasdell Shield but we would not like to stake any money on the outcome for the cellar gang have a way of doing the impossible.

This week found the Fighting Parsons in good shape to make a grand finale in the schedule games and seal their position for the Hope Cup and first money when they took the Paper Dolls for two straight 11-9, 18-6.

In the doubles, Andy Jackson was called in to pinch-hit for McLean who is out of action with a bad arm and, with Bob Ralston, came through to eliminate the Nicholas-Holden pair 11-9, 5-7, 8-6.

Sim-Wilson couple made short work of Hopgood-Moscrop combine, taking two straight, 10-4 and 8-3, and will now play in the finals against the winners of the Nokes-Bromley and Ralston-McLean contests.

Games to be played in main schedule:

Wardens No. 9 vs Posties No. 6.
Big Bens No. 10 vs Posties No. 6.

Both these games should be played before the end of next week. It is imperative that the 10-6 game be played to declare the winners of the Bleasdell Shield.

President's Cup game being played next Friday evening, the finalists being Wanderers No. 1 and Big Bens No. 10 on the Legion mats.

Doubles.—A. Nokes (F. Bell) and A. Bromley vs. R. Ralston and H. McLean (A. Jackson); the names in brackets being those substituting for injured players.

Eddie Murphy has called a meeting of senior baseball interests for 7.30 Tuesday evening in the YMCA. An open session with everyone invited. They'll discuss several possibilities regarding this season's play, as the Petes intend to operate in some setup or other. In a COBL, in the Lakeshore League, or with exhibitions. Which will be good news for ball fans, though folks would prefer to see the club going in a strong senior circuit, affiliated with the OBA, if possible. Don't know for sure, but there may be the election of officers at this time, as a nominating committee was chosen some time ago to bring in a slate of prospective officers. And the OBA annual is coming up.

Prexy Pat Calladine has a City Softball League meeting at seven Tuesday p.m. in the "Y" to accept entries, present a report on the OASA annual, and deal with other pre-seasonal business. Executive and clubs wanting in should be represented in order that as much can be accomplished as is feasible for this time of year. No necessity for half a dozen meetings if the executive pitches in and works at the first few. It'll probably be another fast four-club circuit, running off two or three twin bills weekly at the Bowl d'Ashburnham. But more again after their Tuesday huddle.

Deserve Better Break

Players' canvass of the public for arena funds is in full swing now and folks are asked to receive these fellows courteously and generously. And it might help if those, who haven't young sons anxious to play hockey, would just imagine they had for the time being and see if it doesn't make a difference. Youths of the city, those hockey-minded ones, at least, deserve a better break than they've been getting in Peterborough for some years now. So let's invest a little in their health and future, and provide fine winter entertainment at the same time, eh?

Port Hope writer remarks: "Looks like a grand setup for lacrosse this summer in our town. Enthusiasm is running high in other towns about entering a league while in Port Hope many lads are signifying their intention of coming out for the local club. Some of the clubs who have been contacted are: Port Hope, Oshawa, Millbrook, Peterborough, Lindsay, Belleville, Trenton Air Force, Norwood and Campbellford. True, all these teams will not enter but there is no doubt that a good league will be formed to provide much entertainment for you fans." He is evidently speaking of an intermediate setup, apart from OLA senior "B" action.

Golf Bug Is A-Biting

Golfers are taking hefty practice swings in living rooms these days here and preparing to go on the links right shortly. Both the Peterborough and the Kawartha Clubs' officials have not been idle and early action is assured. President Hugh Waddell of the Peterborough Golf Club predicts an even bigger year for the northend setup, after a record season in '47. The pro, Hugh Logan, Jr., is expected back in about another week and a meeting will be held soon to clear the decks for action. The course will be open unofficially about the middle of this month and the official opening will be in May when the weather is more summer-like.

* * * * * *

And Prexy Frank Buckland of the Kawartha Club also expects a dandy season following their biggest yet last year. Lex Robson, of course, is back as professional and they have a new greenskeeper in Bill McIntosh of Trenton — who learned all about it in Scotland, where all good golfing things seem to originate. He succeeds Sid Pellow. Early birds will probably be going around on the southwest layout within two more weeks, while the club holds its official opening in May. But more again about the golfing fraternity.

Frank Is "Mine Host"

And we learned from Frank Buckland that the USAHA will hold its spring convention in Toronto the same time as the CAHA has a get-together there. April 21-24, and the Britishers may be represented, also. No doubt some working agreements will be drawn up at this time among the three largest amateur (?) hockey bodies in the world. Frank was named by the OHA to help out in this convention as a sort of host to the visiting firemen. Probably, the Memorial Cup finals will begin that week-end in Toronto, so it should see an exodus of hockey fans from various centres, the Stanley Cupping likely lasting till then, also. Even though big league ball will have started.

HITHER AND YAWN: Wonder if Avery Brundage will get much welcome to the puck convention in Toronto.... Bruins do or die in Maple Leaf Gardens tonight.... Soccer meeting to take entries Monday p.m. at 7.30 in the YMCA .... Harriers' three-mile road race will be Saturday, April 17 .... Nurses won the senior girls' cage title last night in two straight over Neill's; St. Paul's are one up on CGE in junior finals .... CGE bowlers hold a slight edge on Davenports in their competition for the Cotton Cup .... C. Laidley's Lindsay rink is in finals in the boys' bonspiel in Guelph .... Breslau took the ORHA title over Haliburton on Oshawa ice .... Hamilton Tigers ousted Renfrew to go into Allan Cup semi-finals .... While St. Kitts and Porcupine are tied now in all-Ontario juvenile puck finals .... They'll be taking out the ice now in the various rinks where teams are finished .... That 14-13 Nurses' win was a thriller—more on it again Monday .... And that wipes off the workbench for this week.

Orillia Downs Lindsay Rink

GUELPH, April 3 — (CP). — Curling brilliantly when it was needed, Harv Robinson of Orillia, won the Ontario school boys' bonspiel last night with a clean-cut 10-7 win over C. Laidley of Lindsay.

Paul Collins, sole survivor of five Guelph rinks which entered the 'spiel, finished on top in the second event when he eliminated Vic McLeod, Wingham, 11-8 in an exciting finale.

Consolation honors went to Dave Hudson of Midland, who posted a convincing 10-3 win over A. Anderson, Toronto High Park.

The Orillia rink ran up against their toughest opposition in the semi-final when Robinson had to stage a Merriwell finish to oust the classy Sarnia rink skipped by Dave McCart.

He had an easier time in the final as the Lindsay rink, after curling steadily in previous games, leaned heavily on many of their shots. Robinson took an early lead and coasted from then on.

TO MEET CARDIFF GIANT —Earl McCready, shown above, that powerful farmer from Aurora, gets an important match in the Brock Arena next Wednesday night when he meets the Cardiff Giant in the main bout. Manager Laidlaw has been trying to get the Aurora Farmer back to Peterborough for some weeks, but Earl has been in demand in Montreal, Boston and other cities on Wednesday nights. However McCready leaped at a chance at the enormous giant. The 350-pounder has been beating his opponents in the amazing time of three or four minutes with that crushing bear-hug. It should be very interesting to see how Earl will handle him.

Tigers Oust Renfrews In Overtime

OTTAWA, April 3 — (CP). — George Redding's high-flying Hamilton Tigers, last night captured their best-of-three Eastern Canada quarter-finals and the right to advance into the semi-finals for the Allan Cup, by shading Renfrew Lions 6-5 in a wild overtime session. They now rest and meet the winners of a series between the Quebec Senior Hockey League champions and Victoriaville.

The Tigers outclassed the Renfrew team, Ottawa District champions, in the first game of the series Wednesday night.

Showing a complete reversal of form, Renfrew matched strides with the fast-skating Tigers throughout -he game, and it was not until the 0:54 mark of the overtime session that that deciding goal was registered.

Hamilton's speedy pivot-man, Clare Shillington, snatched the puck from Renfrew's Elmer Steele and took two shots before beating Gregg Haggerty, Renfrew goalie, who turned in standout performances in both games againts the Tigers.

Back-checking Helps

Swat Mason equalled Shillington's efforts, scoring 2 goals for the Tigers while Tom Smelle and Bob Laurent rounded out the scoring.

Steele, Renfrew's centreman, played a heads-up game and, starting many of the Renfrew attacks, also scored a dual. The three others were tallied by Charlie Lemenchick, Jack Timmins and Frank Dunlap.

Steady back-checking by the Tigers helped Art Childs, Hamilton's goalie, through a few bad moments while their opponents allowed them to roam more freely in front of Haggerty at the opposite end of the rink. Only two penalties were handed out.

Although the initial period was slow, the nip-and-tuck contest had the 4,500 fans sitting on the edge of their seats.

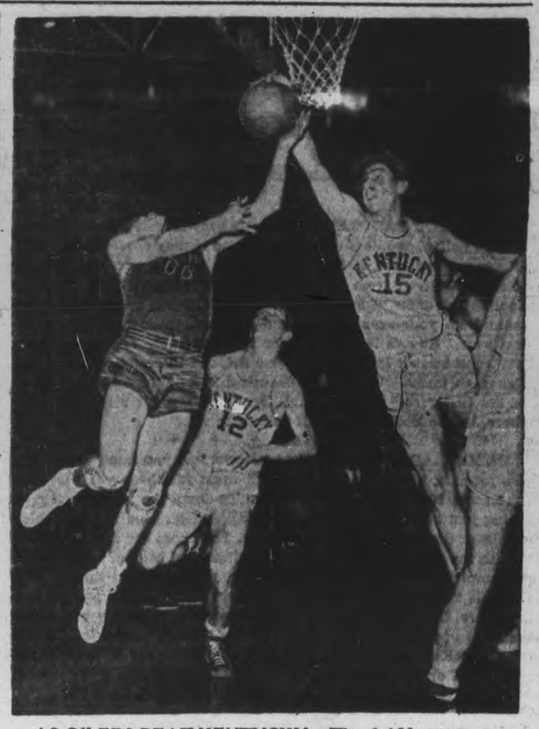
Breslau Trims Haliburton 4-2

OSHAWA, April 3 — (CP). — Breslau Red Shirts are the new Ontario Rural Hockey Association intermediate champs. They trimmed Haliburton Huskies 4-2 here last night in the third and deciding game of their best-of-three series and looked very strong in doing so.

The Red Shirts carried the play for the first half of the game, and were rewarded with a 4-0 lead going into the last period.

In the last period Haliburton started to rough things up, and after one goal was disallowed Iles gave the referee a verbal dressing-down for which he got a match misconduct. The Huskies however, managed to stage a comeback.

Reinhart, Hagey and Blake led the Breslau team while Ken Carnochan was the best for the losers.



Haliburton: Goal, Blanchard; defence, R. Carnochan, Iles; centre, K. Carnochan; wings, G. Dart, A. Dart; alternates, Brohm, L. Baker, Feir, H. Baker, Keller, Coneybeare, Barjarow.

Breslau: Goal, Hancock; defence, Hipel, H. Mader; mentre, Garner; wings, O. Mader, Reinhart; alternates, Hagey, Blake, Keller, Brohman, Sauder, Shantz.

Officials: Bill Morrison and Ken Holmeshaw.

AS OILERS BEAT KENTUCKY—The AAU-strong team, the Phillies Oilers, defeated Kentucky in the Olympic trials basketball championship game at Madison Sqquare Garden, New York, by a score of 53-49. At the end of the first half the teams were tied 26-all, but the rugged Oilers pulled ahead to finish with a four point lead. Here Kentucky's Alex Groza (15) pushes down while the Oiler, Martin Nash (left) pushes up to the basket, with Ralph Beard (12) of Kentucky waiting to grab the ball.

Robinson Still Uncertain What Position He'll Play

VERO BEACH, Fla., April 3.—(AP).—Jackie Robinson, like Stan Musial, brings a first baseman's mitt and a fielder's glove from Brooklyn Dodgers' club house every day. For the second year in a row he doesn't know which he is going to need.

Jackie's 1948 job depends on Ray Sanders' comeback. If Sanders has recovered from a series of arm operations, he'll play first. Thta would let Robinson return to second.

"Yes, I guess I would rather play second base," Robinson said, "but it really doesn't make much difference. I want to play where I will help the team most. Maybe that's sitting right here on the bench."

The former Montreal Royal laughs at talk of a second-year jinx in the majors. He isn't the kind to worry about such superstitions.

"I don't know why I shouldn't have a better year," he said. "Last year it seemed as though I pulled everything I hit. They told me I even was pulling outside pitches to left. I never did that before. This year I'm going to try to hit the ball where it's pitched."

Manager Leo Durocher agrees with Robinson's ideas about hitting.

"Supposing somebody asked you to name the National League batting champ right now," said Leo. "How could you forget this fellow? He's a good hitter and I mean a real good hitter. He ought to be even better than last year."

Leafs Out To Win Semi-Final Over Boston

TORONTO, April 3 — (CP). — Toronto Maple Leafs and Boston Bruins both arrived today for the fifth game of their Stanley Cup semi-final series, with Toronto leading 3-1 in games, and nobody in authority would predict that the Leafs would end the series tonight.

The Leafs won the first three games, and then Bruins won 3-2 in the fourth game at Boston Thursday night. That victory for the beantowners was achieved with Boston using youngsters like Eddie Sanford, Paul Ronty and Johnny Pierson to great effect.

Leafs may call on Gus Mortson to take his defence post tonight. The Kirkland Lake citizen didn't play Thursday. He was resting a strained ligament received in the Tuesday game.

Leafs also may use Les Costello, brought up from the minors, in place of Don Metz, who was off form Thursday.

In Good Shape

The rest of the Leaf lineup looked in pretty good shape.

Bruins expect to use the same line-up that defeated Leafs Thursday, headed by veteran Milt Schmidt. Schmidt and Goalie Frankie Brimsek were both hurt in the last game but were reported in good shape for tonight's encounter.

Boston however will be without defenceman Moe Henderson, who suffered a broken nose in the fracas that followed Tuesday night's game at Boston. Henderson was operated on at Boston yesterday but will be in the hospital for a few days yet.

The probable starting lineup:

Toronto: Goal, Broda; defence, Mortson, Thomson; centre, Apps; wings, Ezinicki, Watson.

Boston: Goal, Brimsek; defence, Martin, Crawford; centre, Schmidt; wings, Dumart, Peters.

ORHA INTERMEDIATE

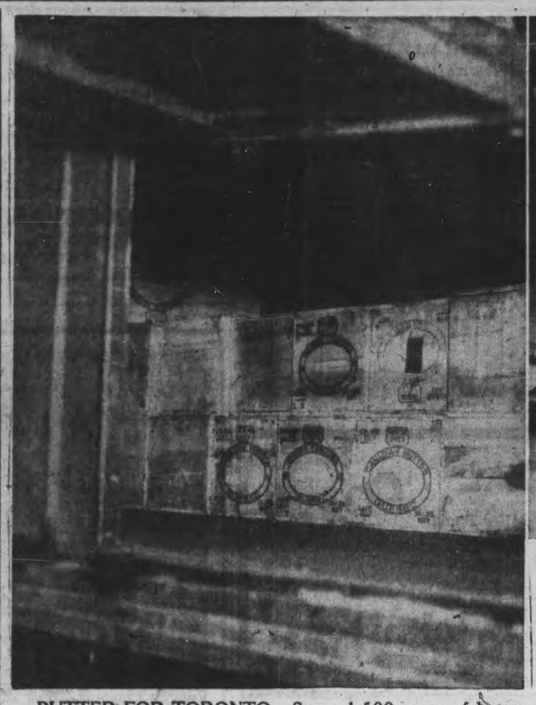
Blues Singer Captures Carnegie Hall

BY PAT USSHER

NEW YORK, April 3—(CP)—Billy Holiday, the blues singer with the most vociferous following the United States, gave a concert in Carnegie Hall last Saturday night that literally rocked that staid home of music's greats.



"Lady Day" responded to the enthusiasm audience by singing 17 numbers without a break before the intermission and coming back at the end of the performance for six encores.

Huston Role

Toronto-born Walter Huston is reported to be lined up for the lead role in "Stars on my Shoulders," an Irving Berlin-Norman Krasna musical which Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein will produce. Joshua Logan is to direct the musical which will go into rehearsal in September. It will be the versatile Huston's first appearance in a musical since "Knickerbroker Holiday" in 1938.

Footlight Footnotes

"Inside U.S.A.," the revue with Toronto-born Beatrice Lillie starring, opened this week in Philadelphia and the critics plumped for it . . ."Sally," the joint work of Victor Herbert and Jerome Kern, now with is in rehearsal and is due on Broadway in May. It opens in New Haven in mid-April. . .the Theatre Guild's autumn plans include "The Emperor of China," a play by Philip Barry adopted from Jean-Pierre Aumont's work. Aumont will play the leading part. . ."The Respectful Prostitute" by Jean-Paul Sarter continued to play to crowded houses on its move uptown to the Cort Theatre from Greenwich village. Its first full week's gross at the Midtown House was $17,983.

BUTTER FOR TORONTO—Some 1,500 cases of butter are loaded on trucks (left) at a Montreal warehouse but not an ounce of it will aid the shortage here. It's all going to Toronto from Montreal, in accordance with a contract drawn up last summer. Gentleman above wasn't too happy about appearance of the cameraman and hustled—too late—to get the warehouse folding-door down.

Ball Players Well Educated

NEW YORK, April 3 (AP). — For the benefit of folks who still think education is wasted on a ball player, it might not be amiss to point out that some of this spring's brightest rookie prospects not only went to college, but stayed around long enough to wear a crew haircut without embarrassment.....The Braves' Alvin Dark, for instance, had only one year to go when he quit Louisiana State; Neil Berry, who may be the Tigers' shortstop, is a Western Michigan College product (with considerable seasoning); the Red Sox' Neil Sheridan came from the University of San Francisco and big Ted Kluszewski of the Reds from Indiana U.. ....In addition rave notices have been going to Robin Roberts (Michigan State and Phillies), Dick Manville (Harvard, Yale and Braves), Walt Dropo (Connecticut and Red Sox), and Lloyd Merriman (Stanford and Reds), as boys who need only another year of experience before they will hit the big time.

Off Base

When the Oklahoma U. baseball team played Texas the other day, big Bill Waters, 235-pound Oklahoma pitcher, "golfed" one on to the Texas outfield for home run....Bill, unused to base running, misunderstood the coach's signals, hesitating and diving back at nearly every base....He finally made it and collapsed on the bench, although the Texans claimed he failed to touch home ....And Coach Jack Baer would not even offer Bill any sympathy for all that effort. Jack commented: "He looked like a bull suddenly turned into an arena, loping aimlessly here and there looking for the matador."

Red Cross Nurse Keeps Vigil on Lonely Island

WINS DOW AWARD

THERESA ARSENEAU OF MISCOU ISLAND, N.B.

Ill herself, tends expectant mother until plane with doctor arrives

On barren, storm-swept Miscou Island, 20 miles off New Brunswick's northeast tip, Theresa Arseneau waited at the bedside of Mrs. Omer Ward, an expectant mother. All was not going well with the patient. Dangerous symptoms had developed . . . and the 21-year-old Red Cross nurse feared for Mrs. Ward's life. But she stayed at her post all day . . . all that night . . . doing what she could to help the suffering woman.

PHONES MAINLAND

By morning Theresa realized that a doctor must be summoned if Mrs. Ward and her baby were to live. She phoned the hospital in Bathurst for help . . . and then returned to wait at the bedside. The gallant nurse was seriously ill herself by this time . . . running a temperature of 103.

An hour later a plane landed a doctor on the bleak little island. Rushing to the Ward home he found the feverish and almost completely exhausted nurse still beside her patient. He delivered the baby safely and then attended to the nurse.

Theresa Arseneau, who with one other nurse staffs the Red Cross Outpost Station on Miscou Island, has earned the praise of every Canadian for her courageous devotion to duty. We are proud to pay her tribute through the presentation of The Dow Award.

THE DOW AWARD is a citation for outstanding heroism and includes, as a tangible expression of appreciation, a $500 Canada Savings Bond. Winners are selected by the Dow Award Committee, a group of editors of leading Canadian newspapers.

The gallant nurse, running a high temperature and seriously ill herself, realized that her patient's life was in real danger. Frantically she phoned the hospital in Bathurst and pleaded for help. Then she returned to Mrs. Ward's bedside and waited.

A plane, carrying a doctor and medical supplies, was rushed to the desolate little island. The doctor delivered the baby safely and then treated the exhausted nurse.

BanPhotographs At Race Tracks

LONDON, April 3 — (CP). — Britain's "horsey" set may not see their pictures in the newspapers this year.

The Jockey Club has banned photographs of individuals — except Royalty—on all courses.

The ban, inexistence since 1910, was ignored until this week when the Jockey Club's "Notices and Circulars" said the stewards "object strongly to the taking and publication of photographs of individuals in the paddock and the other enclosures."

Newspapers prominently published the notice and all arrived at this conclusion:

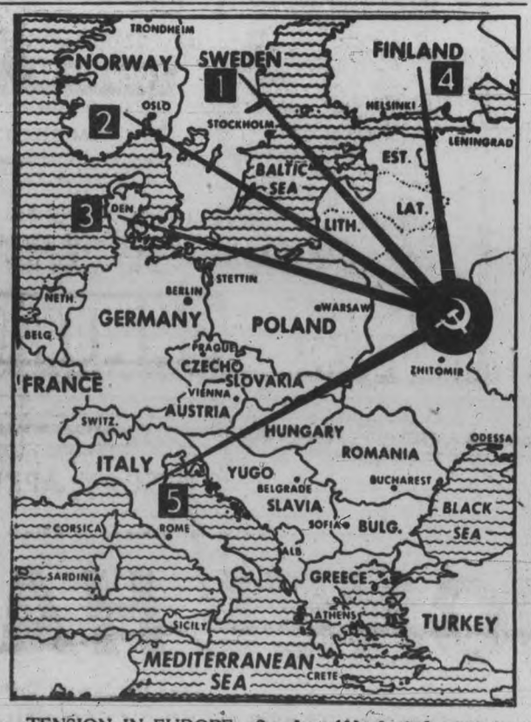
The ban was resurrected following complaints that some prominent persons were "embarrassed" by the publication of their photographs and also that these had been the cause of divorce proceedings.

The Daily Herald quoted one "prominent racegoer" ass aying: "Pictures of company directors have appeared showing them at race meetings in company when they were supposed to be away on business."

Blame Drug War

TORONTO, April 3. (CP) — A Toronto paper says today in a newspage story that "a price war between two factions engaged in the illicit traffic in narcotic drugs between Toronto and Hamilton has brought an inferior drug on the market and has sent one addict to a Toronto hospital in a serious condition."

To Issue Statement



EDMONTON, April 3. (CP) — Premier E. C. Manning of Alberta said Friday night he would issue a statement today outlining his government's reaction to freight-rate increases authorized this week.

The Service Bureau officer of the Canadian Legion will be visiting Peterborough Monday to deal with any queries of ex-service men and women regarding service work, pensions, rehabilitation. Veterans of any war, who have any questions or problems they would like to settle regarding pensions or other service matters are advised to see the Service Bureau officer. He is employed by the Canadian Legion to represent veterans in pensions appeals and to give any general assistance. Further information and appointments can be obtained through the Legion secretary.

Plan No Action

OTTAWA, April 3. (CP)—External Affairs Minister St. Laurent said last night that the government is contemplating no action to restrain Canadians from participating in the war between the Arabs and Jews in Palestine.

TENSION IN EUROPE—Sweden (1) denied a report, carried in a Russian army-navy paper, that she is planning to build air bases for U.S. planes, and one paper said she would be forced to lean to the west if Russian pressure were exerted. At the same time, reports from Norway (2) stated that Russians, disguised as miners, were getting into labor groups, Denmark (3), thus far unmolested, is reported carefully watching developments in the other Scandinavian countries. Meanwhile, with the delegation from Finland (4) discussing the proposed military-friendship pact with Russia, tension in Italy (5), underlined by the approaching April 18th election, seemed to be increasing as wo Communists were reported killed during rioting in Milan.

John Nesbitt Wins Five Academy Prizes

BY BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, April 3 (AP)—How to win five academy awards is herein told by Canadian-born John Nesbitt, grand marshal of the "Passing Parade."

Nesbitt, relaxed, articulate, 37, was found in his unpretentious office in the hinterland of the M-G-M lot. Five times blessed by Hollywood's highest honor, he described himself as "A professional popularizer."

"I take true material and dramatize it for mass appeal," he declared. "I look for significant subjects with motional drive." Examples: Microfilm, diabetes, abdominal operations, insanity, hypnotism, aptitude tests, psychiatry.

M-G-M expects Nesbitt to turn out 10 films a year, but the average has been seven.

Nesbitt started reviewing the "Passing Parade" on a San Francisco radio station back in 1935. A native of Victoria, B. C., he attended St. Mary's College, but left "by request" because he didn't get to classes regularly.. A radio executive's wife took a fancy to his Shakespearian diction and he was signed for radio.

He attributes much of his success to the quality of his voice—it sounds clear, manly, authoritative, convincing, persuasive. Also, there is his tireless reading. He says he can remember 10-year-old articles, their position in the magazine and the ad opposite them.

Basis of Merit

Nesbitt modestly said his award winners were on the basis of merit only thrice. The first, "That Mothers Might Live" (elimination of childbed fever) he credited to the acting of Sheppard Strudwick. The second, "Main Street on the March" (war effort in small town), was timely, patriotic and "less atrocious the others of that year."

He wrote the last three winners himself—"Of Pups and Puzzels" (aptitude tests for workers). "Stair to Light" (Pinel, father of psychiatry for the insane) and this year's "Goodbye, Miss Turlock" (Passing of the one-room schoolhouse.)

Like all academy winners, Nesbitt gives credit to the good craftsmanhip of a production team. Some day, someone is going to collect an Oscar and claim that he did it all by his little self. There I go dreaming again.

WINS SCHOLARSHIP — Esther Ghan (above), 21, Toronto, who has been awarded second prize of $300 in the "Carnegie Hall" musical scholarship awards, it was announced by Boris Morros, producer of the movie, "Carnegie Hall," and opera stars Eio Pinza and Rise Stevens, who served as national judges for the competition, open to voice students throughout the United States and Canada. Miss Ghan, a Coloratura soprano, started voice studies only four years ago. She has sung on numerous Canadian radio programs. She is also an accomplished pianist, having appeared as soloist with Canadian orchestras.

Rangers Make Last-Ditch Try

NEW YORK, April 3.—(CP).—Coach Frank Boucher, whose New York Rangers will make a last-ditch stand here Sunday night in an attempt to stay in the Stanley Cup playoffs, will make some changes for the game.

With injuries plaguing the Rangers, who are on the short end of a 3-2 count in games in their best-of-seven series with Detroit Red Wings in the National Hockey League's "B" playoffs, Boucher planned a line-up switch.

Rookies Dunc Fisher and Nick Mickoski, up from New Haven of the American League, will spell Cal Gardner and Rene Trudell on a line centred by young Don Raleigh.

Gardner has a shoulder separation while Trudell hasn't done so well in the playoffs.

Bill Moe, regular Ranger defenceman, is out for the rest of the season and Frankie Eddolls is a doubtful starter.

SHORT ON HORSES — Governor Earl Long of Louisiana went completely western during his recent trip through the U.S. southwest. He bought 12 saddles in Deming, N.M., and other western habiliments at points along the route. He has everything now but horses to make him ye complete rancher.

Seamen's Strike Ends At Halifax

HALIFAX, April 2 — (CP). — The first break in the month-old strike of Canadian merchant ship officers came today when the Federal Commerce and Navigation Company signed an agreement with the three striking unions.

The announcement, affecting one ship at Halifax and two at Saint John, N.B., was made jointly by the unions and the company.

Under the settlement the three unions—representing deck, engineer and radio officers—and the company agreed to accept a conciliator report of Mr. Justice D. A. McNiven of the Saskatchewan supreme court with points in dispute to be settled by a three-man board of arbitration in the near future.

The unions agreed to expedite the sailing of the company's three ships, the Federal Ranger in Halifax, and the Federal Pioneer and the Federal Ambassador in Saint John.

Lindsay Residents Will Present Protests On Flooding Conditions To Town Council

LINDSAY, April 2. (ENS)—According to reports from residents living in the southwestern section of Lindsay, there will likely be a stampede on the Town Council at next Monday night's meeting. A large representation of irate citizens plan to present a formidable protest regarding recent flood conditions in that area. During earlier spring rains dozens of cellars were flooded in the South Ward. Many residents feel that since the flood condition has existed for years it's time something was done.

It is generally believed that sewers are at fault. At present, excavations are being dug on one South Ward street for purposes of testing the sewer there to locate any possible obstruction, according to Town Engineer C. E. Cobb. In the past 5 years 365 new services have been installed in that area, and all drain into the old sewer.

A Prophet Among the Exiles

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Scripture—Ezekiel 1-4; 33:1-9

By Alfred J. Buescher

In the year 592 B.C. the Jews were "displaced persons," having been carried away captive into Babylon. Ezekiel, a priest, also an exile, had a vision of such strangeness and so awe-inspiring, that he fell down on his face before it.

Above the strange beasts in the vision was a throne, and upon the throne was the "likeness as the appearance of a Man," with brightness round about, and Ezekiel was told to stand upon his feet, for the Lord would speak to him.

Ezekiel was told he was to be a prophet to the rebellious children of Israel, and a scroll was given into his hand and he was told to eat the scroll. When he did so it was as honey in his mouth for sweetness.

Further, Ezekiel was told he was to be a watchman to the children of Israel to warn them of the dangers of their sinning, and that they should surely die unless they heeded his warning.

MEMORY VERSE—Ezekiel 13:2

Life of Faith is Revealed In Words to Mary Magdalene

By REV. E. R. JAMES

Jesus saith unto Mary Magdalene: Touch me not, for I am not yet ascended unto my Father.
—St. John 20; 17.

Perhaps the most thrilling story you remember from childhood is the refusal of St. Thomas to believe in the resurrection except he should thrust his hand into His side of the crucified Lord. It is the beloved disciple, the leaner on the Breast of the Lord, who gives us these two stories to make us think. They also show us how differently the Lord treats His followers — according to their mental and temperamental natures. It is a strange thing that in this educational age so few think. Read the tabloid papers.

Much stress has been laid upon the simple Gospel; it is a half truth which has been over emphasized so that thoughtful people think the Good News is shallow. Yet in every generation the most brilliant thinkers are fascinated by the deep truths of the Incarnation and the Resurrection of the Lord Christ.

Here we have an illustration of the Lord's wisdom. He knew what was in man. Mary Magdalene was temperamental, placing great stress upon her feelings. So her will must be strengthened. The Lord says: "Go, tell My brethren." In obeying, Mary's thoughts are turned from herself in bringing happiness to others.

The Lord has a deeper reason for saying: "Touch Me not." Mary believes that the Lord is risen, like Lazarus from the grave. She thinks He is to live on earth again in His physical life. She is to learn the deeper truth that the Lord is risen in His resurrection Body — living on a spiritual plane — to die no more. Death hath no more dominion over Him. The perfect Man, the obedient Son is to live for evermore in that new spiritual sphere. "Behold, I am He that liveth and was dead. And, behold, I am alive for evermore" is His claim. That is why He did not show Himself to the high priest or to Pilate. They were blind spiritually. There are men who have no musical ear. A famous pianist played and the musical critic wrote that his playing of the waltzes were liquid and delicate and ravishing. This writer knows the National Anthem because people stand to attention. Hoffman's playing would be to him 'clatter of expensive matter'. Musical things are musically discerned. Even so spiritual things are spiritually discerned by those who have the spiritual ears.

Mary is to be taught a still more important truth. She calls Him "Rabonni," My Master. He is truly her Master, her Teacher. But He is more. She receives a hint, 'I am not yet ascended unto My Father.' As a devout Jewess she has no thought of worshipping Him. This is the truth St. Thomas discovers when he cries "My Lord and My God." In simple words he acknowledges the Divinity of the Lord and that He is the Son of God. When Mary makes the discovery her voice will be still more reverential and full of awe. What a lesson for you when you take upon your lips the sacred Name in speaking to your son.

A deeper and practical lesson. Some day Mary will make the discovery that with the finger of faith she will touch Him — the Ascended Lord — and discover His life flowing into her. We are familiar with the term: "Blood donor." The donor's blood flows into the wounded man and gives him new life. This is the great secret of this lesson. The ascended Lord asks you to touch Him by faith and discover the truth of the resurrection for yourself. Faith is not belief in a Book but in a living Christ and Saviour.

The most moving words Christ spake are: 'I have prayed for thee — my little sheep — believest thou this? Lord, I believe that Thou art the Son of God."

For if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: Old things are passed away: Behold, all things are become new. Thanks be unto Thee, O Lord.

Prophet Among the Exile Watchman to His People

BY NEWMAN CAMPBELL

Scripture—Ezekiel 1-4; 33:1-9.

IN OUR present troubled world, there are millions of what we call "displaced persons." Thousands, possibly millions, have been carried away from their homes, deprived of all their belongings, personal property, homes and lands, and in many instances, of their families.

It is a sad spectacle, and what would Jesus have thought if He was on earth at this time? He taught love and kindness to all, even our enemies, and we have witnessed—and continue to witness— untold cruelties. We can be glad of one thing, and that is that the Christian people all over the world are trying to help these poor exiles through the Church World Service, Inc., and other organizations.

Even as their now living descendants, Jews at the time of the Prophets Ezikiel had been torn from their homes and were in exile in Babylon. King Jehoiakim had paid tribute to King Nebuchadnezzar, and we do not know what happened to him after he rebelled. His son Jehoiachin succeeded him, and after a short reign of only three months he was taken captive and his people were deported from Jerusalem to Babylon.

Among these exiles was a priest named Ezekiel. We know little of him except that his father's name was Buzi, but Ezekiel had a vision by the river Chebar, which was a canal branching from the Euphrates river in Babylon. The vision, which is not easy to interpret, was so awe-inspiring that Ezekiel fell on his face, but was told to stand upon his feet, as the Lord would speak to him.

The vision took the form of a whirlwind and a great cloud of fire coming out of the north—which augured a severe visitation to the Jewish mind, as it was from the north that the Chaldeans came to break into the Holy Land.

Out of this storm came four creatures, each with four faces, each head having in front, the face of a man; on the right, the face of a lion; on the left, the face of an ox, above from behind, the face of an eagle. Over these creatures was a crystal firmament with a form like a man's seated upon the throne.

The Lord said to Ezekiel, "Son of man, I send thee to the children of Israel, to a rebellious nation that hath rebelled against Me: they and their fathers have transgressed against Me, even unto this very day." Rebellious even in exile, God called these children of Israel, "impudent children and stiffhearted," but told Ezekiel he was not to be afraid. He was to be their prophet; to tell them of the will of the Lord, even though they would oppose him. Ezekiel was given a scroll and told to eat it. This is not the first time in the Scripture that a scroll was symbolically eaten. Ezekiel obeyed and found the taste of it like honey.

MEMORY VERSE
"Hear ye the word of Jehovah." — Ezekiel 13:2.

Further, Ezekiel was told that he was to be a watchman to his people, warning them of the Lord's wrath and telling them that they would surely die if they did not heed his voice. In Palestine today watchmen are on duty to see that no Arab foes are approaching. In that day tall towers were built in the sheep pastures where shepherds watched their flocks at night. If Ezekiel, as the watchman, failed to warn his fellow exiles of their dangers, their fate would be upon his shoulders; but if they would not listen to him and change their ways, repenting of their sins, they only would be to blame.

Our world is larger than in those old days, and yet smaller. And over all this One World is fear, insecurity, selfishness, cruelty, and people who not yet have repented their great sins and changed their hearts, as Ezekiel and after him, Jesus, preached.

However, side by side with the horrors of the war-torn countries, the Christian message of kindness, good-will, helpfulness, and the vision of a peace does exist. Every one of us should resolve from the heart to do our part in bringing about a world that is truly, the kingdom of God— the brotherhood of all men on the earth.

Lakefield Rate Presented To Ratepayers

LAKEFIELD, April 3—(Staff)—The rate for the village of Lakefield will be 46 mills for 1948. In the year's budget presented by members of the council to a meeting of ratepayers Friday night, this figure, which is a fraction of a mill lower than last year's, was submitted. It was stated that there may be slight changes in the estimates as presented to the meeting, but that 46 mills would probably be close to the final figure. The rate in 1947 was 46.25 mills.

General expenditure estimates for the year will total about $31,000. With an estimated revenue of $12,979.91, there is $18,149.06 to be raised by taxation, making 23.7 of the proposed 46 mills.

In addition to the general rate, there are: county rate, $7,669.09 (10 mills); high school rate, $2,000 (2.6); public scrool rate, $6,480 $(9); public library rate, $500 (7)

Road expenditures, the largest single item of the estimates, were about the same as last year, at $,640. Councillor William Whetung pointed out that, because of non-recurring expenses paid last year, the figure left about $800 additional for unforeseen work.

The estimates for street lighting, he said, also included improvement of the lighted approaches to the two bridges at the east end of the village, and were to be the beginning of a general extension of the lighting for the whole village.

Sweeping of the main street is planned to be weekly this summer.

Plans for the swimming beach course carried on by Lakefield will be extended this summer, stated Councillor A. G. Buchanan. Estimates call for the construction of a dressing building with toilets.

The purpose of the meeting, Reeve William Grant, the chairman, told the meeting, was to give ratepayers of the village an opportunity to learn the plans of council and to express their views on proposed work for the year.

"The best defence and safeguard of democracy is to practise it" he told the ratepayers present.

"If we do not practise democracy, that is, prove that we believe in it," he warned, "then totalitarian systems—Communism and Fascism—will take its place."

Estimated revenue: Provincial subsdiy, $756.46; road subsidy (provincial), $2,820.23; Lakefield Hydro Electric Commission, debenture money, $2,565.36; penalties and interest, $160; dog tax, $230; police court fines, $250; rents and fees, $1,400; Foley Estate, $20; licenses, $50; sanitary conveniences (collected), $2,650; fire protection servcies, $170; miscellaneous, $200; surplus from 1947, $1,698.66.

Estimated general expenditure: Roads, $7,640.69; Hydro Electric debentures, $2,565.34; fire department, $2,700; police department, $2,600; street lights, $1,900; relief, charity and hospitalization, $725; health, sanitation and dump, cleaning, $2,950; tourist park, $750; Lakefield rink, $350; swim beach, $850; salaries, $1,440; assessor's fee, $200; auditor's fee, $175; selection of jurors, $9; council fees, $310; printing and postage, $550; interest and legal, $500; insurance, $955.34; election expenses, $70; grants, $100; grant to Sea Scout Hockey Club, $100; discount on taxes, $150; building maintenance, $2,600; miscellaneous, $120.

Missing Boy Safe At Home

Sixteen-year-old Frederick Watson is home safely with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Watson, 435 Park St. North, after having been anxiously sought since Wednesday noon when he disappeared from his home.

He was "found" Friday night by relatives of his father with whom he had been visiting at Ennismore. While eating supper with their guest, a province-wide news broadcast issued a description and appeal for information about the "missing" boy. Until that time, the hosts were of the opinion that Fred had been paying a normal holiday call with them.

Only explanation which could be pieced together was the youth's fear of punishment over a boyish prank which he and his "gang" of friends had played just before he caused anxiety to his parents by his "disappearance."

CUTS DOWN DUST

Now that the greater part of the dust and debris accumulated during the winter has been removed from the roads, the water truck is able to operate again. Nothing Like a Good Cat To Rid Premises of Mice

"You can have all your poisons and exterminators but there's nothing like the good old cat for ridding the place of mice." This eulogy was not spoken by an harrassed housewife trying to palm off a litter of kittens on her acquaintances, but by a practical-minded manager of a large grocery store when asked what methods he used to keep down the rats and mice.

He said his store was invaded by mice in the Fall and much damage to foodstuffs was caused. Previously a cat had been owned but some people objected to the presence of the animal in food-handling establishment and so it was disposed of.

Immediately the mouse population multiplied in staggering numbers and there was more and more nibbling at stored edibles. different types of "guaranteed" poisons and exterminators were used but the rodents continued to eat away the profits.

One day an irate lady customer complained that some cereal she had purchased had been nibbled by mice. The manager apologized, and then told the lady his sad tale.

"What you need," she said sharply, "is a cat. Do you want one?"

By this time, disgusted with the results of the "guaranteed" mouse-killers, he snapped up the offer and collected the tabby in a delivery truck.

Feeling that it was a two-cat job, he tried to get a partner for the lone battler against the hordes of mousedom; but without success.

Then he descended to what, in some eyes, would be considered the depths of depravity. He filched the pet cat that his little daughter had brought home and smuggled it into the store.

After two weeks the iron curtain which the mice had rung down over the cheese and cereal supplies, had been rolled back. The "borers from within" were summarily executed, and the two alley cats were hailed as liberators.

In another long-established general store on Simcoe Street, a middle-aged lady smiled when she was asked had she controlled the rodents.

"You can use all sorts of traps and poisons, but you can't keep

Dog On Road, Truck In Ditch

Forty gallons of liquid cleaning fluid, $30 or $40 damage and a few scratches were the results of an accident about six o'clock Friday night in which a panel truck went into a spin and rolled over one and a half times before coming to rest in a ditch.

The mishap took place at a sharp curve on Clonsilla Ave. near the city limits when the truck, driven by Owen McCarney, 13 Allenvale Ave., Toronto, swerved while going around the curve to avoid striking a dog on the road. The truck hit the soft shoulder of the road and "went into a side spin," according to a witness. There were 96 feet of ski-marks to show where the driver had swung to miss the animal and attempted to regain control.

The cleaning fluid, which was on the truck, was lost as bottles broke in the ralling.

PC A. Dalton, investigating officer, expressed surprise that there had been no injuries to the driver.

TRAVEL AND PUBLICITY SPEAKER

Guest speaker at Monday's weekly luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club will be Douglas Crowe, Director of the Department of Travel and Publicity. William Hamilton will be chairman.

FEWER NEW CARS

There is no spring flood of new automobiles pouring into Peterborough and the unsteady stream threatens to become a mere trickle with the approach of warmer weather. Several car dealers here point out that their quota was below expectations in March and it may be curtailed even more in the next few months as manufacturers try to meet the continent-wide demand.

Class Presents Two-Act Play

A two-act play, "Listen Ladies" and a variety of musical numbers and other talent featured the spring concert of the Star Class, George Street Sunday school, held at George Street United church on Friday night.

Mr. Quirt McKinney, general superintendent of S.S., was chairman for the program, which opened with a chorus by the class members.

Other musical numbers were presented by Arthur Shadgett, euphonium solo; piano trio by Mary McBride, Mildred Hayward and Margaret Martyn; whistling solos by Miss Mignon Mayneord, accompanied by Mrs. Hubbell; and piano duo by Margaret Martyn and aMry McBride. Miss Jean Fairbairn delighted the audience with readings.

A comedy-drama, 'Listen Ladies" depicted a scene in the living room of the home of the president of the Sewing Circle where they were making plans to raise $10,000 toward Peterborough's secondary zink. Many local men had promised to give substantial cheques if the ladies could find the hidden treasure of $5,000 left by an old Peterborough boy near a shack in the woods.

money, which was buried in a mony, which was buried in a cave near the log cabin. Their quest was successful.

Members of the cast were: President of sewing circle, Mrs Gordon Leonard; Mrs. Brown, who wishes to be president, Miss Gladys Walker; Mrs. Bacon, apron committee, Mrs. H. Mesley; Mrs. Whitney, apron committee, Mrs. 2R. Hutton; Mrs. Harvey, who would rather read than sew, Miss Dorothy White; Mrs. Crane, who keeps a cow and hens, Mrs. Everett Roseborough; Mrs. Green, a very observing neighbor, Mrs. Rae Kelcey; Mrs. MacLean, Mrs. Stewart Thompson, sisters, Julia King, Mrs. Beasley; Katie, the maid, Mrs. Jim Weaver.

Flowers were presented to Mrs. Gordon Hancock, who directed the play and to Mrs. Hetherington, teacher.

An expression of appreciation to all was extended by Mr. Q McKinney.

Drive-In Movie Theatre North Of City

Peter Drive-In Theatres Limited have received from Smith council permission to build and operate an open air picture theatre on the Lakefield Road, one mile north of the city.

The site is on the former Best farm, on the west side of the Lakefield Road, north of Nassau, The property is owned by Walter Killoran. The council was informed that construction would begin at once, involving estimated expenditure of $75,000.

Application was made to the council by two Americans who said the drive-in type of theatre was fairly general in the United States, and already a few of them have been set up in Canada.

Cost of the screen stage plus sound connections will be around $20,000. The outdoor theatre is designed for motorists. Sound-plug posts are set up around the ground in front of the stage. You drive up to a post, pick off its sound transmitter, extend it into your car, and you are connected with the sound-track of the film.

There is no blaring megaphonic noise to disturb the entire neighborhood. All the sound posts are wired to the stage. Admission is at an entrance gate, and on the grounds you select the parking place you wish.

100 Posters Entered In WCTU Contest

With Mrs. E. Wand in the chair Thursday afternoon, an unusually interesting and instructive program was presented by the WCTU. During the business period a discussion took place regarding prizes being offered for temperance posters to the school children of Peterborough is a poster contest. Mrs. Wand suggested that some souvenir be given each contestant in addition to the regular prizes. More than 100 posters have already been entered in the contest.

Mrs. J. Brown, superintendent of temperance in Sunday Schools, reported a special temperance meeting held in Springville, when the proceeds were sent to the Peterborough union of the WCTU to be used toward temperance education in Sunday Schools.

Speaking on the subject of "Temperance in Day Schools," Major Watt of the Salvation Army declared that he had every confidence in the work of the WCTU. He urged that a teacher should study her class that she might find the right approach in presenting temperance. It is most important that a teacher should believe in what she teaches. It is well to remember, he said, that if just one child be saved from juvenile court by this means, it is well worth the effort.

141 Individuals Appeared In Family Court First Year of Operation

In its first year of operation, the Family Court of the City and County of Peterborough handled a total of 141 individuals—70 children and 71 adults, it was stated by the Judge, W. R. Philp, KC, in the first annual report of the court to the two councils. Reviewing the steps which were taken from 1944 by interested organizations and citizens which finally led, in December, 1946, to the opening of the Family Court, Judge Philp's report emphasized the importance of the work with children under the Juveniles Delinquents Act. . .

"Whereas criminal law is essentially punitive," his report says, "this Act provides the manner in which a delinquent child is to be dealt with—'not as an offender, but as one. . .requiring help and guidance and proper supervision'."

The ages of children dealt with in 1947 ranged from nine to 15 years.

The report said that the establishment of such a court in Peterborough was more a reflection of public sentiment than a matter of being enacted by law. It stated that "it speaks highly of the democratic process that a court administering essentially social legislation should thus arise, reflecting a community demand."

The co-operative arrangements which have been made between the city and county councils was also lauded by the Family Court Judge, and the "amicable relations which exist between all parties and groups involved."

Because of the nature of their work, it was pointed out that the staff of the Children's Aid Society and the officers of the court must work in close contact on many cases.

"This relationship has always been most cordial."

More Wards

The number of children which are becoming wards of the Society is increasing throughout the province, the report says, and "I suggest that we will have to reconcile ourselves to the fact that this problem is a perpetual one. . . . One deterrent to this gradual growth would be to assist as far as possible a mother rearing her children in her own home. Any social service which assists in this is contributing a very important service to the entire community . . . "

As an illustration of the actual monetary value of such a court, it was pointed out that the cost to a municipality of maintaining a child from birth to 16 years of age as a ward was more than $5,000—which is more than the entire costs of operating the Family Court for one year. By friendly treatment and sympathetic advice in such a court such cases may be avoided and pay for itself in mere dollars and cents, aside from the great intangible benefits derived.

SHUT THE DOOR!

One of the problems of buildings heated by automatic-control stokers was described Friday night by Lakefield Village Councillor Roy Brown at the ratepayers' meeting. The instruments recording the temperature and controlling the new furnace, he explained, are in the council chambers, which are located on the main floor of the Memorial Hall, near the main doors. When a public function is being held in the big hall on the second floor, he pointed out, the main doors are left open for long periods, and the cold air sweeps into the council chambers. The mechanical brains whir, the furnace heats up—and, as the Councillor explained—the people in the upstairs are well roasted.—RB.

Constructive Thought Held Vital Necessity For Today

John Halcrow, executive secretary at the West End YMCA, Toronto, was the guest speaker at the opening dinner at the YMCA on Friday evening of the Central and Western Ontario Hi-Y conference, which has as its subject: "What do we think about" Mr. Halcrow said there was vital necessity today for constructive thought and for people to have opinions, he hoped that out of the conference there would be a stimulation of thought. He went on to briefly cover the four groups into which the subject before the conference had been divided, under the headings of "What do we think about war, labor, religion and families?"

"Most people," he said, "have the intelligence not to want war." It was very unlikely that in any future war, the devastation of Europe in the last war would not be repeated, and most thinking people are of the opinion that war should be avoided. We must be prepared for the type of world in which we live, and there must not be a "feeling of fultility" caused by the chaos and the problems facing the world today. He then quoted the words of Abraham Lincoln, "I will study and prepare myself and one day my chance will come."

Regarding labor, he said that there seemed to be a new philosophy of the least work for the most money, "but there is no substitute for hard work, application and initiative." He did not resent organization of labor, but he did resent it when it was for personal benefit, and warned against mass hysteria cause "by the utopia of unfilled promises."

Graham Watt, of Toronto, introduced Mr. Halcrow, who was thanked by Bill Hayhurst, of Hamilton. Bill Whalen, of Toronto, presided at the dinner.

PRACTICAL PLANS FOR THE HOME YOU WANT AND HOW TO PLAN IT

False Economy To Purchase Cheap Paints For Home

Good painting is always the produce of three things: (1) a paint of the right composition for the particular job at hand; (2) good painting conditions at the time the work is done; and (3) good workmanship.

The average home owner cannot hope to qualify as an expert in paint because to do so he would have to study a subject of immense technical complexity. So his best recourse is to entrust his entire job to a contracting painter of known skill and good local reputation for a first-class job.

But if you like to delve into such a subject to some extent, it is well to begin with a knowledge of the labour costs. Painting labour is usually two to three times the cost of the materials. It takes a painter just as long to put on a poor quality paint as to apply the very best materials. Therefore, it is false economy to attempt to save costs by buying cheap paints. This is also true if the owner does the job.

When buying exterior paints for outside woodwork, siding, trim, etc., the choice lies between the so-called pure single pigment paints and mixed paints. White lead in oil is the only quality pure pigment paint employed in residential work, for white lead is the only material that combines within itself the desired qualities of durability, resistance to weathering, good covering power and slow chalking which makes the whole surface easy to repaint.

The better quality mixed paints can be identified by the other elements marked on the label. Zinc compounds are frequently used with white lead to give greater hardness. Titanium compounds will be found on many labels, in combination with lead and usually zinc because titanium is extremely white and has great hiding power. The cheaper exterior mixed paints use these pigments in relatively small quantities and make up the difference with chalks, sands or barium compounds.

Manufacturers always provide carefully worded instructions for the use of their products and failure to follow these instructions places the blame squarely upon the user. A good painter will take great precaution with the preparation of the surface and will wait until the weather is good (if it is outside work) or there has been ample time for drying out plaster in the case of interior work before he will waste labour and materials under conditions that are bound to cause difficulties.

Exterior paints should be regewed every three to five years, even with good quality materials. The best outside paint wears gradually to a chalky surface that can easily be dusted off leaving the remaining coating before this chalking wears down to the wood.

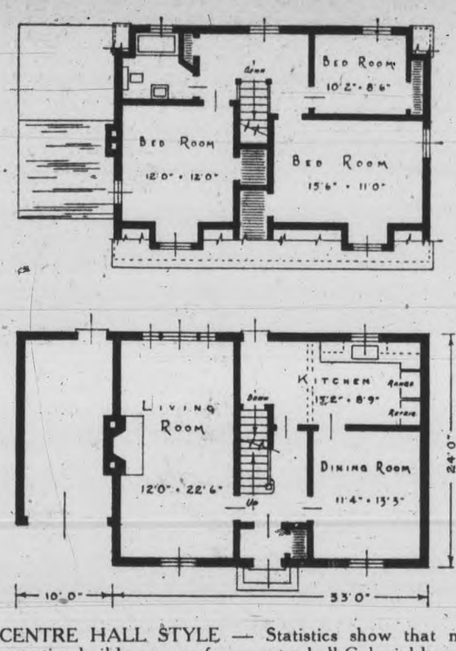
Buy high quality paints from reputable manufacturers; have them applied by an experienced and reliable painter; and repaint before the original coating has worn through to the underlying surface.

Refuse To Load Russian Cargoes

DULUTH, Minn., April 3 (AP) —Head of the Lakes longshoremen will refuse to load war material freight cargoes destined for Russia and her satellites during the 1948 navigation season, it was announced yesterday.

E. L. Slaughter, Duluth, vice-president of the International Longshoremen's Association (AF L), reported that the action is in line with a resolution adopted by the 1947 ILA convention. Way bills and bills of ladings will be carefully checked, he said, before loading operations start on all export shipments.

"We are not attempting to dictate the policies of our government, but are only demonstrating that the AFL Longshoremen at the head of the Lakes can and will support the United States government in the same manner that the Communists and Fellow-Travellers back up Joe Stalin," Slaughter asserted.



Few Tourists To Italy Due To 'Reds' Threats

MONTREAL, April 3.— Italy, land of romance, guitar-strumming tenors and eternal sunshine —ask any Canadian who fought there—has slumped drastically in the list of places tourists want to visit, according to Pietro Guadagnino, Italy's consul-general in Montreal, who said yesterday that the volume of applications for visas to that country has fallen off sharply.

The slump appears to stem from the uncertainty over the outcome of the forthcoming elections for many foreign observers have predicted revolution by the Communists should they fail to gain control of the country by the electoral vote.

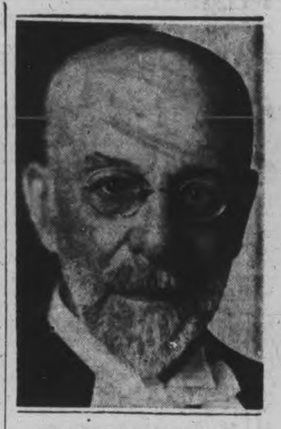
The consular employees, however, have not been able to take a holiday on the strength of the reduced volume of applications for trips to Italy, for there has been an influx of people traveling the other way. Many Italians are anxious to leave their country before what they feel is the inevitable—a Communist regime.

Italian-born Canadians and Italians long resident here, have been writing to their relatives and friends in Italy inviting them to Canada.

CENTRE HALL STYLE — Statistics show that more prospective builders yearn for a centre-hall Colonial home of about this size than any other style house. It's easy to understand this enthusiasm when you see a beauty like the one above. It suits our way of life, and is in harmony with the Canadian scene. The architect has treated this familiar theme with a sympathetic hand, and produced a home which will capture and hold the admiration of the owners and neighbors alike. Exterior walls are of variegated buff brick, with red roof, maroon shutters and door. Trim is white. For further information write Home Building in Canada, 372 Bay St., Toronto.

Won't Reveal Atom Secrets

OTTAWA, April 3 — (CP). — Denial was strongly expressed last night that Canada had been party to an agreement which would allow publication of atomic secrets which Dr. Alan Nunn May, London scientist, divulged to a Russian agent.



Commenting on a front page story by the London Daily Express that Canadian, United States and British security chiefs have approved publication of the atomic secrets which netted Dr. May a 10-year prison term, an authoritative atomic energy official said that "to his knowledge" this had not been the case and termed the story "garbled."

The official said that what may be published in the British scientific journal "Nature," is, as stated in the report, an explanation showing what happens when an atom of uranium 233 is split to set free its energy.

"But this information is no longer secret," the official stated. "It was made public by the Atomic Energy Control Boards of Canada and the United States some time ago."

VITALLY CONCERNED

HAMILTON — The executive council of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association said Canadian manufacturers are vitally concerned with any program which will help strengthen the European economy.

TENDERS RESIGNATION — Mr. Justice Philippe Demers, veteran judge of the Montreal Superior Court, who has just tendered his resignation as judge, to the Minister of Justice, according to information from Ottawa. Mr. Justice Demers, at the age of 84 years, has been a member of the Superior Court for 41 years. SIMPLE DESIGN ADDS BEAUTY TO HOME, MAKES DOLLAR STRETCH

Poorly Built Chimneys Potential Fire Hazard

If your house has a potential fire hazard, the chances are that it lies in the details of the chimney construction. Make sure there is a good fire-clay flue lining three-fourths inch thick inside the brickwork or masonry, and extending from below the flue opening to two inches above the cap.

An equally important restriction — the violation of which causes hundreds of fires each year — is to have no wood within two inches of any chimney wall, and no wood within four inches of the back wall of any fireplace.

Make sure of the following:

Chimneys shall not rest upon or be carried by wooden floors, beams, or brackets, or be hung from wooden rafters.

Chimneys shall be built upon concrete or masonry foundations properly proportioned to carry the weight imposed without danger of settlement or cracking.

All spaces between chimneys and wooden joists or beams shall be filled with loose cinders, loose mortar refuse, gypsum block, or other porous incombustible material to form a fire stop.

The incombustible material shall be supported by strips of sheet metal or metal lath set into the brickwork and nailed to the wooden beams, forming a buckled flexible joint between, or by similar strips of metal nailed to the woodwork with the inner edge close to the chimney.

No wooden studding, furring, lathing, or plugging shall be placed against any chimney or in the joints thereof. Wooden construction shall either be set away from the chimney or the plastering shall be directly on the masonry or on metal lathing or on incombustible furring material. Wood furring shall be insulated from the masonry by asbestos paper, at least one-eight inch thick, and metal wall plugs or approved incombustible nail-holding devices attached to the wall surface shall be used for nailing.

All fireplaces and chimney breasts shall have trimmer arches or other approved fire-resistive construction supporting hearths. The arches and hearths shall be at least 20 inches wide, measured from the face of the chimney breast. The arches shall be of brick, stone, or hollow tile, not less than may be used to carry the hearth instead of an arch, if it be four inches thick. A flat stone or a reinforced concrete slab properly supported and a suitable fill be provided between it and the hearth. The length of trimmer arches and hearths shall not be less than 24 inches longer than the fireplace opening. Hearths shall be of brick, stone, tile, or concrete, as may be specified.

Check Flying Sparks

The advent of cool days brings into use again thousands of wood-burning fireplaces, and each night a shower of sparks goes upward over thousands of homes.

A wood fire builds up a strong draft, and good-sized sparks and pieces of burning paper will often be drawn up through the chimney. The prevent these from flying out and igniting the roof or piles of dry leaves, a screen should be placed over the top of the chimney.

The screen should be given an occasional cleaning in order to prevent clogging and the reduction of the necessary draft.

A common cause of poor chimney drafts and smoke-stained fireplaces is insufficient height of the chimney.

Chimneys should be of sufficient height that the air currents are not cut off by the roof of the building or by adjoining and nearby buildings. Home owners may take advantage of summer weather to alter their chimneys.

Pension Commission Has Heart In Dealing With Requests

By DOUGLAS HOW

OTTAWA, April 3—(CP).—The hot, hectic parliamentary combat over veterans' pensions, due to revive next week, is swirling around a 59-year-old Scot with a multi-million dollar responsibility that, he says, "is never dull." He is Brig. James Learmonth Melville, CBC, MC, chairman of Canada's 15-man pension commission and one of the country's most experienced administrators of veterans' affairs.

He comes up with advice, graphs, statistics, and answers when members of the Commons Veterans' Committee want information to buttress their arguments or knowledge on the government proposal to increase disability, widows and dependents' pensions by 16 to 20 per cent.

The committee study, one phase in one of the session's thorniest issues, came along at a time when, Brig. Melville figures, the commission's work has finally passed its peak and started downward on a trek that will go on for years.

Costs Rising

In 2,000,000 files, they harbor the records that have brought pension awards to 190,000 men, women and children for the disabilities or death Canadians suffered in two wars. Annual cost is running near $73,000,000 now, will go up to $85,000,000 if the proposed increases pass, and will continue to rise probably for at least a decade.

In front of the commissioners flows a steady panorama of life that, the chairman says, "would fill a lot of books."

The other day a man came in to see about the pension paid his widowed mother. Brig. Melville dug out her file and found a reference to the man himself. Some years ago it had been recommended that the $15-a-month allowance she got for him be continued beyond the normal concluding age of 16. Without it, a report said, an intelligent, hard-working youth would be unable to go to university.

Jimmy Melville grinned across the desk. "I'm glad to see," he said, "that we weren't wrong in granting the extension." The other man was a member of parliament.

"You'd be surprised," the chairman commented later, "how human the pensions act can be."

Won't Take Moscow's Orders, Writer Quits

SHANGHAI, April 3 (BUP).—Mrs. Justina Krusenstern-Peters, a staff member of local Soviet publications for the past 12 years, announced her resignation this week. She said she could not bear "the strain of writing on orders from Moscow."

In a letter to the United Nations Commission on Human Rights at Geneva, she said she was writing because "no Russian voice would otherwise be raised at your conference in defence of the Russian press which became completely suffocated after World War I.

"There's little possibility that I will retain my Soviet citizenship after this letter," she said. "I am still a Soviet citizen and I am sure my feelings are shared by many of my colleagues in Russia, the only difference being that they are not able to protest against their enslavement."

We Want Nothing But The Best

So we're going to have ARMSTRONG ASPHALT TILE Floors Throughout Our New Home

Yes, even in the Basement, because Jim (that's my husband says it resists alkaline moisture that is usually present under your basement floor.

Armstrong Asphalt Tile is economical, too. The initial cost is low, it wears well, and if a part of it does become damaged, it can be repaired for very little because only the damaged blocks need be replaced.

What thrills me most is its colorful beauty. There is almost no limit to the design that can be made from the marbleized colors of Asphalt Tile.

And Armstrong Asphalt Tile stays clean and new looking without a lot of back-breaking drudgery. Why, you just sweep it when necessary and give it an occasional washing and waxing.

We're having Percival's Housefurnishing Department do the job. They use only factory approved methods to assure the best installation.

Service Club Admits TwoNewMembers

Soroptimist Club's roster was augmented Friday evening when two new members, Miss Annie L. Thomson, superintndent of Peterborough Civic Hospital and principal of the School of Nursing, and Miss Alice Johnson secretary-treasurer and part owner of Outram and Company, agreed to accept the pledges and follow the by-laws as read by Mrs. W. G. Scott, president. Sponsor for Miss Thomson was Mrs. Eva Breckenride, and for Miss Johnson, Miss Rose Williams. Symbolizing "Opportunity for Service" afforded by Soroptomist Club, Mrs. Mae Thompson, membership convener, presented copies of the bylaws, membership and pledge cards, and handsome shoulder bouquets as tokens of the friendship opportunities. The ceremony took place in Hooper's palm room following the regular dinner meeting.

The fact that Soroptomist Club is wholly a service club was stressed in the president's welcoming remarks. She outlined the ideals and aims of this fellowship of business and professional women engaged in varied lines of indusrty. Club, community and international responsibilities of members are demanding. They are required to encourage and be a part of any worthwhile community endeavor. Soroptimists must keep their minds open and attune to all world affairs through reading and studying current events. "We are an international organization and our influence may go far," saaid Mrs. Scott.

Plans for the regional conference of Soroptimists Clubs being held in Peterborough April 24 and 25 are well under way. A discussion took place on the plan of giving all midway concessions at the Peterborough Exhibition over to Service Clubs of the city and all members were in favor and pledged one hundred per cent co-operation. An invitation to attend the B'nai B'rith annual convention on April 11 was accepted.

Miss Piercey of YWCA 20 Plus Club spoke briefly regarding the comis opera, "Bulbul" which they are presenting in the Collegiate auditorium on April 13 and 14. Highlights of the Fashion Parade and Show being arranged by the Civic Arena Committee to be held in Brock St. Summer Gardens, Tuesday, April 20, were outlined, and club members expressed willingness to give their support as far as possible in selling tickets.

The informal meeting concluded with a contest.

Teen Conference Delegates Enjoy Address and Banquet

Miss Jean Campbell, younger membership secretary of National YWCA, taking "Youth with a Purpose" as her topic addressed the Teen Conference during the Friday morning sessions. "As Canadian youth members of the YWCA, an international organization, we have the future of Canada in our brain" she said. "If we are to be a part of Canada's future, it is important for us to share in the creation. Therefore a national teen-age movement in Canada with a common purpose and a common name would unite the youth of our country."

"Youth must build on past experience," she continued. "The YWCA was first formed as a service group and now is in more than 70 countries. Within this organization there are no foreign countries as the "Y" belongs to all, and has the same importance in all countries, whether small or large, and there is no color or religious discrimination."

"Ideals of the YWCA are more urgent than ever before and the future of the association is in the hands of youth," said Miss Campbell in conclusion.

Miss Eleanor McGee of Peterborough, chairman, introduced the leaders and general delegation. Misses Barbara Matthews, Brantford, Margaret Bird, London, Janet McKenzie, Kitchener, Jeanne Russelle, Peterborough, Mary Austin, Quebec, and Millie Samuels, Toronto, who told of the name, membership, activities and projects of their clubs were interviewed by Miss Barbara Godhaven, Kingston.

A sing song was led by London Y and girls from Kitchener had charge of the worship service. Roving reporters are from the Kingston delegation. After luncheon, several hours were given over to sight-seeing in the city. Discussion groups were then reformed and investigations continued.

A banquet for the delegates of the Teen Conference was held in the Recreation Room in the evening. Green and pink crepe paper decorated the walls and tables. A basket of daffodils made an attractive centrepiece.

At the head table were Mrs. R. Foster, secretary. Younger Membership Committee, Miss Mary Hamilton, Weston, Miss Jean Campbell, National Council, Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. Paige Rowell, Peterborough, Miss Nancy Nash, chairman, Hamilton, Mayor Wm. Ovens and Mrs. Ovens, Miss R. Robertson, chairman, Younger Membership Committee, Miss S. Arnold, London, and Miss Barbara Godwin, Kingston.

Of Interest to Women

Spirit of Compromise Make Most Marriages Successful

A CORRESPONDENT ASKS: "What makes the disgruntled husbands and wives that we see all about us, who cry out that marriage is a failure and throw up their hands and quit?"

Well, I would say that they are the men and women who are not good enough sports to stand by the bargains they made, and make the best of them. The nagging and fretting and peevishness and complaining of the wife; the surliness and grouchiness and fault-finding of the husband, who both are dissatisfied because the other is not something that he or she never was or never could possibly become, is at the bottom of nine-tenths of the domestic scrapping that kills love. Back of every family quarrel is the lack of philosophy that enables a man and woman to take their mates as they are, and let it go at that.

They want all of the good qualities their husbands and wives possess, and then some. A man wants a wife with all the domestic virtues, plus all the beauty and allurements of the siren. A woman wants a husband who is a go-getter and a money-maker, but she wants him to be, in addition, a playboy and a great lover.

Dorothy Dix

And because all these divergent qualities seldom meet in the same person we go about beating upon our breasts and bewailing our mistakes in marriage, and swapping old husbands and wives for new, and finding out, when we get them home, that they likewise have their defects and don't come up to our ideals any more than the ones we already had.

Spirit of Compromise

In reality, very few marriages would be failures if we brought any spirit of compromise to them. Most men and women are in love when they marry and have every intention of being good husbands and wives. Most often they are good husbands and wives according to their lights, and when they fail it is generally because those to whom they are married expect the impossible of them, and demand of them what they have not to give.

Innumerable women, for instance, scrap their homes and half-orphan their children because their husbands are dumb love-makers. Or because they are philanderers. Or because they are tightwads. Or because they can never be pried away from their own firesides to go to any place of amusement of an evening. Or because they are Gloomy Guses around the house. But wives could save the situation by accepting their husbands as they are and letting it go at that.

What peace a woman would find, and what a lot of heartaches and divorces it would save if she would just realize that a man who works for a woman proves his love far more effectually than he would by quoting poetry to her. Or that a man can be a good provided and a poor entertainer. Or that a man can have a roving eye and still prefer his wife above all other women. Or that even a stingy man often leaves a rich widow. And that, anyway, she can't change her husband, and she saves herself a lot of gray hairs and worry and keeps from alienating him by just taking him as he is and letting it go at that.

And the same rule would apply equally to men.

THE STARS SAY . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Sunday, April 4

SUNDAY'S horoscope holds open the dramatic and dynamic openings still hanging in the balance of wise counsel, calm judgement and astute utilization of rare talents, creative abilities or the advent of some exceptional openings for reaping riches, rewards and romantic adventure of unprecedented significance. The prospects are enhanced by the benign intervention of influential friends or superiors, inspired by a convincing show of sound sense, preseverance and the indomitable force of "will to win." This in the face of some soft and beguiling lures in the other direction.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may engineer a year of oustanding experience, romantic, sensational and dynamic performance out of the ordinary, conventional, orthodox; or possibly without the realm of common sense. Under the spell of a peculiar or breath-taking occurrence, or a strange opportunity for conspicuous deeds, the final issue in unravelling dramatic and sudden patterns of Destiny, depends on the balance, constraints, wisdom and proper intent, in which the mental and emotional urges may determine critical manipulations and factors. Ready aid is at hand for astute operations, but strange lures and conflicts may prove frustrating and devastating to equal degree. Destiny may play the last card.

A child born on this day may be called upon to make fatal and vivid decisions in a life in which the pros and cons are of equal importance in the magic scheme

For Monday, April 5

Monday's astrological forecast holds to the line of Destiny, with excellent promise of laying firm foundations for life, its worthy aims and security, as well as its final issues. This is dependent upon a wise, shrewd, conservative and constructive course of action, directed at all openings and objectives, with diligence, perseverance, continuity and stubborn determination to "vanquish all comers" and to reap enduring and stable rewards for work well done.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may have an opportunity to demonstrate the worth of meritorious efforts attempted in a definite and well-organized plan of action, meant to stabilize the fortunes, or to secure an honored, lasting and dependable place in life and in the estimation of its fellows. The rewards of merit, won by thrift, prudence, ability and fidelity, to sense of duty and obligation, should culminate in due recognition and with the happy and confident feel of solid foundations in all life's basic elements. A time for seeking rich fulfillments.

A child born on this day is well endowed with solid and substantial talents, character and qualities, making for stability, with recognition from its superiors and friends.

Story of Easter Triumph Acted by Park St. YPU

An Easter pageant, "His Day of Truimph" was presented this week in Park St. Baptist Sunday School hall, by members of the Young People's Union.

The pageant was of residents of Galilee and Judea, and the disciple Thomas, before and just after the first Easter. The boy whose lunch was used to feed the multitude, tells the marvel to his family, and the news spreads. There followed an interlude with a song by the cast and the Hosanna Chorus by a group of children.

The second act showed the home of Thomas' sister on the day of the Last Supper. She sleeps and three dream spirits appear. The triumphal entry, the scene in the upper room, then the Master crowned with thorns and robed in red were all portrayed. Thomas arrives in great distress, and tells her the dream of the Last Supper was true, and at John Mark's summons rushes out when the rabble ceases and the soldiers take Christ captive.

In the last act the Galilean people were guests of Thomas' sister, go to Emmau, hearing confirmation of the Saviour risen and are present when Thomas comes with the glad news.

During the pageant there were seven songs by members of the cast. Included were: a [illegible] by Eric Bils; duet by Mrs. Roy Rogers and Zelda Tedford; and a quarter by Madalyn Binsted, Zelda Tedford, Gordon Herzog and Eric Bills. The scripture reader was Gordon Herzog.

The scenery was the work of Eric Bills; duet by Mrs. Roy Rogers. Gordon Herzog was responsible for the lighting. The eastern costuming and make-up was in charge of Marilyn Gimblett and Olive Tedford. Director was Olive Tedford.

The cast was: Susanna, Brenda Rogers; Anna, Jean Graham; Miriam, Irma Dayman; Moses, Gordon Thexton; Alina, Mrs. Roy Rogers; Rachel, Madalyn Binsted; Nathan, Craig Corner; Clora, Margaret Udy; Sarah, Lorraine Reader; Thomas, Eric Bills; Hannah, Zelda Tedford; Sada, Irma Dayman; Ruth, Jean Rogers; John Mark, Roy Rogers; three Dream Spirits, Dorothy Mills, Doris Menzies and Marilyn Gimblett.

Children who sang Hosanna Chorus were from the classes of Margaret Udy and Mrs. Roy Rogers.

Pianists, Alberta Whan and Gordon Thexton.

Federation Opposes Barring Principals

TORONTO, April 3. (CP)—The Ontario Teachers' Federation yesterday opposed a suggestion made at a meeting of the Ontario Educational Association that principals be excluded from membership in the federation.

The Board of Governors of the federation said that the recorded voate of 93 persons on the question of federation membership taken at the OEA meeting Thursday, could not be taken to represent the wishes of several thousand OEA members. Monday's resumption of business is expected to see further consideration of the government's $30,000,000 housing program, introduced and given first reading Thursday.

Other measures due for lengthy discussion are the Mining Act, amendments, longest bill thus far introduced in this session, and Ontario's labor legislation.

In addition, milk legislation, forecast in the Throne speech, may be brought in some time within the next week.

Minister Sues Louis Over Wife

PARIS, April 3.— (AP).— A spokesman for Joe Louis expressed great surprise today over the filing of a $500,000 suit against the heavyweight boxing champion.

Marshall D. Miles, Louis' manager, said here today items had been published in American newspapers columns about Louis and the wife of Rev. Matthew C. Faulkner, 32, Baptist minister of Atlanta, Ga.

The manager said Faulkner at that time had discussed divorce with his wife but changed his mind.

He added:

"I thought that had all been forgotten."

Marshall said Louis met Mrs. Faulkner at a night club where she was a member of another party 'and may have seen her a couple of more times at night clubs in December. But I know he didn't see her after December."

Petition Asks For Improved Road In Lindsay Area; Many Signing

LINDSAY, April 2. (ENS) — A petition is being circulated through three Haliburton County villages — Eagle Lake, West Guilford and Maple Lakes — to be sent to the Minister of Highways, asking for an improved road to be built through Stanhope Township from Highway 35 to West Guilford, connecting there with the Redstone-Haliburton road, and continuing on to Eagle Lake to join the highway from Crooked Lake to Haliburton.

This petition has been approved by the West Guilford council and already is believed to bear the signatures of a majority of residents in the villages.

The basis for the petition is that no good roads exist in that district, and all trucking from West Guilford to Lindsay must now take a roundabout way through Haliburton over the height of land. The proposed road would shorten the distance by 10 miles and avoid hills.

It is also stated in the petition that the district's timber resources are being rapidly depleted and from now on the people must depend on the tourist trade for a living. A good road in the area would open the lakes and surrounding territory to tourists. Such a road, state the supporters, would benefit Haliburton County as a whole. The petition further points out that such a road would be the logical route for the high school bus to serve West Guilford, Eagle Lake and the two schools at Maple Lake and Carnarvon.

Spend $503,400 For Immigrants

TORONTO, April 3. (CP)—An expenditure of $503,400 to bring immigrants to Ontario from overseas this year is provided for in estimates tabled yesterday in the legislature.

Planning Minister Porter said last night even if the air immigration plan is not continued the forecast amount will be spent on immigration in 1948-49.

The figure forecast was based on costs of immigration schemes last year, during which 7,000 air immigrants were brought to Ontario from Britain and others came by sea. The estimate was prepared before the federal government announced it would insist that only trans-Canada Air Lines planes be used.

The total of $503,400 is made up of costs of bringing the immigrants to Ontario and of maintaining an immigration branch of Ontario House in London, England.

End Rail Hearing

MONTREAL, April 3. (CP) — A conciliation board appointed by the Federal Labor Department to study the dispute between Canadian railways and the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees and other transportation workers, yesterday ended the hearing of evidence.

Tea And Sale Held By Omemee WA

OMEMEE, April 3 (ENS). — A successful tea and sale was held Wednesday afternoon in the basement of Trinity United Church, under the auspices of the W.A. The room was gay with a profusion of spring flowers. Cuttings of Dutch iris and daffodils adorned the serving table and harmonized with the general decorative scheme in yellow and lilac.

Receiving were Mrs. V. E. R. Zufelt and Mrs. H. Deyell. Mrs. Wm. Brown and Mrs. W. D. Weir were in charge of the sale of home baking, and the post office sale was conducted by Mrs. D. Hicks and Mrs. Evelyn McPhee. The menu committee was composed of Miss O. Wilton, Mrs. V. Lang, Mrs. R. Brooks and Mrs. G. Overholt. Tea was poured by Mrs. Loretta Rea. Mrs. T. J. Pogue, Mrs. A. N. Weir and Miss Glowena McInnis served. Also assisting were Mrs. B. Pogue, Miss L. Race and Mrs. S. D. Vaughan.

Family Evicted

TORONTO, April 3. (CP) — When Mr. and Mrs. Fred Anderson and their four children were forced to leave emergency shelter yesterday, the only accommodation that could be found for them was a summer cottage at suburban Long Branch which authorities condemned after a February flood. It was the same dwelling from which the flood drove the family three weeks ago.

3,400 Tons Good Ice In Storage At Lindsay

LINDSAY, April 2—(ENS).— With 3,438 tons of the finest ice cut in this district in many years now in storage, Lindsay should experience no ice shortage this summer. That's the amount cut last winter by Charles Campbell, proprietor of an ice and fuel company here.

"The ice we cut this year near Pleasant Point on Sturgeon Lake was 28 inches thick and the finest we've ever harvested," Mr. Campbell stated.

Benefits Offset Housing Losses

TORONTO, April 3 — (CP).— Premier Drew said last night the benefits from Ontario's new $30,000,000 housing plan will "fully offset any unavoidable losses."

He said in a broadcast address describing the functions of his government's planning department that "undoubtedly there will be some losses" in the housing scheme.

"The benefits to be derived from better housing accommodation will, however, fully offset any unavoidable losses which the Provincial Treasury may be called upon to meet over the full period of these extended financial arrangements."

Premier Drew said 122 municipalities have adopted long-term community development plans. They embraced more than one-half of Ontario's population. Many communities already had their plans approved by the department and were setting to work on them.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

PLAY IT IN YOUR MIND

SUCCESSFUL defense against certain contracts involves the most thorough application of foresight. It begins by figuring out what high cards and distribution you are going to attribute to the declarer and then, in effect, playing the entire hand for him in your own mind. While doing that, you contemplate the various problems and obstacles he will encounter along the way, then consider the measures he must use to cope with them. By doing that, you sometimes can see just what move on your own part will trip him.

	♠ A Q 6 5 4 ♥ K 10 6 ♦ K ♣ A Q 9 7
♠ J 7 2 ♥ Q 9 2 ♦ A 10 9 8 5 4 3 ♣ None	N W E S	♠ 10 9 ♥ 7 5 3 ♦ Q 6 2 ♣ J 10 5 4 3
	♠ K 8 3 ♥ A J 8 4 ♦ J 7 ♣ K 8 7 6

(Dealer: West. North - South vulnerable.)

West	North	East	South
Pass	1 ♠	Pass	2 ♥
3 ♦	4 ♣	Pass	5 ♣
5 ♦	5 ♥	Pass	6 ♥

West's diamond calls discombobulated North and South enough to keep them out of the theoretically better contracts in the black suits, in either of which the side would have had eight instead of seven trumps. As it happened, however, those were easy to set, spades by a club ruff and the diamond A and clubs by means of the diamond A and at least one trump trick. Oddly, the less sound contract of hearts required more thought to defeat.

West furnished the necessary thought. After winning with his diamond A, he guessed South to have only four hearts headed by the A-J, and the spade K. If that was the case, a second diamond lead to make the dummy ruff might ruin South. The latter, because of West's bids, would probably finesse hearts toward the dummy. To reach his hand for that finesse, he probably would lead to the spade K if he had it, finesse the heart 10 and lay down the heart K. Now, to get back to his own hand to drop the heart Q with the A, he almost surely would have to lead a club, which West could ruff to beat the slam.

That is exactly what happened. So down went South on a contract he would have made had West led anything but a diamond to the second trick.

* * *

Your Week-End Question

Why is it usually sound for a defender with three headed by the king to cover a jack lead from declarer if he sees five of the suit topped by the ace-queen in the dummy? Why is it unsound if the dummy also contains the 10?

the mice away without cats."

As she spoke a sleek black feline with yellow eyes bounded from a box of garden seed where he had been sunning himself in the window, and peered intently under a radiator in the corner.

It could be that he did hear a mouse scuttle among the pipes, but then again he may have been just putting on a big show with the press in attendance. In any case he only succeeded in getting some dust on his nose which caused him to sniff violently.

The lady beamed fondly at the creature's exertions, and then explained that he and a companion were given free run of the premises. At night they were put in a large store-room at the rear of the retail section to watch over such commodities as flour, cheese, cereal and other items appreciated alike by mice and men.

The concensus among storekeepers was that the cat is more useful than artificial means of discouraging the pests. "They not only catch mice and rats," said one white-aproned retailer, "but the very smell of them keeps rats and mice away."

Allergic to Cats.

Some people just seem allergic to cats, however. One waitress in a candy and confectionery shop drew many a laugh from customers. Her employer brought in a kitten to get accustomed to the place and eventually protect his stock from the depredations of mice. But she was so afraid that she walked around the warm shop wearing high goloshes to protect her from the kitten which was no larger than a half-pint of milk.

The largest milling firm in Peterborough does not use cats in its war against the rodents. Each section of the mill is fumigated with a deadly gas once every three months or so. This, it is claimed, is the most effective way of destroying the pests.

Grain is kept in air-tight cement bins lined with wood inside, and this gives rats and mice little chance of getting in for a good meal.

A constant haze of mill dust is unhealthy for cats and they cannot live in such an atmosphere.

At present there is a big campaign going on in the United States and Canada called "Cats for Europe." It has been pointed out that a few thousand cats could substantially reduce the menace of mice and particularly rats which do thousands of millions of dollars damage on that continent every year.

This campaign is viewed with disfavor by the Humane Society and Soviety for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals in both countries. It is claimed that Europe has not sufficient food for the cats and "despite how well they were handled there would be suffering."

And they contend that rats are not good food for a puss in any case. Humane Society officials say that poison on the market are more effective in destroying rodents than cats.

But try to tell that to the local shopkeepers!

cases to come before the court in adult matters were applications for maintenance by wife or children against the husband or father, in cases of desertion. The number of such cases had been greater than expected, the report added, and mentioned the fact that, under the private conditions of the Family Court many wives were now using those facilities to follow through charges which they would, in many cases, have dropped before they reached police court. The informal, friendly atmosphere of the court does much to encourage the proper disposition of such domestic difficulties.

Unwise Marriage Common.

"While at times the cases reflect the emotional instability of wartime when some marriages were entered into with little prior thought," Judge Philp's report continues, "nevertheless, it is apparent after a year's experience in this Court that many quite youthful individuals are being married with the scantiest knowledge of what marriage entails and with little appreciation of the necessity of compromise.

Advises Farmers "Net Worth" Income Form Has Been Recalled — Ontario Radio Forum Convention Largely Attended — Peterborough Joins Maple Breeding Association.

Farmers are not required to fill in those "net worth" forms which they have been receiving with their blank income tax papers.

That statement was received yesterday from Mr. V. S. Milburn, Toronto, secretary of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

"That is definite," he stated. "Net worth blanks were distributed, but the Federation interviewed the income tax department, and as a result of our representations this detail is withdrawn.

Incidentally, we learned from official sources that more than 200,000 Canadian farmers have filled out and sent in their income tax forms. Of that number only 51,000 farmers were found to be taxable. Comments from farmers are that the industry generally should comply with this income reporting regulation. Some may feel certain that they are not taxable, but that is not sufficient. They should fill in the forms and forward them to the income tax department."

The Examiner learned this week that farmers of this area were resenting the "net worth" probing paper included with the income tax blanks.

"They want to know every last little detail of what you own," said one farmer, "and reaction has been suggesting that we might as well fold up. First, there was all the bother of such minute inquiry into farmers' affairs. It had all the appearance of a big job to figure out the minute details. I don't know that there is any strong objection to filling out income tax forms, but this 'net worth' stunt was the last straw."

Mr. Milburn's report was: "The Federation succeeded in persuading the income tax people to withdraw this net worth circular. That is the end of it."

MAKING BREEDING HISTORY

Peterborough farmers have extended their co-operative enterprise into the new field of breeding cattle by artificial insemination. Contracts with the Maple Cattle Breeders' Association were signed by 65 owners of herds in this district. Ten others have signified their intention of signing, and will probably do so before Monday when G. W. Keffer, president of the Maple Association, will be here in the afternoon, following a visit to the Victoria group in the morning, accompanied by Dr. Reeds.

It is expected that Peterborough will report to Mr. Keffer that 1,002 cattle are listed in the 75 herds which the local unit brings into the Maple Association.

This number is bound to be increased, following the experience of the Maple farmers who are admitting new members from month to month from their own area, and also from the other counties of their association, Halton, Peel and Simcoe.

Plans for local branch organization and for the undertaking of the project will likely be discussed by Mr. Keefer in his visit here Monday. The Maple executive is not wasting any time in the material extension of their operations into both Victoria and Peterborough counties, and it is likely that an early meeting of the local contract members will be called.

One of the members of the promoting committee in this area was Charles E. Moore of Smith township, who did more than his share of canvassing.

His conviction of the value of artificial insemination traces to his trip to Cornell University at Ithaca, N.Y., two years ago where he obtained first hand information of the development of this practice in one of the outstanding agricultural departments of U.S. universities.

"They had an establishment of more than seventy sires," Mr. Moore remarked to The Examiner, "and the fact that this artificial method of breeding cattle had been so largely adopted by Cornell was proof enough to me that it provided an economy for farmers of our own area. Add to that the experience of Danish farmers and the more recent program that has been set up in Great Britain, together with the work that has been done in areas of the United States, and the net result was that one did not hesitate to canvass among our own farmers."

Some farmers of this district will not be responsive to the artificial breeding plan. They have been gradually improving their own breeding policies, are generally satisfied with the blood lines, types, herd records and financial returns which have demonstrated success of their efforts and planning and investment.

Apart from that exception, whether it be permanent or not, a numerous group of Peterborough farmers are embarking on a new practice, the operation of which in this area will require sound organizing to obtain the effects that are expected of it. As with any other innovation it can hardly be set up without some little disappointments here and there in the beginning. It is a co-operative plan that has already brought satisfaction into the Kemptville district and also among the first members of the Maple Association, and it will require the spirit of co-operation in bringing it to local effectiveness.

PLOWING MATCH PLANS

A reminder that the provincial plowing match is moving into Victoria county this year is reflected from the visit of a Lindsay group this week to Kingston to discuss details of planning from the experience in Frontenac in 1947. Joseph Cayley, president of the Victoria Plowmen's Association was accompanied by John Mark, D. McQuarrie, Frank L Weldon, M. H. Winter, Wm. Newman, Chas. Shier and Ald. C. E. Ferguson.

RECOMMENDED OATS

In an average of 22 tests made in Ontario in 1947, the highest yielding variety of oats yielded 40 per cent more grain per acre than did the lowest. In a five year average of 127 tests for the years 1943 to 1947 of the first five varities there was an increase of approximately 20 per cent for the top variety over the fifth one, the results of the tests being as follows:

Ajax	55.08 bus. per acre
Beaver	51.43 bus. per acre
Erban	47.72 bus. per acre
Alaska	46.67 bus. per acre
Cartier	45.73 bus. per acre

These tests show the importance of sowing recommended varieties of oats in order to secure highest possible yields, says John D. MacLeod, Director of the Crops, Seeds and Weeds Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture. Ajax oats will yield the greatest number of bushels per acre in the greatest number of places. It is recognized as a good feed oat, has stem rust resistance and fair length and strength of straw. Beaver has been shown a reliable oat to grow in most sections. It has a larger kernel than Ajax, is resistant to some forms of both stem and crown rust, is strong in the straw with a fairly low percentage of hull. The Erban variety can generally be depended upon to make a good showing. It is early maturing, with large kernels and medium hull, fair straw strength, and resistance to two races of crown rust, which all make it popular and reliable. Alaska and Cartier varieties are very much similar to each other, and have done well, especially where rust has not been a problem. However, they are not re-down badly in 1947 with a root

The new Becan variety went down badly in 1947 with a root rot disease, and if it is to be sown this year it is commended that it be sown early and treated with double strength of Ceresan. Varieties like Victland and Clinton are short, strong strawed varieties which may have a place on soils which are high in nitrogen and where lodging is a problem with other varieties.

Seed of these varieties is available in adequent amounts. Farmers are advised to contact their seed dealers, the Agricultural Representative, or the Crops, Seeds and Weeds Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture, Parliament Buildings, for information as to source of supply.

BOYS AND GIRLS INVITED.

Calf Club enrolment forms should be in the hands of Frank C. Paterson by Tuesday, April 20. This is a reminder to parents who surely recognize the value of calf club work for their sons and daughters. It is a matter for decision in every home with rural youth, and it should be a ready affirmative decision.

Junior farmers have enrolment forms. They are also obtainable at the office of the Department of Agriculture. Inspiration for membership should come from the home itself. It appears to be that the only obstacle to junior membership lies in the difference of parents, and if they are not interested in this opportunity for their children, exhortations from outside sources could hardly be of much avail.

There are not only the club projects, but there is association with other boys and girls and stimulating contacts that may have life-long effects.

Kiwanis Club wishes to entertain the young members and their fathers at luncheon April 29. This club is also planning a day's trip toward the end of the club term.

PROMOTES USE OF CANADIAN DESIGNS—The National Gallery of Canada at Ottawa has established the Industrial Design Information Services to promote a wider use of Canadian talent in the design of manufactured goods for everyday needs. Here Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe examines a Canadian-designed mantel radio that is being produced in Montreal. When opening the exhibition devoted to new Canadian industrial designs, the minister of trade and commerce said in support of the new profession, "This exhibition squarely poses the question of the place of the designer in Canadian industry."

LOCAL GIRLS WIN USA TITLE—Representing the Peterborough Ornamental Swimming Club at a championship meet in Detroit on Saturday, Iris Forbes-Reilly (Left) and Jean Millard won the junior women's indoor synchronized (duo) championship over 42 United States entries. It was the first time the title has left the States.

Two Swimmers Win U.S. Title

Fame caught up with two teen-aged Peterborough girls on Saturday night, when as the lone Canadian entry in the American Amateur Swimming Association meet, they outclassed all other contestants to win the junior women's indoor synchronized swimming championship (duo) held at Detroit. The new champions are Iris Forbes-Reilly, Rogers Street, and Jean Millard, Cameron Avenue. Realizing they were up against 42 crack entries from scattered centres in the United States, the girls quietly left town on Friday determined to do their very best but with little anticipation of their clear-cut victory. In fact the trip was mainly to get experience and pick up ideas for the exhibition of synchronized swimming which will be put on the YWCA on April 16.

Believed to be the first Canadian entry ever to enter the American meet, they scored 97 points of a possible 100, leaving no doubt in the minds of the judges and spectators as to their superiority.

This upset victory left the two girls almost stunned by their accomplishment. When they called up officials of the Ornamental Swimming Club on long distance telephone they sounded overcome by their good fortune and were hardly able to speak they were so excited.

When they arrived home today they had the trophy, emblematic of synchronized duo swimming supremacy for junior women in the United States, the first time it has ever left that country. They also received silver medals which they will be able to retain permanently. The trophy will have to be defended against all comers next year.

Midnight Attack By Arabs Repulsed By Hagana Force

JERUSALEM, April 5—(AP).—Hagana said 38 Arabs were killed today and many others were wounded when Jewish settlers repulsed an Arab attack in northern Palestine. Hagana, the Jewish militia, reported Jewish losses were three killed and 10 wounded when about 1,000 armed Arabs attacked the Jewish settlement of Mishmar Haemek, on the Haifa-Jenin highway.

The attack began before midnight and continued into the early morning hours.

Arab leaders said the attacking force was under Fawzi Bey Al Kaukji, leader of the Arab volunteer liberation army.

The attackers were reported to have stormed the settlement on a wide front. One Jewish source said they met heavy machine-gun fire from Hagana fighters.

Hanging On

Mishmar Haemek is a collective settlement in the western part of the valley of Esdraelon, linking Haifa Bay with the Jordan Valley. It is the seat of one of the biggest schools maintained by Jewish workers' organizations in Palestine.

Gun Cap Blast Kills Plant Head

MIDLAND, April 5.—(CP). — Joseeph Wielgos, 32, who refused to allow his employees to handle dangerous jobs in his Superior Toy Company factory at nearby Waubaushene, was killed yesterday by an explosion that hurled his body 35 feet through the air.

A resident of Toronto, the victim was operating a large press in the final process of preparing caps for toy guns when the explosion occurred, driving the base of the press through the concrete floor and scattering the walls of the one-storey frame building over a 300-foot area.

The blast rocked the community, sending nearby residents scurrying for cover, but failed to set off explosives in an adjoining building in which one company employee said "there was sufficient powder to blow up a small part of the village.

Chiang To Quit Presidency May Become New Premier

NANKING, April 5.—(AP).—Generalissim Chiang Kai-Shek has decided to quit the presidency of China, a spokesman said last night, but there were indications he would remain the Nationalist strong man by becoming premier.

Under one title or another, Chang has been the top figure since establishment of the republic in 1927.

A spokesman for the Kuomintang, China's governing body, said the Generalissimo was determined to free himself from the presidency in order to lead a "holy war" against the increasingly powerful Chinese Commun-

That was even an intimation that he might take the field in person.

Chiang told the Kuomintang Central Committee that the civil was was China's most critical problem and "the Communists must be beaten if China is to live."

The committee scheduled another session for Tuesday to decide what to do next. Members literally moaned because of their chief's political thunderbolt.

Informants said Chiang told his party he was "anxious to serve the country and the people and will take any official position within the government," except the presidency or vice-presiden-

Both Machines Crash In Russian Zone, Just Before Landing

BERLIN, April 5 (AP)—A British transport plane crashed in flames today after colliding with a Russian fighter craft, British authorities announced. The British plane, a Viking, carried 10 passengers and four crew members.

R.A.F. officers said all 14 were killed. Two of the passengers were understood to be Americans.

The Russian fighter also crashed.

Press Association said American passengers aboard the plane were a Sergeant Pintus and Mrs. J. Clough. Other passengers included a Londoner named Hald; Miss J. Shea; a Mr. Roberts of the German section of the British Foreign Office; S. J. Sticking;

BERLIN—The office of the British commander for Germany announced tonight that British planes coming into Berlin will have fighter escorts until assurance is received that Russian planes "will not again endanger British flights."

Captain Flemings; Robert Collier, correspondent for the British United Press; H. Read-Jahm and a Mr. Lewin.

Ready To Land

The transport, belonging to British European Airways, crashed as it was about to make a landing after a flight from London.

R.A.F. officials said the planes fell when their wings hit.

Both dropped near the Spandau International Prison, which holds the Nuernberg war crimes trial defendants who drew penitentiary terms. Spandau is on the edge of Berlin.

There have been frequent rumors in Berlin that Russian fighters were diving on British and American planes, but there was no immediate indication whether this was true today.

In London, the airline said the crash occurred after the Russian fighter flew across the transport's nose.

German police reported the fighter plane fell into the Heerstrasse, a main street in the Brit-

Krupp, 11 Directors Freed In War Trial

NUERNBERG, Germany, April 5 (AP)—Alfred Krupp and 11 co-defendant directors of the Krupp Munitions Combine were acquitted by a United States War Crimes Court today of plotting aggressive warfare.

All 12 pleaded innocent last Nov. 17 to a 50-page war crimes indictment. It accused them specifically of plotting aggressive warfare, plundering peaceful countries and exploiting slave labor.

The co-defendants are Ewald Loeser, Eduard Houdremont, Erich Mueller, Frederick Lanssen, Karl Pfirsch, Max Ihn, Karl Eberhardt, Heinrich Korrschan, Friedrich Von Buelow, Werner Lehmenn and Hans Kupke.

The tribunal cleared all 12 of the charges that they committed crimes against peace and that they participated in a conspiracy against peace. They still face two charges — plunder and spoilation of conquered nations, and deportation, exploitation and abuse of slave labor.

Ford Union Members Exchange Blows After Local's Election Committee Tossed Out

WINDSOR, April 5.—(CP)—Fist fights occurred this morning in the vicinity of the Canadian Ford plant, aftermath of a general membership meeting of Local 200, United Automobile Workers (CIO) last night which rejected the local's election committee.

Union members ordered the committee dismissed and called for a new election of officers, claiming "irregularities" in the March elections.

One member of the newly-elected executive board allegedly received a pummelling in a restaurant today.

Workers said they might call for intervention by the international executive board to clarify the issue.

Roy England, who was given his seventh consecutive term as president under the March election, would neither deny or affirm that the election was thrown out. He did admit that the installation of officers, scheduled for Sunday night did not take place. He announced also that a special executive meeting has been called for next Tuesday at which the naming of a new executive will be discussed.

Looting Mobs Terrorize Alexandria, As 20 Killed, Many Buildings Set Ablaze

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, April 5—(AP). — Seven policemen and 13 civilians were slain in Alexandria today as a police strike left Egypt's second largest city terrorized by looting mobs. Scores were wounded. More than 100 buildings were set ablaze. Troops, trying to maintain order, opened fire three times after being stoned by screaming demonstrators.

The fate of Prime Minister Nokrashy Pasha's government hung in the balance. Political opponents seized the strike issue to stir up agitation for his removal by King Farouk.

Alexandria's police struck in a demand for higher wages and better working conditions. They were joined by police in Cairo and the Suez Canal region, who walked out in a sympathy strike.

The underworld of Alexandria, toughest in all Egypt, ran wild. Hoodlums looted and burned the shopping district. According to unofficial estimates, property damage ran into millions of dollars.

Three thousand policemen, Alexandria's entire police force, walked out this morning, demanding higher wages and improved working conditions. Hundreds of police also struck in Cairo, protesting a proposed transfer of some officers to villages and asking more pay.

Gangs of hoodlums, including teen-age boys, smashed shops and set streetcars ablaze in Alexandria.

A train to Cairo was raided and all passengers forced to get off. Looters stormed through the coaches, snatching furnishings and baggage.

Firebugs set the police station and the customs warehouse in the harbor district ablaze and they were burning fiercely.

Two hundred police of the station near the Royal Palace and the personnel of the fire brigade at Cairo's main station joined the Cairo strikers after appeals. Traffic became snarled as traffic police began walking off the job.

France Expects Big Crowd To See Princess

PARIS, April 5 — (Reuters). — Paris tourist agencies, shipping and railroad companies and hotel and restaurant proprietors are preparing for the biggest post-war influx of French and foreign visitors when Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh come to Paris next month.

For the four days of the royal visit—May 14-18—Paris will be full of visitors, many of them British, a travel agency spokesman said.

"The visit will undoubtedly mean a repetition of the enthusiasm aroused by the King and Queen before the war, when crowds eight deep waited for hours near the Madeleine church to catch a glimpse of their majesties," he added.

"The Princess and the Duke of Edinburgh willl give the French tourist industry a flying start. We had already expected a tremendous influx of British visitors after May 1, when the British government raises its foreign travel ban."

Princess Elizabeth and the Duke will visit the opera and the Comedie Francaise, Versailles and Fontainebleau. They are also expected to visit longchamp for the racing.

When they arrive at the Gare du Nord May 14, they will drive to the British Embassy to stay with the British ambassador, Sir Olver Harvey.

In the afternoon the Princess will open the exhibition of eight centuries of British life at the Musee Galleries. She and the Duke were officially invited by Vincent Auriol, president of France, for the ceremony.

Lewis Heading For Showdown

WASHINGTON, April 5 — (AP). — John L. Lewis headed toward a new showdown with the government today as striking soft-coal miners in the United States indicated defiance of a court order to end their 22-day-old pension walkout.

Lewis and the union were ordered to call off the strike immediately.

If the United Mine Workers president and his miners make no effort in the next few days either to comply with the order or to ask the court to dissolve it they face a contempt charge paralleling the dramatic court setback of less than 18 months ago

Many mine union leaders expressed the opinion both openly and privately there would be no return-to-work movement when the whistles blew today.

Owners prepared the pits for us, but all the signs pointed to a continuation of the shutdown.

Act Swiftly

Federal counsel thought Lewis would act swiftly to try to dissolve the temporary restraining order issued against him and the

Russia Offers To Discuss Rail Restrictions; Britain And U.S. Accept

Allied Freight Trains Getting Through Though Passenger Service Still Off; Montgomery Meets Military Heads Tuesday

BERLIN, April 5—(AP).—British authorities accepted today a Russian offer to talk over the alleged deadlock over Russian restrictions on railroad traffic to and from Berlin. They suggested a full four-power meeting. The United States previously had accepted the Russian proposal for discussion of these restrictions.

The controls, on traffic through the Soviet occupation zone, had forced suspension of allied military rail traffic between Berlin and the Western occupation zones.

The Russians wanted to board and inspect such trains. The Western powers refused to let them.

Freights Get Through

Regularly scheduled passenger trains still were suspended today, but Allied freight trains were getting through to Berlin.

In his answer to the Russians, Maj.-Gen. N. C. D. Brownjohn, British deputy military governor, accepted their invitation for Britain.

Then he remarked he understood the United States and France had received similar offers to discuss the regulations.

"I would suggest, therefore," Brownjohn said, "that it would save time if representatives of all four commanders discuss the question together."

If the Russians should agree to this, it would result in the first four-power meeting on the German control level since the Russians walked out no the Allied Control Council March 20.

Montgomery Pays Visit

Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, chief of the Imperial General staff, is scheduled to fly into Berlin for meetings tomorrow with the military commanders of all four occupying powers. British officials warned against attacking special significance to this.

The special train of Lt.-Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, British commander, passed the Russians' Marienborn checkpoint early today with no apparent interference.

It was the first Berlin-bound western military passenger train to get through since the Soviet rules took effect Wednesday midnight. Allied freight train have been moving both ways since Friday.

Mr. King Comes Home

WILLIAMSBURG, Va., April 5—(CP).—Prime Minister Mackenzie King today decided that he had been holidaying long enough and joined Field Marshal Viscount Alexander, Governor-General of Canada, for the return to Ottawa by air. They expect to arrive in the Canadian capital about 6 o'clock EST tonight. The Prime Minister, who has been here since last Tuesday night, had planned to return to Ottawa by a leisurely train trip, arriving in the capital by Wednesday or Thursday.

Passport Clerk Pleads Guilty To Charge

LONDON, April 5—(CP)—William Robert Barrett, 34-year-old British passport clerk, pleaded guilty in Old Bailey today to a charge of corruptly accepting money while employed in the passport office.

One of five men alleged to be members of a ring engaged in the issuance of false passports to aliens, Barrett had pleaded innocent when the case opened Friday. Today he was remanded for sentence and the jury was discharged from giving a verdict against him on a second count of conspiracy in view of his reversed plea.

Sergeant Has Urge To Fly Takes B-25, Both Safe

MINNEAPOLIS, April 5 (AP) —A United States air force sergeant with an urge to fly but no experience as a pilot went visiting Sunday in a B-25 plane and made an unauthorized solo flight from Ohio to Minnesota.

Today he was held at the Minneapolis air base for authorities at Wright Field, Dayton, O., when he took off on his lone, unannounced 560-mile flight to Owatonna, 60 miles south of Minneapolis, to visit a brother.

Officers identified the sergeant as Malcolm McCrady, 30-year-old crew chief from Wright Field.

While the air force and police within a 1,200-mile radius of Dayton scanned skies in vain for the twin-engined bomber, Mc-small Owatonna Municipal Field, notified the Minneapolis base of his safe arrival and then went to the home of his brother to await military police.

Landing In Reverse

Manager Glenn Degner of the Owatonna airfield said McCrady landed the plane downwind in dusk. Normal landings are made into the wind.

A Minneapolis air base officer said McCrady reported he had just returned to Dayton from San Antonio, Texas, and got an "urge" to fly the B-25 as he walked down the field. All he had with him was a map of the United States.

He said he had no trouble on the flight but that he was a "little

Blame Blowout For Crash; 1 Dead, 11 Hhurt

CHATHAM, April 5—(CP). — Mrs. Robert Morrison, 55, of Mooretown, died today in hospital from injuries suffered last night in a two-car collision near Sombra, 25 miles northwest.

Eleven other persons were injured in the head-on crash, tentatively blamed by police on a tire blowout. The cars came together about two miles south of Lambton county village on an open stretch of highway.

Severely injured was Mrs. Warren Milord, 35, of Wallaceburg, Ont., who suffered internal injuries, had her left ear torn off and a knee cap broken. Mrs. Morrison suffered broken legs and a fractured nose.

Least hurt was nine-year-old Warren Milord, Jr., who escaped with cuts and bruises. He went home after brief treatment at hospital here.

The other injured, most of whom suffered broken bones or glass cuts, were: Warren Milord, 34; Wendell Milord, five; Winston Milord, six; Woodrow Milord, 2½; Wilbert Pitfield, 41, of Point Edward, Ont.; Mrs. Wilbert Pitfield; George Pitfield, eight; Robert Lauzon, four, of Wallaceburg; and Robert Morrison, 60.

"No one seems to know what happened, but the Morrison car apparently veered out of control on the open stretch of highway and crashed into the Milord car," said Provincial Constable Cecil Everard of Sombra, who investigated.

Skelton Heads ERP Committee

OTTAWA, April 5.— (CP).— Alex Skelton, director-general of economic research for the Department of Reconstruction and Supply, is heading a government inter - departmental committee named to guide Canada's role in the Marshall plan for European recovery.

One of the government's top economic advisers, Mr. Skelton was in conference this morning as civil service experts buckled into what is expected to become a major responsibility.

One source said "one or two very high level policy matters" remained to be settled in the wake of the unexpectedly swift United States Congressional action in approving the $6,098,000,000 stop-Russian foreign aid bill.

3 Canadians Reserve Pleas In Libel Case

EDMONTON, April 5— (CP) — Pleas were reserved today by three Canadians charged, without precedent in the Commonwealth it is believed, with "conspiray to publish a defamatory libel."

Jack Kent Cooke, publisher of New Liberty magazine, Harold Dingham, its Ottawa editor and a member of the parliamentary press gallery, and Dr. Charlotte Whitton, welfare authority, made no answer to the charges. Mr. Cooke also was charged with counselling the commission of a defamatory libel.

A late flash reports proceedings in Alberta's conspiracy case have been stayed and Cooke, Dingman and Whi[illegible] are discharged.

Police Surprise 'Red' Party; 56 Arrested

MONTREAL, April 5 —(CP)— Quebec liquor police added the "surprise" element to a "party to help the labor press," sponsored by the Labor Progressive Party, when the 56 participants were arrested on charges of being found in a "blind pig" Saturday night.

They spent most of the week-end in jail after their arrest when police invaded the party after allegedly obtaining evidence that liquor was being sold without a permit.

Charged with being the keepers of the "blind pig" were Pierre Gelinas, 23-year-old editor of Combat, Montreal Leftist weekly now banned under the provincial padlock law, and Daniel Durocher, 28. They will appear in court today.

Moscow Propaganda

Chief Inspector Aurele Lemay of the liquor police said that documents found in Gelinas briefcase included propaganda material from Moscow and from the Belgrade office of the comminform as well as plans for a L.P.P.-sponsored "French Canadian League Against Conscription."

Those arrested included 19 women.

By late last night, most of the found-ins had been released on cash bail of $100 each. Gelinas and Durocher regained temporary freedom last night when they were able to raise cash bail of $200 each.

The invitation to the party read "Surprise party to help the labor press—let us join against the attack — Le Labor Progressive Party."

Inspector Oscar Charron who led the raid said that it was apparently a reference to the recent order of the attorney general applying the padlock against the Combat which now is printed in Toronto and mailed to Montreal subscribers.

Convict Indian To Hang June 22

BRANTFORD, April 5—(CP)— Maynard Jonathan, 17, accused of beating an old man to death to get money to pay for a jalopy, was convicted of murder Saturday. Mr. Justice G. A. Urquhart of the Ontario Supreme Court sentenced him to be hanged June 22.

Evidence was that 77-year-old Isaac J. Hill, an Indian trapper, was beaten outside his garage of the Six Nations Indian Reservation here last Nov. 8. He died in hospital on the reservation Nov. 27.

The jury recommended mercy for Jonathan, a Tuscarora Indian. Mr. Justice Urquhart said he agreed with the guilty verdict and promised to pass on to the proper authorities the recommendation of leniency.

Jonathan, asked if he wished to say anything, replied that he had nothing to say. He maintained the placidity he showed throughout the five-day trial and spoke in a low voice.

Fire Sweeps Emily Pasture

OMEMEE, April 5 — (ENS). — A fire of uncertain origin burned off some 25 acres of pasture land and destroyed considerable fence on the farm of Mr. James McQuade, two miles north of Omemee, Sunday afternoon.

The fire had a considerable start before it was discovered and an alarm turned in. About 50 men answered the call for help. After a stiff fight they put it under control before it reached the bush; but not before it had ignited two stretches of stump fence and crossed over one into the farm of Mr. Melville McBrien.

Mr. McBrien's tractor was used to throw up a fire brake.

Watchers remained on guard many hours to see that no spark from the pine stump blaze should be blown beyond the brake.

Year Old In Canada

Synchronized swimming has been going on for several years in the United States and was only adopted about a year ago in Canada. As the name implies, the greatest need for skill lies in the synchronized motions of the contestants. Other points of judgment are the costumes worn, the manner of entering the water, the compulsory strokes performed, as well as the voluntary ones chosen.

In one sense this novelty swimming could be described as a water ballet, for swimming must be done to music. The two local girls dressed as clowns swam to the accompaniment of "Humoresque."

Both trained very hard for the Detroit competition and were in the YWCA tank practising daily.

Catching the attention of the judges was their proficiency at "upside down swimming" (swimming backward in an inverted position with feet protruding from the water), and submarine swimming particularly.

A novelty number which was strange to the Americans was swimming with specially-designed battery-powered lights attached to the body.

Costumes which attracted much attention were also specially designed for the event by Mrs. James Forbes and Mrs. James Young.

The president of the American Amateur Swimming Association described the winning entry as "wonderful," adding that he was very pleased to see that Canadian girls had won the championship.

This same act will be repeated for Peterborough spectators by the newly crowned United States champions and the Ornamental Swimming Club April 16.

At the station at 11.40 a.m. today, a group of delighted and excited co-members of the Ornamental Swimming Club, with other interested officials and relatives of the two girls, crowded around the pair to offer congratulations.

Mrs. H. C. Sootheran, convener of the swimming committee of the YWCA Board, presented each girl with a bouquet of roses and bouquets of sweetpeas were presented by Mrs. Isabel Crary, president of the Ornamental Swimmers and Miss June Storey, vice-president. Among those present to extend congratulations to the new champions were Jack Dane, Director of the Peterborough Recreation Commission, Miss Leta Brownscombe, general secretary of the YWCA and Gordon Minty, director of aquatics at the YMCA.

ish sector of Berlin, and the Russian pilot was killed.

Clips Off Wing

The fighter clipped one wing off the British Viking. The collision took place almost exactly over the borderline of the British sector of Berlin and the Soviet zone of Germany.

A German who saw the planes fall said the Russian craft did not burst into flames, but came down with terrific force.

A dozen Soviet officers went to the spot where their fighter came down, but made no comment. German police pried the pilot's body from the wreckage.

The British plane came down in Soviet-occupied territory.

Barred From Wreckage

Soviet soldiers barred everyone from getting near the wreckage which was spread over a wide area. Gart Stindt, American newsreel cameraman, said Soviet soldiers demanded the film in his camera and tore it up although he had taken no pictures. The soldiers then ordered him into the British sector.

Two German boys and a German man said the Soviet plane had dived under the British plane, then came up underneath.

"It looked like the Soviet plane was trying to play around with the British plane," one of the boys said.

When the Soviet fighter came up, it swerved into a wing of the Transport and sheared it off, the three witnesses agreed.

A spokesman for Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, the British commander, said the Soviet fighter which smashed into a British transport today was in a British area illegally. Gen. Robertson carried a protest to the Russian commander, Marshal Vassily Sokolovsky.

Trapper Badly Injured Rescued After 10 Days

SAULT STE. MARIE, April 5—(CP). — Larry Peters, 44-year-old trapper and prospector who slashed his leg with an axe Good Friday, was rescued yesterday from his cabin some 80 miles north of here where he had lain helpless 10 days. An airplane flown by John Hampton brought Peters to hospital here. Doctors said Peters' leg may have to be amputated.

Two trapper friends discovered Peters' plight. They walked eight miles through the bush to Peters' cabin on Hodgson Lake when he did not meet them yesterday as he had planned.

They found him running a high fever. The injured leg had swollen to several times its normal size.

One rescuer prepared Peters his first satisfying meal in more than a week. The other hiked 12 miles to Spruce Lake, nearest station on the Algoma Central Railway, to send a call for help.

Peters said the axe bit deeply into his leg while he was cutting a trail. He used balsam gum to check the bleeding and crawled to his cabin.

"I never stopped praying and hoping that something would turn up," said Peter in a hospital bed interview. "It was a close call."

In the procession were 40 tanks, including eight American Shermans, scores of British armored cars and more than 80 mobile artillery pieces. It was the most impressive military display since pre-war Fascist days.

"It's just like Mussolini's time," said one watcher.

Mining Institute Opens In Vancouver

VANCOUVER, April 5.—(CP).—Geologists, mining engineers and executives from all parts of Canada today opened a four-day convention, the 50th anniversary of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy. The golden jubilee meeting here is the first time an annual meeting of the organization has been held west of Winnipeg.

The convention will review much that has been accomplished in half a century of mining progress and development.

Last year Canada's mineral production reached an all-time high of $619,000,000. The output of metals was well over half the production and the convention is expected to bring to public attention the latest applications of technology in the search for metal and its recovery.

The meeting will also see a long list of annual awards for outstanding service to the industry, both in science and personal devotion.

TAFT TESTIFIES—It is rarely that Senator Robert Taft of Ohio is seen in the witness chair in front of congressional committees. Generally he is on the questioning side of the table, but here he charged that U.S. federal housing policies "inflated the economy by five billion dollars" last year. This vigorous testifying pose was made when he made the statement to the Senate banking committee. He also urged revision of housing loan procedure and defended the Taft-Ellender-Wagner housing bill.

King's Cousin Heads Drive Against Bribery

LONDON, April 5.—(Reuters).—The Marquis of Carisbrooke, a cousin of the king, heads a crusade in Britain to rid the country of increasing bribery and corruption.

The league has set itself the task of stamping out "jobbery" which it says has become more prevalent in both British business and everyday life than ever before.

Geoffrey Powell, secretary of the league, said today: "Shortages always make for bribery and as Britain is a place of shortages bribery is spreading like an epidemic throughout the country. For every case that is detected and punished there may be thousands that are never found out."

The league appeals to the public to report any "twisting," no matter how petty, so that it might investigate it and then present the case to the director of public prosecutions.

Through its publication the league attempts to make the public aware that they are committing bribery offences daily.

Margarine Issue Flares Anew

TRURO, N.S., April 5.—(CP).—F. T. Sanfield, Progressive Conservative Member of Parliament for Colchester, said Saturday night that by the Geneva trade agreement the Canadian government has undertaken to remove the ban against oleomargarine.

Mr. Stanfield said in a statement:

"This is not in Hansard but I have been let in on a little political secret.

"By the Geneva trade treaties the Canadan government has undertaken to remove the ban against oleomargarine. Their experts who helped in framing the treaties left no doubt about that when they appeared before the Senate committee."

Responsible government sources at Ottawa could not immediately be reached for comment but it was recalled from previous announcements that Canada's agreement of the Geneva treaties does involve lifting the ban against importation of oleomargarine.

However, this would have no effect on the ban against manufacture of oleomargarine in Canada, and would not prevent the government from imposing a prohibitive tariff on margarine imports which would effectively keep the commodity out of the country.

MacBrien Won't Seek PC Re-nomination

OSHAWA, April 5.—The field of prospective Progressive Conservative nominees for Ontario riding's Federal by-election was narrowed considerably Saturday with announcement by Major James R. MacBrien that he would not seek nomination at tonight's convention in Whitby. Major MacBrien was the party's candidate in the 1945 general election. He lost to the late W. E. N. Sinclair, KC, whose death last November left the seat open. Major MacBrien announced Saturday that "for business and professional reasons" he would not seek re-nomination.

Champions Decided In School Tourney

KINGSTON, April 5 (CP)—The three-day Queen's university high school invitation basketball tournament wound up Friday night in a blaze of action as three section champions were decided.

Albert College, last year's champions, and Ottawa Commerce fought through the regulation time and two overtime periods before Albert managed to eke out a 40-38 victory to take the section C crown.

The powerful Brockville quintet swept to an easy 31-18 victory over Cobourg for the section B title, while Ottawa Tech handed Lisgar a 45-21 setback to win the Section A championship.

Paul Ventura of Ottawa Commerce, Bob Bevan of Cobourg and Jim Stewart of Lisgar took down awards as their team's most valuable player.

Charge Ontario Resorts Barring Jewish Visitors

OSHAWA, April 5. — Ontario resort operators who had no accommodation available when they answered queries sent over a typically Jewish signature suddenly found room when letters from the same source were sent over a typically Gentile signature, Louis Herman, Toronto lawyer and regional president of the Jewish Immigration Aid Society of Canada, told Oshawa Lodge, B'nai B'rith last night.

Charging that anti-Semitism was still rampant in Ontario, Mr. Herman said 48 letters were sent by the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews to resorts, with a Jewish signature. Only 24 replied, and 15 resorts said there was no room available. When a Gentile signature was substituted, 46 replies were received. These, he said, included favorable answers from the 15 summer places that had had no space available before.

"Despite the fact that Ontario intends to spend more than $2,000,000 to attract tourists, resorts are still practicing discrimination on racial and religious grounds," Mr. Herman said.

He pointed out that the action of the public relations committee of the Council of Christians and Jews was parelleled in the motion picture "Gentlemen's Agreement," which won the Academy award.

"This kind of Hitlerian practice does us untold harm in the United States," he said. "Last summer one of America's most distinguished jurists, a judge of the Supreme Court of New York State, was refused accommodation in an Ontario summer resort because his name was Jewish. Another prominent American was refused service by a waiter in a resort bar."

Expect A Stir Over Gold Bill

OTTAWA, April 5 (CP)—A bill to assist gold mines in the form of payment for boosted production may stir the Commons facing a heavy schedule of work after a 10-day Easter holiday.

Expected as one of the first government measures to be brought up for debate in the reconvening today, the emergency gold-mining assistance bill already has been given first reading in the dying moments of the brief pre-Christmas session.

Opposition was expressed by Rodney Adamson (PC—York West) who said it was questionable whether the measure brought down by Finance Minister Abbott would provide any long-range favorable effects for the gold-mining industry.

In introducing the bill Dec. 19, Mr. Abbott announced that the cost of operation on which assistance would be allowed would include a certain amount of exploration costs and depreciation allowances.

Durham MP Charges 'Reds' Still Using County School

PORT HOPE, April 5.—In a recent address from Parliament Hill C. E. Stephenson, MP for Durham, gave considerable attention to the growth of the Communistic movement in Canada, with Durham county in mind.

In a subsequent report from Parliament Hill Mr. Stephenson discussed the same subject more thoroughly and with special reference to the Port Hope scene itself. He said:

"Many of you no doubt have read the report of the Royal Committee on Espionage. The evidence revealed that many of these Communists had wormed their way into departments of the Federal Government, yes and even into the Parliament of Canada.

"This insidious work is being carried on right at this moment as I speak to you. You may have heard me mention on previous occasions about a school that is established near Port Hope in Durham county and although it is operated under the guise of the WEA (Workers' Education Association) it was rented from August 27 to September 9, 1944, to the Labor Youth Federation formed to replace the banned Young Communist League for what was designed as a national leadership school of the Labor Youth Federation.

"This school was attended by delegates from all across Canada. However, the usual lectures of the WEA were not used, their functions being billed by prominent members of the Labor Progressive Party such as Sam Carr and William Sidney. This school is still being operated today as a summer school by the aforementioned organization.

"So you see," the report concluded, "it can happen here, even in Durham county."

Conservatives Claim Victory

LONDON, April 5 (AP)—Conservatives claimed an overwhelming victory today, mostly at the expense of the Labor Party, in Saturdays municipal elections.

Amended unofficial returns, party headquarters said, showed Conservatives won 138 council seats and lost only nine.

The trend to the Right, first evident in English and Welsh municipal elections last fall, cost the Socialists 100 seats on rural and urban district councils, Conservative tabulators reported.

In last November's voting Labor suffered its first defeat since it won control of the national government in the 1945 landslide. In 388 boroughs the party suffered a net loss of 644 seats while the Conservatives made a net gain of 618.

Voting to fill 3,062 seats in more than 500 districts will continue through Tuesday.

The Freight Rates Increase

After a year and a half's consideration and hearings the Federal Board of Transport Commissioners have awarded the railways a 21 per cent. increase in freight rates, except on coal for which an additional 25 cents a ton has been allowed on carrying charges and for grain and grain products, on which no increases have been allowed.

• • •

The Board's decision will not be popular except with the railways and the railway employees. Their unions are now asking for increases in pay which, if won, would add $150,000,000 to the railways' operating costs. There has not been a general increase in freight rates since 1922 though operating costs have risen (labour alone by more than 37 per cent.) and the cost of the material for heavy equipment has gone up 50 per cent. since 1939. The railways also have to find money for new rolling stock. The railways, like other businesses, have been caught in the spiral of rising costs and it seems only fair—and necessary if they are to stay in business—that they be allowed to meet these costs through increases in rates.

• • •

The gap between earnings and expenditures (including dividends and profit-and-loss reserves) of the C.P.R. is estimated at thirty million dollars. The 21 per cent. increase allowed will give them 27 million dollars more revenue a year; the other three millions will be picked up on higher specific rates on coal and coke. The C.N.R., with a larger mileage and business, will have an increased revenue of about 40 million dollars. Thus the total bill to the public will be $70,000,000. Individual citizens will probably feel this most directly in the cost of coal, and perhaps through a slight increase in the cost of milk; the rest of the money will be covered up in book-keeping but will nevertheless be provided by the public.

• • •

As was to be expected, the Maritimes and the western provinces are the chief opponents of the increased freight rates —the west despite the decision not to increase the rate of grain shipments. For fifty years there have been higher freight rates in the west than in the east, a difference of 15 per cent. of late years. The 21 per cent. increase means in Ontario that a $1 rate will become $1.21; in the West the $1.15 rate will be $1.39. This makes the net difference 18 per cent. instead of the former 15 per cent. The Winnipeg Free Press is at pains to point this out, but it does not mention that the major shipments—grain—are subject to no increase at all. The Westerners forget that the West has much more mileage but only a fraction of the traffic of the east and that therefore the operating costs of the railway are much greater in the west than the east. So long as freight rates must be linked with operating costs, the West will not be satisfied.

The Wisconsin Presidential Primary

The Wisconsin presidential primary, which will be held tomorrow, is an event of considerable political importance in the United States, and since this year's presidential election in that country will have effects reaching far beyond its borders, the result of tomorrow's voting will be awaited with interest by the people of other countries, particularly Canadians. In other years, the Wisconsin primary has provided accurate forecasts of the choice of presidential candidates. In 1944, for instance, the late Wendell Willkie was eliminated in Wisconsin's primary by Governor Thomas E. Dewey, who went on to win the Republican nomination. This year, however, the result in Wisconsin may fail to indicate the successful candidate at the Republican National Convention to be held this summer.

• • •

The entry of General Douglas MacArthur complicates the Wisconsin primary and makes it improbable that the election there will foreshadow the national Republican choice. When the field was limited to Governor Dewey and ex-Governor Harold Stassen of Minnesota, political observers thought the former would win, with Mr. Stassen probably a strong second. These same observers now predict that General MacArthur will win fourteen of the state's twenty-seven delegates, with Mr. Dewey second and Mr. Stassen third.

• • •

It may seem surprising that so late an entry should be selected to win the Wisconsin primary, but there are reasons for the prediction. Although born in Kansas, General MacArthur calls Wisconsin his home state; his father was there, his grandfather was lieutenant-governor of the state, then governor. The General's magnificent war record and his ability as an admistrator are other reasons, but probably the most weighty reason influencing the prophets is that he has the most efficient and comprehensive campaign organization in the state, headed by two former governors, Fred R. Zimmerman and Philip LaFollette. Mr. Zimmerman is generally rated as the state's most astute politician; Mr. Lafollette still has wide influence in a state which was for many years ruled by what was known as "the LaFollette dynasty".

• • •

If General MacArthur wins in Wisconsin, however, it will not necessarily mean that his chances of winning the national Republican nomination will be improved. But if Mr. Dewey loses by a wide margin in Wisconsin, it will mean serious loss of prestige throughout the Middle West and consequent damage to his chances of winning the Republican nomination.

• • •

Tomorrow's election result will show whether the political forecasters were right or wrong. If they are right, the result will be disappointing to those who had hoped that a deadlock between Senator Taft and Governor Dewey would result in Senator Vandenberg's nomination as a compromise Republican candidate. That hope is held throughout the western democracies, inspired by Senator Vandenberg's championship of the Marshall Plan and by Senator Taft's obstinate opposition to that international recovery program.

Peterborough's Family Court

The Family Court of this city and county has now been in existence for a little more than a year and the 1947 report has come to hand. This court was established at the desire of municipal and county officials, and citizens interested in problems of juvenile delinquency, to deal with cases of a type which obviously do not belong in the police court, but which are nevertheless a responsibility of the community. Cases of juvenile delinquency and cases of domestic disagreement come within its jurisdiction, and it is possible for a Family Court to deal with such cases in a manner which would not be possible in the atmosphere of a magistrate's court.

The troubles of delinquent children are dealt with under the provisions of the Juvenile Delinquents Act, which says that a difficult child is to be treated "not as an offender but as one . . . requiring help and guidance and proper supervision". As the report points out, most of the delinquent children to appear in the family Court here are petty thieves, some of whom are uncommonly crafty; such children cannot be dealt with sentimentally, but neither should they feel the full weight of laws which were made for adults; they need special treatment, and that is what they get in the Family Court. Very often, also, the child's bad behaviour has its roots in a bad home atmosphere, and the Court is able to investigate the home, and take corrective measures if needful. The aim of the Family Court is to prevent young offenders from growing up into adult criminals.

The Court is also able to hear cases of domestic trouble which are not proper subjects for a police court, but which are productive of great unhappiness. Odd though it may seem, there are many people who do not know where to turn for good advice, and a Family Court can give them a new outlook, and often sound instruction, about their family problems.

The report shows that the Peterborough Family Court has done good work, and also that there is greater need for it in this city than many people would imagine. For a community of this size to neglect the matters with which a Family Court is particularly suited to deal would be folly indeed.

A Toronto professor says that Canadian babies are the most expensive in the world. Does this carry any assurance that they won't grow up to be cheap people?

"Of Cabbages and Kings"

By PETER ELIOT

"IN 1913 a friend of mine wanted to write a Life of Shaw, (writes A. S. Neil in that delight for Shaw enthusiasts—G.B.S. 90—), and wrote asking the author's permission to quote from his works. The permission was given on a postcard: 'But why write a book about me? Why not write a book about yourself, if you've got a self, and, anyway, who wants to know what you think of me when they can read what I think about myself?'"

✧ ✧ ✧

"HIS formative years (to continue speaking of Shaw) were spent in an extraordinary atmosphere. The conditions at Synge Street had nothing about them of the rigid Irish Protestant convention: they were eccentric to the verge of anarchy ('anarchial,' indeed, is Shaw's favourite description of them). Mrs. Shaw 'went her own way with so complete a disregard and even unconsciousness of convention and scandal and prejudice that it was impossible to doubt her good faith and innocence, but it never occurred to her that other people, especially children, needed guidance or training, or that it mattered in the least what they ate or drank or what they did so long as they were not actively mischievous.' (G.B.S.) As for George Carr Shaw, he went from one drinking bout to another, continued to disgrace himself socially, paid occasional visits to the Corn Exchange, and watched his income dwindling slowly but steadily. His drinking was not done secretly or convivially: he neither kept a hidden store nor did he find congenial company at the local pub. 'He was,' says his son, 'a lonely drinker at the grocer-publican's. He was never carried out blind; drink did not affect him that way, nor did he drink enough to take him quite off his legs. But he was quite unmistakably drunk, stupefied, apparently sleep-walking, and, if remonstrated with, apt to fly into sudden monetary rages in which he would snatch something up and dash it on the floor.' At other times when he had tippled too generously he would be moved to hilarity, and there was a comic occasion when he arrived home carrying a goose by the neck, mistook the gable wall for the front door, and was found outside laughing uproariously at his own blunder."

✧ ✧ ✧

"WHEN he (Lord Salisbury—he succeeded Disraeli as leader of the Conservative Party—writes Andre Maurois in his sketch of the calm before the storm—The Edwardian Era,—the D. Appleton-Century Co.) was bored, as he was by nearly every human activity, he showed it by a trembling of the legs peculiar to himself. He would lift up his heels, and set up a drumming so continuous and powerful that the whole floor of the House of Lords quivered. His colleagues on the front bench complained; it made them sea-sick. Often, too, his long fingers kept twisting a paper-knife. On the other hand, when making a speech his arms hung motionless down his sides. He thought aloud, using no oratorical devices, in apparent forgetfulness of his audience. He hated the lofty and moralizing arguments which most politicians place at the service of their own interests. 'You cloud your speech,' he had once said, 'with some eloquent expression of your desire to satisfy the natural aspirations of Ireland. Rightly or wrongly, I have not the slightest wish to satisfy the natural aspirations of Ireland.'"

"THE Duke's mind (in 1839 the 'Duke' would have meant only Wellington; in 1900 it meant the Duke of Devonshire) worked very slowly, and he never allowed himself to be hurried. To a lengthy explanation of some matter he would reply: 'It may be all right and clear, but I don't understand it in the least.' And it had all to be started afresh. Once in the Cabinet, after some weeks of discussion of an Education Bill of which they had reached Clause 28, the Duke intervened, remarking that he wished to make some observations regarding Clause 2. —'But,' said Mr. Balfour gently, 'we adopted Clause 2 last month.'—'Yes,' said the Duke, 'but I have thought about it.' The Cabinet returned to Clause 2.

✧ ✧ ✧

"IN the House of Commons he nearly always fell asleep. Not only did he yawn during his own maiden speech—which made Disraeli say, 'That young man will go far'—but he continued to yawn whenever he rose to speak. A lady, who had listened to him from the gallery of the House without succeeding in hearing him, once expressed her pained surprise at his seeming so bored. 'Ah, my dear lady,' he sighed, 'you did not hear my speech or you would not say that.' While he was defending a Government measure in the House of Lords, a young Unionist Whip who was there was taken aback to hear the Duke advancing views quite contrary to those of the Cabinet. He passed him a note. The Duke stopped short, read the slip of paper, and calmly remarked: 'Ah! It appears that I am wrong. . . . The opinion of His Majesty's Government is exactly the opposite of the views which I have just expressed to your lordships.' Another time, he at once fell asleep after delivering a long speech, and a noble lord rose to reply and demanded further explanations. The Duke was awakened. Rising to his feet, he picked up the papers which he had already used, read them through a second time from start to finish, and sat down again."

Unconsidered Trifles

"You will experience poverty until you are 35. . . ." said the fortune-teller.

"And then?"

"Well, by then you'll be used to it."

✧ ✧ ✧

"Lend me five dollars old man. I promise you, on the word of a gentleman, to pay it back tomorrow."

"Bring the gentleman round and let me see him."

✧ ✧ ✧

Umpire: "I saw no foul. One can't be all over the field at once you know."

Player: "You will be after the game, lad, if y' don't give us a better break."

NOW WHO COULD BE DOING THAT?

Letters To The Editor

QUESTIONS ROMAN SUCCESS

Sir: I was much interested in your editorial in Wednesday's Examiner which asked the question why the Roman Catholic Church seemed to be almost alone in the field making converts from the ranks of Communism. Writing as a priest of the Church of England I think the Church of Rome would agree that our priests all over the world are in the fray too, preaching, writing and broadcasting, and that with no little success. That converts are not always publicized does not mean that they are not being made by those who do not belong to the Roman obedience. At the same time it may be said that with regard to the so-called intellectual Communists the Roman Catholic Church may find it easier to win them over since Roman Catholicism and Communism are essentially totalitarian in character.

With regard though to the intellectual appeal referred to in the editorial as being so heavily on the Roman Church side I would like to remind your readers that in the realm of scholarship it is generally conceded that the English Church theologians hold a very high standing, their writings both in philosophy and religion are constantly being quoted or referred to, and they have been an inspiration and help to untold numbers.

While glad with you, sir, that the Roman Catholic Church is having its successes, I think it only fair that at the same time your editorial should note its losses. Why has not the Roman Catholic Church been able to hold and restrain its many thousands of members in Italy, Spain, France, and other Roman Catholic countries from becoming Communists?

Surely the power to hold and restrain members should be stronger than that which converts some so-called intellectuals. And perhaps this holding and restraining power is more in evidence where the simple gospel is proclaimed and freedom of worship and freedom of speech are permitted.

Priest of the Church of England in Canada.

ANOTHER POINT OF VIEW

Sir: As members of the Union and working in the C.G.E. since it organized may we have space in your paper to express an opinion on the item of the fellow who calls himself a Union member in Saturday's paper. First we would like to say if we got a 30c an hour raise he would be the first to break his arm to get it. And we don't think it is far too much the way the cost is going up and if this fellow would get up to the Union meeting as a member should and he would know what the members point of view was, or is he on the big money list here in the C.G.E.? It looks to us as if he has got a raise in pay somewhere. As there are 4,000 members in the C.G.E. and every member has a right to speak for himself or herself so if he did not have the guts to put his name in the paper he isn't a member of the Union and if he is, he is a poor one.

I would like to see this so-called member put his name in the paper or is he or she ashamed of the name? And as for that one hour off. It would give other fellows a job to help save us from depression and the extra hour could be used to good advantage with his family as any home-loving man can understand.

Thanking you very kindly for this space in your paper,

CLARENCE O'NEILL,
ANNIE ROBBINS,
J. McMASTER.

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Behold, God is mighty, and despiseth not any: he is mighty in strength and wisdom. (Job 36: 5.)

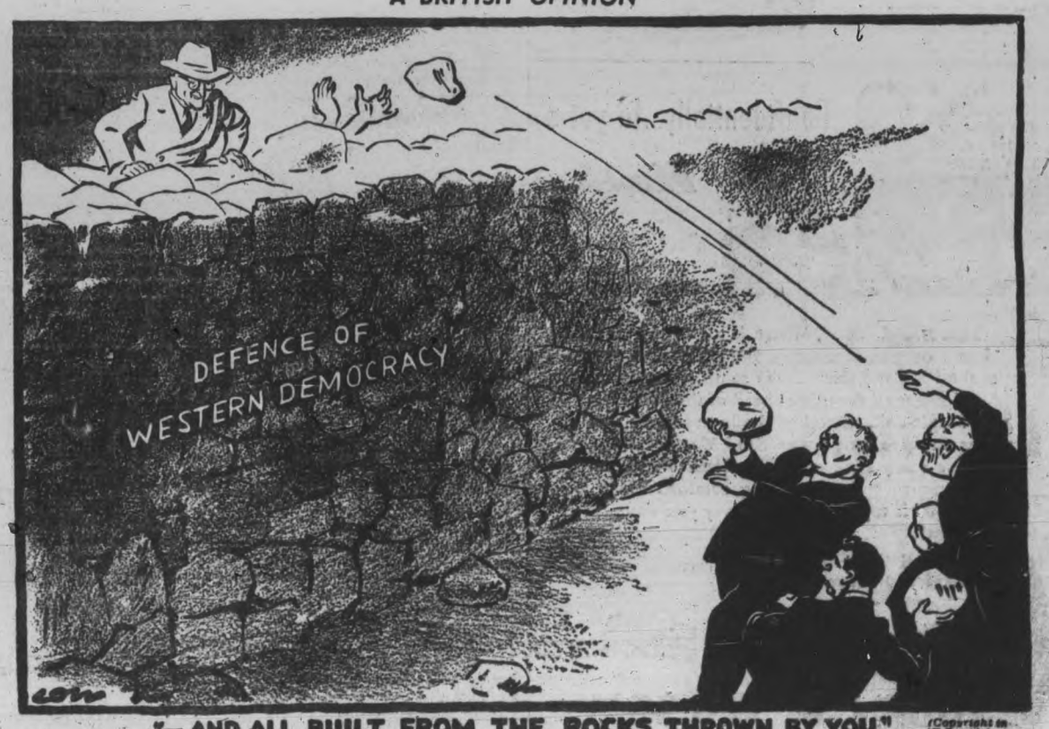
✧ ✧ ✧

Hearken unto this, O Job: stand still, and consider the wondrous works of God. . . . . Touching the Almighty, we cannot find him out: he is excellent in power, and in judgment, and in plenty of justice: he will not afflict. (Job 37: 14, 23.)

✧ ✧ ✧

The same day went Jesus out of the house, and sat by the sea side. And great multitudes were gathered together unto him, so that he went into a ship, and sat; and the whole multitude stood on the shore. . . .

Another parable put he forth unto them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is likened unto a man which sowed good seed in his field: but while men slept, his enemy came and sowed tares among the wheat, and went his way. But when the blade was sprung up, and brought forth fruit, then appeared the tares also.



So the servants of the householder came and said unto him, Sir, didst not thou sow good seed in thy field? from whence then hath it tares? He said unto them, An enemy hath done this. The servants said unto him, Wilt thou then that we go and gather them up?

But he said, Nay; lest while ye gather up the tares, ye root up also the wheat with them. Let both grow together until the harvest: and in the time of harvest I will say to the reapers, Gather ye together first the tares, and bind them in bundles to burn them: but gather the wheat into my barn. (Matt. 13: 1, 2, 24-30.)

Van Gogh Colourings For Woollens

A unique and beautiful form of cloth design based on the colours of world famous paintings was shown for the first time in London recently. The new method, invented by an English textile manufacturer, consists firstly of an analysis of the colours used by such painters as Rembrandt, Van Gogh, Gauguin and Paul Nash. The designer then visualizes the effects of the colours as a cloth pattern. This is done by means of a diminishing glass which gives the weave of the cloth in magnified form. The main advantage of this procedure—quite apart from its aesthetic value—is that the colour content of the fabric can immediately be predicted, whereas standard practices necessitate the weaving of numerous trial pattern lengths. An amazing variety of colour combinations can be taken from an analysis of these paintings. In one wool cloth which is based on Van Gogh's famous "Sunflower", there are, for example, exact reproductions of no less than twenty different colours and shades. Most of the patterns at present being produced are in small checks, but striped and plain designs have also been developed on the same principle.—U.K. Information.

A BRITISH OPINION

Say Hard Work Best Method For Long Life

By The Canadian Press

Three Ontario residents celebrating birthsdays in the 90s last week agree on one factor making for long life: hard work.

Mrs. Robert Scott, 90 Thursday, still does some work on her farm in East Flamboro township near Hamilton. She milks cows and looks after other farm chores.

"Hard work and lots of it, that's what keeps you healthy," says this woman, left with three children and a 130-acre farm after the death of her husband in 1907. She kept the farm going, raised the children and sometimes acted as a midwife.

Mrs. Wellington Saunders, 92, Thursday, said at Meaford she feels the world is travelling too fast—"but it still is a pretty good place to live in and is just what you make it."

She knew the hardships of pioneer life, having settled at Meaford with her husband in 1872, before the railway was built to that Grey county town.

"I may live quite a while yet," says this last member of a family of 10.

Wladislaus Szumielski, who came to Canada from his native Poland in 1851, will celebrate his 98th birthday Sunday in London. Children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren are gathering for the occasion.

He settled in Kitchener when it was a small town, worked there 35 years as a cabinet maker and moved to London 20 years ago upon in retirement.

RUSSIANS HALT AMERICAN BERLIN-BOUND TRAIN—Passengers, many wives of American soldiers stationed in the U.S. sector, are shown as their train was halted by Russian soldiers at Marienborn, Germany, at a checkpoint established by the Soviet. American officer in charge of the train, refused to let Russian troops enter or inspect the train, which returned to its starting point. Shortly afterwards, armed American GI's prevented high-ranking Soviet officers entering a building in the U.S.S.R. sector of Berlin.

1,500 Apply For Job As Steeplejack

By SHAUN McQUILLAN.

LONDON, April 5 — (CP). — When Jack Eserin, master steeplejack, advertised for strong and intelligent men, he did not expect to get 1,500 replies, 20 from women, and one proposal of marriage.

Eserin, one of a family of steeplejacks, with 60 men working for him in North London, advertised for:

"Well-educated young men, willing to take off their coats and learn an exciting trade. Work, arduous and filthy.....frozen to death in winter and roasted in summer.

"But pay is good, and those who make the grade have a job for life. There is no reason why we cannot have men who talk like Socrates and work like Hercules."

Eserin said he wrote it "in a fit of white hot temper, because of some of the useless men we have in the steeplejack profession."

10 To Be Chosen

The 10 chosen will be selected from typists, clerks, engineers, policemen, ex-servicemen, Oxford under-graduates, carpenters, and bricklayers, and an archaeologist. One of the women applicants said she had seen a revolution from a chimney top, escaped from behind the iron curtain, climbed the highest mountains in Europe, and what about that job?

Eserin is satisfied with his own men, but he thinks shirkers are getting into the trade. He pays £10 ($40) to £15 weekly, excluding expenses, and thinks high ideals go with the job.

"It makes you think seriously about life," he said, "knowing, as we do, we are always in danger of losing it."

THEIR FUTURE ASSURED—These are the raw product with which the Montreal Boys Association has worked for 25 years. They look to the future, bright with promise because their "big brothers" are taking an interest in their plight. Formerly with only the streets as their playground, with only the alleys as their recreation halls, a lucky few in Montreal have been able to join one of the many MBA clubs where they have learned how to use their time usefully. MBA has served over 50,000 boys such as these—but other thousands have missed its helping hand because of lack of workers and the provision of places in which they can work and play.

R.C.M.P. identified the woman as Mrs. Agnes Conrad who resides in the Caroline district about 75 miles northwest of Calgary.

4 Crosby Boys In Disney Film

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, April 5 (AP)—Bing Crosby's sons—Gary, Lindsay, Dennis and Philip—are becoming active professionally again and indications are that they are destined for careers in the show business.

The boys recently did an air show with their pop and Clifton Webb and this summer they will act in a Walt Disney film. A family source says the boys are developing an amazing talent and should go far as performers when they grow up.

Not For Her

Betty Field, who has been in four plays by her husband, Elmer Rice, says his next is not for her. "It deals with people unlike the characters I play," she said on the "Great Gadsby" set. The play's title: "Not for Children"... Overheard at R-K-O: "By the time they get around to shooting 'The Robe' it will be a small shawl"....

Bob Hope is still testing girls for the "Little Miss Marker" of "Sorrowful Jones." The trouble is that Paramount is trying to find another Shirley Temple. And they are realizing there was only one Temple....Randolph Scott's next for Harry Joe Brown will be "I Ride Alone." A success-story sequel to "I Walk Alone?"...

Sonny Tufts plans to make two more Westerns for Brown after "The Wrangler," figuring that they are the best thing to bolster his career. "Robert Young, Dan Duryea, and Robert Mitchum all jumped in popularity after their first horse operas," he reasons... ...Embarrassing moment: When Jimmy Durante's false teeth fell out during the Al Jolson broadcast....

10-Second Review

"Casbah" (U-I) is an effort to set "Algiers" to music. Like the original, it abounds in intrigue, but it is not as polished a job. The tunes are fine, but they don't fit the melodrama. Tony Martin, Yvonne DeCarlo, Peter Lorre, and Marta Toren help fight the uphill battle.

Hold Youth In Blast

QUEBEC, April 5 (CP)—Provincial police said last night they were holding Raymond Labonte, 18-year-old youth of Ste. Claire, Que., for questioning in connection with an explosion of dynamite at Ste. Claire last Friday. The blast, set off almost in the centre of the Dorchester county village 25 miles southwest of Quebec, shattered windows in several homes and roused the whole village at 1:30 a.m.

Butter Prosecutions.

TORONTO, April 5 — (CP) — Prices Board investigators have recommended prosecution of "a fair number" of retailers in four Ontario centres for breaches of the 73-cents-a-pound butter ceiling. "We are cracking down on merchants who sell butter over the ceiling," said Grant Young, a board official.

Margarine 'Unhealthy'

CALGARY, April 5 (CP)—Agriculture Minister Gardiner said in an interview Saturday that use of oleomargarine in Canada would be bad for the health of people in Canada.

HOTEL GUEST SAVED—Quick and expert action of the Inhalator Squad of the Montreal Fire Department saved the life of John Call, 72, as fire swept through the three-storey Grand Central Hotel in the downtown section of the city. Dr. J. G. Dionne attended the asphyxiation victim who was found in his second-floor bed after the fire was almost under control. Ten of the 25 or 26 residents were removed by ladder, but only the one injury was reported.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Hamilton Tigers' prospects of affiliation with the Ontario Rugby football union now that they are no longer a part of the Interprovincial Big Four were not bright, managers president Jack Langs said in an interview at Toronto Saturday. The Tigers recently withdrew from the Big Four and their place has been taken by another Hamilton club, the Hamilton Wildcats of last year's ORFU.

"I would say "no" to that question," said Langs when asked if the Tigers would join the ORFU.

The Eastern Canada Memorial Cup semi-final series between Halifax St. Mary's and Montreal Nationales will be a best-of-three affair with all games at Montreal, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, Frank Dilio, Quebec Amateur Hockey Association announced last night. The Eastern Canada junior final, between the winner of the semi-finals and Barrie Flyers, Ontario champions, will be either a best-of-five series, depending on what dates are available at Montreal and Toronto, Dilio said.

Windsor alumni trampled Toronto YMHA 62-54 at Toronto Saturday for their second straight win and eliminating YMHA five from the Ontario senior basketball finals.

St. Catharines Legion evened their best-of-seven Ontario Basketball Association intermediate A final series at one game apiece by defeating London RCASC 47-40 at St. Catharines Saturday.

Edmonton Flyers walloped Trail Smoke Eaters 10-0 at Edmonton Saturday night to take the best-of-seven Western Canada senior semi-final hockey series 4-0.

Although St. Catharines Collegiate Tricolors edged Windsor AKO 49-46 Saturday the Windsor quintet took down the Ontario Basketball Association Junior A championship by virtue of their 20-point lead taken in the first contest. Windsor won the first game 59-39 for a 105-88 margin in the two-game round.

St. Jerome's College of Kitchener moved into a seven-point lead in the first game of their OBA quarter-final series by defeating St. Thomas Orioles 32-25 Saturday at Kitchener. Record game of the series will be played at St. Thomas Saturday. Winner of the series will enter the OBA round-robin playoffs at Peterborough April 17.

Stanley Cup Finals To Begin Wednesday

NEW YORK, April 5—(CP)— The first game of the final playoffs for the Stanley Cup between Detroit Red Wings and Toronto Maple Leafs, will be played next Wednesday at Toronto, officials of the Detroit Hockey Club said last night.

The second game will be played in Toronto Saturday night and then the teams will move to Detroit for the third game Sunday, April 11, and the fourth game Tuesday, April 13.

Dates of further games, if necessary, will be announced later.

Only 3 Clubs In Chain League

NEW YORK, April 5—(AP)—Only three clubs in the class "D" North Atlantic League have working agreements with "chain" baseball outfits this season. All eight had them last year . . . the exlpanation according to one guy who hears most of the complaints, is that clubs so far down the scale can't depend on their major league bosses to send the players they want. Also that they're liable to get a player they don't need with orders to play him or else . . . Wonder how many other small leagues are feeling the same kind of pinch—especially in these days of "assembly line" training.

Monday Matinee

Although the Dodgers' Duke Snyder still is having trouble locating the strike zone, boss Branch Rickey says that if Duke plays for 30 days they'll never get him out of the National League . . . the Giants Clint Hartung has concocted a new delivery he calls the "Pretzel Pitch". Presumably, he only uses it when he has to 'beer' down . . . Not only was Gaynell Tinsley, new Louisiana State grid coach a basketball scholarship athlete, but his protege, End Abner Wimberly, was brought in on a basketball scholarship but never played a game . . . How'd you like to be a basketball coach at a school where things like that happen . . . Ben Jones likely will saddle Citation for the Kentucky Derby in hopes of equalling Derby Dick Thompson's record of sending out four Derby winners.

Minden Plans To Build New $21,000 Arena

LINDSAY, April 5.—Plans are under way for the construction of an arena and recreation centre at Minden, to cost $21,000. A committee was appointed to devise ways and means to launch a campaign for funds comprising: Ed Sedgewick and Lawrence Pritchard, representing the municipal council; Ken Curler, Allan Rogers, Harley Dawson, Mark Vasey and Roy Windover.

Clayton W. Hodgson, MP, lost no time in presenting his personal cheque for $200 to start the ball rolling.

Receives $1 For Bout

WASHINGTON, April 5—(AP).—Win, lose or draw, middleweight champion Rocky Graziano will receive exactly $1 for his 10-round, non-title bout with Sonny Horne tonight. Graziano is turning over his entire purse, expected to be around $15,000, to charity. He's even paying all his training expenses.

Has Heart Attack

WHITBY, April 5.— (CP). — Word was received during the week-end that James Heffering, well-known local sportsman and president of the ICRA, had suffered a heart attack on the way home from a vacation in Florida. At present he is confined to hospital in Georgetown, near Washington, D.C.

Heads Lacrosse Group

OTTADA, April 5. — (CP).— Edgar Lauzon of Cornwall Saturday was elected president of a newly-formed Eastern Ontario Lacrosse Association. The association, organized here by a group of enthusiasts from Montreal, Cornwall and other district centres, will field at least three Ontario lacrosse entries from Cornwal, Alexandria and Ottawa and and possibly a fourth from Hull, Que.

Revoke Harmon Licence

BOSTON, April 5—(AP)—On recommendation of a physician, the Massachusetts boxing commission today revoked the licence of Thompson Harmon, New York Negro lightweight, who collapsed during a boxing bout at Holyoke, Mass., Mar. 8. The commission also suspended three boxers on advice of doctors and suspended a dozen other fighters and managers for disciplinary reason. Four who had been suspended were reinstated.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Comes the Cardiff Giant in a main mat bout here Wednesday p.m. along the Rue Brock, and who does he tangle with but Earl (Moose) McCready. The Moose is a worthy opponent—a pusher-ahead scrapper—for the Giant, who bumps the hay beam at well over 300 pounds. He has chuckled his way to a couple of soft prelim wins locally but will find McCready a much tougher morsel to masticate, and it should be a right interesting fight before the finish. Rough John Katan goes in against Dr. Ed Meske in the semi-final, while the turbanned Nanjo Singh, villainous but powerful Hindu, opens the show against the New Zealand blond, Ken Kenneth. A good show promised the usual large crowd.

Two of the three divisions of the Girls' Basketball League have cleaned up, with Normals winning intermediate honors two weeks ago, and Nurses edging Neill's for the senior title a few days ago. Leaving St. Paul's one up o'er CGE in the two-in-three junior finals, and they resume this Friday in the YW. Neill's didn't succumb to Nurses on Friday without a furious fight but the latter took the title by a single point in their second straight win of the windup series. Fine basketball dished up and the loop generally has served up good entertainment throughout the season. It could end this Friday eve.

You've Got To Dig

Chap was saying the other day: "Something wrong with a city which contributes only slightly over $1,000 after a week's campaign for a covered rink." Well, yes, when the city hasn't any covered rink at present. Contributions are coming in mighty slowly, though it is true that the manufacturers, merchants and some clubs haven't been heard from yet. But when smaller places can raise greater sums faster for similar projects—and without benefit of excess profits tax gifts—it doesn't speak too well for our city, eh? Though we may be pessimistic too soon.

Exit Boston Bruins, though they went down gallantly. They made it a hot fight right to the wire and could easily have sewn it up there at the last as they peppered the Turk. But close doesn't count in sports, so Maple Leafs step into Stanley Cup finals again this season, and they have generally looked impressive through the schedule and in the semi-final series. Should give the Wings quite a tussle and it is pretty much a tossup in our mind. The Clapper crew suffered plenty the latter part of the season from injuries, as well as a suspended player, but they weren't exactly pushovers in this series, barring one bad game they turned in at home. Leafs were better, though.

Arn Dugan Chosen

Triple Link puckists of the local OHA junior "B" club have voted Arn Dugan as most valuable player of the 1948 season and he will receive an OHA trophy. The hard-working right winger on the first line is a good choice for the honor and he showed a lot in the Oddfellows' short season. Arn is a good ballster and a fine young lacrosser, too. He had a trial last autumn with Washington at Barrie and is likely to be given another crack at pro ranks next season. Runner-up to Dugan in the voting, done by players of the team only, was Ted Collins, also a good wingman, who did his stuff on the second line.

Southend Softball League may be revived after several dormant seasons. Tom Busby and others are figuring on getting it going again and an early re-organization meeting will be called. Clubs said to be interested in joining this circuit include: Canoe Co., Drafting Room, Punch Press, Keene, Westenders and the Southenders. Latter two may go by other names when organized. Such a loop would cut in to some extent on the Industrial Softball League but there were some disputes in the latter loop last season and several clubs apparently prefer the new setup for 1948. There should still be enough interest and entries to form a good Industrial League again and, meantime, a lot of fellows will get into action in both circuits.

Swell Going, Girls

Fine work in Detroit on Saturday by Iris Forbes-Reilly and Jean Millard, of the local Ornamental Swimming Club. They went over to participate in a championship swim meet there just for the experience—there being a water show here April 16—but came home with the USA junior women's synchronized (as a duo) title, first time it has left the United States. Obtained 97 of 100 points against 42 entries from various parts of the States. It proves the ability of these girls, their club and their coaching—and indicates Peterborough has some outstanding talent in ornamental swimmers.

Anderson, 19, won the Ontario title here last week and Noel Williams of London, Ont., placed second, after each had won five and lost one

Present Prizes To Curlers As Season Ends

By HERB MARTIN

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Curling Club held in the club parlor will go down in the recods as the shortest annual meeting ever held bp the club. In about an hour's time President T. McArthur had outlined the activities of the club; the secretary gave his report and the chairmen of the different committees gave account of their stewardship, along with all the prizes won in the two schedules, the leads and seconds, the vice-skips and the Neill trophy were presented. There was also time left for open discussion and, as usual, many suggestions were passed on for consideration by the incoming committees.

Open Skating

Now the main reason for all the hurry up was the fact the ice had been thrown open to the curlers and their families to skate on, and what a night. Some had not been on skates for many years but they made the best of it and enjoyed it all. E. Brown, who acted as master of ceremonies, played safe—he stayed in on No. 8.

Among those who enjoyed the fun were N. Hamley, F. Batten, the Ashmore brothers, S. Lowe, O. Price, H. Duimage, L. Ackford, T. Doughty, H. Bradburn and daughter Joan, Mr. and Mrs. G. Tollington, Mr. and Mrs. W. Hamilton, Dr. W. A. Smith and Mrs. Smith, Mrs. V. Selkirk, Mrs. J. Fanning, Mrs. J. Green and many others, particularly children of the curlers. The music was supplied by members of the Peterborough Skating Club and all in all it was one grand climax to a great season.

BASEBALL

NEW YORK, April 5—(AP)—Connie Mack, 85-year-old boss of Philadelphia Athletics, and 78-year-old Clark Griffith of Washington Senators, finished their heralded foot race in a dead heat at Orlando, Fla., yesterday.

Both discounted the outcome as any indication of how their teams would finished in the American League Pennant race.

An ambulance drove through the left field gate at Tinker Field, stopped at home plate and a doctor and two nurses stepped out, followed by Mack and Griffith.

Nick Altrock, the Senators' clown coach, escorted Mack and Griffith to third base and shot them off the mark toward home plate.

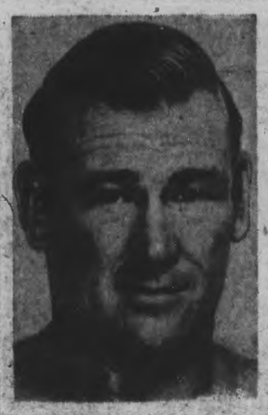
The president of the Senators stepped along sprightly enough but long-legged Connie matched strides with Griffith and Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler proclaimed the race a dead heat.

An outbreak of mild dysentery put seven members of the Cleveland Indians on the sick list in Tucson, Ariz., today. Stricken are pitcher Edgar Jones, Lyman Linde, Ernie Groth and Les Webber, Infielders Al Rosen, Joe Gordon and Catcher Ray Boone.

New York Giants, who hit 221 home runs in 1947, a major league record, are setting a good pace in that department in their exhibition games.

The Giants have belted 31 four-baggers in 22 exhibition games. Johnny Mize, who contributed 51 of the Giants' 221 homers last year, has hit only two so far.

Bill Nicholson and Phil Cavaretta of Chicago Cubs insist they are over their injuries and ready for a bit of work.



The more Washington Senators see of Pitcher Ramon Garcia, a little Cuban, the better they like him. Garcia was doing first rate early in Spring training. Then he decided to go home to see a dentist. In his first appearance in a month, he shut out Philadelphia Athletics in a one-inning stint yesterday.

Barons Bowl Over Bisons In 6-1 Win

By The Canadian Press

Cleveland Barons did the expected on Saturday night, rolling over Bufalo Bisons 6-1 to take a 1-0 lead in the American Hockey League's best-of-seven final.

Barons, who have lost but one game in their last 33 starts, jumped into a 2-0 lead in the opening period and slowly added to the total until they led 6-0 with only seconds to play. But Freddie Hunt came through with a goal at 19.58 to rob Rogers Bessette of a shutout.

Earl McCready gets the important "shot" with the Cardiff Giant on the Brock Arena mat Wednesday night and a win for Earl would put him in line for further top-flight bouts. Just how he will go about overcoming this 330-pounder remains to be seen but the Aurora Farmer is confident he can do it. On the other hand the bearded Giant is sure he will dispose of Earl in the same way he has flattened so many opponents. An excellent semi-final has been signed with dour John Katan meeting Dr. Ed Meske. In the opening bout Nanjo Singh meets the blond New Zealander Ken Kenneth, shown in the

Juniors Form Grid Club For '48 Season

The Peterborough Junior Rugby Club was organized at a meeting in the YMCA on Saturday. Two dozen prospective players were on hand, including a number of last year's PCVS senior stars. Gord Beatty was named manager of the club and Earl (Doc) Spencley is coach, Doug Miller Jr., was chosen secretary, Hank Robinson treasurer and Spike Bachelor equipment manager.

Just back from the three-day coaching school run by Frank Gnup in Hamilton, Doc Spencley is planning two or three weekend courses here, starting off shortly after bringing down Coach Gnup of Hamilton Wildcats, Larry Sullivan, formerly of Notre Dame, and Seymour Wilson, Big Four referee. Meantime, the junior gridders will commence spring training this Saturday, details to be worked out at a senior "B" executive meeting tomorrow night.

Plans are also being made to sponsor minor "touch" rugby here ranging from peewee up to the junior ORFU calibre, to give local boys groundwork in the gridiron game and assure the city of plenty of future ORFU material. Further details will be released in the near future and, meantime, former football players interested and willing to assist in the movement may contact any of the junior or senior executive members.

Detroit Grabs Playoff Spot; Rookies Star

By NORMAN ALTSTEDTER

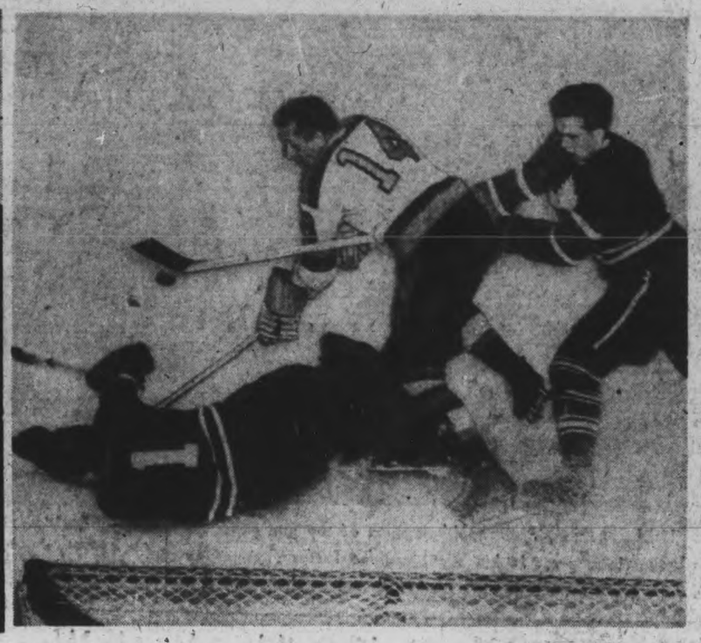
NEW YORK, April 5—(CP)—The rookies stole the show when Detroit Red Wings last night pushed their way into the final round of the National Hockey League's Stanley Cup playoffs by battering the bruised New York Rangers 4-2.

Led by (Red) Kelly, a long-limbed redhead who was playing defence only last year for the junior Toronto St. Michael's hockey team, led the yelping Detroit pack with a goal and two assists.

For the Rangers, Don Raleigh, a 22-year-old Kenora, Ont., first-year man, tallied twice in the last 10 minutes to save New York from a shutout.

The Rangers previously had lost only one playoff game of the 13 they had played in Madison Square Garden, where a capacity crowd of 15,925 turned out to see the home team drop the sixth game of the best-of-seven series. Detroit thus won the semi-final round four games to two.

Another rookie who is a mainstay of Detroit's hopes of defeating Toronto Maple Leafs in the final round is Jim McFadden whose tally off the goal post early in the third period gave the Red Wings a 4-0 lead and fattened his series' scoring honors to a total of four goals and two assists. He was the top goal-getter of the series and equalled teammate Pete Horeck's six points.



On the Bit

The 21-year-old Kelly fed the pass for Detroit's third goal notched late in the first period by Saskatoon's Pat Lundy, recently brought up from Minneapolis Millers of the United States Hockey League.

It was while yet another neophyte was in the penalty box that Rangers' sparkle of the first 10 minutes of play, was squelched. Kelly sank a 50-foot drive which caromed in off the goal post while Jack Lancien was off for holding. Less than a minute later, Gordon Howe, the only scorer with previous playoff experience, slipped the puck past Claude (Chuck) Rayner. Rayner made 28 saves compared to 20 for Harry Lumley in the Detroit cage.

Another Ranger dampener was the loss after the first period of Captain Neil Colville, who was forced to retire when an old groin injury was aggravated. And the Rangers were playing without the services of the sterling defencemen Bill Moe and Frank Eddolls.

AS BOSTON BOWED OUT — Toronto Maple Leafs held off the aroused Boston Bruins to take a close 3-2 decision and win their Stanley Cup semi-final series, four games to one, at Maple Leaf Gardens, Saturday night. Bruins fought hard to keep their playoff hopes alive, but lacked reserve strength. Both goalies, Toronto's Turk Broda and Boston's Frank Brimsek, spent a busy evening and made many fine stops. Some of the goalmouth action is shown here on the left and right. On Left, Toronto coach Hap Day is congratulated by Boston coach Dit Clapper. On the Right is one of the most spectacular saves of the night. Turk Broda dives to the ice to block a flying puck from Woody Dumart, who broke through for what looked like a certain goal. Toronto defenseman Billy Barilko tries to check Dumart from the rear. Both Barilko and Dumart throw up a cloud of snow as they attempt to scrape to a sudden stop.

Leafs Beat Bruins 3-2 To Enter Final Playoffs

By WILLIAM H. DUMSDAY

TORONTO, April 5—(CP)—Maybe the official scorer should give Canada's highly-secret uranium research plant an assist for sending Toronto Maple Leafs into professional hockey's world series. Three brothers from Chalk River seem to bring the Stanley Cup champions a lot of luck. The youngsters—Meeker by name and termed a "fine sample of young Canada" by Leaf boss Conn Smythe—were here Saturday night when brother Howie started the explosive third-period attack which sent the Boston Bruins down to defeat and out of the playoffs.

The Leafs have never lost any time Ken, Chuck and Tom Meeker have been in the stands. They came from their research-town home Saturday night and with 14,460 fans saw their older brother make the play for Ted Kennedy's payoff goalmouth counter. Said 14-year-old Tom: "To the Leafs' enemies we're just like the atomic bomb."

To win the fifth game of the best-of-seven series the Leafs came from behind. They were outplayed much of the way but sheer fight around the Boston goal gave them the right to meet Detroit Red Wings in the cup finals. The Wings qualified Sunday night by beating New York Rangers 4-2 for their fourth win in six games.

Kennedy's marker was his sixth of the series and leaves him only one goal from the all-time Toronto playoff scoring record which he shares with Gordie Drillon and Buzz Boll. He's headed for matrimony this summer and Teddy would like to establish a new high as a wedding gift for his bride.

Just Unlucky

Boston manager Weston Adams thought the Bruins were outlucked but he visited the Toronto dressing room and told rookie Les Costello: "A great series, I hope you go all the way."

Costello, up from Pittsburgh Hornets for his first National League game, scored Toronto's second goal. Max Bentley made the play for him as he did for Vic Lynn in the first Leaf counter.

The Bruins went down fighting after Jimmy Peters sent them in front early in the game on a play with Ken Smith. They went into the last period on even terms when Smtih scored after the Bruins hemmed the Leafs behind their own blue-line for a full minute.

Suffers Injuries

Milt Schmidt, Boston's great captain, rubbed a painful Charley-horse and predicted the extra game would give the Leafs an edge in their cup-defence round. With two goals and five assists, the 30-year-old centre led Boston's drive despite severe leg injuries which forced him to hobble after the first period Saturday night.

Boston's loss continued the jinx which has followed them on Toronto ice since Nov. 2, 1946, date of their last victory here. Their big chance faded in the first series game when they blew a two-goal lead with only eight minutes play remaining.

Ask Embargo Lifted On Beef Export

TORONTO, April 5—Requests for removal of the embargo on export of meat and beef cattle to the United States and action to set up a marketing scheme under the Ontario Farm Products Marketing Act featured at the meeting of the Ontario Beef Cattle Producers' Association.

A motion asking for lifting of the embargo on shipments to the United States to clear markets of surplus supplies was brought in by Harold J. Huffman of Blenheim. Other producers, including W. K. Janes of Watford and John Goit of Caistor Centre, felt the market should be "wide open", rather than merely relaxed enough to take care of surpluses.

The marketing scheme request was pointed at the Ontario government which the association asked to arrange a vote of producers.

President Stewart Brown of Shedden, asking that the American market for beef and cattle be thrown open, said producers were "taking a real beating." Consumption of red and blue brand beef, he said, had dropped about 50 per cent since the beginning of the year and lower class beef was being bought. Better grades, he said, brought the premium from the United States.

Find 3 Children Lost In Woods

THESSALON, Ont., April 5 — (CP)—Three frightened children, lost for 24 hours in dense bush near this Algoma district town 80 miles east of Sault Ste. Marie, were found huddled over a fire Saturday by a search party.

The three—Patricia McColl, 12, Thomas Buchanan, 14, and Donald McColl, 14—were rescued by a group headed by Chief Constable Richard Hoath. The searchers combed the woods for more than 12 hours Friday night.

The children wandered through the woods while on a hike and became lost at dusk. They built a fire to keep warm and stayed in one place during the night in the hope that searchers were looking for them.

Found, cold and hungry, the children told of a night of terror. They said the howls of nearby wolves kept them huddled together around the fire for protection.

Recovery Aid Great Gamble

By The Canadian Press

The European Recovery Program at last is in effect and the world may well hold its breath for a moment as it plunges into the greatest gamble of its history.

It is today and tomorrow the most momentous thing in business, politics and humanity.

For E.R.P. is not only aid to Europe. It is the hope for the direction of things to come. It will decide whether a large part of the world is to get a new start in what the west understands as democracy — and it will decide whether the whole world will be shown that democratic nations can sustain a way of life which may be followed whether in America, Europe or Asia.

It is reality and idealism. It can fail disastrously or succeed magnificently. It can succeed if the present necessity of co-operation and even lavish generosity, becomes also the ideal of the mutual dependence of individuals wherever they are.

It is a perilous thing for North America to pour her wealth into Europe if it is only to keep the wheels turning for a few more months or years; it is a marvelous thing if it is the transfusion needed to sustain life until the genius of Europe can make fact the present dreams of united effort which would be a further step towards world union.

Plante's Assistant Demoted To Constable

MONTREAL, April 5—(CP)—Lieut. Armand Courval, assistant to deputy-director Pacifique Plante, suspended chief of the morality squad, was demoted to the rank of constable at a special meeting of the city executive committee last night.

Courval was suspended by director Albert Langlois three weeks ago for insubordination at the same time as Plante was suspended on the same charge. Courval had protested against Plante's suspension, saying it was "unjustified."

Legion Backs Plan

TORONTO, April 3. (CP) — A Canadian Legion official said yesterday he believes the Ontario government's $30,000,000 plan to promote house-construction will be "invaluable" to veterans. E. S. Step Back 30 Years

LONDON, April 5—(CP).—Women are piercing their ears once more to wear heavy, dangling ear-rings, London jewellers report. "It's not a painful business—a local anaesthetic is used on the lobe," said one jeweller. "Some jewellers do it themselves — others send their customers to a doctor. Very few women have had it done in the last 30 years."

FAIRY TALE CAME TRUE — While Toronto citizens are scouring their districts and roaming far afield for butter, one creamery at 780 Queen St. E., is supplying its customers' demands to the full requirements. Yes, on Saturday, you could actually buy two or more pounds made fresh in the churns at the back of the creamery.

Boy Scouts Fill Six Box Cars In Paper Drive

Two hundred members of the Boy Scout movement in Peterborough took part in a city-wide drive Saturday, collecting an estimated 100 tons of waste paper, filling six box-cars. Officials in charge of the drive said there will be more than $1,000 net profit to the Scouts on the day's effort.

The money raised will be used for further work of the Scouts in the city troops, including camp projects for the coming summer.

The most successful paper drive held to date, the plan worked smoothly. In the morning, members of Wolf Cub packs canvassed the city, reminding people to put out their waste paper for the trucks to follow. Where needed, the boys helped carry the paper from the houses to a picking-up place.

In the afternoon, 30 trucks, donated by local firms, with a crew of six Scouts on each, collected the estimated 200,000 pounds of paper. A group of Senior Scouts at the station handled the paper into the waiting box-cars.

John Lewis was in charge of "operation truck" of the drive. Commissioner Ernest Wolff was in charge of the men and the majors of the zones. Advertising and publicity was handled by Peter Dominik and George Groombridge supervised the Cubs' work. Peter Moore and B. U. Burgess handled zoning arrangements.

Working on his own "mile of pennies" for the past two years, a 12-year-old boy, giving his name as E. Hogg, walked into the Civic Arena headquarters Saturday with a bag containing 350 pennies. It was his contribution toward the secondary rink project. Officials at the uptown office report more contributions come in between five and seven p.m. than any other time. First canvassers' reports are expected tonight or tomorrow.

Dollar A Pound Offered For Butter But Customers Buy It For 70 Cents

A farm woman from the vicinity of Omemee said Saturday she refused one dollar a pound for butter on the market.

"Other people had offered 75c, but I sold all I had to my customers at 70 cents," this farmer's wife said. "That is the way black markets work, and I wouldn't encourage anything like that."

The ceiling prices are: 71c for dairy and 73 cents for creamery butter.

A representative of the Price Control Board was on the market Saturday, and put in several active hours following the trend of selling and generally keeping an eye on things. It transpired that the attempt to boost prices appeared to come entirely from the buyers' side of the counters, and that the farm producers were quite content with the fixed prices. Shortage in the stores sent to the farm produce market characters who are always concerned about butter on their bread, both sides if they can get it, but evidently the morning's supply was being kept for "regular customers."

Maple syrup sold at $5 a gallon, with only a small quantity on hand.

Problems Of Youth In Canada Discussed At Hi-Y Conference

"It would be worth your while to see the UN in action," said Graham Watt, executive secretary North Toronto YMCA, addressing the annual meeting of the Central and Western Ontario Hi-Y Council at the Saturday night banquet held at the YMCA.

Approximately 70 persons, including 40 out-of-town guests, attended the three-day conference to discuss the general topic, "Problems of Youth in Canada Today."

Mr. Watt recently attended a sitting of the UN at Lake Success with Hi-Y members. He said he had been told by General A. L. McNaughton that a UN meeting was not the sensational event which the press afterwards made it.

Mr. Watt said many ill-informed people journeyed to Lake Success thinking "it was one great free for all," with the Russians always the villains.

Earlier in the day delegates split into five groups to discuss what youth thinks about war, labor, religion, family and United Nations.

Rev. Dr. James Semple led the discussion on war. Donald Lister, Peterborough, brought in the report on that group. "If there is another war youth is willing to go."

Considerable questioning accompanied this report, particularly on the subject of communism. "We believe that European governments seeing communism prosper want communism because they are not doing so well," said Mr. Lister.

Asked by one delegate if he thought the Czechs wanted communism, he said that matter had not been considered but he presumed they did not.

Favor Independent Unions

"It was decided that independent unions look after the interests of the workmen better than the larger union," said Douglas Carnahan, Toronto, reporting on labor. The discussion was headed by Reginald Reid, personnel manager Outboard Marine, and Lionel Edmunds, Independent Outboard Marine Workers' Union.

Labor problems such as output, communism, closed shop, collective bargaining, restriction of labor, and politics were on the agenda.

Basis for the belief in the small union was that such an organization knew individual problems better, and was in closest touch with management.

Religion Necessary

"Religion is necessary to youth to give them a moral standard to live up to. Youth wants to have religion to live up to in facing the ordinary problems of life," Ronald McDowell, reported on this discussion which was headed by Victor Coleman, superintendent St. John's Sunday school.

Fraser Johnson, Peterborough, brought in the report on families. Main topic was divorce. Faced with the question as to why the ratio was higher in the United States than Canada, it was decided divorces on the other side of the border were easier to get, Americans had "a faster mode of living" and generally had shorter engagements. It was also pointed out that much of the former responsibility vested in the home has been taken over by the state.

John Twigg, probation officer, Juvenile and Family Court, led the discussion.

"To keep the U.N. going and prevent wars we must educate ourselves first. We can't expect miracles. We must believe in U.N. and have faith in our own country." This was the gist of the report brought in by Ramsey Withers, Scarboro. Dr. Eldon Ray, PCVS, led the discussion. The question of the veto was carefully discussed.

Seated at the head table at Saturday night's banquet were William Whalen, president of CWOC; Miss Isabel White, executive secretary of the North Toronto YWCA; Mayor William Ovens, Miss Jean Campbell, program secretary of the National Council YWCA; Robert Evoy, Hamilton, chairman; Bruce Braund, Peterborough; P. M. McCarrell, chairman of Boys' Work committee, and G. H. Roper, general secretary Peterborough YMCA.

Mayor Ovens said that at the present responsibilites didn't weigh too heavily on the youth. But he advised them to become acquainted with the problems of today. "The torch will soon be tossed to you," he said.

Mr. McCarrell advised that there was more to life than making dollars. The greatest thing was to learn to live. He said two things were necessary for the development of any project—imagination, and the ability to think.

A special church service on Sunday morning was held in George Street United church. Dr. Semple's sermon was "The Contribution of Youth to Leadership."

After a buffet luncheon Bruce Braund, who had previously reported on the recent Hi-Y conference in Montreal, which he and Alan Lee had attended as delegates, forwarded a motion that an annual fee of $3 should be paid by each club to the CWOC to provide an operating budget and a fund to help meet the cost of future conferences.

Kenneth Wass, Toronto, summed up the progress of the conference. After briefly sketching the highlights, he said "though we can have lots of fun we can get down to serious things too." He thanked local citizens for their hospitality, particularly in billeting visitors, and YMCA officials for contributing toward the success of the conference.

When president William Whalen brought the gavel down announcing the adjournment of the three-day meeting, delegates prepared to leave for home satisfied that the Hi-Y work had been furthered. Several of the delegates had come a long way to attend the annual meeting. Donald Hills was a visitor from Rochester, N.Y. and Dennis O'Connor came from Capreol.

Muskrat Catch Small To Date

Muskrat trapping may prove to be a slim affair this season due to frozen swamps at the opening of the season and to the rapid way in which the spring waters disappeared.

Roy Whetung, Crowe's Landing, Stony Lake, with his sons, Roy and Donald, are back from the Prince Edward County marshes where they go every spring. They report that catches were very slim with a total take of about 135 skins. The skins were of good quality and averaged around $2.50.

They are ready to start trapping in the back bay of Stony Lake as soon as the ice starts moving, which may be any day now, according to Roy Sr. Both Clear and Upper Stony show open water leads in the ice, and it will only take a stiff wind to break it up, he said.

Harry Jopling reports that his firm is starting on the fur-buying rounds today. There have been very few pelts coming in from the district, and when the ice leaves the northern lakes, he expects the big run will only last a matter of four days or so. The grades he has received to date have been of good quality.

Maple Syrup Price Varies $1 A Gallon

Market reports from the district show a wide range of the maple syrup crop now appearing—some places rather sparingly—on the market vendors' stands and in the stores. It made its stand at the Peterborough market on Saturday for five dollars a gallon, with supply short.

Lowest price reported was in Tweed, where the sap flowed in small quantity at "less than four dollars." In Napanee, it was an even four. Marmora brought $5. Lindsay sold for $4.50, while Belleville market prices ranged from $4.25 to $5.

FLOOR FOR ARENA

Belleville city council has approved outlay of $10,700 for a permanent floor in its Memorial Arena. It will be laid over the brine pipes of the artificial ice plant. Sand will be removed and 5½ inches of concrete will be laid around the pipes. The plastic top will be suitable for dancing and roller skating.

The club plans also to promote tourneys for the "Y" intermediate and junior boys.

GAS PLANT FOR SALE

Belleville is offering for sale by tender the buildings and plant of its gas works, closed since March 31. The council had previously taken no action on an offer of $14,125 from the Public Utilities Commission for the property. Mayor L. D. Storey was authorized to appoint a committee to interview Mr. W. L. Saunders, Hydro commissioner, in regard to redress from the Hydro whose operations, it was said, contributed to the collapse of the gas business.

JOINT AUDITORIUM

Kitchener is estimating at $3,000,000 cost of a modern type of armouries that is being considered for the military units of that city. It is recognized that housing requirements come first, but it has been suggested that preparatory planning of the project could be finished for the time when the department could consider building. The city is proposing a joint undertaking with the Government in an auditorium detail of the armouries scheme.

Appreciative Audience Attends Presentation Of 'Merrie England'

By ROBERTSON DAVIES

The Canada Packers Operatic Society of Toronto filled the Collegiate Auditorium twice on Saturday for performances of Sir Edward German's "Merrie England." The presentation was under the auspices of the YMCC and Men's Association of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church. As operetta on this scale is rarely seen in Peterborough the occasion was a welcome one and the audiences showed their appreciation most generously; it is good to know that Peterborough people are re-learning the art of applause, which they had almost lost during years of mechanical entertainment.

It was "Merrie England" which established Edward German as the successor to Sir Arthur Sullivan as a composer of operetta. Sullivan died in 1900; German completed an unfinished work of Sullivan's, "The Emerald Isle," in 1901; in 1902 "Merrie England" was produced at the Savoy, the scene of Sullivan's great triumphs. It has been immensely popular ever since, and deservedly so, for although German was not the master in this field that Sullivan was his flow of melody is unfailing and his orchestration varied and charming.

It is in the libretto that "Merrie England" shows its age. The story is nonsense and the lyrics, though sometimes ingenious, lack the brilliance of Gilbert's. Nobody expects the libretto of an operetta to be immortal, of course, and in 45 years "Oklahoma" will be nonsense, too. (Indeed, it is near to being nonsense now.) But the fake Tudor of "Merrie England" is very shaky, and we may wonder how long the admirable music can continue to support it.

Chief honors in this production must go to the chorus, which sang splendidly, and accommodated itself skilfully to a cramped stage. The principals were all satisfactory, except for Jill-All-Alone's cat, which displayed a lassitude inexcusable in a public performer; the director should tell this cat that it must perk up, or it will not get a part in next year's production. As singers Sydney Wrightson as Raleigh, and Doris Newton as Bessie, were particularly good, and Arthur Sclater was an able resourceful comedian. I must mention Maurice Williams, too, for a very pleasing and manly performance as Long Tom. The orchestra, which was a professional organization, compared most unfavorably with the amateurs on the stage.

This presentation provoked two questions: First, would it not be a good thing if this society brought us its production every year? Second, if Canada Packers can do such good work, and give so much pleasure to themselves and a large public, could not some of our local industries follow their example?

Married Man Missing From His Home

Floyd Foster Walker, 29, assistant caretaker at the Armouries, has been missing from his home at Crawford's Grove since he started out for work on Friday morning. According to his cousin, Mitchell Graves, he spent Friday with his father and stepmother at Westwood, and arrived there with an apparently new scooterbike, license number A125, about which his wife knew nothing. It is believed that Walker purchased the bike from a city dealer shortly before his disappearance.

"I didn't think much of it at half past five on Friday, when he didn't come home," said Mrs. Walker, "but later I became worried and his cousin phoned the police."

Mrs. Walker, who is a war bride from Swansea, Wales, has been married for seven years and has two children, June aged four and Stanley, a twelve months old baby. "It's the kiddies I'm worried about," she said tearfully, "for myself it's all right."

On Thursday Walker received a pay cheque for $108.34, which he mentioned to his wife before setting out for work that day. When she asked him about it in the evening, he passed it off as an April Fools' day joke, and the next morning borrowed her last two bus tickets and fifteen cents before leaving apparently for the Armouries.

Walker has been living in Peterborough for about a year. He was born at Rocky Mountain House, Alberta. As well as being caretaker at the Armouries, he is a member of the reserve regiment.

First Course Halves of Grapefruit
Main Course: Beef Brisket Corned, with New Cabbage Wedges Sliced Brown Bread, OR Dumplings steamed on Brisket Stew Chocolate Layer Ice-Box Dessert (see notes) Coffee

Directions: Take note of this Cheese Souffle for it is faster than my regular recipe: In top of double boiler scald 1 cup milk, then add 3 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca, stir it frequently, cook for 15 minutes. Add shake each of cayenne and mustard, and 1 cup grated cheese or almost ½ lb. processed cheese. When cheese is melted remove from heat and add 3 egg yolks which have been beaten light. Beat 3 egg whites until stiff with 1 teaspoon salt, then fold them into the cheese mixture. Turn into greased baking dish, cover with 3 or 4 strips of side or back smoked bacon and bake at 400 deg. Fahr. for 20 minutes. Serve at once.

For the Chocolate Layer Ice-box dessert two ways could be used: Spread thin chocolate cookies with unsweetened whipped cream, pile about 8 spread cookies on top of one another having an unspread cookie on top. Three stacks like these will serve 6. Wrap well in wax paper and chill overnight. Slice to serve. OR use thinly sliced chocolate cake the same.

MAMA'S LITTLE HELPER—Little Jackie Viergutz, of Chicago, Ill., appealing subject of these two pictures, is only 20 months old, but always ready—he's mama's little helper. His mother, Frances, says he also cleans rugs with sweeper and mops. So you think those are paper plates Jackie is carrying? Well, the photographer did not say they were.

THE STARS SAY . . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Tuesday, April 6

There are auguries of temptation to sit back and "rest on the laurels" already to reap, by a disposition to waver, indecision, change plans or associates. This might undermine foundations safely laid on terra firma, and made secure by excellent work, or good organization and execution, in which influential support is assured. A good admonition at this point is "let well enough alone."

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is are advised to hew to lines already laid on firm and enduring foundations, in which solid cooperation is established by diligence, well-organized plans, with influence and assurance in the background. The effort to make major changes in tactics or ideas had best be postponed to let current events shape their own promising course.

A child born on this day may have a tendency to waver "or change in the middle of the stream" to its detriment.

DeCarlo-Cousineau Nuptials See Five Bridal Attendants

A lovely spring-time wedding took place in St. Peter's Cathedral Saturday when Rev. J. G. Kay united in marriage Jeannette Cousineau, daughter of Mr and Mrs. M. Cousineau of Timmins, and Daniel J. DeCarlo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas DeCarlo of Peterborough. Wedding music was played by Mrs. R. Aman and bouquets of roses decorated the altar table.

The bride's gown was of neavy white satin made with full skirt and slight train, fitted bodice with sweetheart neckline trimmed with embroidery and long sleeves, coming to points over her bands. Her full-length veil was of white net and fell from a coronet of tiny daffodils and her bouquet was of red and yellow roses. She was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Mr. Arthur Miles of North Bay.

Attending the bride were Mrs. J. Revoy, sister of the groom, as matron of honor, Miss Florette Cousineau, sister of the bride, and Mrs. B. McKinney, sister of the groom, as bridesmaids. They wore similar gowns and poke bonnets of taffeta, the former in yellow and the latter in ice blue. The dresses were fashioned with off-shoulder neckline on a fitted bodice and full skirt with deep frill at the bottom. Each carried a bouquet of yellow daffodils and red roses. Mary Jean Zakarow of Oshawa was a dainty little flower girl in pink taffeta made in the same style with matching halo headdress and she carried a basket of sweet peas and carnations. Nicholas Revoy was a small page boy, dressed in brown suit with white ribbon bow tie.

Mr. Fred DeCarlo attended his brother as groomsman. Ushers were George Zakarow and Anthony Titus.

For the reception held at high noon in McGillis Hotel the bride's sister, Mrs. Arthur Miles, received, and was attired in flowered silk jersey with black accessories. The groom's mother assisted, wearing a light blue ensemble, and each had a corsage of roses. In the evening about 60 guests were received at the groom's home.

Mr. and Mrs. DeCarlo left Monday on a wedding trip to Timmins. For travelling the bride chose a maroon gabardine suit with hat and topcoat of light blue and other accessories in black. They will live in Peterborough.

Of Interest to Women

Man, 55, Who Never Had Girl Poor Husband Material

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a man 55 years old. Have never had a girl. Never had a sister and have never really known any women except my mother. I live alone, and like it. Have a good job and money in the bank.

My friends are always telling me that I should get married, but why should I take on the responsibility of supporting a woman when I am perfectly happy as I am? I have never had any particular use for women anyway. What is your advice?

A MAN.

Dorothy Dix

ANSWER: I don't think you are good husband material, Mr. Man. I think you would be utterly miserable if you got married, and that you would make your wife wretched because you would not have the faintest idea about how to treat her.

You see, women are strange animals, with queer habits and peculiarities, and you really have to be brought up among them in order to understand and be able to handle them. Otherwise you will be too much afraid of them and they will make a doormat of you. Or you won't be enough afraid of them, and they will get you before you scent any danger in the air. You won't know how to distinguish nerves from temper, or why they cry for joy, or why you have to persuade them into doing the thing that they have made up their minds all along to do.

Helpless Creature

I can't think of any creature in the world so helpless as the man who doesn't know anything about women trying to deal with a wife. What he recalls of his mother won't help him, because mothers are in a class by themselves. No other woman is as humble and adoring and self-sacrificing, as forgiving and as long-suffering toward a man as his mother. Besides, her interests do not clash with his, as do a wife's, so Mother doesn't prepare her son for matrimony.

I think you have waited too long for matrimony and that you are better off as you are. Especially as you are worrying about the support of your wife. If you get married, you will have to open up your pocketbook.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: How can a girl tell if the man she loves will love her until death do them part? From observation I have about come to the conclusion that as soon as a man gets married he falls out of love with his wife and begins flirting with other women.

MARY H.

ANSWER: There is no acid test that you can apply to a man before marriage that will determine the percentage of faithfulness and domesticity in his nature. The best that a girl can do is to try to get a line upon his general habits and outlook on life.

If he is one of the chaps who is always swapping from job to job; if his tastes and opinions are always changing; if he chases after every skirt that comes by, he is pretty sure to make a restless husband who will be bored to death with matrimony. No woman can hold that sort of man long because variety is the spice of life to him. He is bound to have change.

But, on the other hand, there are the settled men who do not like change, and to whom everything takes on an added value just because it belongs to them. So if you want a husband who will be faithful to you until death, pick out a man with stick-to-itiveness qualities, and then do your part in keeping him fascinated.

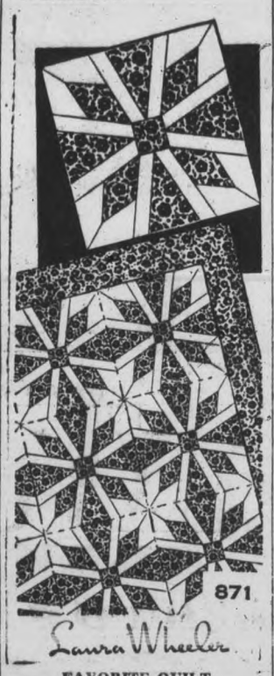
DEAR MISS DIX: I married a girl who has a blot on her past. I love her and we are very happy together. Unfortunately, two persons in the community know about her trouble and this keeps me constantly worried for fear they will twit me with it and thereby cause a fight. What shall I do?

ANXIOUS.

✧ ✧ ✧



ANSWER: Why don't you move away where no one will know your wife's story? This would be much better than to be constantly worried over it. However, in a little while people will forget about it. Scandals don't live now as they used to. There are too many new, exciting things happening in the world today for people to always be threshing over old straw.

'Tri-Y' Suggested Name For National Teen-Agers

Final business meeting of the Teen Conference Saturday afternoon in the YWCA was most efficiently conducted by Miss Mary Elizabeth Rowell, chairman of the Peterborough Conference committee. Outcome of the conference was a suggested name for the national organization, "Tri-Y", symbolized by a large Y with the three prongs representing "ideals, actions and purpose." This name, favored by the majority at Peterborough conference, will be presented for a vote by ballot of teen-agers across Canada in competition with those selected by other conferences held in the Dominion last week. Points governing the selection are: 1, mention Y; 2, lasting appeal; 3, sincerity and worth; 4, symbolic.

Delegates listed the purpose of a national organization of youth under: new friends; fellowship; open membership; chance for responsibility; encourage church membership; Christian basis. Over-all name for their purpose is "ideals in action."

Representatives of each delegation read summaries of what had been achieved at this conference and made a number of recommendations for improvements at future meetings. They felt they had gained a considerably better understanding of their purpose; greater knowledge of National Council and of national and religious groups as a whole, and that they had gained a feeling of "belonging" to a vital organization. They will go back to their own clubs and try to make each member feel the conference spirit. Some favored having an all-day conference as soon as possible to report the new ideas gained and hold discussions.

Suitable methods of launching the new national movement were discussed, some favoring advertising national week for the purpose. Others suggested having a "date" conference in Y's across Canada. Delegates will concentrate on promoting interest in the movement and it is hoped a national name will be chosen shortly. All were in favor of an annual Ontario- Quebec Teen conference to be held at some central point for a longer period, possibly three days. Some discussion ensued regarding the time of year, but the majority favored Easter holidays. A national assembly of teen-agers in two years time is their goal.

Appreciation to the hostesses of Peterborough YWCA groups was expressed by Windsor. Miss Jean Campbell of National Council spoke briefly in conclusion, announcing a convention at Grand Rapids, Michigan, to which a teen-age delegation will be welcomed.

30 Delegates Walk Out On Union Meet

SUDBURY, April 5 —(CP)—A split over union policy on wage campaigns and on the use of what was termed "politically suspect" organizers yesterday led about 30 delegates to walk out of a district eight meeting of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (CIO).

Their action was regarded in some quarters as a move to oust Reid Robinson, eastern vice-president of the union from union work in Canada. An immigration board in Toronto last week reserved decision on whether to deport Robinson as an alien Communist.

R. H. Carlin, district eight board members, and John Clark, local union president, in a statement last night said the group who left the meeting "did a disservice to the entire membership of their union." Some 30 delegates remained at the conference.

One claim of the rebel group was that the union leadership did not relay to the members a recent Canadian Congress of Labor offer to provide organizational and negotiating assistance to the miners in their fight for increased pay.

Invite C.C.L.

The first act of a provisional committee set up by the dissatisfied unionists was to invite the C.C.L. to help in a district drive for higher pay. The committee named John Sheddon, president of the union local at Port Colborne, Ont., chairman.

Sheddon said delegates who walked out represented a majority of Mine and Mill locals in the district. He added:

"It is obvious from today's conference that our present district and international leadership is determined to keep foisting unwanted and ineffective organizers who are political suspects on the Canadian membership."

Veterans' Pensions Expected To Be Big Issue Of Session

OTTAWA, April 5—(CP).—A drive to have the Government lift the ban on the importation, manufacture and sale of oleomargarine is expected to be made soon in the Commons. James Sinclair (L—Vancouver North) has told friends here he plans to press for action on his bill that would lift the ban on the butter substitute. He believes the current butter shortage will attract additional support for the measure.

It is not known when members will be given a chance to discuss the bill. There is so much government legislation to be considered that some members feel bills sponsored by private members will not get a hearing.

Mr. Sinclair has indicated he will protest any move aimed at having his bill shelved. Similar measures introduced in the Senate by Senator William Euler (L-Ontario) have been shelved for two years in succession. Final action on the bill introduced this year by Senator Euler has not yet been taken.

Not Popular

The government has indicated that it is not particularly anxious to discuss the margarine bill. Naturally such a measure is supported by persons living in cities where butter shortages are particularly felt. However, the farming population of the country is opposed to anything that would harm the dairy industry.

Most members of the Commons believe there are sufficient representatives of farming communities to defeat Mr. Sinclair's bill should question of its passage be put.

Veterans

Already the pivot of a lot of parliamentary battling, the Bill to increase war disability and widows' pensions by 16 to 20 per cent may be in for considerably more of a siege in the Commons Committee on Veterans Affairs.

Pre-Easter efforts to split the legislation in two so the increases could go through immediately were rejected by the Cabinet. The result was that the raises, already retroactive six months, will still be under fire when the committee resumes its sittings this week.

At the same time there are other contentious issues, such as one on pre-enlistment conditions that could keep the Bill tied up in committee wrangling for days. The committee already has two motions befort it on the increases themselves—one that they be 25 per cent, one for 33 1-3 per cent—that will probably be considered early.

The other matters will come later. All in all, veterans pensions promise to shape up as one of the big issues of the whole present session.

Labor Promises To Supervise All Monopolies

By JAMES McCOOK

LONDON, April 5.—(CP). — The Labor government has kept its election promise and introduced a bill to supervise monopolies but Conservatives chortled thta the Administraton was slow in the draw.

While pre-war labor meetings denounced the Conservatives as protectors of monopoly systems, the Opposition party stole the march at a national convention last year.

That convention approved an "industrial charter" statement of Conservative policy which included the following:

"Conservatives hate monopolies. They believe in free enterprise which is the opposite. They believes that it is the way to keep fair prices and good quality, therefore they will be stern in dealing with monopoliies.

Monopoly Check

"They will set up a commission to go into all cases of monopoly and make a report. If after this, serious offenders do not change their ways, Parliament will be asked to take action—such as by the fixing of prices.

Now comes the Labor monopoly bill which will establish a monopoly commission to investigate and report on matters referred to it by the Board of Trade and will be used to check monopolies and restrictive practices in industry and trade.

Thus far the Opposition and Labor Members of Parliament will be in agreement. But differences are likely to arise over the provision that the bill will not cover agreements or practices concerning employees or their remuneration, working hours and conditions of employment.

Accidents Cause 4 Out Of 10 Holiday Deaths

By The Canadian Press

Four deaths in separate automobile accidents topped the list of 10 week-end fatalities reported in eastern Canada, a Canadian Press survey today showed. Two persons died of burns.

A fall from a bridge, a railway yard mishap and an explosion in a toy cap factory each took one life and the body of a missing Ontario man was found in a river.

Killed in automobile accidents were Norman Treacher, seven, knocked down by a car in Toronto while on his way to a circus; Frederick Bolduc, killed near Chicoutimi, Que., when a car overturned and injured his wife and Mrs. Ludger Tremblay; Gordon Bennett, 77, of Rodney, Ont., injured March 27; and Jack H. Preston, 38, of Simcoe, Ont., struck as he helped change a tire. Preston's sister-in-law, Mrs. Erma Marshall of Simcoe and Leonard Gamble, 34, of Windham Centre, Ont., were injured.

Joseph Wielgos, 32, who refused to let his employees handle dangerous jobs in his toy factory at Waubashene, Ont., was killed by an explosion while working with sheets of toy caps.

Dies in Fire

Ronald Beaulieu, six months, was fatally burned in a fire which swept his parents' home near Edmundston, N.B. Three others members of the family, Ella, five, Maurice, four, and Lucille, two, were overcome and suffered minor burns.

Thomas Beaton, 42, was burned to death in a fire which destroyed his Springhill, N.S., home. Eleven other persons escaped.

Frank LaFortune, 36, was killed at North Bay, when he fell under the wheels of a Canadian National Railway freight train. Witnesses said he lost his grip on a hand rail.

Injuries suffered in a fall from a west-end park bridge in Toronto proved fatal for Sorcinelli Guerrino, 72.

The body of Gordon Philp, 59-year-old cattle buyer from Beamsville, Ont., was found in the Grand River at Cayuga, Ont. Philp had been missing since March 30.

DANGER TO PEACE—Russian isolation of the British, American and French sectors of Berlin by cutting off rail communications with the western zones and establishing road blocks along boundary lines within the capital itself presents a "potential danger" to international peace, Maj.-Gen. J. H. Gascoigne, deputy commander of the British military mission at Washington, said in Montreal recently. Discussing the "strained situation" created by recent Soviet activities in Europe, Gen. Gascoigne discounted the possibility of any immediate change for the worse in the international situation "because I do not believe that the Russians want war." Maj.-Gen. J. H. Gascoigne is pictured above with Mrs. Gascoigne. Over the weekend, Russia offered to talk over restrictions with both Britain and United States.

COASTER BRAKES

START and STOP

Instantly and Smoothly

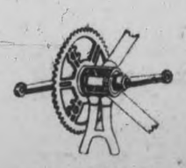
IF YOU WILL STUDY the above full-sized illustration of a cut-away C.C.M. Coaster brake you can see why it stops and starts the C.C.M. bicycle so quickly and smoothly.

The many parts of this brake are accurately machined, heat-treated and assembled to give long and trouble-free service.

This wonderful brake enables you to ride your C.C.M. bicycle at whatever speed you like—up and down hills and on the level — with perfect control.

When you pedal forward the smooth-acting clutch takes hold instantly — no slipping — no grabbing — just smooth, sure forward power.

Slight back pressure instantly and smoothly reduces your speed and brings you to a quick smooth stop according to the pressure you exert.



The main crank hanger unit and the front hub of a C.C.M. are built with equal precision.

Then, too, the C.C.M. Bicycle has chrome plating over C.C.M. 20-year nickel on all the bright parts with baked-on lustrous enamel on the frame assembly.

These features of the C.C.M. bicycle, backed by over 3000 loyal C.C.M. dealers from coast to coast to give you service, make the C.C.M. the best buy of all — it's the most bicycle for your money.

See the C.C.M. dealer near you.

REGISTERED C.C.M. TRADE MARK MADE IN CANADA WESTON ONTARIO

C.C.M. HANGER

The parts of this most important section of a C.C.M. bicycle are machined, hardened and finished with extreme care so that you may get the most out of your pedalling action.

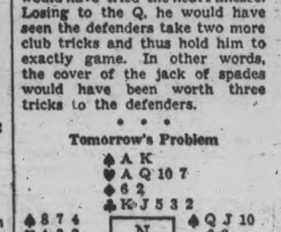
BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

COVER PROMOTES TEN

THERE is nothing particularly complex about the operating principle of the old maxim, "cover an honor with an honor." It should be observed usually when it promises to promote into trick-taking rank some card held by yourself or your partner. It should be violated when it merely helps the declarer in that way. So, if a jack is led and you see the ace-queen of the suit in the dummy, you should usually cover with your king to force the ace. The queen of course is the second round trick, but the ten in your own hand or partner's becomes the third-rounder. If, however, you see that ten in dummy, you should usually not cover and thus eliminate a guess for the declarer.

(Dealer: South. North - South vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♥	2 ♦	2 ♠	3 ♣
Pass	Pass	Dbl	Pass
3 NT



Funny bidding, that, featured by South's pass of the 3-Clubs to see if North wanted to double and then by South's preference for a No Trump game vulnerable instead of setting East-West not vulnerable.

West led the club 8. East won with the K and returned his fourth-best 2, the 10 winning because the dummy's honors had been split on the first trick. South then led the spade J. West, for reasons of his own, or perhaps no reason, played low. Then the spade Q was finessed, the A killed both the K and the 10 and two more plays produced five tricks in the suit. With two diamond tricks and two top hearts now in sight, the heart finesse was not risked. So the A and K dropped the Q, making the rest of the suit good and enabling South to score a total of twelve tricks.

Notice what the result would have been if West had covered the spade J as he should. It would have forced the A. That would have established the 10 as the third-round trick. South then would have tried the heart finesse. Losing to the Q, he would have seen the defenders take two more club tricks and thus hold him to exactly game. In other words, the cover of the jack of spades would have been worth three tricks to the defenders.

Tomorrow's Problem

(Dealer: North. Both sides vulnerable.)

After East passes North's 1-Club bid, what should South do with a shrewd partner, what with a stolid one, in a pair duplicate?

6—In Memoriam

HAWKINS—In dear memory of Sgt. Alfred Hawkins, killed in action in Germany, April 4, 1945.

He is gone, but not forgotten,
And, as dawns another year,
In our lonely hours of thinking,
Thoughts of him are always near.
Days of sadness will come o'er us,
Friends may think the wound is healed.
But they little know the sorrow
That lies within the heart concealed.
—Ever remembered by mother, dad and family.

LESURF—In memory of Mrs. Bill LeSurf, who died March 30, 1944.
—Lovingly remembered by son Reg. and family.

NORTHEY—In loving memory of Mrs. Aldus Northey, Lakefield, who passed away April 8, 1947.

The rolling stream of life rolls on
But still the vacant chair
Recalls the love, the voice, the smile
Of the one who once sat there.
—Always remembered by sons, daughter-in-laws and grandchildren.

SARGEANT—In loving memory of FO. M. F. Sargeant, killed 3 years ago.

Just when his days seemed brightest
Just when his hopes seemed best
God called him from amongst us
To His eternal rest.
Sadly missed, but God's knows best.
—Sadly missed by mother, father, brother Carroll and sister Frances.

Somewhere in France in a airman's grave,
Lies my dear grandson among the brave.
He never shunned his country's call
But gladly gave his life his all
He died the helpless to defend
A faithful airman's noble end.
—Grandma Douglas and family.

Nova Scotian Liquor Laws May Be Changed

By The Canadian Press

Possibility of a change in Nova Scotian liquor laws to permit sale of beer and wine by the glass or bottle in hotels and taverns was indicated yesterday in the legislature at Halifax.

The government put before the House an outline of a liquor act amendment which would provide for plebiscites on open sale of beer and wine.

Premier Angus L. Macdonald brought down a budget predicting a surplus of $1,354,930. This compared with an actual surplus last year of $9,507,215. The premier also criticized the recent granting of a 21 per cent increase in railway freight rates.

Manitoba Provincial Secretary Charles Greenlay, introducing second reading of a new Civil Service Act, told the Legislature at Winnipeg that no civil servant should be subject to arbitrary disciplinary or dismissal actions because of his politics, religion or race.

The Nova Scotian criticism of the freight rate increase found echo in other provincial legislative circles. Premier Byron Johnson of British Columbia notified Alberta Premier E. C. Manning that British Columbia was prepared to unite with neighboring Alberta to present a solid front in an attack on the increase.

G. W. Perry (PC-Carlton), said in New Brunswick budget debate that the freight rate boost had placed Canadian agriculture in a "difficult plight."

Isacson Fails To Get Passport

NEW YORK, April 5—(AP)—Representative Leo Isacson of New York termed "frightening" today the State Department's refusal to grant him passport to attend an international conference at Paris.

"It is frightening to think that our administration refuses access to facts," the American Labor Party Congress man said. Isacson recently was elected to the United States Congress with the support of Henry A. Wallace, third party presidential aspirant.

Isacson, who appiled for the passport March 25, informed the State Department that he planned to attend a conference on aid to Greece. The application was denied as "not in the interests" of the United States Government, a Department spokesman disclosed last night.

"I sincerely hope that this action of the State Department," Isacson said, "was not in the nature of a personal reprisal against me because of my outspoken criticism of the State Department's shameful and unconscionable betrayal of the Jewish homeland in Palestine."

MONTREAL, April 5—(CP)—Two witnesses were being questioned by provincial police today in connection with the death last October of Mrs. Eva Rivest, 33, of Joliette, 40 miles north of here and whose body was exhumed Thursday. Dr. Rosario Fontaine, medico-legal expert, found a lethal quantity of strychnine in the remains.

British Shoppers Say 'No' Prices Start Coming Down

By GLENN WILLIAMS.

LONDON, April 5— (AP). — British shoppers have begun to say "No"—and prices are coming down.

A year ago, practically anything would sell. Price was no object. Now the housewife is demanding quality goods at a decent price. Sloppily-made goods and fripperies won't move off the shelves even with the lure of sharp price cuts.

The alert Manchester Guardian notes that "the government's attempt to bring prices down has come at the right moment and has a fair chance of success."

Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer and chief of Britain's economy, has asked for cuts in prices and company dividends, and called on labor to stop asking for pay increases in an effort to keep things on an even keel.

Black Market Hit

The price trend has even affected the black market. For instance, off-ration eggs, when available, cost 10 shillings ($2) a dozen a year or so ago. Now the price ranges from 4s 6d to 8s a dozen. Legal price of rationed eggs is 60 cents a dozen.

Women are picking and choosing. Many no longer grab up the high-priced imported rayon hosiery, but wait for British "utility" stockings at ceiling prices.

Expensive coats and dresses are not moving. Unbranded goods or products of little known companies, are hard to sell.

Plastic novelties and many other fripperies which used sell like hotcakes are a drug on the market.

Even high powered advertising isn't helping much to lure the reluctant buyer.

Should a young wife be practical about money matters?

"OF course I'm practical about money matters . . . I have to be! I may not understand high finance, but I am the one who must budget the home expenditures . . . It's my job to stretch the dollars to feed and clothe a growing family.

Bevin Presses For Probe Of Berlin Crash; No Warning For Transport

Russians Extend Apology For Crackup Promise British Commander Allied Planes Unhindered Over Berlin

LONDON, April 6—(CP).—Foreign Secretary Bevin said today he is pressing for an investigation as soon as possible into the Berlin crash of a Russian fighter and a British transport plane which cost 15 lives. He told the House of Commons that he has "no information that the conduct of the Soviet aircraft was in any way the result of direct instructions from the Soviet authorities."

Near the outset of a formal review of the air disaster, he said Soviet authorities should have furnished a warning that their fighter was in the air.

Bevin said no such warning was given.

He added that Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, British military commander in Germany, had asked Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky, Soviet commander - in - chief in Berlin, for assurance that he condemns the fact that the Russian aircraft was being fown "in a manner to cause the catastrophe."

(A Soviet statement in Berlin today publicly and officially expressed regret over the "unfortunate" crash which claimed 15 lives. The Soviet commander also promised British authorities in Berlin that allied planes in the future would have unhindered access to the city.)

Plan Inquiry

"General Robertson also reserved all rights of the British government," Bevin said. "In an interview with Marshal Sokolovsky, General Robertson made it plain that he had no wish to pre-judge the cause of the catastrophe until a proper inquiry had been held. The form and scope of this inquiry are at present under consideration."

In view of the assurances given by Sokolovsky, Robertson had countermanded earlier instructions that British civil aircraft should receive fighter protection.

Referring to the Soviet action tightening control of travel between the British zone and the British sector of Berlin, Bevin said: "The whole question of travel is—under discussions with the Soviet authorities. We would welcome an agreement.

"We cannot yield our right to free access to and from the zone of occupation. It is essential for the maintenance of our force and to fulfil our obligations as an occupying power. I do not want to aggravate an already difficult situation. If there is good-will it is capable of solution."

The official Russian account of yesterday's crash incident said the Russian fighter plane hit the Brit-

Finland Signs Draft Of Pact With Russians

HELSINKI, April 6—(CP). — The Finnish treaty delegation in Moscow has signed the draft of a military assistance and friendship pact with Russia, it was learned here today.

Under the treaty, Finland will retain her political independence and Russia will obtain no new bases in Finnish soil, informed political sources said.

The Foreign Office announced that negotiators of Finland and Russia had agreed on the contents of the Russian-proposed pact of friendship and mutual assistance. The actual text apparently is still in preparation.

The treaty inevitably will draw Finland closer to the Soviet Union's eastern bloc but will leave her independent politically, informed quarters said.

Must Be Ratified

Even after the pact is initialled in Moscow by Premier Mauno Pekkala, the ratification of Finland's parliament will be necessary to make it effective. The majority of parliament so far has stood fast against entering any military commitments with Russia.

President Juho Paasikivi met with the Finnish Cabinet, apparently to consider the Moscow results before they are put into final treaty form.

Dispatches from Moscow said the Finnish delegation conferred in the Kremlin for an hour last night with Foreign Minister Molotov and other Russian diplomats. The talks had been suspended several days while two Finnish delegation members came back to Helsinki for new instructions.

Food Convoy Runs Blockade

JERUSALEM, April 6 (AP).—Thousands of cheering Jews welcomed to-day the first big food convoy to get through to Jerusalem in 10 days.

Fifty trucks made the dangerous run through Arab road blocks to get food to Jerusalem's 100,000 Jews, whose rations are running dangerously low.

Although several single trucks have slipped into Jerusalem, this is the first full-scale convoy to get through since the Arabs changed their sniping tactics to large scale attacks.

Four days ago Jewish fighters seized the fortress village of Kastel in their campaign to open the way for food convoys. Five miles north-west of Jerusalem, Kastel controls traffic on the Jerusalem-Tel Aviv highway.

Soft Coal Operators Offer To Meet Lewis

WASHINGTON, April 6.—(AP). —Obeying a court order, United States soft coal operators to-day to meet with John L. Lewis on the mine pension dispute.

The operators proposed a conference at 4 p.m. EST, just three hours after the offer was made. There was no immediate indication whether Lewis would accept or reject.

A court order issued Saturday by Federal Judge Matthew McGuire under the Taft-Hartley Act required the operators to act.

Plane Lands Safely Has Engine Trouble

NEW YORK, April 6—(AP).—An airplane reported afire over Bridgeport, Conn., landed safely at MacArthur Field on Long Island, coastguard headquarters reported.

The plane, a seaboard and Western Airline DC4, had blown a cylinder head over Bridgeport, the coastguard said. No one was injured.

Call Italian Strike

ROME, April 6 — (AP).— The Communist-dominated Italian General Confederation of Labor called a country-wide general strike today for April 12—six days before the Italian national elections.

Farmers Face Disaster Across Alberta

CALGARY, April 6—(CP)—Winter's lingering grip on Alberta today appears to be shaping into a major disaster as farmers faced the threat of heavy livestock losses, floods and a late seeding season.

A serious shortage of livestock feed in rural areas, which government officials at Edmonton described as "alarming," is causing the greatest immediate concern. But municipal officials in Central Alberta said flood damage caused by melting of the heavy layer of snow now on the ground might cause the heaviest losses.

A telegraphic survey conducted among Alberta wheat pool agents in various sections of Southern and Central Alberta showed eight out of 15 districts reporting the feed stiuation as "critical," five reported that heavy livestock losses had occurred already with catlte dying for lack of feed. An unconfirmed report from Fabyan, Alta., 145 miles southeast of Edmonton, said a farmer there had shot 19 head of cattle to prevent them from starving to death.

With the depth of snow ranging from 44 inches at Wagner, Alta., about 170 miles northwest of Edmonton, to 4½ inches at Calgary, scores of farmers reported their cattle dying because they couldn't reach feed stacks. Northern Alberta, which experienced a record 17-inch snowfall during the weekend, and Central Alberta, are the hardest hit.

Some farmers predicted that seeding would be held up for more than a month beyond the normal seeding time. They said that the late spring, combined with an early fall might ruin their crops.

Village In 4 Townships Finally Finds Home

TORONTO, April 6.—(CP). — The Ontario Legislature committee on Private Bills took action today to clear the confusion from the Western Ontario village of Belmont. The tiny municipality at present is situated in four townships and two counties.

Over opposition from the warden of one of the counties, Middlesex, the committee approved a bill which will place Belmont in only one township—South Dorchester in Elgin county—starting Jan. 1, 1949.

H. S. Charlton, clerk of South Dorchester, stated that the propery owners of the village had voted by a large majority to go into his township. He mentioned that South Dorchester has the lowest assessment of the four townships.

The Ottawa Ladies' College becomes an undenominational institution under a bill passed by the committee. The bill came before the committee two weeks ago but representtaives of the United church asked that it be laid over.

Bill Designed To Reduce Milk Prices

Collective Bargaining To Decide Cost; Checkmate Price War

TORONTO, April 6 (CP)—Designed as a move to reduce milk prices to the Ontario consumer, the government is taking steps to give up its power to fix retail price of milk.

This action is contained in milk control act amendments introduced in the legislature yesterday by Agriculture Minister Kennedy.

'Prices between the producer and distributor must still be set by collective bargaining or arbitration, Col. Kennedy explained. Thus, this bill leave the consumer price to fix itself on a competitive basis. The minister expressed the opinion that in this way the price would be lowered.

The bill adds a provision to safeguard against a price war. This prevents the retailer from selling at less than cost. He may, however, give a premium to promote sales if he so wishes.

One of the milk bill provisions gives the government authority to regulate and control delivery routes of distributors, including the number of deliveries each week and the days upon which they are to be made.

This provision, contained in the original draft of the act, was withdrawn last October in the face of opposition from distributors.

For Emergency Use

Col. Kennedy emphasized that the clause is inserted in the milk control act to be used only when emergency arises necessitating staggered delivery and distribution.

Farmers are entitled to form a co-operative for delivering milk to market under another clause of the bill. It provides that they can do this without a commercial vehicle licence.

Marketing agencies can be established under the bill and are given wide powers for negotiating minimum prices.

Objects of the marketing agencies are:

1. To stimulate, increase and improve production and marketing of milk.
2. To act as collective bargaining agency for producers.
3. To act as marketing agency for the producers.
4. To appoint inspectors who may enter dairies to test milk and assure that farmers are receiving credit for the grades of milk they produce.
5. To receive licence fees and expend them for necessary purposes.

Collective bargaining agreements now in effect will continue until date of expiry. In cases where there are no agreements, any signed may come into effect immediately this bill becomes law.

Must Pay Fees

If it is shown that a producers' association represents at least 75 per cent of the producers in a particular area, then the government may require that every dairy farmer pay the association licence fees.

When a new producer comes into an area he is bound to supply milk only under conditions set up for producers already there. Similarly, new distributors must

Housing Plans To Be Resumed Howe Reports

OTTAWA, April 6.—(CP). — Reconstruction Minister Howe said yesterday the Federal housing program will be resumed in Ontario.

He said in a statement that the Ontario government's decision not to invoke the Dominion Crown Tenants Provincial-Municipal Services Act is "most welcome."

The Act, enabling the Ontario government to cut off utilities, schooling and welfare services from Wartime Housing areas, was passed recently by the Legislature. But Premier Drew of Ontario said last week it will not be put in force.

When the legislation was given second reading, Mr. Rowe said it "forced" withdrawal of Federal housing assistance in Ontario. Services could have been cut off "where the arrangements for the payment of provincial and municipal services are not considered suitable by the municipality concerned."

"Now that the bill has been withdrawn," Mr. Howe's statement said yesterday, "Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation is willing to resume negotiations with municipalites for new rental projects.

The statement said Ontario's $30,000,000 plan to encourage housing "should prove helpful."

'Some of its proposals are complementary to the National Housing Act and others to direct construction of rental housing by the Dominion government. The Dominion government wishes to work with the province to the end that the shortage of low-cost housing, both for ownership and for rent, may be relieved with the least possible delay."

Police Force Back To Work

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, April 6.—(AP). — Alexandria's striking police force announced suddenly this noon its intention to return to work immediately. The police struck yesterday, touching off a day of wild rioting and arson which cost 20 lives.

A statement from representatives of the 3,000-man force said they would go back to work because of a feeling of duty and in view of the situation here.

The strike, called to enforce wage increase demands, collapsed only a few minutes before expiration of a Government go-back-to-the-job deadline.

Random firing today claimed two lives. The two deaths brought the official toll to 15 civilians and seven policemen.

The policemen defied the Government order earlier today, and when some 30 reported for work many were hauled from traffic posts by strikers. Looters were out early, prowling the streets behind the backs of soldiers patrolling to prevent a recurrence of yesterday's rioting.

Yesterday's damage was estimated at millions of dollars.

TCA Prepared To Handle All Immigrants Howe Says

OTTAWA, April 6—(CP).—Trans-Canada Air Lines is willing and able to carry all the passengers required in Ontario's immigration plan, Trade Minister Howe declared today in a statement. Resuming his feud with Premier Drew over the plan, Mr. Howe accused the Ontario Government head of "extravagant and intemperate" statements and denied that the provincial immigration program had been "scuttled" by TCA's decision to take over the transportation job from Transocean Airlines.

The Federal Minister also took issue with Mr. Drew's charge that the building of North Star transport planes by Canadair, Ltd., in Canada was a "colossal blunder" by the Dominion Government.

Mr. Howe said Canadair, now privately owned, is a "vigorous and strongly-financed Canadian industry, with excellent prospects for continuing employment."

Have No Quarrel

In his 2,300 - word statement, Mr. Howe said that, under T. C. A.'s contract with the Ontario government, the company was not obligated to sub-let its contract to the United States-owned Transocean. However it was doing this until April 15, the expiry date of the contract.

"It is clearly implied," he said, "that as soon as trans-Canada is in a position to meet all the requirements of the Ontario government, no work will be subcontracted to Trans-ocean. Therefore, the Ontario government can have no quarrel with T. C. A.'s decision to take on all the transportation job involved."

2 Squadrons Of Planes Probe Arctic Secrets

OTTAWA, April 6 — (CP). — Vast unmapped wastes of the Arctic will be targets for R.C.A.F. photographic lenses this summer in the most extensive frontier-cracking expedition the air force has undertaken in 27 years.

Altogether, plans call for the filming of some 550,000 square miles of Canadian territory for defence and commercial purposes, using two squadrons of planes, including four new long-range Lancasters and 250 men.

Operations are to begin within the next two weeks.

As winter's weather retreats northward, the planes will follow Temporary bases will be organized at Fort Chimo and Bagotville, Que.; The Pas and Churchill, Man.; Frobisher on Baffin Island; Yellowknife and Norman Wells, N.W.T.; Whitehorse, Yukon Territories, as well as at Ottawa, Calgary, Edmonton and Vancouver.

A-Control Board Relaxes Rules

OTTAWA, April 6. — (CP).—The Atomic Energy Control Board has relaxed its regulations over the flow of information about radio-active minerals, including uranium and thorium.

The Board announced last night that is is allowing prospectors and others concerned to be informed of and to communicate to other persons the results of analysis of ore samples and to have hand samples for the usual prospecting and mining purposes.

This is done to facilitate the new government policy of allowing private prospecting and mining of these minerals.

It also allows prospectors and other receiving analysis or assay reports to give "any person" information about the location and probable extent of deposits containing uranium of thorium, subjecth to the provisions of any specific board order.

None of these changes, however, apply to uranium containing any of the isotope U233 or any greater portion of the isotope U235 than is normally present in nature.

Broader Duties

TORONTO, April 6 — (CP). — Missionaries in the Canadian west and northwest must be prepared not only to win Eskimo and Indian converts but also to minister to the white population in sparsely-settled areas, Most Rev. Rosario Brodeur, Roman Catholic Bishop of Alexandria, Ont., said in an address yesterday.

Barbara Ann Now Ready To Hear Hollywood Offers

TORONTO, April 6 —(CP)—Barbara Ann Scott, world and Olympic figure skating champion, said today she is ready to listen to what Hollywood has to offer. But this did not necessarily mean she was throwing her hat in the professional ring.

Passing through Toronto on her way to a skating carnival at South Porcupine, Ont., Miss Scott said she would listen to any offers "to see if there are any that sound interesting."

"What I mean is that I am putting myself in the position of considering professional offers," she explained. "Up to now, to guard my amateurism, I haven't even been able to discuss it with anybody."

Like To See Offers

"I don't know whether I am doing the right thing or not," she said, "but I thought it might be worth while to hear what people have to say."

"Do you think you will lose your amateur standing?" she was asked.

"I suppose I will."

As for Hollywood, she said: "I still haven't made up my mind definitely but I think it would be nice to see, in black and white, what offers, if any, will result."

Higher Tax Placed On Tobacco

Can't Afford To Waste Moment On Recovery Cripps Warns Britain

LONDON, April 6 (Reuters). — Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer, tonight warned Britain that she could not afford to waste a moment in her efforts at recovery. Higher taxes have been placed on tobacco, whiskey, wine and beer.

The duty on leaf tobacco is increased by another three shillings four pence in the pound. This means an increase of three cents in the price of cigarets now costing three shilllings four pence (67 cents) and of two cents in those costing two shillings six pence.

Beer of all strengths wil be taxed another penny a pint. The duty on a bottle of whisky is increased by two shillings four pence.

All spirits, except perfumed spirits, will be taxed at £1 ($4) a gallon more.

Wines Taxed

Foreign wines will be taxed an additional shilling a bottle and light wines an additional six pence a bottle. The duty on Empire wines remains unchanged.

Sir Stafford announced doubling of the tax on football and other sports pools, raising it from 10 to 20 per cent.

However, he announced that a tax will be placed on investment income. It will be levied at the rate of two shillings on the pound for income from £250 to £500, rising to a baximum of 10 shillings on amounts of £5,000.

In his budget speech to a packed House of Commons, he declared:

"The great act of the United States in bringing into operation the European recovery program gives us and the western European countries that time, but time is the scarcest commodity of all today and we cannot afford to waste a moment of it."

Helping At Fire Man Drops Dead

PICTON, April 6.—Acting as a volunteer fireman and carrying household contents from his son's burning home yesterday, Thomas Keene, 76, of Ameliasburg Township, dropped dead as he reached the porch with an armful of bedding. The aged man had been living at his son Frank's home, four miles from Ameliasburg Village. He had previously suffered a heart attack, and in the excitement caused by the fire it is believed he over-exerted himself.

Mr. Keene is survived by three sons and four daughters, Frank and David of Ameliasburg and Harold of Simcoe; Mrs. Roy White, Mrs. Jack Hillier and Dorothy, Belleville, and Mrs. Harvey Steenburgh, RR 1, Cherry Valley.

Board Of Education Contract Stalled

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., April 6—(CP).—A writ against the Board of Education, to prevent it from entering into a contract with another firm, has been issued by A. B. Robertson, president of the Robertson Construction and Engineering Company, Limited.

Mr. Robertson seeks an injunction to stop the board from accepting a contract with the Pigott Construction Company of Toronto and Hamilton for approximately $530,000. Building of a gymnasium, auditorium and heating plant at the Niagara Falls Collegiate Institute is involved.

Robertson holds there is no reasonable expectation that the board will be able to complete the contract within the $530,000 limited authorized by the City Council and the Ontario Municipal Board. He said he should be granted the contract because his was the only firm bid submitted and the only tender that complied with the form request by the board.

Seven Provinces Fight Freight Increases

Will Meet April 24 To Discuss Joint Brief Against New Rates

HALIFAX, April 6.—(CP). — Premier Angus L. Macdonald announced here today that premiers of seven provinces protesting the Board of Transport Commissioners' decision to increase freight rates 21 per cent will meet in Ottawa April 24 to discuss a joint brief to be presented to the Federal Cabinet shortly thereafter.

Mr. Macdonald said the lawyers, representing the interested provinces, would meet at an earlier date to consider the legal principles of the decision and to prepare the necessary applications for the appeal "which will be asserted by the seven provinces."

He indicated that a telephone network conference from Victoria to Halifax had been the preliminary to the Ottawa meeting decision. Mr. Macdonald explained that under the Railway Act there was possibility of an appeal to the Supreme Court from the Board's decision but only on technical questions of law and not on questions of fact.

At the Ottawa conference the premiers will discuss the whole problem of railway transportation from its political, social and economic aspects.

Neglect Other Aspects

"The members of the Board of Transport Commissioners considered that they were bound to render a decision within the limited jurisdiction conferred on them within the four corners of the Railway Act, and refused to consider any other aspects of the problem," Mr. Macdonald continued.

"The Governor - in - Council (Federal Cabinet), however, is the only tribunal to which an appeal can be asserted on issues of fact or of policy.

"The jurisdiction of the Governor-in-Council on appeal is unlimited and when an appeal to the Tribunal is made, as it will be, by all the seven provinces, all aspects of the railway problem will be laid before the Cabinet for consideration. These are aspects, apart from legal questions, which will be considered by the premiers at their conference."

Magistrate Gives Vagrant Vet $1 And His Freedom

LINDSAY, April 6—(ENS)—Held in custody since March 25 on a vagrancy charge, Vincent Howard Lunt of Dunnville, was given a dollar by Magistrate E. A. Gee and sent on his way Monday.

Minus identification of any kind, the accused was picked up by OPP Corporal R. Taylor near Omemee when residents of the village had claimed that two men had been begging meals. Last week in police court he was convicted and remanded for sentence. The accused was held while local Provincials checked his record and fingerprints with RCMP.

Lunt, a 10 per cent Army pensioner, who was a casualty in Europe, was released when a favorable reply was received from RCMP recently. Penniless, except for five cents, Lunt was handed a dollar by the Magistrate before hiking for Hamilton and his pension cheque.

Harold Worton Named Inspector

Dr. Harold Worton, V.S., was appointed a sanitary inspector of the health department at a salary of $3,600 a year, plus $500 transportation allowance, by the city council Moday night. His appointment is effective April 15.

Dr. Worton has been employed by the Board of Health for some years as a part time inspector of the source of milk and meat supplies of which the board has control. His principal work has been in the inspection of dairy farms.

Mayor Wm. Ovens informed the council that the appointment of Dr. Worton was recommended by the Board of Health as a means of maintaining the high standards that have been established in the production, delivery and sale of foods for the people of this city.

The appointing bylaw was introduced by Ald. Grant Miller, a member of the Board of Health. Its staff now includes two full time sanitary inspectors, Mr. Ronald MacPherson and Dr. Worton, under the direction of Dr. R. A. Kelly, MOH.

Proceed With Cooke Trial After Charges Stayed Against Dingman, Whitton

EDMONTON, April 6 — (CP). — After defence objections were over-ruled the trial of Jack Kent Cooke of Toronto on a charge of counselling to publish a defamatory libel continued in Alberta Supreme Court today. When the hearings opened yesterday, there were three on trial for alleged conspiracy to publish a defamatory libel, and one of the three, Mr. Cooke, was also charged with counselling.

The Crown entered a "stay of proceedings" in the conspiracy charge against Mr. Cooke, Harold Dingman, the magazine's Ottawa editor, and Dr. Charlotte Whitton, Ottawa welfare authority. Legal authorities said it was unlikely that the conspiracy charges would be proceeded with.

When the Crown failed yesterday in its motion to have the "counselling" charge against Mr. Cooke heard before the conspiracy charges, the prosecution sprung a major surprise by asking for a stay of proceedings in the latter.

Mr. Justice J. B. McBride, hearing the case without jury, said that hearing the counselling charge first would involve determining the material question of whether a defamatory libel actually had been committed. He would be bound by that question when trial of the conspiracy charges began, thus risking prejudice to the cases of the two other accused.

Wouldn't Change

When his lordship asked Crown Counsel C. B. Blanchard whether he wished time to consider the defence suggestion that prior hearing of the "counselling" charge would prejudice the "conspiracy" charges, Mr. Blanchard said the Crown was firm that the counselling charge should be first.

Mr. Justice McBride then ruled that the conspiracy charge should be heard first, whereupon Mr. Blanchard asked for a stay of proceedings. This stay, traversing the conspiracy charges to the June session of the court, was granted by His Lorship.

Apparently the laying of new informations would be necessary for later trial of the conspiracy charges and this was regarded as unlikely.

It was the "conspiracy to publish defamatory libel" charge that first attracted nation-wide interest to the case. Under a straight libel case defendants could have demanded trial in their own province.

The jigger was derailed, and four other men were thrown from the fast-moving machine.

US Urges Troops Sent To Palestine

LAKE SUCCESS, April 6 — (CP). — An American suggestion that foreign troops be prepared for Palestine duty touched off speculation today whether the United States is willing to send soldiers.

The United States delegate, Warren R. Austin, made the troop proposal informally to United Nations Security Council delegates yesterday in outlining a 15-point explanation of the United States' Holy Land trusteeship plan.

Austin did not commit his government to participate in the international force nor say which countries should dispatch soldiers. He said only that such states as would be specified in a special agreement should accept the burden of keeping the peace in embattled Palestine. They would send troops if necessary.

The military proposal was the key item in Austin's statement, which spokesmen described as a series of principles and suggestions.

The program was rejected immediately by the Jewish agency and the Arab higher committee, respective spokesmen for Palestine Jews and Arabs.

Higher Tax

said Britain will cut her expenditure during the coming year by an estimated £205,000,000 ($820,000,000). Spending in 1948-49 is expected to be £2,976,000,000, he said. On the present basis of taxation, estimated revenue will be £3,754,000,000, leaving a surplus of £778,000,000.

Sir stafford announced that the total revenue for last year was £3,845,000,000 ($15,380,000,000)—£346,000,000 more than the revised budget estimate of last October.

Of this customs and exise produced £1,421,000,000—a surplus of £10,000,000 over the estimate. Beer and wines and spirits at £376,000,000 showed a surplus of £8,100,000.

Tobacco, too, had "unfortunately" produced a surplus. It was unfortunate because tobacco consumption had not gone down as the government had hoped. The excess over the estimate of £525,000,000 had been £43,000,000, giving a total of £568,000,000 for tobacco.

The receipts from purchase tax of £246,000,000 fell short of the amount expected by £35,000,000.

Did Better

The new duty on football and dog race betting which came into effect in January brought in nearly £3,750,000 against the estimate of £3,000,000. Of this roughly £2,000,000 came from dog race totalisators and the balance from football pools.

Inland revenue receipts produced a record surplus of £214,000,000 over estimates—£1,799,000,000 compared with the estimate of £1,585,000,000.

Income tax at £1,190,000,000 was £104,000,000 up—again a reflection of the increased profits and earnings and evidence of the inflationary tendencies in the previous year.

Surtax Up

Surtax at £91,000,000 showed an excess of £11,000,000 and death duties at £172,000,000 a surplus of £17,000,000.

Excess profits tax and profits tax together brought in £289,000,000—a surplus of £83,000,000.

Stamp duties alone at £56,000,000 fell short of the estimate by £1,000,000.

Sale of surplus stores brought in £192,000,000 — £102,000,000 more than the estimate. Receipts from trading services, mainly realization of stocks, at £101,000,000, exceeded estimates by £46,000,000.

Miscellaneous receipts, including £112,000,000 on unspent votes of credit from previous years, realized £278,000,000.

At the start of his speech, Sir Stafford described passage by the United States Congress of the European recovery program as "an event of the most profound world significance" which came as "light and hope to the freedom-loving peoples of the world."

Deeply Grateful

"We have deep and genuine gratitude for what is being done," he said. "Without aid we should have been forced to cut drastically our imports of food and raw materials, with the gravest consequences to the living standard, employment and productive efforts."

However, the chancellor said, that United States aid could not add significantly to Britain's reserves although it could help to reduce the drain upon it.

"The drain on our reserves over the whole aid period must be brought as low as possible and virtually eliminated."

Dealing with prospects for this year, Sir Stafford said that on the existing basis of taxation he estimated expenditures at £2,976,000,000, £205,000,000 less than last April's estimate and £233,000,000 less than the actual expediture last year.

There was a saving of £400,000,000 in various estimates. Against this there was increased expenditure of £30,000,000 for education, £14,000,000 for housing, £8,000,000 for the post office, and £143,000,000 for the new health services—a total of £195,000,000 or roughly half the total saving.

Defence Funds

For defence £693,000,000 was provided. The ministry of food would have £320,000,000 as against £334,000,000.

This year beer and other alcoholic drinks were expected to bring in £400,000,000; tobacco £560,000,000 and purchase (sales) tax £300,000,000.

Total estimated revenue from this branch was £1,500,000,000.

The chancellor expected £1,395,000,000 from income tax this year compared with £1,190,000,000 last year. He hoped last year's "high surtax yield" would be maintained and he was budgeting for £90,000,000.

He hoped to get £160,000,000 from death duties and £55,000,000 from stamp taxes.

The yield from inland revenue was "not far short of the all-time record of £2,043,000,000 reached in 1945."

Sir Stafford said he hoped to get £50,000,000 from the motor duty, £102,000,000 from surplus stores, £57,000,000 from trading services, £12,000,000 from broadcasting licenses and Crown lands, £14,000,000 from sundry loans, and £68,000,000 from miscellaneous receipts.

Total revenue on the exitsing basis of taxation was estimated at £3,754,000,000 against expenditure of £2,976,000,000, or a prospective surplus of £778,000,000.

The expected "real surplus" of 1948-49 on the existing basis of taxation would amount to £598,000,000.

"I believe we should aim at a true over-all surplus of about £300,000,000," the Chancellor said.

Churchgoers Each Given $5 Raise Money As In Parable

HALIBURTON, April 6.—(CP).—A modern application of the parable of the talents, some 100 members of this community's United church each received a $5 as they left the evening service Sunday night.

It was Rev. Gordon Smyth's way of rasing $3,000 for the church's renovation fund by June 20.

"It is not a 'Smart Alec' trick but a venture of faith," he said. "The money was borrowed from the bank in the minister's name."

In an interview, he recalled the Bible story of the wealthy master who gave money to three servants before setting out on a journey. On his return he found the first and second servants had added to their store of talents, while the third had burned his share. He was berated for his laziness.

Attached to the $5 bills given Sunday night were two papers, one a summary of the parable and explanation of the way the church's fund was to be used, and the other a list of some 50 suggestions for increasing the $5.

Included in the suggestions were: Afternoon teas, use of hobbies, such a building sailboats, to advantage; raising plants, making costume jewelry, renting vacuum cleaners and baby-sitting.

The minister said participation is not limited to this community of 900, and the rural districts of Ingoldsby and Lochlin, which make up the parish.

"The idea is not to cut into their present church givings, but as an extra donation," he said. "All who are interested need only drop me a card and I will immediately send them their talent."

The 29-year-old pastor plans to equip his church with stained glass windows, new lighting facilities and chancel, a modern Sunday school and kitchen facilities in the basement, as well as to bring the grounds as close to a Garden of Eden as possible.

10 Days In Jail For Taking Coat

John Burnside, 176 Charlotte St., was sentenced today to ten days in jail when he was found guilty by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, on a charge of retaining stolen goods. The accused had pleaded not guilty.

The charge involved a trench coat owed by Lorne Cromie, which Cromie testified he had purchased in October of 1946. On a Saturday afternoon in September, 1947, the witness told the court he had left the coat hanging over a chair in a beverage room. It had been missing when he returned.

Cromie said that he had recognized his missing coat on the accused about a week ago, and had satisfied himself as to the ownership when he examined it closely with the consent of the accused. The coat, entered as an exhibit by the crown, was identified by Cromie as belonging to him.

PC Vern O'Donaghue, on the stand, said that he had arrested accused after information had been received regarding the coat.

Calling no witnesses, the accused told the magistrate that a "well-dressed man" had approached him on a night in Sept. 1947 when the coat was taken, and, after trying to borrow some money, had offered to sell the coat which he carried The accused said that he had given him $5 for it.

Make No Move for 12 Hours

The British plane, carrying 14 persons, crashed in the Russian zone of the city All aboard were killed. The bodies lay in the wreckage nearly 12 hours before the Russian command finally gave its consent early today for their removal. The Russian fighter hit the ground in the British sector of the city. The pilot's body was removed four hours after the crash.

The text of the Soviet statement, as transmitted by the Russian News Bureau, said:

Both planes crashed as a result of the collision and their occupants were killed."

Base Metals Tend To Be Slightly Higher

TORONTO, April 6 — (CP). — The market again successfully absorbed profit-taking following recent advances and prices on Toronto Exchange today remained steady although base metals tended slightly easier. Better Handling

TORONTO, April 6 (CP)—Roy Lick of Oshawa, secretary of Oshawa, secretary of the Ontario whole Milk Producers' League said last night new milk legislation introduced in the Ontario Legislature would make for better handling of surplus milk during summer months.

He said the provision for setting up marketing agencies would enable producers' organizations to sell surplus milk themselves instead of routing it through dairies. At this year's meeting of milk producer groups, most members said they favored the agency type of marketing system.

Public Utility Can Pay For Services

TORONTO, April 6 — (CP). — Signing of an agreement between a public utility and a municipality under which the utility, when exempt from taxation, can pay for any municipal services, is provided in a bill given first reading in the Ontario Legislature yesterday.

Introduced by Municipal Affairs Minister Dunbar, the bill allows agreements under which the public utility can pay for such services as fire protection, policing, law enforcement, street lighting, snow removal and sanding, drainage, sanitation and waste removal.

All agreements must receive the approval of the Municipal Affairs Department.

Utilities Defined

The amendment to the Assessment Act defines a public utility as waterworks, gas works, electrical power works, telephone system, street or railway system, bus line or any other public transportation system and any other works or system supplying citizens with conveniences which are controlled, owned and operated by a municipality or local board.

Ontario continues to hold its powers of personal income taxation without imposing it under an income tax suspension bill introduced by Provincial Treasurer Frost. It follows in line with the budget address which announced that Ontario would continue to forego imposing personal income tax.

The provincial fuel controller's powers are outlined in an amendment to the Fuel Supply Act brought in by Mines Minister Frost.

So that the controller may act "quickly and effectively" in case of "emergencies and periods when natural gas is in short supply," the bill provides that his regulations do not have to be filed and published. They will have force of law as soon as he makes them.

The speaker was introduced by E. J. Ayrhart and a vote of thanks moved by Arthur Armour was given him by the president, Dr. O. C. Watson.

CUT OFF BERLIN RAILWAY—The first step of what appeared to be a Soviet effort to squeeze the western allies out of Berlin, the Russians shut off military train traffic of Americans and British forces between their zones and the German capital. All rail and motor passengers and freight had to undergo Russian inspection at border control points. Two American trains returned to Helmstedt and two British trains remained in Marienborn (1) as indicated on map. Traffic on the Berlin-Hanover super-highway also was interrupted. However, Russians have relaxed the inspection requirements.

Freight Rate Up Thursday As MP's Combine To Oppose Rail Increases

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL

OTTAWA, April 6—(CP). — The Federal Cabinet has an open mind on the question of a 21-per-cent. increase in Canadian freight rates. The Cabinet can uphold the increase authorized by the Board of Transport Commissioners; it can rescind the increase; it can reduce the amount of increase, or it can withhold the boost pending an inquiry.

However, Transport Minister Chevrier declined to indicate in the Commons yesterday just what action will be taken. He said that as he would be among the Cabinet Ministers who would study provincial petitions to appeal he could not "pre-judge" the case and forecast Government action.

Applications to appeal have not yet come formally before the Cabinet. They would be "carefully studied," said Mr. Chevrier.

He spoke as some 15 members of all political affiliations and representing the Maritimes and Western Canada protested the transport board's action in authorizing the freight rate increase.

"A decision will be reached in due course and an announcement made," said Mr. Chevrier, in reply.

Effective Thursday

The debate on the freight-rate issue was initiated by M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader. While he spoke, it was learned that the railways filed new increased rates with the board of transport commissioners to take effect Thursday.

Declaring the implications of the increases were of "grave concern" to the country, Mr. Coldwell urged that they be withheld pending a searching examination of the freight-rate structure and the placing of alternative proposals before parliament. Equalization of freight rates was needed.

Mr. Isnor said Maritime people felt the award was a gross violation of the spirit of confederation.

Mr. Gillis urged that the government delay enforcement of the award until an appeal could get under way.

Maritimes Always Suffer

Mr. Black said the Maritimes seemed to suffer at all hands and on all occasions. If factories could not be established in the Maritimes to supply the needs of the people, then the goods should be supplied at the lowest factory price.

Mr. Brooks said if the Maritimes were as prosperous as Ontario and Quebec they would not object to bearing their share of the increased rates.

Mr. McLure said he did not think the government would "dare" allow the new rates to become effective because of opposition in the east and west.

Mr. Diefenbaker said there should be a scientific re-vamping of the freight-rate structure. A united Canada could never be built until the "unfairness" in present rates was removed. The Railway Act provided the government with authority to "rescind" any order of the transport board.

Choose McCallum Candidate For PC

WHITBY, April 6. — Mayor Frank N. McCallum, brother of Toronto's Mayor H. E. McCallum, Monday night was named Progressive Conservative candidate for Ontario riding's federal by-election, date of which is still to be announced. He defeated Hayden MacDonald, retiring president of the riding Progressive Conservative Association, in a secret ballot.

Also nominated was James R. MacBrien, defeated Progressive candidate in the 1945 federal election, who declined to let his name stand Monday night. He threw his support behind McCallum.

Each potential canidate nominated was given 10 minutes to address delegates before the ballot was held. Mayor McCallum charged that federal government taxation exceeded all bounds.

Drunk, Jailed, Escaped Caught, Remanded

COBOURG, April 6—(ENS)— William O'Neil of Brighton was found guilty Monday on charges of being drunk and escaping custody. Arrested by OPP Constable George Colling on Thursday, O'Neil broke the padlock on the Brighton lockup and escaped. He was picked up next day by Constable Colling. Magistrate R. B. Baxter remanded him a week for sentence.

Clerk Pleads Guilty To Theft Of Money, Goods From Store

COBOURG, April 6.—(ENS).— Norman Hayes, Pt. Hope, pleaded guilty to a charge of theft from his employer, Coleman and Philp of Port Hope, and was remanded for sentence to April 19. Hays pleaded guilty after the Crown had amended the charge from one of theft of $3,500 from Dec. 19, 1946 to Dec. 19, 1947, to the substitute charge of theft of various articles and an unnamed amount of money.

On the first charge, Hays had elected trial at the next higher court, after which the preliminary hearing proceeded. However, Magistrate R. B. Baxter refused to admit as evidence a statement given by the accused to a private detective agency. Crown Attorney Deyman then amended the charge to one which omitted the amount involved, to which Hays pleaded guilty and the court consented to apply the evidence heard at the preliminary to the amended charge.

At the preliminary hearing, Roy Philp swore that he called in the detective agency after he noticed shortages in stock and failure of sales slips to balance with the cash register tapes. On December 5, $50 was short in the check on Hays' sales. When the detective made some test purchases on Dec. 19, the sum of $46 was short

Witness told of going to Hays' home and finding about $150 worth of merchandise taken by Hayes from the Coleman and Philp store. Philp testified that he was in the hotel room on Dec. 19 in Port Hope and of participating in the questioning of Hays with his brother, Bert Philp and the detective, Herbert Lipps. Under cross-examination by I. Welden, Roy Philp admitted that the matter of restitution had been discusesd and that it was possible that Hays might have assumed that the nature of the questioning was an inducement for him to make a statement.

The private detective was cross-examined for over an hour by Mr. Welden. Lipps admitted that Hays had been in the hotel room from six p.m. on the evening of Dec. 19 until around three o'clock the next morning.

"I left him in the hotel room when I went out for supper that evening. He was there when I returned. He was free to go at that time, or any time. He was not under restraint," explained Lipps. The detective denied that any threat or inducement had been made by him in getting the statement. Repeatedly asked by Mr. Welden why Hays was "kept in the hotel roo m for about nine hours," Lipps re-asserted that Hays was not kept in the hotel room against his will. Hays was very evasive and it took hours to bring out all the required information about the various items which made up the shortages, Lipps testified.

Eric Oswald, auditor for the firm, said that his audit revealed an inventory shortage for the year of around $4,000. A few hundred dollars might be explained through routine channels but such a large amount could be accounted for only by extensive theft. He estimated the loss at around $3,000 or more.

Hays denied taking the amount alleged in the first charge. He admitted theft of $96 in cash and the articles taken from the store. The statement as to the balance of the alleged amount had been the result of pressure upon him during the nine hours he was in the hotel room with the detective, Hays testified.

United And Firm

The most remarkable monetary document in history was signed by the President of the United States on Saturday. By it the American people have given their approval to the European Recovery Program and are prepared to spend six billion dollars to assist the war-wasted nations of Europe to recover their means of livelihood and preserve their peoples. From a realistic, limited point of view, E.R.P. is primarily an American defence measure, for anarchy, communism and continued poverty in western Europe would be as sure a threat to the American state as armed invading hordes approaching the Statue of Liberty.

• • •

E.R.P. is more than a defensive wall. It is a generous acceptance of the knowledge that the costs of victory are great and a responsible, foresighted recognition of the responsibilities of riches and power. That is the American response. In Europe it means that sixteen nations have co-operated in a great plan of their own devising to redeem their economy and to unite against the force of an alien political philosophy. The sense of the Marshall dollars—the slogan on the American penny E Pluribus Unum ('Out of the many, one')—has more hope for them than the Communist doctrine of proletarian revolution.

• • •

The parliamentary governments of the western world are showing that they can act firmly, speedily and unitedly, not only in large economic areas but in the day-to-day exigencies of political events. In Berlin, for instance, France, Britain and the United States have boldly stood their ground in a minor trial of strength. The week-end crisis was, and still is, grave, for though limited, it involves national and international prestige and could develop into an alarming situation. By standing firm on a hundred yards of Berlin pavement they have shown the Russians that a piecemeal infiltration will meet an irresistible force stronger than a roadblock.

The Dangerous Conception Of A Preventative War

We have already commented in these columns on the folly of loose talk about a war with Russia. The apologists for such talk—it would be old-fashioned to call them war-mongers, and we should not want to associate ourselves with the ideas and phraseology of Tim Buck who told the L.P.P. on Easter Sunday that "the real danger (to peace) is..the United States"—the apologists say that a war now would be a preventative war, a war to prevent a longer and more bloody one.

They argue that the United States alone has atomic bombs in sufficient numbers to make them efficacious. Russia might soon be able to make one or two bombs but, in the words of a leading British nuclear physicist, Professor M. L. Oliphant, "No matter how skilled in espionage the Russians may be or how much secret knowledge they may receive from misguided sympathizers...it will take at least five years to make a reasonable stock of atomic bombs in Russia", even if they had all the blueprints and the help of all the principal scientists employed on the task in America. The conclusion that the proponents of a preventative war reach is that the western world could deliver a fatal blow to Russia by using atomic bombs and thus prevent a more disastrous later war when Russia has had time and the ability to make atomic bombs in militarily significant quantities.

The fallacy of this conception is that no war is a preventative war; it is war. The most fiendish killing instrument that man has devised would be used; tens of thousands of Russians and their towns could be wiped out, but in that vast country all the industrial potential, and the underground or under-cover atomic projects could not be destroyed. The country would have to be occupied. And long before that occupation could be begun, Russian troops would have occupied the whole of Europe. The protective war would have become a major war to which no end but the destruction of civilization could be envisaged. As Professor Oliphant said on Easter Sunday in Australia, talk of a preventative war is irresponsible and dangerously provocative.

Death Of A Famous Ghost Hunter

We are sorry to hear that Harry Price's interesting life has come to an end at the comparatively early age of 67. Price was undoubtedly the greatest scientific ghost-hunter of all time. He came from that most favourable of all localities for ghost-hunting, the border country between North Wales and England, and gave his whole life to a careful series of investigations into the existence or non-existence of ghosts. He was genuinely scientific in his approach to this problem, and he was able to enlist powerful aid. Perhaps his greatest triumph was the establishment of the London Council for Psychical Investigation, a body which included among its members many famous scientists and philosophers. Price also formed the great Library of Magical Literature in the University of London, comprising 17,000 volumes. He wrote many books about his investigations, and was a contributor to the Encyclopaedia Brittanica. In character he was a jolly, brisk man, quite unlike a "medium" or the usual dabbler in occult matters.

Price must have investigated hundreds of alleged cases of haunting in his time. His methods were scientific, but by no means sceptical. Some ghosts he found to be pranks, others were attributable to natural causes, but a good number remained inexplicable except as genuine supernormal manifestations. Price exposed dozens of fakes and "mediums", but he never became cocksure or hard-boiled. He made a genuine contribution to science in a neglected field—and a field, it may be said, that investigations of the "P K effect" at Duke University in the U.S.A. have brought closer to scientific certainty than sceptics like to admit.

The great Dr. Johnson said: "It is wonderful that five thousand years have now elapsed since the creation of the world, and it is still undecided whether or not there has ever been any instance of the spirit of any person appearing after death; all argument is against it, but all belief is for it". Upon the whole, the life work of Harry Price weakened the argument, and strengthened the belief.

A Poet And The Revolution

Not long ago a prominent member of the Communist Party in Czechoslovakia was a young poet named Ivan Blatny. But now that Czechoslovakia is a Communist state Blatny has rejected Communism, complaining that the Communist government wanted to dictate to him what subjects he should write about in his poems.

If Blatny had had a grain of common sense he would have foreseen what would happen to him under Communism. Totalitarian states have always had a short way with poets. Through the ages poets have, upon the whole, been revolutionaries, and when their revolutionary ardour took a political trend they were generally revolutionaries of the Left. Poets are by nature critics of life, and their ideas for improving the state of mankind have commonly been expressed in demands for greater freedom.

Criticism of life, however, is unwelcome in Communist states, and Blatny is learning the hard lesson that revolution for its own sake is not necessarily a good thing.

A Word About Dogs

On our way to work on Monday morning we counted ten dogs running at large in a single city block; seven of the dogs were investigating the garbage cans which had been put out for the collectors. The mess which the dogs were making would greatly increase the work of the garbage men, and certainly added nothing to the appearance of the street.

During the winter months the police and the dog-catcher are lenient and dogs run at large, pretty much as they please. But with the return of spring dogs must be restrained, for they are destructive of gardens and their scavenging creates a great deal of litter. Dog-owners do not like to restrain their pets, but in the common interest they must do so; it is unfair that one man's garden should be torn up by another man's dog.

Keeping a dog in a city is always a difficult matter; a dog, to be happy, demands a very wide terrain in which to roam. But there is no reason whatever why people who do not keep dogs should suffer inconvenience in order to make things easier for dog-owners.

"Our Wild Orchids"

(F. J. A. MORRIS)

FEW Peterborough men have written books, and none is more unusual and attractive than Frank Morris' "Our Wild Orchids", published nearly two decades ago by Scribners in New York (1929). The title-page gives the names of Frank Morris and Edward A. Eames as co-authors; actually the text was prepared by Mr. Morris and the numerous photographs in colour and monochrome are by Mr. Eames, an American. Mr. Morris is a retired English Master of the Peterborough Collegiate Institute.

Mr. Morris became the most enthusiastic and expert orchidologist in Canada. Always delighting in wild life and flowers, he first interested in wild orchids when he came from Oxford to southern Ontario at the end of the last century and discovered in his woodland rambles a profusion of these delicate flowers. Tracking down orchids became a major lifetime hobby. In his searches, he met with Edward A. Eames of Buffalo, who was interested in making a photographic record of wild orchids. The collaboration that ensued resulted in extensive annual pilgrimages from one terrain to another, from one marsh to another, from Tennessee up the Mississippi Valley to Minnesota, across Canada from Thunder Cape to the Straits of Belle Isle, and down the Atlantic Coast to North Carolina. It resulted in the 450-page "Our Wild Orchids".

THE following selection from the first chapter of the second section reveals the quiet narrative treatment of one of the 72 varieties with which the authors deal. It is to be regretted that the photographs which complement the text cannot be reproduced here.

Mr. Morris, Mr. Eames and their wives set out in the spring of 1919 to find and photograph the Small Round-Leaf Orchis which is "heart and soul with the North. It is surely a remarkable thing how many wild flowers of the most delicate beauty prefer a cold climate. This is true of nearly all our Lady Slippers". The plant is "of simple construction, having a single leaf close to the ground and a naked scape surmounted by a loose spike of new flowers....With its scallop shell of foliage and wand-borne spray of blossoms so delicately coloured and of such a curious shape, it has to our mind a quite peculiar charm....We first found it in the heart of a huge swamp of Eastern Ontario, where it grew about shallow basins and mossy depressions under the tamaracs". Now we must let Mr. Morris tell the tale without further editorial interruption.

AS ill luck would have it when our new-found friends arrived with the camera to get their first picture, the plants were only in bud still. Here was a dilemma! But the photographer had been taking no chances and immediately drew a trump card from his sleeve in the shape of a pencil sketch, indicating the exact spot in the township of Manvers where a Rochester correspondent had found this orchid some thirty years before (about 1890). Reference to an old county atlas brought startling results. By all appearance Sam Hill's farm was just about the hub of the universe; east and west it lay between Pontypool (Wales) and Cadmus (Greece); north and south, between Lotus (Egypt) and Tyrone (Ireland); to get to it we must head either west for Caesarea (Samaria) or south for Leskard (Cornwall); the only place marked on the road that ran past it was Burton (England). So off we set for the village of Burton.

It proved as hard to find as the Dark Tower of Childe Roland's quest. At first no one had ever heard of it; then every one seemed determined we shouldn't get there. It will be many a day before we forget the look on the lady's face at Bethany when she found that the respectable-seeming motorists who had stopped at her gate were bound for Burton, or the action of the "ancient" in full Sabbath regalia of plug hat, shirt sleeves, and cutty clay, seated in state on his little front porch at Yelverton. How affably he rose to greet us! Every town and city along those four crossroads was ours for the asking; but no sooner had we uttered the ill-omened word 'Burton' than he stopped abruptly and, waving an arm haughtily in the air to signify that the interview was now closed, replaced the pipe in his mouth, the plug hat on his head, and himself in the rocker, while we slunk sheepishly off to our car. And then, when at last we came to the corner where the map marked a village, behold—one solitary tumble-down shack! Just then a dog barked, a man emerged, and to our shouted question came reply: 'Burton? Right here! This is Burton.' No wonder it was taboo!

BUT to us it was the home of Orchis rotundifolia, and we inquired eagerly where Sam Hill lived. 'Too bad! Sam Hill was dead; surely we knew that! He had been dead a long time. The best thing we could do was to go east again and visit his grandson back to Ballyduff.' It took several minutes to explain that we didn't really care where Sam Hill and all his tribe were gone so long as they hadn't taken the farm away with them. This was the last obstacle; it was like entering some land of witchcraft; from Burton onward every gate flew open at our touch. Sam Hill's successor himself pointed out the picturesque pine bluff in the background that overlooked our magic tract—a small densely wooded swamp, in whose depths we caught the gurgle of a trout stream.

'To right of line fence, opposite sand dunes, near edge of swamp,' read the photograher from his little pocket plan; and at once the pack spread out, quartering the cover. In five minutes one of us was heard giving tongue; in ten minutes two more took up the cry. Orchis rotundifolia was quite abundant, the second station particularly fine, in moist mossy hollows about a patch of small tamaracs, screened from the wind and basking in sunlight, so that the plants were well-advanced and already in blossom.

❖ ❖ ❖

THE swamp was quite small and could be searched over in half an hour; but it was remarkably rich in all kinds of bog plants, and everything conspired to make the day one of the happiest and most vivid memories in all our orchid-hunting experience. At the very outset we found the place a perfect Paradise of Lady Slippers. Then, while the pictures were being taken, one of us discovered, in the loose hummocks of sphagnum under some spruce, a score or more of that tiniest of orchids "Listera cordata", a rare prize for this district. Next, as we emerged from the swamp through a fringe of pines, the photographer made his first find of stripped Coral Root "Corallorrhiza striata", a magnificent clump of these great gaudy saprophyte in full bloom. And finally, at the edge of the pines, growing in sand washed down by the rains, we stumbled on a belated crop of big cream-coloured morels; whereon we regaled ourselves at supper that night, to celebrate one of the most satisfying days in the season, or indeed in many seasons.

NOW WHO COULD BE DOING THAT?

The Barrage Of Fear

(NEW YORK TIMES)

THE Scandinavian peninsula is now the target for the Soviet war of nerves. First Norway and then Sweden are accused in the Moscow press of "military collaboration" with the United States. The charges levelled at both countries are about the same. On one day Norway is said to be planning to turn over the Spitzbergen islands for American and British bases and adapt her armaments to the American standard. The next day Sweden is declared to be preparing to become a military appendage of the United States by mobilizing her industry and her air force and constructing new fortifications and airdromes in co-ordination with the American defence program.

The charges don't matter. The Soviet propaganda machine is always accusing us and other countries of planning to do what Russia is already doing or trying to do. What is important and ominous is the launching of the familiar pressure campaign on the free lands of the North. The pattern is sickeningly familiar. It does not vary, and is not intended to vary. On the contrary, it is meant to convey to the next victims of political aggression a clear warning that this is the first step in a well-known and inevitable process. The prelude to the Russian demand for a military alliance with Finland was the same kind of attack on Finnish "warmongers."

All these alarms and fist-shakings signify that Moscow itself is frightened. The increasing violence of the fight against the European Recovery Program is the most convincing proof that it is the great obstacle to Soviet plans. The image of strength evoked by American rearmament and Western Union inspires new and desperate moves to detach Scandinavia and Italy from a community of democratic nations that is at last beginning to take shape and purpose.

Russia's chief ally is fear. Her constant recourse to a policy of threat and terror is an admission that there is no other method of maintaining and expanding Soviet power. She can move forward in Europe only by extending the shadowland of fear. This makes our course plain, for our chief ally is hope, and the will of men and nations to follow the path of hope. The forces of fear have no power against confidence and the show and conviction of moral and material strength.

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ravening wolves. Ye shall know them by their fruits. Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles? Even so every good tree bringeth forth evil fruit.

A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit. Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire. Wherefore by their fruits ye shall know them....

And it came to pass, when Jesus had ended these sayings, the people were astonished at his doctrine: for he taught them as one having authority, and not as the scribes. (Matt. 7: 15-20, 28, 29.)

Now when the sun was setting, all they that had any sick with divers diseases, brought them unto him; and he laid his hands on every one of them, and healed them. (Luke 4: 40.)

Letter To The Editor

FARMERS AND INCOME TAX

Sir: City people might be pleased to learn that last week farmers received notice to fill out their 1946 income tax forms by end of April. Few farmers have kept books. They have never formed that habit, nor their fathers, schools never taught them. They have no secretary or bookkeeper or desk, or even a hired man or a time limit. They thought or hoped to be free.

But if they shun the pen, most farmers think, and they know that delays in April, could jeopardize their hopes for coming season and reduce food crops, for weather waits for no one. Nor does new-born calfs, pigs, lambs, chickens wait, nature has her way. These must be looked after and wood-splitting, sap-boiling, grain cleaning and all the ordinary chores. But farmers are honest and like to pay their way. Most of them would rather pay an annual extra tax or have it taken out of produce when sold, anything but a puzzling, time-wasting, provoking income tax form, which could easily be the last straw to break the—

CAMEL.

Charges Canada Enjoys Wars

LONDON, April 6 — (CP) — Canada is not a military nation "but we love war and would undoubtedly like a third world war," Dr. A. R. M. Lower, professor of history at Queen's University, Kingston, said here last night.

He spoke at a banquet meeting at the University of Western Ontario, addressing members of the Clio (History) and Polycon (Political Sceince and Economic clubs, and faculty members.

"War has always paid off extremely well for us," he declared. "Since it is fought on foreign soil, we go into it with the fervor of crusaders. As soon as the actual fighting is over, we drop the whole issue like a hot potato. We win the war but we lose the peace because we don't provide many international solutions but invariably have to take the consequences of those provided by greater powers."

Dr. Lower predicted that the United States and not Great Britain would decide Canada's future and the Canadian international position might not be as pleasant as it had been in the past.

EASTER QUADS—An Oxford ewe on the farm of Alfred C. Marsh, at the eastern edge of Newmarket, gave birth to four lambs Easter Sunday. Most of Marsh's flock are purebred Suffolk, and the quadruplets favor their daddy, with chocolate coats and black faces. Their mother is nursing three of the quads, and Marsh managed to induce one of his Suffolk ewes to adopt the fourth —quite a feat, since sheep don't take any interest in the neighbors' children.

Canada's Deep-Sea Ports Facing New Prosperity

By The Canadian Press

Busy, prosperous days are just around the corner for Canada's deep-sea ports.

Most shipping men expect business this spring and summer will be every bit as good as it was during 1947, a Canadian Press survey showed today. Some predict conditions will be even better.

The only flaw in a generally bright picture is the month-old strike of Canadian merchant-ship officers on both coasts. But even that hasn't developed into a major difficulty, the survey showed.

And the first break in the strike came late last week at Halifax when the Federal Commerce and Navigation Company signed an agreement with three unions representing deck officers, engineers and radio officers.

At Halifax, shipping men have complained from the first that the strike affected port business. But, because of the substantial number of non-struck vessels in port, traffic has remained brisk.

Will Be Matched

Montreal shipping men predict last year's record of 898 arrivals and departures will be matched, if not surpassed, during the coming season. Large shipments of European-recovery goods are expected to be moved from Montreal.

A big boost in traffic at Churchill, Man., is anticipated.

At Vancouver, the spring-and-summer outlook is "about average" but several things may improve the situation. West-coast shippers hope trade will be encouraged as plans containue to develop for European aid. Settlement of the officers' strike—16 Canadian vessels are idle in Vancouver—also will help.

Priest Barred Entering Church

OTTAWA, April 5. (CP) — A police squad stood by to prevent violence at the Bukowinian Greek Orthodox Church here yesterday when members of the congregation refused to let Rev. Alexey Shovgeniuk enter the building. Mr. Shovgeniuk has been priest at the church for the last 14 years.

A year ago one group brought legal action against the other, charging that the board of trustee had been elected in an illegal manner. It also charged that the minister and his sympathizers would subject the church to the government of Russia if the former were under the patriarch of Moscow.

By Ontario Supreme Court order the congregation last Sunday elected a new board of trustees, and the complaining group won the church elections, making Konrad Antochi president of the board.

Mr. Antochi told police that he wrote Mr. Shovgeniuk asking for the keys and books of the church and that he had received no reply. Early Sunday morning the new board alegedly removed the locks from the church building and replaced them with new locks.

When Mr. Shovgeniuk arrived for the morning service he found that the old keys did not fit the new locks. Police advised him to return home.

Detroit To Rescue Sends India Diapers

DETROIT, April 6—(AP)—Famous for its automobiles, Detroit may also become known as the birthplace of a movement to alleviate the diaper shortage in India.

It all started when S. K. Banerjee of Calcutta remarked that mothers have a pretty tough time because of the lack of three-cornered pants in India.

A local company became sympathetic, offered to send 1,000 dozen. The idea spread.

As a result, 72,000 surplus diapers already are on the way to India. The Diaper Service Institute of America has pledged at least 250,000 more from its members.

Diaper services in Cleveland, Baltimore, Washington and Philadelphia have pledged support.

Curb Exchange Strike Enters Second Week

NEW YORK, April 6—(AP)—The strike of 1,100 unionized employees of the New York Stock and Curb Exchanges entered its second week today.

Picketing of the exchanges and several brokerage houses in the financial district was resumed early in the day. Officials of the United Financial Employees' Union (AFL) said they hoped to bring about "paralysis of the Wall Street community" in their demands for a union shop and wage increases of $9 to $15 a week.

Police estimated that 125 pickets were on duty at the New York Stock Exchange and 85 stationed at various entrances to the Curb Exchange. Others picketed buildings housing three brokerage houses.

WALK ON THE RIGHT SIDE OF SIDEWALKS

Busy sidewalks, like busy highways, become congested and hard to travel unless there is some control of traffic. To eliminate accidents and to make travel more orderly, automotive vehicles must stay on the right side of the road. If everyone kept to the right side of the sidewalk, fewer collisions would result. Traffic would speed up and walking would be easier. That's "Good Citizenship".

You can help this public service effort. Make a note of some of the little things which, in your opinion, contribute to Good Citizenship.

Glad to see some concrete plans being laid to build up rugby in Peterborough. Panthers will field an improved senior "B" squad this autumn in ORFU and a junior grid club has been organized for ORFU play. And there'll be two or three week-end courses conducted here shortly by outstanding Big Four officials. With plans being mad also to sponsort minors in "touch" rugby. All this promised activity, along with the good PCVS contests, promises to put the city back on the football map.

"Did A Splendid Job"

Speaking of the recent series, Globe & Mail had this yesterday: "Coach Dit Clapper, until his retirement last season, one of the league's greats, did a splendid job. His Bruins started the season auspiciously but ran into so much hard luck that they faced elimination just before playoff time. Clapper, aided by the return of injured Milt Schmidt, steered them into the playoffs by inspiring them to greater efforts than they had shown for weeks. Clapper's coaching is starting to pay dividends of a nature that can make him optimistic as to next season." And the item deals with the good rookies being developed by Bruins.

So, it's Wings and Leafs in the Stanley Cup finals. They open in Toronto tomorrow night and play there again Saturday ere shifting to Detroit for a Sunday struggle. Games go to a finish except where they run into a Sabbath curfew law in Toronto, when a game is terminated at 11.45 p.m. Saturday. Seeing as how this one looks to us pretty much of a tossup between young, well-matched and scrappy clubs, we'll pick the Wings to win because Jack Adams of the Detroiters once played for Peterborough. Many long years ago. Anyway, it's always good for an argument with Toronto followers in this borough; Ought to be quite a series.

Olympic games' athletes at London this summer will get heavy industrial workers' rations, Food Minister John Strachey announced yesterday. In some cases the athletes will get more than double the allocation of the ordinary British white collar worker. They will drink two pints of milk a day, compared with the normal allowance of 2½ pints a week.

The special food rules will take effect July 8 and continue for eight weeks. Another special concession to the athletes—more than 5,000 of whom are expected from 28 competing countries—was to free the amount of food they care to import.

Mike Buckna, pre-war Trail Smoke Eaters' hockey star and more recently coach of the Czech Olympics, left London yesterday for Canada. When the RCAF Flyers arrived in England after taking top honors they said Buckna had been "fired" as coach of the Czech team. They said Czech newspaper screamed for Buckna's skin after the highly-touted Czech team failed to come out on top as predicted.

Canada Packers Hold Lead In YMCA League

Canada Packers retained their two-point advantage at the head of the YMCA Men's Bowling League last night. They defeated the strong third-place Artists 4-2. The Artists had been rolling right along the last few weeks but the Packers applied the brakes last night to George Coleman's crew.

Commercials were lucky to eke out a 4-2 victory over Aberdeens winning the last game by three pins and the second one by 15 pins.

Tip Tops dropped two to Jay Bees. The Toppers were short their captain, who is also league president, Bill Saunders being hospitalized. The loss to the Toppers dropped them from third to fourth place in the standing.

In the other contest Quakers blanked B'nai B'rith 6-0. It was the only shutout scored.

Harry Graham was high man in both triple and single departments, smacking a 760 threesome and 342 single. Three other bowlers topped 700, Bob Dyer 746, Fred Dearborn 725 and Frank Worsencroft 708.

Canada Packers nosed out Aberdeens for best team score, 3181 to 3161. Artists had best single game of 1124.

Standing to date:

Canada Packers	94
Commercials	92
Artists	86
Tips Tops	86
Quakers	76
B'nai B'rith	68

Hollywood Divided About Politics

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, April 6 (AP).—Should film personalities take an active part in political campaigns?

That's the AP Hollywood Forum's question for today and it's one that is being hotly debated here. With the 1948 United States elections coming up, many stars are aligning themselves behind certain candidates. It may be a big political year in Hollywood. Here are the pros and cons on the subject of whether stars should get in politics:

Bob Hope: "No. When you play to all kinds of audiences, as film people do, you are bound to receive enmity by taking sides in politics. You owe it to the public to remain neutral . . ."

Dana Andrews: "I see no reason why a man should be denied his political right just because he is in the picture business. A star should exercise caution, but if he is sure of what he thinks is right, he should be able to speak up about it."

Dane Clark: "I speak only for myself. I don't feel that I know enough about politics to attempt to convince others on a large scale. As private citizen Bernard Zaneville (his real name), I intend to vote and discuss politics with my family and friends. But as Dane Clark, whose only claim to fame is as a screen actor, I won't campaign."

Need Knowledge

Clair Trevor: If an actor studies politics and knows enough about it—Okay. But there's a lot of difference between learning statesmanship and learning to act."

Olivia DeHavilliand: "I have campaigned in the past, but I do not intend to in the 1948 elections. I feel that politics is a full-time job and one cannot devote enough time to it and to a film career, too. However, I reserve the right to speak out when I see certain dangers, such as Communism."

Cornel Wilde: "Military, business and Labor figures are active campaigners; film personalities are as politically informed as any other professional group. Any citizen has the right to plug his chosen candidate or party . . ."

Walter Brennan: "No. Actors shouldn't campaign because they live in another world from ordinary people. If actors got an ounce of sense with every dollar they made, it would be all right. But they don't."

Albertans Trounce Bruins

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., April 6—(CP). — Either Lethbridge Native Sons were under-rated, or Port Arthur West-end Bruins had a bad night here last night. The Albertans stages an upset by trouncing the favored Port Arthur outfit 6-1 in the first game of the best-of-seven Western Canada junior hockey finals before a capacity crowd of 3,500 fans.

Native Sons outplayed the favored Bruins by such a wide margin they reversed the pre-series betting, and now Lethbridge is the choice to win the second game at home Wednesday night.

Scotty Munro's Sons lashed 30 shots at the Port Arthur net and even outfought the Bruins, while two men short at one stage, Port Arthur's only goal came on a 40-foot screened shot that went through a maze of players.

Bill Ramsden shot Lethbridge into a lead with a pair of goals in the first period, and Jack Leclair, George Murphy and Eddie Dorohoy made it 5-0 before the second ended. Bob Manson gave Native Sons a 6-0 lead in the third before Danny Lewicki fired the marker that saved Port Arthur from a shutout. At one stage Sons' defenceman Jack Evans was off for interference and Freddie Brown was in the box for high-sticking. Despite the two-man advantage, Bruins failed to show anything. And later when Evans was penalized again, Port Arthur could not solve the Lethbridge defence.

Gananoque Hands Thorold 7-4 Setback

ST. CATHARINES, April 6 — (CP). — Gananoque handed Thorold Mounts a 7-4 setback here last night to even their best-of-three OHA Junior C final series at one game apiece. Third and deciding match will be played at Oshawa later this week. Bingo Jackson and Brown led the Gananoque scorers by firing two goals apiece, Keyes, Burley and Hudson connected for singles. Ducket was best for the losers as he scored three times, while F. Gabriel scored once.

5 Empire Title Aspirants At the Brock Wednesday

One of the most important bouts to be promoted here this year will get under way in the Brock Arena on Wednesday night when the Cardiff Giant collides with Earl McCready.

Peterborough mat fans have seen this colossal bearded Giant overcome two opponents in as many weeks with almost ridiculous ease. All over the Eastern United States the Cardiffian has been bowling over good wrestlers mostly in a matter of three or four minutes.

Canadian fans will find it hard to believe that such a sterling matman as McCready can be handled that way. It should make an intensely interesting battle.

John Katan takes on Dr. Ed Meske in the semi-final and Nanjo Singh opens the show against Ken Kenneth.

Five of the six wrestlers are aspirants for the British Empire championship, the only one not being eligible is Meske.

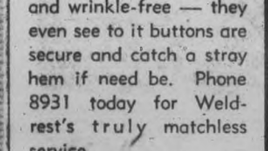
Directors Name Stan Lowe Board President

By HERB. MARTIN.

At the conclusion of the annual meeting of the Peterborough Rink Company on Monday evening, the new board of directors met and elected Stan Lowe president, J. Hamley vice-president, and I. Moore secretary. The board will meet on Thursday night to elect the chairmen of committees.

In electing Stan Lawe as president the board has chosen a man long connected with curling game. Two years ago he was a member of the board and chairman of the open bonspiels committee. He was instrumental in opening up the week-long mixed rink bonspiel, now an annual affair. The experience gained should aid him in his new role as president.



Strong Board

Other members of the board are H. Bradburn, C. Graham, J. Clarkness, F. Stenson, V. Selkirk, E. Braund, T. Doughty, and Dr. J. McKee.

In opening the meeting President Tom McArthur paid tribute to all who had helped during the past year and hoped the new board would go on to greater success. Secretary - treasurer I. Moore read the financial statement which was favorably received. Many suggestions were passed on to the committees for consideration. Tom McArthur made known he was retiring from the board, and many shareholders expressed deep regret. Tom has been a tower of strength and will be greatly missed. He was president for several years.

While the ballots were being counted, a presentation was made to Rev. W. McDonald for being the most useful curler during the past season.

The lady curlers intend holding their annual meeting and banquet next Monday evening in the club parlors at 6:30 o'clock.

Soccer League Is Ready To Start Now

Local soccer fans were out in full force on Monday evening for the meeting of the Peterborough and District Football Association at the YMCA, with President William Gracie occupying the chair, along with a representation of the Canadian General, Lindsay, O'Halloran's and Spartons. Canada Packers were not represented and it was formally reported that they would not have a team this year but the executive trust that they will chang their minds.

Start Immediately

It was agreed that the season will start immediately provided that King Edward Park is in playing condition. Players interested in a practice game Saturday are requested to be on hand on that day at two o'clock.

All team entries must be in the hands of the secretary not later than Monday, April 12 and the executive desires any person wishing to become a referee to notify the secretary.

A committee was appointed to formulate a schedule for the season which must be abided by throughout.

The question of injured players' insurance was fully discussed from every angle and will be acted upon after the clubs have been fully registered, along with the number of players signed for the season.

All last year's players and those interested in the Sparton soccer club are requested to attend a meeting at Ed. Woodcock's, 57 Aylmer St., at seven o'clock Thursday evening.

Nationales Favorites

MONTREAL, April 6.—(CP).—Montreal Nationales, the first all-French Canadian junior club to carry the Quebec banner into Memorial Cup play in many a moon, will rule slight favorites tonight when they take the Forum ice for the opener of their Eastern Canada semi-final series against Halifax St. Mary's.

It isn't that Montreal fans underrate the invading Maritime squad, one of the best ever to come out of the seaside provinces, but the impressive display of Nationales in waltzing to their league title and overwhelming Quebec Red Birds for the provincial crown which has made the Nats as choice to cop the series.

The series is a best-of-three affair with all games slated for Montreal, so St. Mary's will have to get used to the large Forum ice surface.

Not Much Fun For Golfers In Tournaments

NEW YORK, April 6 (AP). — The other day a veteran golf professional, who likes to sit around with the boys after hours, was saying that you could have his share of the Masters' tournament . . . the general idea was that the tourney has been given a tremendous build-up but the members won't co-operate by giving the players a chance to have some fun, too . . . all golf and no enjoyment . . . actually that had nothing to do with Frank (Muscles) Stranahan getting the heave-ho from the tourney, but it seems that the handling of that incident could have been a lot smoother . . . if Frank wanted to chug off in a six cylinder huff, okay, but why get stuffy about it and say his invitation had been "rescinded?"

Britons Hope To Oust Von Nida

LONDON, April 6 — (AP), — The British professional golf tournament season opens next week and the big question is whether the title monopoly of Australian Norman Von Nida can be broken.

The 33-year-old Australian won five tournaments here last year and tied for first in three others. He nabbed about $12,000 in prizes.

Sixteen tournaments are scheduled, offering $100,000 in prize money, about the same as last year. First will be the Silver King event, 72 holes of medal play, starting April 13.

Von Nida won three of his big prizes while playing with a set of American clubs given him by a United States professional, Johnny Bulla, at the British open championship.

The success with American sticks persuaded him to try his luck in the United States. He did for two months of the 1948 winter circuit, but acquired only a few minor purses and hastened back here to greener fairways.

NEW YORK, April 6.—(AP).—Manager Ben Chapman of Philadelphia Phils today picked rookie Richie Ashburn as his starting left fielder for opening day. Ashburn has been with the Phils all spring, although under contract to their Toronto farm.

Catcher Aaron Robinson of the Chicago White Sox says the Sox are better than they look. "If we hustle," he says, "and if everybody bears down and gives his best every minute, then I don't see why we can't finish in the first division."

ORLANDO, Fla., April 6. — (AP).—Outfielder Leon Culberson rejoined the Washington Senators today after being benched with injuries. Another outfielder, Gil Coan, is still out with a sprained ankle.

Detroit manager Steve O'Neill today described rookie shortstop Neil Berry as a player who "sure has everything." Berry is one of three battling for the No. 1 shortstop job.

New York Giants' first string outfield will be Bobby Thomson, Whitey Lockman and Willard Marshall. Manager Mel Ott said yesterday Thomson would be his centre fielder with Lockman playing left and Marshall right.

Graziano Fans Way To Win; No Knockouts

WASHINGTON, Apri 6 (AP).—If there's anything that middleweight boxing champion Rocky Graziano doesn't need, it's a rest cure. He showed that last night as he defeated Sonny Horne of Valley Stream, N.Y., in a non-title bout that went the full 10 rounds. He also showed that he will need plenty of work if he expects to defend his title successfuly against Tony Zale June 9.

Graziano is famed for his knockout punch but it was completely unemployed last night. Repeatedly Graziano swung, and repeatedly he missed, sometimes by as much as six inches.

Yet so powerful is Graziano—a stocky little character with the muscles of a 250-pounder— that his glancing blows did more damage than the straight ones from the light-jabbing Horne.

At the end Horne had bad cuts over both eyes, and looked tuckered out. Graziano didn't have a mark on him and looked as if he was ready to fan Horne for another 10 rounds.

The judges all voted for Graziano, but many of the 5,181 customers booed when the decision was announced.

Graziano, who at 160 weighed a pound less than Horne, pretty well summed up the situation in the dressing room after the fight.

"I needed this one," he said. "If they don't ban me out of the ring, they'll rust me out."

He was referring, of course, to the fact that he hasn't fought since he won the title from Zale last summer.

New York has banned him because he failed to mention that someone tried to bribe him. Illinois and 13 other states have barred him because he once wandered off from the army without bothering to ask the army's consent.

Flyers Win Olympic Title In Rags-To-Riches Story

By NORMAN ALTSTEDTER

NEW YORK, April 6 (CP). — This is the rags-to-riches story of a hockey team which once again has raised Canada to top position in world amateur competition.

The hastily-formed RCAF Flyers, victories in seven countries behind them, return today from Europe bearing the Olympic title and other honors gained in a three-month tour of the Continent and England and Scotland. Their chief prize is the Olympic title, lost by Canada 12 years ago to England at Garmisch-Partenckirchen, Germany.

The team, which Canadian sports writers wished well but gave little chance of victory when it left Ottawa early last January, disembarks from the liner Queen Mary to a vociferous welcome led by RCAF officers and prominent Canadians resident in New York. The team leaves for Ottawa tonight by train.

Behind the Canadian Olympic team as it returned to the port whence it sailed last January 9 is a triumphant 15,000-mile trip. Of 42 exhibition games in a post-Olympic 76-day tour, the Flyers last only five and drew six. They won 31. At St. Moritz, scene of the squall-studded Winter Olympics, they played eight games without a loss, battling to a scoreless tie with Czechoslovakia in one contest. The Flyers beat out the Czechs for the title on the basis of a better goal average.

Rules Hindrance.

The Olympic rules which aided Canada's victory almost, at one stage, kept the Dominion out of the competition and at another, held that the hockey contests were not Olympic sports.

When the question of which team would represent Canada in the Winter Olympics was broached last year, the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, governing body of the sport in the Dominion, held that no representative Canadian team could qualify under the Olympic definition of an amateur. For a time it looked as though no attempt would be made to regain Olympic hockey laurels.

But Sqdn. Ldr. A. G. (Sandy) Watson, Chief Medical Officer at RCAF Headquarters, had other ideas. He topped his plan to have an Air Force team represent Canada by leading it overseas as manager.

Civilians were added to the squad when it became apparent that the service team couldn't hope to win out over the strong European aggregations.

Assured Market For Farmers For Many Years, Kennedy Claims

TORONTO, April 6 — (CP) — Farmers will have a assured market for all they can produce for many years to come, Agriculture Minister Kennedy told the Ontario Legsilature yesterday.

Col. Kennedy delivered a lengthy address outlining work of his department during consideratio of agriculture estimates, which in total call for more than $8,000,000 to be expended on agriculture this year.

"The world is more short of food than at any previous time in modern history, and that shortage is going to continue," the minister said. "The populatoin of the world is growing more rapidly than its capacity to produce food to feed the people of al nations...

"With that world picture before them, the farmers of Ontario have every reason to be hopeful and optimistic that so long as they do a good job of production, there will be markets for all they can produce."

Col. Kennedy expressed the opinion that agriculture should not be too closely controlled by the government. He said the department has been continuing its policy, originated in 1943, of interfering with the farmers as little as possible.

Col. Kennedy said Ontario livestock men have become far too dependent on shipments of western feed grain as indicated last fall when ceilings were removed at a time when there was short supply.

More Grain Production

As a result Ontario farmers were planning increased feed grain production. They had set an objective of 200,000,000 bushels for 1948, amounting to 50,000,000 bushels more than the 10-year-average for the province.

In the forefront of the Departmen's program for livestock is expansion of artificial insemination units to all parts of the province, Col. Kennedy said. He noted that three units have been licensed since the act control artificial insemination was passed last year.

These were at Maple, in York county, Kemptville for eastern Ontario and Essex for that district of western Ontario. The minister said Kent county would receive service from Essex this year.

Two other centres, at Belleville and Hamilton, are in the process of organization.

Lowers Cost

Effect of the program, Col. Kennedy said, is to lower costs of milk production by increasing output for those who take advantage of artificial insemination.

The minister expressed belief that with calfhood vaccination being organized on a township basis, Bang's disease and mastitis will "be reduced so that it will no longer be a constant menace and threat to dairying, but will become only a minor nuisance until it is completely eradicated."

Plans for 1948 call for initiation of a cow-testing project to see results of artificial insemination. In addition, results of the survey of hog production would be made available to all farmers to demonstrate improved methods "which are proven most successful in promoting greater profits."

Col. Kennedy said one of the objectives of the Department is to raise the quality of beef cattle so that in future years when there is more competition on the world market there will be high quality both for export and home consumption.

Need Market Facilities

"Probably the greatest need of our farmers in marketing has been the need for proper food terminal market facilities," Col. Kennedy said. "These are coming. The land has been purchased, graded and well drained and the plans are drawn for a terminal market that will be second to none on the North American continent. This will cheapen food for every consumer in the province."

Farquhar Oliver, Leader of the Opposition, rose after Col. Kennedy to advocate research for development of other uses for agricultural projects than food. This was for the day when there would be more produce than could be marketed. Such developments, he said, could go a long way toward stabilizing agriculture.

He said the province has only been "fooling" with cold storage up to now. Mr. Oliver suggested the government take steps to encourage expansion of cold storage facilities.

Plan $25,000 Drive Soon For Marmora Covered Rink

MARMORA, April 6—(ENS)—Plans were formulated for the erection of a covered rink in Marmora at a meeting convened in the Town Hall, Wednesday by the rink planning committee of the Marmora Chamber of Commerce.

Bernard Hughes, chairman gave a brief outline of what had been accomplished since the committee was formed. Estimates of the prices and information on the availability of materials for the project have been secured. Suitable material can be secured it was stated.

It is estimated that the complete project would entail the expenditure of $25,000. A campaign to raise this money is to be launched soon.

Already a substantial amount has been promised and the feeling is with residents, realizing the need for a suitable rink, there will be willingness to help finance it.

The proposal is to build the rink just inside the north gate of the Fair grounds. The local Agricultural Society has expressed its willingness to co-operate in this matter. The executive named to lay the ground work for the campaign consists of: chairman, Bernard Hughes; vice-chairman, William Shannon; secretary, Ralph Neal; treasurer, Alex Fraser.

Committees were suggested to represent Marmora, Deloro and Cordova and Marmora and Rawdon Townships. They will be named later.

Park St. Lot Available For New Arena

An "if and when" condition relating to the city's Park St. lot as possibly an eventual site for a secondary rink was erased from the board of works report to the Council Monday night.

"It sounds like defeatism," said Hurrel Dodds, chairman, who presented the report.

The recommendation was: "That the city-owned property on Park St. south be made available as the site for the proposed civic arena if and when the plans for the arena building have been approved by the city council."

The council accepted the Dodds amendment which presumed financial success for the proposed hockey rink.

Several members had suggested in committee that the promoters of the rink were asking for too much land, more than they needed. This lot extends from Park St. back to the C.P.R. with siding advantage which a generation of ratepayers has considered of prospective industrial value.

The answer to that objection was that the rear of the lot, lying along the C.P.R., would provide ample parking space.

Recent concern about the alternative of confining the rink to the east half of the property was not even mentioned as the council removed the conditional phrase from the board of works report.

It now authorizes the council to make the entire property available as the hockey rink site.

Floyd Foster Walker, of Crawford's Grove, who was reported missing on Friday night, returned home at four o'clock on Monday afternoon. He offered no explanation other than saying that he had been away "on business" and it was his own affair. Major Charles Watt, of the Salvation Army, was at Walker's home at the time to arrange assistance to Mrs. Walker and her two children.

Every Canadian Plays Part In Tourist Trade

The tourist industry in Ontario was the subject of an address by C. D. Crowe, Director of the Development Branch, Ontario Department of Travel and Publicity, at the Rotary luncheon on Monday at the Y.M.C.A. He said that one source of revenue which did not suffer during the depression years was that from the tourist industry, with the result that since then there has been an increasing expansion until now it is, according to Premier George Drew, the fourth largest revenue producer. Last year visitors from the United States spent $243,000,-000 dollars in Canada and over 18,000,000 people visited Ontario.

"Everybody is in the tourist industry," he said, "whether they like it or not, and the benefits of its revenue are more widely spread than ever before.

Mr. Crowe stressed the importance of a general improvement in accommodation. The Tourist Camp Regulation Act was intended to assist such improvement and wipe out certain black spots in the province. He disagreed that the publicity given to fish and game would hasten the extinction of wild life, and said that most visitors came for touring and sightseeing and not for sport.

Outline Organization

He then outlined the organization of the Department of Travel and Publicity, which is trying to promote an all-the-year-round season and develop winter sports. As for the future of the industry, he ended by saying, "I see no reason why the normal growth of the tourist industry should not continue."

Mr. Crowe was introduced by Robert Maybee and thanked by Gordon Craveth.

The playlot was provided by Housing Enterprises Limited in their plans of the subdivision. The petition was referred to the parks committee.

The Peterborough girls were elated over their triumph, the more so because when they left the city on Friday morning they did not expect to place in the star-packed American competition.

No War In Near Future Dutch Ambassador Affirms To the Kiwanis Club

Dr. J. H. Van Roijen, Netherlands Ambassador to Canada, on Monday outlined to the Peterborough Kiwanis Club the difficulties of his country in the post-war world, re-affirmed the friendship between Canadians and Dutch, and expressed the opinion there would be no war in the immediate future, in an address "The Netherlands and Its Position in the World Today." An official reception with leading civic and county officials attending was given Dr. Van Roijen prior to his addressing the weekly luncheon held at the Kawartha Club.

"I firmly believe that those at the present time and for some years to come, who can make war, do not want to do so, and those who might want to, cannot. I further agree with those who hold that present-day war does not start because of a gun going off or a plane being shot down somewhere; in such cases if there is no will to war on either side, there will be no war, but a local incident."

Consolidating Position

He posed the question whether the Communist coup in Czechoslovakia should be considered as a consolidation of the Communist position or "a move on the international chess-board" leading to war. And he contended that the former view was correct in his opinion.

But he added the warning note: "All this is on condition that all western democracies remain prepared."

War starts, he said, if one of two parties thinks it can get away with it or if one becomes so frightened it commits aggression to forestall possible moves by the other.

Referring to his homeland he said "If there is another war all we have done toward the rehabilitation and reconstruction of our country will be lost. . . . I firmly believe there will be no war at the present time and for some years in the future."

Dr. Van Roijen emphasized the strong bond between Canadians and Dutch, particularly due to the liberation of Dutch land from the Germans: a campaign in which Canadian troops played a leading part.

While it was a fact that conquered peoples always hailed a deliverer, he said the "wonderful part is that after your troops remained they were still popular."

Tribute was paid by the Ambassador to the statesmanship of Canadian generals who moved swiftly and efficiently to alleviate the hunger and suffering of the Dutch people, particularly in the winter of 1944-45.

Thousands Of Lives Saved

The German commander, Blaskowitz, was persuaded to allow food truck into German-occupied territory; and explosive charges in the Zuider Zee were removed by the enemy before they retired, thus saving thousands of lives.

Ties of good-will with Canada were also strengthened by the feelings of "affection and gratitude with which the royal family looks back on the years in your country."

This year approximately 10,000 Dutch immigrants will be coming to the Dominion. Of the 3,000 who came last year he said they were "making out well and becoming good and satisfactory Canadian citizens."

He briefly sketched the history of the Netherlands for his listeners. The country contained 9,-500,000 population in an area of 15,000 square miles. With three of Europe's greatest rivers running through it — the Rhine, Schelde, and Maas—and its geographical position, it bred a race of seafarers, traders and explorers. In the struggle for independence and also against the sea (45 per cent. of the land is below sea level), he said the national character was formed.

Not Agricultural Land

In a reference to the war he said, "The struggle gave the nation a certain amount of permissible pride. We may need help from other nations for the first time in our history but we have come out of it all with our heads high."

Continuing the summary of the Netherlands' post-war problems, he pointed out that construction steel and wood were in very short supply. Industry and trade were also lagging.

Countering the impression that it was largely an agricultural country, he said that industry accounted for 40 per cent. of business, while agriculture accounted for 20 per cent.

"You can understand with what gratitude and thankfulness the Marshall Plan was received in Holland," he said.

As an aid to ERP he pointed out that the Benelux countries had abolished tariffs among themselves at the beginning of the year. They now act as an economic unit of 20,000,000 people. Before the war, the three countries had 5.4 per cent. of the world's trade; now they take third or fourth place.

Concluding he said: "Holland will in her own way continue to cultivate her garden. She will remain true to the proud device

Apathy of Public and Press Assailed

Failure To Take Interest In Naturalization Ceremonies Criticized

His Honor Judge S. L. Smoke spoke critically of the lack of public participation during a ceremony at the Court House Monday afternoon when four "new" Canadians were presented with citizenship papers. "There is a certain amount of apathy on the part of the public that they do not attend our courts more," said Judge Smoke, "and perhaps certain apathy on the part of the press that they do not give more publicity so that the public would know when courts are being held."

The men who received their citizenship certificates were John Anderson, Athanease Antonopoulos, Zaven Ardemian and Lauri Heinonen.

"Functions of this kind," said his honor, referring to the citizenship ceremony, "to my mind should receive the greatest publicity. I regret the fact that no publicity to speak of has been given, and that the court room is nearly empty."

Addresses of Welcome

During the ceremony His Excellency Bishop Gerald Berry, the Rev. Dr. James Semple and His Honor Judge Smoke addressed words of welcome to the four new citizens.

"We are not immature old people. We are still young," said Bishop Berry. "But we need the contributions that can be brought by new citizens, by men who swear fidelity to this great country and race, by men who pledge themselves and their families to be loyal citizens.

"You are entering into a new possession today. You acquire rights in this country and you join the company of millions of other men, many of them born here, but many also like yourselves who came from afar and have settled here to become part of the loyal citizenry of Canada," he said.

"There are great fears in the world. There have been during the past 10 years great fears within countries where citizens have subscribed to foreign ideaologies and have forgotten their responsibilities to their country, and gone out to help destroy their own countries. The hope in making this ceremony a solemn one, in bringing you to the solemn atmosphere of a court room with the dignity that belongs to a British court of justice, has been done so that you may appreciate the rights that are given to you today as a citizen, and also that you may appreciate the responsibility of a citizen in taking a part in the life of this country," said his excellency.

Bishop Berry pointed out that citizenship did not merely mean enjoying a living or reaping the benefits of life in Canada but that "you may be active citizens. That you may use the vote that is given to you to promote the interests of the country.

"Canada did not spring up over night," said the bishop, "it was a long process. We have a people of many races and several religions, but they have learned to live side by side in peace and harmony. They wish to promote the greatness of Canada!"

Following congratulations to the new Canadians, Dr. Semple spoke of the meaning behind the word citizenship. "In this court room today you see a flag. Men have followed that flag into battle, men have wrapped it around their breasts; they have dyed its folds with their heart's blood. When we see this flag we think of the King and we remember our loyalty to it.

"There is something else in our citizenship—that is obedience to its laws. It is the duty of a citizen to take a direct part in all that we believe to be for the best of the state. Today you will be granted the power to vote. I hope you will regard your vote as a sacred matter. I also hope you will see citizenship as an investment. You can make an investment in citizenship, and according to what you put into it, so may you expect returns that will be satisfactory to you."

Referring to the great heritage that is Canada's, his honor said: "To be worthy of such heritage should be your chief ambition. I am satisfied that you gentlemen will always have that ambition before you, which, if you do, will result in your being citizens of the highest character in this country."

Advances Made In Nursing Outlined By Miss Thomson

"Few know the advances being made in the nursing profession today," said Miss A. L. Thomson, superintendent of Peterborough Civic Hospital and principal of the school of nursing, who was guest speaker at the Women's Auxiliary meeting Monday afternoon in the YWCA. "There are still many who think the only definition of a nurse is 'devoted and obedient'," she continued, in her talk on "Newer trends in nurse education."

"Nursing today is a vocation, absolutely," Miss Thomson declared. "A nurse now takes her place in the community life and is part of it. She lives a normal life, working only eight hours a day—a great change from days past." The speaker reminded her listeners that the shorter working day was adopted in Peterborough in 1940 before it was accepted by any other hospital. Authorities here were first to realize a nurse has every right to proper living conditions and leisure time for enjoyment.

History shows the first independent school of nursing was founded in 1860 by Florence Nightingale. Educated women were given one year training to take a place as leaders and teach others. This advance caused more furore among the women, particularly the old maids—unmarried women over 25—who saw a chance to escape from being a life-long slave to Uncle Henry. By 1900 there had been a tremendous growth in hospitals, but the nurses worked 18 hours a day and were on call for 24.

The system of taking nurses in on apprenticeship basis came into general use and the hospital had full control of their lives. By 1928 it was well-known that some undesirable conditions existed so a survey of nursing was demamnded and a committee, of which Dr. G. S. Cameron of Peterborough was a member, made a thorough four-year investigation. Result was installation of certain definite rules and regulatons.

The standard curriculum for student nurses in Canada, adopted in 1936, was a great step forward which Miss Thomson heartily endorses. "This basic course is obtainable in every hospital, regardless of size, though some larger ones do add frills, but they are frills only," she explained.

The educational standard required for admittance of trainees is secondary school graduation diploma, with a controlled equivalent. The profession is on the verge of "licensing," which may call for certain changes, to bring all on a par with University trained nurses.

To overcome the present shortage of nurses an independent school of nursing has been instituted this year by the Canadian Nursing Association. Students enrolled in the two-year basic [illegible] Metropolitan Hospital, Windsor, under Miss Nellie Fiddler of University of Toronto. This plan to reduce the length of the course and train nurses through concentrated study followed by some practical experience, rather than as part-time staff assistants for three years, is the first radical change of the century. "It should result in economy of money, time and substance," said Miss Thomson.

The "block system" in use at Civic Hospital at the present time has been put into effect by Miss Thomson herself, and though she admittedly finds it somewhat difficult to administrate, it is working very smoothly. Senior, intermediate and junior student groups each go off wards for consecutive periods of four to six weeks and spend eight hours per day on lectures and study only. With a slight increase in staff personnel, the superintendent is now assured of uninterrupted nursing service to her patients, and she also feels the students are getting ideal opportunity to learn their work.

Mrs. C. H. Huffman expressed the feeling of all members in thanking Miss Thomson for her informative address which gave them an insight into the new trends of nurse education not generally known. A few questions were asked regarding the new school of nursing at Windsor.

Newest service to patients by the Women's Auxiliary is a pair of bootees to the mother of each new baby, nicely packaged in cellophane showing the pretty hand-knit designs in pink for girls and blue for boys. The first issue of 19 pairs was given on Easter Sunday and another 19 have been distributed since. Mrs. Frank Barrie is convener of this plan and will give wool and instructions for making bootees to anyone wishing to help.

Mrs. W. T. Fanjoy, convener of the travelling library, said 189 adult and 4 juvenile books had been used, and the service offered to 434 patients during the past three months. Special covers have been ordered for the magazines, to keep better track of them, and about 30 new books are ordered. Mrs. H. A. Mitchell reported for the decorations committee that 88 favors were placed on Easter trays at Civic Hospital and 12 in the isolation wards. Cards of greeting were sent to those on special diets. In this connection, Miss Thomson told members of the deep pleasure taken by her patients, especially the older persons, in receiving an Easter egg. Bi-weekly calls of the travelling tuck shop are continuing under direction of Miss Margaret English. Report of the visiting committee showed an average of 70 contracts per month in the quarterly term.

Members saw the film, "Feeling of Rejection" with interest. Mrs. Fanjoy operated the projector.

QUEEN MARY SCHOOL

"Recreation" was the topic on Monday evening at the meeting of Queen Mary Home and School Association. Mrs. R. Cole introduced Mrs. Mary Phippen, instructor in handicrafts at Dixon House. She began her talk by telling how children learned to spin and weave as a matter of every-day living a hundred years ago, but with inventions of machinery this changed and handicrafts became almost a lost art. Modern educators and community leaders have found that craftwork is the answer to many problems. Mrs. Phippen displayed handsome articles of leatherwork, metalcraft and weaving, explaining the different steps in their manufacture.

Mrs. Jack Kirkwood spoke on the drama as a means of recreation. She told how theatre consciousness in Canada is being fostered by children's theatres, and of the organization of such a group here in the YWCA. She spoke also of the difficulties and the benefits of the project.

Mrs. C. Crowe expressed appreciation to the speakers.

Announcement was made of the PCVS Home and School meeting to be held May 5 to acquaint parents of children about to enter Collegiate with the courses and curriculum.

Mention was made of the Kiwanis Musical Festival winners and Miss M. Stenton, leader of the junior choir, was congratulated on her success.

Mrs. C. G. Collins, president, expressed sincere appreciation to Mrs. J. Walker, program convener, and her committee, for excellent work during the year. Attendance prize was won by Miss Hooey's room.

Mrs. M. G. Hardill of the YWCA camp committee described the advantages of Camp Inglestane, Stony Lake, for a girl's summer vacation.

Mrs. O. Jameson led a short sing-song during the evening. Refreshments wer served by Mrs. R. Burnside and her committee.

CENTRAL SCHOOL

Mr. Don Munro, principal of King George school, was guest speaker at Central Home and School meeting Monday evening, speaking on "guidance." Mr. Munro pointed out that present-day education with crowded class rooms has robbed teachers of the opportunity to give individual assistance and guidance that should be part of the school set-up. The most impressionable period in a child's life is being spent in school and teachers should concern themselves with their progress. Assistance should also be given through school libraries, visual aids, social studies, films and literature and should be used toward a goal. There are 15,000 different occupations to choose from and guidance is needed to assist the young people by showing them the weak points and outlining various vocations. Surveys show that nearly 50 p.c. of secondary students have no occupation choice because proper information is not given. Most boys choose engineering and medicine, while girls take nursing, stenography and teaching. Many choose out of line with their ability and capability and are not happy and content in their work.

"Life consists of more than making a living and everyone enjoys work for which he is best suited and will benefit others more in it," he said.

Mr. Munro was introduced by Miss Lillian Esplen and thanked by Miss P. Bennett.

A musical number by Miss Marguerite Rome's rhythm band was much enjoyed.

Mrs. S. Malsch, acting president since Mrs. R. Davidson's resignation, was unanimously appointed to carry on until the end of the term, and presided for the meeting.

Mrs. T. J. Carley of the YWCA camp committee, spoke briefly, recommending Y Camp Inglestane on Stony lake for school girls. She outlined the activities and personnel. Mrs. P. D. Howden, health convener, reported on the recent dinner and meeting. OEA convention reports were heard from Mrs. W. Davidson and Mrs. Malsch.

Mrs. L. Brown and assistants served refreshments.

GUEST SPEAKER — Mrs. Harry Singer of Montreal, who was guest speaker at the banquet given by Peterborough Chapter of Hadassah over the week-end, when the 24th anniversary was celebrated. Mrs. Singer is the national president of Canadian Hadassah.

Find Unhappy Individuals Have Grouchy Dispositions

Dorothy Dix

DID YOU EVER realize that the most unhappy people are those whose worst enemy is themselves? That the lonely people are those who cannot bear their own society, and that the bored people are the ignorant who have no resources within themselves.

There are no other people in the world for whom I feel so sorry as I do for those who have bad dispositions. The people who are glum and grouchy. The people who are filled with bitterness and envy and jealousy and malice and spite, who see the worst in everybody, who have no friends and who even alienate the affections of their own families from them.

Now we can avoid these meanies and seek pleasanter company, but the curse upon them is that they can never get away from themselves. They have to live with themselves. Think of the horror of having to endure such a companionship through the years, and have pity upon them!

Our personality is always with us. We cannot escape that, so unless we are right with ourselves, we are wrong with the universe. Unless we can approve of our own conduct, the applause of others is as nothing to us.

Cannot Escape Selves.

If our parents are pessimistic and make home a depressing place, we leave them as soon as possible. If our husbands and wives are violent-tempered and uncongenial and hard to get along with, we can divorce them. But we cannot get away from ourselves. It seems to me that we do not sufficiently appreciate this fact, nor realize how important it is to provide ourselves with good company during the long journeys through life.

Surely if we did, more people would cultivate a pleasant, amiable disposition, for there are few men and women who are more disagreeable to be brought in daily contact with than peevist, irritable ones who are always flying into rages and who always have a feud on with someone. Why, then, should one choose as one's most intimate companion an individual whose nerves are always shaken to pieces by storms, and whose very blood is poisoned with hate?

If people would consider how long they have to be together, they would cultivate a cheerful outlook on life. Nobody seeks the society of Gloomy Guses and Calamity Janes. On the contrary, those we enjoy being with are the genial, courageous optimists, who snap their fingers at Fate and carry on with a gay laugh on their lips, even when the sledding gets hard.

Why, then, shouldn't we provide ourselves with a high-hearted companion, who will whistle and keep our spirits up during the long march, instead of tying up with a whiner and a complainer who will always look on the dark side of things and sap our strength by taking the spirit out of us?

Surely, as we have to endure our own society so long, it is worth providing ourselves with an interesting companion. Someone who will never bore us, because he has read and thought and observed and traveled and made his mind a storehouse of thrilling memories into which he has only to dip and bring out something interesting with which to entertain us. We would never tire of such a one.

So let's all try to make ourselves better company for ourselves.

THE STARS SAY....

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Wednesday, April 7

The progressive state of affairs seems suddenly endangered by a false move, wrong decision, or the intervention of an unusual, abrupt and perhaps devastating or shattering event or experience. Under pressure of strain, suddenness, or excitement, the judgment may be warped or erroneous, opening the way for tricky, "phoney" or singular contacts in which finances, plans, even personal or romantic relations are in jeopardy. For combatting this it is as well to safeguard all avenues of loss or peril.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may be startled into restless or excitable conduct by the sudden advent of an unusual, irregular or inexplicable circumstance, which tends to threaten or upset a train of progressive programs and subject them to tricky, false or suspicious entanglements. The plans, objectives, affiliations, business and private, may assume erratic or curious proportions. Emotional impulses may magnify such perils and turn them into devastating channels. Hold the ground until the predicament may be solved by time and circumstance.

A child born on this day may be easily set off its balance by untoward events, or by its own emotional rather than objective urges or temperament.

More Women In Public Jobs Needed – Senator Iva Fallis

VICTORIA, B.C., April 6 (CP) The country would benefit if more women were in public affairs, in the opinion of Senator Iva C. Fallis, Peterborough.

Senator Fallis said in an interview that women of Canada had been "practically ignored" in representation on international bodies, "and it's about time they were given a voice in peacetime work."

Women had been showered with compliments, "but it has never yet been recognized by men in high places that women have earned a right by their work and sacrifice during the war to a voice in the counsels of peace.

"There should be more women on international commissions and organizations. Canada hasn't recognized her women in that way.

"It is very important that women today realize that they are not living in the same world their grandmothers lived in. Their voice and influence is needed in the international and national field."

Women Senators took their place in the Senate just like men, she said. "Probably the most useful function of the Senate is to give people of Canada a chance to think twice about legislation. A bill sometimes passes quickly through the Commons without public discussion. By the time it reaches the Senate, the public has had a chance to be informed and opinion is crystallized. Many bills are amended in the Senate.

BC Laws Make "Sly Drinkers" – Lady Innkeeper

VANCOUVER, April 6 (CP).—Lora Kirby who sold thousands of gallons of liquor to Canadian servicemen at Tottenham Court Road's farmed Horseshoe Inn in England, is critical of British Columbia liquor laws.

Her father recently sold Horseshoe Inn and Miss Kirby, a teetotaller, is here to investigate business possibilities.

"B.C. liquor laws make people sly drinkers," she said in an interview. "The way to make people drink less is to let them see the full bottles and know they are available. When they have become used to the sight, they won't want them."

Charge FDR Forced Japs Into Firing First

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 6.—(AP).—Historian Charles A. Beard contends that the late President Roosevelt secretly committed the United States to military action months before Pearl Harbor and "manoeuvred" the Japanese into firing the first shots.

In a book published today by the Yale University press, Beard declares Roosevelt considered war inevitable as early as October, 1940, when he was making re-election campaign speeches asserting that American military forces would not be sent to fight in foreign wars.

The book, "President Roosevelt and the coming of war, 1941. A study of appearances and realities," is based on the historian's study of hearings and exhibits published by the joint Congressional committee on Pearl Harbor and hundreds of other documents.

Beard traces the course of American affairs from the campaign speeches of both Roosevelt and Wendell Willkie in 1940 through the lend-lease bill, the Atlantic conference of August, 1941, and the attack of Pearl Harbor.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

NOT SMART BUT DUMB

SOME unorthodox moves, such as bids with much less general strength than they ordinarily indicate, are fraught with great danger to your side. Protection of your interests against disaster may depend later upon real keenness in your partner to realize what you had been doing. If you have a more or less cut and dried type of player opposite you, it is very risky to try anything not based on the usually indicated strength. With an unimaginative mate, such "smart" maneuvers are not smart, but dumb.

	♠ A K ♥ A Q 10 7 ♦ 6 2 ♣ K J 5 3 2
♠ 8 7 4 ♥ 4 3 2 ♦ A K Q 9 5 ♣ 9 8	N W E S	♠ Q J 10 6 3 ♥ K J ♦ J 8 ♣ A Q 10 7
	♠ 9 5 2 ♥ 9 8 6 5 ♦ 10 7 4 3 ♣ 6 4

(Dealer: North. Both sides vulnerable.)

North	East	South	West
1 ♣	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
1 ♥	Pass	Pass	Dbl
2 ♣	Dbl	2 ♥	Pass
Pass	2 ♠	Pass	Pass

That bidding occurred at one table of a pair duplicate and brought a tirade from North at South for leaving in the double with such a weak hand and such a good heart fit. South had to listen a while before he could edge in a plea for himself.

"When I made my first bid of 1-Diamond it was only because I hoped it might be followed by a bid of some other suit from you," said he. "When you called hearts, I was tickled to death, so passed. That should have been the tip-off to you on my hand being worthless as far as high cards are concerned. Then when you later got doubled in 2-Clubs, I took out the opponents' double from clubs into 2-Hearts, again letting you know my hand was no good except in support of hearts."

It was after that, of course, that North doubled the 2-Spades.

"I knew you had complete knowledge of my worthless hand by then," said South, "and therefore considered you were doubling entirely on your own hand. It was not up to me to take it out."

A kibitzer then violated etiquette by butting in. He pointed out that South's bids would have won for the pair by keeping East-West out of a sure spade game, but North's double had switched the pair from top score to bottom. A dorbitzer, listening to the kibitzer, later commented that the crux of the trouble was simple. South should not have attempted such risky tactics with a partner of North's type.

Tomorrow's Problem

(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable.)

Against South's No Trump game, what should East play after West leads the spade 4 and dummy plays the K?

And that the one we loved so well
Has just gone on before.

Won't Let Russians Remove Parts From Wrecked Plane

By LYNN HEINZERLING

BERLIN, April 6 — (AP). — Even in the face of death and disaster, Berlin's east-west conflict does not abate.

The bodies of 14 men and women of the west lay on a damp slope in the Russian zone of Berlin for hours after they died in a flaming plane yesterday. Russian troops on guard said they had received no orders to release the bodies to waiting ambulances.

A Russian plane crashed into the British plane shortly after noon yesterday. It took four hours to agree on how and when the body of the Russian pilot should be extricated from the ruins of his plane, which fell in the British sector of the city.

The Russians reached both planes first. They threw armed guards around them. The first British troops to reach the scene could not approach.

Maj.-Gen. E. O. Herbert, commander of British troops in Berlin, then arrived at the wreckage of the Soviet plane. He ordered all Russian troops, except one guard, off the field. Then he deployed British troops all around.

Immitate Order

Word of this action percolated back to the Russian command. The Soviet forces then permitted one British soldier to stand guard over the wreckage of the British plane, in the Soviet zone.

He was allowed to retrieve some of the bodies but not to remove them to the waiting ambulances.

American photographers tried to get pictures. Russian soldiers chased them away with tommy-guns.

They confiscated and destroyed some of the film exposed on the wreck. Down at the wreck of the Russian plane, photographers could get no further than the cordon of British troops. The Russian guard here also was barring close-ups.

Finally, nearly four hours after the crash, a Russian major drove up in an American lend-lease truck. He wanted to take the Russian pilot's body away.

The major addressed himself to Lt.-Col. John Corbett, deputy British provost marshal.

Can't Take Plane

"Yes," said Corbett, "you may take the body. But I and this RAF officer are going with you to see that no parts of the plane are taken."

The Russian agreed. Then he tried to beat the British party to the wreck. A six-foot British military policeman stepped in front of the truck and stood with folded arms. The British officers got to the wreckage first.

The Russian major offered cigarets to the British soldiers as his men wrapped the body in a sheet.

"What do those photographers back there want?" he asked the colonel. "They're all mad."

The ambulance which came with the truck broke down and had to be towed off the field. Then the Russian towing chains broke. British military police shoved the ambulance out into the road.

Just then a Russian air force captain arrived.

"We would like to take the plane with us," he said.

"No," said Corbett.

Pan Investigation

"We want to make an investigation," said the Russian.

"I should think so," said the British officer.

The Russians asked if they could put a guard at the wreckage. The British official said that would be all right. The Russian officer then said one of the Russian sentries previously posted had disappeared. Corbett said they would notify the Russians if the sentry is found.

Then the air force captain went away.

A mile away, 14 bodies sprawled in and near the wreckage of the British plane. A British soldier stood guard, surrounded by Russians. Ambulances waited 100 yards away.

Finally, early this morning the orders came down from the Russian commander and the bodies were removed. They had been in the wreckage nearly 12 hours.

Girl Swimmers

they would swim to the accompaniment of "Humoresque."

Accepting the invitation of Earnest Stengel, head of swimming activities in Detroit, the duet was given an hospitable welcome and invited to use the local pools for practising.

When they entered the screening test on Friday afternoon to see if they were of a high competitive standard, they received a good hand from the onlookers.

Despite a last-minute break in the routine to conform with American requirements for the meet, the girls gave such an excellent performance that they took the title from some 42 crack teams entered from widely scattered parts of the United States.

The sustained applause which greeted the judges' decision making them winners was as great as though they had been Americans. Mrs. Raymond Desrosier, chairman of A.A.U. Synchronized Swimming gave them high praise and asked them together with Mrs. Forbes, who accompanied them, to stay at her home for the remainder of their American stay.

Perhaps the greatest single tribut to their skill was the fact that Mr. Murphy Wales, Chicago, one of innovators of synchronized swimming, left for Detroit immediately when she heard of the upset victory. The two champions put on a special performance for her and she in turn said she could easily understand why the girls had won.

To Visit City

The mastery of difficult water routines and general style proved to be the chief reason for their win. Mrs. Desrosier was so enthused at their display that she has made arrangements to come to Peterborough when the local club puts on its exhibition on April 16 and 17 at the YWCA pool. She said she wanted to see how the whole club looked, if it could produce such talented performers.

Accompanying her will be the United States' senior champion, Anne Necky, who will give a demonstration of her swimming prowess.

Telegrams both before and after the victory were received by the girls. Jean Mowat, Canadian champion, wished them best of luck before they entered the Detroit pool. Since then congratulations have poured in.

Included was one from Gus Ryder, famed Canadian swimming coach, who sent a wire on behalf of the Lakeshore Swimming Club in Toronto. It said "The city of Peterborough which I know from past experience to be a good sporting centre can well be proud of your club's success."

Both Irene and Jean have been good swimmers from an early age. They have the Award of Merit from the Royal Life Saving Society; and both are instructors in the Red Cross. At present Iris is training for the gold medal in life-saving.

The victory has made them even more eager to win the Dominion championship for ornamental swimming being held in Montreal on May 29. If so they will add the coveted Galt Trophy to their American award.

Two American girls will come to train in Peterborough as members of the Peterborough Club, thus reciprocating the visit, as the foursome try for practice for the Canadian championship competition.

New Restaurant Well Received

The new United Restaurant on Charlotte St. opened on Saturday with so great a response from the public that the staff were quite unable to give the usual high standard of service obtainable in United restaurants. The restaurant has the most modern air conditioning plant, an acoustic ceiling to eliminate noise, and particular attention is paid to cleanliness in the handling and storage of all food and the washing of crockery and cutlery. The staff of 31 have all been recruited from the Peterborough district.

In a conversation with the manager, he said that he regretted the inconvenience patrons were put to on the opening day. He remarked that the entire staff did an excellent job under adverse conditions, and he was confident that in a few days the restaurant would be able to give the usual United service, of which he was

LADIES OF THE PRESS HAVE THEIR FUN—Someone, or something, is always reminding President Truman of the occasion when he played the piano with lovely Lauren Bacall perched on top. Latest reminder came from the Members of the U.S. Women's National Press Club who staged this tableau at the annual dinner for the president. Theme of the show this year: "Alice in Election Land." Vera Clay Higgins, of Newsweek, plays Alice here, while "White Rabbit Truman" is played by Dorothea Lewis, freelance radio writer. Striking the discord is the "Little Dormouse" who is Julia Bonwit, of the National Magazine feature service. The "Dormouse" is, of course, Governor Thomas A. Dewey, of New York.

Entire Village Suspect as Poison Pen Plague Back

ROBIN HOOD'S BAY, Yorkshire, England, April 6—(CP)—"The Vicar is very dull or he would have found out who is writing the letters."

With these taunting words, the "poison pen" plague has returned to this Yorkshire fishing village where each of the 800 immigrants regards his neighbor with suspicion.

Less than a week after Rev. Arthur Patrick brought the 20-year mystery into the open by reading a typical letter from his pulpit during an Easter Sunday sermon, the anonymous scourge of Robin Hood's Bay sent two more letters, adding to the collection of more than 2,000 received since 1928.

One of the latest letters was addressed to Mrs. H. A. Sayer, wife of the lay preacher at the vicar's church. It criticized her husband's preaching, said that the vicar should know byy now who vicar should know by now who insinuating reference to Mrs. Sayer's comments on the case.

Too Much Scandal

Yesterday, the village church was packed. Mr. Patrick had promised to read any more letters received. But at the last minute, he decided against it, saying that they contained "too much scandal."

When the flood of insulting letters started, some unsigned and some bearing fictitious names, the fisherfolk of this village on England's northeast coast were too frightened to do anything about it. Then Mr. Patrick, a comparative newcomer to the district, decided to make the matter public by reading a letter he had received calling the vicar and his wife "a couple of spivs."

The villagers then promptly came forward with letters received through the years. A police inspector was sent to the Bay with instructions to "find the writer."

But the villagers aren't satisfied. Today, the talk is of raising a "fighting fund" and hiring a private detective.

Honor Couple 42 Years Wed

MILLBROOK, April 6 (ENS)—A family reunion was held this week at the home of Councillor M. W. Ball and Mrs. Ball, Centre St., in honor of the 45th wedding anniversary of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Larmer, whose homestead is on the 7th Concession of Cavan, and who are life-long residents of that township.

The wedding date was March 24, 1903, and the marriage took place in the former Methodist, now St. Andrew's United Church, with the bride's uncle, Rev. James Hannan, Chatham, performing the ceremony, assisted by the resident minister, the late Rev. H. B. Kenny. Witnesses to the signing of the register were the late Miss Eva F. Gillott, and the groom's brother, the late Charles Larmer, Oshawa. Miss Mabel Clarry, now organist of Trinity United church, Peterborough, played the wedding music.

Highlighting the occasion was the presentation of a gold wrist watch to the bride, and a pen and pencil set to the groom. Their daughter, Mrs. Audrey Rosevear, Tyrone, read the address, and the gifts were offered by a grandson, A. J. Ball, and a nephew, Lawrence Larmer. Suitable reply was made by the guests of honor, and the evening's program was rounded out with music, card games, and the wedding supper. The lace-covered table was centred with the large, square wedding cake, bearing is quota of candles. The honor of cutting the cake was accorded to the bride with a ribbon tied silver knife.

Among the 25 guests present for the sapphire wedding anniversary were Mrs. Larmer's only brother, L. W. Smith, with his wife and family; the groom's only remaining sister, Mrs. Zillah Seaton, and his two brothers, R. O. Larmer, and Loftus Larmer, all of Millbrook and Cavan; their daughter, Mrs. S. J. Rosevear and baby daughter, of Tyrone, and their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Larmer, Downsview.

Much Has Been Completed In Partitioning Of Palestine

By WALTER O'HEARN

LAKE SUCESS, NY. — The important fact to remember about Palestine at this juncture is not that a special session of the General Assembly has been called; nor that some members of the Security Council want the Palestine Commission to cease functioning until the assembly meets.

The important fact, as observers here see very clearly, is that a great deal has already been done to bring about partition of the Holy Land.

In the fortnight since the United States brought forth its trusteeship proposal, the members of the Palestine Commission appointed by the last General Assembly, self styled "the five lonely pilgrims", have done more to accomplish their purpose in Palestine than they had done in the three months before. They have given the Jewish Agency a limited authority to proceed with their organization of a state. They have begun to organize an international police to protect the trust territory of Jerusalem. They have acted, indeed, as if the Security Council were not debating on their very existence. It can be argued that they have acted properly for the Security Council did not create the Palestine Commission and cannot destroy it.

So there is a definite possibility that before the General Assembly meets in special session, there will be in Palestine a de facto Jewish state and a de facto Arab state. You can find people who can claim that these exist today.

True, the two states are at each other's throats, and whether indeed a Jewish state surrounded by a determinedly hostile Arab world can be truly viable is another question.

Blueprint Shaping

But some observers, watching the Security Council yesterday unanimously call for a truce in Palestine, wondered whether this was not in itself a de facto recognition of two Palestine regimes. What follows? The United States has already drawn up or nearly completed a blueprint for trusteeship. This is to satisfy the doubts of such countries as Canada and France. Canada very properly wanted to know, before voting for trusteeship, whether it would work. So a trusteeship plan will be presented to the 57 nations when they meet. Opinion here is that it will have a rough passage but that it will be adopted.

What then? If a trustee is appointed in Palestine, where two regimes have already dug themselves in, can the trusteeship be enforced without the introduction of still another factor in the multilateral armed conflicts in Palestine?

So far as the truce is concerned Moshe Shertok of the Jewish Agency gave clear warning that his side would not yield to any truce overtures if such yielding meant an abandonment of partition. That may have sounded intransigent but in any contest of intransigence the Arabs are strong contenders.

As the invitations go out to the nations to meet once again on Palestine, the feeling here is not optimistic. There is a general impression that the Palestine issue is being settled now and on the spot by the simple arbitrament of blood.

Canada At Geneva

There were some raised eyebrows in UN circles when word came from Geneva that Canada, in conjunction with Russia, the Ukraine, Poland, Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia, had voted against an American-French resolution on censorship.

The resolution approved peacetime censorship for national military security.

The Canadian position, by all reports was very far indeed from the Russian one. Canada is against anw peacetime censorship. Venezuela and Belgium which reportedly abstained, feel the same way. The Russians are against military censorship but very strong for political censorship which they call "prevention of warmongering."

No one was rude enough — or naive enough — to suggest that Canada had aligned herself with the Slav bloc. But the comment was pretty general here that Canada had once again refused to toe the line for the United States. This new independent-mindedness of Canadian foreign policy is not condemned here. Even American newspapermen who do not feel a blind admiration for their own State Department are inclined to applaud it.

Some of them who remember Mr. Mackenzie King's statement on his return from Europe last winter, have developed quite a theory. They feel the Canadian Prime Minister was shaken by the world crisis as he saw its development and was not too confident of the measures American statesmanship was taking to meet it. They argue from this that Canadian policy since that time has been to act as a brake on American exuberance.

Whether that theory is right or not, Canadian action — as in the most recent Palestine debates —has tended to slow down some of the more headlong American rushes, although it has in no way changed their direction.

Mr. Kern, who arrived here today said he was told by police that entry was gained byforcing the doors on all three cottages. The break-ins were discovered by a neighbor. Gromyko To Boycott Partition Meeting

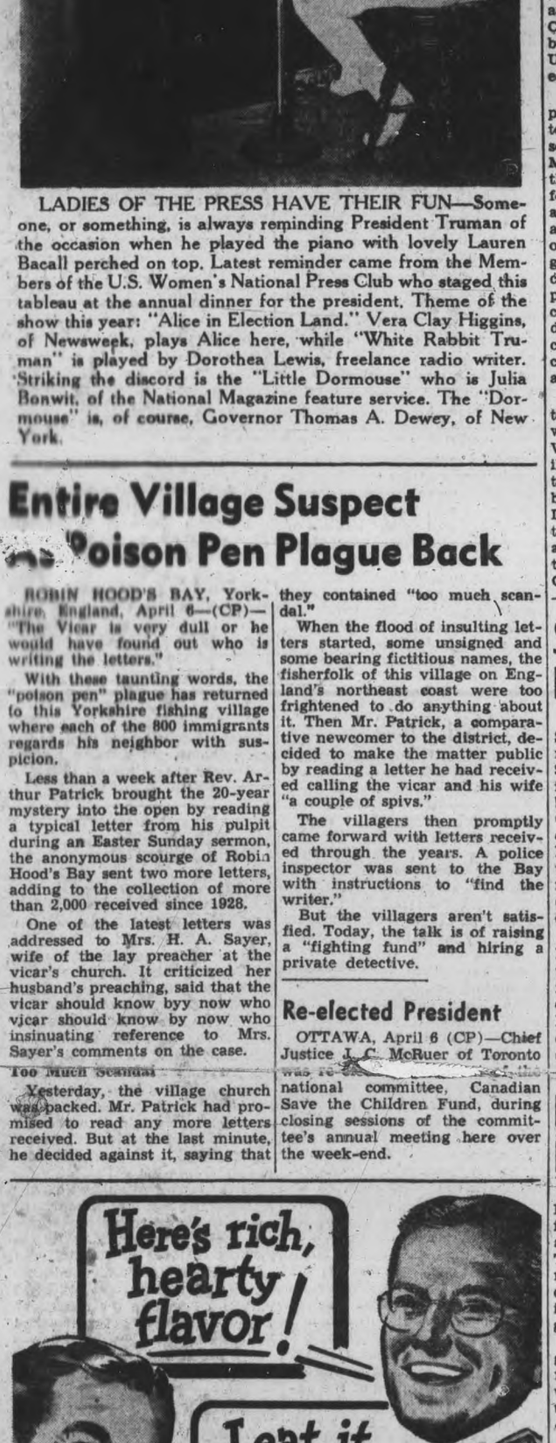
LAKE SUCCESS, April 6 (CP) —Andrei A. Gromyko indicated today he would boycott a meeting of Security Council delegates at United States offices in New York to discuss trusteeship.



The Deputy Soviet Foreign Minister added that everyone knew his views on the United States proposal for a trusteeship for the Holy Land. He bitterly opposed such a move in a speech last week to the United Nations Security Council.

HAL A FOOT OF MOTH—A "Callosamia Promethea" has just been discovered in Montreal, according to experts in the Redpath Museum there, where hundreds of thousands of insects are classified in the Lyman Entomological Room. This photo shows an exceptionally fine specimen, with a wingspread of six inches, which was found by Michael Green, 6, of Montreal, on a bush on a vacant lot near his home. It's a sure sign of spring for, according to experts, it came out of its cocoon on the first warm day. It lays its eggs in the summer, caterpillars are hatched, cocoons formed, and then more moths the following year. It is distinctly a local product.

ASK GERMANS TO BATTLE COMMUNISM

Canada's Aircraft Carrier Magnificent Commissioned

BELFAST, April 7—(Reuters).—The 18,000-ton light fleet aircraft carrier Magnificent was commissioned here today with full naval ceremonial by 1,000 officers and men of the Royal Canadian Navy under the command of Canada's most decorated naval officer, Commodore H. G. De Wolf of Bedford, NS. Norman Robertson, Canadian High Commissioner in London, watched the hoisting of the colors with a distinguished party of visitors which included the Governor of Northern Ireland, Vice-Admiral Earl Granville and Prime Minister Sir Basil Brooke. The ceremony, which was broadcast to Canada, was followed by religious services conducted by Church of England and Roman Catholic chaplains.

The Magnificent, launched at Belfast in 1944, is one of the most comfortable warships afloat.

By the removal of gun sponsons on the beam, the Magnificent can pass through the Panama Canal.

Manned by the former crew of the Warrior, now returned to the Royal Navy, the carrier will leave Belfast April 15 for her working-up cruise and will return to Northern Ireland in May to embark her two air squadrons now training at Eglinton, County Londonderry.

In June she sails for her base at Halifax.

Italian Citizens Pardoned By Yugoslavia

All Italian citizens sentenced in Yugoslavia since the end of the war for "any crime whatsoever" were pardoned to-day under a decree issued by the Yugoslav presidium.

The amnesty applies to the death penalty but not property confiscation. It applies also to those persons who have the right to declare for Italian citizenship under the peace treaty terms. All such persons will be permitted to leave for Italy.

The decree followed a joint declaration by the Italian and the Yugoslav governments regarding a mutual amnesty for each other's citizens.

The joint statement also declared that those governments wished to reach a similar agreement with the free territory of Trieste.

The statement said that the decision did not apply to persons coming under Article 45 of the Peace Treaty which deals with war criminals.

It was estimated that 200 Yugoslav citizens would be involved in the Italian amnesty, but figures for the Italians in Yugoslavia were not known.

Will Sell Hospital

TORONTO, April 7.—(CP).—Mayor McCallum told Board of Control today that the Federal government was prepared to sell Chorley Park military hospital to the city for $100,000. The province would share in the acquisition and furnishing of the building on a 50-50 basis to the extend of $2,000 a bed. The original Federal asking figure was $250,000. It was once the residence of lieutenant-governors of Ontario.

Order Toronto Police To Be 'Less Vigorous'

TORONTO, April 7 — (CP). — A Toronto paper says today in a newspage story that Police Chief John Chisholm is reported to have ordered police to be "less vigorous" when making arrests.

The orders were said to have sprung from the case of Jean Poitras, who alleged recently he was beaten when arrested on a drunkenness charge. A recent police commission inquiry absolved police of any blame but Mayor Hiram McCallum, a commission member, expressed the opinion the constables concerned used extreme force in defending themselves.

The story added: "Chief Chisholm would not comment on the new order, said to have been issued at a regular weekly meeting of divisional inspectors yesterday. But it was learned police have been told that in future, actions made in arrests are to be 'less vigorous'."

Must Be Two Germanys West Believes

Expect Decision Made By April 10; Seek Co-operation

DUESSELDORF, April 7—(CP)—Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, British military governor, called on the German people today to side with the western democracies in the war of nerves with the east.

In a speech to the German Landtag (parliament) of North Rhine-Westphalia, he said:

"Come forward determined to make the best of that large part of your country which is on the right side of the Iron Curtain."

He referred to the western occupation zones, composed principally of British-American Bizonia. North Rhine-Westphalia is a British occupation zone state and includes the industrially rich Ruhr region.

Without mentioning Russia or Communism by name, Sir Brian told the Germans it is less important to be a good party man than it is to be a good German.

The speech was generally regarded as the prelude to vital decisions on the country's future government.

Responsible Allied officials in Frankfurt, "capital of Bizonia" believed that these would centre on the crucial date of April 10 when Gen. Lucius D. Clay, United States military governor, is to reconvene the Allied Control Council for the first time since the Soviet walkout.

Declaring that the "Iron Curtain" splitting Germany must be accepted "for the time being," Sir Brian said Germans must be content with the unity of two-thirds of their country.

As Sir Brian spoke there were unconfirmed but persistent rumors in Frankfurt that the Russians would finally refuse further participation in the Allied Control Council, call for immediate formation of a "sovereign" German government and proclaim currency reform for the eastern zone and Berlin.

Two Germanys

FRANKFURT, April 7 — (Reuters). — Gen. Robertson's speech was seen by observers as proof that the Western powers had irrevocably decided on two Germanys.

Sir Brian had thus become the first spokesman of the Western powers to treat the end of four-power rule in Germany as an accomplished fact.

The speech was regarded by observers as a prelude to imminent vital decisions on future German government, involving both territorial and economic partition and currency reform.

But doubts were expressed here tonight whether there would be any point in Gen. Lucius D. Clay, United States military governor, convening this meeting in the face of Russia's boycott of control council meetings last month, and Soviet declarations that the council is "dead."

There was good reason to believe that the Western powers had made emergency arrangements to meet both a dissolution of the Control Council and Soviet currency reform with swift, far-reaching measures of their own.

Finns Retain Independence In New Treaty With Russia

HELSINKI, April 7 —(AP)—Helsinki political sources today predicted swift ratification of the new Soviet-Finnish mutual aid treaty.

They expressed the opinion parliament might give its approval by the end of next week. The new treaty was signed last night in Moscow.

The opening clause of the new treaty spells out Finland's territorial independence if either country becomes the object of aggression. It says that if either is attacked by Germany or another state allied with her, Finland will fight. But its specifies that Finnish forces will stay within Finland's territorial boundaries. No other country was named in the aggression clause.

The treaty also states that Russia can send troops into Finland in case of aggression only by mutual agreement. This phrasing many Finns regarded as a real concession. They pointed out that in pacts Russia signed with Romania there is no such provision.

In the treaty Russia also agreed not to interfere in Finland's internal affairs.

Formally, the treaty says both parties will follow the principles of mutual respect of state sovereignty and independence.

The military phases of the treaty work both ways. If Finland is attacked and wants help, Russia will step in—but by invitation only. And Russia is assured that Finland will not become a possible base of operations for a country wishing to make war on her.

Leading Finnish politicians said the treaty placed Finland in the eastern bloc more securely, but still preserves her independence. Some in this little country of 3,877,000 population were fearful that big Russia would force a tight military pact on them.

Lewis Asks Back-To-Work Order Dropped

Two Major Mine Operators Ignore Instructions From Government

WASHINGTON, April 7—(AP)—John L. Lewis today asked a Federal Court to set aside an order directing the United Mine Workers (Ind.) to end the 24-day-old pension-dispute soft coal strike.

Lewis, through counsel, asked the district court for a hearing Friday on the request.

The UMW chief challenged the validity of the strike emergency provision of the Taft-Hartley Act, under which the court order was issued last Saturday.

"Violation of the miners' right to stop work and freedom from involuntary servitude is explicit in the court's direction that the union shall order the miners to return to their employment," the Lewis motion said.

Ordered To Work

The order by Justice Matthew F. McGuire directed the union to end the strike, and Lewis and mine operators to negotiate settlement of the pension dispute that touched off the walkout March 15.

Prospects of union-operator talks to end the strike apparently had vanished, however.

Lewis' action came as Attorney General Clark appeared ready to seek a contempt citation against Lewis and his striking miners.

Operators Refuse

A top federal official disclosed that the Government also was considering—although no decision was reached up to early today—advising the court that two major operators also had failed to obey the order.

They are Benjamin F. Fairless, head of United States Steel Co oration, whose extensive "captive" mines turn out coal for its own use, and George M. Humphrey of Cleveland, chairman of Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Company, world's largest commercial mining firm.

Russians Try to Shift Blame

BERLIN, April 7—(AP).—The Soviet Union threw the blame for Monday's Russian-British plane crash on the British plane today, but British officials said the Russian story was "palpably untrue." A Russian investigating commission charged the crash, in which 15 died, was caused by British violation of allied regulations. The commission said it occurred over a Russian airport in Berlin and that the British pilot failed to comply with Four-Power Allied Control Council regulations by flying over the Soviet traffic zone.

The official British statement said:

"Moscow radio has put out the story that the British Viking aircraft came out of a low cloud and collided with the Soviet fighter about to land. The official British view is that the true facts about the collision cannot be established until the enquiry has been completed. This much is known, however:

"Visibility at the time of the collision was some five miles. When two miles from Gatow airfield the Viking was sighted from the air traffic control tower at Gatow airfield. Also the Viking had flown from Hamburg down the corridor towards Berlin at a height of 1,500 feet with the clouds another 1,500 feet above it. The facts in themselves show that the Soviet story is palpably untrue."

A representative of British European Airways, operators of the transport, denied the crash occurred over a Soviet airport.

The British plane fell in the Russian zone; the Russian plane in the British zone of Berlin.

The Russians also contended they were not informed of the flight.

The Soviet report said the pilot of the Russian plane was circling over his airport at a height of about 1,400 feet, and was about to land.

British sources quoted eye-witnesses at the time as saying the Russian plane was "frolicking" when the fatal crash occurred.

The Russian report added that "in order to clarify completely the finer details of the collision it is necessary to appoint a mixed British-Soviet investigating commission."

Communists Lose Ground In Italian Campaign

ROME, April 7—(AP).—Informed American observers said today the Communists are losing ground in the campaign for Italy's fateful April 18 parliamentary elections. They expect some spectacular last-minute propaganda move by the Communists.

"Our big anti-Communist drive in Italy began three weeks ago," an American source said. "It was well timed and the proposal to return Trieste to Italy came at just the right moment to shift votes. Things are going against the Communists now. They must have something to help. It is hard to change the votes in the last three weeks of the campaign. It will have to be something big."

The Marshall Plan, meanwhile, threatens to split the Communist-dominated Italian General Labor Confederation wide open.

Straight Fight

Already many of its 6,000,000 members feel the choice in the elections has become the Marshall Plan — synonym for the United States—against Russia.

Last night a minority group of the Confederation asked the executive committee to reconsider its opposition to the Marshall Plan. It also protested a strike call for next Monday by the Confederation's executive committee.

Watered Liquor Cheats Public Liberal Charges

TORONTO, April 7 — (CP).—Edmund MacGillivray, Liberal member for Glengarry, took time out from his Legislature address on the budget last night to let go a blast at the Ontario Government for continuing to water liquor.

He said the Wartime Alcoholic Beverages Act which called for reduced strength of liquor by watering has been rescinded but "as yet this province, like others, has not seen fit to act, but continues to sell the public so much water (about 10 per cent) in each bottle of liquor."

"I haven't yet heard any responsible government official state that the liquor as it is received from the distilleries is of such strength that it would be injurious to consume.

"Therefore, the only conclusion that one can draw from the watering is that it is extremely profitable. Part of this can surely be found in the fact that liquor profits were almost a third greater than estimated. In face of this lust for revenue, any thought of giving the public full value for its money is discarded.

"If a grocer was caught watering his milk like the government waters the liquor he would be prosecuted. It reminds me of the old saying: 'Don't do as I do, do as I say.'"

Mr. MacGillivray criticized the Progressive Conservative Government for its liquor practices. "Is the Government taking credit because people are drinking more?" he asked. "If it does, it is admitting in effect that it has failed in its purpose to induce moderation in the consumption of alcoholic spirits."

Report Bevin Has Another Heart Attack

LONDON, April 7 — (CP). — Foreign Secretary Bevin answered questions in the House of Commons today with his usual vigor but the Evening Standard said that he suffered a heart attack Monday at the United States embassy.

The newspaper said that the foreign secretary collapsed at an embassy party for Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, widow of the former United States president. Bevin had to be assisted to his automobile.

Bevin, 67, suffered heart attacks previously but was restored to full health after a holiday.

The Press Association later quoted a foreign office spokesman as saying the Evening Standard report was untrue.

2,000 Police Subdue Strike

CAIRO, April 7.—(AP).—Some 2,000 Cairo police, using machine-guns and tear gas, subdued striking male nurses entrenched on the roof of Egypt's largest hospital today.

The 200 males nurses have been asking higher pay. They seized control of the hospital this morning.

The police action against this strike followed by a day the end of Egypt's police strike, which claimed 24 lives and caused millions of dollars in damage at Alexandria. Police strikers in Alexandria and the Suez canal zone bowed to a government ultimatum yesterday.

Advancing under a shower of stones hurled by the strikers, the police seized 200 of them, including 25 who were wounded by machine-gun bulets.

The police machine-gunners fired at least 1,000 rounds to cover the policemen's advance into the Kar El Eini hospital grounds.

U.S. Insists Italy Join U.N. But Opposes Admission Of Five Russian Satellites

15-Point Holy Land Trusteeship Plan Laid Before Delegates; Expect Soviet To Block Italy's Application

NEW YORK, April 7—(AP).—The United States opposes the admission of five Russian satellites to the United Nations but insists Italy be taken in immediately, high sources said today. Whether the United States would go so far as to exercise her first Security Council vetoes to block Albania, Outer Mongolia, Romania, Hungary and Bulgaria could not be ascertained at this stage.

This development came as the five big powers scheduled morning and afternoon private sessions in efforts to unravel Palestine and membership problems. Both meetings were listed for the New York offices of American delegate Warren R. Austin.

Russia and the Soviet Ukraine were expected to boycott the morning meeting on the United States trusteeship plan for Palestine. They insist that the UN stick to its 1947 partition decision. Both spurned an invitation to a similar parley Monday.

Austin then laid a 15-point Holy Land trusteeship program before Council delegates. Today's meeting was called to get eraction.

The week-end appeal of the United States, Britain and France for re-examination of membership applications from Italy and Trans-Jordan, twice vetoed by Russia, was the original item for the afternoon meeting. However, the issue was complicated yesterday when the Ukraine suddenly asked for reconsideration of Finland, Outer Mongolia, Albania, Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary and Italy.

The step was an obvious counter-move to the effort to force Russia to veto or accept Italy before the Italian elections. It was believed that Russia's Andrei A. Gromyko would attempt to dodge by returning to his old package proposal that all ex-enemy countries be admitted simultaneously.

On this move, the United States probably would support Finland, but is turning thumbs down on Romania, Bulgaria and Hungary.

Eire, Portugal, and Austria, three others previously vetoed by Russia, were not listed in either appeal for reconsideration. Gromyko is expected to block Trans-Jordan, an Arab country, again.

Welcome Flyers

OTTAWA, April 7.—(CP). — RCAF Flyers, Canada's Olympic hockey champions, came home today to the blare of an Air Force band and the welcoming shouts of hundreds of fans at the Union station.

The team arrived from New York by train at 12.40 p.m. EST and was greeted officially by Defence Minister Claxton.

Farm Home Burned In Alnwick Township

ROSENEATH, April 7 (ENS).—Fire early this afternoon completely destroyed a farm dwelling house occupied by Maurice King and family about three miles south-west of here in Alnwick township. The house was owned by Mr. Clarence Sherwin.

It is believed to have started from a chimney fire with a stiff breeze rapidly fanning the flames. However, neighbors responded to a call for help and all the furniture was saved. Further details were not available at press time.

Drew Refuses To Sign TCA Contract

TORONTO, April 7 — (CP).— The Drew-Howe dispute over air immigration went through another round yesterday with Ontario Premier Drew declaring his government would not enter into a new contract with trans-Canada Air Lines.

He asserted Trade Minister Howe "scuttled" the Ontario project under which 7,000 Britons were flown to Ontario — a charge denied by Mr. Howe, who said in Ottawa:

"The Dominion government and trans-Canada Air Lines have made every reasonable effort to aid the plan. Should the Ontario government decide to continue to bring immigrants into Ontario by air, it can count on the best of service by T.C.A."

(It was learned from a government source that at least 10,000 British immigrants were expected to take advantage of the Ontario air scheme this year. Now, however the figure will depend on the next move by the Dominion Government.)

"The Ontario Government has no intention of entering into a new contract with Trans-Canada Air Lines," the Premier said. "Mr Howe tells us that Trans-Canada Airlines now has plenty of aircraft to fly immigrants from Britain at satisfactory rates. If this is so, then it is his duty to make these machines available for a Canadian air immigration program.

Freight Collides With CPR Flyer

SCHREIBER, April 7—(CP). — An east-bound transcontinental passenger train and a west-bound freight collided early today at San Toy, 21 miles east of here, and early reports said that a fireman on the freight was injured.

Canadian Pacific Railway spokesman here said identity of the injured man was not immediately available. They added that no passengers had been injured. The line was cleared within four hours of the collision.

Railways officials said the two trains were reported to have been travelling slowly when the collision occurred.

Supreme Court Vetoes De Marigny Appeal

OTTAWA, April 7 — (CP). — The Supreme Court of Canada today dismissed with costs an appeal by Count Alfred De Marigny which had stayed deportation proceedings. He is the former husband of Nancy Oakes, daughter of the late Sir Harry Oakes of the Bahamas.

The ruling apparently left the way open for the arrest and deportation of De Margny should he return to Canada. He now is in Haiti, having left Canada some weeks ago on a temporary visa.

De Marigny, acquitted some years ago of a charge of murdering Sir Harry, came to Canada in March, 1945—on a two-month visa. Since that time he has sought to remain, although an order for his deportation was issued by federal authorities more than a year ago.

The decision rejecting his appeal was unanimous.

PETITIONING HOUSEWIVES ON PARADE — Marching down Whitehall on their way to No. 11 Downing Street, residence of Sir Stafford Cripps, these British housewives are part of a delegation of 300 women who petitioned the Chancellor of the Exchequer on April 1 for a reduction in food prices in the forthcoming budget. Each delegate carried a letter signed by up to 100 housewives from her locality.

New Federal Labor Code Introduced In House Similar To 1947 Proposals

Suggest Designating National Industries As Aid During Strikes; Question Right To Legislate Under BNA

By GEORGE RONALD

OTTAWA, April 7—(CP).—A new labor code, intended as a basis for Dominion-wide legislation, was given first reading in the Commons last night. It was introduced by Labor Minister Mitchell, who called it "sound and appropriate" for industrial disputes. It is similar to a bill shelved after second reading last year. The code applies only to industries under Federal jurisdiction—railways, communications, radio and shipping. But it provides for Government jurisdiction in other industries if the provinces agree.

Another provision is the barring of strikes and lockouts during a "cooling-off" period in labor-management disputes. No union action could be taken until seven days after a conciliation board has reported to the Labor Minister, or until he had advised he did not intend to appoint a conciliation board.

This clause, a change from the bill introduced last year, is in line with a proposal by the Canadian Congress of Labor.

Still unanswered is the question of whether the parliament may legally enact a national labor code. It was raised again last night by Clarie Gillis (CCF — Cape Breton South). There was doubt as to whether it could be done under the British North America Act.

Urges Amendment

The CCL already has urged that the Act be amended if necessary to make a national code effective.

Mr. Gillis also revived the question of designating certain industries as national industries. Citing the strike in the packing-house industry last year, he said the government had been powerless to act because meat-packing was not considered a national industry.

In a recent brief to the cabinet, the CCL asked that the packing-house and steel industries be designated as national.

Other features of the government's proposed code:

1. A union must represent a majority of employees in a plant to obtain certification as exclusive bargaining agent.
2. Employer-dominated unions are banned as bargaining agents.
3. The Labor Relations Board may revoke a union's certification any time it is apparent the union no longer represents the majority of employees in a bargaining unit.
4. Unions and employers' organizations may be prosecuted.
5. Industrial disputes inquiry commissions may be appointed.

Suspended Sentence Given In Theft Charge

"You can consider yourself lucky," Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, told Keith Toms, Belmont township, when he placed him on one year's suspended sentence for breaking, entering and theft of a summer cottage on Belmont Lake. The accused, 25 years old, pleaded guilty to the charge.

H. R. Gimmell, employer of Toms for the past two months, told the court that Toms had been "an ideal workman."

The breaking, entering and theft had been done during August or September, 1947, said OPP A. F. Grayling, Havelock. The cottage looted belonged to Anthony Schwartz, Akron, Ohio. Items missing were a cook stove, two fishing rods and a quantity of canned goods. The stove and rods had been located in the accused's home, the police witness said, adding that Toms had admitted the offence to him.

Toms has already given $10 as restitution for the canned goods, and the stove and rods have been recovered, OPP Grayling said.

The accused has never been in serious trouble before, the officer said.

Toms was placed on a $500 bond to be on good behavior for the one year of the suspended sentence.

Juvenile Is Fined For Obtaining Liquor

"Time and time again, we have noted the accused in beverage rooms. I have come in one door and he scooted out the other," said PC Gordon Trennum in giving evidence on a charge against Ernest Brick, Bellevue Ave. Brick was found guilty on the evidence in court today by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, of obtaining liquor while under 21 years of age. He had pleaded not guilty.

In the case referred to in the charge, the police witness said he had seen the accused drinking beer in a beverage room of the city.

Sentence was $10 and $2.50 costs or 10 days.

Alex Knott, Curve Lake, was fined $10 and $2.50 costs for being drunk in public.

Chamber of Commerce Urges Tax Reduction

OTTAWA, April 7.—(CP). — The Canadian Chamber of Commerce today urged the government to lower taxes and to cut down on its own spending.

The suggestions were made by the Chamber's executive committee in a 2,000-word statement to Finance Minister Abbott and Revenue Minister McCann.

Cus in personal income and corporation taxes did not "necessarily" help the spread of inflation. They would encourage greater production and lesser unit costs.

Reduction of sales tax, excise tax and "other levies entering directly into cost of production" also should be considered.

Given 3 Months

Charles Griffin, 477 Rubidge St., was sentenced to three months in jail when he pleaded guilty before Magistrate Philp in court Saturday to a charge of illegal possession of liquor as a second offender.

On a connected matter, Robert Fairs, 332 Burnham St., was fined $10 and $2.50 costs for illegal possession of liquor.

Price Committee Probing Butter Trading

OTTAWA, April 7 — (CP). — The Commons price committee was launched today on the trail of persons trying to cash in on the butter shortage.

Chief quarry were brokers alleged to be using butter as a tie-in inducement to boost the sales of other commodities.

Others were persons using butter as give-away premiums with sales in Montreal, and selling low-grade butter as first quality in Halifax.

From Roland Beaudry, Liberal committee member from Montreal St. James, the committee heard reports yesterday that western butter in carload lots was being offered for sale conditional upon customers buying other commodities.

Mr. Beaudry said he had been informed that the tie-in sale of butter was being practised on a large scale. If the reports were true, the scarcity would be due at least partly to "manipulation."

Roch Pinard (L—Chambly-Rouville) said he had been told one firm had obtained between 4,000 and 5,000 pounds.

Today, the committee will continue hearing from witnesses for Silverwood Dairies, Ltd., of London, Ont., who began testimony yesterday.

Company President Edward G. Silverwood told the committee his firm had not bought or stored butter for speculation, and he said its holdings and purchases had not been in excess of actual sales requirements.

"If the TCA has machines available there is no earthly reason why the Ontario Government should be subsidizing an immigration movement when the aircraft are owned and controlled by the Dominion Government.

"The simple and proper cause is for the Dominion Government to inaugurate its own immigration program with the machines available at rates which will make it possible for immigrants to use this means of transportation."

The Premier said the immigration offices of Ontario House, London, Eng., will continue to help immigrants to this country by whatever means of transportation they choose.

"We will await the opportunity to arrange air transportation under the Canadian plan. In view of the fact that other provinces have already indicated their desire to have transportation of this kind available, we hope that there will be no further delay in the announcement of the details."

The legislature, which continued budget debate at its night sitting, gave first reading to seven government bills and discussed works department estimates. At today's sitting it was scheduled to consider bills, including the government's housing and labor measures.

At yesterday's session, Liberal and CCF opposition members criticized provincial treasury budgeting and called for tax reductions along with old age pensions in opening debate on the Ontario legislature budget speech.

Harry C. Nixon, Liberal member for Brant and chief financial critic for his party, wound up his remarks with a resolution regretting that the government did not take necessary action to increase aid to and others needing help and to make necessary reductions in taxation.

Mr. Nixon said the government had a motive in passing amusement tax legislation before introducing the budget. The motive, he said, was to forestall criticism of the tax which would follow naturally upon disclosure of a $25,000,000 surplus for 1947. "Had we known this we could have suggested that the surplus be used for added financial aid to hospitals instead of the 20 per cent amusement tax," Mr. Nixon declared.

He added that the large surplus showed the need for extension of services or cut in taxation, or both. The amusement tax should be reduced and such taxes as these on gas could well be cut.

Suggest Conference Of Three Civic Bodies

Ald. Max Swanston suggested at the meeting of the committee of the whole council Tuesday night that both the Board of Education and the Utilities [illegible] be invited to discuss community expension jointly affecting them.

The Brookdale housing subdivision is steadily taking shape. Another has been mooted for that side of the city, and some suggestion has come out of the Smith suburb that the Queen Elizabeth School is overcrowded already.

Recent intimation from the southern part of the township mentions the extension of the city in that direction, enlarging a problem of school accommodation which the township and generally the school section believed to be an urban responsibility.

Further annexation of Smith lands has been rumored as a growing necessity. So far no definite communication has come to the city council, but housing development is in progress, with eventual school needs to be considered. Utilities Commission and the Boardof Education, in Ald. Swanston's opinion, should be asked to sit in with the council in the near future and talk over these prospects from the viewpoint of their present stage and trend.

Remand Argyle Man; Charge Speared Pickerel

LINDSAY, April 7 —(ENS)—Appearing in police court Wednesday on charges of illegally spearing pickerel, H. F. Currie, of Argyle was remanded for one week on bail of $100. Currie was apprehended Wednesday morning about one o'clock while spearing pickerel in the Talbot river near Kirkfield by game inspector A. M. Hodgson and overseer Fred Walton, Lindsay.

Inspector Hodgson said after the hearing that four spears were found at the scene.

"We spotted several people fishing with lights, and they gave us a wild chase through streams and bush country, "he said.

"We got Currie but the others got away in the dark."

The officers found a car and canoe at the scene and these were confiscated as well as six huge pickerel.

"There was enough spawn in the six fish to restock the entire Talbot river the inspector said. He estimated the fish contained 100,000 eggs.

Nixon Believes Greater Surplus In Next Budget

TORONTO, April 7.—(CP). — Discussing claims by Provincial Treasurer Frost that Ontario's finances were in good shape, Hon. Harry Nixon said in the Legislature yesterday the value of Ontario debentures is no better than other provinces.

He admitted Ontario credit was good, but added that other provinces are making as good a job and their finances are in as good condition as this province.

Mr. Nixon predicted there would be a considerably larger surplus again next year than the provincial treasurer had forecast. He contended there was no reason why revenue should be lower as the Minister had indicated in his budget. He charged that the treasurer was purposely budgeting for a small surplus so that the government could claim for another large surplus.

Calvin Taylor (CCF-Temiskaming) charged the Ontario government has starved "the health and welfare and other essential services simply to build up a $25,000,000 surplus."

Other Uses

"One third of that amount would have been enough to provide a $40 a month old age pension for every pensioner in this province.

"One-eighth of it would have been enough to bring mothers' allowances up to a minimum level of decency—say $50 a month for mother and $15 for each child.

"One tenth of it would have provided a sufficient increase in the salaries of the government's own employees to catch up with the rising cost of living.

"Or if the government had done nothing else, it could have knocked a few cents off our 11-cent gasoline tax. That surplus may look very fine to the Provincial Treasurer, but it was built from the sufferings and the heartaches of the people of Ontario."

Mining stocks were mixed on minor gains for selected golds and losses for base metals. The exchange's noon index showed industrials up .24 at 166.62, golds .38 at 95.15, base metals down .17 at 88.62, western oils up .78 at 35.87. Volume for the first three hours was 656,000 shares, about 208,000 more than yesterday's similar period.

Fractional gains predominated the industrial lists with all groups exhibiting selected firmness. Find Stassen Leading Primary Vote

Gen. MacArthur Runs A Close Second; Governor Dewey Trails

MILWAUKEE, April 7.—(F).—Harold E. Stassen, the young fellow who kept plugging, and Gen. Douglas MacArthur fought it out today for the top share of Wisconsin's 27 Republican Presidential votes.

The 40-year-old former Minnesota Governor held the upper hand and in an incomplete count from yesterday's primary as he and the General blacked the political eye of Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York, the party's 1944 standard bearer and a top aspirant for the job again.

With his slate leading in the race to elect seven at-large delegates, Stassen had swept at l four district national convention delegates into his camp.

With 2,081 of the State's 3,138 precincts, including 181 in Milwaukee, counted, his candidates were either winners or ahead in 20 of the races for the 27 delegate posts. MacArthur had expected strong backing in the Milwaukee district.

More Vigorous Test

But Stassen faces a new, and perhaps more vigorous test in next Tuesday's Nebraska primary. There he and six other Republican hopefuls, including Dewey and MacArthur, will bid for popular support.

He will face Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio in that contest for the first time. Taft winds up an in-person campaign there today.

Dewey was badly hurt by the Wisconsin results, especially because of his last-minute decision to campaign here personally.

MacArthur needed a majority in the State where he keeps his legal residence to make himself the sort of dark horse threat who would be appealing elsewhere.

Clearing Highway Approaches Of Heavy Foliage Recommended

LINDS[illegible] 7.—(ENS).—At an inquest Tuesday night into the death of Lorne McLean, of Cresswell, who died June 29 last following a car accident, a coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental death, absolving John W. Vancott, Toronto, of all blame in the mishap.

Vancott was the driver of an east-bound truck which crashed into the side of a car driven by McLean, at the junction of Highways 7 and 46, ten miles west of Lindsay. The jury decided some blame for the accident might be attributed to poor visibility caused by "excessive foliage and trees at the junction of the two highways. They recommended that approaches to such road junctions be clearly indicated and that foliage be eliminated to provide clear visibility.

Donald McLean, father of Lorne, and a passenger in the car, was also killed. Bernard Hardcastle, Cresswell, another passenger and the only survivng occupant, was badly injured and hospitalized for months. Also hospitalized for a lengthy period were Vancott and Herbert Sanford, who was a passenger in the truck. Vancott suffered severe head injuries, had his left foot broken, and thigh and pelvis dislocated. Sanford had his left arm broken, three compound fractures of the left leg and head injuries. Both men limped when they appeared at the hearing. Sanford said he was unable to return to work until February 1.

"I was travelling between 45 and 50 miles an hour when approaching the intersection," Vancott stated, "and the McLean auto came onto the highway so fast I didn't see the car until it was directly in front of me and about 20 feet away. It was broadside across my portion of the road, and I couldn't avoid hitting it". Vancott admitted that there were two and a half cases of beer in the back of the truck. He said he had two pints before leaving Toronto bound for Sturgeon Lake.

Herbert Sanford could recall nothing of the accident. "I was dozing just before," he said. "It was a warm day and I guess the heat of the engine made me tired." "You're sure it wasn't beer made you doze?" asked Crown Attorney Jordan. "Sanford denied beer was the cause. The first thing I remember of the accident was when I woke up in the ditch and there were people around," he continued, "and things are hazy until later in the hospital."

Bernard Hardcastle, who gave evidence at a hearing previously to the one Tuesday could remember nothing of the crash. He too said he was dozing in the McLean car. The last he remembered, the McLean auto had been proceeding south on Highway 46.

Constable Milton said he found no evidence that the occupants of the truck were under the influence of liquor. "Both the McLeans and Hardcastle were sober" he added.

New Heads Installed On Cobourg Meters

COBOURG, April 7. (ENS) — Pursuant to a resolution of the town council that the parking meters, which have been given a year's trial, be taken on permanently by the town, the parking meter company has been advised to instal new heads, as arranged. The new head will permit coins from one cent to five cents to be inserted. Main complaint in regard to the old meter head was that it would only take a one-cent coin or a five cent coin without permitting the intermediate parking periods to be used.

Eleven Lindsay Residents Claim $1,165 From Town Council For Flood Damages

LINDSAY, April 7. — Eleven citizens in the southwest sector of Lindsay have entered claims for flood loss compensation from Council. The claims total $1,165.35 with the largest single claimant being Earl Pitts, grocer. Mr. Pitts has billed Council for $364.24 as his loss in the recent floods. Breaking this figure down, Mr. Pitts told members $351.24 was for actual merchandise lost, $3 for having a boy clean up the cellar and $10 for his own loss of time.

"I don't think litigation will be necessary," he told Council, adding, "and I will take steps to recover this loss if payment is not forthcoming."

Mr. Pitts explained how he had placed his merchandise on shelves off the floor, but that even this failed to avert the water damage.

Lindsay's Fire Services 'Lacking'—Fire Marshal

LINDSAY, April 7.—The Ontario Fire Marshal's office is not impressed with Lindsay's fire services. Following a fire survey of Lindsay a report was submitted to the Ontario Fire Marshal by A. D. DesRoches in which he says "it was most disappointing to learn how inadequate are the fire services provided."

Fire Inspector DesRoches says the most serious deficiencies exist in the matter of fire apparatus and personnel. "Lack of equipment," the inspector reported, "was said to have recently been responsible for a serious fire loss because the fire fighters did not have suitable gas masks to wear when dangerous gases were being generated by the fire. Because the fire had to be fought from the outside, the loss was several thousands dollars greater than it would have been if appropriate masks had been available.

"The outstanding deficiency," the inspector reports, 'is a lack of fire ladders to to rescue and hose work if any of the business blocks, schools or hospital buildings were involved in a fire." He terms this deficiency one of "an extreme nature."

The rapid and diversified industrial growth of the community and the consequent introduction of new occupational fire hazards was cited as the primary reason for recommending stepped-up fire services in Lindsay.

Urgent implementation of several recommendations was emphasized by the fire prevention officer. Among other things, it was advised that "four more fully paid fire fighters be added immediately with a view to further increasing the force to 11 fully paid fire fighters as soon as possible, in addition to retaining the present voluntary fire fighters."

"The fact that the Fire Department responds to outside calls emphasizes the need of additional equipment," the fire inspector asserts.

Measles Increase In United Counties

COBOURG, April 7 — (ENS). — Measles took a jump for the week ending April 3 with 81 cases recorded, 52 of them in the village of Bowmanville according to the report from the headquarters here of the Northumberland and Durham Counties Health Unit. Mumps, which led the week before, slumped to 21 cases. Two cases of chickenpox completed the 104 cases tabulated.

The communicable disease report listed cases as follows: Chickenpox: Darlington township, 2; red measles: Bowmanville, 52; Brighton village, 3; Cavan township, 1; Cobourg, 2; Darlington township, 10; Haldimand township, 1; Hope township, 1; Murray township, 1; Percy township, 2; South Monaghan, 1. Mumps: Brighton township, 3; Brighton village, 1; Cobourg, 2; Cramahe township, 2; Darlington township, 5 and Port Hope, 8.

Demands Investigation

WINDSOR, April 7 — (CP). — Controller G. B. Ellis last night demanded a "full-scale" investigation of the reported firing of two revolver shots at John Bankhead, United States consular officer here. "There are very few people in Windsor who believe he was shot at and it sounds like a lot of baloney to me," Ellis said at a city council meeting.

BORDERLINE ANEMIA

can steal away a woman's beauty!

BEAUTY fades when a woman's face grows pale—when her freshness is failing—her energy runs low. Yes, and these signs often come from a blood condition. If you have them, you may have a Borderline Anemia, a mild anemia due to a nutritional deficiency of iron.

The red cells in your blood may be too puny and faded. They may be weakened to the point where they can't transmit full energy to your body. Many people — women, men and children—drag through life with this Borderline Anemia.

How Ironized Yeast Tablets Build Up Your Blood and Vigor

So, if your color is poor, your energy low and this common blood condition's to blame—take Ironized Yeast Tablets. They are formulated to help build up faded red blood cells, and thus restore vigor. Of course, continuing tiredness and pallor may be due to other conditions — so consult your doctor regularly. But in this Borderline Anemia, take Ironized Yeast Tablets to start your energy shifting back into "high" — to help restore your natural color! Take them so you can enjoy life again!

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE: "Can anyone who wishes attend the opening of the provincial legislature? What about ordinary sessions? Are there seats for the public?"

There are hundreds of invitations sent out for the opening of the legislature but there are usually plenty of seats available. Apply at the Speaker's office either in person or in writing. For the ordinary sessions the same procedure is followed. Apply at the Speaker's office for tickets for the public galleries. Barbara Ann Scott doesn't need to, though. She, lucky girl, sits beside the premier.

WOOL SHRINKS: "I washed a red wool suit and the skirt has shrunk. Is there any way to stretch it once it shrinks? If not, how can I lengthen it?"

I'm afraid you won't be able to unshrink the skirt to any great extent. There are three ways to lengthen it. A knitted band may be inserted at the top which will let the skirt down. In that case the side seams will probably need letting out. Or the suit may be made into a redingote with a longer sheath-like matching crepe skirt underneath. Or a circular yoke of matching or contrasting material may be attached to the top of the skirt. The new look and the old length are certainly giving us plenty to worry about, aren't they?

BLINDS: "How can I clean cream and green blinds, pre war material?"

Have you tried plain soap and water? Try it under the roller first to see how it works. If that method is out, try the wallpaper cleaner. Frequently it does a wonderful job on the blinds. Also you could turn the blind end for end so that the clean end shows and the soiled end is rolled under.

AMBITIOUS: "I want to marry well. How shall I go about it?"

Dear me, I wouldn't know. You'll attract the sort of men who are of your class, so the smarter you are the better your chances for a good marriage. Are you good looking, good tempered, well-groomed and intelligent? If you are, that's the sort of lad you rate.

The Nature Of The Amusement Tax

On March 29 we offered some comment in these columns on the Amusement Tax of twenty per cent. which will be levied on all amusements in Ontario, and the revenue of which will be devoted to hospital grants. We suggested, at that time, that at least some of the revenue from such a tax should be devoted to the subsidizing of certain entertainments of the better sort in Ontario which, although they make a good deal of money in large cities, cannot be provided at a profit for the people in the smaller towns and villages of the Province.

• • •

In principle, however, we disapprove of the Amusement Tax, whatever may be done with the money which is raises. It is, essentially, a nuisance tax, and was first levied during the First Great War, when it was very properly referred to as "the war tax". It persists now as a tax on people who desire certain pastimes, and it imposes more heavily upon movie-goers than upon any other group. There is no principle of taxation which we have ever heard of which makes it just for every man or woman who wants to go to a movie to be compelled to contribute to somebody else's hospital bill.

• • •

The root of this tax lies in the nasty old puritan belief that amusement is, in itself, a bad thing. Few people would admit to such a belief today, but the notion persists that amusement is something which people could live without, if they were sufficiently strong-minded to do so. "If you are so desirous of pleasure", says Old Granny Queen's Park, "you shall pay me a tax, or I will not permit you to have it". Old Granny does not see how harmful such moral thuggery is to her own character.

• • •

There is no excuse whatever for an Amusement Tax in times of peace. There is no excuse for inequitable taxation. There is no excuse for a tax which bears very heavily upon a single trade. There is no excuse for a twenty-per cent. tax upon anything which people need as much as they need amusement. The Amusement Tax is a disgusting example of governmental greed and public sheepishness.

Nonsense About Margarine

When the Federal Minister of Agriculture takes to inaccurate statements and obstinate prejudices to bolster the ban on margarine in this country, it would seem that politics and not facts were shaping his logic. Mr. Gardiner said that the use of margarine as a substitute for butter would be bad for the health of the people of Canada. He amplified this by saying that the competition of butter would hurt the dairy industry and thus discourage the production of fluid milk. This would decrease the consumption of milk.

It has been proven that margarine is as good as butter as a food. Incidentally, in appearance and taste it is almost indistinguishable from butter. The second part of Mr. Gardiner's argument is equally unsound. It would seem reasonable that if less fluid milk were going into the production of butter, more would be available for drinking. Statistics of the milk and butter production of the last several years show that butter production has declined while milk production has increased, or where there has been a decrease in both, the greatest drop has been in the manufacturing of butter.

The old argument used by the opponents of margarine is that the dairy industry would be ruined and agriculture would wane if the manufacture and sale of margarine were permitted. Agriculture has not declined since 1931 even though less and less of the total farm income has come from dairy sales. In 1931 33 per cent. of farm income came from dairy products; in 1936, 26 per cent.; in 1944, 21 per cent.; in 1946, only 16 per cent. Therefore, even if margarine were fatal to dairying, it would affect only 16 per cent. of the Canadian farmer's income. Of course, the introduction of margarine would not be a knock-out blow to dairying. The fact is that the dairy industry cannot now meet the domestic and export demand as the present butter shortage shows. The demand for fluid milk is increasing—daily consumption has gone up steadily from .74 pints of milk per person in 1920 to 1.01 pints per person in 1946. New Zealand is far more dependent on her butter production than Canada. Nevertheless, the manufacture and use of margarine in New Zealand is not only permitted but encouraged and her dairy industry continues to thrive.

The Canadian people cannot afford to bow to the dairy interests with their unwarranted fear of competition from margarine and their illiberal monopoly. The housewife should be permitted as a democratic right, and in these times of high prices as a necessity, to buy margarine to supplement her butter requirements. As Senator W. D. Eurler has said: "Let the people choose for themselves, as they do in every other country—butter or margarine—whichever they prefer or can afford". It is time that the consumers made their desires known loudly and positively to Ottawa.

Should Canadians Be Forbidden To Fight In Palestine?

A week ago the American Government gave notice that it would refuse passports to any of its citizens who wished to go to Palestine to fight for either Jews or Arabs. The U.S. Consul-General in Jerusalem has warned Americans in Palestine that their passports will be taken up if they join the fighting forces of either side. Now there is a rumour that the Canadian Government will apply the provisions of the 1937 Foreign Enlistment Act to Palestine. This Act was passed during the Spanish Civil War, too late to prevent Canadians from joining the Mackenzie-Papineau Battalion. It makes it illegal for a Canadian to take up arms against a friendly foreign power and may be applied against recruitment in forces engaged in a civil war.

No Canadian joining a foreign legion or the army of a country with which this nation is not at war should expect to use his Canadian citizenship to protect him or pull him out of a tight situation of his own making. The Government should quite properly wash its hands of a Canadian engaged in such fighting abroad. He should not expect to have "every assistance and protection of which he may stand in need", as requested on passports in the name of His Britannic Majesty. Nevertheless, a young man who wishes to hire out as a mercenary or whose conscience or daring bids him fight for Arabs or Jews, should not be denied the right, nor should he have his citizenship taken from him.

A nation must take care whom it admits to the country and the benefits of its citizenship; it is restricting the freedom of its people if it refuses passports to individuals who wish to travel to foreign countries for private reasons. Men engaged in a foreign fray need not do so with their country's approval. The Canadian Government can continue to give exit visas to men who intend to join a foreign legion without committing Canada to approve either the cause or the individual venture.

Swimming Honours For Peterborough Girls

Warmest congratulations are owing to Iris Forbes-Reilly and Jean Millard, of the Peterborough Ornamental Swimming Club, upon their victory at the American Amateur Swimming Association meet in Detroit. Their success is a particularly pleasant one to record, for they did not expect to win the special contest in which they were placed first, and went to the meet primarily to gain experience and to see what swimmers elsewhere were doing. Modesty of this sort is not altogether common at sports events, and is doubly refreshing when it is encountered.

The success of Miss Forbes-Reilly and Miss Millard brings honour to Peterborough, and we are sure that we speak for everyone when we say that Peterborough appreciates it. They have also drawn attention to the first-rate local swimming club to which they belong, which gives pleasure to great numbers of people every year by its exhibitions of skilled swimming and diving, and water sports. They have given their club a splendid boost, they have given the other girls of the city a fine example of sportsmanship and modesty, and we are all proud of them.

A scientist says that atomic power might destroy mankind, but would not destroy vegetable life. We pass this good news on to the turnip-heads and old beans among our acquaintance.

WEEKLY BOOK REVIEW

Recent Fiction From Britain

By SAMUEL MARCHBANKS

PRELUDE TO A CERTAIN MIDNIGHT, by Gerald Kersh (Heinemann). This book has all the virtues of Mr Kersh's work—its vigour, vividness, headlong pace and brilliant invention, but it suffers also from the characteristic Kersh faults of loose-jointedness and careless plotting It is a murder story, and during the past twenty years the public has come to expect great ingenuity in the plots of murder stories But Kersh begins his book with a suggestion that one character is going to be the principal person in the book, then switches the interest to another character, introduces a rather disappointing detective, works up great suspense before the discovery of his murderer and then disappoints it—he does everything, in fact, that would enrage a writer or critic of whodunits. In spite of these things his book is deeply engrossing; I cannot think of any other writer of our day who can invent so many interesting characters, and draw them so economically and sharply; he has an unerring ear for the telling phrase, and an eagle eye for the essential gesture. Every book of Kersh's renews my wish that he would impose a light, but effective, discipline on his superb gifts.

◇ ◇ ◇

THE CELLAR, by J. D. Scott (Pilot Press). The plot of this novel is simple; two young men and a girl—all members of the British forces—hide in a cellar during their escape from France after its fall, and the events which happen there influence their lives powerfully. It is a psychological novel, but not in a tiresome sense; there are no fine-spun and tortured theories and no perversity of action. There is, instead, an interesting study of a young man who has had to cope all his life with the fact that he is very rich, and that this influences everyone with whom he comes in contact; there is a study of a self-righteous young Scot who has had a call to the ministry, but who cannot answer that call after the events of the cellar; and there is a girl whose whole life has been devoted to rising above her childhood circumstances, but who is by no means a vulgar snob. This is an unusually interesting first novel, and great hopes may be entertained for Mr. Scott.

◇ ◇ ◇

THE SNOB, by Jack Overhill (Pilot Press). I must explain at once that "snob" is a trade term for a man who makes boots by hand, and the hero of this book is a skilled shoemaker. The details of his life and his trade are recounted in a simple style, and for perhaps three-quarters of the book they are deeply interesting; but a dullness comes over the snob as he nears middle age which may be understandable, but is not good fiction. The snob illustrates a number of significant points—his pride in his workmanship, his independence, his refusal to truckle, his lack of anything more than a rudimentary business sense, his scorn for education, and his lack of concern with patriotism or politics. This is what some people call a proletarian novel, and as its writer is himself a shoemaker we may suppose that it is a true picture of a certain kind of workman. It is deeply interesting for this reason, as well as for its considerable literary merit, but I think it would have been better if fifty pages had been cut out of it.

◇ ◇ ◇

NOTHING SO STRANGE, by James Hilton (Macmillan). Here we have that curious modern phenomenon, the book written with an eye on the book clubs. It has all the elements of a successful novel, it is skilfully written, it is glossy and smart, it is extremely modish and in tune with our times, and yet it is unsatisfactory. Its attitudes are those of a great many readers; psychoanalysis is made fun of (because psychoanalysis is now going out of favour with the people who once praised it uncritically), it talks a good deal about "pure science" (because a lot of people nowadays like to think that scientists have no moral responsibility for the work they do), it makes fun of wealthy people (because it is now fashionable to suggest that wealth is evil, though it is quite all right to be well-off), and it is very solemn about the atomic bomb (because solemnity on this subject is thought to be a sign of profound thinking among shallow people). James Hilton cannot write a dull book, or a purely cheap one, but he writes books which we may describe as second-rate on a rather high level.

◇ ◇ ◇

THE BLACK LAUREL, by Storm Jameson (Macmillan). This is the story of Heinrich Kalb, a German Christian Jew who is falsely accused of murder. The scene is Berlin during the first months of the Occupation, and sometimes it seems that the writer is more concerned with the spirit of the ruined and defeated country than with the unfortunate, ineffectual Kalb. Certainly her description of an interment camp near Prague is a powerful piece of writing, and it is fitting that we should be reminded of the existence of such sores on the world. At root, this novel is about justice, and it is ironical, but bitterly true, that although it seems clear that the evidence against Kalb is enough to damn him, he could never have committed the crime of which he is accused; he had not the spirit for such an enterprise. A good book, this, and strangely disturbing.

(Australian News Letter)

More than 30 years ago Miss Edith Raine lent a small clock to her sister, Mrs. Royes Metcalfe, of Palm Beach, near Sydney. Neither of them thought much more about it until the other day, when Miss Raine asked if she could have it back.

That reminded Mrs. Metcalfe that, soon after she'd borrowed it, she had taken it to be repaired.

She traced the watchmaker.

"I've been expecting you since July, 1917", he said.

Present Crisis In World Affairs

By WICKHAM STEED

IF ORDINARY mortals feel bewildered by the rapid sequence of events in the international crisis—for a crisis it undeniably is—and are anxious about its further course, I think they are hardly to be blamed. During the past month there has been a series of developments which have been more than "incidents" that has left us all a little breathless. We have not had time to take stock of one position before another supervened.

From February 20th onwards, Communist seizure of power in Czechoslovakia surprised and startled the Western world. It was felt to be a challenge which the free nations of the West could not ignore.

At Washington, legislative proceedings were speeded up to sanction the European Recovery Programme; and at their conference in Brussels, the United Kingdom, French and Benelux delegates succeeded, with smooth swiftness rarely equalled in any international gathering, in drafting the terms of the economic, political and defensive Pact of Western European Union which was signed on March 17th.

Yet even more swiftly came from Prague the tragic news of the death of Mr. Jan Masaryk, the Czechoslovak Foreign Secretary, who was deservedly one of the best-loved men in the world. I, who had been his friend for 28 years as I had been a friend of his father, the President-Liberator, for a still longer period, am convinced that Jan Masaryk ended his life because he could not bear Communist pretence that his father would have approved of the destruction of Czechoslovak democratic freedom.

The effects of Jan Masaryk's death could be seen in the prompt agreement at Paris between the 16 States interested in the European Recovery Programme, and also in the conclusion of the Brussels Treaty of Western Union. I fancy, too, that they may have influenced the decision of President Truman to address a joint session of the United States Congress at the very moment when the Brussels Treaty was being signed. The President's promise that the United States will aid the free countries of Western Europe in the defence of their freedom, a promise loudly cheered by the whole Congress, and his emphatic call for universal military training so that his country may be better fitted to withstand any further threat to its liberties, can only have sprung from the conviction that the present threat is insistent and real.

ARE we therefore in sight of another armed conflict, of the third World War? No prudent observer of world affairs will deny that the danger exists, nor will he affirm that it cannot be averted. Soviet Russia alone could answer this question decisively; and hitherto there have been no means of judging what her answer is likely to be. President Truman's Address to Congress was a serried indictment of Russian policy since the end of the war, but it left no room for doubt that neither the United States nor the Governments of Western Europe have closed or wish to close the door to an agreement with Soviet Russia on any terms that will safeguard their own freedom and foster peace. General Smuts, the great South African statesman, has called for a frank and friendly talk with Russia as "from man to man," and Dr. Evatt of Australia has claimed that the United Nations, not "power politics," should be used as the path to an understanding.

My own answer to the question whether we are in sight of another armed conflict is tentative. It is hedged about with "buts and ifs." If certain conditions are fulfilled I should answer "No." But if those conditions be not fulfilled I cannot say that I should regard peace as the major probability of the future. The first condition is that the free nations of the West, including the United States, should remain absolutely firm in their determination to face the risk of war rather than tolerate the undermining or the destruction of the principles of human liberty on which their civilization is founded, and they should allow no doubt to arise on this score. The second condition is that their policy should be open-eyed and circumspect, never yielding to a temptation to gain a merely tactical advantage.

A Bible Message

Now there is at Jerusalem by the sheep market a pool, which is called in the Hebrew tongue Bethesda, having five porches. In these lay a great multitude of impotent folk, of blind, halt, withered, waiting for the moving of the water. For an angel went down at a certain season into the pool, and troubled the water: whosoever then first after the troubling of the water stepped in was made whole of whatsoever disease he had.

And a certain man was there, which had an infirmity thirty and eight years. When Jesus saw him lie, and knew that he had been now a long time in that case, he saith unto him, Wilt thou be made whole? The impotent man answered him, Sir, I have no man, when the water is troubled, to put me into the pool: but while I am coming another steppeth down before me.

Jesus saith unto him, Rise, take up thy bed, and walk. And immediately the man was made whole, and took up his bed, and walked: and on the same day was the sabbath. (John 5: 2-9.)

◇ ◇ ◇

Love worketh no ill to his neighbour; therefore love is the fulfilling of the law. And that, knowing the time, that now it is high time to awake out of sleep: for now is our salvation nearer than when we believed. (Rom. 13: 10, 11.)

Letter To The Editor

Sir: Permit a frivolous comment on the following news item from your issue of April 3:

"Toronto.—Daniel Scott of Maynooth will be sentenced on April 8 by Magistrate Martin. Scott pleaded guilty to three charges of posing as a playground fund collector. He was arrested March 29 by a York Township constable while accepting money from occupants of an apartment house of Walmer Rd. and Heath St. Scott was posing as a collector for the North Toronto Playground Fund. the court was told."

To this I say:

This gent from the sticks

Not the usual procedure, forsooth!

Cash-And-Carry Education

Contemporary education has to a large extent plowed under the classic past. More than being dead, Latin and Greek have become buried languages. Our educators have seen to that. They have wanted to make education "popular" and sought to have it practical. It's too hard trying to keep up with our own appalling times to bother about the remote past.

Did a knowledge of Xenophon or Juvenal ever turn a soda-jerker into a tycoon? The point of modern education in America is usefulness, not culture. If it aids in gaining profitable employment, it can skip interior richness. The result must be of an immediate cash-and-carry kind. Moreover, everything must be made as easy as possible. The motto of the so-called progressives is, apparently, spare the whim and spoil the child. Hence no brambles along the path. No disciplined marching. No steep cliffs to climb. Just a level and fairly straight highway (macadamed, of course) leading to a job. — Mason Brown in Saturday Review of Literature.

Wants Sunken Warships For Tourists

TORONTO, April 7 — (CP).— Dr. Harry Stewart (PC-Kingston) said in the Ontario Legislature last night in discussing the proposed St. Lawrence seaway project "it is apparent the failure to obtain the necessary approval of the United States Congress is due to fear of a diversion of water traffic from the US Atlantic harbors."

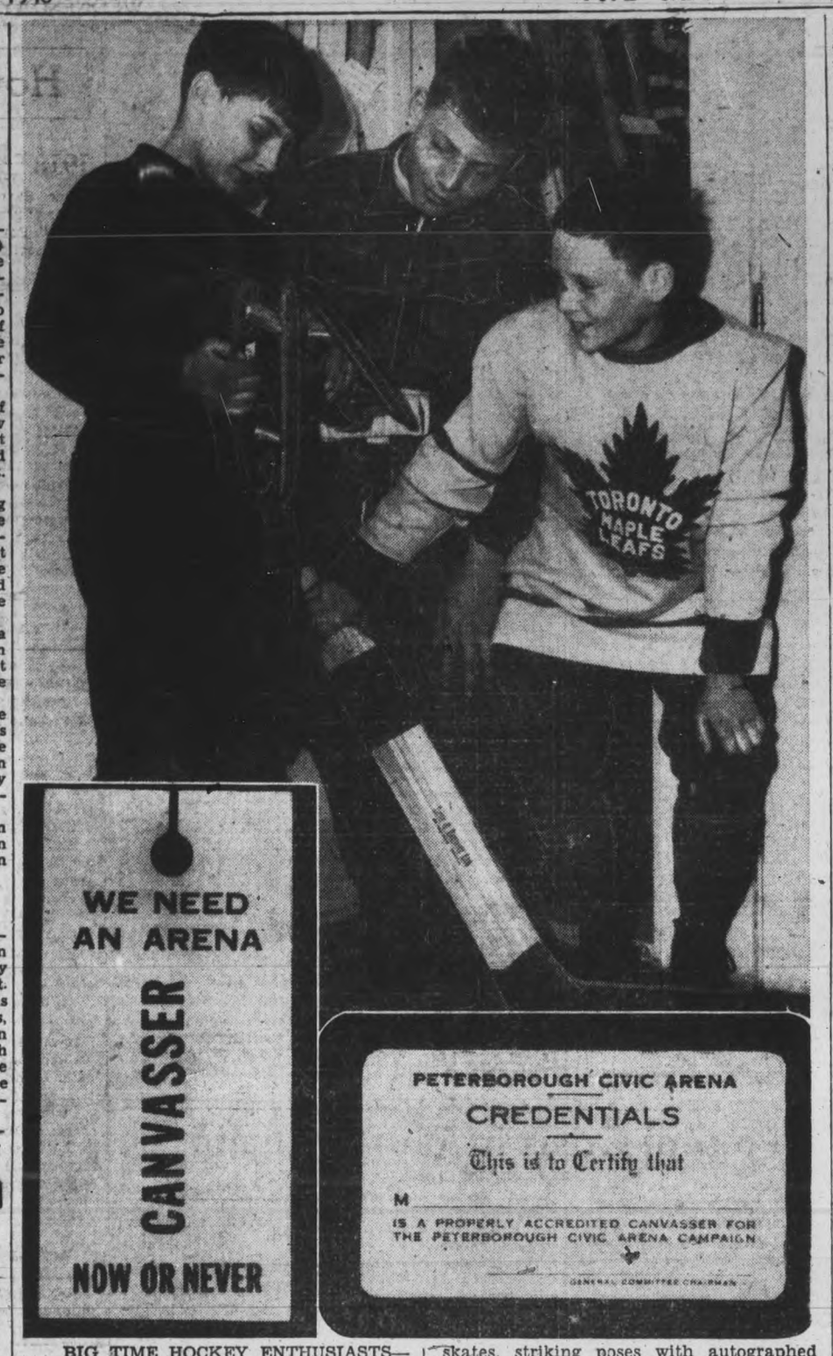
"In any event, the Province of Ontario and the State of New York appear to be in agreement as to the necessity of increased power development on the St. Lawrence.

"My whole purpose in speaking on this subject is to urge the government to continue negotiations till the power development at least becomes a reality for the benefit of Eastern Ontario and eventually the whole province and the Dominion."

Dr. Stewart recommended a start on a four-lane highway in Eastern Ontario connecting at least the Thousand Island Bridge with Ontario.

He further suggested that the best preserved of 11 British ships of war which were sunk after the War of 1812 should be raised from Navy Bay at Kingston. They should be used to carry American tourists to Canada.

He recalled that an inspection of the ships had been made in 1938, which showed they were in a good state of preservation.



No Harm Whistling

WELLAND, April 7 — (CP) — Does a man "impede" a woman when he whistles at her? County Judge H. E. Feller thinks not. Yesterday he allowed the appeals of John Torm, 23, of Niagara Fals, convicted by Magistrate John Hopkins at Niagara Falls March 2 on two charges. One of these was that he caused a disturbance by "impeding" Mrs. Doreen Profit, 20, by whistling at her.

U.S. To Restrict Aleutian Islands To Army

WASHINGTON, April 7 — (AP).—The United States moved directly today to bolster her Arctic defences, and indirectly to strengthen Norway's hold on strategic Polar islands.

The direct action was signalled by joint Army, Navy and Air Force plans to restrict for all but military use a a string of Aleutian Islands. These stretch out in a fog-shrouded line toward Russian-held Kamchatka and the Kuriles. They also cover the approaches to Dutch Harbor, which the Japanese attacked along with Pearl Harbor.

Action on the other front came in the Navy's announcement that a United States carrier task force will visit the Norwegian port of Bergen, April 29 to May 2, on a "good-will mission."

Both moves were described officially as "routine," but behind the "routine" label was this background:

1. Aleutians—Defence Secretary Forrestal revealed two weeks ago that Alaskan defence forces consist of only 7,000 troops and less than 100 fighter planes. At the same time, Navy officials reported that one of three mystery submarines said to have been sighted in the Pacific was spotted off the Aleutians.

Present plans call for an increase to 15,000 in the number of troops manning the Alaskan outpost, but there has been no public statement on what additional air strength is scheduled for that area.

Halt Passport Trial After Report In Paper

LONDON, April 7 — (CP) — The Old aBiley trial of two men charged as members of a passport ring which had been enabling aliens to enter Canada illegally was washed out to-day when Justice G. B. McClure ordered a new trial because London newspapers published references to the record of one of the accused during the jury's absence at yesterday's hearing.

The Judge said it was "most regrettable" that the evening papers published the allusions he made to the previous convictions of Edel Weingarten, the accused leader of the ring.

He ordered Frank Getgood 26, temporary passport clerk, released on bail of £100 ($400), but Weingarten, William Barrett 34-year-old pasport clerk, Albert Brown, Glasgow postman, and James Prior, Glasgow laborer, will be held in custody until the New Court Sessions opening on April 13.

100-Mill Tax Rate Planned For Cobalt

COBALT, April 7 — (CP) — A 100-mill tax rate—10 cents on each dollar of assessment—is in prospect for this famed old Northern Ontario silver town.

The Town Council meets tonight to formally strike the rate and Town Clerk C. Vezina says that on the basis of expenditure approved by Council last Friday the rate probably will be 100 mills. Taxpayers who support Roman Catholic Separate Schools will pay a rate of 120 mills.

The budget approved last Friday calls for an expenditure of $67,498.32 and the tax levy will be $59,011.86. The assessment is $559,870. Breakdown of the rate: General 58.5 mills, relief 3.5, Public Schools 23, Separate School 43, High Schools 15.

White Lake Now Rears 500,000 Fish Yearly

MOUNTAIN GROVE, April 7 —The Depart...ent of Lands and Forests has been making extensive additions to the White Lake Fish Hatchery here during the past several months. With the addition of two rearing ponds, now nearly a half-million young fish can be reared during a twelve-month period.

A residence for the hatchery manager has been built near No. 3 Highway at White Lake, besides a large garage and ice house. It is reported that the government contemplates building further accommodations.

The hatchery was first started in 1930 on a small scale and is now one of the larger rearing stations in the province. It is located a short distance from No. 7 Highway about five miles east of Mountain Grove on White Lake.

During the winter small speckled trout are transported by truck form the hatchery at Petawawa to White Lake and placed in the four ponds. They are fed and cared for during the cold weather and by spring are fair-sized specimens. In the spring bass are spawned in the clear waters and sent all over this part of Ontario

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Lot of Canadian ears will be glued to receiving sets tonight as the Stanley Cup finals open in Toronto. It is the world series of hockey, and somehow seems more fitting when you have teams from two countries fighting it out at the finish. We like Detroit Red Wings' chances by a shade over Toronto Maple Leafs, but that's just one guy's opinion. Wings haven't done much on Toronto ice all season, but then they're tough back in the Olympia Stadium on Grand River. Two scrappy young squads with heaps of hustle, and we'd say the Adams outfit might be a bit better defensively, whilst Conny Smythe's squad perhaps has more punch going in. Well, we'll have a better idea after the first two frays in Maple Leaf Gardens.

Church Softball League has an open meeting at seven this Friday night in the YMCA. Officials, team representatives and others interested should be on deck. Various business angles to discuss and settle, as well as entries to be taken. Teams wanting in should not wait around, but say so now. This loop starts its playing season quite early in the spring and is finished up when school summer holidays arrive, so little time can be frittered away in organization work in April. Another large circuit is expected to operate from kids up to seniors this softball semester.

* * * * * *

Re Minor Ballsters

Ray Pammett advises there will be an early meeting of the City Baseball League to get things lined up. The kids had a big season in 1947 and winners made fine showings generally in OBA provincial playdowns. Sponsored for the main part by service clubs, the league is doing a lot of good for youth of the city and for baseball, too. While neat games are common in the City Loop, the youngsters don't draw well, so it's a constant battle to keep the financial wolf off the front porch. However, this circuit has gradually collected quite a bit of equipment for the diamond sport.

* * * * * *

Annual Ontario Baseball Association meeting will be held this weekend in London, an executive huddle Friday p.m. and the general OBA affair all day Saturday. Biggest attendance in the history of the OBA is expected as this game—like most of the others—is experiencing a hefty post-war boom these years. Jack Turner of Peterborough will be there runing for the executive, and Ken Colling of Belleville will likely seek office again. Haven't heard at the moment if Alex Kay or any other local ball official is planning to take in the meeting, but this city should be represented. At one time, Eastern Ontario had quite a say at these sessions, but lately too few delegates from this section have been showing up.

* * * * * *

Keen Officials Back

At the senior ball meeting in the "Y" last eve, Vern Dawson was elected president, with Hugh Campbell and George Clark vice-prexies, Lloyd Grose secretary-treasurer, and Eddie Murphy manager. Glad to see these stalwart diamond officials back in harness, but chances of a revived COBL are apparently washed out. A Belleville meeting the other night didn't draw a lance-corporal's guard, Napanee have decided to play intermediate, and Oshawa's return is a year away yet according to Pud Lane. Viaduct Loop of Toronto won't accept outsiders, and the other Toronto circuit wants financial guarantees to travel here. Looks like we're still out geographically on the w.k. senior baseball limb. So, they decided to apply for entry in the Lakeshore League with a bye into senior playdowns, filling out with exhibitions.

* * * * * *

City Softball League took four entries last o.m.: Knights, DeLaval, Legion and the new B-A team. A Hastings' application was left in abeyance. This year the winner will have to hike into senior "B" playdowns with the runner-up going into intermediate "A" competition. Making this loop actually a senior "B" one according to population. A trophy was put up and may go to the leading hitter annually. Umps are advised to make application shortly to Secretary Bert Bailey. The meeting voted 25 bucks to the secondary rink project and later will turn proceeds of a game over to the arena committee.

Edge For The Pitcher

A report of the annual OASA convention was made and some of the rule changes pointed out. Clearing up the picture on the pitcher, it is now okay for him to wear a dark blue or black shirt to match his pants or he may don a shirt similar to those worn by his teammates whether he is pitching or playing another position. He must always wear the dark trousers. And he can use a resin bag (as in baseball) this season in order to keep his hands dry, as they get pretty sweaty when handling a ball on a hot night. This favors the flinger over the batter somewhat. Other changes will be dealt with here from time to time as the season starts.

What's What In Baseball

CLEARWATER, Fla., April 7—(AP). — Robin Roberts, promising rookie hurler from Michigan State, drew a nine-inning assignment for Philadelphia Phils against Toronto today.

Most of the Pittsburgh Pirates were confused yesterday in their game with Chicago White Sox at Juarez, Mexico, because all of the public address announcements were made in Spanish. The Bucs lost 7-4.

Boston Brave Manager Billy Southworth declared enthusiastically today that "we've got the spirit and the will to win. I can't help thinking of the old saying that you've got to crawl before you can walk. We crawled in 1946, but we walked in 1947 and now I believe we're going to run in 1948."

Deloro Hockeyist On Champ Outfit

MARMORA, April 7.—(ENS). —Wayne (Weiner) Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Brown of Deloro, is through with another hockey season in which his team, the St. Catharines Lions, distinguished itself by winning the all Ontario juvenile crown, defeating South Porcupine at Timmins (2 out of 3 games) and the OMHA juvenile "A" championship, defeating Kitchener in the finals, and losing only one game throughout the whole season.

Wayne was sent to St. Kitts by "Dit" Clapper, and has received there the coaching of Art Jackson. Next season he hopes to play junior "A" hockey with the St. Kitts Teepees.

He passed his 17th birthday last November. His position is right defence, and his ambition is to ultimately become an NHL player.

Four Entries Accepted In Men's Loop

Four clubs entered the men's City Softball League at a "Y" meeting last night: Knights of Columbus, De Laval, Legion and B-A, the latter a new entry. Joe Jones and Stan Stevenson applied for Hastings but it was agreed to hold this over till a later date before making a decision.

Harold Dormer reported on the OASA convention, explaining some of the rule changes. For instance, it was pointed out that pitchers may now use a resin bag. Also pitchers must wear black or blue trousers, but can either wear a black or blue upper part or one similar to the uniforms worn by other players on their team. The pitcher's shirt or sweater must be tucked in the trousers.

The winner of this league must go into senior "B" playdowns and the runner-up will go intermediate "A".

The executive accepted the offer of a trophy from Peller's, and it will probably go to the leading hitter. A small trophy becomes his permanent possession. Umpires should apply to Bert Bailey, league secretary.

The meeting voted $25 to the secondary rink project and will stage a game at a later date with proceeds going for this purpose. A further meeting will be held to clean up final details.

Wants Improved Boxer Check-ups

NEW YORK, April 7.—(AP).—Things were quiet along the 49th street "beach" with most of the mob in Washington to see "the Rock" fight, but in his cubicle in the Garden building Nat Fleischer was giving off ideas, as usual . . . . 'Everywhere they're trying to change boxing rules to prevent injuries and deaths," Nat said, "but there's no concerted action in the right direction . . They just make the rule book and the handling of a fight more cumbersome . . . . What is needed isn't new rules but strict adherence to an interpretation of the rules they have . . . Take physical examinations; now the doctor gives a boy about 10 minutes of superficial tests—on the day of a fight he goes over the entire card of 10 fighters in about an hour . . And most of them hesitate to reject a boy because they don't want to break up the card."

Sure Cure?

Dr. Vincent Hardiello, who does the examining here, has offered a proposal which Fleischer enthusiastically seconds as the best way of checking boxers' health . . . . It is for the Athletic Commission to establish a clinic, with all the modern equipment and a corps of specialists who could be summoned by the director . . . . Each fighter would be required to undergo a thorough examination there twice a year—and the state would pay the cost out of boxing tax money . . . . That's okay for a city like New York, but how about the kids from small upstate towns? . . . They're the ones who'll get the least and need it the most.

Huskies Win Crown Defeat Pla-Mors 5-1

By The Associated Press

Houston Huskies put the Directors' Club, embematic of the United States Hockey League championship, on the shelf today and dusted off a place for the playoff trophy.

The Huskies won the league championship last night by winning the best-of-seven series with Kansas City Pla-Mors four games to three.

Houston took a two-point lead in the first period, yielded Kansas City's only score less than half way through the stanza, and finished with two goals in the last period for a 5-1 victory.

Kansas City finished in first place in the northern division during the regular season and Houston in first place in the southern.

The Houston victory qualified the team to open the best-of-five playoff series with Minneapolis Millers here Thursday night.

McCready-Giant In Main Bout At Brock Tonight

Whether the Cardiff Giant can continue his spectacular two and three minute wins will be proven tonight in the Brock St. Arena ring when he meets Earl McCready of Aurora, Ont. Earnest Earl is completely confident he has the measure of the big fellow with the Welsh background. "I find these big fellows are just right for my style," said Earl in a pre-bout statement and he added, "I expect to beat off that bear-hug of his, and after all that's all he has. Then I'll put my rolling-cradle-splits on him for the fall."

Nanjo Singh

Sounds fine if the wrestling farmer can make his words stick.

Nanjo Singh and Ken Kenneth meet in the first bout and Dr. Ed Meske will try to subdue tough John Katan in the semi-final.

Five of the wrestlers on tonight's card are eligible for the crown now held by Whipper Billy Watson.

Vern Dawson Elected Petes' Prexy

At a well-attended meeting of the Peterborough Senior Baseball Club in the YMCA last night, Vern Dawson was elected president for 1948. Hugh Campbell and George Clark were voted vice-presidents, Lloyd Grose secretary-treasurer and Eddie Murphy manager.

After a thorough checkup, Eddie Murphy told the meeting it appears impossible to revive the Central Ontario League this year. Oshawa won't be ready for another year, Belleville interests are receiving no support, and Napanee has decided to play intermediate. Toronto Viaduct League will not take in outsiders, and the other Toronto senior setup was passed up as those teams want a guarantee to play here.

It was finally decided to seek entry into the Lakeshore League, with a bye into OBA senior playdowns as was the case two years ago. This schedule will be augmented with exhibition games against outstanding teams, some from the States. An exhibition will probably be arranged to open the season Saturday, May 22. The Council will be asked for permission to use Riverside Park. The question of insurance came up, as well as general talk of equipment and other matters. Vern Dawson and Eddie Murphy will attend the next Lakeshore League meeting later this week.

Leafs And Wings At Full Strength

TORONTO, April 7 — (CP). — Detroit Red Wings and Toronto Maple Leafs were both reported at full strength today as they prepared for the opened tonight in hockey's world series, the best-of-seven final for the Stanley Cup.

The same two teams clashed for the National Hockey League championship at the close of the league schedule, and Leafs won the title by beating Detroit twice. Over the whole season, Leafs won six, tied four and lost two of the 12 games between them. But season records don't count when the chips are down in the final.

The Wings reached here late last night, and the Leafs came into town today after enjoying a rest at St. Catharines since beating Boston Bruins here Saturday night. In their semi-finals, Toronto eliminated Boston by four games to one, and Detroit eliminated New York Rangers by four games to two.

The Leafs took it easy in their stay at St. Catharines with only a light practice yesterday. The reserves they've brought up from the minors however, were given a stiff workout. These recruits for the big series include Howie Harvey, Phil Samis, Don Metz, Les Costello, Bob Dawes and Fleming Mackell. Leafs' 10th forward for tonight's game will be chosen from Dawes, Costello and Mackell.

Rangers 'Old Guard' Seen Near End of Hockey Trail

By AL COLLETTI

NEW YORK, April 7—(CP). — The end of the National Hockey League trail may have come for the last of the "old guard" New York Rangers who were members of the team that won the Stanley Cup in 1939-40. Speaking at the final weekly hockey writers' luncheon of the season yesterday, Manager Frank Boucher just about closed the door, although he didn't turn the key on team captain Neil Colville, 33, centre Phil Watson, 33, and winger Bryan Hextall, 34, all of the Stanley Cup "class of '40."

The trio are likely to wind up with coaching positions in the Rangers' organizations. Boucher, speaking carefully, hinted as much when he emphasized that the Ranger policy was to retain such "worthy" veterans in the organization in administrative capacities.

Watson, veteran of 13 seasons in the big time is just about ready to hang up his skates, while silver-haired Colville is nearing the end of his active career. Hextall has said flatly that he is retiring from hockey.

"After all, we can't expect Watson to have another great year," said the affable Boucher. "Cal Gardner is really a fine centre who is practically lost playing left wing."

Outstanding Player

That Watson had a great year was seconded by the Hockey Writers' Association which voted fiery Phil the outstanding Ranger player in the playoffs. Watson was awarded the William J. McBeth memorial trophy by polling more first-place ballots after finishing in a tie in points with Tony Leswick. Goalie Charles (Chuck) Rayner was third.

Boucher said he planned to keep both his goalies, Jim Henry and Rayner and said that they both had been signed to three-year contracts.

Boucher also revealed that Pentti Lund, rookie right winger, was the previously anonymous player the Rangers received from Boston in the deal that sent Grant Warwick and cash to the Bruins for Billy Taylor, now under life suspension for alleged betting on hockey.

Lund, 22, is a six-foot 180-pounder who scored 62 points for Hershey Bears of the American Hockey League this season; his first in professional hockey. Born in Helsinki, Finland, he served three years in the Canadian navy.

Boucher said the Rangers had the four best centres of hockey—Edgar Laprade, Buddy O'Connor, Gardner and Don Raleigh; the rookie trio of defenceman Jack Lancien and wingers Dunch Fisher and Nick Mickoski had a good chance to make next year's team; Raleigh will be an all-time great in two or three years and Lund figures to become a regular.

Boucher plans to keep his Laprade-Leswick-Ed Kullman line intact, as he rates it among the best in the N.H.L.

Detroit Red Wings and Toronto Maple Leafs set a modern play-off scoring record 12 years ago tonight when Red Wings defeated the Leafs 9-4 in the second game of the Stanley Cup series. The scoring record for league matches was set that season, 19 goals being scored on two occasions.

Fear New Taxes Puts Bookies Out Of Business

By ALAN HARVEY

LONDON, April 7.— (CP).— Betting authorities contend that Britain's new graduated tax on dog bookmakers may force the small bookies out of business.

The license duties, announced by Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer, in his 1948-49 budget message before the House of Commons yesterday, "may well drive away all bookmakers except those connected with starting price offices," said one leading authority.

George Yates, chairman of the Bookmakers' Protective Association, termed the tax, which does not affect horse racing, "most unfair" and he claimed the greyhound track authorities sought the tax as a reprisal for the totalisator tax.

Dog racing is one of the most popular of British sports and bookies, parked inside the course, take the bulk of the public's money. The totalisator, on the other hand, is one of the track's chief sources of revenue.

Under the Chancellor's scheme each bookie is to pay a license duty for each meeting—£6 ($24) in the two-shilling betting enclosure; £18 in the four-hilling ring and £48 in the 15-shilling.

Comedy Cycle On The Way In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, April 7 (AP)— Here's a film cycle you can see a mile away—the comedies are coming.

Film makers apparently think their customers no longer want to shudder or cry, but instead desire merriment. So that's what they are going to get. "If we can't make them think," a top director told me, "we might as well make them laugh."

More and More

Bette Davis soon starts her first comedy since "The Man Who Came to Dinner," and she is joined by Robert Montgomery, who has also gone dramatic in recent years. Joan Fontaine's company will make a comedy with her and Jimmy Stewart, and Dana Andrews' first Independent film is geared for laughs.

Robt. Cummings and Hedy Lamarr just finished a farce, and Rex Harrison is learning the playful art under Preston Sturges' command. Tyrone Power is currently making two comedies, and Jane Wyman and David Niven are indulging in slapstick at Warners.

Around the Lots

Al Jolson bought back his Encino estate—the one depicted as his retirement home in "The Jolson Story." The price was somewhat under $200,000.... They are talking about a "Petrified Forest" remake starring Bob Mitchum at Warners. It was remade in 1945 as something awful called "Escape in the Desert" with Philip Dorn and Helmut Dantine....

Melvyn Douglas received greetings on his 47th birthday from Army friends in Paris. The talk at Republic is that wild Bill Elliott had to change his handle to William, because he sounded too much like a used car dealer.

Big Welcome Prepared For RCAF Flyers

OTTAWA, April 7 — (CP). — Hockey followers of the capital who stayed away in droves when R.C.A.F. Flyers left for the Olympic hockey wars a few months ago today had a resounding welcome ready for the returning conquerors of the 1948 Olympic championship.

Flags and banners which have lain idle since the tremendous homecoming reception accorded Barbara Ann Scott last month were fluttering again in downtown Ottawa and noon-hour crowds were on hand to extend the glad hand to the "Cinderella team" which won 32 and tied five of its 42 overseas games.

It was a great day for the R.C.A.F. with Defence Minister Claxton and Air Marshal W. A. Curtis, chief of air staff, heading the welcoming committee. For the last week, every available airman in Ottawa had been drilling for the triumphal parade from Union Station to the Beaver Barracks where the team lived during its Canadian training period.

Large numbers of friends and relatives of the Flyers, many of whom come from the Ottawa district, were on hand to cheer as the team, travelling in open automobiles, threaded a route similar to that taken through downdown Ottawa by Barbara Ann Scott a month ago.

Hold "March Past"

Following a brief meeting with the "scrambled egg" department and a few minutes to greet their relatives, the Flyers program called for a "march past" at defence headquarters on Elgin street and on informal luncheon at the barracks.

An official dinner reception will be held Friday night at the R.C.A.F. officers' mess. The Flyers wind up their career Saturday night with an exhibition contest at Ottawa Auditorium against a group of N.H.L. and Quebec Senior Hockey League All-Stars." Proceeds of the game will go to the Canadian Appeal for Children.

The team will then disband, its members returning to various air force posts throughout the Dominion or to their civilian employment.

To Organize Junior League

By GEORGE FORSTER.

REGINA, April 6 — (CP). — Talk of a mammoth Western Interprovincial Junior Hockey League, current on the Prairies for months, is becoming more and more definite with President George Vogan of Moose Jaw Canucks saying "This time we mean business."

Rumors say the league will comprise two Winnipeg teams—Monarchs and Canadiens, Brandon Wheat Kings, Regina Patricias, and Moose Jaw Canucks.

Lethbridge Native Sons and Medicine Hat Tigers, apparently won't enter any such league next season.

Murray (Moose Jaw Times-Herald) Brown says Vogan is hard at work making plans for the league to go into operation next fall.

"And take it from the likeable Canuck chief," says Brown, "the league is a certainty."

Dave (Regina Leader-Post) Dryburgh sees one main problem for the new league: ".....That cockeyed rink percentage in Winnipeg. How can teams operate getting only 30 per cent of the take?"

The league has been talked of in Saskatchewan for more than two years.

Club executives apparently feel the higher gates resulting from tough, well-balanced league will do more than cover the heavier expenses involved in the new league.

Marriage Annulled

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., April 7 — (AP). — The marriage of Walda Winchell, daughter of columnist Walter Winchell, and William F. Lawless, 30, was annulled yesterday by Judge George Poland. In petitioning for an annulment, Lawless claimed he and Miss Winchell never lived together as husband and wife.

FIRST ARRIVAL — Mrs. Mickey Harris, wife of the Boston Red Sox pitcher, is shown with her new son, Richard Michael Harris, born at a Boston, Mass., hospital, weighing nine pounds and stretching all of 22 inches in height.

OLYMPIC BASKETBALL—Out of the heat of the recent Olympic championship finals, ten men emerged who will represent the U.S. in the summer Olympiad. The other four members of the Olympic basketball team will be chosen from the collegiate and AAU-YMCA. (Amateur Athletic Union) brackets. The ten chosen at New York are shown here. They are, left to right: R. C. Pitts, Oilers; Gerald Tucker, Oilers; Ralph Beard, Kentucky; Alex Groza, Kentucky; Lew Beck, Oilers; Bob Kurdland, Oilers; Ken Rollins, Kentucky; Gordon Carpenter, Oilers; Wallace Jones, Kentucky; Cliff Barker, Kentucky, and Jesse Renick, Oilers.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS

By The Canadian Press

Secretary Al Irwin of the Canadian Amateur Basketball Association announced yesterday at Montreal he had served an ultimatum on Windsor Alumni to play the C.A.B.A. way or get out of the playoffs. The trouble arose when Windsor objected to going to Ottawa to declare an Ottawa champion.

Not one key player of Montreal Canadiens will be sold or traded between now and next October. General Manager Frank Selke said yesterday.

The United States Golfing Association yesterday politely but firmly advised Mrs. Babe Didrickson Zaharias her presence is not desired in the National Open championship June 10-12. She had said some time ago she would like to be the first of her sex to compete in the classic.

Ontario Provincial Treasurer Frost last night described Syl Apps of the Toronto Maple Leafs as the best man he knew of in Ontario for the job of commissioner of athletics. Discussing treasury department estimates in the legislature, he said he hoped Apps could continue in the position. He disclosed Apps' salary was $5,000.

Harry (Suze) Turner, well-known fastball hurler and football star, has been appointed supervisor for the North Bay Athletic Park Commission, it was announced yesterday. The commission operates a hockey rink, a fastball stadium, and a baseball park.

Delegates to the 31st annual meeting of the Ontario Baseball Association at London, Ont., April 17 to elect this year's officers, will find the office of secretary-treasurer already filled by Hamilton's W. J. (Bill) Synder. Bill was returned by acclamation to office he has held for 22 years.

Bob Burns has been appointed pro golfer at the Erie Downs Golf and Country Club, succeeding Ray McCauliffe.

Ike Williams, world lightweight champion, formally signed yesterday to defend his title in a 15-round bout at Los Angeles May 25 against Enrique Bolanis of Mexico City.

Bears Have Eye On Pitchers; League Threat

HAINES CITY, Fla., April 7.— (AP).—Shut out of the International League playoffs for the first time in 16 years last season, Newark Bears will attempt to return to the upper regions of the circuit this season with an almost completely overhauled club.

Bill Skiff, starting his first full season as a pilot of the Bears, has only Joe Collins, Bill Rogers, Ted Sepkowski, Ford Garrison, Johnny Maldovan and Bob Keegan from last year. Of that group, only Garrison was with the club all through 1947.

Experienced pitchers are the ingredients needed from the parent New York Yankees to make the rebuilt Bears bristle with danger for the rest of the league. Solid catching, a strong defensive infield and a potentially talent-rich outfield are the foundation on which Skiff has built to date.

Ken Silvestri, veteran of the majors will do the majority of the catching and promises to add 10 to 15 victories to the pitching staff. He is a smart receiver with a propensity for hitting the long ball. Billy Holm and Ed Little will also catch.

Best Infield

Shortstop Odie Strain and second baseman Joe Muffoletto, who were the keystone combination of the pennant winning Kansas club in the American Association last year, will give the Bears the best middle infield pair in several years.

Johnny Lucadello, another ex-major leaguer, will be at third and furnishes hitting punch. Joe Collins will be back at first base. He batted .272 in 98 games for the Bears last season.

This would enable Frank Colman who had been moved over to first, to return to his natural outfield position. Garrison, who has been with the club two years will be in left field. Ralph Brown will probably open in centre field. Colman will patrol right field.

Milburn Thinks New Milk Law All Right

TORONTO, April 7.—Further study of the Ontario government's new milk legislation brought forth mixed reactions from producers and distributors yesterday, with producers, as a whole, taking a favorable attitude.

Distributors in the Toronto district saw few benefits in the new bill for either distributor or consumer, and at London president Orville Sinclair of the London Milk Distributors' Association said that, unless producers reopened negotiations with distributors, arbitration would be necessary to settle prices.

There was some fear, he said, that changes in milk regulations might result in a "marketing monopoly" for producers. Milk has retailed at 17 cents a quart in London since Feb. 2, when dairies agreed to pay producers a 55-cent per hundredweight increase authorized by the Milk Control Board. For two months prior to that distributors refused to pay the whole increase, and raised the consumer price to 16 cents only. Later they offered $3.60 a hundredweight, the figure at which they said they could keep the price at 16 cents, but the meeting ended in stalemate.

"The milk board formerly did exercise some control over producers," said Mr. Sinclair, "now it looks as though they may be completely on their own."

The Ontario Federation of Agriculture, on the other hand, felt the new Act would be "all right" from a farmer's point of view. Improved marketing and stronger bargaining powers were seen in the bill by V. S. Milburn, secretary of the Federation, leading Ontario farmers' organization.

There would be benefits too, he felt, from the provision for marketing agencies set up by producers, which would handle any milk surpluses, "but we'll have to see how this works out." Chief benefit, Mr. Milburn said, was likely to come from stronger bargaining power.

SEARCH FOR UTOPIAN FLY—Eugene Gerhart, exponent and teacher of the fly-tying art, gets some assistance with the hackle tongs from Miss Muriel Hadley, who adds just a touch of the new look to the lure for trout or bass.

Can you name these baits? Wisps of feather, hair, paint and thread have been painstakingly combined to fashion what the craftsman hopes will be sure-fire lures come opening day. Bottom row, from left: a "crabackle," or crawfish made of green hair; a "dragonfly" hair and feather creation; hair "frog," eyes and all. Middle: small bass plug and "grasshopper." Top row shows assortment of tiny "streamers" of proven merit.

New Protection Given Moose

TORONTO, April 7 — (CP)— Added protection for Ontario's moose population is contained in a bill introduced in the Legislature yesterday by Lands Minister Harold R. Scott.

The bill specifically prohibits shooting or molesting moose while the animals are swimming. Deer are already protected in this way.

One of the recommendations made to the committee on game was incorporated in an amendment to the Game and Fisheries Act.

It provides that the use of metal seals as well as coupons for shipping game is mandatory. When a moose is killed under a licence, the seal must be attached immediately. In the case of a deer, the seal must be affixed before shipping.

Dogs are prohibited in taking muskrat and the carrying of guns is forbidden half an hour before sunrise and the same period after sunset unless unloaded and encased or dismantled.

Mr. Scott introduced a new Forest Fires Prevention Act, which clarifies provisions regarding creation of fire districts, travel permit areas and closed areas.

Thaw Brings End Of Timber Operations

PORT ARTHUR, April 7 (CP) —A recent thaw that brought an end to most of the season's timber operations in North-western Ontario has put some 10,000 district bush workers temporarily out of work.

Timber operators estimate that less than 25 per cent of the 14,000 bushmen employed in the district during the winter are working to-day. Thousands of other men brought from Quebec and the Prairies have either returned home or moved to district cities and towns.

An estimated 10,000 cords of pulpwood has been cut and some 400,000 to 500,000 sawlogs await the river drive, started in two or three weeks on streams and later on the lakes.

Commons Approves Legislation To Subsidize Gold Production

By GEORGE KITCHEN

OTTAWA, April 7. (CP)—The Commons yesterday gave record approval to a government bill to subsidize the gold-mining industry.

It took the Chamber precisely five hours to debate second reading of the legislation and approve the 10 clauses that make up the bill. The formality of third and final reading likely will take place today and the measure then will go to the Senate.

In the remaining hour of the sitting, the House considered the government's new Labor Code, giving the enabling bill first reading, and advanced amendments to the War Veterans Allowance Act through their initial stages. These amendments increase payments to needy veterans of the First World War and their dependents.

The Gold Bill proposes, under a complicated formula, to pay subsidies to the mining companies in the three years beginning Jan. 1 this year.

Subsidy Given

The subsidy will be paid on gold produced in excess of two-thirds of production in the year ended June 30, 1947, and will be equal to about one-half of the amount by which production costs exceed $18 an ounce. The government will not, however, pay half of any production costs running over $50 an ounce.

The main objective of the legislation is to increase gold production and thus ease Canada's shortage of foreign exchange. It also aims at keeping alive those northern communities which depend on the mining industry for their existence and livelihood.

All parties supported the bill, although CCF and Social Credit members said they did not see why the government could not subsidize other industries and products to keep down the cost of living. Progressive Conservative and Liberal members, on the other hand, felt that the legislation did not go far enough.

Budget Date Uncertain

Finance Minister Abbott said he could not indicate yet when he will bring down the 1948-49 budget.

Mr. Mitchell said ship owners involved in the deep-sea strike have taken a "final position" for full implementation of a federal conciliator's report.

During the Labor Code debate A. L. Smith (PC-Calgary West), Progressive Conservative labor spokesman, expressed hope parliament and the provincial legislatures would outlaw the "sympathetic" strike. While he hoped parliament never would take from labor its right to strike, some walkouts tended to be illegal. They should be outlawed.

He declared his support for the check-off of union dues.

Angus MacInnis (CCF-Vancouver East) said the general tendency in labor legislation had been towards "restriction on organized labor." There had been "very little" labor legislation. Labor had been weak and the employers strong.

"Betrayed Church"

TORONTO, April 7 — (CP). — Prof. Frank W. Beare, a former Presbyterian minister who was recently ordained an Anglican priest, was yesterday charged with "betraying his church" by Rev. R. C. Creelman of Weston. Mr. Creelman made his accusation at a meeting of the Toronto Presbytery of the Presbyterian Church. The Weston minister objected to a motion that Dr. Beare receive a "dismissary letter" stating he left the Presbyterian church in good standing.

Sees Mickey McDonald Finds It All Mistake

TORONTO, April 7 — (CP).— The latest report that Mickey McDonald and his convict pals had been spotted turned out yesterday to be another false alarm. An excited citizen told police he had seen a man who resembled Ulysse Lauzon with several other men in an automobile in the downtown section. A two-hour police search turned up the car the citizen saw. It was found in Oshawa and its occupants were four law-abiding residents of that city who had been here on a holiday.

Higher Wages To Cleaners

TORONTO, April 7 — (CP) — Full details of salary increases to Ontario government employees will have to await the formal statement by provincial secretary Michener. However, it was brought out in the Legislature last night the cleaners and helpers in the public works department have been granted higher wages, effective April 1.

The information was given by Works Minister George Doucett during the consideration of his estimates. In reply to a statement by A. A. MacLeod (LPP—Toronto Bellwoods) that window cleaners are being paid only 57 cents an hour, Mr. Doucett said this rate now is 63 cents for casual employees.

He said the rate for temporary help is 67 cents an hour and for permanent employees 72 cents. He didn't give the previous rate but it is assumed the increase is about the same as that granted casual help. In the main office of the department there is also an item of $8,000 to cover salary increases there.

Later Mr. Doucett told the press with the exception of employees now receiving the top salary in their classification, all others would benefit from increases ranging from approximately $100 to $250 annually.

While the House was in committee, J. B. Salsberg (LPP—St. Andrew) deplored what he called the "starvation wages" being paid certain types of government workers.

Mr. McLeod urged the government to do something about the mental institution at 999 Queen Street West, Toronto. It should be torn down or sold to the city as a recreation centre and a new institution built on another site.

Provincial Treasurer Frost expressed sympathy with the idea but said that if the government proceeded with such a project it definitely would hinder the building of new hospitals such as the Sick Children's and Mount Sinai because there isn't sufficient material to go round.

CORNWALL, April 7 — (CP). — Dr. Sydney E. Smith, president of the University of Toronto said last night in an address prepared for delivery to Cornwall district graduates that he did not advocate that the university should be an institution only for those students whose parents can support them financially.

Hot Session In Lindsay Council As Residents Shout About Floods

LINDSAY, April 7—(ENS)—Growing dissatisfaction of residents in the southwest section of the town, where cellars have been flooding for the past 20 years, culminated in a stormy session of Town Council Monday night. More than 50 residents of that area attended the meeting in protest and demanded that council do something about flood conditions.

E. C. Pitts, retail grocer in the troubled area, presented a petition to council asking that proper sewers be installed to rectify conditions. There were 72 signatures.

"All the undersigned have experienced flooding cellars, and the list is far from complete," Mr. Pitts said. He said the average depth of water in cellars during March rains was two feet.

"No one should have to live under such conditions," he added.

Council agreed to take the matter up with the town solicitor before taking action.

"If you sue the town you are only suing yourselves," Mayor Lamb told the citizens.

"The money would come from the taxpayers."

"If I sue the town how much would my share be, with 2,300 homes in Lindsay?" a citizen demanded.

"Do you want to put the citizens to unexpense of $25,000, just to clear this up?" countered His Worship.

"This is neither a new situation nor merely a local one," Mr. Pitts pointed out.

"Fourteen years ago council admitted they were in the wrong and liable for damage. I had a great deal of merchandise ruined by sewer water last month."

Mayor: "We're putting in manholes and catch basins now."

Citizen: "That's not enough. We need new sewers."

Citizen Shouts Back

Mayor: "I had 23 inches of water in my own cellar."

Citizen (shouting): "Have you had it for twenty years?"

Mayor: "No, this is the first time."

Citizen: "You put 75 new houses in that part of the town to drain into the same old sewer."

Several others joined in saying the new houses were overtaxing the sewers.

Mayor: "Instead of building a monument to the returned to the soldiers this council was farsighted enough to build new homes for them. Would you deprive the veterans?"

Citizen: "I am a veteran myself."

Mayor: "There's two alternatives. Put in septic tanks or new sewers."

Cries of "Put in new sewers" followed.

Mr. Pitts: "The town engineer says the sanitary sewers are at fault, I would ask him if he thinks the storm sewers are adequate?"

Reeve H. H. McFadden: "I object. The engineer isn't under cross-examination."

Mr. Pitts: "Well, they aren't adequate. This is urgent, and we want more assurance that something will be done than just council's word for it."

Mayor: "This council is fair. We'll consult our town solicitor."

Citizen: "Other deputations have been put off in the same way. If we all put in claims, you will soon pay out $250,000. You might just as well spend it putting in sewers."

Mayor Lamb repeated that citizens would only be suing themselves.

Big Restocking Program For All Lakes

LINDSAY, April 7. (ENS). — A large fish restocking program, the biggest in this area to date, will soon be undertaken by the Department of Lands and Forests. This was announced today by District Fish and Game Inspector A. M. Hodgson, of Lindsay. Inspector Hodgson said this program will include the restocking of most of the rivers and lakes in the Trent district, which includes Durham, Haliburton, Northumberland, Peterborough, and Victoria counties. "We're moving brown trout now in preparation for the planting," he stated. "Next we'll plan to move speckled trout. These wil be yearlings and fingerlings. After that will come pickerel and later muskies and bass."

Last year in Victoria county alone, more than 2,400,000 fish were planted. Of this total, 1,800,000 were pickerel fry. Maskinonge fry planted in this county in 1947 totalled 460,000, speckled trout yearlings numbefed 3,000. Over 2,061,000 fish were put in Haliburton waters. Inspector Hodgson says this year the number will be increased. "We are bringing in seasonal overseers with the hope of stopping all illegal taking of bass and muskies during the spawning season."

Speaking of the muskrat season which opened March 20 and closes April 21 in this county, the inspector said it is the poorest season in years. "The rats are of poor quality and not plentiful," he declared. "Some trappers have quit and are already removing their traps." He attributed the bad season to low water last fall which caused the bogs to freeze.

MEMO TO CITY TRUST

The following clause is quoted from the report of the committee of the whole, adopted by the council Monday night: "That the city clerk write to the secretary of the Commisisoners of the City Trust drawing attention to the requirements of the Trust's Act in the election annually of a chairman, and suggesting that the Trust's oversight in this regard be rectified."

SPRINGTIME IS LAMB TIME—Heavy dairying districts such as Peterborough ordinarily do not produce many sheep but a few farmers keep small flocks to graze in sparse rocky pastures. At "Garmandale" on 4th Concession, Smith township, 22 ewes and four early lambs are considered a fair-sized flock. Top picture, two Oxford lambs follow a Leicester ewe to a pasture. Lower picture, Clarence Mann, owner of "Garmandale," Left, and helper Allan Patton restrain two lively Oxford lambs with the help of "Collie." At Right, portrait of a lost lamb, with sound effects.

Labor Council Delegates To Interview Aldermen

A delegation of Allied Labor Council volunteers will interview members of the legal committee of the City Council to ascertain why individuals of that committee turned down a recent request of labor for an amendment to the present anti-noise by-law. This was decided at the bi-monthly meeting of the Labor Council on Tuesday night.

It was moved by William Cambers and William Whibbs that the council contact all unions and urge they take up the matter of the civic body refusing to amend the by-law. A delegation of nine volunteers was named to interview the legal committee.

Included were Gordon James, William Cambers, Gerald Anderson, John Beggs, William Rosebush, Donald Rosenburgh, Alfred Simmons, William Whibbs and Fred Lebarr.

Critical Of Examiner

The Peterborough Examiner was attacked for permitting anonymous letters to be printed on what were regarded as anti-union subjects. Moreover these letters had as their pseudonymn names which would leave the impression they were written by dissatisfied labor unionists.

"I think that when an organized attack is made against such an institution as a labor union the newspaper should be willing to see that the writer has signed his name," said Mr. Cambers.

"From time to time it refuses bona fide letters from trade union officials of this town," he said. "During the packinghouse strike letters from farmers were published attacking the packinghouse but not letters from union members."

William Whibbs said he was sceptical of the use of communicating to the newspaper on this subject because the communication would only be ignored. He said he thought writers of these letters should be required to sign their names.

A motion was drafted that the council endorse any action taken by Local 524 in the matter of anonymous letters to the Peterborough Examiner. It passed unanimously.

"I don't think any class of people would benefit more than the working people," said Mr. Whibbs as the council discussed a contribution to the new hockey arena. The donation amounted to $25.

When Mr. Cambers explained why the city refused to allow the sale of surplus war material in the market square by a recent applicant, the matter was dropped.

Leather Medal Given The Rev. W. McDonald As The Most Useful Peterborough Curler

Leather medals are like wooden nickels and left-handed monkey-wrenches; they exist in words but nobody ever seems to have seen them. The Examiner is therefore delighted to report that it has not only seen a leather medal but also the winner of it, wearing it proudly from a coloured ribbon around his neck. The beaming owner is one of our elder citizens and a skilful curler, the Rev. William McDonald.

The Peterborough Curling Club had its closing 'spiel last Friday evening. Prizes were presented to the winning rinks and congratulatory speeches made. Mr. McDonald, a life member of the club and one of its most active supporters, remarked jocularly that he ought to have a leather medal.

He had not been on any rink, feeling that there were "so many younger fellows looking for places" that he had better stand on the side-lines. The way he did this was remarkable; all through the winter he stood by as a ready substitute and ended the season by playing more than forty games, never on the same rink twice and usually to the benefit of the rink, for he is considered one of the best leads. It was an arduous season for a man well past the alloted span.

Monday evening Mr. McDonald was invited to the annual meeting of the Curling Rink shareholders and there presented with a specially-fashioned real leather medal. "I asked for it and I got it," Mr. McDonald chuckled. "You know, once upon a time, to be given a leather medal was a sign of disgrace." Obviously Mr. McDonald was pleased with his honorable medal of "disgrace." It is a five-pointed star cut in leather and on the centre is fixed a disc with the inscription: "The Most Useful Curler Award. Presented to Rev. Wm. McDonald, Peterborough Curling Club, 1947-48."

No longer can a leather medal be just a phrase or a Scottish joke. It exists, although Mr. McDonald is probably the only Peterborough resident in good standing with his fellows ever to receive one officially.

Fears Palestine Problem Be Solved By Force

The Palestine problem can only be settled by war between the Arabs and Jews, in the opinion of the Rev. George Breaden, Greenville, Ohio, who has recently returned to the United States after 24 years as a missionary in the Near East for the Christian and Missionary Alliance.

In an interview, Mr. Breaden said, "Reconciliation in Palestine is impossible and the problem can only be solved by force." He gave two main reasons for the present situation. The first was the stirring up of Moslem religious fanaticism combined with an intense nationalism; such as exists throughout the world today and has been the cause of a large part of the troubles in India, the Philippines and other countries. The second was an attempt on the part of the Jews to force a settlement of the problem by repeating the Arab outbreaks of violence of 1936 and 1939, when the Arabs to a large extent attained their objectives. He said that the Jewish displaced persons in Europe had aggravated the situation, making a speedy settlement even more important in Jewish opinion.

No Moral Claim

"Politically and according to democratic reasoning," he said, "the Arabs have a 100 per cent claim to Palestine, on the other hand I do not believe that the Arabs have much of a moral claim to the country. They have cut down all the trees, they have allowed a desert to form and the majority live in filth and dirt."

"The Jews in Palestine have done quite the opposite. They have built irrigation systems, tilled the land, and developed hydro systems. Before the recent troubles, they even taught the Arabs how to do many of these things."

Mr. Breaden said that before the war about eighty per cent of the Jews and Arabs co-operated and lived peaceably together. He gave many examples of Arabs and Jews working together successfully, even at the present time, but said that tolerance was being ruthlessly stamped out by both Arab and Jew.

Speaking as a neutral observer, Mr. Breaden said, "Having allowed the Jews to settle, they ought to be given the possibility of defending themselves. The Arabs are being equipped with guns and tanks, and in my opinion the Jews should also be allowed to receive arms."

Praise for Britain

He said of the British administration of the Palestine mandate, "No country could have done better than Britain has done." The administration was just and impartial.

When asked for his opinion on the outcome of a war between Arabs and Jews, Mr. Breaden said, "With unlimited immigration and no embargo on arms, the Jews will win."

Mr. Breaden has been chairman of the Alliance's mission field in Palestine for the past few years and heads a family of missionaries. His wife is doing the same work as he is, and they have missionary daughters in Cambodia, Indo-China, India and a U.S. Bible school. He expects to return to the Near East in July.

Judge Reverses Judgment In Spencer Case

Judge Sheldon L. Smoke in County Court on Tuesday allowed the appeal of John Spencer of Dummer township and formerly of Haultain, against his conviction in Magistrate's court on December 30 of wantonly and unnecessarily neglecting to water, feed and shelter his stock.

Summing up Judge Smoke said the Crown, represented by Walter Howell, had failed to prove its case. He quashed the conviction and ordered that Mr. Spencer be remitted a $7.50 fine and $9.50 costs, plus the repayment of security for costs.

It was charged that on December 5 with the temperature hovering around zero Mr. Spencer had left five head of cattle and three horses outside in the driving snow without water, fodder or shelter.

Visited Farm

Crown witnesses were Constable B. A. Howden, provincial police, and Game Overseer Vernal Windsor, Apsley. When called to the witness box Constable Howden said he went to "the Alex Reid farm" owned by Mr. Spencer, on the Apsley road on December 5, accompanied by Mr. Windsor.

He said the animals could not enter a tumble-down barn on the premises; the water at a nearby swamp was frozen over, and he found nobody there to attend to them.

Under cross-examination by W. B. Gordon, he said he did not make a full inspection of the property to look for additional water supplies, and agreed that the stacks of hay there were sufficient for food. Asked if the animals appeared to be suffering, he said, no.

Mr. Windsor said he went to Mr. Spencer's property with Constable Howden. He said the horses had been pawing at the ground in the region of the swamp, apparently looking for water.

Creek Partially Frozen

Neal's Creek about three-quarters of a mile away was described by him as frozen from the sides almost to the middle making it almost impossible for stock to drink. He corroborated Constable Howden's evidence that there was no person in sight during the inspection which included a close scrutiny of the house.

Mr. Spencer said the stacked hay was not only enough to feed the animals for two days, but enough for the whole winter as well. He said they could get into the nearby shed but they did not need to. If desirous of warmth they could crawl into the base of the hay stack for a distance of approximately two feet.

The animals were accustomed to crossing the road to another section of the property to drink, he said. And he contended that when he drove them over Neal's Creek two days later none of them paused for a drink at the open stream. This indicated, he said, that they could not have been thirsty as the Crown maintained.

Fred Doherty, Bethany, said he was living on the premises at the time and charged with the responsibility of looking after the stock during Mr. Spencer's absence. While absent himself during the working-part of the day he said he broke the ice both night and morning, including December 5.

He claimed he was asleep in the house when Constable Howden and Mr. Spencer came around that evening, and heard no knocking at the door or dogs barking.

On the morning of December 5, after breaking the ice, he said he saw the animals cross the road and drink at the water-hole.

Tenders Are Being Called For The Building Or 100 Low Rental Houses

Peterborough's agreement with Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation for 200 low rental houses has been set up on its feet again after the recent cancellation of the entire Ontario program for 1948 in the huffing and puffing between Premier Drew and Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe. Mr. P. S. Secord, Toronto, regional manager for the Corporation, informed City Clerk E. A. Outram by telephone today that the Peterborough program has been sent to Ottawa for approval, and in the meantime the Corporation is calling for tenders for 100 houses here.

To save ttime, Mr. Secord said they were not waiting for the official approval in asking for bids," Mr. Outram reported. "They will let the approval catch up on the tenders. The Corporation intends to get prices on 100 houses for Peterborough, and that number can later be increased to 200. The council applied for 200 early in the year. In fact, Peterborough was the first city in the province to enter into a 1948 agreement, and relations between the council and the Corporation have been entirely cordial."

The committee of the whole council discussed Tuesday night another housing project which is looking toward the north end of the city. Ald. Adam Sands informed the Examiner yesterday that preliminaries for the Parkdale sub-division east of Nicholls Oval have been completed. It is probable that work will be under way this season at Parkdale project and completed at the Brookdale project.

Bullet Pierces Window In Small Church

The quiet of the little Hall's Glen United church, north of Warsaw, was disturbed Sunday afternoon when "someone" playfully fired a gunshot through one of the stained-glass windows of the church. The shot came from a car on the road in front of the church. No accurate description of the car or its occupants has yet been obtained, although one woman says that she "believes it was a blue sports car of some kind."

It happened about two o'clock, shortly before the congregation assembled for service. The bullet pierced a pane in the upper section of the window. It struck the ceiling and has been recovered.

Only people in the church at the time were Ernest Butler, caretaker and two boys. The flying glass struck one boy on the head and another on the shoulder. There were no serious injuries.

Provincial police are investigating.

Napanee Pair Sentenced For Torturing 4-year-old

NAPANEE, April 7 — (CP). — Judge Wilfred S. Lane today declared "this children has been living in hell" in sentencing the boy's mother and her alleged common-law husband to prison terms on charges of causing grievous bodily harm to 4-year-old Donald Wheeler.

The mother, Mrs. Dorothy Wheeler, was sentenced to two years less a day definite and 12 months indefinite in reformatory. The man in the case, Edward McCoy of Napanee, was given three years in Kingston Penitentiary.

The child was taken to hospital early in February where he had an operation to amputate fingers on the left hand due to injuries received from burns. He is still in hospital. Photographs showed that on admittance he had bruises all over the body, hands burned from acid, ankles black and blue and sexual organs injured.

Judge Lane described it as the most brutal he had ever dealt with. He said he couldn't understand how a man could do such a thing to a dog.

"This was a calculated course of treatment over a period of time and this child has been living in hell, and I say that advisedly, for a period of months," he said.

Speaking to Mrs. Wheeler, he said he couldn't understand how a mother could let her "only legitimate child" be so brutally dealt with.

Only 1 Witness Left To Testify In Cooke Trial

EDMONTON, April 7.—(CP).—Parts of the Whitton report on child welfare administration in Alberta were scheduled to be filed in court today at the trial of Jack Kent Cooke of Toronto, publisher of New Liberty Magazine.

Defence and crown counsel at the trial of Mr Cooke on a charge of counselling to publish a defamatory libel agreed yesterday to select certain portions of the Whitton report for submission as evidence.

Joseph Sedgwick of Toronto, counsel for Mr. Cooke, sought to have the Whitton report submitted as evidence, but Mr. Justice J. Boyd McBride decided in favor of a prosecution submission that only those portions on which the magazine article claims to have been based should be entered.

Only one more witness—Mrs. Eleanor Griffith of Edmonton, provincial secretary of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire—is expected to be called before the trial ends. She is a defence witness.

Completed Soon

Summing-up arguments by counsel are expected to follow Mrs. Griffiths testimony, and it is possible the trial will be completed before tomorrow night.

Yesterday, when six witnesses were heard, Mr. Sedgwick contended that no one had testified that Mr. Cooke "counselled anybody in this province."

This argument was unsuccessful, as Mr. Justice McBride allowed the crown to file copies of telegrams allegedly sent by Mr. Cooke in connection with distribution of the Dec. 27 issue of the magazine in which the "Babies for Export" article appeared.

One of the witnesses yesterday was James C. Mahaffy of Calgary, counsel for the Royal Commission. He said he had read both the Whitton report and the Dingman article, and considered the latter to "go beyond the report in places."

STORMY WEATHER — During the recent stormy weather over England high waves lash a seawall at Seaford, in southern England, leaving a trail of damage in their wake. The lone automobile, above, was marooned when the storm necessitated closing the road to traffic.

Liberals, Conservatives May Unite Against CCF

REGINA, April 7—(CP)—Saskatchewan's political attention is focussed today on its capital city where a Liberal nominating convention may result in joint Liberal-Progressive Conservative action aimed at beating the CCF in the Provincial election Premier T. C. Douglas says is coming "fairly soon."

Leading Liberals and Progressive Conservatives have urged both parties to nominate only one candidate each in the two-seat Regina city constituency — a course already followed in the two-member Saskatoon riding.

They hope to unite the anti-CCF vote and defeat the two Provincial Cabinet Ministers — Provincial Treasurer C. M. Fines and Labor Minister C. C. Williams—who now represent Regina in the Legislature.

To-day's convention is the first in a round of spring nominating conventions that will spread to rural constituencies when mud-clogged roads become passable as all parties hope to complete nominations by mid-day.

A CCF convention here is scheduled later this month with both parties having set dates for Moose Jaw, the third two-seat riding in the province.

CCF Nominates 39

Already the CCF has nominated in 39 of the 52 constituencies with 41 Liberal candidates in the field. The Social Credit Party has 21, the Progressive Conservatives eight, and the Labor-Progressive Party one.

Four prominent Regina Liberals seek the nomination and all of them have said they favor a "saw-off."

In the 1941 election—when the CCF landslide captured 47 seats in the province against five for the Liberals — the CCF counted 28,913 votes in Regina against 28,183, figures that convince advocates of a coalition that an anti-CCF union would beat the government here.

But some political observers say the ancient rivalry still is too strong to permit successful joint action by the two parties.

Corporation Tax Act Amended

TORONTO, April 7.—(CP).—The Ontario government is provided with authority to raise up to $100,000,000 on the credit of the consolidated revenue fund under a bill given first reading in the Legislature yesterday. The money can be used to pay for works carried out by commissioners on behalf of the province and for public works authorized by the Legislature.

Another bill, amending the Corporation Tax Act, was introduced by Provincial Treasurer Frost. It reduces the tax payable by insurance companies on insurance premiums to two per cent. The tax at present is 1¾ per cent plus 25 per cent surtax.

Companies engaged in exploring and drilling for oil, natural gas and minerals in Ontario will be allowed to deduct from their taxable income all the expenses entailed in these operations under another amendment to the Corporation Tax Act. Both acts were promised in Mr. Frost's budget address.

Another bill amends the Security Transfer Tax Act to give more time for filing returns following the close of the fiscal year of the company. The period is increased from four to six months.

2 Oil Tanker Captains Awarded New Hats

By The Canadian Press.

Canadian lake freighters in increasing numbers are threading their way through thawing ice jams as lake ports report one of the earliest starts in the history of Great Lakes navigation.

Two oil tankers engaged in a prow-and-prow race to be first through the Welland Canal as the 1948 season opened there Tuesday. When the Texaco Warrior arrived at the second lock she found her sister ship Texaco Chief had left Port Weller drydocks during the night and was first in line. The two ships steamed through in that order and cleared for Toledo.

The problem of who was to get the Welland Canal topper, donated annually to the first captain to complete the trip from Port Weller, was solved by the award of new hats to both skippers.

A total of $1,792.07 was received by Mr. Winter's office. In addition, a number of collectors and individuals contributed direct to the different banks in the county. The amount so contributed was considerably more than $1,000, Mr. Winter said.

COATICOOK, Que., April 7. — (CP). — The 14 policemen and firemen of this Eastern Townships community resigned in a body last night leaving the town of 7,000 without fire or police protection. Several public works employees were appointed special constables by the mayor Charles Ackhurst. Police Chief Roch Dandenault said that the council failed to correct grievances.

Low Cost Of Snow Removal Last Winter Enables Victoria To Spend More On Roads

LINDSAY, April 7—(ENS)—According to Road Superintendent H. D. Wilford, the County of Victoria will probably be undertaking an extensive road construction program this summer.

Mr. Wilford said the low cost of snow removal and road maintenance last winter, as compared with the winter before, will make it possible for the county to spend more money on roads this year. Road construction expenditures had to be kept down last year, because the cost of keeping highways open for winter driving reached an all-time high.

Just what the 1948 road program will include has not yet been determined, and will not be until after the annual spring inspection of roads has been completed. The inspection will take place sometime in the latter part of April, Mr. Wilford stated. Meanwhile, the county has been calling for annual construction supplies and materials.

Czech Refugees Worry To Dutch

By DAVID ANDERSON

THE HAGUE, April 7.—A tide of Czechoslovak refugees flowing in the direction of The Netherlands is causing uneasiness to authorities here. The overcrowded condition of Holland and the delicate European situation have made the Dutch wonder what sort of a haven they can provide for the thousands reported to be converging on this small country.

A promise was made yesterday by Premier Louis Beel that a welcome would be guaranteed to Czechoslovak students who have been cleared by the British or the United States military governments in Germany. There is real anxiety to The Netherlands lest unwanted persons slip over the frontier in the guise of refugees.

Koos Vorrink, leader of the Dutch Labor Party, said today that the Government may soon adopt measures that will open the doors of Holland not only to Czechs and students but to friendly political figures from any part of Eastern Europe. He considered their experience will be of value to the Dutch in the campaign against communism.

The problem presented by students fleeing from Prague has been brewing for some time. Until recently it was treated as a formal administrative matter rather than political. Thus the few Czechs, hardly more than twenty or thirty, who entered The Netherlands illegally met a poor reception. Most of them were detained by police of Amsterdam and border towns.

Student organizations of Utrecht, Nijmegen and the capital supported by faculty members protested against this treatment of refugees and the Catholic newspaper De Tijd is campaigning on their behalf.

Crushed By Machinery

ARNPRIOR, April 7 — (CP). — Edward Smith, 62, of Timmins and Killaloe, Ont., yesterday was crushed to death by a three-ton turbine ring being hoisted into position at the Stewarville Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission project a few miles from here. Police report that Smith was directing hoisting operations and had apparently turned his back on the swaying piece of machinery which hammered him against a second ring nearby.

Canada's Geologists Said Best In World

VANCOUVER, April 7 (CP)—No other country in the world can show a group of men as thoroughly trained as Canada's geologists, Dr. R. C. Wallace, Principal of Queen's University at Kingston, yesterday told the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy.

Canadian universities, he said, are equipped to expertly train under-graduates and graduates. "For post-graduate work our men usually go to the United States or Britain. But we are steadily developing facilities for this work."

The Canadian geologist, he maintained, is most highly trained "because he must be a three-way man: Geologist, mineralogist and physicist."

Hear Inspiring Talk

"Roads of Life was the topic chosen by Mrs. H. J. Parnell for an address to the Women's Association of Mark St. United Church Tuesday afternoon. Various roads of Biblical fame were likened to incidents of human life, converging in a common goal. During worship period Mrs. Slaughter of the Salvation Army favored with two solos, "Beautifulf Hour of Somewhere" and "My Task." Scripture was read by Mrs. E. Dinner. Lesson comments were by Mrs. A. Scriver. Mrs. W. Hepburn presided at a short business meeting when reports of secretaries were heard. Discussion followed in connection with donation to the new Civic Hospital and the WA rally at Havelock on May 5.

Life of Carver Is WA Topic

Mrs. E. Wand presided for the meeting of George St. United Church WA in the church parlors Tuesday afternoon. Devotions were taken by Mrs. W. H. Frise's group. Mrs. J. B. Bickell read scripture and prayer was offered by Mrs. H. J. Crowe. Guest soloist, Mrs. Laurie Mitchell, sang "Song of Faith" and was accompanied by Mrs. W. L. McNeil.

Mrs. Chas. Allen was the speaker, giving a complete outline of the life of George Washington Carver. He was a Negro who was very clever and willing to attend school, trying many different ways to make money in order to continue his schooling. He enjoyed doing oil paintings, also pottery work, in Alabama. He was so determined to make good that in due time he got a masters and BA degree, an unusual attainment for his race. He believed that with better education one served their country best.

Mr. Carver also became a professor of science and won the Roosevelt medal. His Bible was as important to him as science. "The best things of life cannot be bought or sold" was his idea of living. His great work ended with his death in 1943.

Vote of appreciation to Mrs. Mitchell and Mrs. Allen were expressed by Mrs. Chas. Elliott.

A short business period was conducted by the president. Mrs. Fred Horton closed the meeting with prayer.

Rev. G. Breaden Of Palestine Addresses Groups

Young People's Union of George St. United Church joined with the Missionary Alliance Group Monday evening and thus both were benefited by a most enlightening talk and two interesting films. The Rev. Dr. James Semple introduced the guest speaker, the Rev. George Breaden, a missionary on furlough from Palestine and district. The first film was of Palestine before the present conflict, Mr. Breaden explained each sight or event as shown on the screen. The second was a religious film, depicting the places where Jesus is believed to have visited or spoken of. Mr. Breaden had many curios from the Holy Land with him. Each was explained and oftimes amusingly modeled by the speaker. Among these were Arabic costumes and the Bible written in their language. Miss Dorothy Graham thanked the speaker.

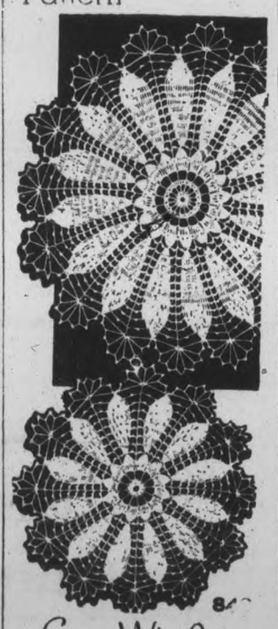
Miss Doreen Samis, mission's convener, was in charge of the worship period, opening with a reading. Miss Helen Samis read the Scripture

Plans were discussed for a bowling party in the near future.

The fellowship convener will be in charge of next meeting with Rev. Dr. Semple as speaker.

Handcraft Display Features Work Of Local Women

Persons who appreciate the value of individually hand-made articles that fill the important role of usefulness as well as adding beauty and originality to living will be thrilled at the display of handicraft by Mrs. Clare Stuart and Mrs. M. E. Phippen. The exhibit of exclusive handwork is open this week at the former's home, 583 George S. N. Finest specimens of pottery, weaving, leatherwork and needlework will evoke gasps of astonishment and create a longing for possession. Coloring and detail in exquisite oil paintings draws deep admiration. All exhibits are the handwork of older women of this city and district.



There is hand-woven tartan plaid by the yard to make a garment to cherish. Scarves in dainty pastels or bright wool and zippered vanity bags have come from the loom of a Peterborough citizen. Bonnets, bootees and sweaters, products of a housewife's clicking needles, should solve the gift problem of that little newcomer. And for older sister there are irresistible hand smocked dresses, made of dainty plain and patterned materials.

Leather mules and cosy mossasins of shearling, which have an added point in washability, can be made up to your size and style preference. A full range of fashion colors of fine suede leather is available for costume gloves and the pattern obtained by tracing the wearer's hand. For person adornment the display includes brooches, earrings and bracelets in such variety that any costume can be matched. Particularly attractive pins have hand-painted outdoor scenes on the flat surface of small wooden chips.

Perfect moulding of pottery clay has produced a unique liqueur set that may become the conversation piece in a fashionable home, rivaled only by the odd shaped water pitcher and six small tumblers to match. Then there are wide-mouthed pitchers, jugs, vases, ash trays, candlesticks and even egg cups, all smoothly finished pieces of pottery in enchanting colors that somehow give a foreign touch to the scene.

Intricate tooled designs of purses, book ends and smaller items of leathercraft make them a joy to own for the very disinction of the expert work and fine materials used. About five choices in color are available and the styles are many. Most striking accesory for the dog fancier is a strong braided leather leash.

Scollard-Quinn Couple Honeymoon in Chicago

The marriage took place Tuesday, in St. Alphonsus Church, Wooler, of Mary Frances, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Quinn, Codrington, to Mr. John Gregory Scollard, son of Mr. Frank Scollard, of Peterborough, and the late Mrs. Scollard. Rev. J. J. O'Leary, Coppercliff, uncle of the groom, officiated. The church was decorated with daffodils. Miss Colletta O'Keefe of Campbellford, played the wedding march. During the ceremony the choir sang hymns.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white brocaded satin with sweetheart neckline and short sleeves and long silk gloves, and carried a bouquet of roses. Her fingertip veil was of silk net and arranged in fold effect, caught to a coronet of seed pearls.

She was attended by two sisters, Mrs. Don Forestell of Campbellford, as matron of honor, wore a blue brocaded marquisette dress with matching veil and mittens and carried a bouquet of carnations. Miss May Quinn, of Codrington, bridesmaid, was similarly frocked in pink. Miss Monica Heffernan, niece of the groom, made a charming flower girl in yellow taffeta and she carred an old-fashioned nosegay.

The groomsman was Mr. J. Blodgett of Peterborough. Ushers were Mr. Frank Heffernan of Peterborough and Mr. Eddie Quinn.

A reception was held at the bride's home. Mrs. Quinn received the guests wearing a mauve dress, black accessories, and corsage of roses. She was assisted by the groom's sister, Mrs. Allan Madill, who wore a grey wool suit with matching accessories and corsage of roses.

The bride donned a grey suit with black accessories for the wedding trip to Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Scollard will live near Peterborough.

Of Interest to Women

Give Philandering Mate Other Woman Some Censure

DEAR MISS DIX: Are women always to blame when husbands are unfaithful? I know a woman who threatened a girl with bodily harm unless she left town and let her husband alone.

A.S.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Certainly the men are just as much to blame as the girls they philander with, but the wives always put the blame on the girl because it is the only way in which they can save their faces. They are bound to represent to themselves that their husbands are poor, ignorant innocents who have been inveigled into affairs by designing women, and that if left alone they never would of dreamed of such a thing as wandering away from their own fireside.

Dorothy Dix

Of course, there are a lot of weak, vain, silly men who would stay on the straight and narrow path if no temptation came their way. These are the foreordained prey of any pretty girl who flatters them and tells them how handsome they are, and how alluring and how much younger they are than their wives.

Most Men Are Hard-Headed

But most men are worldly wise and hard-headed and they can no more be taken in in a love affair than they can in a business deal. They are not victims of adventuresses. They are adventurers themselves. When you see a married man out with a girl young enough to be his granddaughter, it is ridiculous to say that she has lured him away from his family and to blame her for it.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOGROTHY DIX: I am a boy 18 years old. Have been going with the sweetest girl in the world for about a year. Now this is my problem. Her father is cruel to her and she begs me to marry her. Says she just can't take one more beating from him. I love her, but I have no job.

I am no quitter, but I cannot see the future as happy because I have no work and no immediate prospects of getting any. What is your advice?

ANXIOUS.

ANSWER: Don't marry her, my boy, until you have some way of making a living and supporting a family decently. Don't let your sympathies run away with you and cause you to do a thing that you will spend the balance of your life regretting.

Wait until you are ready to marry. I say that for the girl as well as you, because she would be jumping out of the frying pan into the fire if she married you under present conditions. She at least has a home, even if it is an unhappy one. She has a roof to cover her and three square meals a day, and you couldn't even give her that.

Instead of marrying the girl, call in the law. It will stop her father from beating her. Don't marry any girl because you are sorry for her. And don't let any girl rush you into marriage. Many a girl cries on a man's shoulders until he marries her for pity, and then he spends the balance of his life weeping himself over his folly.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: Do you think that a man can really care for a girl, take her out and be with her four nights a week, and yet not make any attempt to even kiss her?

WONDERING.

ANSWER: Yes, there are still some left who do not think that every time they spend a dollar on a girl she has to pay them back by submitting to their familiarities. There are still some men whose sense of honor keeps them from making love to a girl until they are in a position to back up their love-making with a proposal of marriage. There are still some men who treat a girl as they would want some other man to treat their sister, and that kind of man is worth waiting for.

Because a man kisses a girl and paws her over does not mean he loves her. Very often it only means that he holds her lightly, and he just wants to gratify himself.

THE STARS SAY . . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Thursday, April 8.

While the energies and spirit of initiative are under high stimuli for exceptional achievement, and to a surprising and spectacular degree, yet there is definite danger of all this strenuous and hectic creative talent and skill over-lapping itself. This not only by a dubious state of mind but also by pitfalls of false values, or the subtle treachery of an associate. Schemes and traps, wrong moves, may end in legal entanglements, less of standing, reputation, and funds as well.

✧ ✧ ✧

If It Is Your Birthday.

Those whose birthday it is may find defeat in its major aims and objectives, not only by excess of zeal or over-aggressive actions, but by its reckless and erratic impulses, probably superinduced by treachery or false appraisal of plots and schemes. These beget wrong decisions made under glamor or excitement, and are likely to end in legal entanglements, scandalous litigation, illicit commitments. Take particular caution in signing all papers and writings, as the reactions may involve reputation, personal security or good name.

A child born on this day while ambitious and capable, may be carried to excess, wrong decisions, by excitement and the craft of designing associates. This with reflex personal dangers.

FOREIGN AID BILL is signed by House Speaker Joseph W. Martin, after Congress passed the measure by an overwhelming margin. The bill is aimed at stemming Communism by supplying food and weapons to Europe. Chairman Charles A. Eaton of the House Foreign Affairs Committee looks on at left.

ERP Brings Trial Of Strength

By The Canadian Press

The coming into effect of the European recovery program brings a trial of strength between the opposing forces of high and low prices.

Influences toward high prices are ERP itself; a probable re-armament program and stockpiling of war materials; and continued heavy spending on capital expansion. Much-desired tax reduction is also regarded by many as an influence toward higher prices, but the tax question has many angles.

Without ERP and re-armament most signs pointed to a price drop, and probably a mild recession which might be regarded as of the healthy variety.

Balance Delicate

The present moment is one of delicate balance. Most feared is that ERP and re-armament can set off a fresh inflation. Best hope is that the high and low forces will stop extremes in either.

The deflationary influence of better grain prospects is by no means solid as yet. The World Food Council states that the global food situation remains serious from a long-range point of view. It recommends international allocation of scarce foods and production materials; steps to make the best use of current food supplies; and efforts to expand food production within the next few years.

Plan Irish Association To Oppose Totalitarianism

By MICHAEL O'MARA

DUBLIN, April 7 — (CP) — Formation of an Irish Association of Civil Liberty to "oppose the spread of totalitarianism, whether it takes the form of Communism, Fascism or any other form" was decided at a recent meeting here.

Eire was not immediately threatened from extremists of either the Left or Right, Acting Secretary C. J. Gore-Grimes told the meeting of prominent citizens, but "nobody knows how long this situation will last."

The great danger to Eire's democracy was that the "mentality of bureaucracy still lives" and would continue to live unless there was powerful public opinion against it and a strong organization to marshal the opinion.

Hardening Arteries

Congestion of traffic in the streets of Central Dublin at rush hours is "a problem of appalling magnitude," says The Irish Times, mourning editorially about the difficulty of getting home in time for supper.

The only way to account for the situation—"the limit of entanglement" — is that Dubliners own more cars per capita than ever before and the only long-term solution is town planning on a huge scale.

Pat and Mike

. . . Are the time-honored names for any two Irishmen involved in a vaudeville joke, but the controversial question: "Is Patrick an Irish name?" has been reopened by Justice Michael J. Lennon.

Many authorities have been of the opinion that the popularity of Patrick as a name for Irish children dates not from the days of Ireland's patron saint but only to the 17th-century campaigns against English armies of Gen. Patrick Sarsfield.

Lennon, delving through dusty early-Christian works, says the authorities are wrong, and that Patricks can be traced through all the history of Ireland.

Father Of 9 Worried About His Horse

HALIFAX, April 7 — (CP) — Kenneth Downey of nearby Preston was convicted of assaulting his wife in county court recently.

"I don't think the offence is serious enough to send you to jail, however," said the magistrate, R. E. Inglis.

"No," agreed Downey, father of nine, "I've got a horse to look after."

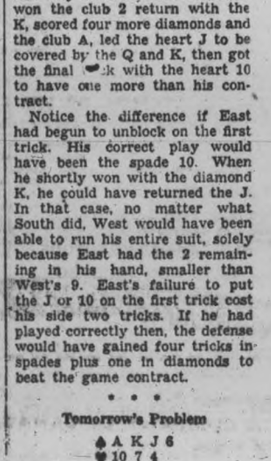
BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

DON'T BLOCK THE ROAD

WHENEVER you hold two fairly high cards in the long suit led by your partner against a No Trump game, there is a possibility that you may eventually block it. In this case, it is generally incumbent upon you to begin unblocking at the earliest possible moment, disposing of one of your high cards on the very first trick. The purpose is to retain, for the last trick on which you follow suit, a card which is sure to be smaller than the highest your partner will have at that stage.

(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable.)



South	West	North	East
1♣	1♠	2♦	Pass
2 NT	Pass	3 NT

South properly played the K on the spade 4 lead and East automatically put on the 2. His quick play, without thinking, enabled South to make his contract, plus an extra trick. After winning that, South played to the heart A and finessed the diamond J to the K. East fired back the spade J, on which South played the Q and West the A. Now the spade 3 was led to the 10, giving the defenders their third trick, but they scored no more. South won the club 2 return with the K, scored four more diamonds and the club A, led the heart J to be covered by the Q and K, then got the final trick with the heart 10 to have one more than his contract.

Notice the difference if East had begun to unblock on the first trick. His correct play would have been the spade 10. When he shortly won with the diamond K, he could have returned the J. In that case, no matter what South did, West would have been able to run his entire suit, solely because East had the 2 remaining in his hand, smaller than West's 9. East's failure to put the J or 10 on the first trick cost his side two tricks. If he had played correctly then, the defense would have gained four tricks in spades plus one in diamonds to beat the game contract.

6—In Memoriam

JOBE—In loving memory of my dear mother and grandmother, Louisa Jobe, who passed away April 7, 1943.
She is gone but not forgotten,
And as dawns another year,
In our lonely hours of thinking
Thoughts of her are always near.
Days of sadness will come o'er us,
Friends may think the wound is healed,
But they little know the sorrow
That lies within the heart concealed.

MEEHAN—In loving memory of Norman Meehan, who died eight years ago today.
He had a cheery smile, a pleasant way,
A helpful hand to all he knew

—Sadly missed by his sister Mrs. Thomas Bass.

MERCER—In memory of our dear father, who passed away a year ago today April 7, 1947, also a loving mother, on April 21, 1947.

Faithful and true to the end of their days,
In silence they suffered, in patience they bore,
Till God called them home to suffer no more.
—Ever remembered by Ruth and Richard.
